SEEMS LIKE I read someplace about a creature called a three-toed sloth which hangs on limbs by its toes, affording everybody a view of its ugly feet. I may have just dreamed this, since I can't find the animal in the dictionary, and my only encyclopedia is at home when I need it at the office.

Anyway, if there is such a thing, I could outdo him anytime, if I were able to hang by my toes, because my feet are uglier than anybody's, and always have been.

When I was born, I remember people standing around saying things like, "Oh, how awful! Look at those feet," and "The poor little thing is deformed."

I have, I am sure, the ugliest feet in the world; my family agrees.

And over the years, they have become even more grotesque. Once, when our granddaughter was about 3, I was sitting with my feet bare, and she came up and asked, very seriously, "Paw-paw, did a alligator bite your foot?"

The accompanying picture is an actual photograph of my feet. Well, okay, so it's a drawing I made, but it's very accurate.

If I stand barefooted, facing directly toward Lubbock (see accompanying diagram), the big toe on my right foot points directly toward Wilson, and the same toe on the left points toward New Home. That's because of the bone spurs which throw my toes out of line. I also have hammer toes and toenails made of glass, thick lumps of uncuttable material.

I am always seeing ads on TV about how foot specialists can do wonders with your feet when they are all out of shape. Strangely, my feet never hurt too badly, so long as I buy shoes in incredible widths and/or a couple of sizes larger than I would need if my feet were normal-shaped. My feet are not the same size, either, which makes buying shoes even more complicated and expensive (usually I buy two pair and throw two new shoes away).

Several years ago I found out what width I need for my right foot. I went to a shoe store, and told the clerk I wanted a size 9 right shoe, but I didn't know what width. "Take off your shoe and sock, and let me see," he suggested. I did, and he took one look and exclaimed, "E-E-E-E!" I've been getting quadruple E ever since.

I tried and tried to come up with some topic more pleasant than the condition of my pedal extremities, but finally I decided to go ahead with this anyway. I have felt bad since I started writing such depressing stuff, though. I find it hard to accept defeat. But I guess I have to; it was my own fault. Nobody toed me I had to write this.

Traffic Mishaps Reported

Two traffic mishaps with only minor damage and no injuries were reported in Tahoka during the last week, and city police also investigated several other reports, including a case of theft and a case of possible criminal trespass.

Dept. of Public Safety officers investigated a one-car rollover about 4 p.m. Monday on a Lynn County dirt road 1.2 miles east of FM 212, about 10.5 miles east of Wilson. Driver of the 1988 Ford Taurus was Anne Drucilla Parker, 21, of Slaton. Three passengers, including two children, were taken to a Lubbock hospital for treatment of injuries described as painful but not incapacitating. The driver was not treated.

On the Thriftway Supermarket parking lot last Wednesday a 1989 Dodge pickup driven by George Leighton Knox, 78, of Tahoka, struck a parked 1987 Mercury Marquis owned by Geneva Bland Miller of Tahoka, causing minor damage.

Also on Wednesday, a 1990 Ford pickup driven by Leslie Ray Paris, 58, of Tahoka, and a 1980 Oldsmobile driven by Becky Rodriguez, 32, of Tahoka, collided at the intersection of Ave. J and S. 6th St. Damage was minor.

Dispute over the ownership of a car which was repossessed in Tahoka possibly could result in criminal trespass charges against a Tahoka woman who allegedly had the lien holder of the car get the vehicle without her estranged husband's permission.

Two Tahoka men aged 22 and 18 and a 14-year-old juvenile were named as suspects Saturday in a reported theft of a Kawasaki motorcycle owned by a Tahoka man. The suspects said the motorcycle owner owed them money.

Five persons were added to the jail population during the week. Charges included contributing to the delinquency of a child, bench warrant on burglary of a habitation, driving while intoxicated first offense, and two persons for DWI second offense.

by JUANELL JONES

Five teachers were hired for the Tahoka Independent School District, trustees approved a June summer school session, air conditioner units for all classrooms on the campus were approved for purchase, and new officers were elected on the school board during a trustee meeting Monday night. The board of trustees met at 7:30 p.m. in regular session, following a dinner provided by home economics teachers Donna Stone and Patti Rambo in honor of outgoing and incoming school trustees.

Incumbent Brad Hammonds and Clint Gardner were administered the oath of office for new school board members, and new officers were elected immediately following. Greg Henley was named president of the board, Clint Gardner was elected vice president, and Brad Hammonds will continue his duties as secretary of the board.

