Cindy Gardner Named THS Head Girls Basketball Coach

by JUANELL JONES
 Tahoka High School Coach Cindy Gardner was named head girls basketball coach by T.I.S.D. trustees last week, assuming the position left vacated by the resignation of Coach Steve Qualls. The board also hired Kathy Box of Tahoka to teach high school science, filling a position vacated by the resignation of Robert Tidwell, as well as two assistants for the elementary school.

Trustees also voted to fully fund the career ladder from local funds, approved the purchase of four science lab computer stations, and discussed a new local graduation policy.

Six trustees were present for the Thursday night meeting, with five voting in favor of reassigning Mrs. Gardner to the position of head girls basketball coach, and trustee Clint Gardner abstaining from voting. Mrs. Gardner coached junior high girls volleyball and basketball and junior/senior high track teams at TISD this year. The board voted unanimously to hire Mrs. Box to fill the science teaching position.

Two new elementary school assistants were approved, with trustees voting unanimously to hire Dorothy Draper and Rochelle Ford. Elementary assistant Judy Sanders' resignation was noted.

One other resignation was noted by the board, that of Mrs. Nan Adams, who is retiring after teaching for 27 years at Tahoka I.S.D. A retirement party in her honor will be held today (Thursday), from 7-8:30 p.m. in the fellowship hall of the First Baptist Church of Tahoka.

In other action, trustees voted to spend $12,000 from local funds to fully fund career ladder bonuses for the additional eight qualifying teachers, as state funds would not fully fund all the qualifying teachers from T.I.S.D.

Four new science lab computers will be purchased for the next school year, as trustees voted unanimously to fund the project after much discussion with Superintendent Dr. Duane Carter and science teacher Betty Stennett.

The board discussed policy EIED (Local) concerning commencement exercise policies for seniors who have not completed all local credit requirements or passed the state-required exit level test. Among other issues addressed, the policy will state what level of participation these students may take in commencement exercises. No action was taken at this time, as it was the first reading of the policy. The board will address this policy at the next regular board meeting.

THS Counselor Sherri McCord gave a report on the 1992-93 AEIS and TAAS test results. Bookkeeper Loreta Tekell reported that as of May 31, 1993 the 1992 tax roll collection is 93.9 percent complete. She reported an account balance in all funds of $1,531,100.39.

In the superintendent's report, Dr. Carter presented the 1993-94 teaching assignments and said he was working on a recommendation to form a Middle School for 7th and 8th grade students. He noted that the football stadium press box is in need of repair and that the district will look into either repairing the existing structure or building a new one. He also told the board that Dr. Turnbough is sending two options for single member district realignment for the board's consideration.

The meeting adjourned at 12:11 a.m., with trustees meeting in executive session for approximately one hour during the meeting. Trustees Greg Henley, Clint Gardner, Brad Hammonds, Mike Huffaker, Dan Stone and Myrtle White were present, and trustee Juanell Jones was absent from the meeting.

Wreck, Thefts Are Reported During Week

Flying beer bottles, thefts of trailers, one traffic accident and several cases of teenagers wanting to fight each other were reported to law enforcement officers in the county this week.

Last Wednesday, June 9, a collision occurred at N. 7th and the east access road for U.S. 87, with no injuries listed. Driving a 1977 Mercury Cougar was Michael Wayne Burleson, 39, of Tahoka, and driver of a 1983 Ford was Odessa Payne Paynes, 49, also of Tahoka.

The mother of a 16-year-old boy who allegedly was slapped and threatened by a 20-year-old Tahoka man said she would file assault charges against the man, according to a police report dated Sunday.

Sammy Dan Pridmore of Tahoka told police that someone damaged the fender of his 1986 Chevrolet Suburban by throwing a beer bottle at it. Two female suspects in the area were questioned but denied any involvement.

O'Donnell residents Bart Anderson and Alan Barrett reported having trailers stolen. Barrett said his blue trailer with his name stenciled on has been missing for several weeks, but he first thought someone had just borrowed it. Anderson said his black trailer had been missing since June 7 and also has his name welded on the tongue.

