Dec. 27 Accidents Send 13 Persons To Hospitals

Traffic accidents on highways in Lynn County last Thursday sent 10 persons to Lubbock and Tahoka hospitals, and three persons were treated at Lynn County Hospital that morning for injuries suffered in falls on ice-slick streets.

Two of the accidents were one-vehicle turnovers about two hours apart and less than a quarter of a mile apart on U.S. 87 about three miles north of O'Donnell. An investigating highway patrolman said both vehicles wound up in the same cotton field.

In addition, there was another burglary of T-Bar Country Club clubhouse that same day, and St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Wilson was burglarized sometime between Thursday and last Saturday night. And Lynn County Sheriff's Dept. was investigating two burglaries of homes in the Wilson area around Dec. 18, in one of which items totaling more than $10,000 were stolen.

About 6:50 a.m. Thursday a 1989 Toyota pickup driven by Kevin Joseph Nolan, 25, of Aurora, Colo., went out of control on icy U.S. 87 north of O'Donnell and rolled over four and a half times, injuring the driver and three passengers. All were treated at Lynn County Hospital and later released. The injured passengers, all from Colorado, were Leslie Ann Moore, 24, of Aurora; Scott Edward Chew, 25, of Denver; and Michele K. Olmsted, 23, of Lakewood. The latter two were in a camper on the back of the pickup and were thrown free of the vehicle, which was headed south at the time of the accident.

About two hours later, near the same spot, a 1989 Chevrolet Spectrum driven by Velma Scoggins Dixon, 51, of Midland, rolled over once into the same field. The driver and two other passengers from Midland, Carol Hill, 41, and Loretta Kowalczyk, 69, were taken by O'Donnell EMS ambulance to Lynn County Hospital, where they were treated and later released.

A third accident that Thursday occurred on FM 211 about 5.3 miles east of New Home just after 5 p.m. A 1991 Cadillac driven by Melvin Cleo Barley, 50, of Lubbock, struck a utility pole 15 feet off the roadway. According to the investigating officer's report, the driver lost control during a coughing spell caused by his having the flu.

The driver and passenger Clifton Aruby Clem, 58, of New Home, were treated at Lubbock Methodist Hospital for cuts on the head, while another passenger, Bobby Dwain Clem, 55, of Rt. 4, Tahoka, suffered a broken leg, the Dept. of Public Safety officer said.

Nothing was reported missing after a burglary of the T-Bar Country Club building, although a door and window were damaged, and cabinets and a cash register were pried open.

Between Thursday and Saturday night, St. Paul's Church in Wilson lost a VCR, a Panasonic stereo and remote control to burglars. The loss, including damage, was set at $533.

Two burglaries committed earlier were on record at the sheriff's office this week. The home of Robert Harvick, seven miles northeast of Tahoka on FM 400, was burglarized Friday or Saturday, Dec. 18-19 after a door was forced open. The long list of missing items and damage loss totaled $10,955, including a 32nd Degree Masonic ring valued at $5,000, an Omega watch valued at $600 and a man's diamond ring valued at $850. Also taken were clothing, a TV set, VCR, camera equipment and other articles.

The home of Burt Byrd, northeast of Wilson, was burglarized Dec. 18 after a door was kicked in. Among the stolen items, valued at a total of $720, were a 19-inch color TV, Nintendo system and games, jewelry and miscellaneous articles.

Most unusual report of the week was a report to Tahoka Police Dept. Saturday that a man came to her residence on Ave. E and asked her for a cap. She told him she didn't know what he was talking about, and he then left after striking the screen door with his fist, causing minor damage, she said.

On Sunday police were advised by Cirilo Siller of 1416 N. 2nd that someone had stolen four hubcaps off his 1988 Chevrolet parked at his carport.

In jail during the last week were seven persons, including six on charges related to drinking, but DPS officers said most of the driving while intoxicated arrests were on Sunday night, rather than on New Year's Eve. One was held for DWI first offense plus possession of marijuana under two ounces; two others were for DWI first offense and DWI second offense; two were jailed for public intoxication; one was held for DWI plus no drivers license plus no liability insurance, and one person was held for driving while license was suspended.

at noon should be there by noon or a few minutes after. "We serve from noon to 12:30 p.m. . . The food is really good, planned by a nutritionist, and we have good cooks," said the director.

