OKAY, SO IT'S A PUN of sorts, but it's still true that the reason the Susan B. Anthony dollars never were popular with the public is because people are just opposed to change.

The federal government has 400 million of the SBA dollars sitting in vaults and they haven't melted them down because accounting procedures would necessitate that this action would add $400 million to the federal deficit, which is plenty big already.

Anyway, there is a bill before Congress (hearings tentatively set in the Senate on April 25) which would replace the dollar bill with a dollar coin. This is according to a publication called Government WasteWatch, which doesn't say whether this would mean the Susie B. dollars would be hauled out of the vaults or a new coin minted.

It does say that the government and many private concerns would save millions of dollars a year if people started using dollar coins instead of bills. Said writer James Benfield:

"The governmental savings come from the fact that dollar bills last about 17 months (or 400 transactions) and are reprinted at a cost of about 2.6 cents each. A dollar coin lasts 20 years, but only costs 3.5 cents to mint. When transportation, shredding and disposal costs for worn out bills are added, the net savings will be well over $120 million annually."

According to Benfield, some transit companies already use the Susan B. dollar like a token, and others, like the Chicago Transit Authority, which estimates that a dollar coin would save them about $2 million a year, would like to do so.

Benfield makes some strong arguments about the monetary advantages of dollar coins, but he doesn't say how to get the public to accept them. Of course, if dollar bills are legislated out of existence, sooner or later people will have to use the dollar coins.

When they were introduced a few years ago, folks didn't like the dollar coins because they were too similar in size to quarters, although they have some square corners and are a bit thicker. And many businesses refused them because they claimed they had no place for them in cash registers.

Personally I have no objection to using dollar coins instead of bills, since I usually have only three or four dollar bills in my wallet at one time anyway. I wouldn't mind carrying around a few dollars in coins. But I sure wouldn't want to be caught with 30 pieces of silver in my pocket this Sunday.

County Votes Against Flow, Backs Maddox

Lynn County Democrats turned out in small numbers to cast ballots in the primary runoff election Tuesday, and in each of the six voting boxes in the county, the Democrats supported Jim Maddox for governor against his opponent, Ann Richards.

Mrs. Richards won the Democratic nomination statewide, and will oppose Republican Clayton Williams in the November general election for governor.

The total Democratic vote in the county was 462 persons, with almost 10 times that many registered voters in the county. The total vote in Lynn County was 279 for Maddox and 174 for Mrs. Richards.

In Lynn County, Democrats voted for Tom Bowden over Nikki Van Hightower for state treasurer, 277-149, although she won the statewide nomination. Lynn voters also favored Bob Gammage over Ross Sears, 300-120, for supreme court justice; and voted for Frank Maloney, 225-191 over Morris Overstreet for judge of the court of criminal appeals.

Only 23 Republicans voted in the primary runoff of that party, which had only two state races requiring a runoff. In one of these, the nomination for Commissioner of the general land office was won by Wes Gilbreath of Houston, the only statewide candidate for either party who visited Tahoka during the campaign. Gilbreath won the nomination statewide, and had a 18-4 margin in Lynn County over his opponent, Yarbrough.

In the other GOP race, Rick Perry was the county winner, 22-1 over McIver for the nomination for Texas Agriculture Commissioner. Perry won statewide also, and will oppose controversial Jim Hightower, the Democratic nominee, in November.

Stenholm Urges Rural Health Aid

A federal matching grant program encouraging states to establish and operate offices of rural health is part of the answer for improving the availability and quality of medical care in the sparsely populated areas of the country, according to Congressman Charles Stenholm.
He said the program would help raise awareness across the country of the need to address rural health issues, help to integrate state, federal and private sector activities, encourage the development and sharing of innovative solutions for improving access to quality care in rural communities and allow states to provide communities with the necessary information on sources of assistance.
Total funding for the proposed three-year program would be $10 million.

