Three Traffic Mishaps Investigated In City

Tahoka Police Dept. investigated three traffic accidents in the city during the past week, and in one of them an 80-year-old Alpine man was seriously injured.

On Thursday at Lockwood and U.S. 87 access road a 1976 Kenwood truck driven by Charles J. Coplan of Lakeside, Ariz., and a 1971 Chevrolet driven by Charlie Rudd Bailey of Alpine were involved in a collision.

Bailey reportedly suffered a broken neck, broken ribs and facial cuts. He was taken by EMS ambulance to Lynn County Hospital and later transferred to Methodist Hospital in Lubbock. No subsequent report on his condition was available Wednesday.

Police investigated another accident on Thursday involving a 1974 Triumph driven by Joe Francis Hays of Tahoka, whose vehicle reportedly struck a street barricade located at S. 3rd and Ave. J. No injuries were reported.

A third mishap in the city occurred Saturday at the intersection of Main and N. 5th, where a 1982 Mazda driven by Granvel Henry Ayers of Tahoka and 1988 Pontiac driven by Marie Garcia of Tahoka collided. No injuries were reported.

Police also arrested two persons for public intoxication and one for driving while intoxicated during the week.

Lynn County sheriff's office investigated a report of a burglary of a cart house and theft of two sets of golf clubs at T-Bar Country Club during the last two weeks. Pug Paris of Rt. 4, Tahoka, reported his cart house broken into and a set of men's Wilson golf clubs and a set of women's golf clubs stolen, as well as a pair of men's golf shoes. The stolen items were valued at a total of $1450.

The county jail this week began a new program of housing some federal prisoners while they are awaiting federal court hearings, on a contract agreement with the federal government which Sheriff Jack Miller said would result in a savings to the county, as the amount paid per day for housing the prisoners is about four times the amount it costs the county to keep them in jail.

In jail during the week were the three arrested by the city on liquor law violations, plus one for DWI second offense and another DWI, and one person for public intoxication plus making alcoholic beverage available to a minor.

IF A PERSON really paid close attention to all the warnings we get on TV, from our doctors, newspapers, and just people walking down the street, it would be pretty easy to get depressed.

Apples give you cancer. Apple juice gives you cancer. The stuff you smear on your skin to keep the sun from giving you cancer gives you cancer. Drugs and unmentionable behavior give you AIDS. Everything edible makes you fat. Fat makes you have heart attacks or strokes. Pills and treatments to make you healthier have side effects that could kill you. Whiskey gives you cirrhosis of the liver. Leaning on bars gives you cirrhosis of the elbow.

Milk, pork, beef, cranberries, cheese, ice cream, nuts and you name it are bad for you. Driving past the grocery store boosts your cholesterol by 10 points. Breathing gives you cancer. Smoking gives you all kinds of bad things, and makes you stink. The water we drink is full of micro-organisms and other disgusting little crawly things.

There are some foods and some activities that are good for you, but offhand I can't think of any of them.

Weight Watchers® claims it knows some things good for you, though. A release this week talks about fiber, both the digestible and indigestible kinds, and says that most people eat about 10 grams of fiber a day, which doesn't sound like much to me. It also says that most people ought to double that amount, because foods high in fiber are usually low in fat and calories, which helps people lose weight. Some kinds of fiber also help lower cholesterol, probably because eating broccoli and kidney beans makes you so sick you can't eat all that stuff that is bad for you.

Our grandchildren have a new puppy that is sure to be very healthy because of a high-fiber diet. She eats on the carpet, on straw hats, shoestrings and other things high in fiber.

THIS WEEK, as usual, the newspaper received a mailing from the Railroad Commission about who is doing what to oilwells. Since Lynn County has very little oil and since the only thing I know about oil is that it is hard to clean off the driveway, we usually don't use the material they send us. But every time I hear from the Railroad Commission, all they talk about is oil. They never talk about railroads.

I don't know why the agency that regulates the oil business is called the Railroad Commission, just as I don't know why a hamburger contains no ham. Are the railroads regulated by Texaco or Phillips 66?

BIG BUNNIES—Tahoka kindergarten pupils donned rabbit ears and had an Easter egg hunt and party at the roadside park north of Tahoka Friday. Students in all classes were out of school this week for the spring break preceding Easter, which is Sunday.

