More Diesel Fuel Thefts Reported In County

Two more thefts of diesel fuel from storage tanks in Lynn County were reported during the last week to the sheriff's department.

Gordon Tomlinson of Tahoka reported that 200 gallons of diesel had been stolen from a tank about 13 miles southwest of Tahoka on May 20 or 21st. The stolen fuel was valued at $160.

L.C. Unfred, Rt. 4, Tahoka, reported about 300 gallons of diesel fuel was stolen from an overhead tank two miles southwest of Lakeview community last Friday. Officers estimated the fuel value to be approximately $250.

A New Home man complained to the sheriff's office that another New Home resident had struck his pickup with his fist.

Seven persons were jailed during the last week, one of whom was arrested by Tahoka Police Dept. on six different charges. The suspect was already wanted on charges of minor in possession of alcoholic beverage and no liability insurance, and faced additional charges of operating an unregistered vehicle, displaying a bogus inspection sticker, no liability insurance, and failure to appear.

One person was arrested for driving while intoxicated and no drivers license; one was charged with public intoxication and minor in possession of alcoholic beverage; one for DWI and minor in possession; and three persons for applications to revoke probation, one of charges of possession of marijuana, one for theft by taking and one for DWI.

IT LOOKED LIKE RAIN—but it didn't rain last week despite the ominous clouds such as this one photographed Friday. This cloud was out east of Tahoka, and sure enough, Post had a flood, but there was no rain, just wind, in Tahoka. (LYNN COUNTY NEWS PHOTO)

A WRITER named Robert Ragaini has written an article (in The Rotarian magazine) about his adventures and experiences in growing vegetables and other sometimes edible things in his garden, and how high technology has come into play in gardening, as in all other endeavors.

I read this article with only a mild amount of interest, since I do no gardening at all. I do eat some of the things which come from gardens, and I appreciate fresh tomatoes and corn and radishes and onions, which my wife has grown from time to time in her garden.

I don't try to help her with the gardening, because whenever I lay hands on a plant of any kind (except weeds), it immediately dies, never to produce fruit, vegetables, pecans, peaches, blossoms or even leaves again.

Ragaini says his father never spent any money on his garden, but the biggest difference in gardening then and now is that you can spend tons of cash on gardening aids, and here are some he discussed:

Seed dispensers: "Resembling an oversize syringe, it deposits a single seed in exactly the targeted spot. Given the time it takes to replace unused seeds in the packet and to refill the dispenser with each different variety, it probably doesn't take much more time than the old method of sprinkling seeds from the palm of the hand directly in the row."

Ollie Owl: "A fearsome creature that frightens birds away from ripening fruit and berries. Farmer Fred is an inflatable scarecrow whose arms and legs flap in the breeze and frightens the crows in the corn, and a long Vinyl Snake scares the daylight out of almost everybody."

The writer also mentions that there is a collection of instant analyzers which one may buy, "hand-held mini-computers that, when stuck into the soil, indicate moisture content, or pH level, or concentrations of salt, or the need for fertilizer, so that at any time during the growing season it is possible to confirm your worst fears."

Anyway, he winds up by saying that all these fancy things are expensive and not really needed, and that "no matter how you slice it, a tomato is a tomato, and a garage full of sophisticated do-hickies isn't required to grow one."

I know nothing about growing tomatoes except what I hear from those who grow them. My county agent says there are about 99 different varieties, and a friend who thinks he knows everything about gardening once told me you had to "succor" tomatoes (or was it corn?). Anyway, at the time, I wrote an article advising my readers against that, explaining that I tried it in my wife's garden, and I kept getting dirt in my mouth.

Anyway, I hope my wife and others who know how to raise things continue to grow good fresh vegetables, because they taste so good, even if it does raise the water bill while leaving the grocery costs about the same.

Medical Waste Facility Land Contract Approved

Plans for a $4 million medical waste disposal plant to be built northeast of the City of Tahoka advanced this week as the city council unanimously approved a resolution authorizing Mayor Jim Solomon to sign a contract on the city land with the private firms planning the facility.

The mayor now has signed the contract with Southwest Enviro-Waste Services Ltd., and the next step is for that group to apply for proper permits from the Texas Dept. of Health and the Texas Air Control Board.

