Woodwork...

By Dalton

AS SOON AS they read this, several nice people I know who have been using a certain phrase all their lives probably won't use it anymore, because I finally found out what it means.

The phrase is "What in the Sam Hill..." as in "WTSH are you doing?" or "Where in the Sam Hill did you come up with that?" or some such phrase. I inquired of some people over at the Senior Citizens center the other day if they knew where that came from, or if they knew who Sam Hill was, and they all said no, they really didn't, but they had heard the saying for years, and had used it many times themselves. I asked them something else about hills, but I'll get to that in a few paragraphs.

After talking with several people about Sam Hill (I know a guy by that name, but he's not old enough to have started the traditional saying), I tried to think where in the Sam Hill I could find out, and I decided to check the dictionary, just to see if old Sam were listed.

Sam Hill is listed on page 660 of Webster's New World Dictionary of the American Language, second edition, and it said this: "euphemistic slang term for Hell." That means that people use the term "Sam Hill" instead of the other word, because "Sam Hill" sounds nicer.

The dictionary still didn't say who in the Sam Hill was Sam Hill.

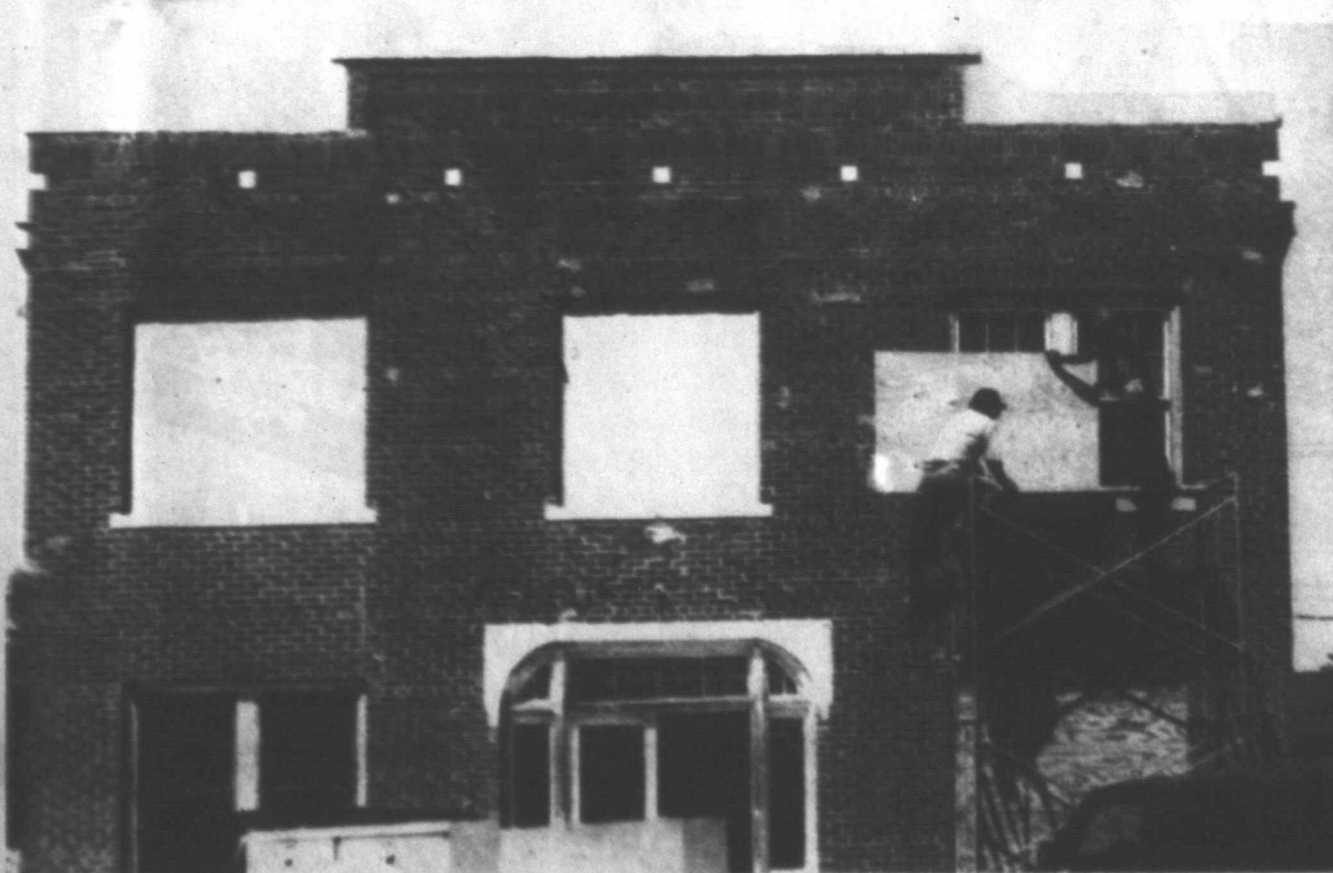

THE OTHER question we discussed was why is something worthless considered "not worth a hill of beans?" Although I can't grow anything except goatheads, I can't recall ever seeing a hill of beans, nor could I imagine why it would be no good for anything, even if such things exist.

The oldtimers said beans used to be planted in hills or mounds, instead of in rows like bean-growers do now. And one woman said the logical explanation for the phrase was that one hill of beans would be no good just because there were not enough beans in a single hill. Several hills of beans would be valuable, she said (a debatable conclusion if you don't like beans any better than I do).

THERE ARE always some people out there eager to point out everybody else's mistakes, and an acquaintance of mine jumped all over me because in a recent item about the official Welsh emblem and flower I misspelled leek as "leak."

I couldn't wait to see you, you made a bad mistake and misspelled leek, you should know better, you dummy, the word is in the Bible so you should have known it is spelled L-E-E-K, she told me gleefully.