GOOFY WEATHER—Snow covered the ground in Tahoka and other parts of Lynn County early Tuesday, about a week after temperatures had soared into the 90s (but the week before that was another cold, icy spell). The snow was melting away during the day, Tuesday.

Smith-Kieth Wedding Vows Are Exchanged In Meadow

Miss Kelli Lynn Smith of Lubbock became the bride of Terry Lance Kieth of Lubbock in a double ring ceremony held at 6:00 p.m. Saturday, March 11, at the Meadow Baptist Church with John Snider, Minister of the Meadow Church of Christ officiating. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. James Wallace Smith of Meadow, and Mr. and Mrs. Freddie N. Kieth of New Home.

The bridal aisle was accented with ivory Victorian lace and satin bows with silk ranunculus and forsythia on each pew. Six foot brass aisle candelabras glowed on alternating rows. The wedding altar was centered with a seven foot brass fan candelabra flanked on either side by 15 branch spiral candelabras. A massive arrangement of giant hibiscus, delphinium, baby freecia, and Queen's Anne's lace was centered by candles.

The traditional unity candelabra featured a keepsake unity candle embellished with ivory satin rosettes, pearls, a miniature dove, wedding bells, and golden ring. It was accented with a coordinating arrangement of hibiscus and delphinium with Queen Anne's lace, and a Victorian lace and satin bow. Two six foot brass 29 branch candelabra complimented each side of the wedding altar. Silk English ivy was entwined on the candelabras. Adjacent railings were covered with garlands of stephanotis and crystal votive candle cups aglow.

The window ledges were filled with individual arrangements of ivory pillar candles surrounded by English ivy and trimmed by satin bows.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a candlelight form fitting sheath gown fashioned of delustered satin and alecon lace. The bodice, heavily beaded and sequined, featured a bateau neckline, ballgown sleeves, and a basque waistline. The detachable cathedral length train was adorned with lace cutout appliques, and highlighted at the waistline with a bustle. To complete her attire the bride wore a tiara of alecon lace, highlighted with a pouf and flowed into a two tiered waist length veil.

Keeping with tradition, the bride, for something old, carried a lace handkerchief belonging to her great-grandmother Fore, and carried by her mother in the wedding. Something new was her gown; something borrowed, a pearl necklace belonging to her sister; something blue, her garter. The bride's father placed pennies minted in the years of the bride and groom's births in the bride's shoe.

The wedding coordinator was Mrs. Genie Bandy of Irving.

The bride carried a traditional bouquet designed of cascading orchids and satin sweetheart roses in ivory with phalaenopsis orchids and frusia. It also contained Eucharis lilies and bavardia clusters. Needlepoint Hahn's ivy, satin leaves and pearls complimented the bouquet. Ruffled chiffon ribbon and pearlized satin completed the creation.

Natalie Wilkes of Meadow, sister of the bride served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids, included Karen Curtis of Lubbock, Keely Carroll and Carol

MRS. TERRY LANCE KIETH nee KELLI LYNN SMITH

Pendergrass, both of Meadow, and cousins of the bride. The bridesmaids wore court-length gowns of charcoal iridescent taffeta. The asymmetrical shirred bodice featured a sweetheart neckline and gathered pouf sleeves. The attendants carried handwrapped Southern magnolias of double ruffled ivory linen and silk, tied with cluney lace of ivory centered with teal moire' taffeta ribbon.

Miss Ashlie Wilkes of Meadow served her aunt as flower girl. She wore a two tone black and ivory satin floor length gown. The bodice featured a scooped neckline, gathered pouf sleeves, and a dropped waistline. The full skirt was highlighted in the back with a bustle and bow. She carried a petite basket covered with ivory bridal satin, accented with ruffles, lace, bows, and ribbon roses. Scented silk petals were sprinkled along the bridal aisle.

Dustin Wilkes of Meadow served his aunt as ringbearer. He wore a black Christian Dior tuxedo.