Sheriff's officers also had a report from Dean Clark of Brownfield that several tires and wheels, valued at $900, were missing off a grain trailer which had been left at West Point Gin.

In jail during the week were two persons for application to revoke probation on charges of driving while intoxicated, three persons for DWI first offense, one for DWI third offense, one for harassment and three persons for public intoxication.

DREAMS are strange things, and if I had researched this topic, I could expand on some of the strange qualities. Since I didn't, I'll just offer my own observations, the main one of which is that my dreams are really weird.

No doubt many of you also have weird dreams, but most dreams are forgotten two minutes after you wake up. I've been told that if you want to remember a dream, you should write it down immediately after you wake up.

Books have been written about interpretations of dreams, but mostly I think the average person could guess just about as well about what his/her dreams mean. I have dreamed I was the only one in church or at some formal affair sitting around in his underwear, for example, and some others I have talked with say they have had similar dreams, which are supposed to be a sign of insecurity, I imagine. But mostly my dreams are just weird, and I remember one the other night which fits that category:

I was someplace, no specific place, just somewhere, when I realized that the Rapture was about to take place. I was terrified because I knew I hadn't been doing all the good things I should have done. I blacked out, then awoke to the wonderful realization that I was still me, and I felt that I had been raptured, but I was still on earth. Then I was given an assignment: Lead a group of people to London and show them how to get around on the roads there. My wife (in the only appearance in this dream of anyone I really know) said, "Oh, good! We used to have a house there!"

(I have been to London three times, but we certainly never had a home there, and I know about as much about London traffic and roads as I do about brain surgery).

Then I was standing just off a main highway, still in London, looking for a dirt road leading off to where I used to play tennis with some guy. Two men were coming my way from this road, but they were having to wade through mud and having a hard time walking. I was thinking that it might be difficult driving down that road, and some man standing nearby asked me who I was. I told him (truthfully, I felt) that "I used to be heavyweight champion of the world—don't you remember me?"

"When was that?" he asked. "What year is this?" I asked. "1984," he replied. "Well," I said, "it was 10 years ago, so I must have been champion in 1974."

Then he asked me my name, and I told him I was Henry Lucas (Oddly, I thought I was telling him the truth; I really was Henry Lucas.)

That's all I remember about the dream. Either I woke up or forgot. But you have to admit that was pretty weird.

Explanations? I don't have many, but I did watch the outcome of the George Foreman heavyweight fight just before going to bed. And I used to play a lot of tennis, and I have been to London. The Henry Lucas part puzzles me, but I admit that once or twice I have felt the urge to do away with everybody in sight.

Locals' Cookbook To Be Featured On "Cookin' USA"

"More Calf Fries To Caviar" cookbook, published by Janel Franklin of Tahoka and Sue Vaughn of Lamesa, will be featured on "Cookin' USA" which airs on The Nashville Network (TNN) cable system. Filmed in Nashville, TN, the show featuring the locals' cookbook will air on June 22 and again on Sept. 12. Check local listings for times, but the show usually airs at 12:30 p.m. and again at 3:00 p.m. Eastern Standard Time.

"Sue and I had the privilege of being in the studio audience when Mr. Ellis was taping," said Mrs.

Franklin, who is the wife of H.G. Franklin of Tahoka. "He was a joy and pleasure to meet," she added.

The two women have published two other cookbooks besides "More Calf Fries To Caviar." The best selling "Calf Fries To Caviar" is in its sixth printing, and they will soon release a new cookbook entitled "Cross The Border" which features Southwest cuisine.

"We fell into the cookbook business by accident. Now we find that through cooking, we have become good ambassadors all over the world, for Texas, and particularly, West Texas," said Mrs. Franklin.

