

'89 Tax Appraisals Improved Slightly, SPTB Study Finds

Statewide property tax appraisal levels improved for the fourth consecutive year in 1989, according to a study by the State Property Tax Board (SPTB). The agency's preliminary 1989 Property Value Study showed that the typical property on appraisal rolls statewide was appraised at 97 percent of its market value, up from 96 percent in 1988.

On the other hand, appraisals were slightly less uniform in 1989 than in 1988, the study found. That is, similar properties in some categories were more likely to be appraised at different percentages of their actual market value.

State requires tax appraisals to be equal, uniform, and at market value, so that all property owners pay their fair share of taxes. The annual SPTB study measures how closely county appraisal districts come to meeting these standards.

The 1989 study showed that 199 of the state's 253 appraisal districts achieved a median appraisal level between 90 and 100 percent. Appraisals in 33 districts exceeded market value more often than not, while appraisal levels in another 21 districts fell below 90 percent.

"A median appraisal ratio of 1.00, or 100 percent of market value, is not 'perfect,'" said Jim Robinson, the SPTB's executive director, "since by definition, an appraisal district with this median appraised half its properties at more than their market value. The appraisal profession generally considers that a district whose median falls between 0.90 and 1.00 is doing an excellent job—and this range applies to four-fifths of all districts in the state.

"In practice, appraisal districts cannot be expected to achieve perfection," Robinson added. "For one thing, the market itself is imperfect; not all property sales occur at market value. Also, appraisers working for appraisal districts often do not have access to all the property information (including sales prices) that may be available. Nor do they have sufficient staff to perform lengthy and detailed appraisals on each property."

In most cases, statewide appraisal levels for individual property categories in 1989 were as good as, or slightly better than 1988 appraisals, in relation to market value. The most notable drop in appraisal levels occurred for industrial real and personal property.

Appraisal uniformity is important for taxpayers because it ensures equal treatment for property owners even if their taxes are not based on full market value. The SPTB study measures uniformity by means of the coefficient of dispersion (COD); the lower the COD in a particular category, the more uniform the appraisals were.

The least uniform appraisals occurred for utilities, vacant lots, residential inventory, and commercial personal property. Robinson noted that individual properties in these categories are very diverse, and that little sales information is available on which to base appraisals. On the other hand, appraisals of oil, gas, and mineral reserves in 1989 were much more uniform than in 1988, reflecting the relative stability in oil and gas markets and greater consistency within the appraisal profession.

The SPTB conducts its annual study of tax appraisals along with a study of school district taxable values. The agency will certify the final study results on May 31, following appraisal and school district appeals of the preliminary findings.

For more information on the study results, contact the SPTB Tax Information Section at (512) 329-7901.

Two Accidents, Beer Raid Are Reported

Two traffic accidents in the City of Tahoka were investigated by police during the last week, and sheriff's officers joined officers from Lubbock in making a raid on two locations in O'Donnell which resulted in the arrest and fines for three persons, plus seizure of 576 cans of beer.

Last Thursday police investigated an accident at Ave. J and S. 3rd involving a 1979 Ford driven by Wanda Wilkens Mason of Tahoka and a 1990 Mercury driven by John W. Williams of Andrews. No injuries were reported.

On Monday at Lockwood and Ave. L a 1980 Chevrolet driven by Mabel Lee Gurley of Tahoka and another 1980 Chevrolet driven by Dianna C. Silvas of Tahoka collided. The driver and a passenger in the Silvas vehicle, Gwendolyn C. McGruder of Tahoka, were taken by EMS ambulance to Lynn County Hospital for treatment of minor injuries and released.

Three O'Donnell residents were arrested last Thursday night and fined on misdemeanor charges after 10 officers, including five from the sheriff's department and five from the Alcoholic Beverage Control division in Lubbock went to two locations in O'Donnell, where the beer and also three half pints of whiskey were seized.

Fines for the three suspects, including two males age 46 and 69 and a woman age 45, were assessed by County Judge J.F. Brandon, and totaled $4000 plus court costs of $298. The fines were levied Friday after the defendants pleaded guilty. The woman and 69-year-old man were charged with possession of alcoholic beverages for purposes of sale, and the 45-year-old was charged with sale of alcoholic beverages.

