City Resident Charged With Stealing Water

A Tahoka man who lives on N. 2nd St. was charged with theft of services, after city workers reported that the water meter had been tampered with and that the home apparently had managed to use 62,000 gallons of water in the last four months without paying for it.

The Class A misdemeanor charge carries a possible maximum penalty of a year in jail and/or a fine up to $2000, said Police Chief Jerry Webster.

Last Wednesday, Sept. 18, police investigated a collision at Lockwood and Ave. O involving a 1979 Chevrolet driven by Jim C. Elrod, 79, of Tahoka, and a 1982 GMC pickup driven by Dan M. Curry, 64, of Tahoka. The collision occurred during a heavy rainstorm. Elrod was treated at Lynn County Hospital for minor injuries, and released.

Police also were called by a resident who reported another man pointed a gun at him while he was visiting a home in the city Sunday. No charges had been filed as of Wednesday.

Sheriff's deputies investigated a report that the home of B.K. McClintock, on FM 211 west of U.S. 87 had been burglarized Saturday or Sunday, with items valued at a total of $605 stolen, including two .22 caliber rifles, an RCA TV, sewing machine and portable radio/cassette player.

Gladys Kay of O'Donnell reported that sometime recently someone had broken windows and a storm door at her home.

In jail during the week were three persons for driving while intoxicated, first offense; one for DWI second offense, one for no drivers license and one for driving while license suspended.

Tech Professor Predicts Lynn County Schools To Consolidate

"Tahoka will maintain its present economic status, but the possibilities of any physical growth is doubtful," said Dr. Donald Abbe of the Texas Tech faculty, at the annual meeting of the Tahoka Pioneer Museum last Friday afternoon.

He also said that "Tahoka may become a 'bedroom community' to the Lubbock area, whereby people will live in Lynn County and work in Lubbock. The mandate to consolidate small schools into a county school system will be implemented in the not too distant future, thereby providing better facilities for the tax dollar."

Dr. Abbe is an assistant professor of history at Texas Tech University and a research associate for the Center for the History of Engineering and Technology. He is a former resident of Tahoka, and graduated from Tahoka High School in 1968.

Melvin Burks, president of the Museum board of directors, conducted the meeting. He thanked Green Thumb, Inc. for assigning a worker, Lyllia Knight, to work at the Museum Tuesday through Friday from 1-4 p.m.

Currently serving on the board are Burks, Mejdun Leslie, Lottie Jo Walker, K.R. Durham, Bill Craig, Madeline Hegi, Mary Louder, Weesie Carroll, James Roberts, Carl Reynolds, Arlys Askew, Jim Solomon, Betsy Pridmore, Frances Wells and Mildred Abbe. Meetings are held on the second Monday of each month at noon at the Museum.

School Board Sets 10¢ Local Tax Rate

Tahoka I.S.D. Board of Trustees met in a called meeting last Thursday at noon to vote on a local tax rate.

The board voted unanimously to set a 10-cent local tax rate for Tahoka Independent School District. When added to the 78.2-cent County Education District tax rate, Tahoka taxpayers will pay an 88.2-cent total tax levy.

This is an 8.2-cent increase over last year's 80-cent tax rate. Due to the new homestead exemptions in the CED, homeowners will actually pay less taxes than they did last year.

Board members Delbert McCleskey, Mike Huffaker, Brad Hammonds, Clint Gardner, Greg Henley, and J.E. Nance Jr. were present at the meeting. Absent was Juanell Jones.

Soggy Weather Clears Off Just In Time For Festival

A drizzling, dreary week of rain and cool weather cleared off just in time for the 16th annual Lynn County Harvest Festival, held at the courthouse square in downtown Tahoka Saturday.

The crowd was good, despite the cool and overcast weather at the beginning of the day. By mid-afternoon, however, the clouds were dissipating and the crowd at the festival gave a cheer when emcee Cal Huffaker looked up and announced he could see the sun for the first time in several days.

A wide variety of entertainment, food and craft items were available at the festival booths, and merchant drawings and raffle drawings captured the attention of festival participants throughout the day. The Blue Denim Band from Crosbyton was well-received by the crowd, as they played on stage from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m., and then again for the street dance which began at 8 p.m.