MRS. BRUCE BRAUNECK (nee D'ANNA WOMACK) Wo.nack-Brauneck Vows Exchanged In Backyard Ceremony Here

D'Anna Womack and Bruce Brauneck were married at 5 p.m. Saturday, June 12, 1993, in the backyard of Mr. and Mrs. Garland Pennington of Tahoka, with the Reverend Jim Turner, Pastor of the First Baptist Church in Haskell, performing the ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Cal Womack; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brauneck of Melrose, Florida, are parents of the groom. Grandparents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Womack, Mr. and Mrs. Garland Pennington and Mrs. Julia Newton, all of Tahoka.

For her wedding, the bride chose a romantic gown of white tulle and satin designed by Demetrios for Alissa. The bodice, beaded with sequins and pearls, featured a bateau neckline, ballgown sleeves and lace appliques, and a basque waist. The full tulle skirt flowed to a Cathedral train. To complete her attire, the bride wore a round floral wreath headdress with sprays and a silk illusion pouf, and a fingertip length veil.

Her bouquet was a contemporary shaped silk bouquet fashioned from white and pink roses.

For something old, the bride wore a white lace handkerchief that belonged to her great-grandmother, Julia Newton and was pinned to her dress with a locket watch that belonged to her great-great-grandmother, Victoria Josephine White and loaned to her by her cousin, Veta Ford. Something borrowed was a string of pearls belonging to her aunt, Jan Crawford. Something blue was her garter, made by Margie Craig. The bride wore a 1993 penny in her shoe given to her by her grandfather, Harold Roberts.

Stephanie Womack, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. Angela Crawford, cousin of the bride and Tiffany Zulani served as bridesmaids. They wore ballerina length spring floral dresses with sweetheart necklines and a V-neck back and carried nosegays of pastel spring flowers.

Whitney Mills of Slaton, was flower girl.

Joe Crawford of San Angelo served as best man. Brock Minton and Mark Minton also of San Angelo were groomsmen. Ushers were Andy Crawford of Muleshoe and Jason Lamberson of Virginia Beach, VA, cousins of the bride. Ken Lamberson, uncle of the bride from Virginia Beach, VA, provided wedding music.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held on the patio in the Pennington's yard. The three-tiered heart shaped wedding cake was adorned with spring silk flowers and topped with a heart shaped cake topper that once belonged to the bride's late grandmother, Rae Fern Womack. Janet Anderson, Christy Summers, and Lee Ann Mills served at the bride's table. Serving at the groom's table were Cathy Crawford and Carol Prescott of San Angelo.

Following a wedding trip to Puerto Vallarta the couple will reside in San Angelo.

The groom's parents hosted a rehearsal dinner in the yard of Mr. and Mrs. Pennington.

COURTESIES

A lingerie shower was hosted by Cathy Crawford and Nina Hillon of San Angelo.

A miscellaneous shower was given in the home of Mrs. Norman Ledbetter of Tahoka.

Out of the Woods

The wayward thoughts of Juanell (Wood) Jones

Fatherhood. Even the word sounds ... well ... sorta like Robin Hood. There are, after all, some basic similarities between the two. Robin Hood steals from the rich and gives to the poor. Fathers work for the rich and give to the poor (their children).

So it's only fair that we set aside one day a year for children to give back to their fathers - a gift which they so richly deserve ... gifts like neckties with decor such as colorful slices of pizza printed on them which even a man with as little taste as my father wouldn't be caught dead in.

Over the years I have unselfishly given my father gobs of golf balls and tons of tennis balls and various other sports-oriented equipment, t-shirts and other "manly" items. My sister, on one memorable Father's Day, gave dad (who is notorious for losing his sunglasses) about six pairs of sunglasses with the stipulation that he try to refrain from losing all six pair at once. My children once gave their grandpa a fake pig nose mask-on-a-string on Father's Day ... I don't know what they were trying to tell him.

This year I may go all out and buy dad something really big ... exceedingly wonderful ... astronomically expensive ... something which will tell him how much he means to me. He's always wanted a nice little get-away cabin in a scenic wooded area in the mountains near a nice stream. Or how about a year's supply of Reeses peanut butter cups? He loves those.