Misconceptions Surround Child Abuse And Neglect

By Molly Helmlinger
(Second In A Four Part Series For Child Abuse Prevention Month-April)

A True-False Quiz On Child Abuse & Neglect

There are many misconceptions surrounding the abuse of children. Below is a true-false quiz to test your understanding of child abuse and neglect.

1. Children who report sexual abuse are probably fibbing. True or False.
2. Putting your child's name on the back of an item of clothing is a great idea and should be done whenever possible. True or False.
3. As reports of child abuse have increased in Texas the past 10 years, the staffing of Children's Protective Services has been increased accordingly. True or False.
4. Family stress, which often leads to child abuse, is least apt to happen every six weeks when report cards come out. True or False.
5. Lynn County has a long waiting list of foster parents willing to take in and help abused children. True or False.
6. If you suspect your neighbors are guilty of abusing their child, you should keep your nose out of their business. True or False.
7. In most cases of child abuse, the child did something wrong, provoking an adult to abuse him. True or False.
8. It's easy to predict which parents will abuse their children. True or False.
9. When one is angry at his child, there are no alternatives but to punish him in some mild form of abuse. True or False.
10. Child Abuse involves only physical punishment of a child. True or False.

And now the answers:

1. False. Studies show a parent should believe what his child says about an alleged sexual assault. Research studies show that children rarely lie about sexual abuse.
2. False. Experts believe putting a child's name on his clothing or the outside of his possessions provides information to a molester needing to gain a child's confidence. Many children are easily fooled into thinking the molester knows them, if called them by their first name.
3. False. Although the number of child abuse investigations have more than doubled since 1976, the total CPS staffing in Texas has remained the same. There is a critical shortage of CPS workers to fill the needs.
4. False. Report card days are some of the most stressful of the year, especially when grades are involved. Research studies show that reports of runaway and missing children increase dramatically at report card time. Is your child fearful of your reaction to the report card? Think about it.
5. False. Tahoka is in need of volunteer foster families. It currently has none. If interested in becoming a foster family, please notify the Department of Human Resources.
6. False. Names of those who report alleged child abuse are kept in strict confidence by the CPS and law enforcement authorities. Experts believe more outside involvement from friends or neighbors is badly needed and could help save lives.

7. False. Experts believe abusers are taking out their frustrations on vulnerable children. Sadly, these young children think they've done something wrong and many times blame themselves. The real problem lies with the adult's inability to cope with stress.

8. False. National child abuse authority Anne H. Cohn says prediction is not yet possible but believes there are high-risk groups, including people with severe problems involving alcohol or other drugs, low economic status, criminal activity, lack of support groups and inadequate housing.

9. False. The latest advice from child abuse prevention groups includes 12 alternatives to lashing out at one's child. (A separate flyer had been distributed to the local grocery stores detailing "12 Alternatives To Lashing Out At Your Kid" Tahoka residents may pick one up at Thriftway.)

10. False. There are four categories of child abuse and neglect. They are: 1) Physical Abuse, 2) Sexual Abuse, 3) Emotional Maltreatment, and 4) Neglect. NOTE: The Third part in this four part series will discuss these four broad categories in detail.

How did you do? No matter how you did, use this information to spread the truth about child abuse. We need to eliminate false perceptions and keep developing more alternatives to abusing children.

INCLUDE MEDICINE CABINET IN YOUR SPRING CLEANING

When the robin red breast reminds you spring has finally arrived and the good news stirs you into an energetic round of spring cleaning, don't forget the medicine cabinet. It's unwise to keep prescription drugs "on hand" after the specific condition for which they were ordered has been cured, especially if you've been collecting them for years. You would not want to take patent medicines without your doctor's advice. self-diagnosis can do more harm than good.

The less crowded your drug storage area is the less chance for a mistake when reaching for a bottle. If you like you can bring us any drugs you wish to discard and we'll be glad to dispose of them safely.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company intends to file an application with the Texas Public Utility Commission to introduce new optional services - Call Control Options. The initial service areas will be Laredo, McAllen and Austin. Expansion into other service areas will be based on availability. Customers in other areas will be notified when these services become available.

