Annual Fun/Food Festival Slated May 6

The Annual Fun and Food Festival has been set for Saturday, May 6, from 4-9 p.m. at the Lynn County Show Barn. The festival is the Lynn County Hospital Auxiliary's primary fundraiser held each spring to raise money for the Lynn County Hospital and EMS. Since the Auxiliary was organized in 1979, over $72,000 has been raised for the hospital. Almost $27,000 of this amount has gone towards EMS ambulances and equipment.

Hospital Auxiliary President Thaila Burks presided over the March 27 meeting of the Auxiliary. Mrs. Louise Landers, Hospital Administrator, addressed the meeting with regard to some of her goals for Lynn County Hospital. "Certainly, a rural hospital cannot offer everything, but it is our desire to be the best at what we are able to offer in medical care," stated Mrs. Landers.

She praised the Auxiliary's active commitment to helping accomplish this goal and indicated several needs the hospital has that the Auxiliary might be able to contribute towards this year. In addition to these needs, the Auxiliary plans to designate a portion of the money raised in this year's festival to the EMS's new ambulance fund. This will be in addition to the $20,000 contributed in 1988.

Nadine Dunlap is the chairman of the Fun and Food Festival and Auction committee. "We have been so supportive of the county's participation in the festival each year. The Lynn County Hospital is a great asset and the auction gives us all, in both big and small ways, an opportunity to support it," said Mrs. Dunlap. The festival will feature several food booths, games for children, door prizes, and an auction of a great variety of items with values ranging from $5 to $500. The Auxiliary welcomes donations of every description for both door prizes and the auction. Mrs. Dunlap stated, "If anyone has a donation and is not contacted by an Auxiliary member, please call Mrs. Madeline Hegi or Mrs. Grace Prohl and they will be glad to accept the donation."

Little League sign-ups will be Saturday, April 1, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and Sunday, April 2, from 2 to 4 p.m. at the Lynn County Community Center at 1702 S. 1st.

'Beauty Pageant' For Heart Funds Set Saturday

The third annual All-Male "Beauty Pageant," in which men observe April Fool's Day by dressing up as women and making fools of themselves for the benefit of the Lynn County Division of the American Heart Assn., will begin at 7 p.m. Saturday at the Tahoka High School auditorium.

"Big Ed" Wilkes of Lubbock will be master of ceremonies for the event. Winners will be named in "beauty" and "talent" categories, or maybe just one overall winner, who knows? Somebody will be crowned "Miss April Fool, 1989."

Admission will be $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for students. Pre-schoolers will be admitted free.

Daylight Savings Time Returns

Daylight Saving Time will return Sunday morning, April 2, at 2 a.m. when time moves forward an hour to 3 a.m.

Previously, Daylight Saving Time was begun on the last Sunday in April, but a new law passed on July 8, 1987, changed the observance to the first Sunday in April.

The ending day for Daylight Saving Time this year will be the final Sunday in October, Oct. 29, when clocks will be moved backwards an hour.

Migrant Program Meeting Planned

The parents and the Advisory Committee for Chapter I Regular and Chapter I Migrant will have their second meeting on March 31, 1989 in the High School Library. The meeting time will be from 3 until 3:30 p.m.

All parents and interested people are invited to attend.

Woodwork...

By Dalton

WITH THE change in time coming up at 2 a.m. Sunday, the first Sunday in April, everyone is supposed to set his clock forward an hour, to 3 a.m., signifying the start of Daylight Savings Time.

It's a semiannual event for people in most of the U.S., and doing it doesn't bother me much, but there are some people who hate having to change the time.

A new law passed by Congress offers some relief for those who don't like having to change their clocks twice a year. It allows persons who are willing to sign an affidavit that they are opposed in principle to the idea of going on or off Daylight Time to set their clocks forward a half hour Saturday night when they go to bed, but they have to leave them that way for the rest of their lives.

They will be permitted by law to report to their jobs a half hour late or early, depending on the time of year, and they also must take their lunch hours at what would be 11:30 or 12:30 for everyone else.

If they travel by airline, they must notify the airline at the time of ticket purchase that they are one of the "Half-hour persons," and the carrier must hold their seats 30 minutes past departure time, if necessary.

