

THS Cheerleaders Bring Home Trophies

Tahoka Varsity Cheerleaders attended the Universal Cheerleading Association's Cheerleading Camp at San Angelo State University July 9-12, bringing home two trophies for their efforts. One trophy was presented to the squad for their entire week of hard work and the other was for coming to camp as an excellent squad and for leaving even more polished, according to senior head cheerleader Christy Huffaker.

Other members of the squad are juniors Nickie Harvick and Leah DeLeon, sophomores Kelly Wells, Mandy Miller, Jill DeLeon and Renea Williams, and freshman Stephanie Stennett.

"Our squad performed with precision and quality," said Miss Huffaker. "We looked like an experienced squad even though we have four new members, two of which have never been cheerleaders," she added.

Miss Williams and Miss Stennett made the All-Star Cheerleader team, qualifying to participate in a Christmas Holiday parade. Miss Williams earned the right to go to London, England, and Miss Stennett can go to Houston. Miss Stennett competed on a varsity level, but because of her age (a freshman) she will go to Houston instead of to London. "Both girls did an awesome job," said Miss Huffaker.

two gold superior ribbons, eight blue superior, and one red excellent ribbon for the three nightly evaluations. "We had lots of spirit and got a spirit stick every night," said Miss Harvick.

Cheerleader sponsor, Mrs. Joan Knox, said she was proud of her squad. "They represented Tahoka very well, and we had a good time," she said.

"Our cheerleaders work very hard, not only to promote school spirit, but to generate community spirit, too. They want Tahoka to support our school athletes and activities, and will do everything they can to generate that support," she added.

$1700 In Church Funds Reported Stolen In O'Donnell Burglary

STEPHANIE STENNETT

Lynn County Sheriff's Department was notified this week that Rev. Rodney Howell had reported last Friday that $1700 belonging to St. Pius X Catholic Church had been stolen from his home on Nassau Rd., O'Donnell.

Entry was gained through a bedroom window while nobody was home, according to the report. $200 of the missing money was in rolled quarters, and $1300 of the total was missing in a bank bag which reportedly had been locked inside a safe.

A cellular telephone valued at $375 was reported stolen Monday from a pickup owned by Charles Gass of O'Donnell, while the pickup was parked at his home.

Tahoka Police answered a family disturbance call to a residence in South Tahoka where a common-law couple was involved in a fight Sunday. Both the man and woman had scratches on their faces, but neither was taken for medical treatment. Both were arrested and charged with assault plus public intoxication.

A suspect in a sexual assault case from Floyd County was held in Lynn County jail for Floyd authorities.

Also in jail during the week were two persons for public intoxication, and the couple for intoxication plus assault, and one person each on the following charges: driving while intoxicated, second offense, application to revoke probation on charges of tampering with government records, criminal mischief, terroristic threats and DWI second offense plus failure to control speed and failure to yield right of way at a yield intersection.

Registration Set Aug. 14 For Tahoka Elementary

Registration day for previously enrolled students in grades K-6 has been set for Wednesday, Aug. 14. The following are times for each grade level.

Kindergarten - 8:30 to 9:30 a.m.
First grade - 9:30 to 10:30 a.m.
Second grade - 10:30 to 11:30 a.m.
Third grade - 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.
Lunch Break - 12:30 to 1:30 p.m.
Fourth grade - 1:30 to 2:30 p.m.
Fifth and sixth grades - 2:30 to 3:30 day class, contact Barbara Jaquess, 998-4975.

Registration will be held in the cafeteria. "This day is only for those students that were enrolled at Tahoka Elementary last year or if in Kindergarten, pre-registered last spring. It is not for new students," explained Miss Molly Helmlinger, principal.

It is very important that at least one parent or legal guardian accompany the previously enrolled child to registration day. Information from the registration card must be verified, emergency care forms completed, pick-up procedure forms completed, supplies list distributed and homebase room assignments announced.

Any student enrolling in Tahoka Elementary for the first time should come Tuesday, Aug. 13. This will be held in the main office between 9 a.m. and noon. No new student may register without at least one parent or legal guardian being present to enroll the child.

Parents will need to bring their child's immunization-health records, birth certificate, and social security card for verification purposes. Parents should also bring any previous school report card, etc. that will provide assistance in the proper placement of the student.

Any family that has moved out of the district should notify the school so that the students may be removed from the class rosters.

Any person unable to attend the designated registration days should contact Miss Helmlinger, principal, between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. at 998-4350.

