RAMBLIN' by brents davis

Lots of people in a column like this will decry the lack of stories and news but this week we can't do that. In fact more has happened than we have room for. There isn't even room for this column. All this is to say is something is left out we'll sure get it in next week.

This will be the last Ramblin' because the Rambler is folding his tent and stealing away to San Antonio. To the many friends I have made here in Muleshoe I would like to take this opportunity to say farewell for awhile and that I will certainly miss Muleshoe and the many wonderful people I have met.

Bailey Countians Lagging Behind In Inspections

Of the 3,602 registered motor vehicles in Bailey County only 20 per cent had been inspected to date, according to Captain Alan Johnson, Motor Vehicle Inspection supervisor, of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Drivers are urged to have their vehicles inspected early to avoid the last minute rush. This time of the year is noted for adverse weather conditions which may be predominate during the next two and one half months. As a result the number of inspection days will be cut down since stations cannot inspect vehicles under these adverse conditions.

"Texas law requires all registered motor vehicles in Texas to display a valid inspection sticker", stated Johnson. All motorists not displaying a valid inspection sticker will be subject to a fine of $1 to $200 plus court costs.

Captain Johnson further advised that all licensed trailers having a gross weight exceeding 4,000 pounds are required to be inspected.

"By having your vehicle inspected today, you will be driving a safer vehicle", Johnson pointed out.

City Council To Hear Budget Plan

During the week of February 19-25, the Muleshoe City Council will be examining the 1961 fiscal year budget as prepared by the staff. Mayor Hart explained that the budget is designed to provide the staff with a program of work for the coming fiscal year. By approving the budget, the council is able to describe the kind of overall job they want the city to do and in this way are able to avoid piecemeal decisions which can be very expensive.

After an extensive examination of the budget, together with any necessary revisions, the budget will be presented at a public hearing. At the time of this hearing, interested citizens will be given an opportunity to make suggestions and present any programs which they feel will be desirable.

Muleshoe's fiscal year runs from April 1 to March 31 and the early preparation of the budget will give the council necessary time for any corrections or revisions that they feel are pertinent.

Girls Play Dimmitt Feb. 27 In Bi-District

Muleshoe High School's Mullettes are ready to go on to bi-district playoff with Dimmitt after completing a no-loss Conference play season.

The Mullettes have played the Dimmitt girls twice with Dimmitt winning here and Muleshoe winning on the Dimmitt girl's home ground. Coach Louis Powers said this week, "The two ball clubs look real equal and the game will go to the team that's really on the ball or hustling the most."

Muleshoe officials met with Dimmitt officials Wednesday, February 15 at Friona and set the bi-district game for Monday, Feb. 27. The game will be played at Plainview at 8 p.m.

The Mullettes completed their 33-game season with 27 wins and 6 losses with no conference game losses at all.

In their last two conference games with Morton on Feb. 10 and Olton on Feb. 14, the girls only had to win one game to achieve District Championship. Prior to these games Coach Powers said, "Our team has shown fine morale, and hustle this year. If they continue our chance of winning District championship are very favorable."

There's no longer a question of the girls keeping their morale up as they demonstrated its strength by beating Morton's girls with a score of 67-60. Then with the championship cinched went on to deal Olton a resounding defeat, 60-29.

Janie Sanders, the Mullette hot shot high pointer, tallied up 579 points for the 33-game season. Breathing close on Sanders' neck was Trudy Davis with a grand total of 569 points and Mary Wedel with 524 points.

Coach Powers listed his top three rebounders as being Linda Gillis, Brenda Melson, and Donnie King.

Don't forget Monday, Feb. 27, 8 p.m., at Plainview. Let's all go out and boost the Mullettes all the way to State!

Fair Weather But Maybe Some Rain

Cosmic is trying to get the West Texas region through the weekend with only sprinkles. He thinks Friday and Saturday may come up with considerable cloudiness. Some sprinkles are expected to fall in scattered areas mostly to the south. Sunday skies should be clearing behind a Pacific front, but with considerable high thin clouds lingering.

The system that moves through here over this weekend, although not expected to bring Muleshoe much rain, will produce much rain in the eastern third of the country. Some of this rain may be as near us as Childress and Abilene.

