Bulldogs Win 13-8 Over AAA Friona

Class AA Tahoka couldn't handle the Class A Spur Bulldogs in the season opener, but last Friday night the Tahoka Bulldogs surprised Class AAA Friona 13-8, scoring on two long passes from Quarterback Trey Nance to get Tahoka's first win (except for a forfeit from Plains last year) since November of 1988 when they beat New Deal 21-16.

It also was the most points scored by a Tahoka football team since that 1988 game with New Deal.

This week, the Bulldogs take on still another color of Bulldogs, going to Coahoma to test a team which just dropped from AAA to AA this season. Coahoma beat Winters 20-0 last

Last week's victory at Friona was a real boost for Coach Joe Paradis, the Tahoka players and fans, since wins have been scarce in recent years. Nance completed only three passes, but all were long ones, and two went for touchdowns. And the Tahoka defense really did the job, holding the Chieftains when it counted, as Friona had the edge in statistics and yards gained, but was held out of the end zone except for one TD.

Nance hit Daniel Garvin on a 55yard pass play with 10:56 left in the second quarter for the first score of the game, giving Tahoka a 7-0 lead after Albert Mendoza kicked the point. Friona drove downfield near the end of the half inside the Tahoka 5 yard line, but good defense on a 4th and goal running play gave the Bulldogs the ball and preserved a 7-0 halftime lead.

Both teams were unable to get drives going in the first part of the third quarter, with Steve Rangel breaking up a pass on a Friona third down effort to stop one drive. However, Marcus Reyes of the Chieftains returned a punt to the Tahoka 25 and then QB Daniel Saiz passed to Ismael Rocha for a a touchdown. Friona then went ahead as Saiz passed to Curtis

Brady for 2 points and an 8-7 lead. After the kickoff, Tahoka threatened again as Nance hit Mike Burleson for 58 yards all the way to the Friona 12. Tahoka lost the ball on downs on two incomplete passes into the end zone.

Still trailing 8-7 in the fourth, Tahoka took over at its own 33 after Nance intercepted a pass. Nance then hit Brian Moore on a 55-yard touchdown pass to put Tahoka back into the lead with 7:44 left in the game. An attempted pass for two points

After the Bulldog TD, Friona moved the ball down to the Tahoka 17, but the Chieftains fumbled and Joey Stone recovered for Tahoka on the 12. Tahoka couldn't move, but punted out, then the defense came through again as the Bulldogs dodged another bullet by holding on downs at the Tahoka 15.

Tahoka's defense forced five turnovers, including interceptions by Nance, Billy Wilborn and Bryan Patterson, and fumble recoveries by Stone and Adam Holland, Holland, Stone and Ray Mulanax each was counted in on 12 tackles; Wilborn had 11 tackles and Garvin 10. Others scoring high on defense included Moore and Jay Forsythe.

A WELL-KNOWN consumer magazine this month warns about a couple of things which some home mortgage lenders do to rip off the poor guy struggling to make his house payments. One common practice, according to the magazine, is to require more escrow money than is really needed to pay property taxes and insurance. Another item mentioned was that there are millions of dollars of unclaimed insurance premium refunds due people who have paid off FHA homes.

The magazine says that most FHA contracts limit the amount of excess money in an escrow account to no more than two months of payments at a given time. But it says that many lenders ignore the federal law and collect as much as a full year ahead of time. It explained what a

City Okays New Budget, Raises Taxes 2.5 Cents

The City of Tahoka raised property taxes 2.51 cents per $100 valuation Monday night, the smallest of three raises added to the load of taxpayers living in the city this year, following increases of about 8 cents each by the county and the Tahoka School District.

The city councilmen also approved a new budget for the fiscal year starting in October, which totals approximately $793,000. The new tax rate will be 54.28 cents per $100 valuation, compared to the current rate of 51.77 cents. The 2.51-cent raise will raise about $12,600 in new

All council members and Mayor Jim Solomon and City Manager Barry Pittman were present.

Sanitation rates, fees for garbage collection, were raised to $10 per homeowner can do about it.