Local Students, Sponsors Tour Capital City

Fifteen students, 14 of them from Tahoka, and nine adults recently toured Washington, D.C.

Highlights of the trip included a visit with U.S. Rep. Charles Stenholm of Stamford, whose district includes Lynn County, and visits to Mount Vernon, the Supreme Court building, Lincoln Memorial, Jefferson Memorial, the White House, Washington Cathedral, Grand Central Station, the Smithsonian Institute, Washington Zoo and other points.

Stenholm took the group on a tour which included the House in session.

Arranged by Tahoka teacher Nan Adams through American Student Travel, the trip included air travel and an itinerary for four days and three nights.

SO YOU HAVE been watching your diet and working really hard to lower your cholesterol and finally you think maybe you have it down to a level you can live with, literally. Well, the good old Baylor College of Medicine in Houston has some cheery news for you: The triglycerides are going to get you, even if you have had some success with the more infamous cholesterol levels.

Actually the information comes from an international panel of Cardiologists (people who play poker at least once a week) which met in New York, where trying to cross the street is more dangerous than eating eggs, ice cream, and steak and gravy. But it is passed along by the chairman of medicine at Baylor, who was a member of the panel.

He says there has been strong concentration on cholesterol levels for the last two decades, but that physicians and health-conscious citizens should not forget about triglycerides, described as another form of fat in the bloodstream.

According to the annual reports I used to get, I have all the available forms of fat possible, and like Topsy, I wish there were some more forms of fat, so I could enjoy them, too. (I haven't had a report on triglycerides in a couple of years, because the stupid laboratories won't let you just walk in and order a blood test like the one you had before; you have to get it through a doctor, and they send him the results, instead of to the person paying for it.)

I remember the first time I was told my triglycerides were too high. I had never heard of such a thing. (Actually, I told them I hadn't ridden on one of those since I was a kid.)

Anyway, Dr. Anthony Gotto says that for most folks, triglyceride levels below 200 are considered normal and levels from 200 to 500 are considered borderline high. He says the panel concluded that the effect of high triglycerides "may explain why some people with seemingly low cholesterol develop coronary artery disease."

The recommended treatment for high TGs is the same as for high cholesterol, apparently: quit drinking, quit eating, do a lot of walking, cycling and swimming. In other words, don't do anything enjoyable.

A LOCAL LINKS LUNATIC says he agrees with the signs which say, "If you drink, don't drive." "You shouldn't even putt," he adds.

SPEND YOUR vacation in your own back yard, and all your friends will recognize that you are introspective, sensitive; home-loving and broke.

TAHOKANS IN CAPITAL—Fourteen students and nine adults from Tahoka met with U.S. Rep. Charles Stenholm and are shown here with the congressman from this area on the U.S. Capitol steps. County Youth To Receive Y.E.S Training

Lynn County youth will be trained as service providers for the Youth Exchange with Seniors (Y.E.S) program on Thursday, July 25. This unique training experience will be held from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Tahoka High School Home Economics Department.

The Y.E.S. project is an intergenerational, community-based project that links Future Homemakers of America and 4-H members with senior citizens in the South Plains region. This program has received national attention and will possibly be the state project for FHA in the future.

As soon as the youth receive training, senior clients will be located. Persons who are 60 years of age or older, live independently, and have needs that can be met by these young people are eligible to receive Y.E.S. project assisted living services.

Types of services to be offered include:

Caring for trees and shrubs, planting flower beds, caring for house plants/lawns, shopping for groceries, caring for pets, writing/mailling letters, paying bills, running errands.

Keeping records (genealogy, photos), friendly visiting, telephoning, reading, changing light bulbs, setting clocks, making beds, dusting, cleaning floors, washing dishes, defrosting/cleaning refrigerators, washing windows, emptying trash, doing laundry, ironing, cleaning bathrooms.

Youth and seniors are both invited to participate in the training. Call the Lynn County Extension Office, 998-4650 for more information.

White Grubs Take Rap For Spring Lawn Damage

BY JAMES KNOLL
Extension Entomologist
Dawson/Lynn Counties

West Texans are always anxious for their lawns to "green up" in the spring. Unfortunately some yards have problems recovering from the long winter period. Those brown spots are a real eyesore and most folks are in a hurry to find a remedy for what ails the lawn. White grubs or grubworms have long been accused of being the cause of these spring brown spots. A lot of insecticide has been sold as a cure for this problem. The majority of these unsightly spots are a product of one or more conditions which have nothing to do with insect pests. These can include dry areas due to soil compaction and/or lack of sufficient rain or irrigation during the dry winter months or perhaps a disease such as spring dead spot. Occasionally white grub feeding the previous year will weaken the turf sufficiently to exacerbate the moisture-winter kill problem. Insecticides will not correct this problem in the spring.