Appointments with attorneys, doctors, dentists, accountants and an insurance man I know will not be affected, since you never get to see them when you are supposed to, anyway.

If you believe any of the stuff in the preceding four paragraphs, you are a big April Fool. The law permitting you to operate on half-time went into effect at 11:59 p.m. and expired promptly at midnight yesterday.

Okay, so all of that was just something to serve as a reminder that Saturday is April Fool's Day, although it is true that Daylight Time starts Sunday.

The origin of April Fool's Day is uncertain, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica, although the World Book says the custom originated in France. According to the EB, April Fool is the name given to the first day of April because of the custom of playing practical jokes "or sending persons on fool's errands" that day. The EB says the origin of the observance is "much disputed, but is related in some way to once universal festivities held at vernal equinox, which, beginning on Old New Year's Day, March 25, ended on April 1."

To me, that was information that boggled the mind. I didn't know March 25 was ever New Year's Day. I also am a little vague about vernal equinox, which I figured might be some kind of flea powder, or maybe something you take for upset stomach.

MRS. JEFFREY LYNN FREEMAN nee CYNTHIA GAIL ATKINSON
Atkinson-Freeman Vows Exchanged
March 4 In Fort Worth

Cynthia Gail Atkinson and Jeffrey Lynn Freeman, both of Austin, were united in marriage on March 4, 1989 at 2 p.m. in a formal ceremony at River Oaks United Methodist Church in Fort Worth. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Fred Daughtry of San Angelo. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Atkinson of Fort Worth and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Freeman of DeSoto. The groom is the grandson of the late Elnora Curry and the great nephew of Frances E. Dunagan of Tahoka.

The altar area of the church was decorated with a cross-shaped candelabrum flanked by two fan-shaped and the cathedral train, which also had large net inserts with embroidery, pearls, and crystal iridescents. Her waistlength veil of double-layered tulle was attached to a wreath of silk flowers, pearls, and crystal sequins. She wore pearl earrings, a gift from the groom. Her cascade bouquet of peach and ivory roses, ivy, and baby's breath, contained two long-stemmed roses which the bride presented to the mothers at the beginning and end of the ceremony.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Charissa Anderson of Fort Worth. Matron of honor was Susan Farr of Ramsey, England. Bridesmaid were Anna White of San Antonio; Jennifer Freeman, the groom's sister of DeSoto; and Kathy Atkinson, the bride's sister-in-law, of Fort Worth. The flower girl was Molly Scopel, the groom's cousin from Rosenberg. Lindsey and Matthew Grubb, cousins of the bride, handed out programs to the guests as they arrived.

John Holt of Austin was best man. Groomsman were David Glazner of Grand Prairie; Gary Layfield of Fort Worth; John Curry, the groom's cousin of San Angelo; and Tim Atkinson, the bride's brother, of Fort Worth. The groom's cousin, Greg Curry of College Station, served as an usher.

As the mothers were escorted to their seats, they each lit a candle, from which the bride and groom lit a unity candle at the end of the ceremony.

Carolyn Lott, harpist, provided the musical prelude. During the ceremony, Charissa Anderson sang "Only God Could Love You More," "Devoted To You," and "The Love Will Make You One," accompanied by Gayle Holder, organist, who also played the processional and recessional.

Following the ceremony, the bride's parents hosted a reception in the East Wing of the church. The room was decorated with white lattice panels draped in teal satin. Buffet tables were covered with teal and white cloths and draped in teal satin. Silver candelabra and the bridesmaids' bouquets decorated the tables. The four-tiered wedding cake of peach and white was topped with a crystal heart from which was suspended a crystal cross and two gold wedding bands. Table appointments included a silver coffee service and silver punch bowl.

The groom's cake was maroon and white and was decorated with the Texas A&M logo. It was served from a table covered with a white cloth draped in maroon.

Serving the cake and punch were Ann White of Fort Worth; Susan Nix of Crowley; Tirol Barden of Joshua; Cindy Altum of Plano; and Jody Woodard and Debbie Stadlander of Austin. Amber King, cousin of the bride from Fort Worth, distributed scrolls from the bride and groom to the guests.

To begin the reception, Cynthia and Jeff played a tape they had made singing "After All Those Years," as a tribute to their parents. As guests were greeted and served, background music was provided by the harpist.