The Queen and Princess contests were held in the afternoon, with 11 elementary girls selling tickets for the Princess title, and 11 high school girls vying for the Queen title.

Carrie Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Doug Taylor of Tahoka and a junior at Tahoka High School, was named 1991 Lynn County Harvest Festival Queen by three judges representing the Robert Spence School of Modeling in Lubbock. She was presented a trophy by last year's queen, Terri Solomon.

Katy Huffaker, a THS freshman and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Huffaker, was named first runnerup, and her cousin, Christy Huffaker, a THS senior, was named second runnerup. Christy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Huffaker of Tahoka, and she was also crowned 1991 Homecoming Queen at Tahoka's football game Friday night.

All queen contestants sold $1

tickets for a chance to win a trip to Puerto Vallarta, Mexico, and it was reported that the 11 girls raised $2100 in their ticket-selling efforts.

Princess contestants sold 50-cent tickets for a Texas Tech weekend and two bicycles, and these 11 elementary students raised over $1800 by selling tickets. Victoria DeLeon sold the most tickets, and she was crowned 1991 Harvest Festival Princess. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip DeLeon of Tahoka.

Crystal McAllister, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Scott McAllister of Tahoka, was named first runnerup in the Princess competition. Kalie Krey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Krey of Tahoka, was named second runnerup. Last year's princess, Jennifer Walls, presented trophies to the three winners.

The day's events wound up at 5 p.m. with all booths closing down, and then the Rotary Club opened their sausage booth again for the street dance which began at 8 p.m. The Blue Denim Band returned for the dance, and played to a good crowd until some light rain fell in the evening, at which point the dance was moved to the Lynn County Showbarn.

Winners of some of the major drawings during the day included the following:

- Puerto Vallarta, Mexico trip - Andra Solomon
- Texas Tech weekend - Debbie Steffens
- Bicycles - Danny Preston, Beulah Edwards
- Cow Patty Bingo - $500 first prize was split between Charlotte Wiseman and Tina Rodriguez, and $100 second place went to Virginia Griffin
- $50 Cash bubblegum toss - Janie Garcia
- 13" Color TV - Mary Ellen Riojas
- Senior Citizens quilt - Myrtle White

Bulldog Booster Club News

Conflict with games prevented the Booster Club from honoring the volleyball girls as planned on Sept. 23. The Booster Club apologizes to those teams; another date will be scheduled.

Cheerleaders will be honored on Sept. 30 at 7 p.m. in the high school library. Parents are invited to attend.

Christy Huffaker Crowned THS Homecoming Queen

Christy Huffaker, a senior at Tahoka High School and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Huffaker of Tahoka, was crowned 1991 Tahoka Homecoming Queen at festivities during the football game here Friday night.

She was escorted on to the field at halftime by her father and presented to the crowd.

The other nominees for queen were Jill DeLeon, Shannon Garvin, Katy Huffaker, Betsy Huffaker, and Leah DeLeon.

The Homecoming bonfire, scheduled for Thursday night, was cancelled due to rain. It has been rescheduled as a spirit booster for this week, Thursday, Sept. 26, at 8:30 p.m. on the north side of the Co-Op Gin yard.

The Homecoming Parade was theoretically cancelled, due to rainy weather, but a few floats did actually drive by the downtown area and around the courthouse, and the pep rally which was scheduled at the courthouse square was held in the THS gym. The band did not march downtown, and elementary bicycle participation was cancelled due to the weather: The junior class won first place with their float, called "Stormin' Bulldogs", followed by the freshmen in second place with "Blast Coahoma" and the sophomores in third with a "Fighting Bulldogs" theme.

The junior class also captured first place in the run-through sign competition with their "Battlin' Bulldogs" sign. Second place went to the freshmen class for "The Terminator" sign, third was sophomores with "Rock the House" and seniors came in fourth place with "Bo Jackson."

The National Honor Society sponsored a brisquet supper Friday evening before the ballgame, and reports indicate that attendance was low, presumably due to the wet weather.

Following the Tahoka-Coahoma football game, which Tahoka lost 44-6, several class reunions were held at various locations, including the THS Classes of 1941, 1956, 1971, and 1981. Some classes also met the following day at the Lynn County Harvest Festival.