But no. I think I'll go for one of those dumb little gifts hyping Father's Day - the ones which sprout up in little booths in malls only during the Father's Day shopping season - the ones that are cute but have absolutely no worthwhile use. Yeh. That's the kind of gift I think I'll get.

That's not to say, dad, that I think you are cute but have absolutely no use.

In fact, I don't recall ever saying you were cute. No, seriously, I love you, Dad. You are one heck of a handsome guy, and smart too, and best of all, one of the funnest (and funnest) people I know. It's been a world of fun being your daughter. Happy Father's Day.

Stennett, Draper Receive NCA Cheerleading Awards

The Tahoka High School varsity cheerleaders recently returned from a National Cheerleaders Association summer camp workshop where one of their squad members, Stephanie Stennett, received top recognition as being selected for the NCA All-American Team. Also, Susan Draper received All-American Mascot.

The workshop was held May 31-June 3 in Denton and attracted over 950 cheerleaders from surrounding states.

The THS cheerleaders learned many cheers, chants, and dance routines that can be used this year. They also received many awards.

The first day of camp, they tried out for National Competition. They received a red, excellent, ribbon for their performance. The cheerleaders will not get to participate in the National Competition, but will try again next year.

The cheerleaders were evaluated Tuesday night and Thursday morning on both a camp cheer and chant. They received a blue, superior, ribbon for each evaluation. They also received a spirit stick Tuesday night and Thursday morning, which they were able to take home.

The cheerleaders also received a TEAM award, an award determined by four other squads in their evaluation group. They received this award because the other squads felt that they worked the best as a team.

On the last day of camp, the All-American cheerleaders and mascots were announced. Susan Draper, THS mascot, was one of the six mascots chosen. She has the opportunity to compete at Nationals this year.

Stephanie Stennett was one of the cheerleaders chosen as an All-American cheerleader. She has the opportunity to travel to Hawaii and participate in the Aloha Bowl, or Ireland to be in the St. Patrick's Day Parade or New York and be in the Macy's Parade.

The Texas Farm Bureau's 30th annual Citizenship Seminar for junior and senior high school students is June 14-18 on the campus of Angelo State University in San Angelo.

Attending from Lynn-Garza County are Jay Ryan Ash of O'Donnell, Stephanie Stennett of Tahoka, and Jason Gandy of New Home.

They were chosen to represent Lynn-Garza County because of their leadership ability, scholastic achievement and character, said H.G.

Franklin, Lynn-Garza County Farm Bureau president.

Carrie Taylor, of Tahoka, is attending as a junior counselor.

The seminar is designed to give these selected high school students a better understanding of the various forms of government and their responsibilities as citizens. Comparisons of the different kinds of economic systems are outlined in lectures, films and discussions presented by leading authorities in government, history and economics.

Windstrips Can Control Erosion On Cultivated Land, Says SCS

Wind stripcropping is one alternative producer in Lynn County can use to control wind erosion on their cultivated land, according to sources at the Soil Conservation Service in Tahoka. Wind stripcropping is an inexpensive way to meet the conservation requirements of the Food Security Act and also stay eligible for USDA benefits.

Windstrips are narrow strips of grass or high residue crops that are properly spaced throughout a cropland field to reduce wind erosion. WW Spar Bluestem, Kleingrass or Ermelo Lovegrass work good as strips, depending on the soil type.

Sorghums can either be planted in rows or drilled. Drilling small grains has proven more successful than overseeding. The spacing of the strips varies with the soil types; for example, the sandier the soil the closer the strips are placed together.

Windstrips should be planted perpendicular to the most erosive winds and should be maintained throughout the critical erosion season.

Studies in West Texas have shown that windstrips are an effective way to protect bare cropland fields from excessive wind erosion after crops are harvested. Windstrips can also offer valuable wind protection for emerging crops in the spring; therefore, the need for "sandfighting" tillage operations is greatly reduced.