Cosmic cautions those who are seeking rain not to be discouraged for by the end of this week (Thursday) rather generous rainfall should reach Muleshoe. Activity may begin here as early as Wednesday night and carry over into Friday and the next weekend. (February 23, 24 and 25).

There is a potential in this squall line and thunderstorm system to produce the first activity of the season for the Bailey County region. Cosmic has been looking for about an inch of moisture from this system which is to enter the U. S. near Ureka, California. As the affair moves inland it will develop strongly to the south leaving considerable rainfall in the normally dry southwestern desert regions.

The storm will become complex on the eastern slopes of the continental divide. Here it will tend to maintain itself on the high plains for three or four days.

Temperatures all this while should remain on the spring side. No severe cold is expected for at least 10 days.

Cosmic thinks it his duty to warn of pending freeze conditions near the end of March and the first of April. If you are planning to have tender vegetation growing at that time, now is the time to give some consideration to protecting these to withstand temperatures as low as 20 degrees.

GARBAGE CONTAINERS BY JUNE 1

Muleshoe Ministers Decry Jail Facilities

The Bailey County Ministerial Alliance presented the Bailey County Commissioners Court with a resolution aimed at remedying the deplorable conditions existing in the County jail, Monday, Feb. 13, Rev. Tommy Gleaton presented the resolution which was drawn up by a committee composed of himself Rev. Wayne Bristow, and Bro. R. V. Luna.

Presiding the resolution the Alliance listed reasons for action to be taken. The reasons included:

Health conditions including inadequate toilet space, sleeping facilities and space. Because of these reasons the Alliance feels that the spread of contagious disease is enhanced; therefore endangering the health of prisoners confined in these facilities.

Grouping of adults and juveniles together tends to destroy the possibility of correct rehabilitation and tends to create in the minds of first offenders a hostility toward society and encourages rebellion against authority.

The lack of facilities provided for care of female and male prisoners separately, in the opinion of the Alliance, tends to handicap the county's ability to take proper action toward female offenders. This also tends to undermine morals when it is necessary to imprison members of the opposite sex in the Bailey County jail.

There are no facilities for non-criminal offenders. That is no housing for the mentally ill, protective custody, "run away" juveniles, and other non-criminal offenders. These individuals are not held for corrective purposes and therefore detention in the County's present facilities would be objectionable.

There is no adequate provision in case of illness or emergencies. There is no officer on duty from 5:30 p.m. till 8 a.m. each day. Inadequate entrance and exits to the jail. Because there is no officer on duty, this results in inadequate supervision of prisoners. The ministers said that by allowing these conditions to exist, Bailey County is willingly endangering the physical welfare and life of every individual placed in custody by the county.

The ministers cited a case in 1956 when Henry H. Jacks died of a heart attack while being held in the Bailey jail in presenting the above mentioned point.

Another condition the group found was no private facilities for visitation and counseling. This condition, they said, renders ineffective the efforts of lawyers and ministers, as well as others in regard to counseling. These facilities prohibit the visitation by members of a prisoner's family.

In light of these facts, the group presented the following resolution:

RESOLVED: We, the Bailey County Ministerial Alliance, people of this County do strongly urge the Commissioner's Court to take immediate action in view of the above mentioned reasons. We appeal in the name of all human decency to the Commissioner's Court recommending that a Citizens Committee be appointed and given authority to thoroughly study the present existing conditions; and inform the citizens of Bailey County of their findings and diligently promote an urgent program with the sole aim of correcting this regrettable situation by leading the county to provide decent, humane, and adequate facilities for the County Jail and law enforcement services.

We further endorse the recommendations of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and the Grand Jury, convened December of this resolution.

We further note and are concerned at the lack of action and interest on part of the Commissioner's Court in regard to previous resolutions and known desires of many of the citizens of Bailey County.

We further resolve to give our complete support to any adequate program aimed at correction of the situation described in this resolution.

The Muleshoe Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses is cancelling all local meetings for their "Be Taught by Jehovah" assembly in Levelland, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, (Feb. 17-19.)

The semi-annual circuit assembly will be held at the Fair Grounds, Women's Building. The group is expecting 600 delegates from Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma.

The principal speakers for the Texas Circuit No. 9 assembly will be R. L. Anderson, district overseer for Jehovah's Witnesses in a multi-state area, and R. H. Smith, circuit overseer for the 20 congregation meet.