Following their wedding trip to Oahu, Kauai, and Maui, the couple will make their home in Austin where Cynthia, a graduate of Baylor, is the archivist and records manager for the State Bar of Texas, and Jeff, a graduate of Texas A&M, is an electrical engineer for Motorola.

On Friday evening, the groom's parents hosted a rehearsal dinner for the wedding party and guests at the Old Swiss House Restaurant in Fort Worth.

Two Great Dangers To Your Eyes

There are many causes of blindness, from congenital defects to accidents. But, two different degenerative and progressive diseases are a great danger to persons over 40. Senile cataracts cause about 13% and Glaucoma about 14% of all blindness.

But cataracts can be safely removed and glaucoma can be controlled, providing the diagnosis of either is made and treatment begun in its early stages. The only sure way to guard against these two dangers is to have your eyes examined by a Doctor every two years after the age of 40. It takes an expert to diagnose them.

Disposing Of Household Cleaning Products

Everyone generally knows about careful use and storage of household cleaning products. "Care" is also the key word for proper disposal of containers of such products.

Most unused household products and containers can be disposed of with other household waste without problems. However, two precautions should be taken:

1. Always secure caps on empty containers. This protects children, pets and garbage handlers.

2. Discard containers in an outside garbage can with a secure lid or in a similar place where children and pets cannot easily get to them.

Always read and follow label instructions. Remember that some products require special handling.

Some labels specify rinsing containers before disposing of them. On the other hand, never add water to containers of such products as granular drain cleaners and toilet bowl cleaners.

Always check disinfectants, sanitizers and similar products for special instructions.

Never reuse empty cleaning product containers for other purposes. Label instructions meant for one product may be dangerous to someone who doesn't know the container is being reused.

Don't pour leftover chemicals into a drain or toilet unless this is their intended use. You may damage plumbing or septic tanks or contaminate the water supply.

DIVERTICULOSIS

Only 1 in 10 Americans develop diverticulosis by age 40, however 2 out of 3 do so by age 60. It consists of little pouches or hernias in the wall of the colon caused by repeated straining to expel hard stools. Problems arise when the contents of the intestines move sluggishly and some is forced into the pouches to become plugged and infected. Plenty of fluid (8 glass a day) plus adequate fiber diet usually prevents complications. Laxatives irritate the colon and are not advised for diverticulosis.

Members of an accreditation team from the Texas Education Agency will be available Monday, April 3, to meet with parents and patrons who have an interest in expressing their views and opinions about the Wilson ISD, according to David Williams, school superintendent.

Interviews will be conducted by team members beginning at 5 p.m. in the cafeteria of the school district located at 1411 Green Avenue, Wilson.

Every school district in the state is required by law to be visited by an accreditation team from the agency to evaluate the quality of its educational programs and to determine what progress the school district has made since the last visit.

The Wilson News

By PAM WILLIAMS

I hope everyone had a pleasant Springbreak while students enjoyed a week away from school. Friday, April 21, and Monday, May 29, are scheduled as bad weather days. Friday, June 2, is the last day of school. Summer is just around the corner!

Several elementary students will be traveling to Ropes on Thursday, March 30, to compete in the UIL contests there. The elementary contest is open for students in 2nd through 6th grade. The students competing have been practicing and studying for many weeks. The results will be available next week.

Little Dribblers will be playing at Meadow on Friday. The 3-4th grade girls' game will begin at 5:30 with the other games following approximately every hour. On Monday, April 3, the Little Dribblers will be traveling to Southland.

The Girl Scout Fair will be held in Lubbock on Saturday, April 1. The Brownies and Juniors will have a booth set up for other Girl Scouts and their families to visit. The fair is from 1 to 4:30 p.m. and there is no admission charge. It will be held in the Civic Center Exhibit Hall.

The Webelos may be attending a Camporee at Gaines Park on April 7-9 if 2-3 dads can plan to go with the boys. I've only had one dad say he would definitely go, and that is not enough to accompany the boys.

The first graders will be taking their first TEAMS test on April 5-6.

The final PTO meeting for this year will be April 10 at 7 p.m. in the high school auditorium. The Kindergarten and first graders will be presenting a play about Texas at this meeting. Officers for the 1989-90 school year will be elected.