Producers who have questions about windstrips are encouraged to call the local Soil Conservation Service at 998-4507 or come by the office located at 1647 Ave. J in Tahoka.

Utility Assistance Program Funds Now Available

The South Plains Community Action Association, Inc. announces its receipt of utility assistance program funds to assist the truly needy in Lynn County.

The purpose of this program is to provide assistance to eligible persons experiencing an energy-related crisis or energy-related emergency. It is a utility assistance program. Priority shall be given eligible households with persons 60 years or older and/or with handicapped persons. This priority does not exclude other income eligible households.

A person must apply at 1629 Ave. J in Tahoka during the hours of 8 a.m.-noon and 1-5 p.m. and bring his utility bill, and evidence of his income for the last 30 days.

Proof of income may consist of: checks, check stubs, award letters, employer statements, or other similar documents.

For additional information concerning this assistance, contact: Neighborhood Center Workers Berta Tyson or Janie Garza at 998-4521 or 998-4522.

Museum News

More bits and pieces of Tahoka memorabilia are being added to the collection at the Tahoka Pioneer Museum, including the following — one of the first ballot boxes used in the voting process, a Woods Jewelry clock from the Courthouse, a picture of B.L. Parker, one of the first Sheriffs in the area, a cash register that was familiar to many of the old-timers who did business along Main Street, Indian artifacts from the Mound Lake area and the possibility of more military items.

The Board of Directors of the Tahoka Pioneer Museum met at the Museum on Monday, June 14, at noon and among the Committee reports was that of the Building and Grounds Committee. They reported that the weeds and bugs had been sprayed, and burned-out light bulbs were now burning bright.

A visitor to the meeting was Paul Johnson, grandson of board member Elmer Owens. He is from Georgetown and is the son of Steve and Vickie (Owens) Johnson.