Tahoka Elementary Students Try New Skills:

New T.I.S.D. Computer Lab Offers Fun Learning Atmosphere For Students

by JUANELL JONES

The new Jostens Computer Lab at Tahoka Elementary is offering students in grades 2-6 a chance to learn new skills at the computer - software programs in math and reading that adapt to a student's capabilities and learning pace; keyboarding skills; and best of all, according to some of the students - the computers have a "mouse" which they must learn to use.

All students wear headphones with mouthpiece microphones attached, so that they may "talk" with the computer, while they listen to a female-voice instruction from the computer. Also enhancing the fun for the students is a series of cartoon-like visuals who appear on the screen to introduce new levels of skill and musical tunes like video games that tell the students "they did good" on their instructional programs.

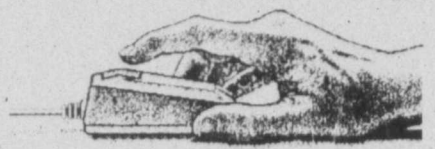

The "mouse" is a device attached to the computer which students grasp with one hand and move on about an 8-inch square foam pad to direct the "pointer" on the screen. "It takes a little practice for the students to get used to the mouse," said Mrs. Pat Williams, computer lab instructor. "There is a training program on the computer which allows the students to practice using the mouse, and that has helped some. Of course, with practice, they will get used to it very quickly," she added.

The Jostens Learning Computer Lab offers students reading and math curriculum strategies based on current recommendations of national reading, English, and mathematics associations. It is an individualized, developmental instructional tool in fundamental skills, so each student can succeed at his or her own rate.

Along with basic math and reading skills, the Jostens system integrates higher-order thinking and problem-solving skills. Students are motivated with bright, colorful, interactive lessons that are instructionally sound. Not only does the computer speak to the students through the headphones, but students can talk back into the microphone when required. It monitors each student's progress, and has continuous testing and progress reporting.

Mrs. Williams and Andrew Chapa, another instructor in the computer lab, prepare the computer lab for each class of students throughout the day. Students begin using the computer lab at 8:05 a.m. and are scheduled throughout the day with only five minutes between classes. Also, scheduling has been arranged to allow students to have access to the computer lab after school, should they so desire, until 5:30 p.m.

"Beginning last week, students in grades 2-6 can come in and work extra time on the computers if they want," said Molly Helmlinger, principal at Tahoka Elementary. "Mr. Chapa will stay until 5:30 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays to allow students access to the computer lab. Students may voluntarily come in anytime from 3:30 until 5:30, work on the computers, and stay as long as they like," she explained. "This will be on a strictly volunteer basis for our students, and they do not get extra credit. This is simply a service for our students so those who want to learn more can have the opportunity to use the computers," she stressed.

She said that students wishing to work on the computers during that two-hour period after 3:30 may come at any time, not necessarily having to be there at 3:30. They also do not need any special permission from teachers or administration. "Just show up at 3:30 or 4:00 or even 5:00 - Mr. Chapa will be there to help the student get started, and to close the lab at 5:30," said the principal.

There are 30 computer stations in the lab with color monitors, keyboard and mouse, headphones and microphones, and every student in grades 2-6 has two 45-minute sessions a week scheduled as a class. In addition, students who are identified as Chapter students, Gifted and Talented students, ESL students (English as Second Language), and Special Education students get an additional 45-minute session on Fridays.