Two new staff positions were established by the board, with trustees approving one-year contracts for Manuela Rodriguez as ESL Program Director and Carletta Fitz as Math/TAAS Remedial Program Director for the district. The ESL (English as a Second Language) position was established following Texas Education Agency directives to assist Spanish-speaking students in grades K-12 in learning the English language to facilitate better classroom understanding of subject curriculum. Ms. Rodriguez is a teacher with 16 years of experience, coming to TISD from Ozona ISD.

In an endeavor to provide students with an opportunity to improve TAAS (Texas Academic Assessment Skills) test scores, a Math/TAAS Remedial class will be offered next year at Tahoka Junior/Senior High School, with those students whose TAAS test scores are significantly low required to enroll in the program. Ms. Fitz was offered a contract as program director for the new program, in addition to responsibilities in aligning the math department in junior/senior high school. She currently teaches at O'Donnell ISD, and has six years teaching experience.

Three other staff positions were approved by trustees, who approved one-year contracts for Camille Shanks as Special Education teacher

Ms. Lopez, who is graduating from Texas Tech, will be teaching reading, replacing Dolores Webb who is resigning this year. One other resignation was accepted by the board, that of Mitzi Bruton who currently teaches kindergarten in the district.

In other action, trustees approved a 22-day summer school session set

Elementary will have classes for K-5 plus a Chapter 1 program, and high school will have classes for math and language arts, and a JTPA (Job Training Partnership Act) program. Six elementary teachers and two junior/senior high teachers will staff the summer school session, and elementary principal Molly Helmlinger's contract was extended by a 4-3 vote from 207 to 217 days to encompass the summer session.

Air conditioner window units for all classrooms on both campuses were approved by trustees at the beginning of this school year, and bids for these units were discussed during Monday night's meeting. McClintock Named New Borger Coach

Marty McClintock was named Borger head football coach and athletic director in an unanimous vote Tuesday night during the Borger school board meeting.

McClintock, Borger's offensive coordinator last season, succeeds Stocky Lamberson, who died March 18 after one year at Borger.

"I'm truly excited about the opportunity because Borger is a great community and the support is here," McClintock said of his first varsity head football coaching position.

Continuity in the program was among the main factors for McClintock being elevated from assistant to head coach, Borger superintendent Larry Coffman said.

McClintock is the son of B.K. McClintock of New Home and the late LaJuan McClintock. He is the grandson of Weldon and Mary McClintock of New Home and Alta White of Tahoka. His wife is Jodie Brecheen McClintock, a Tahoka native.

McClintock, a New Home native who graduated from West Texas State, was an assistant at Randall for the 1990 and '91 seasons. Prior to coaching at Randall, he was an assistant at Slaton for two seasons, at River Road for four seasons, and for one season at McLean prior to the school moving from 11-man to six-man football.

Snook & Aderton Co. in Lubbock, and 14 Whirlpool 25,000 BTU refrigerated units from Nunn Electric in Lubbock, at a total cost of $29,739.44. These units will be maintained by the school, replacing air conditioner units previously provided by teachers for their own classrooms.

Trustee Dan Stone was elected TASB assembly delegate for the annual school board convention in September, and Mrs. Myrtle White was named alternate delegate. Trustees also approved Career Ladder recommendations as presented by the superintendent.

Mrs. Loretta Tekell, bookkeeper, reported an account balance in all funds of $1,573,232.20 and said current year local taxes have reached 93.03 percent, with a collection rate of 95.11 percent on current year CED tax collections. As reported at last month's board meeting, she reiterated that the district would have enough reserve funds to make it through August should state funds to school districts be cut off in June, but that funds would be very low to begin the 1993-94 school year.

Trustees also approved a contract for the 1993-94 school year with Region 17 Food Service Purchasing Cooperative, which is designed to obtain savings in specific commodity items for member districts through volume purchasing.

And finally, in the superintendent's report, Dr. Duane Carter told trustees of plans for summer repairs on campus facilities, including classroom repairs in the vocational agriculture building, repainting of the high school gym floor, and structural repair work on the auditorium. He informed trustees that he would set a meeting date in June with a TASB Superintendent Search firm to meet with the board to begin the process of hiring a new superintendent for the 1994-95 school year. He reported that the district report from the TEA accreditation team visit has not yet been received by his office.

Present at the five-hour meeting which adjourned at 12:35 a.m. were all trustees, including Greg Henley, Myrtle White, Juanell Jones, Clint Gardner, Brad Hammonds, Dan Stone and Mike Huffaker; and school personnel including Supt. Dr. Carter, Charles Cate, Ronald Roberts, Molly Helmlinger, Loretta Tekell, Minnie Lou Ash, and Lynn Lankford. The board met in executive session for just over two hours during the meeting.

