Cocaine In Box Brings Arrest Of Man Here

A 35-year-old Dallas man was arrested after a quantity of cocaine was found in his possession by Lynn County sheriff's officers, who took two rock-like items from a cardboard box reportedly in the suspect's possession. The substance tested out as cocaine, officers reported, and the man was held in jail here before being taken to McKinney, where charges had been filed on him. Charges in Lynn County apparently are pending action by a grand jury.

Deputies processed three incidents related to domestic problems, including a report in which an O'Donnell man complained that another O'Donnell resident shot at him twice. Another report was from a Wilson mother of a 14-year-old youth who said another Wilson resident Saturday night threatened to kill her son if the boy again came near the home of the man and his daughter. A third incident involved the complaint of a Wilson resident that another Wilson man had been making harassing telephone calls to his home.

No charges were filed in any of the incidents.

In jail during the week were two persons on charges of driving while intoxicated, first offense, for judgement and sentencing. Also one person each on the following charges: Probation violation from Collin County, driving while license suspended (judgement and sentencing), no seat belt plus failure to appear, unlawfully carrying a weapon plus no drivers license, failure to appear on DWI charge, judgement and sentencing on two counts of DWI.

Happy 100th Birthday On August 30, 1992

"Grannie" Riddle To Celebrate 100th Birthday On August 30

A reception this Sunday, Aug. 30, at Tahoka Care Center will mark the 100th year of life for Mrs. Vivian Miranda (Perkins) Riddle, now referred to as "Grannie" by those who know her. Her family invites those wishing to share in honoring "Grannie" Riddle to visit her at the Care Center from 2:30 until 4 p.m. Sunday.

Mrs. Riddle was born Aug. 30, 1892 in Murfreesboro, Tennessee, to John Luther and Emma Hefflin Perkins. At that time, Benjamin Harris was President of the United States, and a century later Mrs. Riddle can claim to have lived under the leadership of 19 presidents.

She saw many changes in her lifetime, including the invention of the telephone, television, electricity in homes, and witnessing through television journeys through space and a man walking on the moon.

She came to Texas in a covered wagon as a child, and eloped to be married in a horse-drawn buggy. She rode in an automobile for the first time as a young mother, and in later years, as a grandmother, she rode in an airplane.

She saw her country through many wars, living through the horrors of World War I and II, and many others.

She married Ollie Riddle on May 12, 1909, when he borrowed the family buggy, had someone forge his child bride's signature, and fibbed about his own age in order to marry the young lady whom he had known most all his life and with whom he had never been alone on a date. The couple, then 16 and 17 years old, stole away to a preacher's home nearby and were married.

The couple had five children, all born in Ellis County, and all of whom celebrated their 50th wedding anniversaries. Ollie and Vivian celebrated 67 years together before he died March 7, 1977.

During World War II, Ollie and three sons worked in the ship building industry at Beaumont. Ollie and Vivian moved to Lynn County in 1945. In '46, the Riddles moved to Tahoka from the Wilson community, where he was a night watchman and was later a Rawleigh Products dealer. Several years later, they bought a home in Wilson and lived there, where they were members of the First Baptist Church, until he came to live in a nursing home in Tahoka in 1975 and she in January of 1976.

There are 151 descendants of the couple, including five children (one son, Thornton Roy, died in 1986), 28 grandchildren, 74 great-grandchildren, and 44 great-great-grandchildren. One son, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Riddle, and a daughter-in-law, Rogers Riddle, live in Tahoka. Other children are Luther Riddle of Italy, Tx., Harvey Riddle of Garland, and Ola Mae Christopher of Lubbock.

Though now confined to the nursing home, Grannie's family says she had a talent for growing plants and flowers, and when "resting" her hands were never idle, busy with crocheting and handwork.

She had five brothers and three sisters, and those remaining are Roy Perkins of San Antonio, Herick and Heurick Perkins of Slaton, and Eunice Woosley of Plains.