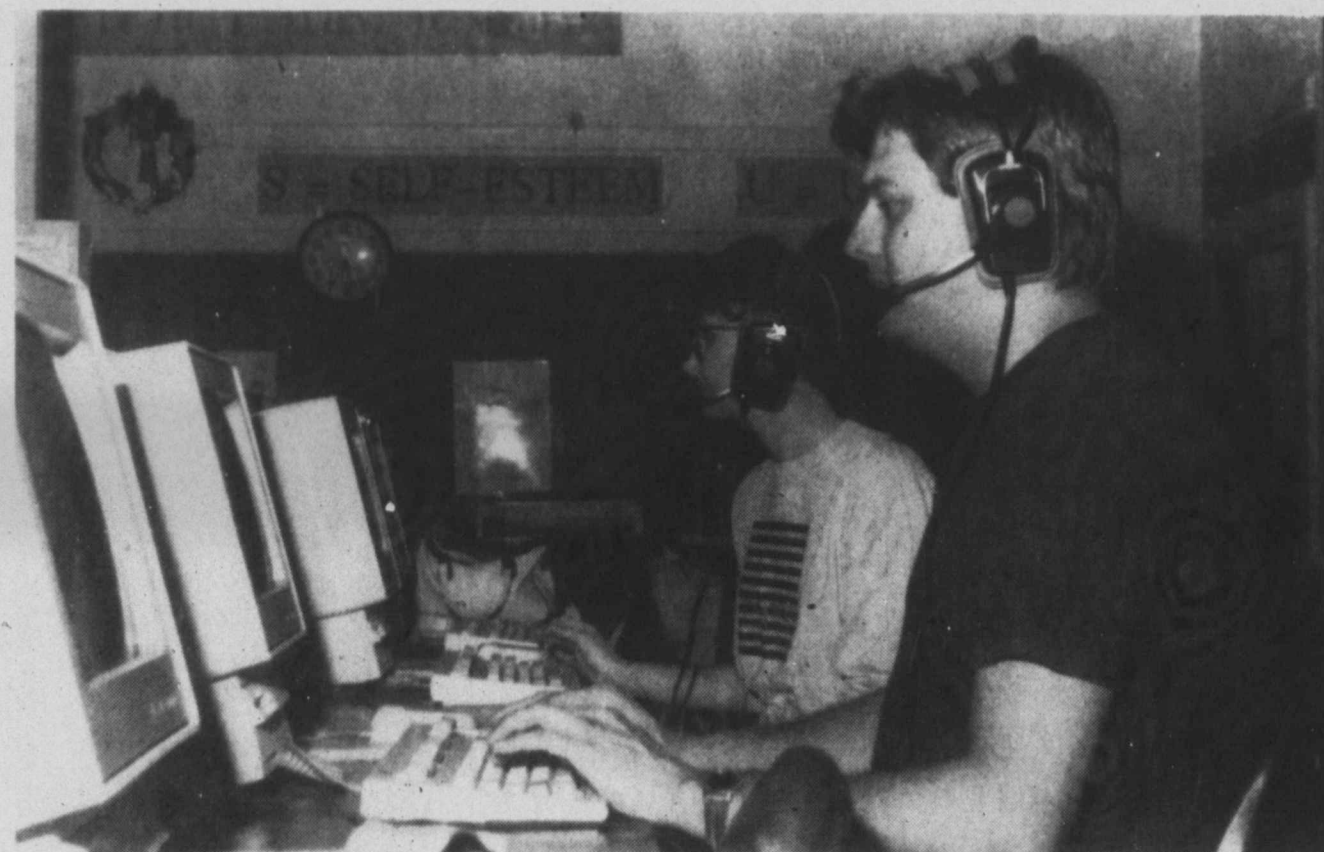

Then, from 3-3:30 p.m., one station is assigned to each of the 15 teachers in grades 2-6, and they can assign at their discretion one student each day to work on the computer. "This can be for any reason, such as needing extra work in math or reading, or because a student was absent and missed lab the day before, or because a student is excelling in a certain area and would welcome the opportunity to have more time with the computer," said Miss Helmlinger. "This 30-minute period is strictly up to the teacher's discretion."

On Fridays, there are two periods open in the computer lab when teachers can send a student who may have missed a regular lab session to make up that time. "We are making every available opportunity to schedule our computer lab to be accessible to the most people," said Miss Helmlinger.

Parents Get To See Computers
Two weeks ago, parents of students in grades 2-6 were invited to the computer lab after school to see what their children were learning, and how the system works. The adults were seated at computer stations, and were taken step by step through a series of math and reading skill programs at different levels.

"We programmed the computers for 'visitor mode'," said Chapa. "This way, the computers could take our adult visitors through a program so they could get an idea of what their children are learning," he said.

