Sputtering Bulldogs To Try Tough Post

The Tahoka Bulldogs, who can't seem to get things going for an entire game, came off their fifth loss in six games last Friday and this week will journey to Post to take on the unbeaten Antelopes, tabbed by most area sports observers as the team most likely to win district and then some.

Post has been beating everybody, but last week New Deal gave the Antelopes an unexpected good game, losing 34-27 and proving that Post is not unbeatable.

The Bulldogs, meanwhile, didn't do much in the first half against Crosbyton at the Tahoka homecoming game Friday, falling behind 21-0 at the half, and finally coming back in the last half to cut the margin to 21-6.

Unable to mount any sustained drives, Tahoka had the ball for only 46 plays in the game, compared to 67 for Crosbyton, but the Dogs did show a few flashes of offense, especially in the last half. The defense couldn't hang onto Crosbyton's 220-pound Jerome Lang in the first half, and Lang scored two touchdowns in the first period, one of them on a 90-yard run. One of the extra points was good and the Chiefs led 13-0 at the quarter.

The highlight for Tahoka in the second period was a 34-yard run by Billy Wilborn, but that was about all the offense of the first half, except for a first-quarter run of 18 yards by QB Trey Nance. Crosbyton scored another TD in the second period after a long drive, missed the point, and then got two points on a safety when a bad snap on a punt sent kicker Albert

Mendoza out of his own end zone.

In the third quarter, Bulldog running back Joey Stone broke for 34 yards, but this drive was thwarted. A Crosbyton drive was halted by Mike Burleson's interception. In the third quarter, Tahoka did mount one drive, starting from the Bulldog 21 after Tahoka held Crosbyton on downs. Stone and Wilborn made runs of 12 and 8, and then Stone escaped for 39 yards to the Crosbyton 15. From there, QB Rene Luna passed 15 yards to Daniel Garvin in the end zone for a Tahoka touchdown. A pass try for points failed, and it was 21-6.

Tahoka almost scored again later in the final period when Stone threw the halfback option pass to Cody Bailey, who made a great catch and wound up 57 yards downfield at the Chiefs' 21. But Luna's pass was intercepted at the 7 to end that hope.

Stone gained 88 yards in 9 carries and Wilborn had 43 yards in two efforts. Garvin caught three passes. With 14 tackles, Garvin also did well on defense, as did Stone and Jay Forsythe with 13 each, Michael Jackson with 12 and Brian Moore with 11, including five solo tackles. Wilborn and Mendoza had 9 tackles each and Ray Mulanax 8.

"Moving here from England was a cultural shock, but it was more than offset by the charm and friendliness of the people."

"I had a private practice in London until we moved here 17 years ago. I had an opportunity to go to other parts of the country but, after a visit, selected this area. We were attracted by the small town life style and superb weather... especially when you compared it to England's. But, mainly, it was the people.

Sports Remembered

(Editor's Note: Mabel Gurley of Tahoka, a frequent contributor to The Lynn County News of articles about the early days of Lynn County, died unexpectedly last week, only a few days after she had brought in the following story which, as always, demonstrated a knowledge and keen sense of humor about past events. The story was not published last week because of space limitations, but is being printed this week in tribute to Mrs. Gurley, whose presence and contributions to the newspaper will be missed.)

By MABEL GURLEY

About the year 1930 B.T. (Before Television), local people to a great extent focused their attention on sports for entertainment. There was no "couch potato" pallor then, for even the senior citizens 40 to 50 years of age (our conception of old age then) engaged in soft ball, baseball, tennis, golf, etc. There were indeed some outstanding athletes. Hall Robinson played baseball with the notable Fort Worth Cats. Some old timers will remember when "Lefty" Squires was challenged to throw a baseball over the courthouse, and with his mighty left arm was said to have collected the bet. Later he joined the St. Louis Cardinals.