I really didn't want to talk about it, since what I did was inexcusable. But I meekly accepted the criticism and told her I would seek to do better this weak.

New Publication Helps Child-Care Providers

The U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) has announced the publication of a booklet to help those small business persons who own or wish to start a child-care business, according to Walter Fronstin, district director of Lubbock's SBA office.

"Quality Child Care Makes Good

Business Sense" was written by child-care professionals in the public and private sectors and explains both the business and academic requirements for operating a child-care center. It also can be used as a guide for parents who want to know what to look for when choosing a child-care center.

"This book will be of great assistance to persons interested in establishing a child-care facility", Fronstin said.

The demand for child-care services has steadily increased as more and more women have entered the work force. To date, working mothers—in both single and two-parent households—constitute the fastest growing segment of the paid work force. "We think this booklet can help the small business community to do what it does best: respond to a market need", Fronstin said.

The booklet provides practical information on how to start a child-care service, find a good location, choose the proper insurance, locate sources of funding, write a business plan, and market the business.

For more information on securing this informative booklet, contact Bill Beauchamp at SBA, 1611 10th Street, Suite 200, Lubbock, Tx. 79401 or call (806) 743-7462.

MRS. ALAN ED VINSON (nee CHRISTI SLONE)
Slone-Vinson Vows Exchanged In August 11 Ceremony

Christi Kaye Slone became the bride of Alan Ed Vinson Friday, Aug. 11, 1989 at 7:30 p.m. at Cooper United Methodist Church in Woodrow. Philip Sams of Ontario, Oregon, officiated the ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Linda L. Slone of Wilson and C.W. Slone of Grassland and Gene and Mary Frances Vinson of Woodrow.

Christi, escorted and presented in marriage by her father, chose an exquisite formal length, white taffeta gown designed by Illisa. The gown was made up of an ornately beaded bodice of schiffli lace outlined in seed pearls, a scooped neck and basquid waistline. Matching bead work was also found on shoulders and forearms of the sleeves. The adorned bodice lead to a peplum attached to the waistline. The gown was completed by a full ballroom skirt, low back, and cathedral length train. Scalloped lace finished the edging of the gown.