The computer "places" students at various levels according to what it perceives to be their degree of understanding, according to their scores in the program. It monitors each student's progress individually, and their skills level is recorded by the computer. When the student next visits the computer lab, he picks up

SO THIS IS WHAT THEY DO IN COMPUTER LAB - Tom and Cindy Walls, parents of a third grade daughter, came to Tahoka Elementary one day last week when the computer lab was opened for parents to see what their children were learning. For three days, the lab was open from 5:30-7 p.m., and parents were able to use the same math and reading programs which their children are now using in grades 2-6. The Jostens Learning Lab is new this year, and offers 30 computer stations with color monitors, headphones and microphones, and a "mouse."

where he left off the time before. The lab is intended as another teaching tool in math and reading instruction, according to Miss Helmlinger. "We want parents to know that we still teach math and reading in the classroom," she said. "We don't leave all that up to the computer. Math and reading is still taught as a unit to the whole classroom, just as it has always been taught," she added.

All teachers in grades 2-6 received a three-hour training session in the computer lab before it was opened to the students three weeks ago. Each teacher takes their own class as a unit twice a week to the lab, and stays with the students during the session.

Plans For Summer Use
"We are hoping to be able to keep the computer lab open for six to eight weeks this summer," said Miss Helmlinger. She would like for students who will be retained for next year to be required to attend a lab session in whichever skill he or she needs to work on to "catch up" to what their level should be.

"I would like to have the lab open all day, with retained students getting their sessions in the morning, and any other student wanting to work on their skills for their own enjoyment to be able to attend afternoon sessions," she said. Any student in grades 2-6 who would like to come to keep

"Of course, the summer lab sessions are still something Tahoka

I.S.D. will have to okay. There is nothing definite set, at this point," she said. "But it is something for us to think about. We have the equipment - why not make it accessible?" she added.

Tahoka 4th Graders Get Book on Traditional Values

Students in the fourth grade at Tahoka Elementary School have received the gift-book entitled "Feeling Good About Me." It is a handsomely bound book of stories about learning traditional values and self-esteem.

"Feeling Good About Me" contains eight stories about realistic problems young people might encounter and how, using traditional values, they are resolved.

Each story has a full-color illustration and teaches such lessons as right and wrong, appreciation of family, what it means to be a good citizen, living up to one's full potential, and why (and how) to stay away from drugs.

In the first story, "A Day with Granddaddy," young Wendy is mad. The most popular girl in school has invited her to a slumber party but she has to go to her grandparents house on the lake, a visit she usually enjoys. During a conversation that takes place as Wendy fishes with Granddad, she learns the relative importance of the party and the visit (her values are put into perspective) and she feels good about herself and visiting her grandparents.

Other stories involve the meaning of friendship, family relationships, respect for others, loyalty and the importance of being your own unique self, lessons not always covered in school curriculums. They reflect positive influences that build a child's self-esteem.

Each story is accompanied by a teacher's guide, which covers discussion starters, lesson objectives, and follow-up applications. The purpose of the lessons is to teach young people good values and encourage discussion of values between children, their parents, and other family members in a home setting.

In "Real Heroes," a war game among a dozen boys and girls results in several broken windows at school. At the principal's office, the youngsters learn from an Army veteran that being an American hero isn't something that must happen on a battlefield, but also occurs by being a good citizen, doing whatever they can for their country.

In another story that takes place in a video arcade, Brian and Darrick must weigh the chance to get free games dishonestly against the effects of such action. With the help of a lesson learned from Darrick's dad, honesty wins out.

These books are made to last and are likely to become keepsake editions for the students. Local sponsors provide this important gift to the children because they know young people are the most precious resource of this community. The local sponsors are: The First National Bank of Tahoka, Tahoka Drug, Bartley Grain & Fertilizer, Thriftway, and Tahoka Family Flowers.

Your HEALTH TIP

10-MINUTE EXERCISE
Turn your coffee break into an exercise break with a 10 minute brisk walk to enhance the health of your heart and lungs. Strenuous jogging for 30 minutes is beneficial, but not essential for fitness. Ten minute intervals of walking, cycling, rope jumping, badminton, table tennis, two or three times a day will improve your fitness, and may also be the answer to insomnia.

Lynn County Child Welfare Board Elects Officers, Gets Donation Reports

The Lynn County Child Welfare Board met on Sept. 4 to elect officers for the 1991-92 year. All present officers were re-elected by acclamation. These are Jeri Akard, president; Joan Knox, vice president; Janet Porterfield, secretary; and Dana McKay, treasurer. Other members of the board are Cal Huffaker, Molly Helmlinger, Olivia Villareal, Mack Lowe, Gwen Cate, Kathy Drusedow, and Sheri McCord.