Tahoka ISD Administrators Receive Recognition

Dr. Duane Carter, superintendent of Tahoka Independent School District, and Charles Cate, principal of Tahoka High School, were presented with honorary membership in the State Association of Future Homemakers of America at the state leadership conference held in Houston, April 16-17.

Honorary membership is the highest achievement an individual can attain in the organization. It is given only to individuals who have shown a high degree of support for the FHA organization. Dr. Carter and Cate were nominated by Carrie Taylor, 1992-93 State Vice-president of recreation, and Mrs. Patti Rambo, advisor for the Tahoka FHA. "They both have been instrumental in Carrie and me being able to fulfill our obligations as state leaders. Without their emotional and monetary support, our work would have been much harder," said Mrs. Rambo. "I feel very lucky to have them as administrators when I hear about the lack of support other advisors and chapter members get from their own administrators."

Dr. Carter and Cate were two of fifteen individuals from the state of Texas to receive this honor. They were presented with a plaque at the second general session of the State Leadership conference of the FHA. "It was a pleasure to be appreciated for positive acts and to see your young people participating at the state level in the FHA leadership conference," said Cate.

The FHA is the only national youth-directed organization with the family as its primary focus. It is sponsored by the Texas Education Agency with Judith Hetherly, Director and Sharon Pierce, State Advisor. Tahoka High School has two chapters of FHA: the Tahoka FHA, sponsored by Mrs. Patti Rambo; and the Madeline Hegi FHA, sponsored by Mrs. Donna Stone.

First Call Help, Then CPR

"CPR was taught to lay people... to save a lot of lives," says Dr. John Paraskos. "...it doesn't unless it's backed up by adequate emergency systems and advanced care." For crisis treatment, the American Red Cross recommends: calling 911, start CPR, then a defibrillator and advanced life support. In addition, it recommends filling the victim's lungs more slowly (1.5 to 2 seconds a breath) to prevent blowing air into their stomach and placing breathing victims on their sides not their backs.

Residue Management Reduces Tillage, According To SCS Sources

Crop residue traps water during a rain allowing it more time to soak in as compared to a clean tilled field where the rain that falls in excess of the soil's intake will cause runoff, according to sources of the Soil Conservation Service.

During the winter, residue traps snowfall and prevents it from drifting from the field. Residue that is maintained on the soil surface conserves moisture by reducing evaporation.

Maintained residue provides a protective blanket keeping the soil surface from being exposed to the sun's rays and also reduces the wind's velocity at the soil surface. When the wind's velocity is reduced, it also reduces the chances for wind erosion.

Maintaining residue reduces tillage which reduces soil compaction.

Soil compaction is caused by excessive tillage and wheel traffic. In compacted soils, roots are restricted in their ability to grow vertically resulting in a shallow root system. Therefore, plants are stunted and never reach their full potential.

Residue management involves maintenance of plant residue from crops such as small grain, millet, grain sorghum, and forage sorghum on a percentage of each field each year. To meet conservation plan requirements the acres that are planted to a high residue crop must be rotated each year and the crop residues must be maintained on the soil surface until April 1.

For additional information producers should come by the SCS office located at 1647 Ave. J in Tahoka or call 998-4507.

Kathy Davis To Give Workshop

Kathy Davis, Texas Tech University student in Home Economics, will present an adult workshop on the culture and cookery of Costa Rica.

Kathy, daughter of Billy and Ann Davis of Tahoka, recently spent six months in Costa Rica as a university exchange student working on an internship. She lived in a home with native Costa Ricans and learned the language, culture, and learned to appreciate the cooking of the country.

Kathy's workshop is being held in the Home Economics Department at Tahoka High School, and it will begin at 7 p.m. May 13 (rescheduled from an earlier time).

Kathy will prepare a variety of foods particular to Costa Rica. Space is limited, so please call Patti Rambo at 998-5285 for a reservation. Recipes will be given to participants.

FFA Scholarship Goes To Kristin Belew

The National FFA Organization recently announced that Kristin Belew of Tahoka FFA is the recipient of a $1000 scholarship. The scholarship is sponsored by Miller Meester as a special project of the National FFA Foundation. Kristin will use the funds to pursue a degree in Agricultural Communications at Texas Tech University.

Kristin, daughter of Denny and Mary Belew of Tahoka, received notice of the scholarship after a national panel judged her application among the best in the nation. Judging criteria included an evaluation of Kristin's supervised agricultural experience program in agricultural education, FFA activities, school and community involvement, high school grades and career plans. Dr. Steve Frazee is her Collegiate FFA advisor.

tem. Filmed in Nashville, TN, the show featuring the locals' cookbook will air on June 22 and again on Sept. 12. Check local listings for times, but the show usually airs at 12:30 p.m. and again at 3:00 p.m. Eastern Standard Time.

