O'Donnell 4-H Member Gets Gold Star Award

The prestigious Gold Star Award, highest possible award given in 4-H at the county level, was presented to Jon Hogg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Hogg of O'Donnell, as the Lynn County 4-H organization held its annual awards banquet last Wednesday night, Oct. 9, in the Tahoka school cafeteria.

His father was also honored Wednesday night as one of the two outstanding adult leaders in the county during the last year. The other adult leader so honored was Vicki Ashbrook of Tahoka.

Eva Gicklhorn of Wilson and Jason Belew of Tahoka were named as recipients of the I Dare You Awards given each year to the boy and girl in the county organization who have best demonstrated "unusual integrity, balanced personal development and a willingness to assume responsibility." Miss Gicklhorn is the daughter of Lester and Sheri Gicklhorn of Wilson, and Belew is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Denny Belew.

Other top award winners honored at the meeting included:

Outstanding 4-H Alumni Award—Sharon Smith of Tahoka.

Best senior record book—Eva Gicklhorn, 17. Best junior record book—Jason Marshall, 14, of Wilson.

Outstanding First Year 4-H Awards—Casey Donald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Donald, and Lexi Wied, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Wied. Both winners are from Wilson.

The Friend of 4-H Awards to businesses which support the program went to Woolam Gin, Tommy Woolam, manager, and to West Point Gin, Charles Smith, manager.

Jason Belew was master of ceremonies.

More Thefts, Burglaries Investigated

Thefts, burglaries, vandalism and traffic accidents were among reports investigated by law enforcement officers in Lynn County and the City of Tahoka during the last week.

Milton Miller reported his residence a mile east of Tahoka was burglarized on Oct. 10, last Thursday, after a door was kicked open. Items valued at $1890 were stolen, including an RCA TV, Sears microwave, Singer sewing machine, a clarinet, belt buckles, jewelry, a pocket watch, and some commemorative pocket knives.

Bobby Patterson of Tahoka reported a green two-wheel trailer stolen from a field about 8 miles north-east of Tahoka last Thursday or Friday.

Joe Tijerina of Tahoka reported an air compressor and tools, total value $470, had been stolen from a building east of Tahoka between Oct. 6-8. Two tires on Tijerina's pickup and four tires on a Honda vehicle had been slashed also, and a welder valued at $1400 was stolen off a trailer.

A 25-year-old Tahoka man admitted damaging a 1989 Oldsmobile owned by Mary Rivas of Tahoka while it was parked at Lynn County Hospital last Saturday. An antenna was broken, and the hood was scratched and dented. Misdemeanor charges are anticipated, according to Tahoka Police Dept.

On Sunday, Oct. 13, at the intersection of U.S. 87 east access road and Lockwood St., a 1984 Chevrolet pickup driven by Willis Clinton Tongate, 78, of Brownwood, and a 1988 Chevrolet driven by John Nelson Walker, 50, of Lubbock collided. There were no injuries requiring treatment at the time.

Also last Sunday, about 5 p.m., a 1981 Ford pickup driven by Kenneth Rockwell Turner of Tahoka struck the wall of two buildings on the north side of Harper St. between Main and Ave. J. Damage to the buildings owned by Mike Lankford and J.E. Nance was estimated at $500 each. Turner was taken to University Medical Center for treatment of facial and shoulder injuries and released from the hospital.

In jail during the week were two persons for theft by check and one for driving while intoxicated, second offense.

GOING TO THE WORLD SERIES—Robert Abbe Jr., second from left, and his son, Kevin, 10, in front, will be going to Minneapolis Saturday, Oct. 19 for the first game of the World Series between the Twins and the National League champions. Mrs. Mildred Abbe, shown next to Tony the Tiger, won the trip, all expenses paid for two, when she bought a box of Kellogg's Frosted Mini-Wheats at Thriftway Supermarket in Tahoka July 18. Inside the box was one of the 100 winning trips given nationwide by Kellogg's, with free travel, lodging, tickets to one game, and expense money for two. She gave the trips to her son and grandson. In the photo above are, left to right, Thriftway manager Steve Sanders, Abbe, Kevin, "Tony", Mrs. Abbe and Johnny McCanlies of Lubbock, a representative of the Kellogg company.

Board Gives Okay To Repair Gym Roof, Hire New Teacher

by JUANELL JONES

Tahoka I.S.D. Board of Trustees met last Thursday night, Oct. 10 in the Elementary Learning Resource Center and gave Superintendent Dr. Duane Carter the go-ahead to initiate advertising bids to repair the high school gym roof and to hire another teacher to replace Kindergarten teacher Tracy McCracken, who is resigning in December.

The board heard an architect's report on the gym roof, and were told that an initial estimate to re-roof and replace some of the skylights on the leaky roof would be about $35,000, and that the work could be completed without any interruption in gym activities. Board members voted unanimously to advertise for bids to repair the roof so that the work could be completed as soon as possible.

Kindergarten teachers Clalene Newman, Tina Wuensche, Becky Henley and Tracy McCracken were present at the meeting, and they presented to the board their reasons for replacing Miss McCracken with another teacher when she resigns at the end of December, instead of combining the present four Kindergarten classes into three classes.

Elementary Principal Molly Helmlinger gave a presentation to the board on the scheduling problems which would occur with combining the classes at mid-term, and she and the teachers gave an overview on Kindergarten education.

After about an hour and a half discussion, Dr. Carter expressed to the board his desire to hire another teacher and keep the four separate classes in Kindergarten for the remainder of the school term, and the board unanimously gave their approval. Miss McCracken will resign at the end of December, and will be moving to Midland.

In other business, Joe Hays of Love, Hays & Co. presented the annual audit report to trustees, and it was approved as presented. Bookkeeper Loretta Tekell gave a financial report, and the board voted to pay

High School Principal Charles Cate invited board members to a Parent Involvement Workshop which was scheduled Monday night in the high school auditorium.

Trustees passed the textbook committee's recommendation for textbooks for 1991-92, and then heard the superintendent's report before adjourning at 11:10 p.m.

Present at the meeting were Dr. Carter, Mrs. Tekell, Cate, Miss Helmlinger, Joe Hays, the Kindergarten teachers, and board members Greg Henley, J.E. Nance, Jr., Juanell Jones, Delbert McCleskey, Clint Gardner, Brad Hammonds and Mike Huffaker.

Struggling Teams Will Meet Here Friday Night

By DALTON WOOD

Two struggling football teams, with identical 1-5 records for the season, will meet here Friday night as the Post Antelopes come to town, no doubt with visions of improving their record at the expense of the Tahoka Bulldogs.

The Bulldogs lost 28-0 to Crosbyton last Friday, playing some pretty good defense, but showing an anemic offense and poor punting game. A good effort against Post, however, could result in another badly-needed win for the Cogs. Last Friday Post lost to New Deal 30-26.

Crosbyton's Jerome Lang, at over 6 feet and weighing 220, was just too much of a load for the Tahoka defense, although they contained him most of the time. He scored on runs of 1 and 38 yards and had several runs of 12 or 13 yards.

Tahoka's pass defense was good, with the Bulldogs intercepting four Crosbyton passes. Mike Burleson and Juan Luna intercepted passes in the first quarter, and this helped keep the game scoreless until Abel Valdez of the Chieftains ran 6 for a TD. Cory

Don Whitley intercepted a pass in the second period and Luna got his second interception in the third.

The score was 14-0 at halftime and 21-0 at the end of the third. Tahoka had one punt blocked, and three other punts went for 14, 7 and 5 yards, setting up scores for Crosbyton. This game was the first this season in which Tahoka failed to score.

Stacy Adams recovered a fumble for Tahoka in the fourth period. Brian Moore gained 32 yards in 13 carries and Billy Wilborn gained 33 in 11 carries, but losses resulted in a net ground yardage of just 39 yards for the team; Tahoka's best yardage came from the officials, who penalized Crosbyton 12 times for 120 yards. Wilborn had some good defensive plays.

OVER THE WEEKEND we received a few tidbits of interesting information from the Texas Dept. of Agriculture about emu oil, pumpkins, lean beef and mohair.

Actually the lean beef stuff comes from the Texas Beef Industry Council, which says that the hottest food item in American restaurants and supermarkets today is beef that is more than 90 percent lean, developed by the industry for the benefit of those who want to reduce the fat content in their diet (which is just about everybody except those who live on bird seed and raw cabbage).

The release said McDonald's offers a McLean Deluxe and that Texas supermarkets now offer the specially blended low-fat ground beef. The beef reportedly looks like other ground beef but costs about 30 cents a pound more, a price most of us cholesterololics would be glad to pay, if it's healthier.

An emu is an Australian bird related to an ostrich. The Texas Ag Dept. says oils from emu can cure many ills, and in Australia is used to relieve dry skin, arthritis and joint and muscle aches.