Locally a baseball team, with players such as Wade Holland, Ivan Cathcart, and Jack Wells had a following as they challenged teams over West Texas and New Mexico. A softball team composed of business men and farmers had rooters who never missed a game. Occasionally a man would come to town with a trailer of donkeys to amuse the crowd with a donkey ball game. On one occasion a batter had what appeared to be a two base hit, and with diligent urging and prodding managed to get the donkey almost to first base, but before reaching the base the beast literally sat down, and since the batter was not permitted to dismount and run, it was a rather easy out. Donkeys are not dumb. They lift nothing too heavy for their backs to carry. Excessive weight activates their brake system, and no doubt that batter was overweight.

During the period of about 1933-34 a golf club was organized with Truett Smith as president and Borden Davis as secretary. The course was laid out, so to speak south of Tahoka in a pasture. The "greens" were sand. This course remains rather vivid to us, as it was at that location that a bad case of mumps developed.

As astuteness as to the technicalities of some sports was not one of our qualities then nor now. To our credit, however, we did know a "homer" pertained to baseball, and a forward pass implied football. Too, we learned right off that a "wide receiver" didn't necessarily pertain to obesity.

In early days two-car families were virtually non-existent. Only teachers' cars were seen at the high school campus, with perhaps a few cars driven by students who lived in the country. Town kids either walked or rode bicycles to school. The football team in 1932, however, had a very sophisticated means of transportation. Taylor White, the agriculture teacher, obliged by taking the entire squad to and from out of town games on a flat bed trailer, already dressed in their uniforms before leaving school. Perhaps the jolts and bumps conditioned the boys for the hard dirt fields they played on, some of which contained more grass burrs than grass.

Tahoka High was fortunate to secure a good football coach who also served in the capacity of biology teacher. Wendy Nichols came to Tahoka just out of Texas Tech, where he was Tech's first quarterback. Though a very likable man and good teacher, it was apparent that his interest lay with football rather than in persuading reluctant female students to dissect frogs.

Through the years Tahoka had some outstanding quarterbacks who led their teams to championships. To name a few, there were Eddie Edwards, Gordon Smith, Lynn Carl Halamichek, and Karl Prohl. The Minor boys were literally born running the 50 yard dash. Jack, James and Joe Don Minor were excellent athletes, all of them starring on Tahoka's football teams. Their athletic prowess enabled them to select a college of their choice for scholarships. Max Minor ultimately received a scholarship to the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, where during the war years he played in the backfield with the nationally famous Doc Blanchard and Glenn Davis. And it was while playing with this distinguished company that his teammates elected Max "Most Valuable Player". We were excited to see Max make a touchdown at our local theater on the newsreel. (There was no television at that time, remember.) After the war the American Legion held an exhibition football game with a team made up of Tahoka High exes, and the backfield consisted of Jack, James and Joe Don Minor. The game would have been a great success except for the fact that another ex, Bill Barham, sustained a broken leg during the game.

In the post-war years much rivalry existed between Tahoka, Post, Slaton, O'Donnell, and Denver City. A special train, "The Blueweed Special" always ran between Tahoka and Slaton for their games. Citizens in each town met the trains, carrying the spectators to the playing fields. Our social life was sometimes disturbed when there was dating with rival team members.

Tahoka was privileged to get Jake Jacobs as its basketball coach. While attending West Texas State, he was on the team which was invited by the N.I.T. to play in Madison Square Garden in New York. Terminology has changed in many sports areas, but it seems basketball experienced the greatest change. Until the players became taller and taller, a "slam-dunk" was unheard of. On the other hand small players such as Lynn Carl Halamichek had the leaping ability to bound over three or four players—or under, whatever was necessary. Placid Jake not only taught the boys basketball, but also instilled values that are everlasting.

The Harvick boys enlivened sports both as players and spectators. Rufus Slover had the unparalleled record of never missing a game as a supporter. Maurice Bray was an avid sports fan and supporter who had played football for the Pittsburgh Steelers prior to coming to Tahoka. In later years, Britt Robinson received national recognition as a champion skeet shooter. Bill Chancy has carried the chain for more than 40 years at football games.

