REMOVING BONES—Dr. Pat Lamb, left, carefully removes bones and dirt from a site west of Tahoka Saturday where a skeleton was found. As he did so, he placed the dirt on the screen held here by Deputy Jake Diggs, and the soil was sifted for evidence. The photos below show a closeup of some of the rib bones, and a view of the site looking south from the north rim of the gravel pit where the skeleton was found.

Skeleton Is Found West Of Tahoka

The skeleton of a person who apparently had been murdered was found last week at a gravel pit about nine miles west of Tahoka. The site of the discovery is less than a mile north of U.S. 380 and easily accessible to anyone seeking to dispose of a body.

Large rocks had been piled on top of the body, which was face down at the bottom of the pit, on the south side. Lynn County Chief Deputy Sheriff Jake Diggs, who had been searching the area, found the spot where the bones were located Saturday morning. Feeling pretty certain that underneath the pile of rocks was the skeleton for which officers had been searching, Sheriff Jack Miller contacted a Texas Tech anthropologist to direct the removal of the skeleton.

In May a Tahoka Elementary student exploring the pit area found a skull and later took it to school to a science class. School officials notified the sheriff and officers had looked around the area previously trying to locate the rest of the skeleton.

Dr. Neven P. Lamb, chairman of the Anthropology Dept. at Texas

Tech, had previously looked at the skull and he came to the site Saturday to help remove the rest of the bones.

Dr. Lamb at first said the remains were definitely those of an adult female, probably an older woman, but later he backed off that statement, saying it could be a male. He added that it is difficult to determine how long the bones had been at the site, but that "months to years" would describe it best, and he added that they possibly had been there as long as five years.

There was no immediate indication of the cause of death, but Dr. Lamb and Lynn County Sheriff Miller were of the opinion that murder was involved. "I would consider it unusual for a person to be found face down under a pile of rocks and partially covered by a plastic bag," Dr. Lamb said. Also, some of the bones showed evidence of violence.

No grave had been dug for the body; apparently it was placed face down with large rocks at the site which is on property owned by E.L. Short of Tahoka.

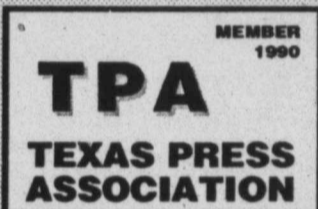

A few threads and remnants of a T-shirt were found Saturday with the size and manufacturer's name on a collar label. As Dr. Lamb removed the rib bones and other bones from the uncovered spot, officers sifted through the bones and dirt for other clues, coming up with a button and later some keys and other articles. Dr. Lamb and the officers worked on the site in the searing heat Saturday afternoon, with temperatures above 100 degrees.

In further careful digging since, a cigarette lighter, part of a pair of blue jeans and part of a bank deposit slip have been uncovered, but as of Wednesday no identification of the body had been achieved.

Sheriff Miller said Dr. Lamb advised him this week that it would take some time and tests to answer the questions raised by the finding of the skeleton. According to the sheriff, some additional excavating is being done at the site because there was one bone found which did not seem to fit the others.

A Brownfield woman was reported missing several years ago, and never has been found. Officers were seeking to determine if the skeleton might be hers, but at midweek said this appears unlikely.

Two Arrested On Cocaine Charges

Two men were arrested on Friday afternoon by officers of the charges of delivery of cocaine late Tahoka Police Dept. and the South Plains Regional Narcotics Task Force.

Macario Alvarado Jr., 25, of Tahoka was charged with delivery of cocaine, and Gary Lynn Neudiger, 31, of Post, was charged with delivery of a controlled substance and unlawfully carrying a weapon. Alvarado posted $15,000 bond and Neudiger posted two $15,000 bonds, one on each charge.

The suspects were arrested at the Tahoka Texaco station after reportedly selling cocaine to an undercover officer. Confiscated at the scene was 6.5 grams of cocaine, which officer said had a street value of approximately $1000.

Another incident investigated by Tahoka Police Dept. occurred about 11 a.m. Sunday when Officer Hipolito Zuniga was dispatched to the 2300-block of N. 4th where a dark-colored van was parked in the street. The driver was asked to step out of the vehicle when the officer saw some beer, according to the police report. The man reportedly had difficulty maintaining his balance and he was unable to pass a field sobriety test, he was placed under arrest by the officer. The man then reportedly became violent and pushed the officer down. Zuniga called for a backup and the man continued to struggle, and allegedly threatened to kill Zuniga while he was being taken to jail. The 27-year-old Tahoka man was booked on charges of illegal parking, public intoxication, resisting arrest and making terroristic threats to a police officer.

Police investigated a stabbing incident Saturday, involving a 29-year-old Tahoka man who reportedly was stabbed four times with a small pocket knife by a 30-year-old Tahoka man on S. Ave. E. The victim was treated at Lynn County Hospital and then released. A warrant was issued for the arrest of the alleged assailant.

A Tahoka woman in her early 20s reported to police that she was assaulted by a male acquaintance Sunday while walking in the 1100-block of N. 5th, and that the man had stolen $20 cash from her. No charges were filed, however.