An emu costs about $7500, so you have to ache pretty bad to kill one for its oil, I would think.

And three South Plains counties are the top pumpkin-producing counties in the state, says Ag Commissioner Rick Perry, who visited Floydada, billed as the "pumpkin capital of the world." Floyd County has about 800 acres of pumpkins, Hale County 500 and Bailey about 200 acres. These three counties bring in about half a million dollars a year in pumpkin sales.

We didn't know that pumpkins shipped all over the nation came from the South Plains, nor did we know that Texas, according to TDA, is the largest mohair producer in the world. Most of this stuff comes from an area surrounding Sonora, and TDA says Texas produces about 15 million pounds of mohair each year from Angora goats.

Texas supplies 90 percent of the U.S. market and 42 percent of the world's mohair.

This is a lot more than I had ever heard on the subject. If I need additional information, I will contact boxing promoter Don King or country singer Crystal Gayle. They've got mohair than anybody.

O'Donnell Homecoming Planned

Plans are underway for the O'Donnell High School Homecoming Oct. 25-26. The classes of 1966 and 1941 are the Honor Classes this year.

Kicking off the festivities will be a bonfire at 8 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 24. This will be held on the football field parking lot, north of the high school campus.

On Friday, Oct. 25, the activities start off with a pep rally in the high school gym at 3 p.m. A hamburger supper, sponsored by the O'Donnell Livestock Ass. will begin at 5:30 in the agricultural building, south of the football field. It will last until game time.

The O'Donnell Eagles will host the Anton Bulldogs at 7:30 p.m. at Johnson Field. After the game, the Ex-Students ass. will host a reception in the commons area of the high school. Other class receptions are being planned and will be announced at the football game.

Saturday's activities begin at 11 a.m. on the town square with the Third Annual Cottonfest. Food booths, arts and crafts, entertainment and other activities will be provided. At 2 p.m. a parade will wind through town with the honor classes, 1991 Homecoming Queen and candidates, O.H.S. Band, past Homecoming Queens, and many more participating.

The homecoming banquet will start at 6 p.m. in the school cafeteria. This is for all ex-students of O'Donnell schools. The weekend of activities concludes with a street dance on the town square, beginning at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

FIRE SAFETY PRESENTATION - Several members of the Tahoka Volunteer Fire Dept. gave fire safety presentations at Tahoka Elementary School last week during National Fire Prevention Week. In this photo, volunteer fireman Clint Gardner shows the water hose from the fire truck to a group of Kindergarten and first grade students after he talked to them about fire escape procedures for home. He encouraged all the children to go home and ask their parents to plan a fire escape from the children's bedrooms and gave them brochures containing safety tips and escape procedures. The Fire Dept. gave the presentation to all elementary classes, giving them brochures and rulers. (LYNN COUNTY NEWS PHOTO)

Monthly Sales Taxes To Cities Is Reported

"Roughly 81 percent of this month's local sales tax rebate to Texas cities and counties was sent through an electronic funds transfer program," State Comptroller John Sharp said today, announcing total rebates of approximately $100 million for the month.

"Electronic funds transfer provides local governments instant access to their money and the state saves on the cost of paper, envelopes and postage," Sharp said.

The city of O'Donnell received $6,14.75 for this period, bringing the total to $9,645.50 for the year. This is an increase of 6%.

Tahoka received $54477.03, bringing its total to $48,364.71. This is an increase of 14%.

Wilson did not receive any for this period but has a total of $3,768.99 for the year to date.

This month's payments to 105 counties reached $10.5 million for year-to-date total of almost $113 million, an increase of 17% over 1990's total at this time.

October's payment to cities, counties, hospital districts and city transit departments include taxes collected on August sales and reported in September by businesses filing monthly sales tax returns with the state. Businesses file either monthly, quarterly, or annually depending on the amount of sales tax they collect.

Merchants collect the state's 6 1/4% state sales tax and any local sales taxes levied in the area and send them to the Comptroller's Office with their tax returns. The state retains its share and returns to cities, counties, and other taxing entities their local portion of the sales tax.

SENSIBLE DIETING

A healthful way to diet? Drink a glass of fruit juice: orange, apple, grape, pineapple, etc. 1/2 to 1 hour before meals. It will suppress your appetite. A study at Yale Univ. found that overweight men ate 300 fewer calories at lunch - women ate 430 fewer calories. Fructose drinks work better than glucose plus water, diet sodas, or plain water. With fructose drinks you will consume fewer total calories at mealtimes, but will ingest health-building nutrients, vitamins and minerals - a win-win situation.

THE POWER IS ON

The wayward thoughts of Juanell (Wood) Jones

Let's talk about weird stuff I've been reading a book at home about unexplained mysteries which includes stories about strange occurrences like spontaneous human combustion (ouch), sudden appearances and disappearances of people and buildings, UFO sightings, ghosts, zombies, the Bermuda triangle, and a whole bunch of other stuff that no one can explain to any degree of satisfaction.

It makes for pretty interesting stories, but I have a hard time believing in most of this stuff. I am a real skeptic when it comes to things like this, although I have seen some actual disappearances myself. There have been several occasions when I've gone to get my purse and all the money has disappeared out of it, and nobody claims to know anything about it.

The ghost stories are entertaining, but I must say I'd have to see one to believe it. My husband says that a house he lived in between Slaton and Wilson when he was a small child was haunted. Uh huh. The house had a staircase on the back wall which led up to the attic, and several times they heard unexplainable noises coming from there. He said it got to the point one time when his father got a gun and went upstairs to see what was causing all the racket. He didn't find anything, but the noises continued. They were the last family who lived in the house, moving away when my husband was a child.

He took me there to see the house after we were married, and although it is a perfect setting for a ghost, the ramshackle old house didn't scare up any ghosts for us. I was disappointed. And relieved.

The most interesting stories to me are the ones about UFO sightings. When we were teenagers in the early 70's, there was quite a bit of attention given to UFO sightings, and we'd go out to the golf course and watch the sky, just wishing for something exciting to happen. For the benefit of those reading this column who may be my parents, we were only watching the sky. Really.

We saw lots of moving lights in the sky, but never anything that we thought could qualify as a UFO. We did, however, have lots of entertaining discussions about life while we were sitting on the hoods of our cars. It's a great memory.

Most of the unusual occurrences have had movies made about them, and they end up looking like a science fiction tale, sort of like what used to run on the Twilight Zone or The Outer Limits show that Rod Serling used to introduce about weird tales.

Nowadays, the movies are more sophisticated and can scare the living daylights out of me. The first time I saw the movie Alien I chewed my fingernails down to my elbows. If there are actually UFOs from other planets that visit Earth, I hope that ugly Alien critter is not on it. I'd have to send my husband to defend me. He'd probably thump it on the back and tell it to quit making funny noises, like he does to our refrigerator. That man can fix anything!

Well, I'm sorry I don't have a "real" amazing tale to tell you. Maybe I can make one up for you, and publish my own book. Send money.

4-H Clover Kids To Meet Here Monday

The Lynn County 4-H Clover Kids will have their first meeting this fall Monday, Oct. 21 at 5:30 p.m. at the Lyntegar Electric Meeting Room. Current and new members are invited and encouraged to attend.

The "Super Duper 4-H Clover Kids" club is an informal educational program for young children ages four through eight. These young people develop the confidence, social skills, decision making abilities, acquire knowledge, and physical skills that will lead to a more productive life.

County Extension Agent Donna Peters said the Clover Kids group is a place where kindergarten through second grade youth, parents, and leaders have fun, learn to work together in club meetings, activities, and special events.

The program is centered around the family. All parents are encouraged to become involved in their child's 4-H Clover Kids club. This re-emphasizes the concept that 4-H is truly a family affair.

The Clover Kids program is supported by 4-H educational materials provided through the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University. The program is made possible through the cooperative efforts of the United States Department of Agriculture, Texas A&M University System, and the Lynn County Commissioners' Court.

All education programs conducted by the Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, handicap, or national origin. Bullock Appoints Montford To Higher Education Committee

Lt. Bob Bullock announced the appointment of John Montford to the Select Committee on Higher Education. According to Bullock, the ten-member panel's mission is to study the way state funds are allocated to Texas' institutions of higher learning. The committee will consist of five senators, five house members. Senator Carl Parker will serve as the co-chair of the committee. "John Montford is one of the leading legislative experts in the Senate on finance and funding for the state's institutions of higher learning," Bullock said. "His expertise will be crucial to the success of this important committee."

Bullock said both committees will submit formal reports and prepare legislation, if needed, by November 1992.

SPS Honored In New York For Management And Leadership

Electrical World magazine honored SPS last Wednesday, Oct. 2, as the national winner of its 1991 James H. McGraw Award for management and leadership.