Call Control Options include six new services - Call Blocker, Call Cue, Call Return, Priority Call, Call Trace and Selective Call Forwarding. The features will be available to single-line residence and business customers.

Call Blocker - enables the customer to block incoming calls from a maximum of three specified telephone numbers and/or to block the last incoming call.

Call Cue - enables the customer to automatically redial the last outgoing telephone number dialed. If the recalled number is busy, equipment will monitor the line for a maximum of 30 minutes and will let the customer know when the call can go through.

Call Return - enables the customer to automatically redial the telephone number of the most recent incoming call. If the number is busy, Call Return will continue to dial the number for up to 30 minutes, or until it completes the call.

Priority Call - provides the customer with a distinctive alerting signal, ring or Call Waiting Tone (if the customer has subscribed to Call Waiting), when the customer is called from a maximum of three preselected telephone numbers.

Call Trace - enables the customer to initiate a trace of the last incoming call received. The number, date and time will be recorded by Southwestern Bell Telephone so that the call's origin can be identified.

Selective Call Forwarding - enables the customer to forward incoming calls from specified telephone numbers (maximum of three) to another telephone number.

FACTS & FIGURES

Energy Efficient Room Air Conditioners. Here comes some cool news about room air conditioning.

Emerson Quiet Kool, a leading manufacturer of room air conditioners, wants to remind consumers that effective January 1, 1990 of this year, federal law mandates that all room air conditioners must be energy efficient. BTU size is the criterion for dictating minimum EER (Energy Efficiency Ratio) requirements. Now consumers can be sure that they are buying a room air conditioner that will help save on energy bills.

Consumer Reports rated Emerson Quiet Kool's unit as the #1 room air conditioner in 1989. Depending on how much you use an air conditioner and how well you care for it, your air conditioner should last between 12 and 15 years.

The best way to make sure your air conditioner runs efficiently and lives longer is to clean the filter each spring. An informative booklet about room air conditioners is available free by writing to: Emerson Quiet Kool, Dept. 90-25, 400 Woodbine Avenue, Woodbridge, New Jersey 07095.

Revised Book Helps Local Vital Records

Everyone knows that vital records are stored permanently by municipalities, courts, states and the Federal government, but where each document is kept is frequently unknown.

The Consumer Education Research Center, a national non-profit consumer group, found there was little uniformity on where the records were available and the costs. In some states, birth records are kept by the city and in others by the county or state. To further complicate matters, often older records are held in different places than current ones. In addition, the addresses where the records are kept are changed quite often.

The consumer group found many people had difficulty in locating the records they needed. Often, it was necessary to make expensive long distance calls just to find out where to write, what information was required and how much money to send. For that reason CERC has been publishing a book entitled Where To Write

For Vital Records which contains a state-by-state listing of the addresses and telephone numbers of the archive where each record can be found, the cost of a copy of the document and sample form letters containing all the information needed to get these and other vital documents.

CERC has released the 1989 update. For those needing information from foreign countries, the book contains a list of government offices where you can get help in locating vital records kept in almost every country. Even U.S. citizens born overseas, on a ship or aircraft can locate the place where their records are kept.

To get a copy of the book, one may send $6.50 to CERC Documents, 350 Scotland Rd., Orange, N.J. 07050.

GTE Seeking Entry Into Video Services Business

GTE announced that it is urging Congress to amend the Cable Act of 1984 to allow telephone company entry into the video services business.

Because of widespread consumer concern with cable rates and service, Congress is looking at changing the rules under which cable companies operate in this country. Proposals on Capitol Hill include allowing competition from telephone companies in the video services business, as well as re-regulating the cable industry.

