200 Gallons Of Fuel Stolen From Tank

Walter Ray Steen of Wilson reported Sunday that about 200 gallons of diesel fuel had been stolen from a tank on FM 1054 about a half mile south of FM 211. A hasp locking the tank was broken off; also the hasp was broken off a well house. Value of the stolen fuel was estimated at $146.

In jail during the week were three persons for public intoxication, two for driving while intoxicated, and one each on the following charges: application adjudicate in a case of securing execution of a document by deception; no seat belt for driver; judgement and sentence for no auto liability insurance; judgement and sentence for possession of a controlled substance.

Tahoka Dairy Queen, located in the 2400-block of U.S. 87 access road, was reported burglarized Saturday morning. Entry was gained to the building through the drive-in window. Nothing was reported broken or missing, however.

Vandalism to Tahoka Car Wash during the past week was reported, as someone pried open a coin box and stole approximately $20 worth of quarters. A timer valued at $100 also was stolen, and a vacuum cleaner was damaged, with the damage estimate $350.

CHASITY HOOD will represent Tahoka High School in the state track meet in Austin, running in the 100-meter low hurdles.

Chasity Hood To Compete In State Track Meet

Chasity Hood will be representing Tahoka High School this weekend in Austin at the State Track and Field Championships. The state meet is held annually in Austin on the campus of the University of Texas at Memorial Stadium where the Texas Longhorns play their football games.

Chasity is scheduled to run in the 100 m low hurdles sometime after noon on Saturday. She qualified by finishing second at regional which was held at Abilene Christian University two weeks ago. She ran a 15.7 finishing second to Lori Oursbourn of Olton who ran a 15.4. She also finished sixth in the 300 meter low hurdles. "The only thing that is really exciting is the fact this was only her fourth meet running this event. She has improved so much it's scary to think how fast she could run a year from now. Another thing is that, she runs from a standing start because of the lack of race experience," Qualls said. "We will be using the blocks at Austin and we feel it might give us an added edge that we need."

Coin Toss Determines School Board Winner

School board elections in the four districts in Lynn County generated more interest with contested races than the four unopposed city races last Saturday, and in Tahoka school district, one of the two winners was not determined until a coin toss Monday.

With three candidates seeking two available positions on the Tahoka school board, new candidate Brad Hammonds led the others with 98 votes. But incumbents Thalia Burks and Delbert McCleskey tied with 81 votes each, causing school officials to check with the state to see what procedures were allowed for breaking the tie. It was learned that one of the options is by lot, so the two candidates were present as the board met Monday at noon to canvass the votes, and a coin was tossed. Mrs. Burks called the toss, but lost, and McCleskey will continue on the board.

In the unopposed Tahoka city election, Dayton Parker received 125 votes, Wayne Tekell 121 and Jimmy Huckabey 115. Total vote in the city election was 129.

David Wied and John Fields were elected to two three-year terms on the Wilson school board, as Wied had 156 votes, Fields 145 and the third candidate, Bobby Lee, had 76. Incumbent Servando Benavides won the single one-year seat available, with 106 votes. David Rohde had 54, Doug Savell 43 and Melissa Hernandez 9.

In Wilson's city election, Mayor Jackie Bishop with 87 votes, and councilmen Oscar Follis, with 94, and David Cook with 90 votes, were elected.

At New Home, Andy Fillingim with 71 votes and Russel Barnett with 48 won the two available seats on the New Home school board. Other candidates and their vote totals were John Carl Armes, 32, and George Dozier, 30. David Foerster defeated Allen Nettles 66-33 to win the one-year unexpired term of Kay James, who resigned last year.

Unopposed New Home city council candidates elected were J.A. Evans, 25 votes, Luis Rodriguez, 23, and Stoney Gill, 23.

Jackie Stidham had 139 votes and Bobby Joe Furlow 107 to win seats on the O'Donnell school board, while Nelson Hogg lost his bid with 87 votes.

David Smith was re-elected mayor of O'Donnell with 81 votes and Stella Sanchez with 73 votes and Bill Clopton with 65 won seats on the city council.

Three members of the Lynn County Hospital Board of Directors were re-elected without opposition. Billy Tomlinson had 386 votes, Dale Zant 447 and Harold Barrett 395. One write-in each was recorded for Bobby Cox and Lester Adams.