Chairman and Chief Executive Officer Bill Helton accepted the honor's commemorative medallion on behalf of all employees at a ceremony in New York City during the magazine's annual Executive Round Table of industry leaders.

The McGraw Award, named after the founder of the McGraw-Hill Publishing Company, is presented annually "for the purpose of giving public recognition and expressing industry appreciation of the contribution to the advancement of the electrical industry."

McGraw-Hill is the publisher of Electrical World as well as other magazines, including BusinessWeek.

In singling out SPS, Electrical World's Editor-In-Chief William Hayes said the award honors the company for:

- Effectively pursuing a policy of "dynamic conservatism" that has produced rate reductions in each of the last seven years.

- Gaining a rating of excellence in service from 97% of its customers as opposed to an industry average of 73%.

- Earning awards in two states for its economic development efforts (SPS actively participates in two economic development coalitions: The High Ground of Texas and the Business Quarter of New Mexico).

- Raising interest coverage to almost five times (a measure of how well the company controls debt).

- Winning EPA and national attention for its pioneering environmental efforts (such as SPS's development of air quality control equipment for power plants, conservation of fresh water, marketing of coal ash and other achievements).

Nominations are not solicited. Electrical World monitors the industry and selects appropriate winners. Last year's winner was Florida Power & Light Company.

Southwestern Public Service Company primarily provides electric service to a population of about one million in a 52,000-square-mile area comprising eastern and southeastern New Mexico, the South Plains and Panhandle of Texas, the Oklahoma Panhandle and southwestern Kansas. Corporate headquarters is in Amarillo.

No More Cottonseed On The Ground!

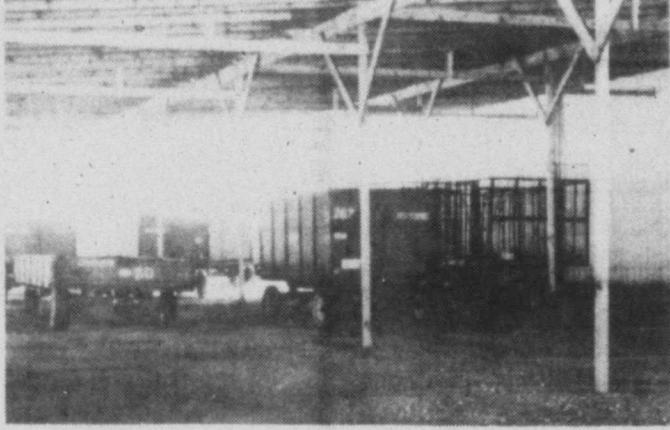

Does this sound good to you? MONTGOMERY SEED & DELINTING can guarantee that your seed will not be stored on the ground. A new 20,000 sq. ft. covered barn has been built to assure each customer that his valuable cottonseed will be kept HIGH AND DRY!

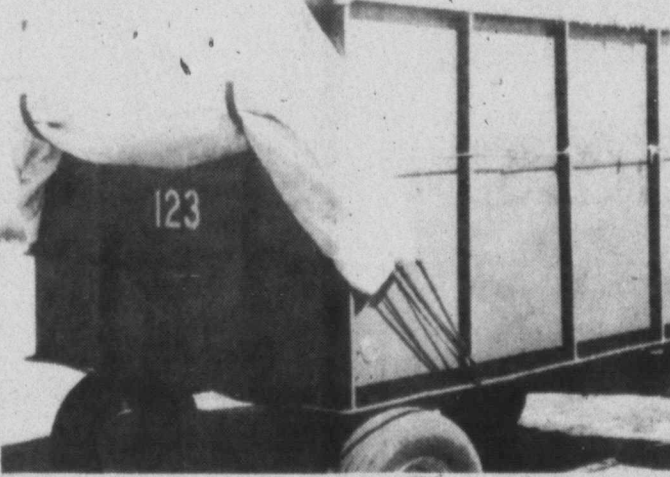

Instead of dumping this trailer on the ground, we are transferring the seed to a larger trailer which will be used only for storing the seed.

We will deliver your seed to your barn at no extra cost.

The storage trailer will then be stored under this 20,000 sq. ft. shed until delinted. This shed is also available to customers having seed caught on their trailers and needing storage space.

All of our trailers sent to gins will have a tarp mounted on it for quick and easy covering.

Along with the LMC Gravity Grader we installed last year, which did a fantastic job of removing cockleburs, we have recently installed a larger and more efficient seed cleaner. Also, only the sewn type bags will be used this year which everyone seems to prefer. CARE, QUALITY & SERVICE are what Montgomery Seed & Delinting can and will offer each of their customers.

TFB Encouraged With Findings For Agricultural Trade With Mexico

The Texas Farm Bureau Board of Directors has returned from a fact finding mission to Mexico, encouraged about the opportunities for agricultural trade with Mexico.

The 14 member board, representing all geographic regions of Texas and most of the crops grown in the state, traveled in Mexico Sept. 29 - Oct. 1. The group met with Mexican and U.S. officials in Mexico City and toured the countryside, meeting with Mexican farmers. The potential of a free trade agreement comprised of Mexico, Canada, and the U.S. was the number one topic covered in the talks. "I'm even more convinced that a free trade agreement would be a net gain for Texas agriculture," said S.M. True, president of the Texas Farm Bureau.

Speaking of Mexico City, the world's most populous urban area, True said, "I had no idea what a city of 20 million people looked like. It takes a lot of production all over the Americas to feed that many people. We think Texas farmers and ranchers can help."

The Farm Bureau delegation did meet some resistance to a free trade agreement, however. Corn, in particular, lies at the center of a sticky political problem.

Corn is produced all over Mexico and has social, as well as economic significance. U.S. Ag Counselor Richard Barnes met with the group in Mexico City.

"Corn has a long history here. The government restricts corn use basically to human consumption and the support price is roughly double the world price," Barnes said. "Mexico has about three million corn farmers, some of them quite small."

Barnes said the Mexican government worries that Mexican corn farmers would be put out of business by American competition and migrate to Mexican or U.S. cities, putting additional strains on job markets and social services.

Jorge Collard, an official in the Mexican Agriculture Department expressed similar concerns to the Farm Bureau delegation.

"We are determined to make this economy, including agriculture, efficient and the free trade agreement will be good in the long term," Collard said. "However, our farmers have become dependent of the subsidies. It is a difficult political problem."

President True, a grain, cotton, and cattle producer from Plainview, said the trip did much to dispel misconceptions about Mexico.

"We feel that we can have a free trade agreement, if all parties involved remember that it must be a two way street," True said.

True emphasized that Texas' proximity to Mexico makes the state a natural trading partner with Mexico.

The Farm Bureau group was accompanied by Dr. Saul Mercado, Director for Latin American Affairs at the Texas Department of Agriculture.

News From ... Extension Agent Brett Cypert Lynn County Extension Office

Beef producers should be aware of the proper amount of cottonseed products that can be fed safely depending on the type of animal.

Cottonseed products have been used for more than 100 years as nutritional supplements to improve cattle production. Millions of tons of cottonseed products are fed annually to U.S. livestock.

Concern about cottonseed stems from its level of gossypol, a naturally occurring substance that can be toxic to some animals.

"Ruminant animals can tolerate much greater quantities of free gossypol than can monogastric animals. Pre-ruminant calves, under 8 weeks of age, should not be fed gossypol-containing products," says a report just released at Texas A&M University.

The source of gossypol and type of diet also affect the levels of gossypol tolerated by cattle.

Gossypol has been widely studied for its toxicity to some animals. But gossypol may also affect reproductive capabilities in cattle. These are the recommendations for feeding cattle:

- * Beef cows and range bulls: 2 lbs per head per day of direct solvent extracted; 4 lbs./head/day of expander processed; 4 lbs./head/day of screw-press processed meal; or 4-6 lbs./head/day of whole cottonseed.

- If using a mixture of cotton products, the combined concentration of gossypol will need to be considered.

- * Embryo transfer: Producers with embryo transfer programs in which large sums of money are involved per animal may wish to use a conservative approach since other protein sources are available.

- * Pre-ruminant calves (under 8 weeks to be safe): These animals, especially dairy calves, should not be fed gossypol containing products until ongoing research establishes safe feeding levels.

Cattle raisers also should know that the method of oil extraction used on the cottonseed impacts the gossypol levels in the product. The expander process exposes the cottonseed to greater heat which in turn reduces the amount of free gossypol content to about one-third of the level in the old direct solvent method. More than 95% of the cottonseed processed in Texas and Oklahoma today are from expander or screw-press operations.

Also, with high roughage or forage diets where slower passage takes place, cattle may be able to tolerate higher levels of gossypol. Cottonseed hull-based diets may be an exception, however because of their rapid rate of passage.

8th Graders Beat Crosbyton

By Albert Mendoza

After starting off with a tough 0-1-1 record, the eighth grade Bulldogs jolted to a 32-0 victory against Crosbyton Oct. 11 at home.