Officers this week also recovered a cutting torch and some gauges and hose which had been stolen Feb. 6 or Feb. 7 from a farm owned by Kenneth Eaker, 4.5 miles north of O'Donnell. Two O'Donnell men, age 23 and 26 were charged with misdemeanor theft in the case.

Mike Aten of Rt. 3, Post, reported 30 gallons of diesel and an electric diesel pump stolen from a location 12 miles southeast of Tahoka Monday. The stolen items were valued at $425.

In jail during the week were the three for liquor law violations, the two for theft, one person for driving while intoxicated, one for worthless check, one for terroristic threat, and one for theft over $750 but less than $20,000.

Woodwork...

by Dalton

HOW DRY is a bone? This is one of the questions that occurs to me during this time of drouth on the South Plains. (There's drouth in the south, it's dry in the sky, no showers for our flowers, no drops for our crops...I'm suddenly getting poetic about the situation, since there's not much I can really do to make it rain).

It certainly is not unusual for this area to be hurting for rain, and hopefully by the time anyone reads this, we'll get some moisture. But our chances of getting what we really need (2 inches or more) are not good at this writing. On the bright side, the Weather Service usually does about as well in its predictions as some old guy with rheumatism in his back.

This is the time of year which brings back all the old tall tales about how dry it is, such as the one about the guy laying unconscious in the street after being struck by a raindrop ("it took two buckets of sand to bring him to"), or the housewife who cracked open some eggs and found dirt inside the shell, or the newcomer who asked "How long does the dirt blow like this around here?" ("I don't know, man; I've only lived here two years").

So far as how dry a bone is, I suppose that comes from the Biblical reference to the Valley of Dry Bones (so far as I know, there's no reference to any moist bones in the Bible).

I don't really know anything about how dry a bone is. All my bones are well covered in triglycerides and high-level fat content. So much for osteoaridity (I just coined a word).

The word dry doesn't necessarily mean that, anyway. A dry county may not be arid, except for a lack of legal liquor. Dry wine will get you all wet if you spill it on you.

Anyway, we need rain. It's so dry around here that the soloist for a wedding in town last week reportedly was trying to find the music to a song he thought was called "Wither, Thou Ghost."

(Sure enough, after this was written on Monday we did get some moisture Wednesday. I hereby claim full credit.)

Miss Pickett is a 1985 graduate of Monterey High School and is employed as a pharmacy assistant at Caprock Discount Drug and attended Texas Tech University.

Sales Tax Rebate Lower In Tahoka

Sales tax rebates from the state comptroller's office to the City of Tahoka and the City of O'Donnell were lower this month than for February of 1989, but last February's rebates were a record for any month because "a number of large audit payments were credited to the books last February," according to Comptroller Bob Bullock. This month's payments to cities in Texas totaled $143 million, said Bullock.

The month's checks reflect taxes collected on December sales and reported in January by businesses filing monthly tax returns. Merchants collect the state, city and county sales taxes and send them to the comptroller's office with their tax returns. The state keeps its 6 percent share and each month sends cities their portion of the sales tax.

O'Donnell received $2353 this month compared to $3264 received last February. Tahoka received $6100 compared to 9491 in February 1989. But Wilson received $985 compared to $894 received last February, showing an increase.

Prizes Taxable

Texas School Tax Base Holds Steady In 1989, Study Shows

The property tax base of Texas school districts stabilized in 1989 after declining in each of the previous three years, according to the State Property Tax Board (SPTB). The agency's preliminary 1989 Property Value Study estimates the taxable value in Texas; 1,053 school districts at $644.3 billion as of Jan. 1, 1989—drop of less than three-tenths of 1 percent from the year-earlier level.

"Our study indicates that the erosion of the statewide school tax base was arrested last year," said Jim Robinson, the SPTB's executive director. "This occurred mainly because of improving business conditions and the gradual recovery of Texas real estate markets from previous overbuilding."

State law requires the SPTB to estimate taxable property values for each school district annually. The Texas Education Agency uses these value estimates among other factors to determine the amount of state aid allocated to school districts for the upcoming school year.

Preliminary study results show that 1989 taxable values rose in 479 school districts and fell in 574 districts.

Some property types increased in value in 1989 while others declined further, resulting in a flat trend in total taxable values. Industrial personal property (business equipment inventories) registered the biggest jump, up 13 percent. Industrial real property, commercial personal property, and utilities were up 6 to 7 percent, while the value of vacant lots recovered by 3 percent after a sharp drop in the previous year.