Anderson and Smith recently attended a 16-day preparatory course at Jehovah's Witnesses' world headquarters in Brooklyn, New York, to enable them to effect the stepped-up program outlined for Jehovah's Witnesses at the Levelland assembly. The three-day program includes a variety of Bible talks, discussions on ministerial problems and demonstrations on the technique of the ministry. Sessions will be conducted morning, afternoon and evening.

In speaking on the theme of the assembly, Elmer B. Lowrey, presiding minister of the Muleshoe Congregation, said, "The theocratic organization of Jehovah's Witnesses is designed to 'Be Taught by Jehovah' in word and in deed."

"In this 'scientific age' of technical skills," Lowrey said, "the Christian minister needs a firm foundation in Bible education."

Climax of the assembly will be on Sunday, 3 p.m., when Anderson gives the discourse, "Is God Interested in the Affairs of Men?"

Doings At Muleshoe Airport
Reported by Mrs. Noah Kinser

Harold King, owner of King Grain Co., office manager Jim Small, and pilot, Mogan Locker left the Muleshoe Airport early Sunday morning in the Comanche and flew to Tullulah, La. on a business trip.

King said that they landed at Monroe, La. on the flight down, to refuel, then on to Tullulah where he was engaged in business transactions for about 5 hours and then were back at Love Field at Dallas for dinner that night.

King said, "I am very impressed with the type of charter service, the number and quality of planes that is available here in our home town of Muleshoe. We are very fortunate to have this service that allows, an otherwise time consuming business trip involving some 16 hundred miles of travel to be completed in such a short time."

They landed at the Muleshoe airport at 1 a.m.

Dr. Ray Santos, student pilot has begun taking dual instruction for both day and night flying in the Comanche. He began his training in the Tri-Pacer and is now working on the check-out to solo in the larger craft. Recently, Santos made his first dual cross-country training flight in the Comanche to Galveston with Instructor Locker and passengers, N. L. Johnson and Harold King, landing at Austin where they spent the night then resumed their flight the next morning.

Watch out Texas, as soon as the widely publicized organizational efforts in California are settled. The unions' announced purpose is to build a base in California, then move into other states. We could be that next move. Will they find us weak and ready to give in? Or will we be armed with what it is all about?

Educational Chance Offered To FFA'ers

by J. W. Edgar
State Commissioner of Education

When Texas Future Farmers observe national FFA Week February 18-25, educators of the state will share their pride in accomplishment.

The FFA has become an important part of the educational scene. Vocational agriculture in the public secondary schools of our Nation, though national in scope, is tailored to specific community needs. With farms and ranches of the nation as their laboratories, students in this rapidly changing segment of our economy have earned the respect of our entire citizenry, rural and urban.

Traditionally, Future Farmers learn by doing. Their study of agriculture is based upon both biological and physical sciences as they are applied to practical agriculture. Their study is enriched through ownership of livestock and crops. The American system of free than forty thousand acres of crops.

Because of the rapid movement to mechanized agriculture, many vocational agriculture departments are equipped with new farm mechanics installations in order to allow Future Farmers to acquire the new skills they need.

Of even greater importance is the development of leadership abilities through experiences in the FFA. Through their own organization these young men compete with one another in public speaking, conducting meetings, and in other contests requiring leadership ability of a high order.

These young men are aware that agriculture is a huge intricate business, requiring services of many who must be familiar with farm problems.

Professional workers in conservation and research, in communications and in business are essential to agricultural progress. Knowing that our rapidly expanding population will require a 50% increase in food production during the next 15 years, these young men realize that many of our most capable individuals must work in the field of agricultural science. Vocational agriculture and the FFA provides them with a solid background for college training in this field. Those responsible for agricultural training in the colleges tell us that three-fourths of all college agricultural students were stimulated to continue the study of agricultural science by FFA experience in high school.

The job of feeding America in the future is a big one. It demands the best efforts of well trained people in research, communications, and production in the field of agriculture. The public schools of Texas know that the Future Farmers of today will play an important part in the job of feeding America tomorrow.

Young Farmers Hold Meeting

The Muleshoe Young Farmers Chapter met at its regular meeting time, Monday night, February 13, at 7:30 p.m., in the MHS Vocational Agriculture building.