Edward Ramirez exploded against the Chiefs. He scored three touchdowns and passed for another for 55 yards. Ramirez had 153 yards rushing and rolled in 23 yards and 60 yards of them for the touchdown and had a 70 yard punt return for another score.

"Edward Ramirez's performance was fun to watch," said Coach Steve Qualls.

David Garvin contributed to the scoring when he rushed for a 50 yard touchdown and received Ramirez's 55 yard touchdown pass.

On offense Fernando Benavidez, Jeremy Brandon, Michael Castillon, Gerald Cantu, Jesse Perez, and Micah Stone "had a super night," said Coach Qualls.

Donnie Walton and Clay Taylor were also complimented for their outstanding performances on offense by Coach Qualls.

"After Crosbyton drove down to the 10 yard line the Bulldog defense stopped the Chiefs on downs," said Coach Qualls. "The defense adjusted and then they really kicked in for an outstanding job."

Castillon, Joe Garcia, Stephen Gwin, Perez, Stone, and Todd Webster were complimented by Qualls for their defensive play.

7th Grade 3-0 After Topping Crosbyton 28-12

By Albert Mendoza

Reggie Moore highlighted the night, Thursday Oct. 10, by scoring three touchdowns to boost the seventh grade football team to a 3-0 over all record and a 28-12 victory over the Crosbyton Chiefs.

Moore went in with trips for 8, 12, and 25 yards on only 8 carries the entire night. Helping out with scoring was Dustin Burleson with a 23 yard touchdown on his only carry of the night.

"Again, the key to the game was defense, at halftime we made some adjustments and the kids responded," said Coach David Johnson.

Top tacklers for the Bulldogs were Matt Garcia, Monty Hale, Victor Herrera, James Montz, and Moore.

"The 'Smurfs', Jason Dorman, Gabe Locke, and Chris Resendez did an excellent job passing in the fourth quarter," said Coach Johnson.

Red Ribbons Symbol of War Against Drugs

Tahoka Lions Club President, Jerry Slover, has announced that next week, Oct. 21-27 will be "Red Ribbon Week".

The National Council on Alcohol and Drug Abuse has declared this week, "Proud to be Drug Free."

The "Red Ribbon Campaign" is dedicated to the memory of law enforcement officers who have died in the line of duty fighting drug dealers and has become a symbol of this nation's war against drugs.

"Like the wearing of yellow ribbons showed support for hostages in Iran and support for our troops in the Gulf War, wearing these Red Ribbons shows you really care about our future as a drug-free society," said Slover.

The local Lions Club is passing out these ribbons and anyone wishing ribbons should contact a local Lions Club member.

BBB To Issue Warning On Loan Scams

South Plains consumers and small business owners are now endangered by a "national epidemic" of bogus loan schemes preying on those experiencing hard times as a result of the recession and the tight credit market, according to the Better Business Bureau.

The scams charge advance fees for "guaranteed" loans and then fail to deliver. The Better Business Bureau of the South Plains will issue "an urgent CBBB National Consumer Alert" on the advance-fee loan scam problem in this area on Oct. 17. The Alert includes tips on how to spot and avoid the current outbreak of illicit loan schemes.

Public Notice

On July 1, 1991, Southwestern Bell Telephone filed an application with the Public Utility Commission of Texas that proposes to delete Paragraph 3.4(G) from Section 3 of Southwestern Bell's intrastate Access Service Tariff, which concerns credits where a customer uses Switched Access Service to furnish a service which has been defined to be an exchange service. The application was assigned Docket No. 10463.

Because Southwestern Bell is not aware of any customers who presently use switched access service to furnish an exchange service, Southwestern Bell does not believe its revenues will be affected. However, certain interexchange carrier customers of switched access service have made claims under the aforementioned tariff. Such customers, but only to the extent they provide an exchange service using switched access, would be affected by this application. Based on claims made for credits (assuming such credits were allowable), Southwestern Bell's revenues would be affected by no more than $1,168,962 annually, which is 0.37 percent of the Company's adjusted revenue for the 12-month period ending December 31, 1990. It is not possible to know how many interexchange carriers might believe themselves entitled to credits, but 189 carriers have registered with the Commission pursuant to PUC Substantive Rule 23.61.

The tariff, after suspension, is proposed to be effective May 1, 1992.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible, but no later than November 15, 1991. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256. This campaign is in memory of the officers who have died in the line of duty. The Red Ribbon Campaign was originated when DEA agent Enrique Camarena was murdered by drug traffickers in 1985. The red ribbon became the symbol behind the nation's war against drugs, just as the yellow ribbon symbolized the hostages and servicemen and women in the Persian Gulf. Texans' War on Drugs is proud to sponsor the fourth Red Ribbon Campaign in the state of Texas.

Dietary Guideline

Typical Grain Product "Servings"

Number of Servings

The U.S. dietary guidelines for the breads, cereal, rice and pasta food group suggest eating six to 11 servings daily. But most Americans are confused about how to count servings and, according to a recent Gallup poll, most eat only four servings a day. Above are serving equivalents for common foods from this group.

recommend we eat six to 11 servings of grain products such as breads, cereals, rice, and pasta daily. This formalized recommendation that many health authorities had been suggesting for nearly a decade.

A recent Gallup Poll shows that pasta, pizza, and breads made America's "top ten" list of favorite foods. Even though we enjoy the taste and variety of grain-based foods, researchers say we're only eating about four servings of grain products daily.

That same Gallup Poll show only 15 percent of Americans plan to increase grain product intake as government guidelines suggest. Although half of us eat more grain products than we did three years ago, we are still eating less than the government guidelines for optimum health.

What seems to be the problem? "We think that most Americans simply don't know that they should be eating more grain products," says Judi Adams, executive director of the Wheat Foods Council, an informative and education group. "When asked, only one-in-three Americans were aware that U.S. Dietary Guidelines had been revised."

Here's a simple way to meet the "six to 11" goal. An English muffin and a small bowl of cereal for breakfast would be three servings. A sandwich or hamburger at lunch would be two more. A one-cup side dish of pasta at dinner, along with a dinner roll, would be three more. Presto, eight servings.

You can easily vary the menu with toast, hot cereals, bagels, muffins, wheat flour tortillas and similar grain-based foods, but go easy on the butter or spreads.

Best of all, eating more vegetables, fruits, and grain products and relatively few calories to our diet can help reduce fat consumption.

Breast Exams

The American Cancer Society advises women 20 to 40 to have a physical examination of the breast every three years. Women over 40 should have their breasts examined by a physician every year.

Knowing What To Eat Still Mystery To Most

Knowing what to eat, and how much, remains a mystery to most Americans.

Despite nearly a decade of public education, we are still consuming too much fat and not enough fiber and complex carbohydrates. This nutritional imbalance is a major cause of America's high rate of obesity and diseases ranging from heart disease to certain forms of cancer.

Despite the confusion, the nutrition mystery doesn't have to go unsolved. A year ago, the government revised its "Dietary Guidelines for Americans" to help us achieve a better balanced diet. The recommendations boil down countless nutritional research reports into one set of easy-to-follow guidelines. Basically, based on these guidelines, we need more fruits, vegetables and grain products to help us increase fiber and complex carbohydrate and cut back on fats.

These guidelines do away with the "Basic Four" food groups that most of us grew up with, by splitting fruits and vegetables into two separate groups. The daily guideline is three to five servings of vegetables, and two to four servings of fruits. The serving size is usually one-half cup (a full cup for raw leafy greens) or one medium apple, orange, or banana.

The guideline also suggests getting two to three dairy product servings and two to three meat/protein servings each day, both including modest, low-fat portions.

Most significantly, the guidelines

Gramm Bill Would Mean Tax Savings For Families

U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm this week previewed a bill that would shift any future savings in the defense budget to "repay the people who actually won the Cold War, the American family."

Gramm's legislation, co-authored by U.S. Sens. John McCain, R-Ariz., and Ted Stevens, R-Alaska, will use half of the savings from future defense spending cuts to finance a much larger personal tax exemption for working taxpayers.

"For instance, a $30 billion defense reduction would add $500 to the current personal exemption of $2,150, reducing an average family's tax bill by thousands of dollars over several years," he said.

The Gramm legislation would split the savings between expanding personal tax exemptions and reducing the federal deficit.

Gramm said it was important to stake out a position in favor of both tax cuts and deficit reduction "before the Congress moves to simply spend the money on government programs that are designed not to leave more money in the pockets of working people, but to win votes in the next election."

"I believe that the American taxpayer, who paid for our investment in peace through strength, now deserves to reap the benefit of any peace dividend," Gramm said.

HIGHEST AWARDS—Jon Hogg, left, was announced as winner of the highest possible county 4-H award, the Gold Star Award, at the annual meeting of the county organization last Wednesday. Eva Gicklhorn and Jason Belew were recipients of the next highest award, the I Dare You plaques.