The senior citizens center also delivers meals to some homes in Tahoka, and takes meals to specified locations in O'Donnell and Wilson.

Because of the cutbacks in funding, the center has had some fundraising activities in recent months, and another event is planned Saturday, Jan. 19, when a Mexican food meal will be served to the general public from 5:30 to 7 p.m.

A square dance caller from Levelland, Gary Smith, will be part of an entertainment program to follow the dinner, and some local square dancers will perform, along with his group called Merry Mixers. There

HERE WE ARE in a new year, and either in the second year of the last decade of the century, or starting the first, depending on who you want to believe.

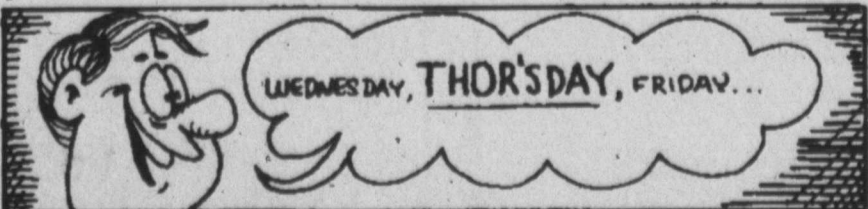

Many of the big-brains have been arguing about whether this is the first year of the decade or whether 1990 was the first year. This wrangling probably comes from the same people who recently decided we needed to add one second to last year to make it come out right.

Maybe whether this is the start of a new decade or not depends on whether the first year was Year 0 or Year 1. I don't know when the current system of measuring years was started (I'm old, but not that old). I don't know who started it, but it probably was some lawyer, because A.D. stands for anno domini, and lawyers love Latin phrases which confuse the general public. Anyway, whoever started the current year-numbering system loused it all up, because most Bible scholars agree that Christ was born in 4 B.C. In other words, Christ came along 4 years before Christ. I will not attempt to explain that.

A bunch of monks no doubt were sitting around in a cave and one says, "Look, Christ was born four years ago. We need to start a new way of counting the years, but we need to start now, since all the calendars since then have been dated 4 B.C., 3 B.C., 2 B.C. and 1 B.C. Since we can hardly call this year 'Zero', maybe we should just call it 1 A.D."

According to the dictionary, anno domini means "in the year of Our Lord."

That doesn't really help much, either. There just anno way to figure it out.

The ancient Norsemen considered Thursday sacred to Thor and the name actually comes from "Thor's day."

County's Over-60 Citizens Can Get Free Noon Meals

Lynn County residents age 60 or over can get their noon meals free five days a week at the Lynn County Pioneer Club, the senior citizens center in Tahoka, but officials at the center say most residents are not taking advantage of the offer.

"We wish more people would eat their noon meals here, because we have lost some of our regulars in the last couple of years, and our funding (mostly from the federal government) is based primarily on how many people we serve," said Pioneer Club director Catherine Barham.

The center suggests that a donation of $2 per person per meal be given, but it is not required, and anyone over 60 can eat there without being asked for a donation. There are no ethnic or income requirements; anyone over 60 may eat free. The menu is printed each week in advance in The Lynn County News.

Because the funding for the center's operations is based mainly on how many are served at noontime, the center has had some problems recently in meeting its budget. "We've had less money coming in, but our expenses stay about the same," said Mrs. Barham. "If more persons would allow us to serve them at noon Monday through Friday, our funding would increase, so anyone who eats with us here really is helping us to keep going."

The home of Esta Mae Kidwell was the setting for the Dec. 18 Gardener Club meeting. Lucille Wright served as co-hostess. Ten members were served a delicious Christmas brunch.

Out of the Woods

The wayward thoughts of Juanell (Wood) Jones

New Year's Resolutions. I wonder who it was that thought up this awful tradition? It was probably one of those guys who leads seminars on self-help and setting goals and all that pick-yourself-up-by-your-own-bootstraps garbage. I loathe hearing all that gobbledygook. Nobody I know (or would care to know) would waste hard-earned money to go hear some guy who got rich telling other people how they should set goals and schedules and such.