It was decided to hold a drawing for a color TV at the Harvest Festival. Mary Ellen Riojas' name was drawn as winner of the TV.

"We want to say a special thank you to O'Donnell First National Bank, Woolam Gin, Farmers Co-op Gin - O'Donnell, Commissioner J.T. Miller and Commissioner T.A. Stone for donating money to purchase the TV," said Mrs. Porterfield.

Also to Pam Womack, thanks is given for providing the table, to Dana McKay, Ken Le Blanc, Kathy Drusedow, and Janet Porterfield for working the booth, and to each person who purchased a ticket.

Members of the board were informed that Lutheran Brotherhood

Insurance through St. John's Lutheran Church at Wilson has provided school clothes, coats, and a new toy to each of Lynn County's foster children. The board is deeply grateful for their help. Betty Ehlers and Jo Ann Steinhauser report they had a fun time shopping for the kids.

Board members were also informed of donations from the Hazel Bennet couples class, Young Adult II class, Ruth class, Naomi class, and Lydia class, all of First Baptist Church. "We want to recognize these donations and express our appreciation," said Mrs. Porterfield.

The board was saddened to learn that Carol Bailey, Tahoka's representative from Children's Protective Services, has left that position for a new job. A new representative will be assigned.

The board would like the public to know there are videos and representatives available for programs on child abuse and foster parenting. Lynn County is still badly in need of foster parents.

Memorials have been received in memory of Mrs. Ola Gill, Dub Gurley, and Kenneth Turner.

Public Notice

On June 28, 1991, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company (Southwestern Bell) filed an application with the Public Utility Commission of Texas (Commission) to add a new optional service offering for business Private Branch Exchange (PBX) Trunk customers called Digital Loop Service. The application has been assigned Docket No. 10461.

Digital Loop Service provides digital transmission of circuit switched voice and data communications between the customer's premises and the central office. This service allows the customer to use a 1.544 Mbps facility capable of delivering up to 24 line terminations. Southwestern Bell will provide Digital Loop Service within the customer's serving central office where facilities are available.

If approved by the Commission, the rates for the Digital Loop Service facilities will be $445 per month for each digital transmission loop arrangement which provides a capacity of up to 24 line terminations, plus $3 per month for each line termination and $9 per month for each channel termination. The proposed rate for the unlimited use of the central office varies from $12.25 up to $18.90 per month for each line termination depending on the rate group classification, determined by the customer's location. Southwestern Bell estimates revenue of $2.1 million from this offering during the first year.

As proposed by Southwestern Bell, customers who currently receive digital loop compatibility through facilities installed under a special construction agreement will have the option to receive their current digital loop arrangements pursuant to the Digital Loop Service Tariff or continue to pay their current charges until they make a change of location or account. Any increase in the number of line terminations to a customer's current digital transmission loop arrangement will be provided pursuant to the proposed Digital Loop Service Tariff; however, the customer will continue to have the option of paying current charges for the existing digital transmission loop capacity. Southwestern Bell's proposal to "grandfather" existing digital loop facility arrangements is subject to review and approval by the Commission.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible, but not later than October 15, 1991. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256. Drip Irrigation Demonstration Project Participation Sought

The High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 is currently accepting applications from cotton farmers in Cochran, Crosby, Hockley, Lubbock, and Lynn Counties to participate in a five-year drip irrigation demonstration project.

"The Water District is looking for two cotton farmers who meet specific criteria for this drip irrigation demonstration project," said Ken Carver, High Plains Water District Assistant Manager.

"Since the purpose of this project is to demonstrate drip irrigation to other farmers, the cooperators must agree to allow public access for viewing the project during daylight hours. Also, the cooperators must agree to allow the Water District to conduct field demonstration days at the project site."

Applications may not be officials of the Water District or close relatives of its officials. It is preferable that applicants have a small irrigation well that can be dedicated to the drip system. If this is not possible, the drip irrigation project must take priority before the water is diverted for other use.

"We want to make sure that applicants fully understand drip irrigation, the objectives of our drip irrigation demonstration project, and the maintenance requirements for the irrigation system," said Carver.