Supt. Neal Dillman made an informal talk stating that he was for the organization and would give it his support. He also encouraged the group to set goals higher than they think they can reach and then strive to reach them.

Veiril F. Young, general agent for National Farm Life Insurance Co., made an informal talk on an automobile insurance program now open to young farmers. Young will be back in two months to discuss the program further.

An interesting program on the proper use of fertilizers was presented by Delbert R. Langford from the High Plains Research Foundation at Half Way. There were approximately 35 members and guests present. Several new members joined the organization.

Curley Mardis was elected as the chairman of the program of work committee.

The next meeting of the group will be March 13 at 7:30 p.m. in the ag. building.

LECTURERS FROM FIVE STATES AT LEGAL MEET

Lecturers from five states and the District of Columbia addressed the twelfth annual institute on the law of oil, gas and taxation sponsored by the Southwestern Legal Foundation in Dallas, Feb. 8-10, according to Muleshoe attorney Jack D. Young.

Mr. Young, resident representative of the Foundation, stated that attorneys and representatives of the petroleum industry speaking at the program came from New York, Pennsylvania, California, Oklahoma, Texas and Washington, D. C.

The Institute was presented by the Foundation's International Oil and Gas Educational Center.

County Agent's Corner

A grain sorghum variety demonstration that should be of considerable help to dryland farmers of South Bailey and North Cochran Counties was carried out just south of Maple by Mr. W. H. Eubanks this past crop year.

Twenty-five rows each of C-44, Texas 608, Frontier 400C, Martin, and Texas 610 was used in the demonstration. Twenty-five rows of Amak R-10 was planted between each variety in the test but planter troubles resulted in only 18 rows out of 25 coming up.

The R-10 still yielded 2,840 pounds per acre including the blank rows in the acreage calculations.

In the Texas 608 test a choked up combine, while operating at night, cost about 1,000 pounds per acre loss but it still yielded 2,840.

The remaining four varieties had a fair and comparable test and rated as follows: DeKalb CO44 first with 3,415 pounds, Texas 610 was second with 3,275 pounds, Martin was third yielding 2,585 pounds, and Frontier 400C with 2,445. The 400C would have been a stronger competitor had it stood up.

NOMINATIONS FOR RURAL HEROISM NOW OPEN

The Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council has announced that nominations are now being accepted for three "Rural Heroism Awards." Any act involving personal danger or sacrifice to aid or assist others in time of crisis is eligible for entry, provided the act was performed during 1960. Nominations should be mailed immediately to Heroism Award, Texas Safety Association, 830 Littlefield Building, Austin, Texas.

Public School Week will be observed this year during the week of March 8-10. Muleshoe Public Schools will plan open house activities for this week.

Farm Bureau Tid Bits

Bailey County Farm Bureau

Watch plans on labor that Congress is expected to consider this year. We are concerned over reports that efforts may be made this year to amend the Taft-Hartley Act. If we lose our right to work laws, organized labor will carry out their plans. One big problem lies in the fact that farmers do not concern themselves with the impact of a change in the labor picture until it hits home. Farmers need to watch the labor situation at the local, state, and national levels and be prepared to present their position as producers.

A stated motive of the unions is to destroy the bracero program. Extension of the bracero program comes up for renewal this year. State Farm Bureau officials have labeled this "a major issue". Labor unions will work hard on this "major issue", they know elimination of the bracero program would result in a tight labor situation.

Recent activities in California by labor unions let us know the intent of organized labor to form unions for farm workers. Are you prepared to pay a minimum wage of $1.25 per hour, with overtime and fringe benefits. Can you afford a strike at planting or harvest time?

Farm Bureau is not opposed to organization of farm workers on a voluntary basis, but are opposed to compulsory collective bargaining. Organized labor is interested only in seeking an arrangement under which individual farmers would be induced to enter into contracts whereby the union would become the only source of labor. Farm Bureau desires to promote state migratory labor housing and sanitation requirements. transportation safety