However ... being the nice person that I am, I'm going to give you a little New Year's Resolution advice, absolutely, positively free of charge (unless you would really like to pay me for it, in which case I wouldn't turn it down). Seeing as how this advice is free of charge, I guess I can say just about anything I want to ... which I generally do anyway ... which gets me into trouble sometimes ... which is following hereto, forthwith, and hence:

- Be nice ... especially to me. People forget to be nice, sometimes. In small towns, most of the people you meet are going to be nice and friendly to you. I noticed that right away when we moved here eight years ago. And even after they got to know us, they were still nice to us. Amazing. In the bigger cities, though, people don't take the time to just "be nice." They're too busy trying to get the parking space closest to the store, and rushing around trying to be first in line so they don't have to stand around and talk to anybody. People in small towns would just as soon stand around and talk as do anything else. Take the post office, for instance. You think the reason we don't have our mail delivered to our homes is because the government doesn't want to pay for mail carriers? Nope. People here are going to congregate somewhere to talk about life, and while they're at it they may as well pick up their mail and save the government some money (Lord knows, they need it).

- Get healthy. If that means going on a diet and starting an exercise program, then by all means do so. For myself, I started my health kick this morning by drinking orange juice instead of a coke for at my morning break, and I'm seriously considering digging the Slim-Fast out of the back of my cabinet and drinking it for lunch. I'm not sure, however, that my resolution will last that long, but I'm going to give it a try. By tonight, if the past 30-something years have been any indication, I'll be back to my regular chicken fried steak and french fries, and trying not to think about cholesterol levels. I've never had my cholesterol level checked, and for a very good reason. My twin sister and my mom, both of whom have much better eating habits than myself, got their cholesterol checked and it turned out theirs was pretty high. My mother, who prides herself on eating bran and broccoli and disgusting healthy foods that start with a "B," was madder than a hornet. "How could my cholesterol level possibly be high!" she raged. "I eat right. I exercise. I live a good clean life." (She does, too). My twin sister also had a cholesterol level higher than she thought she should, and for the same reasons. So based on these criteria, I refuse to have my cholesterol checked. I don't eat right. I don't exercise enough. The only thing I have in common with them is that I do lead a clean life ... I take a bath every night: If my cholesterol level is out of sight, then I don't want to know it. It might worry me too much, and put a damper on the enjoyment I get from scarfing down french fries and fried chicken.

- Get taller. I'm not sure how to go about doing this, but in 1991 I would really like to be taller. Just a few inches, just enough so that I'm not eye level anymore with my husband's belly button. My hair is getting flat from him resting his arm on the top of my head, and I'll bet he doesn't even know what color my eyes are.

- Get richer. Wouldn't it be nice, if in 1991 all the bank's computers automatically added a few hundred thousand to everybody's account, and nobody at the bank knew it? Or maybe all our congressmen would suddenly develop a conscience and send everybody in the United States a refund instead of voting themselves a raise. Or maybe they would all work for the betterment of the country instead of for whoever is slipping them some money on the side. Nah. Never happen.

- Get real. Let's get rid of Bart Simpson and Milli Vanilli and Dick Tracey and Rosanne Barr and get back to good clean living. I think Marcus Welby, M.D. should run the country, cars shouldn't cost more than, say, five years salary, and "E.T." should have a sequel. I think congress ought to pass a law barring Rocky and Freddy Kruger from having any more sequels, and that school teachers should get paid as much as some idiot who can't read but can punt, pass, kick, slam dunk, or right hook his way to the bank. I think I should get paid for writing this column.

So there it is. My advice for 1991. Be sure and tape it to your refrigerator so you can refer to it as needed. Have a good year.

Boys just want to have spiked hair, cool sunglasses, surfer t-shirts, acid-washed jeans and high-top athletic shoes, a survey found.

What do boys want to grow up to be these days? According to a recent survey of boys seven through 11, the top four career preferences are: professional athlete, movie actor, rock musician and airline pilot.

Their mothers, on the other hand had different ambitions for the youngsters. According to the Levi's "Cool Quiz," a survey of boys and their moms, mothers hoped their sons would become computer scientists, businessmen, doctors or lawyers.