The refunds due people who have paid off their mortgages ahead of time are for insurance premiums. When someone takes out an FHA loan, he must pay an additional special insurance premium, about 3.8 per cent of the loan's face value. This is to pay FHA or the Dept. of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) in case you don't pay up; it's strictly for their benefit, and doesn't help you any. Anyway, if you paid off your home early, you need to apply for that refund. According to the magazine, it usually ranges from $400 to $1800.

We have an FHA loan on our home, and I remember how much red tape we had to battle in getting the loan in the first place, and how every conceivable expense (fees for surveyors to drive down the street and confirm that your house is on the lot, "points" for the "privilege" of making the loan in the first place, Bahamas vacations for half the staff of the lending agency, etc.) was added to our payments. I was never happy with FHA because of all the ripoffs, and I was (and still am not) happy with the escrow system where the lender uses my money and pays me no interest on it. I offered a couple of times to pre-pay my own taxes and insurance, but they wouldn't allow it.

Another thing I don't like about my home loan is that in the last couple of years it has been passed around like dirty pictures in a military barracks. The savings and loan association which had the loan for several years changed its name twice, then sold it to another S&L, which sent it to some other lender, which sold it to GMAC (a car loan bunch, for heaven's sake), which sold it to someone else the other day, with the homeowner (me) having nothing to say about any of the transactions.

Any day I expect a letter saying my loan now is with Walmart, or the Oakland Athletics, or with Friendly Dan's Used Car Lot in Bangor, Maine. And would I please make out my checks directly to Sam Walton or Jose Canseco.

I wish I could pay off the mortgage, apply for refunds on my escrow and federal insurance and tell them all to go butt

Lynn County commissioners heard a complaint from a county farmer that "everybody is raising taxes this year and somewhere we've got to call a halt," but after more than an hour of discussion with the only citizen who spoke out at the public hearing Monday, commissioners went ahead and voted for an increase in county taxes of just over 8 cents per $100 valuation.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 1990

The increase, which amounts to almost 33 per cent, boosts county taxes from 26 cents to 34.2 cents per $100 valuation. With the new tax rate, the county expects to raise about $806,000 to help pay for a 1991 budget which calls for a total expenditure of $1,431,807. Other major sources of income for the county are expected to be fees, licenses and permits. With these and other lesser sources of income, the county anticipates revenues totaling $1,449,525 for 1991.

Cotton producer Bob Haney was present at the hearing with figures he said were obtained from official records showing that revenues from taxes had approximately doubled since 1982 while the inflation rate was much smaller than that. He questioned the need for a county tax increase and asked commissioners and Judge J.F. Brandon why the money is needed. "Do you have any expendi-

Burglary, Child Abuse Reports Investigated

Thefts, a burglary, a report of child abuse and a forged check were among items investigated by Tahoka Police Dept. and the Lynn County Sheriff's Dept. during the last week.

Neeley Ray Ross, Rt. 6, Lubbock, reported a house two miles south of the Lynn County line on U.S. 87 burglarized last Friday. Missing was a Sony color TV valued at $500.

Sheriff's officers questioned two persons in connection with the alleged passing of a forged check in the amount of $150, given in payment for rent of an apartment in O'Donnell. No charges or arrests had been made.

Tahoka Police investigated a report from the Children's Protective Services Sept. 13 that two Tahoka boys, age 7 and 9, had been beaten by their father, who was requested by the Children's Protective Service to move out of the home. The man had not been charged as of Wednesday. Both boys reportedly had bruises on

Haney commented to the group that he also had appeared at the public hearing on a Tahoka school district tax increase recently and said that the school officials admitted "they really didn't need the increased tax revenue to operate this year, but they are putting the load on the taxpayers because the state has said that if the school raises $73,000 the state will give them $139,000 this year...That school wouldn't shut down if they didn't raise taxes, and neither would the county govern-

Kelli Ferguson Misses Two In Football Contest

Kelli Ferguson of Tahoka named 11 of 13 winners in the Football Contest sponsored by The Lynn County News last week. She was followed by seven people who tied for second place, missing only three picks in the contest.

Mrs. Ferguson won the $5 cash prize for winning first place, and would have received an additional $10 if she had chosen the secret sponsor for the week, which was Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber Co. Ironically, Mrs. Ferguson's husband, Curtis, works at Higginbotham, and her father, Jimmy Huckabey, manages the company.