Tahoka City Council Okays Vote Results

Tahoka City Council Monday night canvassed results of last week's election and re-installed winners Jimmy Huckabey, Wayne Tekell and Dayton Parker on the council.

With all council members present, the group also heard the monthly report of activities of the Tahoka Police Dept. from Chief Jerry Webster, and discussed with County Atty. Jimmy Wright some appeals of city-issued citations.

Bingo Tax Rebate Listed

State Comptroller Bob Bullock sent checks totaling $2.4 million to counties and cities in Texas that have legalized charity bingo and levy the two-percent local tax on the games' gross receipts.

Lynn county received $1,439.68 this period; $2,519.42 was received at same period last year; 1990 payments to date, $5,152.43.

Booster Club Meeting Set

The Tahoka Bulldog Booster Club will meet tonight, Thursday, at 8 p.m. in the high school library to plan for the athletic banquet. All members are urged to attend.

RIGHT HERE in the middle of end-of-school activities comes a time out Sunday for paying tribute to motherhood, a tradition which only gay activists and a few women's libbers dare oppose.

No matter what they say, though, we contend that everyone ought to have a mother, because man's best friend is not his dog, but his mother. Mothers stand up for their kids no matter how lousy the kids are. And if they do something halfway good, mom is quick to point it out to everybody (usually through the local newspaper).

The things that mothers do for their children never quit. We used to have a silly notion that when the kids graduated from high school or at least college, or when they got married or got a job and left home, that all of those things that parents do for them would cease. But it never quits, until the parents are no longer able to battle for their children on every front. Then, suddenly, the roles are reversed, and the children have to take care of their parents. I always liked the bumper sticker which reads, "I Want To Live Long Enough To Be a Problem To My Children."

Anyway, for most of us, our mothers were the solid rock to which we could always cling or return to, knowing that when something was bent out of shape, she would fix it, without charge, and that she would do everything within her considerable power to see that things were best for us.

So those who still have their mothers need to tell them often, and especially Sunday, that they love them and appreciate them.

THE BIGBRAIN on Main says that the trouble with a college education is that it gives you more things to worry about.

NATIONAL AWARD WINNER - Michelle Colon holds the plaque she received for earning a 6th place award in national competition during the Business Professionals of America Conference held in Minneapolis, Minn. recently. Tahoka Student Michelle Colon Receives National BPA Award

Michelle Colon earned a sixth place award in national competition during the Business Professionals of America Conference held in Minneapolis, Minn., April 27-May 1. Michelle competed against other high school students across the entire United States in the Computerized Accounting contest and she received her national award as a top competitor during the conference's closing ceremony. Prior to this national ranking, Michelle had placed first in regional competition and second in state competition.

Michelle, daughter of Janie Colon, is currently a senior in Tahoka High School where she has been studying accounting and office administration for two years under the guidance of Barbara Jaquess. She is an active member of Business Professionals of America and the National Honor Society.

Lana Tekell, daughter of Gaylon and Sue Tekell, also attended the Minneapolis National Conference competing in Medical Applications. Lana had previously placed first in regional competition and first in state competition. In addition to their contests, both served as voting delegates for the State of Texas during the 1990-91 national officer campaign rallies and elections.

Barbara Jaquess, sponsor of Tahoka's Business Professionals of America Chapter, is currently in her 19th year of teaching in the Tahoka ISD. She implemented the Office Education program in the 1977-78 school year; since that time, she has had students advance to state competition each year. Her classroom has the atmosphere of an office while the students gain hands-on-experience using IBM equipment. The classroom curriculum is continually updated to stay abreast of the demands of the business world.