"While cable re-regulation is a quick fix that might bring about improved service and help to stabilize rates, a disturbing shortcoming of this approach from the consumer's perspective is that it wouldn't stimulate advances in video programming and services," said Brownfield District Manager, O. D. Hearn. "To really help the consumer, you need more than simple re-regulation of the cable industry; you need the competitive stimulation provided by phone companies," he added.

Hearn noted that current rules inhibit telephone companies from making the full capabilities of their network available to the public. The Cable Act of 1984 generally prohibits its telephone companies from providing video programming services to consumers within their telephone serving areas. Although this law may have been appropriate when enacted, it now runs contrary to the needs of consumers.

"It's important to emphasize that GTE does not seek to replace cable companies with a telephone monopoly," said Hearn. "Our goal is to be allowed to install a competitive video network that can be used by cable operators and others offering new, innovative video services to homes and businesses."

GTE believes that telephone companies competition would positively affect cable services, rates and programming. Three principal benefits in allowing telephone companies to enter the video services business are that it would: (1) provide consumer benefits; (2) stimulate telephone network evolution; and (3) enhance U.S. global competitiveness.

Wednesday: Cheeseburgers with fixings, tator tots, salad, cherry cake, milk.

Thursday: Pizza, corn, slaw, sliced peaches, milk.

Friday: Tacos, refried beans, salad, pineapple slice, milk.

"To foster the development of these new and exciting consumer services, phone companies must be allowed into the video service business," said Hearn. "That's the best way to encourage the marriage of the telephone and television," he added.

GTE is currently installing a fiber optic network with virtually unlimited capacity to handle voice, data and video transmissions. Coupled with GTE's video switch, the universal delivery of advanced video services to the home is on the horizon.

These developments can keep the U.S. competitive with Japan, Europe and the rest of the world. But GTE believes the U.S. must continue to upgrade its telecommunications network. Allowing telephone companies into the video services business will accelerate the development of this future network. "Failure to do so will mean a tremendous competitive disadvantage for American companies," said Hearn.

Sometimes The Most Difficult Thing In The World Is Finding Someone Who Cares.

There are times when you need a good friend more than anything else in the world. But finding people who make good friends isn't always easy. Unless you look in the right places. Like our church. It's full of people who care. Compassionate people who know how to love and support each other. People who make faithful friends.

That's why we're inviting you to visit our services. To experience firsthand the love and unity that Christ has given us. And realize that it's not that difficult to find someone who cares. There's always hope because Jesus cares for you.

Here's Hope.

You are invited to hear more about "Here's Hope. Jesus Cares For You." at our revival meeting.

Keep Eggs Safe For Easter Holidays

If you are planning a traditional Easter egg hunt this week, follow safe food handling practices.

Like an other perishable product, eggs should be properly stored and cooked to prevent the growth of potentially harmful bacteria, such as Salmonella enteritidis, Annis Godfrey said.

"While the risk of contracting Salmonellosis from raw or undercooked eggs is extremely small, special precautions should be taken when preparing eggs for Easter or any time, Godfrey said.

Cooked eggs do not contain salmonella. However, it's important not to recontaminate eggs after they've been cooked.

Here are a few tips for preparing eggs:

*Keep eggs refrigerated before preparation, and don't let them sit at room temperature for more than two hours before or after cooking.

*Eggs should be hard-boiled. Put eggs in cold tap water and bring them to boil, turn off heat and allow the eggs to cool for about 10 minutes. Salmonella is destroyed at a temperature of 142 degrees Fahrenheit. When you boil eggs, the temperature exceeds 200 F.

*When decorating eggs, use commercially available coloring kits or food coloring.

*Do not hide real eggs. Use plastic eggs or other items. Eggs left out in heat and moisture will be subject to contamination by bacterial organisms that could lead to food-borne illness.

Leftover boiled eggs can be stored in the refrigerator for up to one week and can be used in all kinds of salads.

Eggs provide a wholesome source of such nutrients as protein, vitamin A, riboflavin, vitamin B-12, iron, zinc, and phosphorus. The dietary guidelines for most health organizations allow you to eat up to four eggs a week.