This week's contest can be found on the Bulldog sponsor page in this issue of The News. Entries must be turned in to the office by 5 p.m. Friday to be eligible to win.

AHA Sponsors Food Festival To Encourage Heart-Health

"Those In The Know - Keep It Low!" is the theme for Food Festival 1990, sponsored by the American Heart Association (AHA), Lynn County unit.

During Food Festival, Sept. 23-29, area volunteers will encourage residents to "be in the know" about good nutrition and heart-health.

"Eating foods low in cholesterol and saturated fat is an important part of controlling the risk of cardiovascular disease," said Carol Miller, President of the AHA's Lynn County unit. "By reading labels and making proper food selections, you can keep your risk for cardiovascular disease

According to the American Heart Association, "Keeping It Low" is a matter of choice. "When choosing food products, choose those which contain polyunsaturated or monounsaturated fats, and avoid products containing saturated fats and cholesterol," Miller said.

Cholesterol is a soft, fat-like substance found in animal products (meat, fish, poultry) and is especially high in egg yolks and organ meats.

Saturated fats are fats that usually harden at room temperature and are found in animal products and in some vegetable products. Coconut oil, cocoa butter, palm oil and palm kernel oil are also sources of saturated Polyunsaturated fats are oils from vegetable products such as safflower and sunflower seeds, corn and soybeans. They help lower blood choles-

Monounsaturated fats are liquid vegetable oils such as canola and olive oils. New research indicates they may also help reduce blood cholesterol.

Tahoka Girls Volleyball Teams Play In Lubbock

Junior varsity Lady Bulldog volleyball team members were the underdogs in matches played against Lubbock Dunbar, Tuesday, Sept. 11. The girls lost 1-15 and 2-15.

Girls volleyball coach, Steve Qualls, said a solid game was played by Kelly Wells and Miranda Martin.

The varsity girls played a good first game against Dunbar, said Qualls. However, they came up short with a score of 7-15. The second game against Dunbar was over too quick, as the Lubbock team won 1-

Arnetta Hudgens and Christy Huffaker, who Qualls said both turned in outstanding passing performances, were named Most Valuable Players of the Dunbar matches.

The junior varsity girls took on Lubbock Christian High School Saturday, Sept. 15. According to Coach Qualls, the girls played an outstanding match.

The JV ladies first game was a slow start as LCHS came out on top 3-15. The girls turned the momentum in the second game to come out on top 15-9.

"Great serving and super passes enabled the Blue to win the game," said Coach Qualls.

In a hard fought third game for the match, LCHS pulled away 10-15. "Good games were turned in by Misti Norwood and Jennifer Patterson," said Qualls.

HARVEST FESTIVAL PRINCESS CONTESTANTS - These young ladies will be selling tickets for a chance to win a Texas Tech vs. Texas weekend or a free bicycle during the next few weeks until Harvest Festival, set for Oct. 13. The girls, all attending Tahoka Elementary, are vying for the title of Harvest Festival Princess, which will be based solely on the number of tickets each girl sells. Highest ticket seller will be crowned during ceremonies at the Harvest Festival. Mrs. Rebecca Ingle is chairman of the Princess contest.

In varsity play last Saturday, Tahoka came up short by scores of 8-15 and 3-15.

"In one game Betsy Huffaker had an outstanding defensive game and Lana Parker also contributed", said Qualls. "Errors late in the game were the undoing of the team, however. The Lady Bulldogs could not shake the disappointment of losing game one and letting game two slip away without much of a fight".

"We have to overcome the disappointment that we might have and not get frustrated with each other and ourselves", said Qualls.

Qualls says that a solid line-up is what he is looking for and that he believes one is forthcoming from the volleyball teams. "Once we have line-up, the push will be on toward that playoff date". .

Local Resident Remembers Wartime Rationing In 1940s

BY MABEL GURLEY

As we enter into a new decade, our mental wanderings (which are considerable) go back to the '40's and World War II. Today's inflationary times provoke memories of items, not too costly, but unattainable with out the consent of the wartime Ration Board.

Economic conditions, as always during wartime, were good, but at a dear price. Too many of our boys, who were scattered all over the world, failed to come home. Adding to the prosperity, the rains were bountiful during those years. According to our renowned historian, the late Frank Hill, Lynn County led the state in cotton production with 101,514 bales, surpassing Lubbock County by 13,000 bales.