Cal Huffaker addressed the council to seek input on a project being considered by the Lynn County committee of the Wes-Tex Resource Conservation and Development (RC&D) Council.

Federally funded through the USDA, the RC&D committee has access to seek funding from various grant sources for a wide variety of projects, one of which is a new fire hall/community center in Tahoka and funding for a new fire truck. City officials were interested in the project, and agreed by general consensus to offer assistance in providing engineering reports and cost projections for the project.

This project was offered to Tahoka citizens in a bond election several years ago, which voters turned down. "This is something which we will, eventually, have to look at anyway," said Solomon, "and if there's any grant money available for the project then we'll be that much better off. The fire department needs a new fire truck, but our current building doesn't allow space for housing the newer, bigger models."

Huffaker told the group he may have more information concerning the RC&D project at the next council meeting.

Council members Mike Mensch, Carl Reynolds, Joe Calvillo and Dayton Parker were present at the meeting, along with Solomon, City Manager Barry Pittman and guests Cal Huffaker and Juanell Jones.

Woodwork... by Dalton

I HAVE NO idea how many square feet there are in the South Plains Mall, but I do know there are lots of sore feet. I am not walking all that well now, and in the past I never did walk as well as most people, but I do know that even folks who like to walk get tired stomping around the mall trying to save 50 cents on some sale item.

Surely if I would bother to call the mall, they'd tell me how many square feet there are, but anyway, I'm sure the mall in Lubbock is small compared to one I read about this week. Bloomington, Minn. is the site of the Mall of America, termed "the largest shopping and entertainment center in the nation."

At 4.2 million square feet, it probably can wear out shoppers at a record rate. Anyway, said the story, "it is 27 times the size of the Lincoln Memorial and big enough to hold 32 Boeing 747s." It features hundreds of stores and restaurants. Also, there is a 7-acre amusement park, Camp Snoopy, in the center of the mall, and it also has 23 rides and attractions, including a miniature golf course.

Those people who hate to go to the mall in Lubbock (mostly husbands) would do well to avoid larger malls, including the one in Minnesota, where a man could probably drop his wife at the front entrance and not see her or his credit cards again for several days.

Trouble is, it's hard to avoid malls. Every city of 10,000 or more population has at least one, and the larger cities have several.

It's a mall world.

KNOTHOLES: We're told that between 1900 and 1991 Americans over age 65 increased tenfold. I'm not quite that age, but I've increased tenfold since about 1935; I'll really have to watch it when I reach 65. . . Dr. Lewis Gould, history professor at UT Austin, who will teach a course this fall called "First Ladies in the 20th Century," says that people want their president's wife to be the traditional "stand-behind-your-man" helpmate, adding that "our society doesn't like strong, assertive women who have their own ideas." A lot of folks, including a couple of the current potential first ladies, might contest that statement. Most women nowadays are not accepting the former male philosophy of "Keep 'em pregnant, barefoot and in the kitchen, and don't let them have no books to read."

Dogs, Anton Break Even In Scrimmage

Tahoka's varsity Bulldogs scrimmaged the Anton Bulldogs in Anton last week, with each set of Bulldogs coming up with two scores.

"The boys did okay in some areas, but there certainly are some things we need to work on," Coach Chris Wigington commented. This week the Bulldogs will scrimmage Hart in Hale Center at 6:30 p.m.

Tahoka apparently did a pretty good job of stopping the run on defense, but a couple of passes by Anton led to scores. The Tahoka first team and Anton first team tied 1-1, as did the two second teams.

Public Hearing Set Today For County

There will be a public hearing at 10 a.m. today (Thursday) in the Lynn County Courthouse for the 1993 proposed county budget, after which commissioners will vote on adopting the proposed budget.

Total expenditures on the proposed budget is $1,578,814, with an additional debt principal of $53,082, compared to last year's budget of $1,590,158 with a debt principal of $62,282. The debt principal is to pay off road equipment.