Jeff Wyatt, of Lubbock, served as best man. Groomsmen included Mickey Kieth of New Home, and Murry Kieth of New Home, both cousins of the groom, and Lance McNeely of San Angelo. Candelighters were Robert Poer of San Angelo and Albert Sherman of Lubbock. Ushers included Keith Smith of Lubbock, brother of the bride, Kyle James of Lubbock, Ray Van Banks of Springlake, brother-in-law of the groom, and Cody Carroll of San Angelo, cousin of the bride.

La'Shea Kieth of College Station, sister of the groom, sang "Looking Through the Eyes of Love" as the candles were lighted. Mrs. Kim Thomas and Loyd Jordan of Meadow, sang "Nobody Loves Me Like You Do" and "To Me". They also sang "Together" as the unity candle was lit. Pianist for the ceremony was Shirla Bayer of Meadow, and organist was Debra McCallister, also of Meadow.

Miss Shannon Nieman of Lampasas registered guests at the ceremony.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the fellowship hall with parents of the couple assisting them in the receiving line. A European-styled bouquet of ivory ranunculus, frusia, orchids, Queen Anne's lace and parchment French roses were arranged atop a five branch gold table candelabra with 15 ivory tapers. The table was draped with ivory double ruffled floorlength re-embroidered Belgium lace skirting gathered over an ivory understanding and trimmed with Victorian lace and satin ribbon and bows. Two six-foot Phoenix palm trees flanked the bride's table. The background was white lattice entwined with silk English ivy. A bridal portrait on a standing brass easel completed the setting.

The wedding cake was three separated tiers on Roman columns with a fountain beneath, surrounded by five heart satellite cakes. Each tier featured ruffles and swags on the side, and were topped off with bouquets of fresh candlelight flowers, baby's breath, and ivory and teal ribbon.

The groom's table was a round table covered with ivory floor-length lace over a charcoal black undershirt. A 24-inch brass candle tower with ivory Eucharis lilies and black silk sand dollar foliage centered the table. The groom's cake was a chocolate "Double T", red accented and outlined in black.

Serving at the bride's table were Melinda Fielder of Lubbock, Susan Sehon of Wolforth, and Candy Brooks of Coleman. Serving at the groom's table were Lana Banks of Springlake and La'Shea Kieth, both sisters of the groom.

Members of the houseparty included Mmes. Ruth King, Glenda Curtis, Ann Brooks, Linda Marshall, and Laverne Duncan all of Meadow, and Mmes. Deloris Mauldin, Joann Kieth, Evelyn Madison, Mary Bess Edwards, all aunts of the groom.

The bride is a 1985 graduate of Meadow High School and will graduate from Texas Tech University in May. The groom is a 1984 graduate of New Home High School and will graduate from Texas Tech in May. The couple will make their home in Lubbock.

The bride was honored with a bridal shower in New Home at the First Baptist Church on Feb. 11. Another bridal shower was held in the home of Mrs. Pattie Snider of Meadow on Feb. 19.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Freddie Kieth at the Crystal Palace Restaurant in Brownfield on March 10. The bridesmaid luncheon was at the Green Oaks Tea Room on Saturday, March 11, in Lubbock. Mmes. Janelda Pendergrass and Pam Carroll hosted, and special guests included Francille Price, Arline Carroll, and Ida Edwards, grandmothers of the couple.

Here are some suggestions for lunches, whether you eat at a fine restaurant or a fast food store:

Fill your plate with veggies; put a tablespoon of oil/vinegar based

A good sandwich choice is turkey on whole-wheat bread with lettuce, tomato, and a spicy mustard.

At a fast-food restaurant, the best choice may be a plain hamburger with lettuce, tomato, pickles, and mustard.

Eating broiled fish twice a week may reduce saturated fat intake while adding variety to nontime meals. But fried fish and fish sandwiches will just add fat to your diet.

Cancer Society Services Offered In Lynn County

The American Cancer Society in Lynn County announced today that it has a variety of services available to cancer patients without charge.

"A lot of people don't know about what the American Cancer Society can do for cancer patients right here in Tahoka" said Dr. Danny Curry, pastor of First Baptist Church. "And all we need in most cases is permission from the patient's doctor."

Loan equipment such as hospital beds, wheel chairs, walkers, and commode chairs are available as well as gift items including eggcrate mattresses, sheepskins, bed pans, pillows and other comfort items.