On the home front, women met the war effort in many ways, taking over men's jobs-farm work, rolling surgical bandages, so many challenges! Then there were those of us who, in the absence of the father figure, attempted to keep the family healthy and happy at home.

Remembering our "Victory Garden": With the help of our boys, aged eleven, four and 11 months, the little vegetable plot yielded a record production. The abnormal rainfall, combined with our ignorance in planting, no doubt contributed to its success. Seeds were planted close together on the hills and in the furrows, resulting in a tangled mass of greenery. A square foot of ground had enough vegetables for a tossed salad. It was usually a surprise lifting a vine to see what would be uncovered-and it was not always a vegetable. Once, nestled in the moist shade of a cucumber vine, a rattlesnake gave us a start!

Rationing was a concern to some families. Among the items rationed were gas, sugar, and tires. Though trivial, nylon hose were no longer available, as nylon was needed for parachutes. Rayon hose, prone to have a "run" with the bend of the knee, were repaired with a dab of clear nail polish. "Anklet" socks became very popular, and varicose veins did not deter some of the elderly ladies from resorting to them not a pretty sight!

Stories circulated about canned goods being hoarded in cellars, necessitating the housewife to open several cans before getting the desired contents, the cellar moisture having removed the labels. Admittedly, we, too, had a hoarding experience. The local Orange Crush owner consented to sell his bottling works to Coca Cola, which needed the sugar rights, but first he generously suggested that we take a bushel of the sweet substance, which we stored in the cellar, anticipating that the boys would need it later on. The first attempt to replenish the kitchen canister proved a disaster. The sugar had crystalized and had to be chipped off with an ice pick!

Then a host of problems arose, as to transportation. Gas stamps presented no problem, but only third grade re-capped tires were available. They were not worth the money nor the effort of putting them on the wheels. Having to go to the "Maytag" laundry, the grocery store, taking the boys to Sunday School, Boy Scout activities, etc., we felt justified in applying for grade "A" tires. This we were denied, the Ration Board saying tires were for farmers bringing their produce to market. Patching inner tubes and vulcanizing tires continued, then the real catastrophe occurred. The boys' father called from "boot camp" in Wichita Falls, saying he was due to be shipped out and wanted all of us to come to see him before he left. Without hesitation we loaded the three boys and our faithful 14 year-old niece into the car to make the journey. To shorten a very involved story, without any exaggeration, the trip was plagued by seven blow-outs and flats. The weather being over 100 degrees and (108 in Wichita Falls) made it very unpleasant not only for us, but for the Good Samaritans along the way who stopped to assist. Meeting with the Ration Board in Wichita Falls before attempting to return home, we were permitted once more to purchase re-capped tires. The entire distance of 20 miles was covered before having the first flat. Farther en route it was noted that the boys and niece were definitely leaning to the right side of the car. In, inspecting the problem, a coconut size bump was found to be ballooned on the left front tire. Fortune was now with us; as we literally limped in on a wing and a prayer to Guthrie, we found the first building to be a ga-

One day, detecting an unusual aroma from the kitchen, we found our oldest son stirring together a pot of my Faultless Starch and a can of cocoa, and claiming that he had invented rubber.. That trip to Wichita falls had made in impression! Perhaps the 19 months alone with the boys created a special bonding that had endured through the years. We experienced gardening, flat tires, and rattlesnakes together! Through all those days of incon-Since her car was new enough to

Just a thought....Perhaps a ration board in peace time for governmental spending would be a good idea. For instance, no overseas aid until we take care of the "home front".

DATED August 31, 1990, at Tahóka, Texas.

/s/ JACK MILLER, Sheriff of Lynn County, Texas

I had a plan. It was a good plan, with vision: short and long term goals, creative input, style and wit, pro and con, Mutt and Jeff ... well, you get the picture. I sat for hours ironing out the fine details of "The Plan," as I came to think of it.

"The Plan" contained Top Secret details of a project known to millions of women one that strikes fear into the hearts of men the world over code word "Redecorate".

What happens is this: Your average American family is at home one evening, where your average Dad-type person is watching a professional football team hunker down on the tube, your average 2.7 children are arguing over who spilled the red Koolaid on the carpet, and your. average dog is busy permeating the carpet with disgusting canine odors. Your average Momtype person is sitting in the easy chair, calmly ignoring all the hoopla because she's your basic 90's-type woman, when all right and announces, "I need to redecorate.'