County Treasurer Janet Porterfield noted that with a proposed tax rate of 49.8 cents per $100 valuation (up almost 10 cents from

by JUANELL JONES

Tahoka City Council members adopted a $367,595 budget for 1993 in a special session Monday night, followed quickly by a unanimous vote to keep the city tax rate at the current level of 54.2 cents per $100 valuation, an action sure to receive approval from residents of Tahoka who are facing escalating rates in county, hospital and school taxes.

City of Tahoka Mayor Jim Solomon said that, unlike the other taxing entities, the city is not facing a great loss of revenue from the low tax valuations on farm land this year. "The agriculture tax base does not really affect the City," he explained.

The '93 general fund budget (which does not include water, sewer and sanitation funds) is set $20,000 lower than the city's 1992 budget of $387,805. "Part of the reason for that is last year's budget included allocations for funds for a 'boost' in the this year's 39.9 cents) the 1993 proposed budget is $1,331 in the red compared to expected revenue.

The county is losing almost $35 million in valuation, mostly on farm land, and the proposed tax hike is a means of generating a comparable amount of revenue compared to the previous year.

city's seal coating project," said the mayor. "Last year that item was budgeted at $60,000, but this year we're cutting that expenditure down to $30,000."

One of the major budget cut areas was in the police department, where city officials say last year's budget allowed funding for a new computer system and one new vehicle, items which were excluded from this year's expenditures. This year's budget allocations amount to $140,750, down $17,200 from last year's figure of $157,950.

In the Water and Sewer Fund, budget expenditures totaled $325,600, down $6,000 from last year's budget, with no change in the rates anticipated. Sanitation expenses were set at $186,950 for 1993, up $14,000 from last year's figures, with rates remaining the same.

In other business, the council discussed leasing the area where the scout hut was demolished as parking space for SPARTAN and South Plains Community Action, but voted to decline the offer due to the 25-year lease required by the Department of Transportation. "We don't want to tie that land down where future City Councils have no control or options for the property," said Solomon, an opinion with which council members

Curry-Lehman Vows Exchanged In Double Ring Ceremony

Rachel Erin Curry and Gregory Bruce Lehman exchanged wedding vows on Saturday, August 22, 1992, at 3 p.m. at St. Paul Lutheran Church in Wilson. Pastor David Rohde performed the marriage ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Zane and Danna Curry of Tahoka. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. H.D. Turner of O'Donnell and the great-granddaughter of Jackie Turner of O'Donnell.

Parents of the groom are Leonard and Janice Dube of Wilson and the late Glenn Lehman. He is the grandson of Mrs. Jo Swinford of Tahoka and Arnold Lehman of Tahoka. He is the great-grandson of Mr. and Mrs. T.M. Phillips of Tahoka.

Within the church sanctuary, the pews were decorated with cream lace fans and rose bows. Framing the bridal setting were two candelabra decorated with navy and light blue crushed paper and white candles. A heart-shaped candelabra, also decorated with crushed paper and white candles was centered by a unity candle.

Organist was Sharon Isham of Wilson. Misty Stringer of Austin, cousin of the groom, served as vocalist. While the candles were lighted she sang "The Rose". She sang "Wing Beneath My Wings" as the grandparents and parents were seated. "The Wedding Song" was played as the couple lit the unity candle.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, wore a romantic gown of white silk shantung and schiffli lace. The bodice, heavily beaded with sequins and pearls, featured a sweetheart neckline, pleated cap sleeves, and a basque waistline. The back was highlighted with a bow. The full skirt, adorned with beaded lace motifs, flowed to floor length.

The bride's headpiece was a floral wreath accented with pearls and sequins. Featuring cascades of lily of the valley and long white ribbons on each side, it held a three-tiered veil which was highlighted by elaborate poufs of iridescent tulle. She carried a cascade bouquet of silk white roses and rosebuds.