Southwest Enviro-Waste is a partnership of Tahoka Enviro-Waste Services, owned by a New York firm, Hayden-Wegman Inc., and Tahoka Bio-Tech, Inc., owned by Lee Stafford Group of Lubbock.

The city land on which the medical waste disposal plant will be constructed is located just southwest of the city landfill operation, according to city manager Barry Pittman. The contract with the company involves five acres.

In March, Stafford said that the plant would handle what is termed "red-bag" medical waste, which is generated by hospitals, doctors' and dentists' offices, and nursing homes. Most of the waste materials, he said, would be incinerated. Reportedly the companies plan to construct a building about 80x100 feet, containing two incinerators and a giant cooler for storage of waste before it goes into the incinerators.

Mayor Jim Solomon said city officials are convinced that the facility is environmentally safe.

Projected to serve an area within a 100-mile radius of Tahoka, the plant reportedly will employ about 30 persons and add approximately $600,000 per year to the area economy in payroll alone.

Only two other medical waste disposal facilities are in operation in Texas, both near Houston, city officials said.

City council members Monday night also heard a report on the last month's activities of the Tahoka Police Dept., presented by Chief Jerry Webster.

Pittman, Solomon and all council members except Milt Uzzle were present.

THS Students Compete At State Meet

Four Tahoka High School students traveled to Austin Saturday, June 2, to compete in the Texas State Solo and Ensemble Contest. Eden Williams performed a twirling solo and received a division IV rating. Twirlers Kathy Amador, Allison Rhodes, and Eden Williams performed a twirling trio and received a division III rating.

"The competition at the state level is much more difficult than at the regional level," said band director Stephen Morgan. "At the regional UIL meet, Eden's solo would have received an Excellent rating, and the trio would have received a Superior rating. I'm very proud of these young girls and expect them to continue to do well at their contests for the next three years."

Lynn County Accident Report

Capt. L.A. Reinhart, District Supervisor of the Lubbock Highway Patrol District comprising 21 counties, said, "For the month of April, our troopers investigated two fatal accidents.

Sgt. Lamar Beckworth of Brownfield stated, "In Lynn county, our troopers investigated no fatal accidents, one personal injury accident and five property damage accidents in the month of April.

Moths Invade Lynn County

A large number of moths are now congregating at night around lights in Lynn County. These moths are the adults of two or three species of mesquite cutworms. The number of these moths increased rapidly during the past few days. They will be present in large numbers for about a week then they will quickly disappear.

The mesquite cutworm larvae feed on mesquite leaves. They feed at night and remain hidden under the rough bark or at the base of the tree during the day. When full grown the larvae are about 1 1/4 inches in length. They are black with light-colored to gray parallel lines running the length of the body.

Most of the foliage may be stripped from mesquite trees that are heavily infested by mesquite cutworms. When these cutworms are damaging mesquite trees in the home landscape carbaryl (Sevin) will provide effective control when sprayed on the foliage.

The moths which are almost black have a light colored line about 1/3 of the way back across the wings. When the moths are folded this line forms a v. There is a crescent shaped orange spot on the end of the underwings.

If the moths become a problem in the home, aerosol sprays containing pyrethrins or resmethrins will be helpful in controlling the moths. They will not cause any damage in the home but may be a nuisance. Use yellow lights that do not attract the moths if the presence of large numbers become a problem.

Letter To The Editor

Sir:
The American tax payers are going to have their taxes raised to give more of their money away to foreign nations.

There are two groups of influential people that mostly are non-elected. They are called the Builderbergers and/or the Trilateral Commission. These people each have their meetings and they decide what to have our congress and our president to do.

The Builderbergers have just met and they are telling our congress and president to raise our taxes more to give more money to foreign nations, communist as well as so-called free nations.

It is time the American people revolted.

Drivers Reminded Of Unfamiliar Roads

Now that school is out and vacation time is here, motorists are heading for the road in droves, this increasing their chances of experiencing unfamiliar driving conditions.

Major V. J. Cawthon, Department of Public Safety Commander of Region 5 said, "When driving in the rural areas, slow down before not after entering a curve. If you wait until it seems urgent to slow down, it is too late. Your engine should be pulling your vehicle through the curve. This pulling force aids in directional control, when you use a safe speed in a curve."