Both generations agree that boys like to play video games, though watching television, sports and bike riding were also considered popular by both sons and mothers. In addition, mothers ranked their sons' interest in computers as high, but not as high as the sons ranked skateboarding. Surprisingly, only five percent of mothers thought their sons were interested in girls, when in fact, girls captured 20 percent of the boys' vote as the highest interest the survey found.

On the fashion front, boys like wearing high-top athletic shoes and t-shirts with beach-inspired graphics, faded jeans strategically ripped in the "right" places and hairstyles that are short, and often spiked or flat top.

The most popular brand of blue jeans with both boys and their mothers are Levi's jeans, but how they should be worn did not meet with much agreement. Forty-one percent of sons preferred their jeans acid washed, faded or ripped. No mother mentioned ripped as the way to wear jeans.

Whatever generation you're in, you can compare your opinions to these, to see just how radical a dude today's youth would consider you.

Tahoka Boys Win Third Place In Jayton Tourney

Tahoka's varsity boys basketball team won third place in a tournament at Jayton over the holidays, beating another district team, Ralls, in the third place game with a big fourth-period comeback Saturday.

The Tahoka girls varsity team lost its first two games in the tournament, then beat Hamlin Saturday for 7th place in the girls bracket.

Against Ralls the Tahoka boys fell behind 15-6 at the end of the first period, but outscored Ralls 24-19 in the second quarter, and then had 26 points to 18 for Ralls in the final period, to edge the Jackrabbits 69-68. Mike Burleson had 20 points and Bruce Burleson 17 in that win for Coach Hulon Kirkland's Bulldogs.

The Bulldogs won their opening game in the tournament, beating host Jayton 63-39 as Burleson scored 13 points. But against Lorenzo in the second game, championship bracket, Tahoka fell 87-73 despite 23 points by Brandon Cate, and 19 by Mike Burleson and 11 for Bruce Burleson.

After the tournament, the Bull-

The Lady Bulldogs went down 64-36 to host Jayton in the first game. Chasity Hood scored 11 points to lead Tahoka. Going into the consolation bracket, the girls then lost to Lorenzo, 68-50. Hood scored 24 points in a losing effort.

On Saturday, the varsity girls beat Hamlin 62-53 for seventh place. Myra Williams scored 19, Betsy Huffaker scored 12 and Hood scored 11 in the victory.

Coach Steve Qualls' girls team was 9-8 for the season after the tournament.

The varsity teams will play a district game at Seagraves tonight (Thursday). It will be the first district contest for the boys' team, while the girls already have lost to Crosbyton and Ralls in district games. ### Loop Teams Beat Wilson Cagers

Wilson basketball teams lost to Loop last Friday, with the girls going down 50-34 and the boys losing 45-40, mainly because they were outscored 18-7 in the third period. Both Wilson varsity teams outscored Loop in the final period, but it wasn't enough.

INTS FOR HOMEOWNERS

Frozen Pipes Prevention

Fortunately, advance planning can help cope with a "silent catastrophe" that harasses home owners and inflicts millions of dollars in damage almost every year.

It's bursting water pipes. Virtually unnoticed because they aren't life-threatening, frozen pipes that burst can cause staggering economic loss. In December 1989, for example, Arctic air blanketed the South and customers of State Farm Fire and Casualty Company suffered $192 million in home and apartment damage.

That's more claim dollars paid than for any other major loss event in the insurance company's history except for Hurricane Hugo (nearly 500 million) earlier that year.

Significant frozen pipe damage has occurred in several recent winters. Projections indicate more than 800,000 home losses were reported to insurance companies over a three-year period (1987-1989) in the 17 high-risk states—typically those in the South and Northwest where pipes aren't installed to minimize exposure to cold air.

Freezing pipes, however, occur all over the United States with the exception of South Florida, and most of Arizona, Nevada and California.

"Bursting pipes translate into damage that must be repaired and mess that must be cleaned up, all of which could be prevented," says Harold Covey, State Farm Fire and Casualty's chief administrative officer. Continued high claim payments also affect what consumers pay for insurance.