O'Donnell 4-H Member Gets Gold Star Award

The prestigious Gold Star Award, highest possible award given in 4-H at the county level, was presented to Jon Hogg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Hogg of O'Donnell, as the Lynn County 4-H organization held its annual awards banquet last Wednesday night, Oct. 9, in the Tahoka school cafeteria.

Hogg, a member of 4-H for eight years, has carried projects in veterinary science, swine, leadership, citizenship and sheep. His father was also honored Wednesday night as one of the two outstanding adult leaders in the county during the last year. The other adult leader so honored was Vicki Ashbrook of Tahoka.

Eva Gicklhorn of Wilson and Jason Belew of Tahoka were named as recipients of the I Dare You Awards given each year to the boy and girl in the county organization who have best demonstrated "unusual integrity, balanced personal development and a willingness to assume responsibility." Miss Gicklhorn is the daughter of Lester and Sheri Gicklhorn of Wilson, and Belew is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Denny Belew.

Other top award winners honored at the meeting included:

Outstanding 4-H Alumni Award—Sharon Smith of Tahoka.

Best senior record book—Eva Gicklhorn, 17. Best junior record book—Jason Marshall, 14, of Wilson.

Outstanding First Year 4-H Awards—Casey Donald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Donald, and Lexi Wied, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Wied. Both winners are from Wilson.

The Friend of 4-H Awards to businesses which support the program went to Woolam Gin, Tommy Woolam, manager, and to West Point Gin, Charles Smith, manager.

Jason Belew was master of ceremonies.

More Thefts, Burglaries Investigated

Thefts, burglaries, vandalism and traffic accidents were among reports investigated by law enforcement officers in Lynn County and the City of Tahoka during the last week.

Milton Miller reported his residence a mile east of Tahoka was burglarized on Oct. 10, last Thursday, after a door was kicked open. Items valued at $1890 were stolen, including an RCA TV, Sears microwave, Singer sewing machine, a clarinet, belt buckles, jewelry, a pocket watch, and some commemorative pocket knives.

Bobby Patterson of Tahoka reported a green two-wheel trailer stolen from a field about 8 miles north-east of Tahoka last Thursday or Friday.

Joe Tijerina of Tahoka reported an air compressor and tools, total value $470, had been stolen from a building east of Tahoka between Oct. 6-8. Two tires on Tijerina's pickup and four tires on a Honda vehicle had been slashed also, and a welder valued at $1400 was stolen off a trailer.

A 25-year-old Tahoka man admitted damaging a 1989 Oldsmobile owned by Mary Rivas of Tahoka while it was parked at Lynn County Hospital last Saturday. An antenna was broken, and the hood was scratched and dented. Misdemeanor charges are anticipated, according to Tahoka Police Dept.

On Sunday, Oct. 13, at the intersection of U.S. 87 east access road and Lockwood St., a 1984 Chevrolet pickup driven by Willis Clinton Tongate, 78, of Brownwood, and a 1988 Chevrolet driven by John Nelson Walker, 50, of Lubbock collided. There were no injuries requiring treatment at the time.

Also last Sunday, about 5 p.m., a 1981 Ford pickup driven by Kenneth Rockwell Turner of Tahoka struck the wall of two buildings on the north side of Harper St. between Main and Ave. J. Damage to the buildings owned by Mike Lankford and J.E. Nance was estimated at $500 each. Turner was taken to University Medical Center for treatment of facial and shoulder injuries and released from the hospital.

In jail during the week were two persons for theft by check and one for driving while intoxicated, second offense.

GOING TO THE WORLD SERIES—Robert Abbe Jr., second from left, and his son, Kevin, 10, in front, will be going to Minneapolis Saturday, Oct. 19 for the first game of the World Series between the Twins and the National League champions. Mrs. Mildred Abbe, shown next to Tony the Tiger, won the trip, all expenses paid for two, when she bought a box of Kellogg's Frosted Mini-Wheats at Thriftway Supermarket in Tahoka July 18. Inside the box was one of the 100 winning trips given nationwide by Kellogg's, with free travel, lodging, tickets to one game, and expense money for two. She gave the trips to her son and grandson. In the photo above are, left to right, Thriftway manager Steve Sanders, Abbe, Kevin, "Tony", Mrs. Abbe and Johnny McCanlies of Lubbock, a representative of the Kellogg company.

Board Gives Okay To Repair Gym Roof, Hire New Teacher

by JUANELL JONES

Tahoka I.S.D. Board of Trustees met last Thursday night, Oct. 10 in the Elementary Learning Resource Center and gave Superintendent Dr. Duane Carter the go-ahead to initiate advertising bids to repair the high school gym roof and to hire another teacher to replace Kindergarten teacher Tracy McCracken, who is resigning in December.

The board heard an architect's report on the gym roof, and were told that an initial estimate to re-roof and replace some of the skylights on the leaky roof would be about $35,000, and that the work could be completed without any interruption in gym activities. Board members voted unanimously to advertise for bids to repair the roof so that the work could be completed as soon as possible.

Kindergarten teachers Clalene Newman, Tina Wuensche, Becky Henley and Tracy McCracken were present at the meeting, and they presented to the board their reasons for replacing Miss McCracken with another teacher when she resigns at the end of December, instead of combining the present four Kindergarten classes into three classes.

Elementary Principal Molly Helmlinger gave a presentation to the board on the scheduling problems which would occur with combining the classes at mid-term, and she and the teachers gave an overview on Kindergarten education.

After about an hour and a half discussion, Dr. Carter expressed to the board his desire to hire another teacher and keep the four separate classes in Kindergarten for the remainder of the school term, and the board unanimously gave their approval. Miss McCracken will resign at the end of December, and will be moving to Midland.

In other business, Joe Hays of Love, Hays & Co. presented the annual audit report to trustees, and it was approved as presented. Bookkeeper Loretta Tekell gave a financial report, and the board voted to pay

Struggling Teams Will Meet Here Friday Night

By DALTON WOOD

Two struggling football teams, with identical 1-5 records for the season, will meet here Friday night as the Post Antelopes come to town, no doubt with visions of improving their record at the expense of the Tahoka Bulldogs.

The Bulldogs lost 28-0 to Crosbyton last Friday, playing some pretty good defense, but showing an anemic offense and poor punting game. A good effort against Post, however, could result in another badly-needed win for the Cogs. Last Friday Post lost to New Deal 30-26.

Crosbyton's Jerome Lang, at over 6 feet and weighing 220, was just too much of a load for the Tahoka defense, although they contained him most of the time. He scored on runs of 1 and 38 yards and had several runs of 12 or 13 yards.

Tahoka's pass defense was good, with the Bulldogs intercepting four Crosbyton passes. Mike Burleson and Juan Luna intercepted passes in the first quarter, and this helped keep the game scoreless until Abel Valdez of the Chieftains ran 6 for a TD. Cory

Don Whitley intercepted a pass in the second period and Luna got his second interception in the third.

The score was 14-0 at halftime and 21-0 at the end of the third. Tahoka had one punt blocked, and three other punts went for 14, 7 and 5 yards, setting up scores for Crosbyton. This game was the first this season in which Tahoka failed to score.

Stacy Adams recovered a fumble for Tahoka in the fourth period. Brian Moore gained 32 yards in 13 carries and Billy Wilborn gained 33 in 11 carries, but losses resulted in a net yardage of just 39 yards for the team; Tahoka's best yardage came from the officials, who penalized Crosbyton 12 times for 120 yards. Wilborn had some good defensive plays.

Woodwork...

OVER THE WEEKEND we received a few tidbits of interesting information from the Texas Dept. of Agriculture about emu oil, pumpkins, lean beef and mohair.

Actually the lean beef stuff comes from the Texas Beef Industry Council, which says that the hottest food item in American restaurants and supermarkets today is beef that is more than 90 percent lean, developed by the industry for the benefit of those who want to reduce the fat content in their diet (which is just about everybody except those who live on bird seed and raw cabbage).

The release said McDonald's offers a McLean Deluxe and that Texas supermarkets now offer the specially blended low-fat ground beef. The beef reportedly looks like other ground beef but costs about 30 cents a pound more, a price most of us cholesterholics would be glad to pay, if it's healthier.

An emu is an Australian bird related to an ostrich. The Texas Ag Dept. says oils from emu can cure many ills, and in Australia is used to relieve dry skin, arthritis and joint and muscle aches.

An emu costs about $7500, so you have to ache pretty bad to kill one for its oil, I would think.

And three South Plains counties are the top pumpkin-producing counties in the state, says Ag Commissioner Rick Perry, who visited Floydada, billed as the "pumpkin capital of the world." Floyd County has about 800 acres of pumpkins, Hale County 500 and Bailey about 200 acres. These three counties bring in about half a million dollars a year in pumpkin sales.