"Sue and I had the privilege of being in the studio audience when Mr. Ellis was taping," said Mrs. Franklin, who is the wife of H.G. Franklin of Tahoka. "He was a joy and pleasure to meet," she added.

The two women have published two other cookbooks besides "More Calf Fries To Caviar." The best selling "Calf Fries To Caviar" is in its sixth printing, and they will soon release a new cookbook entitled "Cross The Border" which features Southwest cuisine.

"We fell into the cookbook business by accident. Now we find that through cooking, we have become good ambassadors all over the world, for Texas, and particularly, West Texas," said Mrs. Franklin.

District Champ Competes At Regional Meet

Tahoka High School sophomore Stephanie Stennett won first place in the 800 meter run with a time of 2:43.2 in the District Track Meet, and advanced to regional competition recently in Abilene.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Stennett of Tahoka.

Another Tahoka sophomore, Greg Smith, tied for second place in the high jump competition in the district track meet, jumping 5'10", but was given a third place medal because he had one more miss than the other second place competitor from Seagraves.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Valton Stephens of Tahoka.

Darla Willis, a junior, took third place in the triple jump with 30' 7 1/4" in the district track meet, missing second place by only a quarter of an inch. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Willis.

FIRST AMERICANS- Chief Runkles (in headress) talked with Kids 'n Art students during the First Americans-1 event held May 1 in Tahoka City park.

Tahoka Kids 'N' Art Attend "First Americans" Event Here

Tahoka Kids 'N' Art students spent a fun day at the Tahoka City Park on Saturday, May 1 gathering their tips as "First Americans."

The day began with a tour of the local Museum filled with Indian artifacts and antiques of early settlers of Tahoka and Lynn County. Jack Jaquess served as tour guide.

Students enjoyed a lunch of Indian tacos and refreshments, then began their task of making moccasins and beaded necklaces.

Chief Runkles provided a history lesson of the manner of dress and culture of the Lacota Sioux and Comanche Indians and told stories in sign language. Assisted by Chief Antelope (John Corey of Lubbock) beating on the drum, Chief Runkles and children sang songs. Parents, kids and instructors joined hands and formed a circle around Chief as he taught them a few dance steps.

Chief Antelope closed the event with an old Indian legend regarding an Indian Youth and a rattlesnake, which had an anti-drug message.

First Americans-1 was the first of an annual event, celebrating one hundred years of preservation and education of the American Indians. This project was funded by a matching grant from the Texas Commission on the Arts and the Kids 'n Art program.

Director Linda Puckett and the KNA Committee (JoAnn Mock, Helon and Charlie Jaquess, Jane Mason, Freddy Van DeValde) wish to thank the following for their valuable contribution and assistance in making the project a tremendous success: Cal Huffaker, Danny Preston, Danny Lockaby, Todd Lockaby, Jack Jaquess, Dana Williams, the City of Tahoka, and Caprock Cultural Association.

Public Notice

On April 16, 1993, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company (SWBT) filed an application with the Public Utility Commission of Texas (Commission) for approval of a new optional service, Network Subscriber Information Interface (NSII). NSII is a new service feature developed primarily for the provision of Voice Messaging Service (VMS). It will give a VMS provider (as SWBT's customer) the ability to receive originating call information from SWBT's central office and to activate and deactivate a Message Waiting Indicator (MWI) on the line of the VMS provider's patron. NSII also gives the VMS provider the ability to activate and deactivate an intermittent dial tone on a patron's line in multiple offices. The VMS provider will be able to perform these functions in multiple offices through a connection to a single Message Node office. The Message Node will be a pre-designated central office and will interconnect with all central offices within the Message Node Service Area. Upon approval of this application, NSII will be available to customers where facilities are available. Available facilities are not currently deployed statewide. The proposed effective date of this service is June 20, 1993.

SWBT estimates these new services will increase its annual revenues during the first year by approximately $2.4 million. VMS providers and Telephone Answering Services and their subscribers are the types of customers likely to be affected by approval of these services.

The proposed recurring monthly rate and nonrecurring installation charge is as follows:

Rate Element	Recurring	Nonrecurring
NSII	$6,000.00	$2,000.00

Persons who wish to comment on this application should notify the Commission by June 10, 1993. Requests for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757, or you may call the Public Utility Commission Public Information Office at 512-458-0256, or 512-458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.