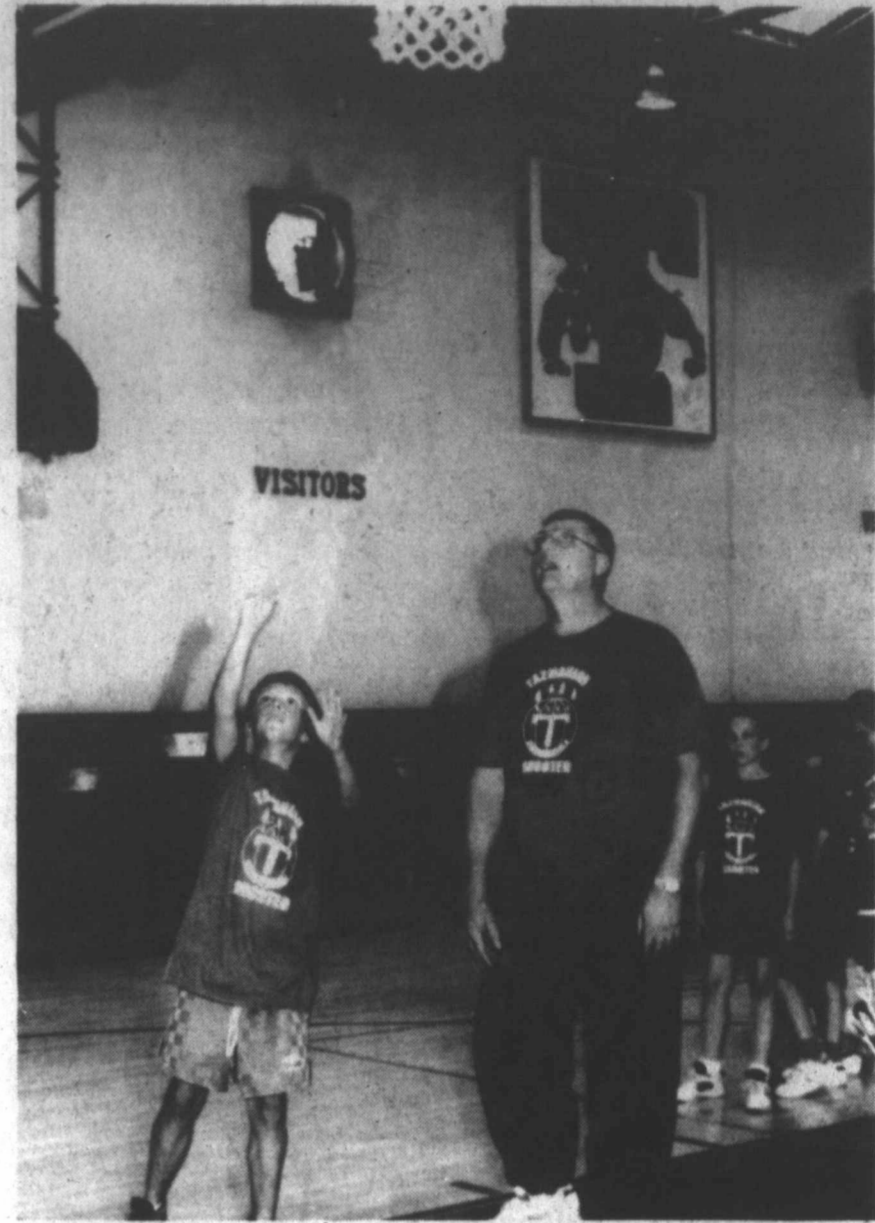

In checking the Guest Register for the last few months, there were people from Germany, Nevada, Oklahoma, Virginia, Arkansas, California, Florida and various places in Texas.

Active Board members present were Arlys Askew, Mary Louder, Melvin Burks, Bill Craig, K.R. Durham, Weesie Carroll, James Roberts, Jim Solomon, Betsy Pridmore, Edde Lockaby, Elmer Owens and Mildred Abbe. Absent were Lottie Jo Walker, Madeline Hegi, Carl Reynolds, and Frances Wells.

Betty Green Attends International Meeting In Dallas

Betty Green of Tahoka, a member of the Phebe K. Warner Club, recently returned from the 102nd annual international convention of the club's parent organization, the General Federation of Women's Clubs (GFWC). The state organization, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, hosted the convention and Mrs. Green served as convention chairman.

Approximately 1,000 GFWC members from around the nation and the world attended sessions in Dallas that featured such outstanding experts as: Nancy Woodhull, founding editor of USA TODAY and a noted authority on women in the media; Dr. Holly Atkinson, medical correspondent for NBC-TV's TODAY SHOW, and Scott Carpenter, one of the original seven US astronauts.

Children's Sports Injuries

Make sure your kids are into sports for the fun, friends and some exercise... not for the pro scouts. The NY Times says that, "Intensive sports training for children is creating an epidemic of stress fractures and other injuries usually associated with adults." Orthopedists and pediatricians blame specialty sports camps and longer training seasons. Also adding to the problem are inexperienced coaches, poor fitting equipment and fields too big for kids.

United Blood Services is in need of all types of blood. You might be on the receiving end sometime, so take a little time and help them in this drive, so they can help those who need blood today.

The Wilson school board met last Thursday for a routine meeting. They approved the hiring of Mrs. Diane Lane, wife of the new football coach, as the new Kindergarten teacher. They also approved the hiring of Ms. Beverly Usher as a special education teacher and Ms. Donna Winkley as the new high school math teacher.

Wilson 4-H has been busy this summer and have planned various activities for the rest of the summer. They will be offering programs in cake decorating, sewing, computers, and camping and fishing. As part of the camping and fishing program, members will be able to enjoy a fishing and camping trip sometime during the summer.

Five 4-H members will be participating in a 4-H camp in Brownwood during the summer and one or possibly two of the older 4-H members will be going to a special leadership camp in New Mexico.

Stacey Shelton and her family recently moved to New Mexico so Lexi Wied was elected to fill the vice-president's post that Stacey left.