Clint Walker, for more than 30 years, with his articulate and descriptive ability, announced every local football game, making the game so much more enjoyable for the fans. Howard Cosell missed a learning lesson by not hearing him.

But returning to the 1930's: girls' volleyball became a spectator sport, and we were permitted to wear "discreet" shorts rather than the black bloomers the girls' basketball players wore in earlier years. Some fine tennis players emerged in those days, the dirt courts not being a deterrent, since what we'd never had we didn't miss.

On a personal note, the almost 50 year marriage to Jess Gurley was almost terminated the first year when his bride decided to bleach his cherished white wool, "T" sweater with the sleeve stripes and star denoting the captain of the basketball team. A dip in hot water in the old Maytag did indeed whiten the wool, but the sweater's size would have been skimpy on a dwarf.

As time has a tendency to slow down the active, some fellows sought the recreation of dominoes. An arbor-like construction with benches and tables was erected west of the old Guaranty State Bank. As muscles became less taught, some walked day after day to this outdoor haven, still inhaling fresh air and engaging buddies in heated competition.

Bridge, to some of us, became a stimulating mental exercise of mind and judgement. The opportunity of forming new friends and the competitive instinct prevails. Boredom is absent when there are games, whether they be mental or physical.

Much can be said for small towns. Sports enabled many a local student to get an education and learn to compete in various fields. We're quite proud of these athletes and their many achievements. Too, they afforded us and others many hours of enjoyment as spectators.

Homecoming & Harvest Festival

Red Ribbon Week Targets Drug Use

Red Ribbon Week, a nationwide campaign designed to show opposition to drug use and to encourage participation in drug prevention education activities, has been proclaimed in Tahoka by Mayor Jim Solomon for next week, Oct. 21-28. The Tahoka City Council voted for the resolution.

Citizens are encouraged to wear red ribbons during the week to "make a visible statement that we are strongly committed to a drug free community."

Rhodes Family Now In Ruidoso

The Carroll Rhodes family has moved to Ruidoso, NM and Rhodes, now minister of music and youth at First Baptist Church in Ruidoso, and his wife, Susie, were subjects of reports in The Ruidoso News edition of Oct. 1.

Rhodes was minister of music and youth for seven and a half years in Tahoka before moving to Ruidoso. Before that, he served churches in Abilene, Rule, Cross Plains and Shamrock.

Susie Rhodes was second grade teacher in the Tahoka school system.

She has been hired as band director for Ruidoso High School. She had been acting band director for a period of time because of the suspension of the man hired as band director. The director resigned after being reinstated "following an investigation into alleged improprieties while on a school band trip," according to The News.

Susie Rhodes has nine years of band experience and, like her husband, has a degree in music from Hardin-Simmons University.

Foster Homes Needed For Children In County

Residents of communities in this area, and especially Tahoka, have the opportunity to provide foster homes for children, a need that county child welfare officials say is acute.

"The foster parent, along with caseworkers, must be willing to provide the best possible care to children who have no other place to go. Foster parents are very special people who possess a tremendous amount of patience, understanding and love," said Aneda DeLeon, representing the child welfare organization.

There are no strict limitations on who can be a foster parent. Some have natural children of their own, others have none. Both parents may work, as long as licensed day care is provided. Some foster parents are single adults or single parents.