The major reminded Texas motorists to be alert to the fact that many people lose their lives within 25 miles of departure and/or destination. This fatal fact of the road is due, in great part, to abusing the speed laws.

Drivers are urged to plan trips so that they have plenty of time to reach their destination and return in comfort. This means a minimum of night driving, no speeding and no driving when fatigued, Cawthon said.

STORING FOODS SAFELY
 Maintaining food quality starts with selecting high quality foods. It also involves storing foods properly and using them in a timely way. Tips for maintaining quality during storage include:

Rotate foods on hand with newly purchased foods so that older items are used first.

Reseal packages tightly after opening. Transfer foods such as flour, sugar, and cereal to airtight containers. Store whole wheat flour in the refrigerator or freezer.

Keep refrigerators below 40 degrees F. Store foods in airtight containers to prevent transfer of odors or flavors. Allow enough room between items for adequate circulation of air. Remove spoiled foods promptly to prevent cross-contamination.

Keep dry storage areas clean, cool, dark and dry. Store foods on shelves above the floor, away from water pipes and hot air ducts. Store foods in coolest areas of the kitchen. Keep cleaning supplies in a separate area, away from foods.

All foods have limits on how long they will stay at peak quality, even when stored properly. A guide for storing some common perishables can be obtained from your local county Extension office. Times assume that foods are of high quality when purchased, and that they are properly handled and stored at home.

VACATION OFFERS ARE TOO GOOD TO BE TRUE
 A post-card arrives in the mail stating: "You have been specially selected to receive a free trip to Hawaii! Call this toll-free number for details."

You have visions of beach-combing on an exotic isle. But is this offer too good to be true? According to the Federal Trade Commission it probably is.

When you call the toll-free number, you're likely to be told you must join a travel club to be eligible for the free trip. Sometimes, a credit card number is requested so that your account can be billed for the membership fee.

With these offers, it's likely you'll be sent the vacation information package only after you have joined the club. Usually your reservation request must be accompanied by yet another fee. New charges are added at every step.

The final catch is that you may never get your "free trip" because your reservations cannot be confirmed or you can't comply with the hard-to-meet hidden or expensive "conditions."

Carpet Emissions And Indoor Air

New carpet may prompt complaints of odors, irritation, and sometimes illness. These complaints can be caused by volatile organic compounds emitted by the carpet. However, all carpets are not the same, and research has not produced information on all situations. The major component and dominant odor emitted by carpet installations (carpet, backing, pads, etc.) is 4-Phenylcyclohexene (4-PC).

If residents have problems with new carpet odors, the only practical solution is to "air out" the carpet. Increased ventilation is the best answer. Open windows (about an inch) in the affected rooms for the first month. This may result in more energy use, but it is the cheapest and most effective method available.

The Consumer Products Safety Commission has initiated a Carpet hot line to receive complaints about new carpets, 1-800-638-2772.

Exchange Wedding Vows May 26

Holly Park and Jeff Forsythe were united in marriage in a candle-light ceremony on Saturday, May 26, at 7 p.m. in Tulsa, Okla. Officiating at the double-ring ceremony held at the University of Tulsa's Sharp Chapel, was Dr. Don Roulette.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Park of Tulsa, Ok. and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Forsythe of Tahoka. Grandparents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. W.G. Gandy and Murl Forsythe of Tahoka and Robert Pocr of New Home.

The chapel was decorated with candelabrum, spring bouquets and violet taffeta ribbons.

Holly, escorted by her father, carried a bouquet of spring flowers and wore a gown of white taffeta by Illissa. The fitted bodice was accented with imported lace heavily embellished with pearls and sequins. A sweetheart neckline was designed by beaded scalloped lace. The off-shoulder short sleeve was created by a ruffle of lace that framed the shoulder and a ruffle of taffeta edged in scalloped beaded lace that extended to the elbow.

The floor-length full skirt was edged in scalloped imported lace. The back of the gown featured a tiered bow of taffeta trimmed in sequined lace. The bride chose a circular headpiece of ribbon and small silk flowers that had cascades of lily of the valley sprays that intertwined in her hair.