This redecorating hormone man days, which is when they started drawing pictures on the /s/JACK MILLER, rock walls. Once the hormone Sheriff of Lynn County, Texas, strikes the female's central 36-3tc nervous system, there is no other recourse except to formulate "The Plan" which will transform your shack into a home so lovely that drives of photographers from "Better Homes & Gardens Than Yours" will come flocking to your door, begging to. take pictures.

This plan is a very lengthy ideas, offensive and defensive plays - uh, no, that's football. It takes weeks and minutes of serious thought, and being the thoughtful person that I am, I am hereby, to-wit, herewith and here-it-comes sharing this classified information with other females who may not have time to fully formulate their plan. I'll skip the fine print, though, and just give you the gist of an outline.

(1) Color Scheme. What this is, is you decide you positively hate and cannot live another day with the colors you presently have in your home. Pick two or three hard to find coordinating colors to work with so as to make your job challenging.

(2) Time Schedule. This is where you plan to buy your coordinating curtains, accessories, paint, wallpaper and other necessary items at well-timed intervals so as to be able to afford them. Then you rush right out and buy them all one Saturday when you're bored and don't have anything else to do. Your husband will be very pleased.

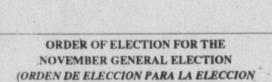

(3) Paint. Have your paint expert mix up several gallons in the hard-to-match colors you need. Be sure to buy a couple of gallons too many so you can set them in your garage to take up space. Garages covet paint

(4) Friends. You'll need at least one to help. What I did was to get all my painting supplies ready, taped off the windows and spread drop-cloths, then called my buddy and said, "Say, why don't you and the kids come over for a while - I have the swimming pool set up in the back yard." After she eagerly agrees, and just before she hung up, I added in a casually nonchalant voice, "Oh, and by the way, bring your paint brush. Dress old." I also called my Mom and begged til she gave in. Moms do that better than anybody.

(5) Finishing. This is what you are doing after the first five minutes of starting. I don't know how long this will actually and complicated process of for- take. I'm still in the process of mulating goals, setting price finishing six weeks after I started. The room is coming along nicely. Really.

> As far as I know, there is no known remedy for preventing the redecorating hormone from striking. The only preventive measure which might forestall it, as I see it, is to never spend an evening at home.

Next week: a plan on how to get that kitchen really clean ... ideas which have never been printed in 'Hints from Heloise' (and probably never will be).

Support Group For Military May Be Started In Tahoka

by JUANELL JONES

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry (Janie) Isbell of Tahoka, who have a son in the Air Force on standby status for deployment to Saudi Arabia, are thinking about starting a support group for American military families in Tahoka and the surrounding area. The group would meet at a time convenient for its members, and would lend moral support to each other and discuss ways to show support to their family members who are in the military service, whether they be stationed in Saudi Arabia or else-

"There are plenty of people in Tahoka who have family in the service in the Persian Gulf already," said Mrs. Isbell. "And this support group would not be limited to those who have family involved in the Middle East crisis. This would be a general support group, open to anyone who wants to lend support and spend a little time and effort in showing that support, not only to our servicemen and women, but to each other here in Tahoka," she added. "It means a lot just to have someone show you they care," she said, about the families of

We don't know what's going to happen over there, but it doesn't look good. Sometimes it helps to talk to other families in the same situation," she explained. "Back during the Vietnam War, there was a support group

Anyone interested in forming a support group is asked to contact Mr. and Mrs. Isbell by calling 998-4808 after 6 p.m.

Mrs. Isbell began the ribbon program here several weeks ago to show support for American military. Ribbons are still available to those who want them, and they can be picked up at Tahoka Drug. "Mr. and Mrs. Pat Green recently made a donation of ribbons, so we still have some available," she said. "Every time we run out of ribbon, someone else calls wanting to donate. It's been very encouraging to see how the people of Tahoka respond to this effort," she Throughout Tahoka, one can see the red, white and blue ribbons showing support for the military, and yellow ribbons designating family members in the military. Everyone is encouraged to keep showing the ribbons until the American military is called home from Saudi Arabia.