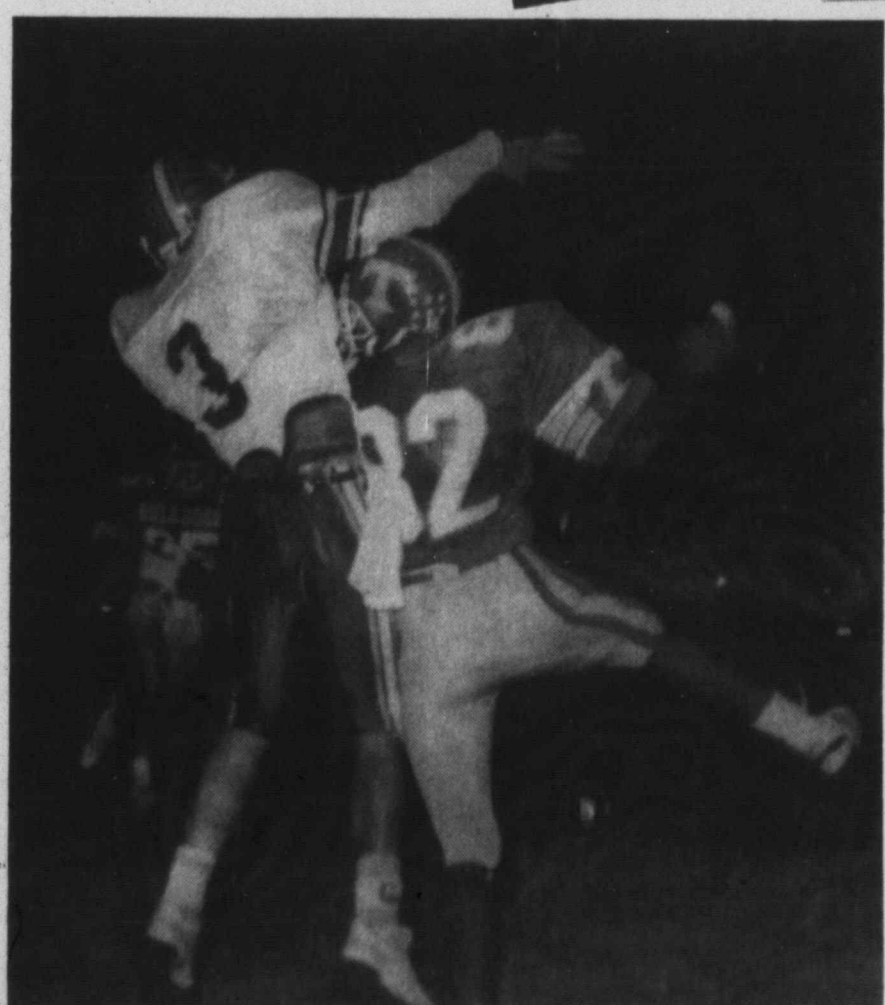

The only income requirement is that foster parents be able to meet their own financial obligations. Foster parents are reimbursed a standard rate of $14 per day per child in their home. Most of the children's medical expenses are covered by Medicaid.

Foster parents may care for more than one child but no more than six children under the age of 18 may be in the home, including the foster parents' natural children. "Every effort is made to keep sibling groups in the same home," said Ms. DeLeon. "If this is not possible, it is important to have them in the same town. The length of stay depends on the particular needs of the child at the time."

Foster parents are greatly needed right now. Foster parenting is not an easy job, and for this reason, there is a shortage of homes.

Anyone who would like to make a child a commitment to be meaningful during his or her lifetime, and who is interested in learning more about the program is asked to please contact Aneda DeLeon at (806) 675-2367.

INCOMPLETE—The ball is on the other side of these two players contesting for possession of it on a pass play last Friday night. No. 3 for Crosbyton is Jeremy Foster and No. 82 for Tahoka is Brian Moore. Nobody caught the ball. (LYNN COUNTY NEWS PHOTO)

ALL GOOD THINGS ARE CHEAP

Twenty years ago most prescriptions cost less than they do now. But, they did less. We had none of the costlier antibiotics, new hormones, and other "miracle" drugs which can be depended upon to produce a positive benefit and very often a certain cure.

Present prescriptions are "cheap" indeed, for they usually limit sickness-time to days instead of weeks and save more lives. Some cost more, but you benefit more.

"A GREAT MANY PEOPLE ENTRUST US with their prescriptions, health needs and other pharmacy products. We consider this trust a privilege and a duty."