SCHOLARSHIP RECIPIENTS - Michelle Bertreaux, left, and Connie Parker, center, recently accepted FHA scholarships at the State FHA Leadership Conference in Dallas, April 27-28. Michelle received the Hyatt Regency Leadership Scholarship and Connie received the C.J. Davidson Family Foundation Scholarship. Both scholarships are given to outstanding FHA members who will major in a Home Economics career in college. Michelle plans to major in Fashion Design at Bauder Fashion College in Dallas, and Connie plans to major in Home Economics Education at Lubbock Christian University. Both students also received recognition for completing all five modules of the Power of One Self-Development projects. Patti Rambo, local advisor, stands with the recipients. Students Writer Letters On 'What Tahoka Means To Me'

Tahoka Elementary School recently visited the museum and were requested to write a paper on "What Tahoka Means To Me". Three of the students papers are printed below:

The three things I like about Tahoka are the people the fact that we have a museum and the churches. The people are very very nice they never fus or fight. Whene there are accidentel wrecks people don't get out there cars and start fusing at each other and blaming it on each other. Another good fact about Tahoka is that we have a museum. This museum is wonderful. It tells about long ago things. There are nice ladies and one of them took us on a tour around the museum. In this museum there are old things like stoves, heaters, knives, guns, classrooms, church pews, a church, wagons, typewriters, and cash registers. The next thing I like about Tahoka is the churches. They are beautiful and big. Some are small but they still are very beautiful.

La Tara Hood

sometimes bad things happen and the people or person has to go to jail. We have nice homes. We don't have tall grass but they sure did back in the old days. I wish for one day we could have the town like was back then. Tahoka has a good average tempeture for Tahoka. Tahoka is very nice and it is only about 30 miles to Lubbock. It is also close to O'Donnell, and that's where my grandparents live. We get to visit them often. We have nice schools with small classes. There are a lot of intelligent students that work hard every day, they try to do there best all of the time.

Tahoka is a wonderful place to live. I think if a lot of people came here, they would probably like it. Tahoka is a special place to me.