We didn't know that pumpkins shipped all over the nation came from the South Plains, nor did we know that Texas, according to TDA, is the largest mohair producer in the world. Most of this stuff comes from an area surrounding Sonora, and TDA says Texas produces about 15 million pounds of mohair each year from Angora goats.

Texas supplies 90 percent of the U.S. market and 42 percent of the world's mohair.

This is a lot more than I had ever heard on the subject. If I need additional information, I will contact boxing promoter Don King or country singer Crystal Gayle. They've got mohair than anybody.

PROMOTED IN CITY JOBS—David Graves has been named Tahoka City Water Superintendent and Judy Woodard has been promoted to the position of City Secretary. (LYNN COUNTY NEWS PHOTO)

O'Donnell Homecoming Planned

Plans are underway for the O'Donnell High School Homecoming Oct. 25-26. The classes of 1966 and 1941 are the Honor Classes this year.

Kicking off the festivities will be a bonfire at 8 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 24. This will be held on the football field parking lot, north of the high school campus.

On Friday, Oct. 25, the activities start off with a pep rally in the high school gym at 3 p.m. A hamburger supper, sponsored by the O'Donnell Livestock Ass. will begin at 5:30 in the agricultural building, south of the football field. It will last until game time.

The O'Donnell Eagles will host

the Anton Bulldogs at 7:30 p.m. at Johnson Field. After the game, the Ex-Students ass. will host a reception in the commons area of the high school. Other class receptions are being planned and will be announced at the football game.

Saturday's activities begin at 11 a.m. on the town square with the Third Annual Cottonfest. Food booths, arts and crafts, entertainment and other activities will be provided. At 2 p.m. a parade will wind through town with the honor classes, 1991 Homecoming Queen and candidates, O.H.S. Band, past Homecoming Queens, and many more participating.

The homecoming banquet will start at 6 p.m. in the school cafeteria. This is for all ex-students of O'Donnell schools. The weekend of activities concludes with a street dance on the town square, beginning at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

FIRE SAFETY PRESENTATION - Several members of the Tahoka Volunteer Fire Dept. gave fire safety presentations at Tahoka Elementary School last week during National Fire Prevention Week. In this photo, volunteer fireman Clint Gardner shows the water hose from the fire truck to a group of Kindergarten and first grade students after he talked to them about fire escape procedures for home. He encouraged all the children to go home and ask their parents to plan a fire escape from the children's bedrooms and gave them brochures containing safety tips and escape procedures. The Fire Dept. gave the presentation to all elementary classes. (LYNN COUNTY NEWS PHOTO)

Monthly Sales Taxes To Cities Is Reported

"Roughly 81 percent of this month's local sales tax rebate to Texas cities and counties was sent through an electronic funds transfer program," State Comptroller John Sharp said today, announcing total rebates of approximately $100 million for the month.

"Electronic funds transfer provides local governments instant access to their money and the state saves on the cost of paper, envelopes and postage," Sharp said.

The city of O'Donnell received $6,14.75 for this period, bringing the total to $9,645.50 for the year. This is an increase of 6%.

Tahoka received $54477.03, bringing its total to $48,364.71. This is an increase of 14%.

Wilson did not receive any for this period but has a total of $3,768.99 for the year to date.

This month's payments to 105 counties reached $10.5 million for year-to-date total of almost $113 million, an increase of 17% over 1990's total at this time.

October's payment to cities, counties, hospital districts and city transit departments include taxes collected on August sales and reported in September by businesses filing monthly sales tax returns with the state. Businesses file either monthly, quarterly, or annually depending on the amount of sales tax they collect.

Merchants collect the state's 6 1/4 % state sales tax and any local sales taxes levied in the area and send them to the Comptroller's Office with their tax returns. The state retains its share and returns to cities, counties, and other taxing entities their local portion of the sales tax.

Lee Rash Wins Football Contest

Lee Rash of Tahoka won the Lynn County News football contest printed in last week's edition, missing only one game on the list, as did Freddy Riddle, but he came closest in the tie-breaker score between San Diego and the LA Rams to win the $5 contest money.

This week's contest can be found in this edition, and should be turned in to the News Office by 4 p.m. Friday.

County Heart Association Given Project Update

The Board of Directors of Lynn County Heart Assn. met Oct. 8 in the Board Room of Lynn County Hospital with President, Sylvia Chapa, in charge.

Carolyn Kennedy, District Coordinator for Heart Association activities in the Lubbock area was present and updated Lynn County Directors on progress in research and education programs financed by Heart Association. She emphasized that the American Heart Assn. has completed efforts to provide educational materials to all public and private schools in Texas for grades Kindergarten through 12 with the recent distribution of "Heart Challenges" to High Schools in Tahoka, O'Donnell, Wilson, and New Home. Educational materials have been given to all lower grade schools in previous years.

Goals, fund raising, promotion and educational activities for the Lynn County Unit of Heart Assn. were discussed and dates for two fund raising events were finalized.

The annual Turkey Walk will be held in the Mini Park on Saturday, Nov. 2 with registration from 8 to 9 a.m. This is one of the big money-raising events for Lynn County Heart Assn. and everyone is encouraged to participate. For further information on the Turkey Walk people may contact Sylvia Chapa during business hours at 628-6551.

On the evening of Nov. 21 Heart Association members will be involved in a telepledge to help raise funds to meet the Lynn County goal of $8,500. "This goal is only a little over one dollar for each Lynn County citizen, but it takes real work and lots of help to reach the goal," said Mrs. Chapa.

Out of the Woods

The wayward thoughts of Juanell (Wood) Jones

Let's talk about weird stuff I've been reading a book at home about unexplained mysteries which includes stories about strange occurrences like spontaneous human combustion (ouch), sudden appearances and disappearances of people and buildings, UFO sightings, ghosts, zombies, the Bermuda triangle, and a whole bunch of other stuff that no one can explain to any degree of satisfaction.

It makes for pretty interesting stories, but I have a hard time believing in most of this stuff. I am a real skeptic when it comes to things like this, although I have seen some actual disappearances myself. There have been several occasions when I've gone to get my purse and all the money has disappeared out of it, and nobody claims to know anything about it.

The ghost stories are entertaining, but I must say I'd have to see one to believe it. My husband says that a house he lived in between Slaton and Wilson when he was a small child was haunted. Uh huh. The house had a staircase on the back wall which led up to the attic, and several times they heard unexplainable noises coming from there.

He said it got to the point one time when his father got a gun and went upstairs to see what was causing all the racket. He didn't find anything, but the noises continued. They were the last family who lived in the house, moving away when my husband was a child.

He took me there to see the house after we were married, and although it is a perfect setting for a ghost, the ramshackle old house didn't scare up any ghosts for us. I was disappointed. And relieved.

The most interesting stories to me are the ones about UFO sightings. When we were teenagers in the early 70's, there was quite a bit of attention given to UFO sightings, and we'd go out to the golf course and watch the sky, just wishing for something exciting to happen. For the benefit of those reading this column who may be my parents, we were only watching the sky. Really.

We saw lots of moving lights in the sky, but never anything that we thought could qualify as a UFO. We did, however, have lots of entertaining discussions about life while we were sitting on the hoods of our cars. It's a great memory.

Most of the unusual occurrences have had movies made about them, and they end up looking like a science fiction tale, sort of like what used to run on the Twilight Zone or The Outer Limits show that Rod Serling used to introduce about weird tales.

Nowadays, the movies are more sophisticated and can scare the living daylights out of me. The first time I saw the movie Alien I chewed my fingernails down to my elbows. If there are actually UFOs from other planets that visit Earth, I hope that ugly Alien critter is not on it. I'd have to send my husband to defend me. He'd probably thump it on the back and tell it to quit making funny noises, like he does to our refrigerator. That man can fix anything!

Well, I'm sorry I don't have a "real" amazing tale to tell you. Maybe I can make one up for you, and publish my own book. Send money.

SENSIBLE DIETING

A healthful way to diet? Drink a glass of fruit juice: orange, apple, grape, pineapple, etc. 1/2 to 1 hour before meals. It will suppress your appetite. A study at Yale Univ. found that overweight men ate 300 fewer calories at lunch - women ate 430 fewer calories. Fructose drinks work better than glucose plus water, diet soda, or plain water. With fructose drinks you will consume fewer total calories at mealtimes, but will ingest health-building nutrients, vitamins and minerals - a win-win situation.

4-H Clover Kids To Meet Here Monday

The Lynn County 4-H Clover Kids will have their first meeting this fall Monday, Oct. 21 at 5:30 p.m. at the Lyntegar Electric Meeting Room. Current and new members are invited and encouraged to attend.

The "Super Duper 4-H Clover Kids" club is an informal educational program for young children ages four through eight. These young people develop the confidence, social skills, decision making abilities, acquire knowledge, and physical skills that will lead to a more productive life.