There have been a few instances where spring white grub feeding has actually contributed to those brown, dead spots in the lawn. To determine if this is the case in your situation, take several 3 to 4 inch diameter samples from the interface area between the brown spot and the healthy turf. These should be taken at least 4 inches deep. Tear these clumps apart and examine carefully for grubs. If four or more grubs are found per square foot of sod examined (9 to 12 samples) treatment may be beneficial.

The ideal time to control most white grub infestations is when grubs are small soon after egg hatch. This pest has one generation a year. The adult is the common May or June beetle that frequents porch lights during the early summer months. It is about 1/2 to 5/8 inch long and generally light brown in color. The length of their flight period is several weeks with more adults appearing soon after a rain. A good way to time a summertime white grub insecticide application is to watch grubs being attracted to porch lights. Two weeks after most beetles have stopped visiting lights is a good time to treat with products containing diazinon or chlorpyrifos (Dursban). Or wait four weeks after peak adult numbers were observed. Oftanol is another effective insecticide but should be applied two weeks earlier than the other products. Some time during the month of July is usually when grubs are most susceptible to control by these soil insecticides. June or August applications usually add very little additional control to the July application. Some folks apply their chemical every 4th of July. This is easy to remember but may be early in some years.

Granular formulations of these insecticides are the easiest for most homeowners to apply and obtain good coverage. Liquid formulations are harder to apply but probably are somewhat more effective. After a granular insecticide is applied it is a good idea to drag a board, hose or other item across the lawn to help work the granules down into the grass. This should be followed within a day with at least a 1/2 inch irrigation. If spray formulations are used, the lawn should be irrigated with about 1/4 inch of water prior to the insecticide application. Wash the insect spray into the soil immediately after application with 1/2 to 1 inch of water. Do not allow pets or children on the treated lawn until the grass has dried from the irrigation.

While preventative grub treatments are necessary to avoid unexpected white grub damage, most lawns do not have sufficient infestations to cause unsightly damage each year. Since white grubs damage lawns by pruning roots and reducing the ability of the grass to take up adequate water, a proper irrigation schedule can go a long way to minimize damage symptoms and, even eliminate the need to treat most grub infestations. A sprinkler system on a timer works the best.

Cotton Referendum Set July 17-26

USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service (AMS) will conduct a cotton referendum July 17-26, in cooperation with the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS). Cotton producers and importers will vote on amendments to the Cotton Research Promotion Order.

The USDA amendments call for importer representation on the Cotton Board; assessing imported cotton and cotton products, as is done with domestic cotton; increasing from $200,000 to $300,000 the amount the Cotton Board can reimburse the Secretary of Agriculture for expenses incurred in conducting a referendum; reimbursing government agencies which assist in collecting fees on imported cotton and cotton products; and terminating the right of produc-

Lynn County Unit Hogs State ASCS Honors

Sixteen employees and committeemen representing the Lynn County ASCS office and one other Tahoka employe of another office were among a group of only 150 Texas Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service employes from across the state who were in Washington recently to receive awards from the administrator of ASCS for outstanding service to farmers and ranchers.

The group met with members of Congress, including Sen. Phil Gramm and House Agriculture Committee Chairman Kika de la Garza.

"Each year, ASCS employes find their work made more difficult by the increasing complexity of our farm programs," said Gramm. "It really says something that 150 of our Texas employes demand a refund of assessments.

"Voters may hand-deliver ballots to our polling places, said ASCS official Jimmy Woodard, CED, "or mail them, postmarked by midnight July 26". Eligible producers not receiving ballots should contact their local ASCS office. Eligible importers who have not received ballots may obtain them from USDA, ASCS.

Mrs. Templeton, the Wilson Elementary Principal, has announced that registration for an Early Childhood Class will be held Monday, July 29, from 9 to 12 a.m. The children must be unable to speak or comprehend the English language, the income must be at or below the subsistence level (economically disadvantaged), and they must be 4 years of age by Sept. 1, 1991. The child must present current immunization records, birth certificate and social security number.