Most nutritionist recommend that we eat at least one ounce of high-quality protein for breakfast each day", Godfrey said. Poached eggs with hot cross buns would help make a delicious, nutritious breakfast during the Easter Holidays."

Milky Way Cross

For each cross, you will need five Milky Way bars. Insert a toothpick in the top of each candy bar and push them together to form a cross. Place the cross on a piece of cardboard covered with tin foil or waxed paper. Then decorate it with colored icing you make or buy in tubes at the grocery store.

L'Eggs Rice Krispies

Pack rice krispies in L'eggs (panty hose container) while still warm. Press container together tightly and cool with container upright (sitting one top of a glass at least one hour).

If you unmold too soon, Rice Krispies will fall apart! If you don't have enough L'eggs containers for one recipe, place Rice Krispies mixture in your microwave to warm again or warm on top of the stove over low heat. One recipe makes 5 large eggs.

Marshmallow Bunnies and Chicks
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup cold water
1 cup sugar
1 cup light corn syrup
1/3 cup water
1 egg white, beaten until stiff
1 t. vanilla

Line 15x10x1 inch pan with brown paper (single layer of a grocery bag don't use the side that has been glued together). Soften gelatin in cold water. In a two-quart pan, mix the sugar, corn syrup and water. Cook and stir until sugar dissolves. Cook without stirring to soft ball stage, 240 degrees. Stir in gelatin and one teaspoon vanilla.

Cool 10 minutes. Slowly add syrup to one stiffly beaten egg white, beating on high speed approximately 15 minutes to soft peaks.

Spread candy in pan on brown paper; let stand, uncovered, overnight.

Dust another sheet of brown paper with colored sugar.* Invert candy onto sugar. Thoroughly moisten top piece of brown paper by brushing with water, being careful not to let water run over sides into sugar; peel off.

Dip metal cookie cutter in cold water. Cut out figures. Gently push figure from cutter. Shake figure in a bowl of sugar to coat all sides. Makes about 25.

*Make pink sugar by adding one drop of red food coloring to one cup of sugar. Stir until pink.

Easter Cake

Make a cake mix (your choice of flavors) according to directions on package. Pour into two greased 9-inch round cake pans. Bake as directed. Cool completely. Place one layer on a nice tray and frost with canned frosting or use the following icing recipe.

Sprinkle with white coconut or tint it green by adding a few drops of food coloring to coconut in a small dish and mix. Let dry and place on top of cake. Arrange small candy eggs on top. Serve with ice cream.

Frosting

2 cup powdered sugar
1/2 cup Crisco
1 T. cornstarch
1 T. flour
2 T. milk
1 egg white
Pinch salt
1 t. vanilla

Beat with mixer. If too thick, thin with milk.

Counts Receives 1989 Distinguished Service Award

The Snyder Chamber of Commerce presented Rep. David Counts (D-Knox City) the Texas Chamber of Commerce "1989 Distinguished Service Award", at the Snyder Chamber of Commerce Annual Banquet on Saturday, March 31.

The Board of Directors of the Texas Chamber of Commerce based their selection for this year's recipients on two main factors. Of consideration was the legislation members sponsored, and their voting record on legislation pertaining to issues that affect the business economy; such as workers' compensation, economic development, rural health care, and criminal justice reform. Rep. Counts received the highest ranking of the 181 House and Senate members by the Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Counts said, "The legislative package that this award was based on will improve the business and industry climate for the entire state of Texas. An improved business climate will translate into more jobs and higher wages for West Texas and the 78th District."

Sixth Graders Go To Tahoka Lake

Seventy-two students, teachers and parents of Tahoka 6th grade recently took a field trip to Tahoka Lake, where they were given a tour of the lake aboard three horse-drawn wagons owned by John Edwards, Leon Pinkert and Leon Buxkemper. Mel Leslie supplied the students with facts about the history of the area. Barbecue was prepared by A.J. Jester, a longtime cook for the annual field trip. J.T. and Steve Miller, along with several parents, also assisted with the meal.