County Extension Agent Donna Peters said the Clover Kids group is a place where kindergarten through second grade youth, parents, and leaders have fun, learn to work together in club meetings, activities, and special events.

The program is centered around the family. All parents are encouraged to become involved in their child's 4-H Clover Kids club. This re-emphasizes the concept that 4-H is truly a family affair.

The Clover Kids program is supported by 4-H educational materials provided through the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University. The program is made possible through the cooperative efforts of the United States Department of Agriculture, Texas A&M University System, and the Lynn County Commissioners' Court.

All education programs conducted by the Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, handicap, or national origin. For more information about the 4-H Clover Kids program contact any of the club managers: Roddy and Marci Gandy (998-5458), Danny and Amy Preston (998-5365), John and Lisa Hawthorn (327-5276), Steve and Carol Miller (998-5215), or Math and Linda Bartley (998-4650). SPS Honored In New York For Management And Leadership Electrical World magazine honored SPS last Wednesday, Oct. 2, as the national winner of its 1991 James H. McGraw Award for management and leadership.

Chairman and Chief Executive Officer Bill Helton accepted the honor's commemorative medallion on behalf of all employees at a ceremony in New York City during the magazine's annual Executive Round Table of industry leaders.

The McGraw Award, named after the founder of the McGraw-Hill Publishing Company, is presented annually "for the purpose of giving public recognition and expressing industry appreciation of the contribution to the advancement of the electrical industry."

McGraw-Hill is the publisher of Electrical World as well as other magazines, including BusinessWeek. In singling out SPS, Electrical World's Editor-In-Chief William Hayes said the award honors the company for:

- Effectively pursuing a policy of "dynamic conservatism" that has produced rate reductions in each of the last seven years.

- Gaining a rating of excellence in service from 97% of its customers as opposed to an industry average of 73%.

- Earning awards in two states for its economic development efforts (SPS actively participates in two economic development coalitions: The High Ground of Texas and the Business Quarter of New Mexico).

- Raising interest coverage to almost five times (a measure of how well the company controls debt).

- Winning EPA and national attention for its pioneering environmental efforts (such as SPS's development of air quality control equipment for power plants, conservation of fresh water, marketing of coal ash and other achievements).

Nominations are not solicited. Electrical World monitors the industry and selects appropriate winners. Last year's winner was Florida Power & Light Company.

Southwestern Public Service Company primarily provides electric service to a population of about one million in a 52,000-square-mile area comprising eastern and southeastern New Mexico, the South Plains and Panhandle of Texas, the Oklahoma Panhandle and southwestern Kansas. Corporate headquarters is in Amarillo.

There is no membership fee but each member is usually responsible for financing his or her own projects. 4-H is the youth phase of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Members may be found in urban, suburban, and rural areas. 4-H is a non-profit, educational program which is open to all youth regardless of race, color, religion, or national origin.

Boys and girls 9-19 take part in 4-H by joining a 4-H club. A 4-H club is a group of boys and girls who participate in 4-H projects, run their own club, elect officers, and develop their own program with the help of adult volunteer leaders. Improving leadership and citizenship are two of the greatest benefits of 4-H club membership. Above all, 4-H is educational. 4-H explores everything from rabbits to rockets, from canning to camping, from square dancing to veterinary science.

Crowning of this year's Homecoming Queen and King will take place during the halftime activities.

Other Homecoming activities include a bonfire and pep rally on Thursday night when the junior high and junior varsity players return from their game at Ropes. Friday's activities will start with a downtown parade at 2:30 and be followed by an all-school pep rally in the gym at 3 p.m.

The Junior Class will be holding an enchilada dinner in the cafeteria at 5:30 p.m. before the Homecoming game, and will continue serving after the game. Cost for the full meal is $4 for adults and $3 for students.

The New Home Junior High played Smyer at New Home for its first District game on Oct. 10. The team won 27-0. The High School JV also played Smyer, coming away with a close win, 39-34. Their next games will be at Ropes on Oct. 17.

Parents and grandparents are invited to an Open House Cookout on Tuesday, Oct. 22. Elementary lunch will be served from 11-11:30 a.m. and high school lunch from 12-12:30 p.m. Adult plates are $1.50 and children's lunches are $1.

The second place recipes that were entered by the FFA students are as follows:

Coach Field has taught history and coached for two years previous to New Home; 1989-1990 was at Dell City, Texas and 1990-1991 at Kermit, Texas.

Coach Field said that he came to New Home because he likes a small town atmosphere, and the South Plains area. He also commented that "New Home has always had a winning tradition," and that he could see that carried over to the kids today. "That's what impresses me," he said.

Wilson News

The 1991 Red Ribbon Campaign is scheduled for Oct. 19-27. This year's theme is "Proud to Be . . . Drug-Free." The purpose of the Red Ribbons Campaign is to present a unified and visible commitment toward a drug free Texas.

This campaign is in memory of the officers who have died in the line of duty. The Red Ribbon Campaign was originated when DEA agent Enrique Camarena was murdered by drug traffickers in 1985. The red ribbon became the symbol behind the nation's war against drugs, just as the yellow ribbon symbolized the hostages and servicemen and women in the Persian Gulf. Texans' War on Drugs is proud to sponsor the fourth Red Ribbon Campaign in the state of Texas.

This year the Wilson FHA chapter, Lion's Club, and Sandra Stabeno, school nurse, are sponsor's for the project. This will be the FHA chapter's third year to sponsor it. Several activities have been planned for the week. They are as follows:

Monday - Program given by Jim Cline, with the March of Dimes, Red Sock Day - "Sock it to drugs", locker decorating contest, coloring contest for the elementary.

Tuesday - program for the elementary, "Kiss drugs good-bye" (everyone brings Hershey's kisses and gives them to their friends.)

Wednesday - Program given by Charter Plains Hospital, wearred day, "BYOB" lunch activity for high school and junior high students (will be discussed at school with students)

Thursday - Judge locker and coloring contests, "Let's lick the alcohol problem" (everyone should bring suckers to share with their friends).

Friday - "Hugs not drugs" day, "Boot drugs out of your life" (everyone should wear boots on this day if they have them)

FHA is also sponsoring a house decorating contest for the town's people. The contest will be judged on Thursday, Oct. 24. Anyone wishing to participate needs to contact Malinda Isham by Wednesday, Oct. 23. She may be reached at home (628-6283) or at school (628-6201).

"Everyone is encouraged to participate in the Drug-Free week activities. Join the party - drug free!"

Monday (Oct. 14) was the beginning of the 2nd six weeks of the 1991-92 school year.

The Wilson Mustangs met and defeated the Southland Eagles Friday, Oct. 4. The game was called in the third quarter due to the 45 point rule with a score of 68-8. This game was the first district game for Wilson. The Mustangs are now 5-1 overall and 1-0 in District. Friday, Oct. 18, will be Wilson's Homecoming against the Smyer Bobcats starting at 7 p.m. with coronation of Homecoming king and queen.

The Junior High football team played Southland here Thursday. The Jr. High team came away with their second win for the season with a score of 31-0. The Jr. High team will play at Smyer, Thursday Oct. 17 at 5 p.m.

The Wilson High School band traveled to Denver City, Saturday, Oct. 12 for a marching contest. The band did not place but according to band director Alan Gregory, the band learned a lot.

The band will travel to Jones Stadium for the Texas Tech Marching Festival, Saturday, Oct. 19. The band will be marching right around 10 a.m.

The band will be competing in the U.I.L. marching contest at Texas Tech, Tues. Oct. 22. The band will be marching at 10:12 a.m. "Any encouragement for the band is more than welcome during these contests and other events."

Homecoming 1991 is this week. Thursday, starting at 7:30 p.m. is the Homecoming parade, followed by the Homecoming pep rally and bonfire. Any entries in the parade need to be at the baseball park at 7 p.m. Coronation will be at 7 p.m. Friday, Oct. 18, before pregame activities at the Wilson football field.

The class of 1971 will be honored this year for Homecoming on their 20th year reunion.

The Wilson Lions Club will be sponsoring the annual Homecoming Bar-B-Que dinner, Friday, Oct. 18, beginning at 5 p.m. and ending at 7 p.m. Tickets are $3 for children 12 and under and $5 for adults. Proceeds will go toward the Lions Club activities.

If you ordered a Homecoming mum from the Wilson FHA, you will need to pick them up Friday, Oct. 18, after school, at 3:45 p.m.

Wilson Exes will be getting together at the Mercantile, after the Homecoming game. Coffee and doughnuts will be served. All Exes are invited to come and renew old friendships.

Wilson PTO met on Monday night, Oct. 14 in the high school auditorium. New officers were introduced and goals and desires for the school year were discussed. It was announced that there would be a "Santa's Workshop" again this year and that it would be close to Christmas.