Mrs. Isbell is still keeping a list at Tahoka Drug of military personnel from families in this area. Added to the list this week is Kevin Crispin, Kelly Ray Crispin, John Austin, Dr. Timothy Stevenson, Dr. Harriett Stevenson, Chris Higdon, Darren Flippo and Susan Arthur, all in the Army; Glen Riddle and Thurman Hart in the Navy; and Jon Eason in the Air Force.

HYPERACTIVITY

Hyperactivity in children has often been blamed on a diet high in sugar. However, recent studies indicate that sugar actually causes a sleepy, not overactive, reaction. Other researchers suggest that additives from highly processed foods may be causing an allergic reaction in hyperactive children. Many parents report great success by putting the child on a natural diet of unprocessed foods that are prepared simply. It is worth a try.

MEWS FROM

Lynn County Pioneer Museum

Wendy Brown, Area Director of Green Thumb, Inc., met with a representative group of directors of the Tahoka Pioneer Museum Board to discuss the status of museum participation in the Green Thumb program. Meldon Leslie, Mabel Gurley and Mildred Abbe, board directors, and Annie Belle Stice, Green Thumb participant, were presented information on new directives that indicated the possibility that Green Thumb participants may be advanced to other positions in the county. Ms. Brown asked if the Tahoka Pioneer Museum was able to employ a worker and Leslie explained the financial position - that this was a volunteer, non-profit endeavor and that, as such, there was no possibility of steady employment. As typing would be advantageous in the Museum, Mrs. Stice said she would like to learn to type, so materials will be furnished for this training. Arrangements for a required annual physical were implemented.

The Graham George family of New Home offered a dining room suite to the museum, but space being what it is, it was necessary to refuse this contribution. This suite will be available to a grandson and will be stored until he can make the necessary arrangements. Mabel Gurley will take care of the necessary correspondence on this transaction.

David Murrah, Director of the Southwest Collection in Lubbock, will arrange to add copies of all pictures from the museum collection to the extensive Southwest Collection This was approved by the board.

Madeline Hegi reported that school tours will be scheduled after discussing it with school authorities.

The Tahoka Garden Club honored the museum for their participation in promoting a wild flower garden by making the museum planting the Yard of the Month for August. The Tahoka Daisy is recognized in Texas as a desirable wildflower and Mabel Gurley suggested that the history of the Tahoka Daisy be sent to Southern Living Magazine, with pictures, so that it can become part of the statewide selection for wildflower meadows.

The museum will be open during the Harvest Festival on Oct. 13 and board members will be in attendance.

Board members attending the meeting wer Melvin Burks, Meldon Leslie, Mabel Gurley, Madeline Hegi, Mary Louder, K.R. Durham, Weesie Carroll, James (Sonny) Roberts, Jim Solomon, and Mildred Abbe. Not attending were Lottie Jo Walker, Bill Craig, Carl Reynolds, Arlys Askew, Betsy Pridmore.

A special guest, Dot Roberts was in attendance with her husband and the board of directors was delighted to have her and also to have Sonny back after his long absence.

SOME MEDICINES NEED SPECIAL PROTECTION

You know what happens to a delicious custard if you permit it to be exposed for some time in a warm place. It can turn into a dangerous killer. Therefore, you refrigerate custards to prevent this. Many medicines must be protected against a similar change or they too can be harmful.

Pharmacists are taught at college how to store all medicines and to date those which lose potency after a certain time. Some of them must be kept away from heat or light. Others we keep refrigerated till ready for use. When dispensing such medicines which are subject to change we will always inform you if there are any precautions you

Selective Service Now 50 Years Old

The Selective Service System is celebrating its golden anniversary. This small federal agency, best known for drafting young men into the Armed Services during times of war, turned 50 years old Sept. 16.

The modern-day Selective Service System was responsible for providing manpower to the military. during World War II, and the Korean and Vietnam conflicts. Since the agency's inception in 1940, more than 15 million young men have been inducted and well over 100 million have registered. The last draft ended in 1973, and today, men are only required to register with the agency. But the System is prepared to reactivate the draft at a moment's notice, if ever given the go ahead by Congress and the President in a crisis.

Young men must register within 30 days of their 18th birthday at any local post office.