To complete the overall look of the bride, she chose a fingertip length veil. Woven strands of silver beads and seed pearls made up the exquisite headpiece. A spray of white flowers was added to accent one side and a billowy pouff added height to the veiling.

Christi carried a cascading bouquet of white dendrolim orchids, white southern lace roses, stars of Bethlehem, with French loops of bear grass and accents of Delph.

Matron of honor was Cherie Nettles of Wilson, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Cindy Gardner of Tahoka, sister of the bride, Conny Thomas of Lausanne, Switzerland, Stacey Askew of Wilson, and Trisha Houchin of Lubbock.

The attendants wore long navy taffeta dresses featuring a cut out "V" back, puff sleeves and a peplum. They carried a single white rose.

Best man was Greg Tabor of Woodrow. Groomsmen were Kyle Vinson of Houston, Kelly Vinson, Brad Vinson and Mike Vinson of Lubbock, all brothers of the groom.

Ushers for the ceremony were Scott Smith, Danny Pevehouse, Chris Kemp and Brian Heinrich, all of Lubbock. Jason Swink of Lubbock and Brent Rainold of Tahoka, served as candlelighters.

Flowergirls were Christyn Nicole Nettles and Jessica Vinson. Ring bearers were Cory Gardner and J. Vinson.

Registering guests was Debbie Atwell of Midland.

Nancy Ross was pianist and Onita Steinhauser played the organ. La Tronda Maines sang "The Parents Prayer", "The Wedding Song", "Enough For Me" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride is a graduate of Wilson High School and is employed by Esteve Bro. Cotton Co. in Lubbock.

The groom is a graduate of Cooper High School and attends Texas Tech University.

Following a wedding trip to Galveston, the couple will reside in Lubbock.

A reception followed after the ceremony. Serving at the groom's table were Suzy Pevehouse and Shara Fredenburg. Servers for the bride's table were Angie Morton and Jana Wuensche. The tables were covered with ecru chiffon cloth, featuring brass appointments.

The groom's parents hosted a backyard barbecue following the wedding rehearsal.

Wedding Courtesies

Christi Slone was honored with a lingerie shower on Tuesday, Aug. 8, in the home of Dixie Reese. Honored guests were the bride-to-be and future bridegroom's mothers, Mary Frances Vinson of Cooper and Linda L. Slone of Wilson. Hostesses were Dixie Reese and Billie Kay Norman.

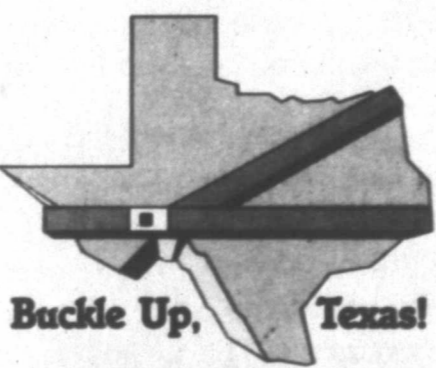

A bridesmaid dinner was hosted by the bride's aunt and cousin of Midland, Juanell Fort and Debbie Atwell. All bridal attendants enjoyed the Mexico Fiesta at Santa Fe Station in Lubbock held Wednesday, Aug. 9. Honored guests were Linda L. Slone, mother-of-the-bride, Mary L. Vinson, mother-of-the-groom, Louise Pallo of Lovington, N.M., and Louise Jernigan of Albuquerque, N.M.

The bride-elect was honored with a rice bag party in the home of Jana Wuensche of Wilson. Honored guests were Linda L. Slone, mother-of-the-bride and Mary Frances Vinson, mother-of-the-groom.