Vivian McAfee
Music 1-6, ESL

Vivian McAfee teaches music in grades 1-6 at Tahoka Elementary Schools, and English as a Second Language (ESL). She lives in Tahoka with her husband, Mark who is an engineering assistant at Lyntegar Electric Cooperative, and two children, Leigh Ann, 4, and Amy Lynn, 2. She has taught at Tahoka Schools for 10 years and says, "I resigned as a third grade teacher hoping to be rehired to teach music. For one year I taught only part-time. The worst part was waiting to see if the school board would make my position full time."

She was raised and attended school in Borger, and graduated from Texas Tech with a Bachelors in Music Education in 1977. She has been a summer camp counselor, lifeguard, pool manager and private music instructor. Vivian enjoys music and singing, especially for church, jogging, needlework, sewing, swimming, golf and lots of other sports. She is a member of the First Baptist Church where she is Pre-School Choir Director, Co-Ed Sunday School teacher with her husband, a member of the Sunshine Singers, church choir, and Baptist Young Women.

"All children are capable of learning, especially learning about music," Vivian believes. "Everyone has some talent and if challenged, students can achieve far more than they ever imagined," she adds. Her best moment is "seeing a child's face light up when they understand." She fondly recalls a fourth grade student saying, upon leaving her room after a theory lesson, "Mrs. McAfee, I love music class - you make music fun."

News From ... Extension Agent Brett Cyfert Lynn County Extension Office

Use Herbicides On Range Weeds
 Weeds cost ranchers many dollars in lost production each year because they rob desirable forages of moisture and nutrients.

But herbicides can reduce those losses.
 Range weeds could be a serious problem in some areas of Texas this spring because of winter rains, says Brett Cyfert, county agent. Each rancher needs to check his rangeland now to see if he has a weed infestation.

Ranchers that find heavy weed infestations on their ranges should consider control measures. Broad-leaf plants such as distaff thistle, annual broomweed, camphorweed, ragweed and others should be the target for herbicide control.

Use of the herbicide 2, 4-D in early spring provides excellent control of most annual weeds. Weeds should be growing rapidly and the herbicide should be applied before they flower. Ranchers may use 2, 4-D amine in areas that receive more than 25 inches of annual rainfall, while 2, 4-D low volatile ester should be used in areas of less rainfall.

To control harder-to-kill weeds, a dicamba-2, 4-D mixture or a picloram-2, 4-D mixture is effective. Dicamba (Bavel) and 2, 4-D may be tank mixed, or a dicamba-2, 4-D mixture (1:3 ratio) is commercially available under the trade name Weedmaster. Likewise, picloram (Grazon PC) and 2, 4-D may be tank mixed, or a commercial formulation (1:4 ratio of picloram and 2, 4-D) is available under the trade name Grazon P+D.

Weed control on rangeland is a practice that can produce significant returns. Weed control result demonstrations have shown a significant increase in grass production by controlling unwanted weeds. In many cases, a pound of grass has been produced for every pound of weeds controlled.

For maximum benefits from herbicides weeds control, ranchers should practice good grazing management. Deferred grazing during the growing season will allow grasses to gain vigor and become better established. Proper grazing management can help keep a good cover of grass while reducing weeds.

 The 1988 result demonstration books are completed and ready at the Extension Office.

NOTICE**
CUSTOMER END USER CHARGES
 To all Puka-Lambro Telephone Cooperative, Inc. Subscribers:
 The Federal Communications Commission requires Puka-Lambro Telephone Cooperative, Inc. to increase subscriber line charges, effective April 1, 1989. The charges to residential and single line business customers will increase by $0.03 per month and for certain Centrex or Centrex-type customers by $1.00 per month. This increase applies to single-party and multi-party line customers.
 These subscribers line charges are designed to recover a portion of the costs of connecting telephone customers to the nationwide telephone network that in the past were recovered through interstate long distance charges. We anticipate that the increased subscriber line charges authorized may be offset by reductions in charges by long distance service providers.
 The new charges, effective April 1, 1989 are:

	Rate Per Month
- Individual line or trunk, including multi-party lines, each	$3.50
- Individual Centrex or Centrex-type line or trunk, installed on or order prior to July 28, 1983, each:	$6.00

Traffic Death Toll In Texas Increases

For the first time since 1984, Texas experienced an increase in traffic fatalities in 1988.