"Industrial and commercial personal property values went up for the second year in a row," Robinson noted, "reflecting the improvement in Texas factory output, exports, and retail sales. Values for industrial real property are up because of firming conditions in this segment of the real estate market, and more new construction. Also, the recovery of vacant lot values and insignificant declines in residential and commercial real estate values, indicate that the market for residential and commercial property may have bottomed."

At the same time, the study found continuing declines in the value of oil, gas, and minerals (down 5 percent), and of rural real property (acreage plus farm/ranch improvements, down 4 percent). The drop in mineral property values was roughly the same in 1989 as in 1988. "Even though oil and gas prices were firming in early 1989," Robinson ex-

Better Lighting For Windmill Is Planned

More power, to properly light the windmill at the holiday season, was the decision presented at the meeting of the Tahoka Pioneer Museum Board of Directors Meeting held on Feb. 12, 1990 at noon. It is necessary to add at least one more circuit to the electrical system to accommodate additional lighting over the entire windmill structure.

Melvin Burks offered the carport at his home to store the old Tahoka fire-truck so that it can be properly restored and preserved.

Meldon Leslie, President, reported on the Chamber of Commerce request for nominees for the 1990 Citizen of the Year Award, and a nominee was chosen and will be presented at a Chamber of Commerce meeting on Wednesday, Feb. 14, by Leslie.

Lottie Jo Walker, Secretary-Treasurer, presented a Financial Report for the 1989 year, and with new Life Members and Pioneer Memorials, the finances are moving forward.

The improvements, cosmetically, on the Keltner Hotel, were obvious to the members present and this project has benefited members of the community as this work is being done by local citizens. Howard Maddera of South Plains Association of Governments, heads this project, and Community Action of Tahoka will have adequate room and an ideal location when the project is completed.

Members present for this meeting were Meldon Leslie, Lottie Jo Walker, Auda Norman, Madeline Hegi, K.R. Durham, Melvin Burks, Jim Solomon, Arlys Askew and Mildred Abbe. Absent were Mabel Gurley, Mary Louder, Bill Craig, Weesie Carroll, James Roberts and Carl Reynolds.

Surimi Products

You probably know them by names like "seafakes", "king crab", "sea stix" or simply "imitation" seafoods. But these are actually names for varying products made from a processed fish material called surimi. Technically, they are "seafood-analogue products," and are quite different from the real thing.

The most popular surimi product in this country is imitation crabmeat in chunks, flakes and leg-shaped pieces. You can also buy simulated lobster, scallops and shrimp made from surimi. Surimi products are available frozen, unfrozen and breaded. Today, seafood salads that you buy in most supermarket delicatessen sections and in many restaurants are made with surimi products.

Surimi is not the finished food that you eat. Rather, it is the paste used to make surimi products. The paste is typically made from Alaskan pollock, and less frequently, from fish such as croaker. The process of making surimi is often carried out right on board ship where the pollock is deboned by machine, then subjected to several rinsing processes. Then the fish is strained and mixed with other ingredients such as sugar, sorbitol and phosphate-containing additives that improve freezer storage and keep the fish protein from toughening. As this point, you have tasteless, uncooked surimi paste which is usually frozen in blocks that will later be structured into the substitute seafoods you can eat.

IRS Matches Income

When doing your federal tax return, be sure you include your income from all sources in your gross income. This year, the IRS is expecting to receive just over a billion tax information documents from such income sources as employers and banking institutions. They expect to match at least 93 percent of this material against the individual tax returns filed by the country's 107 million taxpayers.

When taxpayer information documents, such as 1099 interest earnings statements, are compared with the actual tax returns, any discrepancy is referred to a person who double checks the tax return. Then, if appropriate, a letter or notice is sent to the taxpayer asking for an explanation. The taxpayer who agrees with the notice is instructed to pay any additional tax due plus appropriate penalties and interest.

Dependent? Depends...

Students 24 years or older by the end of 1989 cannot be claimed as an exemption on their parents' or guardians' federal tax returns unless the student's gross income is less than $2,000.

The parent's loss, however, could be viewed as the student's gain. Under this new rule, the dependent may claim himself or herself as an exemption on his or her own tax return.