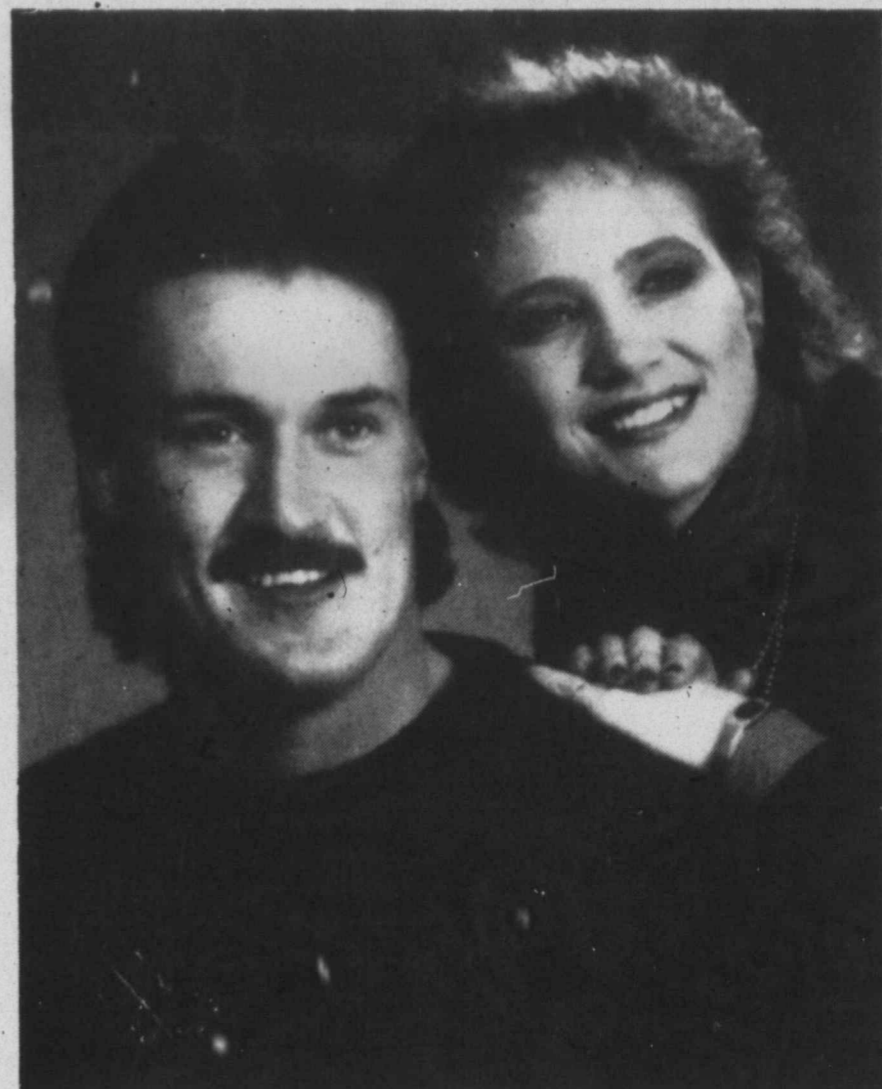

Tasha Mensch

I like Tahoka because it is a nice place to live. It is so quiet at night everbody in the whole town can sleep better at night. We have a good museum and they showed us a lot of stuff too. Even our schools are good and they teach us a lot of things we need to know. We got fresh air, and good store's too. I like it in the summer, because we get beautiful flowers and a day out of school. This is my favorite spot we have a park. The park has swings, monkey bars, a slide and a lot more things you would like. I like the sound of birds in the spring and I like th sun so we can go to the swimming pool. I want to say a special thanks to the Indians who named us Tahoka. I want to say one more thanks to God for making schools, and cars and food and buildings like the museum and especially us. That is why Tahoka is special to me.

Krystle Lyne Calvillo

Tahoka is a town that is very nice. One thing I like about it is, it has a historical building. It's called the Keltner Hotel it is very old. If the Keltner Hotel could talk I bet it could tell a lot of stories. The Keltner Hotel is right across from the Museum we went to one Friday. It was fun. We got to see how it was back in the old days. It was neat. Tahoka has a lot of people. We have a lot of nice people.

BILLY BISHOP - JANA RANAE DOSS
Doss - Bishop Engagement Announced

Jimmy and Darla Doss of Crosbyton announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Jana Ranac, to Billy Bishop, son of Jackie and Betty Bishop of Wilson.

The couple will exchange wedding vows on Aug. 4, 1990, at 7:30 p.m. in First United Methodist Church in Crosbyton.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Crosbyton High School and South Plains College. She is employed by Perdue, Brandon & Fielder in Lubbock. The prospective groom attended Wilson High School and South Plains College. He is engaged in farming in the Wilson community.

JOHN QUINTANILLA
John Quintanilla Is All-American Scholar

John Quintanilla has been named an All-American Scholar by the United States Achievement Academy. Scholars must earn a 3.3 or better grade point average and be selected by a school instructor, counselor or sponsor.

Quintanilla, who attends Tahoka Junior High, is the son of Johnny and Rita Quintanilla and the grandson of Fermin Arriaga of Tahoka and Mary Alvary and Johnny Quintanilla Sr. of Denver City. His name will be listed in the All-American Scholar Directory, which is published nationally.

Child Care Training Sessions Slated

The Department of Human Services Child Care Licensing staff will train registered family home providers on the new minimum standards that will become effective July 1. The sessions will be held May 12 at Texas Dept. of Human Services, 2109 Ave. Q, Lubbock from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. These classes are for persons who are caring for children or planning to open a child care facility.

The Child Care Licensing Law requires anyone who keeps four or more children in their home, not counting their own children, to be registered. Four hours of training will be given to each caregiver who completes the session. This training will count toward the required 20 hours of annual training.

For more information call 806-376-7214.

4-H'ers Pick Candidates For
Kiss A Pig Contest

The 4-H Clubs of Lynn County combined to support the American Cancer Society with a "Kiss-A-Pig" competition. Each club has picked a "pig candidate" for the competition and whichever club raises the least amount receives the pig kissing honors at the Hospital Auxiliary Fun and Food Fest on May 19. At this time only New Home 4-H has named a candidate, Lydia Hernandez. Wilson, Tahoka and O'Donnell will also be participating with their candidates named later.

New Home 4-H'ers will host a bake sale May 18 at the elementary school to raise money for the event. Donations may also be made at B.B. Fertilizer, Eddins Walcher, John Edwards Shop, New Home Store, Co-op Gin, and New Home Oil. Last month the 4-H'ers collected door to door donations for the cause.

Donations may be made at several of the businesses in each town or by contacting any 4-H member. The money donated will help fund cancer research, provide education and actually help cancer patients here in Lynn County. The ACS can provide wheel chairs, hospital beds and other equipment to cancer patients in the county. For more information on available services, call the Lubbock Cancer Society office, 794-5808.