"We also try to help patients and their families with literature and information on other agencies," said Curry. "Sometimes they want to know more about cancer or they need to know what assistance might be available here."

Curry also said that when most people think of the American Cancer Society, they think of cancer research. "It's true that American Cancer Society puts millions of dollars into cancer research, but we also feel its important to work with local people and help cancer patients."

Anyone needing more information on the services available for cancer patients can call Dr. Curry, who is the volunteer service chairman for the American Cancer Society, at 998-4833.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Dalton:
I would like to commend our Local Police Department, and this seems the best way to do it.

In the early part of January, I had to be in Lubbock, and when I returned home, there was a notice on my door from our local Police Department. It indicated that the Bakersfield Memorial Hospital in Bakersfield, California, had been trying to contact me with reference to my Aunt, who, at the grand old age of 95, had passed away.

I was appreciative of the action that the Police Department took on relaying this message to me, and, although it may seem a very small thing, I know it took the efforts of three or four members to get the detail done on this action.

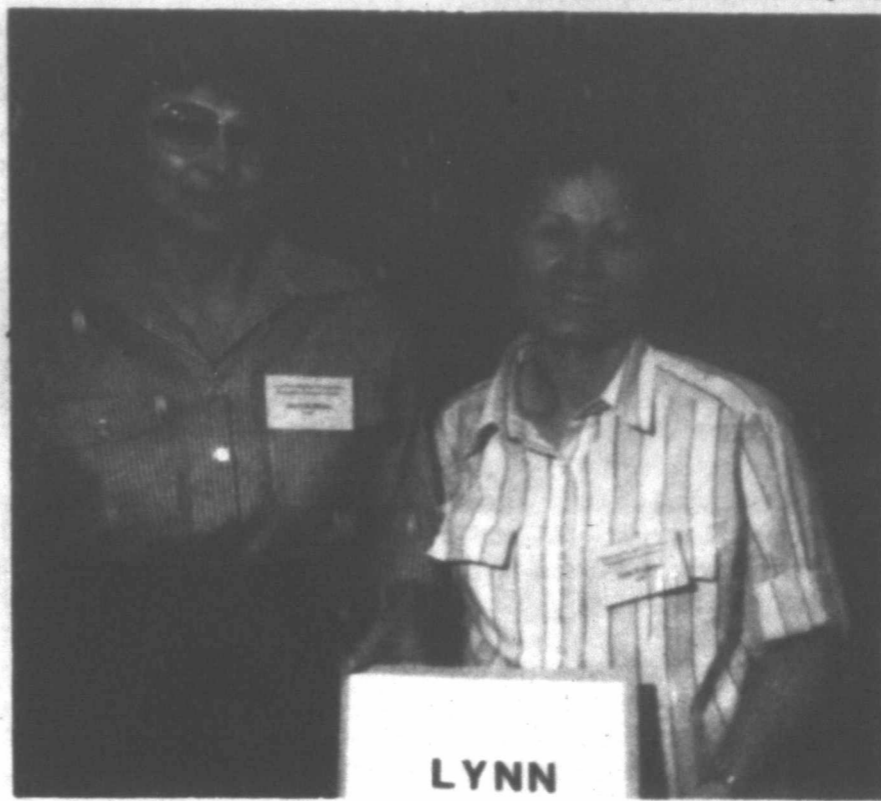

Somebody had to take the call—somebody had to type the notice—somebody had to deliver the message—somebody even thanked me for letting them deliver the message to me!

Since that time, I have been to Bakersfield, California, and made arrangements for the burial of my Aunt in Chicago, Illinois, in the family plot—where she had desired to be buried next to her brother, who had died at the end of the last century.

Personally, I have not had to contact our local Police Department except for one occasion, and that was when a neighbor lost control of his car and ran into the corner of my den. At that time, the solicitous action of the officers with regard to the illness of the driver of the vehicle and their kindness to me, made me appreciate our local law officers.

Thank you to the Police Department for the little things they do as well as the many big things—I commend you.