A Halloween carnival will be held on Oct. 31 from 7 p.m. until 9:30 p.m. After the meeting, refreshments were served in the cafeteria and all the elementary faculty was present for a "meet-the-teachers" event.

The next meeting was announced for Dec. 9 at 7 p.m.

The City of Wilson City Council has announced that as of Oct. 15, Judge H.W. Edwards of Tahoka will assume the duties of the Judge of the Municipal Court of the City of Wilson, in addition to his duties as Justice of the Peace. Judge Edwards will set up a schedule to be in Wilson which will be announced as soon as it is available. In addition, he will be on call as needed, within reason. Mrs. Naoma Moore will be the Judge's clerk in the City Hall on a daily basis.

The City of Wilson street department is in the process of putting new caliche on all of the unpaved streets in town. This job is almost complete and there has been a marked improvement in the quality of these streets. "Thanks to Roy and group."

The City has announced that it will begin a project to get new street signs on all of the street corners in town. In addition to being a convenience to all in town, this is a "must" for the quality of service that is expected from the new 9-1-1 system.

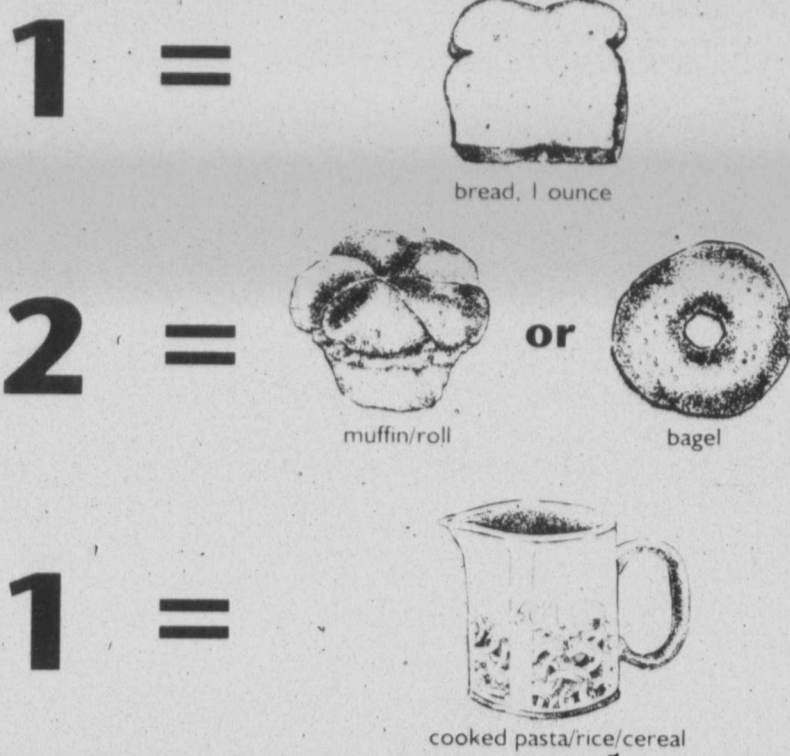

Victor Steinhauer and Jackie Bishop have been designated as the City representatives to the Lynn County Landfill Committee. This group has the task of governing and controlling the activities concerning the disposal of solid waste under the new EPA guidelines.

Dietary Guideline

Typical Grain Product "Servings"

Number of Servings

The U.S. dietary guidelines for the breads, cereal, rice and pasta food group suggest eating six to 11 servings daily. But most Americans are confused about how to count servings and, according to a recent Gallup poll, most eat only four servings a day. Above are serving equivalents for common foods from this group.

Knowing What To Eat Still Mystery To Most

Knowing what to eat, and how much, remains a mystery to most Americans.

Despite nearly a decade of public education, we are still consuming too much fat and not enough fiber and complex carbohydrates. This nutritional imbalance is a major cause of America's high rate of obesity and diseases ranging from heart disease to certain forms of cancer.

Despite the confusion, the nutrition mystery doesn't have to go unsolved. A year ago, the government revised its "Dietary Guidelines for Americans" to help us achieve a better balanced diet. The recommendations boil down to countless nutritional research reports into one set of easy-to-follow s. Basically, based on these guidelines, we need more fruits, vegetables and grain products to help us increase fiber and complex carbohydrates and cut back on fats.

These guidelines do away with the "Basic Four" food groups that most of us grew up with, by splitting fruits and vegetables into two separate groups. The daily guideline is three to five servings of vegetables, and two to four servings of fruits. The serving size is usually one-half cup (a full cup for raw leafy greens) or one medium apple, orange, or banana.

The guideline also suggests getting two to three dairy product servings and two to three meat/protein servings each day, both including modest, low-fat portions.

Most significantly, the guidelines recommend we eat six to 11 servings of grain products such as breads, cereals, rice, and pasta daily. This formalized a recommendation that many health authorities had been suggesting for nearly a decade.

A recent Gallup Poll shows that pasta, pizza, and breads made America's "top ten" list of favorite foods. Even though we enjoy the taste and variety of grain-based foods, researchers say we're only eating about four servings of grain products daily.

That same Gallup Poll show only 15 percent of Americans plan to increase grain product intake as government guidelines suggest. Although half of us eat more grain products than we did three years ago, we are still eating less than the government guidelines for optimum health.

What seems to be the problem?

"We think that most Americans simply don't know that they should be eating more grain products," says Judi Adams, executive director of the Wheat Foods Council, an informative and education group. "When asked, only one-in-three Americans were aware that U.S. Dietary Guidelines had been revised."

Here's a simple way to meet the "six to 11" goal. An English muffin and a small bowl of cereal for breakfast would be three servings. A sandwich or hamburger at lunch would be two more. A one-cup side dish of pasta at dinner, along with a dinner roll, would be three more. Presto, eight servings.

You can easily vary the menu with toast, hot cereals, bagels, muffins, wheat flour tortillas and similar grain-based foods, but go easy on the butter or spreads.

Best of all, eating more vegetables, fruits, and grain products and relatively few calories to our diet can help reduce fat consumption.

Breast Exams

The American Cancer Society advises women 20 to 40 to have a physical examination of the breast every three years. Women over 40 should have their breasts examined by a physician every year.

Gramm Bill Would Mean Tax Savings For Families

U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm this week previewed a bill that would shift any future savings in the defense budget to "repay the people who actually won the Cold War, the American family."

Gramm's legislation, co-authored by U.S. Sens. John McCain, R-Ariz., and Ted Stevens, R-Alaska, will use half of the savings from future defense spending cuts to finance a much larger personal tax exemption for working taxpayers.

"For instance, a $30 billion defense reduction would add $500 to the current personal exemption of $2,150, reducing an average family's tax bill by thousands of dollars over several years," he said.

The Gramm legislation would split the savings between expanding personal tax exemptions and reducing the federal deficit.

Gramm said it was important to stake out a position in favor of both tax cuts and deficit reduction "before the Congress moves to simply spend the money on government programs that are designed not to leave more money in the pockets of working people, but to win votes in the next election."

"I believe that the American taxpayer, who paid for our investment in peace through strength, now deserves to reap the benefit of any peace dividend," Gramm said.

If You Find a Lump

If a lump or dimple or discharge is discovered during breast self-examination (BSE), it is important to see your doctor as soon as possible, advises the American Cancer Society. Most breast lumps or changes are not cancer, but only your doctor can make the diagnosis.

These Fruity Granola Cookies which were developed using the KitchenAid stand mixer, quickly became a favorite of everyone that tasted one. They are packed full of dried fruit, raisins, walnuts and sure to be a hit at your next family outing.

Every family has a recipe that memories are made of and the home economists at KitchenAid developed this recipe for you and yours. So whether you are going to a nearby park, grandma's house or your own backyard, enjoy the memories.

FRUITY GRANOLA COOKIES

- ¾ cup margarine
- 1 cup brown sugar
- ½ cup sugar
- 2 eggs
- 1 tablespoon grated lemon peel
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1½ cups all-purpose flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- ½ teaspoon baking soda
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 3 cups quick-cooking oats
- 1 container (7 oz.) dried mixed fruit, chopped fine
- 1 cup chopped walnuts
- 1 cup raisins

Place margarine, sugars, eggs, lemon peel, and vanilla in bowl. Attach bowl and flat beater. Turn to Speed 4 and mix for 2 minutes. Sift flour, baking powder, baking soda, and salt together. Gradually add flour mixture to sugar mixture on Stir Speed. Increase to Speed 2 and beat for 30 seconds. Stop and scrape bowl. Add oatmeal on Speed 2 and mix for 15 seconds. Add mixed fruit, walnuts, and mix for 30 seconds. Drop by tablespoonfuls on greased baking sheet, 2 inches apart. Bake at 375° F for 12 to 15 minutes. Yield: 4½ dozen cookies.