"The Lynn County 4-H'ers helped raise over $1600 with the "Kiss-a-Pig" contest in 1988. We hope to have that kind of support again this year," said Annis Godfrey, County Extension Agent-H.E. Make your donations for your favorite candidate before May 16.

CULTURAL PRACTICES BEST CONTROL FOR LAWN WEEDS

Four simple but important steps will do more to provide homeowners an attractive, weed-free lawn than an arsenal of weed killing potions, says an agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. And now is the time to begin those four steps, he adds.

"When weeds invade lawns, many homeowners seek quick solutions through the use of herbicides," said

Dr. Brent Bean, the agronomist. Herbicides are only one tool and have only temporary effect on weed control unless other management practices are used, he said.

"The best weed control practice is maintaining a dense, actively growing lawn," Bean said. A well maintained lawn minimizes weed competition and helps prevent establishment of new weeds.

"Turfgrass vigor is generally affected most by four cultural practices: selecting a good grass variety, mowing, nutrition and irrigation," the specialist said.

When choosing a turfgrass variety, select those with a history of doing well in this area, he said. "Use mixtures and blends, rather than a single

First Graders Visit Museum

On Thursday, May 3, the Tahoka Elementary classes of Virginia Griffing, Mitzi Bruton, Kathy Druessedow and Chloe Jan Wells toured the Tahoka Pioneer Museum in three groups. Sixty one students, four teachers, nine parents and one bus driver made a total of 75 visitors from the school.

Museum personnel who served as directors were Anne Belle Stice, museum hostess; Madeline Hegi, Dr. K.R. Durham, Mel Leslie, president of the board; Mabel Gurley, vice president of the board; Weesie Carroll, Melvin Burks, Mary Louise Louder and Mildred Abbe.

The Tahoka Garden Club will meet at 10 a.m. Tuesday, May 15, in the home of Maxine Paris, 1919 Main Street, for the last meeting of the year. Co-hostesses will be Lahrué Tippit and Clifford Tankersley. Mrs. Tippit will present the program which will be a slide presentation of past year's programs. Installation of new officers will be held.

The artistic display "Having Fun With Flowers" by club members will be used as table decorations.

Weather permitting, there will be a backyard picnic. Members are to invite guests.

species," he recommended. "This helps the turfgrass compete under a wide range of conditions and lowers the chances of weeds invading the lawn."

Proper mowing is often overlooked for maintaining a healthy lawn, he said. Mowing height and frequency should be adjusted depending on the type of grass and time of year.

Cool season grasses, such as Kentucky bluegrass and fine fescue, should be mowed at 1 1/2 to 2 inches in the spring and fall, and at 2 1/2 to 3 inches in summer. "Higher cutting height in the summer helps insulate the grass crown from high temperature," he explained.

In general, bermuda grass performs best at mowing heights of one inch or less, the agronomist said.

"Regardless of the type of grass, it is best to not remove more than a third of the leaf area with any mowing," he said.

A properly fertilized lawn may not be weed free, but it will be better able to compete with weeds than an undernourished lawn. The most effective way to determine a lawn's fertility needs is to take a soil sample and have it analyzed, he said. Your county agent can tell you how to take the sample and suggest where to send it for inexpensive testing, he noted.

Kentucky bluegrass and fescue lawns should receive the bulk of their fertilizer in April/May and September. A total of five pounds of nitrogen for 1,000 square feet should be sufficient for most cool season lawns, with a third to a half of the nitrogen applied in the spring and the rest in the fall.

"For best results, use a combination of fast and slow release sources of nitrogen, with not more than half being fast-relief, he suggested. Adding iron will help give the grass a darker green color and other nutrients should be added if the soil test indicated a need.