Following tradition, as something old the bride carried pennies minted in 1974 and 1970, the bride and groom's birth years. Something borrowed was her veil, belonging to her cousin, Kim Lightfoot of Bryan and her mother's pink diamond earrings and necklace. Something new was her gown and something blue was her garter, made by Margie Craig of Tahoka.

Alicia Handley of Tahoka served as maid of honor. Other bridal attendants were Misty Stringer, cousin of the groom, of Austin, Lisa Lehman, sister of the groom and Rebekah Curry, sister of the bride, both of Tahoka.

The bridal attendants each wore a cream with navy stripes and pink roses dress with a sweetheart neckline, fitted bodice, and off-the-shoulder der poufs. The dresses were accented with a bow and featured a tea-length skirt.

Each bridal attendant carried a round nosegay of rose and navy carnations and deep and light pink roses.

Jody Woodard of Lubbock served as best man. Groomsmen were Lance Bagby of Stephenville and Chad Swinford of Tahoka, cousins of the groom and Ryan Curry of Tahoka, brother of the bride.

Ushers and candlelighters were Andrew Horwood and Lane Schuknecht of Tahoka.

Following the wedding ceremony a reception was held in the Parish Hall of the church.

The bride and groom's table was covered with a white linen cloth. The bride's bouquet served as the centerpiece.

The bride's cake was a three-tiered white cake covered with white decorators icing. Navy and rose roses topped each tier and cascaded down each side. The cake was topped with a Precious Moments bride and groom.

The groom's cake was a chocolate horseshoe featuring chocolate and white roses.

Serving for the bride's table were Arnetta Jackson, Christy Huffaker, and Betsy Huffaker all of Tahoka.

Serving for the groom's table were Loretta Abbe of Wilson and Ralene Bagby of Post, cousins of the groom.

Following a honeymoon to Ruidoso, N.M. the couple will reside in Tahoka.

The bride is a 1992 graduate of Tahoka High School and attends Texas Tech University.

The groom, a 1988 graduate of Tahoka High School, also attends Tech.

Booklet Available For Making A Will

The Salvation Army is offering a free booklet to assist the seven-out-of-eight people who have not prepared a will.

With this booklet, the Salvation Army is offering information to help control the distribution of an estate to family, friends and charitable organizations. With an up-to-date will, an estate is distributed by one's own wishes rather than legal formulas.

Some think only wealthy people need a will, or that drawing a will is too expensive or complicated. The Salvation Army wants people to know that, without a will, the state will determine the disposition of assets, the welfare of one's spouse, and the guardianship of one's children.

For this free booklet, write: The Salvation Army, Planned Giving, P.O. Box 2785, Lubbock, TX 79408.

Janessa Lee Meets Singer Garth Brooks

On July 30, Janessa Lee, 11, along with her mother, Brenda Ewerz of Wilson, and Shelly Evans, of KFYO Radio in Lubbock, were flown from Lubbock to Midland, where they were met and taken to the Ector County Coliseum in Odessa for the Garth Brooks concert.

Janessa met Martina McBride, who was the opening act for the show. Janessa then was shown backstage where she met Garth Brooks. He visited with her for about 15 minutes before he had to get dressed for his performance, and autographed a tape, program and posters for her.

Janessa has been seriously ill with leukemia and was recently able to go home from Children's Hospital, a division of Lubbock Methodist Hospital. She will return to the hospital for transfusions and treatment several mornings a week.

"He (Garth Brooks) looked so different wearing tennis shoes, shorts, t-shirt and a baseball cap," Janessa said. "I'd never seen him without his western clothes. He was just as nice as I thought he'd be. I asked him about his wife and new baby."

Contrary to previous reports, the trip was not arranged by the Make-A-Wish Foundation. That organization has a trip to Nashville "on hold" for Janessa until such time as her health will permit her and her family to take advantage of it.

Dr. and Mrs. Howard Hurd of Lubbock provided their plane, piloted by one of the Aero-Care pilots. Methodist Hospital took care of the expenses for the evening, and KFYO Radio made the arrangements for the interview.