Here are some tips from the people at State Farm on Frozen pipes prevention:

- Insulate around pipes that are vulnerable to cold air.
- Wrap heat tapes (approved by an independent testing organization such as Underwriters Laboratories, Inc.) around those pipes.
- If practical, use an indoor valve to shut off and drain the water supply to outdoor faucets. This will prevent freezing in a short span of pipe just inside the house from the faucet. At a minimum, disconnect garden hoses from faucets to release accumulated water.

• Keep water dripping or trickling from the faucet farthest from where a water main enters your house (usually near your water meter). This will keep water moving through most of your plumbing and discourage freezing.

• If you have pipes that aren't insulated in an exterior wall near a sink, open cabinet doors beneath the sink to let warm air in.

• If you plan to be away for several days, keep your heat on—not necessarily full blast, but high enough to discourage freezing of pipes. Ask a neighbor to come in and check daily to make sure the heat is still on.

"Brrr-nard" says: You can take money-saving steps to prevent frozen pipes.

• An alternate plan if you're leaving: Shut off the water; drain the water supply by opening a faucet at the lowest point in the house; and put antifreeze in the toilet bowl and traps under the sink and tub (but keep it away from pipes that carry drinking water).

The bright flowers of the prickly pear cactus bloom for only one day.

Then on Saturday, Jan. 5, the FFA will host a Turkey Shoot beginning at 10 a.m. one-and-a-half miles north of New Home. A concession stand will be available at the Turkey Shoot. All FFA members parents are urged to bring a dessert to the fish fry. Proceeds from these two events will go to help purchase animals at the Lynn County Stock Show.

LESSIE SMITH
Doll-Making Is Hobby

For New Home Woman
Lessie Smith has a God-given talent for making old dolls like new. She is 85 years old and still just as dedicated to this art as ever. Lessie says that her interest in doll work began early, for not being able to have store bought dolls. She spent her time creating dolls herself, from corn cobs, rags and other odd material. She remembers her first real attempt at doll repair work when she was a little girl. One day she found an old, badly burned baby doll someone had left abandoned on a junk heap. She took it home, cleaned, repainted and redressed it, and it was pretty as could be. Since then, Lessie has become one of Texas' greatest doll artists. Asked what she likes best about her work, Lessie says she enjoys every bit of it.

Dear Cover Girl:
Keeping my lipcolor fresh during a hectic day at the office is impossible! Eating, drinking and talking on the phone all contribute to quickly wearing down my lipcolor. I rarely have time for mid-day touch-ups yet I must look as "together" at 4PM as I do at 9AM. Any suggestions?

Dear Reader:

You're a heck of a lot better off with a hometown bank.

When you open an account at one of those big, out-of-state holding company banks, you might get a toaster or a clock radio.

You might also get forgotten. Because after your new appliance is in the kitchen, your money is still in their big, impersonal bank.

Wouldn't you prefer a bank that gives you real personal service? That bank is right here.

We're one of the "I's of Texas." Your Independent bank that helped build this town. Real "hometown bankers" who care about you.

Medicare And You

Questions and Answers
U.S. Department of Health and Human Services
Health Care Financing Administration

Q. What is a Medicare "participating" physician or supplier?

A. One who agrees to accept the amount approved by Medicare as full payment for services and supplies for all Medicare beneficiaries.

Q. May a participating physician or supplier bill beneficiaries for more than the amount paid by Medicare?

A. A beneficiary must first pay a $100 deductible for the year, then Medicare pays 80 percent of the amount approved for the service. The patient is billed for the remaining 20 percent.

Q. Does Medicare pay for long-term care in a nursing home?

A. No. But Medicare can help pay for acute care and rehabilitation services in a skilled nursing facility certified by Medicare. Even in such a facility, Medicare will not pay if the services are mainly personal care such as help in walking, getting in and out of bed, eating, dressing, bathing and taking medicine.

Q. Three years ago I chose to take Medicare Part A only. Can I now also get Part B?

A. You may still enroll in Part B but the monthly premium will be higher, unless you continued to work beyond age 65 and were covered by an employer's health plan at the time you were first eligible for Medicare. In that case, you can get Part B on the same terms as you would have three years ago.

Q. Where can I learn about insurance to supplement Medicare?

A. The Social Security office or state insurance department can provide you with a copy of the Guide to Health Insurance for People with Medicare.