OUT OF THE WOODS
By Juanell (Wood) Jones

HELLO AGAIN. I'm back to the land of the living. I've been preoccupied since January in the never-never land of computers and haven't had the time or energy to spend time in writing witty, clever much-in-demand columns. My brain has been filled to the brim with accumulating massive information on producing a newspaper in an entirely different procedure than what I learned 15 years ago, and even as smart as I am, it's taking me a while to catch on. Why doesn't this surprise you?

Okay, maybe I'm not that smart. Maybe you already know this. Maybe we should talk about something else.

Let me tell you what's been going on in my neck of the woods. For those of you who, for some unknown reason, might be vaguely interested, I'm still making three-times weekly treks to the health spa to "condition" my body. I'm not quite gorgeous yet, but I'm still working on it. Some things are getting thinner ... like the soles of my tennis shoes, and my wallet.

Also, we have adopted the granddaughter of one of the ex-members of our family ... our lovable "Miss Maggie" whom many of you may fondly (or un-fondly) remember was our Cocker Spaniel for a couple of years. She disappeared last year during the street dance of our annual county-wide Harvest Festival and we haven't seen her since. We finally lost hope of ever getting her back, and when one of her offspring had puppies, well, we just marched right over and got us one.

This one is called "Suzie Q" and she's a mess. After we had her for about a week, I bragged to a friend about how well she was doing in her "house training" (is that where you let your dog train the house into becoming it's own private playground?) she squirted the house four times in one evening. Is it okay to use the term "squirr"? Since then, however, she has done herself (and us) proud by going outside to do her business. Oh, except when it snowed. She couldn't find any grass, and I guess she decided our green carpet in the living room was as close as she was going to get to grass. We shoveled a clear spot in the yard for her after that.

What else is new ... oh. We figured our income tax this week. The good news is, we're getting some money back. The bad news is, it's not enough. Why is it, no matter how much income you've got coming in, it's never enough to cover expenses? I thought I restrained myself admirably in the shopping season sales (pre-Christmas, Just-In-Time-For-Christmas, After-Christmas, Too-Late-For-Christmas, and Since-You-Didn't-Get-It-For-Christmas sales). Not to mention January Clearance, Valentine's Day Sale, President's Day Sale, Washington's Birthday Sale, Savin-o-The-Green sales, and Pre-Easter bargains. My mother thought it was funny when, on one of our last shopping expeditions when we took my 4-year-old daughter with us, she said, "We won't tell daddy." Smart girl, my daughter.

My family enjoyed a long weekend trip to the lake at the beginning of Spring Break recently. We packed shorts, t-shirts, long Johns and parkas, because with this crazy weather we didn't know what to expect from day to day. As it turned out, we needed them all. Mother Nature must be enjoying this huge joke on mankind.

Not much else is new. I guess. Now you know why I haven't written anything since January. My brain is tired. I gotta go.

Mrs. Senn's sixth grade social studies class has been studying Europe from the end of the Dark Ages up to the modern times. They have examined the system of feudalism, growth of towns and trade, the Crusades and gradual formation of nations, results of Protestant reformation, industrial revolution and compared the present day governments of Great Britain and America. Some of the students did projects in this class. Martin Gill reconstructed a castle which was called Aberwyvern. This is an imaginary castle based on several castles that were built in Wales between the years of 1277 and 1305. Casey McNeely did a castle also which is a copy of a Norman castle made out of wood around 1066-1100. Krista Holder showed Romanesque and Gothic architectural styles in her project. Cornelium Dyck did a Trebuchet for his project. This is a siege-engine or primitive missile which hurled "Greek fire" used by the Saracens. Trebuchets worked on the principle of a sling, one end was long and one was short. Jason Gandy did a research paper on Leonardo De Vinci for his project.

Mrs. Senn's fifth graders have been studying acquisition and settlement of new land on the frontier. Beginning with the 13 original states they have traced growth of the U.S. beyond the Appalachian mountains into the northwest, the southwest and California. Eight students prepared hardtack and brought dried beef jerky to have a better understanding of what some of the meals must have been like on the long trails. (Same Fe, Old Spanish, California, Oregon) These students were Steven Correa, Jade Foerster, Justin Reason, Greg Armes, Nancy Dyck, Shane Zant, Tobin Hernandez and Sabas Longoria. Mrs. Mary Dyck shared her lye soap recipe and Mrs. Dolly Foerster sent a bar of lye soap.