Gena Jarret of Greensboro, NC was maid of honor. Other bridal attendants were Erin Means of Tulsa, Ok, Kim Lichliler of St. Joseph, Mo., and Leslie Miller of Tulsa, Ok. Bridal attendants wore violet taffeta drop-waist, tea-length dresses and carried wild flowers tied in ribbons. Flower girl, Krissy Sander of Tulsa, Ok. wore a violet drop-waist dress with violet ballet slippers. In her hair she wore a wreath wrapped with ribbons and flowers and carried a basket of wild flowers.

Jeff Jennings of Houston served as best man. Other groomsmen were Bryan Park of Tempe, Az., brother of the bride; Mitchell Hammonds of Omaha, Neb. and Jay Forsythe of Tahoka, brother of the groom.

Ushers for the ceremony were Joey Miller, of Tulsa and Rusty Jennings of Austin.

Wedding selections were "Theme From Ice Castles" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Harweldon Mansion in Tulsa. Hosted by the brides parents the reception was decorated with spring bouquets and violet balloons.

The couple live in Tulsa where Jeff is employed by American Airlines and Holly is employed by Park Pipeline Products.

DEVELOP LAND TO CONSERVE WATER

With hot, dry weather looming ahead, homeowners and others involved in landscape development should focus on water conservation.

Water conservation can be practiced in all areas of landscape development and maintenance, including plant selection, irrigation practices and equipment, and soil preparations. These practices can be aesthetic as well as practical, said Brett Cypert, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Homeowners can lower their landscape water usage in several ways:

—Using native and adapted plants. Native plants often thrive on existing growth conditions and reduce the need for extra irrigation. Many plants have been introduced that show adaptability to soil, rainfall and temperature conditions.

—Taking advantage of innovations in irrigation practices and equipment. The landscape irrigation business is experiencing a revolution, with new timing devices, low pressure systems, drip irrigation and other highly specialized water devices focusing on more efficient water usage. Irrigation systems and small ponds and fountains also can effectively use water as an aesthetic addition to a landscape.

—Using mulches for insulation. By providing an insulating layer between the sun and soil, mulches prevent rapid drying and lower soil temperature in hot weather, which keeps the top soil from crusting or hardening. Low-cost materials such as hay, grass clippings, bark and pine needles are excellent for mulching and can add appeal with texture and color.

—Properly preparing the soil. When soil has been loosened and improved with plenty of organic material, such as peat, pine bark or compost, it will hold significantly more moisture and release it over a longer period of time. However, organic materials break down over time and need to be supplemented. A compost pile can be a good source of these materials, allowing the homeowner to recycle leaves, grass clippings and other waste to improve the soil.

These are just a few practices that homeowners can use to significantly reduce water usage in their outdoor environment.

Third Graders To Get Awards For Projects On Drug Abuse

Four Tahoka third graders will receive state awards at the Texas Assn. for Education Technology state convention in Austin next November, according to sponsor Gwen Cate, learning resource specialist at Tahoka Elementary Schools.

Mrs. Cate had four projects from the resource center to compete at the state level in the Substance Abuse Media Fair. Two of the projects will be on display at the convention.

One will be a filmstrip project by students Kindra Jolly, Leticia Antu and Amanda Fuentes. The project, which placed third in state, showed students at school saying "no" when offered cigarettes.

Rebekah Curry will be honored at the state luncheon with a plaque for her photography project, which showed a federal prisoner in Lynn County jail who has been convicted of manufacturing methamphetamine and assessed a life term in prison.

"My dad and I went to the Lynn County jail to take pictures for a project that shows why people should not use drugs," Rebekah said. "While we were there, we met a prisoner named Donald Wayne Engleking, who seems like a very nice man." She said that when she told the man what they were doing, he said he had been taking drugs all his life, and suggested that she could take his picture if it would help convince others not to take drugs.

Rebekah and her father, Zane Curry, had entered the jail with the permission of Sheriff Jack Miller to take a picture of the inside of a jail, when Engleking made his offer after hearing they were working on an anti-drug project.

The photograph they took, with a Lubbock Avalanche-Journal article about Engleking's mandatory life sentence and some of Rebekah's comments on the situation on the back, earned her a first place award at regional and then at state.

Among her comments: "I thought that drug dealers would look scummy and fat. But Mr. Engleking didn't look scummy and fat; he looked nice."