The field trip included a cow-chip throwing contest.

Teachers and assistants for the sixth grade are Brenda Cannon, Joyce Summers, Debbie Engle, Pat Williams, Anna Vaca and Emily Marez.

Nuts On Tour

Lynn County pecan producers are encouraged to attend a four-county pecan shortcourse and tour to be held at the Dawson County Community Building Tuesday, 8:30-11:45 a.m., corner of Houston and S. 8th in Lamesa. Dr. George McEachern, extension horticulturist, will direct a portion on "Pecan Management" followed by a break at 10:30 a.m., then the tour of the Peterson-Davis orchard.

O'Donnell Play Cast Members On All-Star List

The Area 2 Region 1 Conference A one-act play contest was held April 7 at O'Donnell with the host school plus Spur, Paducah, Ropes, Sundown, and Plains participating.

Advancing to regional were The Prime of Miss Jean Brodie by O'Donnell and Annie by Ropes High. Christie Parker of O'Donnell was named best actress and Emery Swenson of Spur was chosen best actor.

All-Star Cast members named were Jessica Warner of Spur, Tracy Wilson and Davon Taylor of Ropes, Jeff Hurt of Sundown, Courtney Mounce of O'Donnell, Kemi Cobb and Sally Burrus of Plains and Lavera Alexander of Paducah.

News From ... Extension Agent Brett Cyfert
Lynn County Extension Office

Persons tired of high prices of tomatoes since the winter freeze may want to grow their own tomatoes, says County Extension Agent Brett Cyfert.

Growing tomatoes in the back yard can be a fascinating and rewarding venture, but it can be frustrating, too. A sickly tomato plant that produces few if any fruit certainly doesn't help the gardening spirit. Some advice on common pitfalls is offered by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service:

First, don't grow tomatoes unless they can receive sunlight for at least six hours a day. Tomato plants placed between tall shrubs, under trees or between buildings simply will not produce a good tomato crop.

Second, good soil is essential for good growth and high yields. Often, poor soil can be improved with liberal amounts of organic matter and by proper fertilization. A dark, heavy clay or even a fine sand can be improved by working 3 to 4 inches of organic matter into the soil where the tomatoes are to be planted.

To raise a few tomato plants, prepare a space at least two feet square for each plant. The soil should be worked to a depth of at least 12 inches. Liberal amounts of organic matter and a small amount of fertilizer such as 10-20-10 or 12-24-12 should be mixed into the soil.

The key to growing tomatoes successfully is choosing the right variety of tomatoes. Select varieties resistant to many of the common diseases. President, Whirlaway, Celebrity and others are recommended.

Transplants should be planted somewhat deeper than they were originally growing. Plants growing in peat pots or blocks should not be removed, but rather the entire container should be planted. Sometimes it helps to break the bottom of the pots.

When setting tomato plants, use a starter solution to assure adequate fertility during the early stages of growth. Starter solutions can be purchased, or can be made by mixing one to two level tablespoons of a complete garden fertilizer in a gallon water. About one cup of the starter solution should be applied in the plant hole prior to planting.

For best results, transplants should be set in the garden on cloudy days or late in the afternoon. The plants should be protected from adverse conditions such as high winds or excessive heat for a week or so after transplanting. Almost all tomato varieties should be staked, trellised or caged for best results. Any method is good if it keeps the fruit off the ground. Tomatoes allowed to contact the soil often develop root rot.

GUM DISEASE

90% of Americans have gum disease. It is caused by the build-up of plaque on the teeth. It leads first to gingivitis (inflammation of the gums), which is curable if the plaque is completely removed. If neglected, it will cause destruction of bone supporting the roots of the teeth - periodontitis - which is responsible for 70% of all loss of teeth. Avoid gum disease by brushing and flossing after every meal, and regular dental checkups to remove all plaque.