The traffic death toll in Texas for 1988 was 3,395, an increase of 4.1 percent from the 3,261 deaths recorded in the state in 1987, according to DPS Director Col. Joe E. Milner.

"After several years of watching the number of deaths on our streets and highways steadily decline, we are certainly disappointed to see this increase," Milner said. "This is a reminder that we cannot be complacent about traffic safety."

Though the number of traffic deaths increased last year, the death rate—a calculation based on the number of deaths per 100 million miles traveled—stayed at the 1988 level of 2.2 deaths. This is the lowest mileage death rate in Texas history.

"There are many factors involved in fatal traffic accidents and while we cannot point to absolute reasons for the increase we have seen in traffic deaths, we have some pretty good ideas," Milner said.

The DPS director said that 40 percent of all traffic fatalities in 1988 were alcohol or drug related.

"We know that 1,363 persons lost their lives last year in accidents caused by alcohol or drug abuse," Milner said. "Unfortunately, this represents an increase from the previous year."

Another factor in traffic fatalities is excessive speed.
 "Traffic deaths in rural areas of Texas, which includes towns and cities under 5,000, increased by 10.5 percent last year," Milner said.

Dr. Banerjee Attends Seminar For Physicians On Care Of Elderly

Dr. Swapan Banerjee attended a seminar sponsored by the Texas Academy of Family Physicians March 17. This course was designed for family physicians to focus on a multidisciplinary approach to the care of the elderly in an office setting. Subject areas that were covered were pulmonary, cardiology, neurology, and rheumatology.

Family practice is a bona medical specialty that has evolved from general practice and the family doctor of old. Membership in the Academy is a commitment to excellence. Each member must attend 150 hours every three years of approved continuing medical education in order to maintain membership. No other specialty has this requirement for membership.

The Texas Academy of Family Physicians is dedicated to the cornerstone of the healing arts, Family Practice. It is the largest medical specialty society in Texas. The objectives and purposes of the Academy are: 1. to promote and maintain high standards of family practice in medicine and surgery; 2. to encourage and assist young men and women in preparing, qualifying, and establishing themselves in family practice; 3. to advance medical science, private and public health, and to preserve the patient's right to free choice of physician; 4. to assure that family physicians can engage in medical and surgical procedures for which they are qualified by training and experience; 5. to assist in providing continued education for family physicians; and 6. to acknowledge and assume responsible public advocacy in all health related matters.

County Students To Compete In Regional Science Fair

South Plains College, in cooperation with the City of Levelland, will sponsor the 33rd annual South Plains Regional Science Fair, set for March 31-April 1 on the SPC campus.

Approximately 400 science projects by fourth through 12th graders from 20 South Plains counties, including Lynn County schools, have been registered for the fair, according to Mary Beth Barton, science teacher at Levelland Junior High School. She and Laverne Davis, also a science teacher there, are co-directors.

First, second and third place ribbons will be awarded the winners in each grade; and the top winners in biological and physical sciences will receive trophies. The school with the most student participants and the most points earned will receive a plaque and the sweepstakes award.

The top individual winner with the most points will compete May 7-13 at the International Science Fair in Pittsburgh, Pa.

The science fair schedule includes registration and set-up of exhibits from 9-11 a.m. March 31 in Texan Dome, jam sessions and entertainment for the participants from 11 a.m.-noon in the Tom T. Hall Production Studio and SPC Theater for the Performing Arts; and judging of exhibits from 1:30-3 p.m. The exhibits will be open to the public from 4-5 p.m.

The exhibits also will be open to the public again from 9-10 a.m. Saturday. An awards ceremony is scheduled from 10:45-11:45 a.m. in Texan Dome to cap the festivities.

The top winners in the biological and physical science divisions will receive $500 scholarships to attend SPC, according to Fred Harris, director of development for the SPC Foundation.

Projects will be judged on creative ability, scientific thought, thoroughness, clarity and dramatic value and technical skill.

Legislators Hear Youth Concerns At 4-H Breakfast Program

Texas legislators were briefed on how the 4-H program of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service is addressing youth programs and concerns during a breakfast program in Austin, March 21, hosted by 4-H Volunteer leaders from across the state.

The "bottom line" of the briefing was that investing in youth programs is critical today if Texas is to have a sound economic future.