On July 26, 1969, Sharon Adams, a 39-year-old Californian, became the first woman ever to sail alone across the Pacific Ocean. She covered the 5,618-mile distance from Yokohama, Japan, to San Diego harbor in her 31-foot ketch, in 74 days, 17 hours, 15 minutes.

Consumer News

Here's some news for consumers from The Society of the Plastics Industry.

Researchers now believe colored plastic mulch may increase plant growth even more than other plastic mulch. Recent experiments indicate tomatoes respond well to red mulch, while potatoes and green peppers prefer white. It's the reflection from colored plastic mulch film that increases the harvests of certain crops. That's news that may grow on consumers everywhere.

Odds are that three out of every five race horses will be sidelined by foot or leg injuries before they are even two-years-old. However, a new plastic horseshoe that acts as a shock-absorber may be improving these odds. Based on some of the same spring technology used for the "Seattle Foot," a prosthesis for physically active foot amputees, the "Seattle Shoe" is designed to prevent injuries and help injured horses return to the track more quickly. And, it lasts longer than traditional iron shoes.

Consumers already accustomed to seeing their coffee vacuum-packed for freshness, are likely to see more fresh cuts of meat vacuum-packed in plastic. Meats that previously would last only three days in the refrigerator now can last up to a month—without preservatives—when vacuum-packed fresh.

The Silver Anniversary celebration, field day, and tour will be held at the USDA Soil Conservation Service (USDA-SCS) Plant Materials Center (PMC) near Knox City on Aug. 30, 1989.

During the noon lunch, a formal program will be held with Honorable Charles Stenholm, U.S. Congressman from the 17th District of Texas, as the keynote speaker. Oneth, State Conservationist, USDA-SCS, Texas, and Budd Foundation, State Conservationist, USDA-SCS, Oklahoma, will also be on the program.

Eual Davis, SCS District Conservationist at Tahoka said guided tours are planned through the (PMC) starting at 9:30 a.m. Tours will run continually until lunch, then again until about 2:30 p.m. Registration will start at 8:45 a.m.

Several selections of plants are being grown at the PMC that were not being evaluated during the last field day in 1986.

To get to the PMC, go north of Knox City on State Highway 6 about 2 miles, then turn left at FM 1292 for 2 and 1/2 miles. There are signs at both the turn-off and the PMC, he said.

Davis said Knox City has a 3,200-foot all-weather run way near the PMC for those wanting to fly to the field day in private or chartered planes. Transportation from the airport to the PMC will be furnished by the Knox City Chamber of Commerce on a prearranged basis.

Grass seed dealers, seed growers, conservation district directors, researchers, wildlife enthusiasts, livestock producers, and others interested in the search for better plants are invited to attend. The PMC serves both the Texas and Oklahoma.

Lunch will be served all by the Knox City Chamber of Commerce on a prepaid basis at $5 per plate. Payment must be sent to Doris Crownover, Attention: Field Day Lunch, Chamber of Commerce, P.O. News From ... Extension Agent Brett Cypert Lynn County Extension Office

Pecan Trees Require Special Summer Care

Like many trees, pecans need special attention in the summer. That means taking time to apply zinc sprays, controlling aphids, scab, pruning and irrigating as well, said Brett Cypert, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Agent.

To overcome the problem of pecan scab, use fungicide sprays of Benlate, Topsin or Super Tin. Scab can develop on pecan trees in any part of Texas when the weather is wet and warm.

Pecan growers also have had to worry about sticky, sugar-covered leaves each summer due to aphid infestations. Zolone or malathion sprays can give homeowners good control.

Summertime drought is a sure bet for part of the state every year, and pecans will suffer if they do not receive from one to two inches of water per week each summer through September, Cypert said. A mature pecan tree will use more than 100 gallons of water per day. If pecan trees go more than three weeks without water, serious crop loss can occur.

Weeds and grass also use soil moisture, so keep competitive vegetation to a minimum under pecan trees. With shallow soil and vegetation under trees, a weekly irrigation will be needed.