Janessa is looking forward to attending the sixth grade on the Homebound Program. A teacher will visit her at home about four hours a week.

Study Skills Are The Key To Achievement

By Charles Cate

T.I.S.D. High School Principal

Do your homework! Study for the test! How many students are not doing their best in school because they do not know how to study? It's easy to forget, but good students are made, not born. Solid study skills take time to develop; they do not magically float into a student's mind when needed.

As your child gets older and progresses through school, his teachers will give him increasingly more homework as well as more responsibility for studying on his own, outside the classroom. We believe that an important part of education is preparing a student to be organized, to know how to gather information, and to be able to meet deadlines.

Throughout their school careers, students are given homework assignments and study tasks designed to teach those skills. Teachers, librarians and instructional aides are on hand to help students who have trouble studying or need help with projects.

We emphasize the development of study skills because we know that if a student never learns how to study effectively and efficiently, he will waste a lot of time, learn less, and be more apt to feel frustrated. His grades will suffer, and so, possibly, will his self-esteem. In addition, he will lose out his whole life. The same skills that are needed for success in school are the same ones needed for success on the job.

In an effort to teach our students organization skills, Tahoka High School has provided your student with a complimentary school assignment book. This book is designed to provide students an organized way of keeping track of class assignments, grades, events, etc. We encourage students to take this assignment book to every class each day and learn to use it. Using this book, there should never be any forgotten homework or tests.

No matter how old your child, it is never too early or too late to start guiding him to acquire good study habits. You can help by keeping tabs on what your child is doing in school. Ask him about homework assignments, projects or upcoming tests. Of course, you should not do his homework for him, but you can look over his shoulder to a certain extent, make suggestions and set guidelines.

Be sure to provide a quiet, well-lit place to study, turn off the television, and have basic supplies like a dictionary, thesaurus and atlas on hand. Remember that there is always an unspoken homework assignment: to study. Even if there is no written assignment, there are always multiplication tables to learn, spelling words to memorize, algebra functions to practice or history chapters to reread. Encourage your child to go over class notes every day, ask questions if confused, and spend some time each evening studying.

Tests are a good opportunity to sharpen organizational, time management and study skills. When a test is announced, students should be sure to get all the details (When is it? What will it cover? Will it include essay or multiple choice questions?) and allow sufficient time to study. We hope that by the time a student graduates from high school, he has learned that cramming is a useless exercise.

Taking the time to develop good study skills and establishing a study routine will pay handsome dividends to your child: better grades, improved self-esteem, a feeling of control and discipline, and — no small matter — getting more out of school. Our curriculum is designed to give students opportunities to learn those skills; with the help and encouragement of parents, our students should leave school ready to tackle any projects they must face.

USDA Requests Comments On '93 Feed Grain Program

The U.S. Department of Agriculture's Commodity Credit Corporation has asked for public comment on whether the 1993 corn, grain sorghum and barley acreage reduction program percentages should be 0, 5, 7.5, 12.5, or some other percent within the range. The oats ARP is zero percent as set by the 1990 farm bill.

The 1993 ARP percentages must be announced by September 30.

Keith Bjerke, CCC executive vice president, said options will be posted which will include estimated planted acreage, production, domestic and export use, ending stocks, season average producer price, program participation rate and cost to the federal government. Details appear in the August 3 Federal Register.

Comments must be received by September 14 to be considered and may be FAXed to (201) 690-1346 or sent to: Deputy Administrator, Policy Analysis, USDA/ASCS, Room 3090-S, P.O. Box 2415, Washington, D.C. 20013-2415.

For more information or to obtain a copy of the regulatory impact analysis, contact Philip Sronce, director, Grains Analysis Division, at (202) 720-4417.

RC&D Committee Looking At Various Projects For County

The Lynn County Committee of the Wes-Tex Resource, Conservation and Development (RC&D) Council met last Thursday morning at Lyntegar meeting room to discuss its current project and to initiate discussion of ideas for other projects throughout the county. Fourteen sponsors were present at the meeting, which was led by H.G. Franklin, Chairman of Lynn County RC&D.