Becky Moore of O'Donnell was among the 66 4-H leaders attending the breakfast at the Radisson Hotel. Legislators were appraised of the role of 4-H, which focuses on helping youth from the third grade through age 19 develop into productive citizens and tomorrow's leaders.

The 4-H program uses a wide range of subject matter information to provide opportunities for youth to learn decision making, goal setting, risk taking, communications and public speaking skills, democratic practices, leadership and citizenship. 4-H also focuses on developing life skills and a positive self-concept in youths and that these are effective methods for helping youth cope with the pressures of today's society.

The 4-H program has had a positive influence on hundreds of thousands of youth for more than 80 years, and it will continue to lay a solid foundation for those who avail themselves of its benefits. Our youths are the most precious resources we have; they are our future. To assure a prosperous future for Texas, we must invest in our youth programs.

The 4-H volunteer leaders that attended the legislative breakfast represented some 26,000 volunteer leaders and more than 380,000 4-H members throughout Texas.

The palm tree gets its name from the type of palm that has blades that fan out, resembling the palm and fingers of a hand.

DID YOU EVER notice that there are two kinds of women who clean house? Those who sing and those who don't sing. I have always believed in the ideals of Walt Disney's Snow White character, who believed in singing a happy tune while she whisked all the dirt away — so I sing. The seven dwarves believed in whistling while they worked, but I never did learn how to whistle. I know ... anybody can whistle. But I can't, and please don't come and try to teach me. I think my tongue is too fat, or something.

Anyway, back to my singing. I really do like to sing. In fact, I like to sing so much that recently I gave a free concert. I didn't intend to do it, and in fact it was one of my most recent embarrassing moments. I was, as you have probably guessed, cleaning house. I was running the vacuum cleaner, and had my Sony Walkman headphones on, singing right along with the female vocalist. You know how you sing real loud and off key when you sing with headphones on? So you can almost hear yourself over the music in your ears? Well, that's what I was doing.

Unfortunately, I had the front door wide open, with both screens pulled up. I figured, as it was about eight o'clock in the evening, that all my neighbors had their doors and windows closed for the night. What I didn't figure on was a guy who would come to my door wanting my husband to play tennis that night. I had my back to the door, and I don't know how long he was standing there before I heard a vague "tap, tap, tap" and turned to see him grinning at the door. I stopped in mid-chorus, whipped off my headphones, flicked off the vacuum cleaner and wished I was somewhere else.

He didn't say anything about my "concert," but maybe he was just an extremely polite person. We talked about my husband, their tennis, my puppy who jumped all over him, what a nice night it was, and everything except, thank goodness for small favors, my extremely loud singing. He was an amazingly nice teenager. Will wonders never cease?

Anyway, he eventually left. I opened the door, carefully looked around to see if anybody else was coming, and then resumed my vacuuming and singing. Old habits are hard to break.

On the doggy front ... last night we gave our 9-week-old puppy her first bath. Actually we gave her two baths. First my husband shampooed and blow-dried the pooch. Then I decided she wasn't clean enough and after I had given the kids a bath, I scooped up Suzie Q and gave her another bath. Now I'm not normally all that picky about cleanliness, but this came under the heading of "special circumstances."

One gives one's puppy two baths in one night after one's husband has changed the oil in the car and left a big shallow bucket of greasy grimey oil on the ground. Suzie Q found this bucket immediately, even though our home is situated on one-and-a-half lots and there were lots of other places for her to look. She found that bucket pretty quick (it was probably emanating some delightfully putrid aromas) and jumped right into it to investigate.

My husband, the sneak, sent our 4-year-old girl in to the house to break the news, which was the first I heard about the incident. I was in the kitchen cooking supper, and she runs in hollering for a towel. "What for?" I asked. "Daddy's giving Suzie a bath," she explains. Right away I knew something was up. Daddy doesn't usually do anything like that without several hours of coaxing from Mommy. So I gave her a towel and followed her out the door, and came upon my husband muttering under his breath over a drenched dog. Neither one of them looked very happy.

But, eventually everybody got clean and dry. We gave the dog some milk bones to make her happy, and I finished cooking supper to make my family happy.

Just another normal day on Jones Mountain. Goodnight, John-Boy.