Owners of young pecan trees should be aware that weeds slow down growth more than anything else. It is best to use a contact herbicide such as Roundup to keep the limb-spread area weed-free.

All pecan trees less than four years of age should have only one main trunk. If there are two, three or four trunks developing simply cut the weaker ones out and leave the strongest one, recommended Cypert.

Young trees also should receive zinc sprays every two weeks of the summer to insure maximum growth.

Tulia Man Reappointed Head Of State ASCS

Secretary of Agriculture Clayton Yuetter has announced the reappointment of Terrance Harman of Tulia as State Executive Director of the Texas Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

He will be responsible for carrying out federal farm price support, production adjustment and cost-sharing conservation programs in Texas.

The former Tahoka teenager appeared in a first-time scene, "The Lavender Cowboy," and was part of a group of young women "serenading a forlorn cowboy who, despite the fact that he has used ample amounts of hair tonic, still has only two hairs on his chest."

The show had six episodes, each depicting Crosby County life between 1872 and 1880.

The format of music and script is presented in the natural surroundings where much of the story actually occurred.

Tips for Finding Peace and Quiet

Sometimes it's hard to get some peace and quiet in today's noisy world. But for the sake of your hearing and your mental and physical health, it's important to try. Following this advice from the E-A-R Group, the world's largest manufacturer of hearing protection devices, can help:

- Regulate the volume of your sound system. When using your headset, keep the volume at a level where you can understand conversations spoken at a normal level around you. In general, the volume of your sound system is too loud if you must raise your voice or shout to be heard over the music.

- Redesign your home or office. Bulky furniture, heavy carpeting and thick drapes all muffle sound, while bare floors and mirrors reflect and amplify sound. Place rubber mats under major appliances and foam pads under smaller items.

- If outside noise is a problem, try to plug cracks around pipes and electrical outlets. Use sponge-type weather stripping to cover openings around windows and doors, and install storm windows to help muffle aggravating street noise. An air conditioner or a fan can also help block out distracting sounds.

- Wear a hearing protection device, such as Noise Filter® foam earplugs, whenever you're in a noisy setting—whether it's going to a rock concert or working with power tools.

For a free brochure on hearing protection, send a stamped, self-addressed business size envelope to: "A Helpful Guide to Ear Protection," E-A-R Group, 5457 West 79th Street, Indianapolis, IN 46268.

Hints for Homemakers

Paper Platters To The Rescue

Are you a victim of buffet blunders? If so, this scene may sound familiar: You're on the buffet line piling lots of great foods onto your paper plate. Before long, your cole slaw has run into your baked beans, the shish kabobs are smeared with potato salad and your steamer are about to slide over the rim.

Not all paper plates are alike: Some handle buffet meals better than others.

To the rescue are Platters by Chinest®, oversize, oval-shaped disposable plates that are perfect for oversize feasts. Made of sturdy molded fiber—not just pressed paper—these platters are big and strong enough to tackle large-size portions without bending, leaking or dripping.

Unlike foam plates which can sometimes melt, Chinest Platters can stand up to even sizzling steaks just off the grill. Steak knives won't cut through, either. Plus, since these platters aren't plastic-coated, food won't slide around on the plate. Available in supermarkets, Chinest Platters are also completely biodegradable, so you can picnic guilt-free.

Before eating anything, the racoon first washes the food in the nearest available water.

American Heart Association
Raisin-Oatmeal Cookies

Special thank-you hugs come with these cookies. A welcome lunch box or after school treat. The kids won't want to share them with their friends.

- | | | | |
|------------|--------------------|---------|------------------|
| 1 cup | flour, sifted | 1 cup | brown sugar |
| 1/2 tsp. | baking soda | 1/3 cup | oil |
| 1 1/2 cups | quick cooking oats | 1/2 cup | skim milk |
| 2 | egg whites, | 1 tsp. | vanilla extract |
| | slightly beaten | 1 cup | seedless raisins |
| 1/4 tsp. | cinnamon | | |

Sift together flour, baking soda and cinnamon. Stir in the oats. Combine egg whites, brown sugar, oil, milk, vanilla, and raisins and add to flour mixture. Mix well.