The current project of irrigation well adaptation for use by area fire departments is underway, with the first four sites to be determined by volunteer firemen Greg Henley and Jimmy Woodard in conjunction with Lynn County Commissioners and landowners.

New project ideas presented at the meeting included new fire department/community center facilities and a new fire truck for the Tahoka Volunteer Fire Dept.; community center renovation and swimming pool repair at O'Donnell; new track facilities for Tahoka High School; a historical mural depicting on a building wall in downtown Tahoka and other beautification projects; radio technology renovation for the EMS; and expansion of the Lynn County Museum building.

Franklin fielded questions from the group, and encouraged those present to recruit more sponsors from the communities of Wilson and New Home so that project ideas in those areas would be more forthcoming.

All project ideas from any interested person will be considered by the county committee for grant proposals, which will be sent through the 16-county Wes-Tex RC&D council. Franklin told the group that a grant-writing seminar will be held Nov. 11 in Lubbock for anyone interested in attending, at a fee of $150 per person.

The committee agreed that at least two persons from the group should attend, and it is hoped that at least one person representing each community in the county will attend the seminar. The next meeting is scheduled at 8:30 a.m. Thursday, Sept. 24 in the Lyntegar meeting room. All sponsors, and anyone interested in becoming a sponsor or presenting project ideas to the group, are encouraged to attend.

WE MAY BE OLD FASHIONED, BUT!

We do believe that most people still appreciate that special kind of service that today might be called "old-fashioned." We don't think it is corny to greet a customer with a smile and a friendly word. We don't think it's wrong to help someone select the products they want. We do think of ourselves as a personal pharmacy.

Back in the "old days" the pharmacy was considered a friendly place to shop for health necessities and other needs. We like to feel that this old tradition has not passed by the wayside. Stop in soon and say hello.

"A GREAT MANY PEOPLE ENTRUST US with their prescriptions, health needs and other pharmacy products. We consider this trust a privilege and a duty."
May we be your personal family pharmacy?

Texas Tech Seeks Clients For Small Business Institute

The U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) has announced that the Small Business Institute (SBI) is in operation at Texas Tech University for the Fall semester. Client businesses are now being selected for the program according to Walter Fronstin, District Director of the Lubbock SBA office.

Fronstin said, "The program helps about 25 Lubbock area small businesses each year and provides graduating seniors with a practical 'real world' experience, while providing them with an opportunity to apply the skills they have learned in class to a live business environment."

In past years, Texas Tech student teams have performed such efforts as market research projects, advertising studies, recordkeeping and paperwork analyses, examined business costs compared to industry ratios, and other similar projects.

Lubbock area businesses wishing to participate in the program should contact Professor Fred Volker, SBI Director at TTU, at (806) 742-3461 or call SBA, (806) 743-7462.

Businesses are chosen on a first-come, first-served basis; therefore, interested business owners are encouraged to contact SBA or Volker as soon as possible.

This will probably be the Congressman's last official visit to Lynn County, since the county will be a part of the 11th Congressional District effective January 1, 1993.

Changes To Be Phased In For Student Testing Program

Changes in the state's student testing program being phased in beginning this school year will expand the number of subject areas tested and cut back on the number of classroom hours devoted to taking statewide standardized examinations.

The first of the changes, which will be implemented gradually over a two-year period, will involve the scheduling of the Texas Assessment of Academic Skills (TAAS). During the 1992-93 school year, the TAAS will be given in the fall to students in grades 3, 7 and 11, and in the spring to students in grades 4, 8 and 10. But this will be the last time the test will be administered in the fall, and the last time it will be given to third- and seventh-graders.

However, for the first time, the exit-level TAAS, currently administered to high school juniors in the spring, will be given instead next spring to sophomores. By moving up the scheduling of the exit-level test, students who fail the exam will gain an extra opportunity to re-take it. Graduates must pass the exit-level TAAS to receive their high school diplomas.