The New Home Baptist Church will have a spring revival beginning April 9. The W.M.U. will be meeting every Tues. morning at 9 for prayer time.

Last Thursday Mrs. Faubion and Mrs. McCann selected 3 students and an alternate to represent our school in the U.L.L. oral reading contest next month. The students who will compete for New Home are Abbie Gill, Travis Smith, J'Lynn Clem and the alternate will be Kenny Gardner.

R.G. "Shorty" Mendoza underwent major surgery in Lubbock General Hospital Friday night. Late Monday he was recovering satisfactorily.

Radene Turner is in Methodist Hospital room 668 South in Lubbock.

Sherman Inman of Muleshoe is in Room 221 St. Mary's Hospital in Lubbock.

One Act Play Cast: Tobi Timmons, Crystal Ford, Gloria Munoz, Scott Holder, Henry Caballero, Grady Tompson, Shane Tompson, Jenni Gast. They will travel to Welch for the Zone Contest. This will take place Tuesday the 28th of March.

SPEMS Improves EMS Radio System

Emergency Medical Services on the South Plains have experienced inadequate radio reception/transmission on ambulance runs. As a result, South Plains EMS, Inc. (SPEMS) a non-profit EMS support organization, doubled the height of the regional radio antenna Feb. 26.

This antenna is part of the regional radio system used by all EMS services and providers across the South Plains. It was designed and put in place with federal grant money by SPEMS, Inc., so that South Plains ambulances can communicate with hospitals when treating and transporting patients.

The regional antenna is accessed for radio contact with critical care facilities in Lubbock from any location in the region. Additional repeaters and antennas are placed in strategic locations across the region. The regional antenna is the tallest at 620 feet and transmits to and receive from the rural repeaters to provide rural hospitals and ambulances radio contact with Lubbock hospitals.

SPEMS, Inc. is financially supported by the following hospitals and counties: Crosby, Dickens, Garza, Hale, Hockley, Lamb, Motley and Yoakum; Garza County Memorial, Lubbock General, Lynn County Hospital, Methodist-Lubbock, St. Mary of the Plains and South Plains Hospital-Amherst. All South Plains county governments and hospitals are asked to contribute to the non-profit organization which supports volunteer Emergency Medical Services.

New Home Basketball Wins Stir Memories

When former New Home resident Letta Cocanougher read about the New Home boys basketball team making its first trip ever to the state tournament, it stirred memories of March 9-12, 1949, when the Leopard girls team make its first trip to the state tournament at Hillsboro.

The former Letta Roland noted that the New Home boys team made its first trip to state almost exactly 40 years from the time the girls team went. In those days, the girls teams played three girls on each end of the court. Newspaper clippings showed that the New Home girls were favored to win the state championship, but were upset in the semifinals 33-31 by East Chambers in an overtime game. The team had been coached most of the year by Supt. A.L. Pace, who had a heart attack during the season, and Bill Fleming and Wilmer Smith took over as coaches for the rest of the season.

In the first game of the state tournament the New Home girls beat Cranfills Gap 63-33 as Colleen Savage scored 30 points, Emadene Robinson scored 20 and Joy Dean McClintock had 13.

Other members of the team included Letta Roland, Katherine Roland, Martha Crabtree, all starters and Bernice Fillingim, June Huey, Joyce Jones, Nell Alice Davis, Jackie Jo Rogers and Norma Evans.

One story noted that Emadene Robinson had scored 667 points during the season.

Mrs. Cocanougher's letter to the Lynn County News concluded as follows:

"I now live at Pottsville, AR. My parents (Inez and Eugene Roland) lived around Tahoka for several years. My mother's brothers were Borden and Vernon Davis. We have friends in Tahoka, New Home and Idalou. My mother and sister (Verna Roland) live in Pottsville. My husband (Bill Cocanougher) and I live south of Pottsville. We have two broiler houses and raise approximately 42,000 chickens every six weeks. . . . Billy Davis in Tahoka is my cousin. . . . We enjoy your newspaper and the "New Home Tidbits."

Extension Agent Brett Cypert Lynn County Extension Office

In many cases the early bird does get the worm. But when it comes to spring planting, farmers may want to use a little restraint and take a look at soil temperatures before cranking up their planters.