For the parent to claim a student's exemption, the student must meet certain dependency tests as well as being under 24 years of age. Those dependency tests are contained in this year's tax instructions and in free IRS Publication 929, Tax Rules For Children And Dependents, available by calling the IRS at 1-800-424-3676.

They sued for damages for themselves and for all other farm workers who worked hoeing cotton in crews supervised by Jimmy Rodriguez, Jr. during 1984-1986.

By Court Order dated January 18, 1990, the Court found that Jimmy Rodriguez, Jr. and four cotton farmers violated the Agricultural Worker Protection Act, and must pay damages to the cotton hoe hands.

The Court found that Jimmy Rodriguez, Jr. violated the Agricultural Worker Protection Act in 7 different ways for the years 1984, 1985, and up through July 14, 1986. Therefore he must pay each cotton hoe hand who worked in his crew during that time period $350.00 per year. The four farmers who must pay damages to the cotton hoe hands are R.H. Clements, J.W. Hawkins, Doyle Moss, and P & B Farms.

Cotton farmer R.H. Clements must pay $250 per year to each cotton hoe hand who worked in the Rodriguez crew hoeing cotton on his farm in 1984, 1985, and up through July 14, 1986. R.H. Clements must pay $100 to each cotton hoe hand who worked in the Rodriguez crew hoeing cotton on his farm for the year 1986 after July 14, 1986.

Cotton farmer J.W. Hawkins must pay $250 per year to each cotton hoe hand who worked in the Rodriguez crew hoeing cotton on his farm in 1985.

Doyle Moss must pay $100 to each cotton hoe hand who worked in the Rodriguez crew hoeing cotton on his farm for the year 1986 after July 14, 1986.

Cotton farmer P & B Farms must pay $250 to each cotton hoe hand who worked in the Rodriguez crew hoeing cotton on his farm in 1985.

SUDDEN INFANT DEATH
University of Wisconsin researchers found that of sudden infant death victims, 20% were lying, face down, on a waterbed. Many other dead infants had been sleeping on a soft quilt or comforter, apparently unable to raise their head from the soft bedding, and thus smothered by it. A firm mattress without a pillow is mandatory for babies who cannot easily lift their heads or turn themselves in bed.

Store- and Restaurant-Owners Urge Protection Of Neighborhood Quality

Too many boarded up homes in a neighborhood tend to reduce the quality of life—and the value of the property—in that community.

Local merchants hope the government doesn't act to encourage abandoned buildings.

That's one reason many small business owners, merchants, professionals and others are joining community leaders and such national groups as National People's Action, a coalition of grassroots community groups around the country, in opposing a proposed change in regulations for the Federal Housing Authority (FHA). That agency guarantees mortgages for low- and middle-income families that want to buy houses.

The National Affordable Housing Act would let the FHA guarantee mortgages for more expensive houses. That could encourage people to take on a bigger burden of debt than they can repay. That could lead to more foreclosures, more families forced from their homes and more abandoned buildings around the neighborhood.

A bill to prevent these problems has been introduced by Congressman Paul Kanjorski. The bill would require FHA loans to be based on borrowers' income rather than wishful thinking. You can express your views by writing Congress at the U.S. Senate, Washington, D.C. 20510 and the House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. 20515.

Are you and the kids tired of the same old mealtime fare? Try this contemporary treatment of an American favorite. Perfect for the young, or just the young at heart, this delicious new taste in pizza is a breeze to prepare. The crust is a snap and the sauce is just as easy when you use Kikkoman Sweet & Sour Sauce. Its spirited flavor is a precise blend of sugar and vinegar, combined with naturally brewed soy sauce, tomato paste, pineapple, onion, green bell pepper, garlic and spicy red pepper. For any casual evening meal or special snack, this pizza is a tasty treat.

QUICK CANTONIZZA

- 1 can (10 oz.) refrigerated pizza dough
- 1/2 cup Kikkoman Sweet & Sour Sauce
- 1 small green pepper, cut into thin rings
- 2 ounces cooked ham, cut into strips
- 1 cup (4 oz.) shredded mozzarella cheese

Prepare pizza dough according to package directions for 12-inch pizza. Spread sweet & sour sauce evenly on dough. Arrange green pepper rings over sauce, then ham strips; top with cheese. Bake in 425 F. oven according to package directions. Serve immediately. Makes one 12-inch pizza.