"This streamlining of the testing process will allow us to focus attention on real preparation versus minimum graduation requirements," said Lionel R. Meno, Commissioner of Education.

The changes were approved by the State Board of Education at its meeting last April in Houston.

Other changes in the makeup of the test are planned for 1993-94 and 1994-95. New subject areas that will be added to TAAS include computer literacy, social studies, science, second-language proficiency, and physical fitness and health. The TAAS currently tests students in reading, writing and mathematics, but these examinations cover less than 20 percent of the essential elements identified in the state's curriculum.

Advisory committees are meeting during the summer to determine the content of the new tests.

"We want to involve Texas educators at all levels in how and what should be tested," said Keith Cruse, senior director of the Division of Instructional Outcomes Assessment. "This must be done to mirror good classroom practices."

To expand the scope of the test and make it more efficient, new subject areas will require students to demonstrate their competency in performing a variety of tasks that reflect real-world situations. For instance, students may complete tasks on a computer to test their computer literacy, or perform experiments in a science lab. Field testing for the new subject areas will begin during the 1992-93 school year.

On the other hand, the state's new Norm-Referenced Assessment Program for Texas will be reduced in scope beginning this school year. The NAPT was given for the first time last April in grades 3 through 11, and tested reading, language, mathematics, social studies and science.

Unlike the TAAS, the NAPT is based on national, not state, curriculum standards and is required for state evaluation for some federally funded programs. The test will continue to be administered to the same grades, but the required subject areas will be limited to reading and mathematics. This will significantly reduce the time students spend taking the test. Districts may continue to give the other subject areas on an optional basis.

Leopards Are Looking For Another Good Year

With a couple of two-way starters back, plus another who was an offensive starter, Coach Dickie Turner has some spots to fill on the New Home Leopards six-man team this season. But as he pointed out last week, having three starters back from a team that was 8-3 and in the playoffs last year is better than having six starters back from a losing team.

Coach Turner and assistant Curry Blackwell have 22 boys out for the team, including some with good size and promise, and will naturally build on the nucleus of his three returnees, Troy Fillingim, a 165-pound junior running back; Blaine Fillingim, 190-pound senior end, and Shannon Zant, 200-pound junior end. Both the Fillingims were also starters as defensive linebackers.

Blaine Fillingim caught 48 passes for 16 touchdowns last year. The Leopards lost their quarterback to graduation, and the position now is a contest between freshman Greg Armes, 150, and junior José Torres, 155.

The Leopards are young, with Blaine Fillingim and end Craig Graves the only seniors listed on the squad.

"I think we will be in the district title race," said Coach Turner, "but this district has some really good teams this year. I do think that whoever wins district may go far in the playoffs."

COMMON COLDS

To treat a cold, get plenty of rest, drink at least 8 glasses of non-alcoholic liquids daily, preferably warm or hot. A good sweat will often kill the cold virus. Avoid cigarettes—smokers are more susceptible to colds because smoking paralyzes the cilia (hair-like cells) in the nasal passages, which serve to clean the air passages. Wash hands frequently, as more cold viruses are spread by contaminated hands than by air.

New Scriptures For Children

A new edition of the New Testament, written especially for children, makes it wonderfully easy to share the joy of God's love with your little ones.

It's an engaging new illustrated version of the American Bible Society's (ABS) highly successful Contemporary English Version (CEV) New Testament, The Bible For Today's Family. Specially prepared for children ages five through nine, this new edition makes the Bible come alive for children as never before. It features large type, clear language and has over 200 black and white illustrations, including 26 full-page drawings, designed to complement the Scripture text.

"These illustrations engage the children with the text," says Charles Houser, ABS Scripture resources manager. "They focus on key elements of Jesus' ministry, the early life of the church, passages where children are mentioned, and where there are Old Testament figures mentioned."

Youngsters are not the only ones finding the translation easy to read and understand.