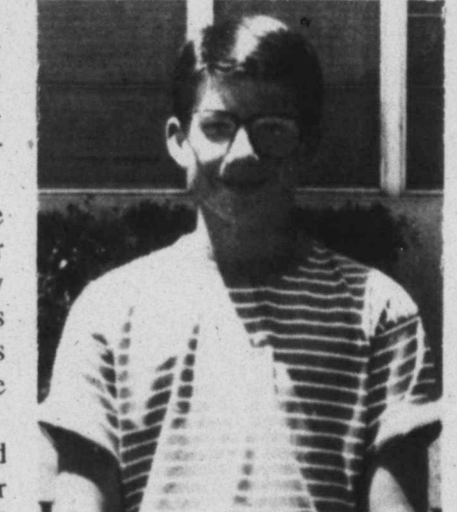

Bermuda grass should receive between four and six pounds of nitrogen per 1,000 square feet of lawn

AMBER MCNEELY, daughter of Billie McNeely of Tahoka, was recognized for scholastic achievement at the South Plains College Awards Assembly Thursday, May 3. She is a 1988 graduate of Tahoka High School.

"NOW YOU DON'T want to mess with one of these critters!" - Mel Leslie, President of the Board of the Tahoka Pioneer Museum, showed Tahoka first graders this very real, but stuffed, rattlesnake up close when they came to the Museum last Thursday. The snake was part of the ground display in front of the mural of the Tahoka Lake. Enjoying Leslie's comments and helping the students with the tour were several other Museum personnel, including, from left, Mabel Gurley, Weesie Carroll and Mary Louder. The students showed much interest in the local museum. (LCN PHOTO) each year. "A split application in May and September is generally best, as with cool season lawns, a mixture of fast and slow release nitrogen is best," Bean said.

Watering is the final cultural practice that will help a lawn compete with weeds. Irrigating deeply and infrequently is preferred over light, frequent waterings which lead to shallow root systems.

Bluegrass and fescue require significantly more water than bermudagrass during the heat of summer. In some cases, up to two inches a week may be needed to maintain a cool season lawn through the summer.

By watering early in the morning, less water is lost to evaporation.

dren. Ask the instructor about the curriculum of water activities. Many activities look like game, but encourage children to participate at their own level.

Check the organization of the class. Are children grouped by age or skill? Being with age mates may encourage children to try new things in the water. Being with swimmers who are much more advanced can be too intimidating.

How big is the class? The Red Cross recommends one instructor for every 10 children. If your child hasn't done much swimming or is afraid of the water, a smaller class will be better.

Note the flotation policy. If you're considering a beginners program which doesn't use flotation devices, the student-to-teacher ratio should be very small.

How long is the class? About 30 to 40 minutes in the water is enough for most children. Also ask how the instructor deals with children who become cold or tired before the les-

When your child is ready for organized swimming lessons, what should you look for in a program? Your options may include those classes offered through parks and recreation, YMCA, the Red Cross, community centers, or private instructors.

Talk with other parents and children to find out which programs they've enjoyed. Observe classes if possible and talk with the instructor before enrolling your child.

Instructors should, of course, be certified by the Red Cross. But there's no certification for how well the teacher relates to children. Look for the teacher who is patient, friendly and playful with the chil-

Build Child's Self-Esteem To Help Prevent Child Abuse

By MOLLY HELMLINGER

Fourth Article in a Four Part Series on Child Abuse Prevention
Research shows that one way to protect a child from child abuse is to develop the child's self-esteem. Children who are mentally healthy feel good about themselves. They are more capable of handling possible situations in which child abuse may occur. How can parents and other "caregivers" help children develop their self-esteem? Here are a few suggestions:

Reward children for all efforts. Children need to know that the reward is in trying even if the effort proves to fall short of total success. Children need to be rewarded. Children will not take valid risks if they feel you will be judging them harshly.

Be enthusiastic about small accomplishments. Life is made up of small incidents. Children need to be recognized for small improvements in themselves and not just dramatic ones. The key is to promote steady progress and growth.

Do not compare children's abilities. Each child must be valued on his or her own strengths and weaknesses. Each of them is a special individual. We need to emphasize their uniqueness.

Listen to children and be sensitive to their needs. Children need to know that their opinions are valued. Show that you can listen and talk with them.

Focus on children's strengths. None of us would grow if all we heard was negative. Emphasize the positive by focusing on the child's strengths. This does not mean that weaknesses are ignored, but are placed in proper perspective.

Utilize Constructive Criticism. When dealing with children, avoid using destructive statements. A child will thrive on praise more than criticism. Always look for the good and downplay the bad. Praise your child as often as possible and he/she will react more positively when constructive criticism is necessary.