Smyer Tames Leopards 48-0

Smyer's Rusty Bryan threw four touchdown passes — two each to Danny Baxter and Edwin Wutrich — as the visiting Bobcats tamed the Leopards 48-0 in the District 4-A six-man opener for both teams.

The victory raised Smyer's record to 6-0: New Home fell to 0-6.

Baxter hauled in 50 and 33 yard scoring passes, while Wutrich, who also tallied a safety on a first quarter tackle of Jesse Rodriguez, pulled down 20 and 40 yard touchdown passes from Bryan.

Jose Gil's 5-yard touchdown run early in the fourth quarter ended the game because of the 45-point rule.

Eagles Tramp LCHS 27-20

Tailback Jerry Cagle rushed for 127 yards and three touchdowns, including an 8-yard scoring jaunt with 2:49 remaining Friday, snapping a 20-20 tie and lifting O'Donnell to a 27-20 non-district victory over Lubbock Christian High School.

The triumph pushes O'Donnell's record to 3-2. Lubbock Christian falls to 2-4.

Cagle's effort negated strong showings by LCHS running back Nathan Blackwood, who rushed 26 times for 120 yards, and quarterback Reagan Crossnoe, who carried 10 times for 54 yards, including scoring bursts of 18, 24 and 11 yards.

Cagle snapped a 14-14 tie with 1:29 remaining in the third quarter with a 10-yard scoring run. The PAT kick failed, leaving O'Donnell on top 20-14.

Crossnoe's third scoring dash of the game, an 11-yarder with 11:07 remaining, knotted the score at 20-20. LCHS, which had led 7-0 and 14-7 in the first half, failed to reclaim the lead when Blackwood's PAT kick was blocked.

OLIVE OIL

Mediterranean peoples who traditionally consume olive oil in their diet have had less heart disease than upper Europeans or North Americans. Now, research by Stanford U Disease Prevention Center correlates the consumption of olive oil (monounsaturated fat) and a lowering of blood pressure among 78 men aged 30 to 55. Olive oil seems to reduce the blood level of 'bad' LDL-cholesterol that tends to clog arteries, while retaining the 'good' HDL-cholesterol that helps to avoid heart disease.

CLIP OUT & BRING TO LYNN COUNTY NEWS BY 5 P.M. THIS FRIDAY

Here's How To Win ...

OFFICIAL RULES

- Using a pen or pencil, place an X in the box nearest the teams you pick to win the games. Then, pick an actual score for the game designated as the tie-breaker.
- Choose one sponsor's name from among the businesses listed, and write it in the designated blank. Each week, the Lynn County News will draw the name of a sponsor to determine the Secret Sponsor.
- Mail or bring your entries to The Lynn County News, at 1617 Main Street in Tahoka, or P.O. Box 1170, Tahoka, TX 79373. Mailed-in entries must be postmarked by Thursday to be eligible, and entries brought in to the News Office must be received by 5 p.m. Friday preceding the games listed on the ballot. Acceptable football contest entries are those that are actually clipped from the Lynn County News. Copies of the entry ballot will not be accepted.
- Each week's winner will be determined by the number of winning teams correctly picked. If more than one person picks the largest number of winners, the person who picks closest to the actual score on the tie-breaker will be the winner.
- The winner will receive $5.00 from The Lynn County News. If the winner has also chosen the correct Secret Sponsor, he/she will be awarded an additional $10.00.
- Winners will be announced ONLY through the Tahoka football full-page advertisement in this newspaper. Do not call the Lynn County News to inquire about the outcome. Winners' names will not be given out over the telephone.
- To receive your prize money, the winner should personally come by The Lynn County News. Do not send someone to collect your prize money for you.
- Employees and immediate families of The Lynn County News are not eligible to win. The News reserves the right to disqualify, for cause, any or all entries, and maintains the right to cancel the contest at any time without prior notice or announcement. Judges' decisions are final.