An O'Donnell woman reported two tires missing last Saturday. It later was determined that a relative had taken the tires and sold them. Willie Nieman, Rt. 4, Tahoka,

Lots Of Activities Slated At July 4th Celebration

A full evening of activities is slated at Tahoka's "Great American Blowout" Celebration on Wednesday, July 4, from 6-10 p.m. at the Tahoka Mini Park. The event is sponsored by Tahoka Chamberettes, who hope to see a large crowd attend the festivities. Games for all ages will be provided, and entertainment on a stage in front of the tennis courts will offer local talent. Cal Huffaker will be emcee for the evening. The celebration will close with a candlelight ceremony at 9:30 p.m., and then a dance will be held on the tennis courts from 10 p.m. until midnight for all who wish to participate (participants must wear tennis shoes).

All residents are urged to bring lawn chairs and relax and enjoy the visiting and games. Throughout the evening, enjoy volleyball in the Methodist Church parking lot, basketball shooting, making gigantic soap bubbles and toe-bobbing for marbles. A new activity best described as horizontal-stilt team skiing will be offered, requiring four people to a team. This will be a test of coordination and team work.

For those who prefer a cooler environment, 42 and Skip-Bo tables will be set up in the fellowship hall of the Methodist Church.

Something new this year will be an opportunity to take a horse and buggy ride around the park. John and Mary Bess Edwards of New Home are bringing their horse and carriage to the celebration to give free rides to everyone. Children under the age of 16 must be accompanied by an adult.

Wounded Skunk Visits Hospital Emergency Room

On Monday evening, Tahoka resident J.T. Miller shot two skunks on his property in the 2500-block of N. 2nd St. and he left them where he shot them, having downed both with one shot from a .410 shotgun. The next morning he discovered one of the skunks was gone, apparently only injured or stunned.

On Tuesday afternoon, workers at Lynn County Hospital, about a block from Miller's home, bailed out of the building after the skunk, still apparently dazed, was discovered in the emergency room of the hospital. The skunk was removed, but there was no information as to whether anyone would be billed for emergency room treatment of the injured animal.

OBSESITY
Obesity is often associated with high blood pressure, diabetes, increased cholesterol levels, certain cancers, and heart disease. If that isn't bad enough, overweight can also cause mental depression due to a reduced social life, attractiveness, and feeling of self worth. The obese can certainly regain a normal figure if they avoid fad diets, but get with a professional dietician and exercise program. Mental and physical health surely are worth the effort.

OLDEST SETTLERS—The oldest man present (who had not previously received the award) at the annual Lynn County Old Settlers Reunion in Tahoka last Saturday was E.B. Gaither, 87, of Tahoka, right. He was presented a plaque by Master of Ceremonies Gerald Huffaker, as was Mrs. Lula Busby of Dallas, 95, honored as the oldest woman present who had never won the award. Also, Douglas Griffin of Turlock, Calif., left, was honored as the person who traveled the longest distance to the reunion.

Old Settlers Honored, Possibly For Last Time

The annual Lynn County Old Settlers Reunion, which has been held for the last 57 years, may have been held for the last time Saturday, as 172 persons, some from as far away as California, met at the Tahoka School cafeteria for food and reminiscing.

The oldest man present who had not previously been so honored, E.B. Gaither of Tahoka, 87, was presented a plaque for that honor. Also receiving a plaque was Lula Busby of Dallas, 95, as Oldest Woman present for the reunion.

The plaque for the person traveling the longest distance to the event went to Douglas Griffin of Turlock, Cal., 1500 miles from Tahoka.

Mrs. Busby is the only living charter member of Draw Methodist Church. Born in 1895, she moved to Draw in 1907. She had farmed with her family at Draw before moving to Dallas in 1960. Gaither came to Lynn County in 1918.

Probably the oldest person present was Belton Howell, 103-year-old Tahoka pioneer who now lives in Odessa. He previously had received the plaque which each year goes to the oldest man present.

Awards were presented by Master of Ceremonies Gerald Huffaker.

The master of ceremonies dropped a bombshell on the group with the announcement that there would be no more reunions, a decision reached by a group of workers, many of whom have been donating their efforts to the reunion for years. It was noted that attendance at the annual event has dropped from a high of about 475 several years ago to the current 172. Also, said one of the present officers, "the same few people are doing all the work, and they're tired of carrying the load."

It was suggested that someone else might reorganize and conduct the Old Settlers Reunion, possibly in conjunction with some other event, such as July Fourth or Harvest Festival celebrations.

High Plains Farmers Market Awaits Opening

Harvest-fresh fruits and vegetables grown by local producers for the High Plains Farmers Market will be awaiting the market opening on Saturday, June 30 at the new location 312 SE. Loop 289.

South Plains area residents will be treated to farm-fresh Texas-grown produce every Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday throughout the growing season.

Herbs, cut-flowers, honey, okra, beans, peas and watermelons are just a few of the items to be found at the market.

"We are truly proud of our market and would like to thank our past customers for their enthusiasm and support," said Dick Cade, President of the High Plains Farmers Market Association. The market is certified by the Texas Department of Agriculture, and is a member of the Texas Certified Farmers Market Association.

This market is one of the 90 farmers markets that TDA will assist across the state this year. Approximately 3700 Texas family farmers will be marketing their produce through the network of TDA-assisted farmers markets this season.

Farmers markets provide consumers with a chance to know how and where their food was produced. Products sold at the markets haven't been shipped long distances and don't need expensive and environmentally damaging preservatives and packing. Texas farmers markets play an important role in their communities.