For that reason, all applicants must attend an educational meeting on drip irrigation to be held Oct. 16 at 1:30 p.m. at the High Plains Water District office in Lubbock.

At each of the two sites, the Water District will install a sub-surface drip irrigation system on 10 acres. Five acres will be irrigated every row with the drip system, while the remaining five acres will be watered every other row.

The Water District will pay for the cost of the drip irrigation system materials, plus one-half of the installation cost. The chosen producer may furnish a tractor and labor to install the system as his half of the installation cost.

Drip irrigation is the slow, frequent application of small amounts of water to the soil area directly surrounding plant roots. Water losses caused by evaporation, deep percolation and runoff are virtually eliminated. Using drip irrigation to apply water directly to the plant roots can save 30 to 40 percent of the water required by most other conventional irrigation systems.

Lynn County producers who wish to apply for participation in the drip irrigation demonstration projects should contact Ken Carver, High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1, 2930 Avenue Q, Lubbock, Texas 79405, or call (806) 762-0181 for more information. The deadline for applications is 5 p.m., Oct. 11.

Bulldogs Get Kicked; Open District At Ralls

By DALTON WOOD

Thankfully, the Tahoka Bulldogs will play no other teams of Bulldogs this season; in two outings against other Bulldogs (Spur and Coahoma), Tahoka's football team has been kicked around without mercy. The latest was a 44-6 beating at the hands of a talented Coahoma team which spoiled Tahoka's homecoming last Friday night.

It was fairly close for awhile until Coahoma running back Steven New got untracked. The best thing Tahoka did in the first quarter was when Cory Don Whitley recovered a fumble. Later in the quarter, Coahoma's Red Dogs went up 6-0 on a 40-yard run by New.

It got a lot worse in the second quarter as Coahoma added 18 points, on a 19-yard pass to Matt Coates, a 39-yard pass to New, and a 30-yard field goal by Shannon Smithie. Mike Mendez ran 6 for another TD, and Matt Coates took a 4-yard scoring toss to bring the score up to 37-0 at the end of three periods.

Tahoka finally got on the scoreboard in the fourth quarter when QB Heath Brewer passed 12 yards to Mike Burleson. A kick was no good, and it was 37-6.

Coahoma scored again in the fourth to make the final score 44-6, leaving the Blue Bulldogs with a 1-2 record for the season as they prepared this week to go to Ralls for the opening game of district play. The game at Ralls, and the rest of the games this season, will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Tahoka had an anemic 39 yards rushing and 20 yards passing, and just 5 first downs.

Rudy Tejada, Sr. Wins Again

Rudy Tejada, Sr. of Tahoka, once again missed three games to win the Lynn County News football contest last week, winning the $5 prize money for the second consecutive week.

Tejada named Dixie Dog as the secret sponsor, but the News Office did not pick that name in the random sponsor drawing. Secret sponsors for the week were the Huffaker, Green & Huffaker, Jennings of Tahoka, and Thriftway. Tejada would have doubled his prize money had he named one of these sponsors.

Three others missed four games in the contest to tie for second place. They were Brent Raindl, Helen Payne and Lanae Monk. There is no prize money, however, for second place.

This week's contest is printed on the Bulldog support page ad, and anyone may enter by bringing their entry to the News Office by 4 p.m. Friday.

Junior Varsity Dogs Lose To Brownfield

by Bruce Burleson

Twenty junior varsity athletes hit Kelley Field, Sept. 12, to face class 3A Brownfield.

Home fans watched the young Dogs consisting of 12 freshman, seven sophomores, and one junior, hold the Cubs scoreless in the first half.

Brownfield set the game in motion in the second half and put 14 points on the scoreboard. The Cubs won the game 0-14.

"Defensively we looked good at times," said JV defensive coach Chris Wigington. "There are some rough spots that need to be smoothed out."

"Even though they didn't hit as well as expected, overall the defense gave a good team effort," said Coach Wigington.

"Offensively the line blocked well," said offensive JV coach Charlie Holland. "Play execution needs to be worked on."

"Experience will come," said Coach Holland.

Chris Montez was the leading rusher with 32 yards. Ramiro Rodriguez had 25 yards rushing, and Terry Gwin caught a pass for 25 yards.