The National Guard In The Cold War

This month as the National Guard observes its annual "Muster Day" throughout the nation, it also marks the 15th anniversary of the reorganization of its units following World War I. Aside from the obvious significance of the occasion, it serves to remind us — much to our discomfort — that the Cold War has been with us for a long time. And as a reminder that the Cold War goes on we note that the National Guard in some States has started to wage war in Communism by conducting its own National Defense Strategy Seminars. Patterning on similar "orientation" courses conducted by the National War College in Washington, these Seminars are designed to educate citizens on the specific nature and menace of Communism in a straightforward, unemotional manner. It is not at all surprising that the Guard should be taking Communism as a part of its special province. Since early Colonial days, Guardsmen — or Minutemen as they were once called — have been motivated by a conviction that citizenship demand more than the payment of taxes and obedience to the law. In short, they have believed that a good citizen must put into his country at least as much as he has taken out of it. Reviewing the 15 years of the Cold War, we can see that the National Defense Strategy concept is but one example of this philosophy. In the whole area of military and economic Cold War deterrence the National Guard stands at the forefront.

Take, for example, its role in National Defense. On its reorganization early in 1946, the Guard was little more than a paper organization. It not only had to recruit most of its members, but also had to rebuild most of the battle-worn equipment the Army turned over to it. Adding to this uphill effort was the fact that modern warfare requires the Guard to be closer to battlefield readiness than ever before — more ready even than the active services of the 1930s. Today these challenges have been met and the Army and Air National Guard have become so integrated with the active establishment that they not only have been assigned specific missions in our nation's war plans but are performing essential defense roles in peacetime. A less glamorous — but no less important — aspect of national defense is our ability to recover quickly and effectively from a nuclear attack. In recognition of this, National Guard leaders have been advocating a recovery mission for their units, pointing out that the Guard's geographic dispersion, its 472,000-man strength, its modern equipment, and its variety of units — ranging from air transport to medical — make it ideally suited for such purposes. Lastly, the National Guard's contribution to our economic strength cannot be overlooked. While its combat versatility makes it an important part of our defense structure, its annual appropriation of only 3.5 percent of our total military budget makes it, dollar for dollar, one of the wisest investments in the nation today. In recognition of its invaluable service to State and Nation, we salute the National Guard on the occasion of its annual Muster Day.

SAND HILLS PHILOSOPHER COMES

Out With Fool-Proof Way To Find Out If Country Well Off Or Not

Editor's note: The Sand Hills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm discusses economics this week, a subject he may be as well qualified on as any other, if you follow us. Dear editor: You couldn't call me an economist, although I have one qualification a good many of them have — I have more ideas on economics than I have credit at the bank — but I have been puzzled lately by what the experts are saying about the state of the national economy. As I understand it, the experts are split. One group says the country is in pretty good shape, nothing to worry about; the other group says we're in rather serious shape, there's plenty to worry about. Now personally I have never had to wait on a group of experts to tell me whether I was well off or not. I have never based my economic position at any given moment on what a national survey has found out about me. No doubt it takes a group of experts to find out what the national economic growth rate is, but in my case all I have to do is look out the back door with a view of this Johnson grass farm and remember what my last bank statement showed. However, I recognize that what my economic position is and what the national economic position is, are two different things. I don't reflect the country as a whole, and I hope the country as a whole doesn't reflect me. The situation couldn't be that serious. But it does seem pretty confusing to have the experts in Washington disagreeing so completely on whether the country is well off or not, it's not fair to have Congress not knowing whether to raise taxes because a booming country can't afford it or to lower them because a declining country can't, and therefore I have hit on an idea for settling the matter. The thing to do is to let the Supreme Court decide it. Let some lawyer bring suit, I don't know who against the United States Treasury, I guess, claiming the country is in bad shape and therefore taxes ought to be lowered. He could start the suit in a local court, work it up through the state court and finally on up to the Supreme Court, and along about this time next year, or the year after, the court would rule, and its opinion would thus become the economic law of the land. Then we could all settle down and look back and know for sure that back in February, 1961, the country was either well off or bad off, by a five to four decision of the Supreme Court. Yours faithfully, J. A.

Today's Meditation

Read 1 Cor. 4:1-7
What have you that you did not receive? If then you received it, why do you boast as if it were not a gift? (1 Corinthians 4:7, RSV.)

Toscanini was rehearsing Beethoven's Ninth Symphony with the New York Philharmonic Orchestra. He gave his musicians such a new insight into the music that, when the rehearsal ended, they rose and applauded him. Desperately, Toscanini tried to arrest their ovation, waving his arms wildly, crying to them to desist.