One of the keys to getting spring crops off to a good start is to heed soil temperatures, said Brett Cypert, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Soil temperatures have been shown to have an important effect on how well seeds germinate. Planting in cool soils often leads to poor seed germination and poor crop stands. Plants that do come up often lack vigor for early growth. And this opens the door to early season disease and insect attacks.

Farmers should begin planting only after the danger of a late frost is past and the soil has warmed to temperatures favorable to the intended crop.

Farmers also need to keep tuned to weather forecasts prior to planting. A sudden change in weather conditions following planting can be detrimental to the crop, particularly a cool, wet spell that can lower soil temperatures drastically.

Just when is it safe to plant what crop?

Average minimum temperatures (at the 4-inch depth) for planting are as follows: sorghum 55 degrees, cotton 65 degrees. "Minimum" rather than "average" temperatures should be used for rice and peanuts, with rice being 60 degrees and peanuts 70.

Hardy vegetables such as onions, cabbage and potatoes can be planted once soil temperatures range between 45 and 50 degrees. However, warm-season vegetables such as tomatoes, melons, beans and peppers need soil that has warmed into the 60s.

With early-season planting, particularly when soil temperatures are still marginal, farmers need to pay particular attention to using high quality seed, fungicides and other seed protectants, and adjusting seeding rates.

How do farmers keep abreast of changing soil temperatures? Daily readings are taken at various locations throughout Texas in cooperation with the Extension Service, the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, the National Weather Service and individual cooperators. For example, the regional temperature reading for North Texas is based on temperatures at Lavon Dam northeast of Dallas, while readings at Lufkin and Longview make up the East Texas average. Regional readings also are made for the High Plains, Trans-Pecos area, Rolling Plains, Central Blacklands, Coastal Plains, South Texas and the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

As temperatures are collected, they are included in daily agricultural weather advisories issued for each of the regions by the National Weather Service's Southwest Agricultural Weather Service Center at Texas A&M University. The advisories are fed into the NOAA (National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration) weather wire teletype system to be received by commercial radio and television stations. The advisories also are carried over the NOAA Weather Radio Network.

Specific temperature readings for about 40 locations also are distributed daily through regular weather service dissemination channels.

Keeping tabs on the weather and soil conditions can help farmers get off to a good start with spring planting. With the high cost of farm inputs, it's information that should be put to good use.

TOO MANY PEOPLE ARE WASTING MONEY
One of the most critical health problems today is the number of people who are not taking the prescribed quantity of drug after having their prescriptions filled. Non-compliance, as it is called, can result in a lengthened illness and additional expense to revisit the doctor and to acquire a new drug supply.
Once you are sick, we urge you to follow your doctors advice and to use the prescription he gives you exactly as we dispense it. Don't waste your money.

There will be an Open Forum in the school cafeteria Monday, April 3, 1989, from 5:00 p.m. until 6:00 p.m. for any citizen of the Wilson school district. At this time parents or other interested citizens are encouraged to express their praise or concerns about the Wilson schools. The meeting is part of the accreditation process for the district being conducted by the Texas Education Agency at that time.

Wilson students have been busy preparing for the U.I.L. District competition by attending practice meets. The District competition will be March 28th and 29th. At Wellman, February 11, Lori Duenez placed second in headline writing and shorthand, while Michael J. Guzman was third in junior high division of science. Cody Means was fourth in persuasive speaking, and Angela Young first in spelling. Michael Villarreal was second in the biology contest.

At Post on March 7, Cody Means was second in persuasive with Steve Moczygmeba third. Holly McCoy was fourth in prose reading with Lori Duenez second in headlines. Robin Wheeler was fourth in informative speaking.

Open House during Public School week was well attended. Mr. Dockery, elementary principal reported a total of 75 different parents attending his schools open house.

Students and teachers of Wilson schools have been out for Spring Break this week. School will re-open Monday, March 27, at the regular time.

Randy Moczygmeba, high school principal, will conduct a second computer class Monday night, March 27, at the high school. The class will cover all the things a person needs to know before purchasing a computer. If you plan to buy a computer in the future, this class would be worthwhile. For information, call the high school.