Encourage children to learn new skills. The more skills a child can draw upon, the better the odds of the child coming through a situation successfully. A child needs the opportunity to develop as completely as possible. Learning new skills helps promote self-confidence in the child.

Foster a strong moral code in the family. As the parent or primary caregiver, it is your responsibility to help foster a strong moral code. Each family has its own moral code. There are some things "this family" just will not do or tolerate. The moral fiber developing within the family demands a framework on which to grow. Each person, especially the children, needs to know the family's stance on right and wrong.

Remember, children need to know that they are worthwhile and loved. Children who have been nurtured feel good about themselves. One of the most important responsibilities you have is to help children develop a positive self-esteem.

Your HEALTH TIP
LESS TV - MORE ACTIVITY
Pediatricians now consider excessive TV watching a genuine disease of children, causing obesity and other ills. Hours spent watching TV are hours not spent burning up calories and developing muscle coordination and social excitement in play activity. TV watchers usually snack on junk food (many children see on TV over 11,000 low-nutrition, high-calorie junk food ads a year). For healthy kids-less TV, more social, active play.

CAVALRY VISITS TAHOKA ELEMENTARY - Two members of the 4th U.S. Cavalry Regiment Memorial Inc. visited Tahoka Elementary last Friday. Officers Dennis Wardroup and Gary Livesay made the presentation to the students, showing them the uniforms and some of the equipment the soldiers used. Right after this photo was taken, the officer pointed his gun up in the air and shot it, which quickly gathered all the students attention, and almost caused the photographer to lose her camera when she gracefully jumped a foot in the air. Gem Society, U.S. Cavalry Visit Elementary Students

The Tahoka third grade participated in a special presentation by the Lubbock Gem and Mineral Society last Friday. Two representatives of the society came to help acquaint the students with various types of rocks, fossils, where to look, and what to look for. Students learned how fossils were made from the society's fossil expert, Edward Ries. He brought several examples of fossils and gave each student two of their very own. Mr. Ries passed around fossilized dinosaur bones, which the students truly enjoyed.

D.L. Nelson, president of the society, presented rocks and minerals. He showed several examples of rocks and minerals and explained how they can be used in jewelry and other useful ways, such as salt. Each student was presented a polished rock.

This presentation coincided with rock units being studied in the class.

Two members of the 4th U.S. Cavalry Regiment Memorial Inc. visited Tahoka Elementary Friday, May 4. Officers Dennis Wardroup and Gary Livesay made the presentations to grades K-6. The officers discussed the uniform, equipment, the cavalry, Colonel Mackenzie's significance and the Red River Indian War that brought the soldiers to the area over 115 years ago in 1873. The students learned first hand of the lifestyle and hardships faced by the troopers. After each presentation, the students were allowed to ask questions regarding the 4th Cavalry of the era.

The 4th U.S. Cavalry Regiment Memorial originated five years ago with Bob Marlett, a professor with Texas Tech University. The cavalry is made up of people from all walks of life, including businessmen, physicians, school and government employees. The group is an educational organization which re-enacts the history of the area for schools, community celebrations and other special events; such as the inaugural parade for President George Bush and the "Billy the Kid Days" celebration in Lincoln, NM.

Obituaries

Merle Schooler

Services for Merle Schooler, 79, of Post will be held at 3 p.m. today (Thursday) in O'Donnell Church of Christ with Billy James of Levelland officiating.

Paul D. Jones, minister of Post Church of Christ, will assist, and burial will be in O'Donnell Cemetery under direction of White Funeral Home of Tahoka.

Mrs. Schooler died at 6 a.m. Tuesday in Lynn County Hospital in Tahoka after an illness.

She was born Aug. 9, 1910, in Rising Star and lived in the O'Donnell area for 59 years. She moved to Post in August 1989. She married Claude Charles Schooler in April 1930 in Lovington, N.M. He died in March 1974. She was a farmer until retiring in 1984. She was a member of the Church of Christ.

Survivors include a daughter, Jerry "Sis" Guin of Tahoka; two sisters, Agnes Baskin of Lamesa and Kathleen Hardesty of Rising Star; three brothers, Frank White of El Paso, Paul White of Washington, and Jack White of Simpsonville, S.C.; four grandchildren, Jim Schooler, Tommy Guin, Claudia Guin, Patrick Schooler; and two great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be Dan Turner, Freddie James, Wendell Edwards, Jerry Gass, Kyle Josey and Kohen Josey.