Motorists Urged To Use Caution During Summer

It's the beginning of summer and with it brings an end of another school year. Children will soon be filling the streets to play and parents will be planning for that summer vacation.

Major Vernon Cawthon, Regional Commander of the Texas

Department of Public Safety, reminds parents and motorist that safety should continue to be part of their daily routine.

Parents should instruct their children in the safe operation of all recreational equipment, such as; all terrain vehicles, bicycles, scooters, motorbikes, and skateboards. Instruction on proper use, care of and laws applying to all such equipment should be reinforced. Safety equipment, such as pads and helmets, should be worn to minimize injuries. Smaller children should be instructed to never ride such equipment as ATVs and scooters without appropriate supervision.

If you are going to be around water this summer, remember; never let anyone swim alone. Establish pool rules. Keep electrical appliances away from the water. Prohibit horseplay. Never leave a child alone and never consider young children water-safe despite their swimming skills.

Motorists should use extra caution when driving in residential areas, remembering that we have longer hours of daylight. Always be looking out for children darting in and out from behind parked cars. Never assume that a child will see you. Slow down and honk to get their attention, if needed.

And remember, when traveling, please buckle up and drive friendly, the Texas way.

Public Notice

TO ALL FORMER AND CURRENT INTRASTATE WIDE AREA TELECOMMUNICATIONS SERVICE (WATS/800) SUBSCRIBERS:

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company has instituted a Class Action Lawsuit seeking judicial approval of a settlement reached in Docket No. 7297, an inquiry of General Counsel of the Public Utility Commission of Texas into possible overcharges which occurred between September, 1976, and February, 1987, due to rounding practices, on bills of intrastate WATS/800 customers sent by Southwestern Bell and other telephone companies which concur in Southwestern Bell's tariff. The suit is styled "Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, Plaintiff, vs. MCI Telecommunications Corporation, A Member of the Class of Texas Intrastate WATS and 800 Service Customers Who Paid Overtime Charges From September 1976 Through February 1987, Defendant," and identified as Cause No. 471,460 in the 126th Judicial District Court of Travis County, Texas.

Pursuant to the Settlement, while not admitting liability, Southwestern Bell, the other local exchange telephone companies in Texas, and AT&T Communications of the Southwest, Inc. have agreed to pay refunds to those WATS/800 customers who paid overtime charges attributable to the rounding practices for intrastate WATS/800 services at any time between September, 1976, and February, 1987. The refunds will be based upon either the actual or estimated amount of overtime charges attributable to such rounding practices. An exact refund will be determined for customers able to produce copies of their WATS/800 service bills. For customers who do not have copies of their WATS/800 service bills to establish actual overtime charges paid, an average refund of $4.53 to $5.95 per WATS/800 service line per month will be applied. All claims will be subject to verification. The refunds will also include interest at the rate of 7.80% per annum.

Claim Forms And Additional Information

Those customers who think they may be entitled to a refund or who desire more information must call 1-800-782-3026, 8:30 a.m. - 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, or write to WATS Refund Pool Administrator, One Bell Plaza, Room 670, P. The WATS Refund Information Package will contain further information regarding the lawsuit and eligibility for a refund, a description of documentation required to support a customer's claim for refund, and a refund claim form to be filled out and submitted requesting a refund. REQUESTING A WATS REFUND INFORMATION PACKAGE DOES NOT OBLIGATE YOU IN ANY WAY.

All claims for a refund must be received by the Refund Pool Administrator by Friday, October 5, 1990, and all rejections of the settlement (that is, requests for exclusion from the class action lawsuit) must be received by the Court by Wednesday, September 5, 1990. Only those who respond by filing a claim or by filing a rejection of the settlement, as explained in the WATS Refund Information Package, will receive notice of future developments in this proceeding.

WARM WEATHER AHEAD: TIME TO GET IN SHAPE

Before we know it, the lazy days of summer will be here and jackets will be traded in for bathing suits and shorts. Many of us are taking a more critical look in the mirror and finding those extra pounds we picked up last Christmas are still there. There's still enough time for a sensible diet, the type that gets rid of inches as well as pounds and helps you keep them off.

Be sure to get your doctor's advice before dieting. He can give you the best plan to follow so you won't sacrifice your health for your looks. And if we can supply you with anything you might need we'll be more than pleased.