The 4-H'ers are also working on their activity for the annual Fourth of July celebration slated Sunday, July 4 in Wilson Park. There are several county-wide 4-H activities planned for this summer and most are listed in the June newsletter. Take special notice on the article about record books and the workshop on June 24 at Lyntegar at 10 a.m. Sherri Gickhorn will be at this workshop as a master volunteer record book leader. Contact Sherri for information on record book questions.

The new lights are really lighting things up for the tennis and basketball players, as well as those who are using the walking track. Even though the track is not yet finished, several people have been using it for their walking time.

The city has designed and designed this track as a walking track and for pedestrian use only. It is not for the use of any type of motorized vehicle (car, pickup, motorcycle, three wheel ATV, four wheel ATV, or any type of object that is operated or propelled by a motor). Even before the track was finished, after last week's little rain shower, some knucklehead drove on the track and cut deep ruts that took several hours of grading to fix. There will be extremely severe fines levied on anyone who operates any type of a motorized unit or vehicle on this track. Too many people have spent much time, effort, and money for this track for it to be vandalized and damaged by one or two people who don't have the common decency to respect public use property and use it for the purpose for which it was designed.

Did you remember to put your flag out this past Monday? It was Flag Day, you know. Thanks to those who did remember. It's still a "Grande Ole Flag".

Father's Day is this Sunday, so remember "Ole Dad" on his day.

Zora Powers had some overnight company last night (Wednesday) when her sister-in-law Maxine Wise and nephew J.W. Wise dropped by as they passed through Wilson. Maxine and J.W., along with Zora, are the last of the clan on Zora's side of the family.

There are special programs offered by General Telephone for those senior citizens who are on low, fixed incomes. This program, known as "Lifeline" is a program which will reduce the senior's telephone bill by $7 per month, if the person qualifies. I am mentioning this program only as a way to let people know that it exists and not as any type of recommendation. For more information contact General Telephone at (915) 658-4600. This is not a toll-free call.

PEOPLE

The Wilson PEOPLE held their regular monthly meeting Saturday, June 12, at the Green Building. Businesses represented at the meeting were Klaus Insurance, Nanny's Attic, and Wilson State Bank. The group decided to have a booth at the Lions Club July 4th event in the city park featuring "PEOPLE DEALS" and a puppet show.

Walking Track-The final stages of the walking track have begun. The track has been scraped and the caliche base is already in place. The group is exploring several avenues of getting the asphalt topping put on the track. Hopefully the track will be complete soon and everyone can look forward to a ribbon cutting ceremony.

Museum Committee-The museum committee is in the process of making some contacts to various historical organizations to find out what can be done about restoring the meat processing plant which is a part of the museum. If you have an interest in historical restoration or are curious about what is being considered, come to the next meeting July 10, at 9 a.m.

Welcome Packets-The group decided to put together a welcome packet for new people coming into our city. The packet will contain a business directory, a list of all churches in the city and other information about our community. If you would like to help, contact Sharon Isam or Susan Wied. These packets would then be distributed to new people in the city as their water meters are activated.

Community Newsletter- Sharon

Isam is doing a great job of printing the monthly newsletter. Again, we stress that any business attending the meeting gets a free ad in the paper. Also, watch the newsletter for more detailed information about each topic. These newsletters can be picked up at the businesses in town or at the churches about two weeks after a regular monthly PEOPLE meeting.

City Council Liaison- Keith Wied agreed to be a liaison for the PEOPLE group to the city council to keep the communication lines more open between the two groups since many of their projects overlap each other.

One-Year Anniversary- The PEOPLE group has now been in existence for one year (as of July, 1993) so an election was held for new leaders to begin their duties in July. Sharon Isam was elected as assistant facilitator and Carolyn Klaus was elected as facilitator. The group has been very successful in their one year, which shows the concern and pride of the citizens of the community. Watch the newsletter for a list of the projects that have been started and/or completed in one short year. The list is impressive and one in which the community will take pride because it is all being done to promote the community which should eventually improve business for everyone. We hope to see you at the July 10 meeting at 9 a.m. when the group will explore the idea of forming a Wilson Chamber of Commerce.