J.Q. Warnick Sr.

Services for J.Q. "Jake" Warnick Sr., 84, of Lubbock was held at 2 p.m. Wednesday in W.W. Rix Chapel with the Rev. Jo Merriman officiating.

Private burial was in Resthaven Memorial Park with the Rev. R.L. Kirk officiating.

Warnick died at 5:55 p.m. Monday, May 7, 1990, in Methodist Hospital after a lengthy illness.

He was born in Lamesa and moved to Lubbock in 1932. He married Alice Small June 16, 1929, in Tahoka.

Survivors include his wife; a son, J.Q. Jr. of Lubbock; and three grandchildren.

The family suggests memorials to a favorite charity.

Wied, fund raisers; Merri Wilke, publicity; Pam Joplin, historian; Pam Williams, secretary; and Reda Abbe, treasurer. The elementary band performed several numbers in the band hall and parents were able to visit the book fair in the library.

Today at 10:45 a.m. (Thursday) the drama class will present a play to the elementary grades 1-3 in the high school auditorium. The same play will be presented to grades 4-6 Friday at 11:15 and again on Monday at 12:30 for the high school classes.

The FHA is sponsoring a Mother's Day barbecue on Sunday, May 13, from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Tickets for the barbecue are $5 for adults and $3 for children 12 and under.

The fifth and sixth grade bands will travel to solo and ensemble contests at Hale Center Saturday. This will be their first band competition so we wish them much luck.

The elementary and high school bands will perform in the Spring Band Concert on Tuesday, May 14, beginning at 7 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Other dates on the calendar: Junior-Senior Banquet - May 12. U.I.L. banquet, May 18; Baccalaureate on May 20, Elementary Awards Assembly at 2:30 p.m. May 23, Elementary Texas Day May 24 and last day of school May 25.

County-Wide Retreat Slated For 4-H Clubs Saturday, May 12

A county wide retreat for students in grades 2-6 will be held Saturday, May 12, from 12 noon to 11 p.m. The retreat is hosted by the Lynn County 4-H Clubs, but students do not have to be in 4-H to participate.

The retreat will begin at Lyntegar meeting room in Tahoka and end with a folk dance at the county show barn. Adult leaders will take the participants to the showbarn on a hayride around 6 p.m.

Participants will have a pizza party after the hayride. Each person should bring $3 to cover the cost of the pizza.

The retreat will include afternoon sessions on building self esteem, gaining confidence through public speaking and personal development through 4-H. An IFYE (International Foreign Youth Exchange) participant to Sweden will present international opportunities youth can explore in the 4-H program.

The retreat will end with a closing ceremony at 11 p.m. that will highlight the day's activities.

Anyone wanting to participate should contact Nancy Monk at the Lynn County Extension Office or call 998/4650 before 5 p.m. on May 11.

Anyone in grades 7-12 wishing to help as leaders need to also contact the county agents office before May 11. Teen leaders will meet at 10 a.m. at Lyntegar prior to the retreat to help organize activities. A free lunch will be served to all teen leaders.

An organizational meeting will be held May 11, at 7:30 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall of First United Methodist Church, Tahoka for adults interested in helping with the retreat.

Lubbock PCA Is Honored

For the second consecutive year, Lubbock Production Credit Assn. (PCA) received a Farm Credit Achievement Award from the Farm Credit Bank of Texas.

The association has offices in Lubbock, Brownfield, Levelland, Ralls, Seminole and Tahoka.

In making the award, bank officials commended the PCA on its financial strength and high quality portfolio.

Directors of the locally-owned cooperative are Dewey Wells of Ralls, chairman; Dalton Redman of Morton, vice chairman; E.M. Hammonds Jr. of Tahoka, Robert E. Jameson of Seminole, and Harold Parrish of Tokio. President is Bill Harmon.

THS Baseball

Last week the Bulldog baseball team nosed out Morton 11-10 as David Lee was the winning pitcher over Tamell Pritchett. Joey Stone had a 2-base hit and triples were hit by Lee and Rivas.