When there was a lull in the ovation, Toscanini's broken voice could be heard exclaiming — and there were tears in his eyes as he spoke: "It isn't me, men... it's Beethoven. Beethoven is everything — Toscanini nothing." The great souls of this world are the humble. The rest of us, even the best of us, have our little pride and our not-so-little arrogance. Sometimes when I catch myself in the act of boasting, I think of the Pharisee and the publican. Modesty becomes us, for we have much to be modest about! nothing to be puffed up about. PRAYER: Be patient with us, our Father, as we come humbly into Thy presence. Dwell in our hearts, helping us to be like Thy Son in thought, attitude, and decision. In His name we make our prayer. Amen. THOUGHT FOR THE DAY No garment is more becoming to a child of God than the cloak of humility. Cyril M. Jackson (Ill.)

BABSON DISCUSSES

Human Nature and the Business Cycle

Babson Park, Mass., Feb. 16 — I am writing this column to further emphasize that President's conditions; but that conditions make or unmake Presidents. This will be tested in 1961, and perhaps at the next Congressional Elections in 1962.

INSURANCE AGAINST DEPRESSIONS

The Democrats are counting upon the various stabilizing measures which have been passed by Congress since 1930 and even before the Depression from which Mr. Hoover unjustly suffered. Let me enumerate ten of these tonics:

1. Social Security, which provides billions of dollars annually to millions of people in pension and dependency payments. This should be a real stabilizer and prevent certain unemployment which would otherwise surely occur.
2. Unemployment Insurance. Presently about 45,000,000 workers are entitled, in an emergency, to unemployment checks from their states. Added to this, most states give old-age relief to especially needy persons. This latter will be pressed by President Kennedy's proposed old-age-aid legislation.
3. Farm Price Supports, for which several billion dollars are distributed annually to the farmers of the nation. This money will largely filter thru to farm labor which otherwise would be reduced. Hence, this should help as an employment stabilizer.
4. Insuring Bank Deposits. Shortly after Mr. Roosevelt took over the Presidency in 1933, nearly every bank was temporarily closed to prevent more bank failures and alleviate the financial panic then developing. This resulted in legislation to insure bank deposits up to $10,000 and to provide more careful supervision of banks. This restored confidence and helped stabilize employment.
5. Mortgage Loans were formerly written for five or ten years at a rate of around 6%. Now legislation permits them to be written for 20 years or more at an average rate of 4 1/2%. This surely is a stimulant to building and real estate, and hence to employment.

6. The Securities & Exchange Commission was established to eliminate "bucket shops" and to give investors confidence to buy good securities. Probably the Mutual Funds, which have had such a tremendous growth during the past few years, were greatly stimulated by the SEC. This helped employment by resulting in the incorporation of new companies.
7. Government Spending was greatly expanded and the money mostly comes back to the people after the government receives taxes from the contractors. This has been the greatest stimulant of employment. Although I pray for peace, I shudder to think what will happen when this "shot-in-the-arm" no longer exists.

8. Checking Wall Street Speculation. Speculation under controlled conditions is a good thing. It enables an investor to have a market available to buy or sell stocks. But before 1929, very little margin was required so that almost every stenographer and elevator operator was buying stocks. Starting in 1936, margin requirements have subsequently been dropped to as low as 40% and raised as high as 100%; are now 70%. These under the Federal Reserve System, stabilized Wall Street and again gave it a good name.
9. Labor Unions were encouraged by Franklin Roosevelt. They prevented wage workers from becoming panicky and management from unnecessarily cutting wages. Although certain labor leaders now go too far, these unions stabilized wages, from which the country then benefited.

10. Inflation — This may become most potent of all; but it needs no description here.

HUMAN NATURE MAKES AND UNMAKES PRESIDENTS & NATIONS

When I am in Florida, I look out on acres of orange groves which are being sprayed to kill worms which destroy the fruit. I once asked the foreman in charge how many times he sprayed. He replied: "Now we must spray three times each season because the worms and flies get immune to the old sprays, and we must continually find and try new ones."

Now this is how "human nature" applies to the business outlook. Preceding periods of U. S. prosperity did not have the artificial stabilizers that our present period has, but they had others. For instance, the Prosperity Era of 1848-1858 was inspired by the famous Discovery of Gold in California. The post-Civil War Prosperity was stimulated by great Railroad Building. The Prosperity Era of 1898-1906 was stimulated by Consolidations. In all cases, the stimulator or stabilizer was not removed. Gold continued to come from California, the railroads continued to operate; and we continued to enjoy the development of oil and electricity. But we finally became immune to all these stimulations and stabilizers . . . because there was no change in human nature.