Elementary registration will be held Aug. 19. Kindergarten students who have pre-enrolled need not attend.

Gary and Debra Moore traveled to Littlefield to visit with Debra's sister and two children. Debra's sister and children are from Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Sky Moore competed in the 4-H finals at Abilene Monday, July 22 in the Junior Rodeo. Sky also competed in roping events held in Ralls held earlier. Sky brought home a second and third place.

NOTICE: Aug. 10, 1991 has been the date set for voting on the County Education District (CED) propositions. Voting will take place at City Hall. The CED propositions are the taxation of property, and exemption of market values. Absentee voting will be held in the school administrative offices daily from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. through Aug. 6, 1991.

A full-time Math Specialist and a full-time Reading Specialist have been hired for grades 1-8. These two teachers have been hired in the continuing efforts being made to help improve the elementary educational program. Gloria Verner, is the new Math Specialist. Ms. Verner taught first grade at Wilson last year. Lorri Rezac is the new Reading Specialist. They both are graduates from Texas Tech University and are from Lubbock.

Joshua and Bryan Isham are attending Church Camp this week. The boys are representing St. Paul Lutheran Church.

Kenny and Randall Follis, sons of Woody and Kay Follis of Wilson, competed in the National Tumbling Meet held in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, July 14-17. Kenny returned to Wilson with a National Championship Gold Medal, a Silver Medal in the Trampoline, and a Bronze Medal in the Double-Mini Trampoline, in the 11-12 age group. Randall returned with the National Medal for Trampoline for the 8 and under age group. Kids from all over the United States competed in the ATTA Championship.

Spiritual Soul Seekers will be performing at the Wilson City Park, Wilson, on Friday night, Aug. 2, beginning at 7 p.m. There will be barbecue sandwiches, cakes, pies and drinks for sale with all proceeds going to the group to help with the purchase of a van. The singing group has performed for eight years in parts of Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico. Anyone wanting to make a donation to the group is asked to make checks payable to Bethel Missionary Baptist Church. Seating is limited, so bring your own lawn chairs or quilts.

Tahoka Youth Participate In Kids 'N' Art Program

The Post Art Guild - Kids 'N' Art - Extension Program, held its first summer workshop in Tahoka July 17 - 19. A total of 17 young artists participated.

Kids 'N' Art committee members Helen Jaquess and Melba Thomas of Tahoka, Jean Davenport, JoAnn Mock and KNA Director Linda Puckett of Post, instructed classes.

Students participating in Tahoka's program were: Christian Roberts, Clarity Bartlett, Amy Draper, Christy Weaver, Jordon Kennedy, Amber Barnes, Keely Boone, Joseph Cramer, Ann Marie Barrientez, Amanda Roberts, Chelsea White, Celinda Leverett, Kalah Bartley, Jaared Kennedy, Jessica Stephens, Miranda Jones, and Brandi Puckett.

"The Kids 'N' Art program is now in its sixth successful year, and continues to grow at a rapid pace, which assures us of the need of this type of program for our youth," says Mrs. Puckett.

Initial funding from the Texas Commission on the Arts and a generous donation from Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Montgomery (of Post-Montgomery) to be used specifically for the "Kids", has enabled the Post Art Guild to provide this program for Garza County for the past five years. Under the direction of Mrs. Puckett, this project has grown from one class per week to three and at times, four classes per week, year around at the Algenta Art Center in Post.

"We are very proud to announce the total number of art students enrolled in the past fiscal year, (July 90-June 91); eighty youngsters with a total of nine hundred thirty eight class participations," she said.

The second phase of the Kids 'N'

Art project was to develop this same program in neighboring rural communities. That goal was reached this year with the Tahoka-Extension classes currently held at Handi Hobby, with Helon Jaquess instructing. Classes are held every Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 p.m. All supplies are furnished by the Post Art Guild, with a minimal class fee of $6.

"Not only are the Post Art Guild - Kids 'N' Art growing in their talents, but are learning how to become valuable citizens in their community," explains Mrs. Puckett. "Last year they hosted the Jerry Lewis MDA Telethon as the Garza County Pledge Center, and raised over $3,000 for Jerry's Kids."

Two years in a row the Kids 'N' Art group has had prize winning floats in the Post Stampede Rodeo Parade.

For the past two years the Kids have sold four pages of Easter ads to local merchants, each hand drawn and illustrated, for the Post Dispatch. Funds from the Easter Ad campaign