Drop batter a teaspoon at a time onto an oiled cookie sheet. Bake at 375° F. for 12 to 15 minutes, depending on texture desired. Shorter baking time results in a chewy soft cookie, the longer time in a crisp one.

ASTHMA IS USUALLY A CHRONIC DISEASE

Its victims have breathing difficulties. Attacks are usually mild. Fortunately it is not contagious. But, if neglected, asthma increases in severity and endangers health. It may be caused by an allergy, infection or even nervous tension.

If you think you have asthma, don't attempt self treatment. It is almost impossible for anyone but a physician to diagnose the cause. With proper medical treatment asthma can be kept under control and often cured.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON TAX INCREASE

The New Home I.S.D. will hold a public hearing on a proposal to increase total tax revenues from properties on the tax roll in 1990 by 7% (percent). Your individual taxes may increase at a greater or lesser rate, or even decrease, depending on the change in the taxable value of your property in relation to the change in the taxable value of all other property.

The public hearing will be held on Thursday, August 24, 1989 at 8:00 p.m. in the Board Room.

- FOR the proposal: Leland Zant
George Dozier
Larry Durham
Danny Nettles
Stacy Gill
Eddie Askw

- AGAINST the proposal: NONE
PRESENT and not voting: NONE
ABSENT: Kay James

The statement above shows the percentage increase the proposed rate represents over the .9735 tax rate that the unit published on August 3, 1989. The following table compares taxes on an average home in this taxing unit last year to taxes proposed on the average home this year. Again, your individual taxes may be higher or lower, depending on the taxable value of your property.

	Last Year	This Year
Average home value	32,600	32,600
General exemptions available (amount available on the average home, not including senior citizen's or disabled person's exemptions)	5,000	5,000
Average taxable value	27,600	27,600
Tax rate	.90	1.05
Tax	270.48	289.80

Under this proposal taxes on the average home would increase by $19.32 or 7.1428% (percent) compared with last year's taxes.

Comparing tax rates without adjusting for changes in property value, the tax rate would increase by $.07 per $100 of taxable value or .071428% (percent) compared to last year's tax rate. These tax rate figures are not adjusted for changes in the taxable value of property.

Immunizations Are Required By Texas Schools

With the new school year near, the Texas Medical Association encourages parents to check their child's immunization records. Although outbreaks and epidemics of killer diseases like polio and diphtheria don't pose the threat they once did, infectious disease can still spread.

Children are not born immune to infectious diseases; they must be immunized against them. More than any other preventive health-care practice, immunizations begun in childhood and kept up to date save money, misery and lives.

In Texas, proof of vaccinations for six communicable diseases—polio, tetanus, measles, rubella (German measles), mumps, and diphtheria—is required by law for all children registering for day-care or public school. In addition, pertussis, or whooping cough, vaccine is required for children less than 5 years old in day-care and public school. The Texas TMA recommends the pertussis vaccine be extended for children through age 6.

Because of vaccinations, only two cases of diphtheria and one fatal case of polio have been reported in Texas in the past 10 years. However, some preventable diseases persist because parents allow the original vaccinations to expire without getting the necessary follow-up booster shots. In 1988, the Texas Department of Health recorded outbreaks of measles, mumps, rubella, pertussis, and tetanus. About 3,000 cases of measles were reported during an epidemic in Texas in late 1988 and early 1989. Victims of these diseases included unimmunized children, as well as adults who had allowed their immunizations to lapse.

Your HEALTH TIP

KEEP BLOOD FLOWING

If you must remain seated for long periods (desk, auto, airplane), rotate and flex your feet frequently to aid the return of blood to your heart. This keeps the blood moving so that clots don't form. Blood that remains static tends to clot - these clots can then travel to the lungs or brain and do serious damage.