WHAT IS HUMAN NATURE?

Frankly, I do not know how to describe it. It seems to take centuries to change human nature one per cent. Comparing today with the days of the Persian, Grecian, or Roman Empire, people seem to have the same swing from Depression, to Recovery, then to Prosperity; and back again to Decline and Depression. This is now called the "Business Cycle" — but it is only human nature, which is intrinsically is ambitious and selfish, then discouraged and prone to failure; which always overreaches and then learns only by suffering.

Stimulation has always helped get nations out of depressions. During the days of Columbus it was the Era of Discovery which saved Spain; it was the Thirty Years' War which saved Austria; and our own Revolutionary War was the stimulus for the founding of the United States. But — both as races and as nations we seem to become immune to discoveries, inventions, and legislation. We get used to these things. "Eaten bread is soon forgotten" is an old but true saying. I therefore feel that we Americans will someday get used to the ten artificial stimulants mentioned early in this column. Of course, it takes time for human nature to work. Furthermore, so long as the cold war lasts it may be necessary for the United States to provide full employment and continued prosperity; but the end must come someday.

FOOD FACTS AND FALLACIES

We hear so much about health foods, vitamins, and mineral supplements, fad foods and reducing diets these days that it becomes quite difficult to sort fact from fallacy. Here are six popular statements. Are they true or false?

1. Most disease is due to faulty diet.
2. Certain "wonder" drugs can add years to your life span.
3. Malnutrition results from eating foods grown on depleted soil.
4. Aluminum cooking utensils are harmful to foods.
5. Processed foods are nutritionally inferior to fresh foods.
6. Sub-clinical deficiencies are a constant danger.

All of these statements are false. They are some of the statements used by faddists in their attempt to "sell" to the public. The food faddist usually appeals to people's emotions rather than to their intelligence. The U. S. Food and Drug Administration and the State Bureau of Food and Drugs work incessantly to protect the consumer from fraud and deception. Fraud is hard to prove and false advertising, as such, is hard to pin down.

The first statement, that most disease is due to faulty diet, is a popular misconception. The faddist says that chemical imbalance in the diet is the primary cause of disease; and for the body to function properly, quantities of food supplement must be added to the regular diet. The fact of the matter is that disease due to dietary deficiencies is almost unknown in the United States.

The power of "wonder foods" is constantly preached by "natural food" advocates. One school advocated five wonder foods: skim milk, brewer's yeast, wheat germ, yogurt and blackstrap molasses. According to the best medical opinion, these foods offer nothing that cannot be obtained less expensively from ordinary foods. Dr. Frederick J. Stare points out the fact to remember is that the body needs sixty-odd nutrients, and it makes no difference whether the nutrients come from blackstrap molasses, wheat germ, and yogurt or some other source.

The statement that soil depletion causes malnutrition is a favorite of some faddists. The truth is that the nutritional value of crops is not affected by soil or the fertilizer used. The nutritional composition of a food is determined primarily by the genetic make-up of the seed.

Some health lecturers convince people that aluminum cooking utensils are slowly poisoning everyone who customarily eats food cooked in them. The fact is, as reported by the American Cancer Society, that aluminum cooking utensils do not contaminate food, nor do they in any way contribute to the development of cancer or other diseases.

Food faddists condemn processed foods as white flour, milled cereals, canned foods. They harp on the nutritional loss through processing, storage and light exposure and on the danger of chemical additives. The fact is that modern processing methods are designed to preserve or restore the nutritional value of foods.

A sub-clinical deficiency is one for which there are no observable symptoms. This is one of the most persuasive arguments of the faddist because such deficiencies are so technical that they are hard to deny. The facts are that everyone at one time or another has a worn-out feeling. If the feeling persists, advice from a competent doctor should be sought, not advice from a door-to-door food supplement salesman, traveling lecturer or super TV advertisement.

If you are interested in more facts call me and I will tell you how you can obtain more information on this interesting subject.

This information was taken from the article, "Food Facts and Fallacies", in the February issue of Forecast Magazine for Home Economists.
