Burglaries, Theft Are Reported

A fat pig with a nostril missing was among items reported stolen this week, but it wasn't for real. Tahoka resident Susie Sosa reported she had taken her daughter's stuffed animals to a coin-operated laundry Monday and they were stolen when she left the building for a brief time.

A witness reported seeing a suspect putting the toys, including a fat pig, big Garfield, Cabbage Patch doll, dog, bear and another doll into a sack. Investigation was continuing.

Two burglaries were reported at O'Donnell. A state-owned radio system, four feet tall and valued at $3,226 was taken from a locked metal building on the Paymaster Gin yard Friday. And sometime before Sept. 1 someone took items valued at about $700 from a locked storage house on 9th St. in O'Donnell. Owner Harold Hohn said a Mikita electric saw, Ranch King 20-inch lawn mower, a John Deere lawn blower and a John Deere chain saw were missing.

In jail during the week were three persons for public intoxication and one for driving while intoxicated, subsequent offense.

Spur Rakes Bulldogs 55-12

The Tahoka Bulldogs took a 55-12 whipping from Spuras they opened the season away from home last Friday, and there were a few bright spots to go along with the dull ones. This week the Dogs travel to Roosevelt to try the Eagles, who were beaten 30-0 by Idalou.

Roosevelt has one lineman who weighs 306 pounds and another weighing 245.

Despite the big loss to Spur, Tahoka head coach Chris Wigington remained optimistic this week. "Except for six big plays, we played them pretty evenly, and I'm proud of our guys for doing well most of the time," he said.

It took less than a minute into the game for Spur to go ahead 14-0 last Friday, as the home town team's Shawn McDonald returned the opening kickoff 90 yards to score, and after the kickoff and an interception of a Tahoka pass, McDonald scored again on a pass reception, waltzing into the end zone untouched in the secondary.

Tahoka did drive 72 yards for a touchdown after that, mostly on penalties and passing, with the touchdown coming on a 12-yard pass from QB Matt Garcia to end Terry Gwin. It was still 14-6 at the end of the first quarter.

By halftime Spur led 28-6, on plays featuring poor tackling by Tahoka.

Tahoka put on another good drive to open the second half, with the biggest play being a 46-yard pass from Garcia to Edward Ramirez, down to the 1. From there Ramiro Rodriguez ran 1 for touchdown to make it 28-12.

Immediately after that Spurs scored touchdowns on 53-yard runs by Michael Kelly. It was 42-12 at the end of the fourth.

In the fourth Tahoka made one drive to the Spur 24, with passes to Juan Luna and Martin Gill. Altogether the Bulldogs threw 30 passes, completing 10 and having four interceptions.

Luna, Cody Hale and Michael Benavides did a good job on defense for Tahoka. On offense, Ramiro Rodriguez gained 59 yards on 19 carries.

THE OTHER DAY on one of those occasions when my wife and I were communicating, she made the remark that she never could understand why salt makes ice cream freeze better.

A glib-tongued conversationalist, I replied "I donno either," because it really doesn't make sense to me that something that melts the ice wouldn't just melt the ice cream, too, faster than it could freeze.

My brother, who knows a lot of useless things, told me that the salt lowers the freezing temperature of the water in the freezer, and makes it colder, helping the ice cream to freeze sooner.

"Oh," I said, pretending to understand perfectly. But I still don't get it.

Another question which came up about the same time was the origin of the phrase "Cash on the barrel head."

There may be some folks around old enough to remember when barrels or kegs had covers, or heads. My guess would be that back in the general store days, it was customary to lay the money for all your purchases on top of the barrel, where the store owner would pick it up as soon as he had time (probably busy with other customers, or busy watching out the window for hostile Indians, or maybe in those days they didn't have cash registers). "If you want this stuff, you have to put the cash on the barrel head before you leave with it," he probably said, pointing to a barrel of lard, or crackers, or whatever they used to put into barrels.

KNOTHOLES: Most of my favorite football teams lost big-time in their opening games (New Home and Tech were the exceptions). Already, after just one week, I'm losing interest in the game. . . President Clinton suggested the other day that the minimum wage should be raised to $5 an hour. Why not just raise it to $10 or $15 an hour, and then nobody w have a job. A raise in the minimum wage would cause a lot of employers to get by on fewer workers, especially at entry-level.

McCord Motor Co. Now Al Griggs Autocenter

McCord Motor Co., auto dealers in Tahoka for the last 55 years, last week became Al Griggs Autocenter, Inc., as Al Griggs of Lubbock has purchased the dealership from the McCords.

Griggs, who has been associated with auto dealerships in the South Plains area since 1972, is in Tahoka daily attending to his new duties as owner.

H.B. McCord Sr. established the company as a Pontiac dealership in 1938. H.B. McCord Jr. joined the business in 1951, taking over direction of the company upon the death of his father in 1972. Gary McCord joined the company in 1986 as part owner with his father, H.B. McCord Jr.

H.B. McCord Jr. is not retiring; he will stay on at the dealership in sales.

Among the dealerships Griggs has been associated with are Scoggin-Dickey in Lubbock, where he was sales manager, and McGinnis Chevrolet, where he was general manager, appearing in numerous television ads for the Slaton firm.

New TV Service Due For Area Includes Lynn

A consortium of five West Texas telephone and electric cooperatives has announced their plans to provide a new, competitive cable television service to residents of Lubbock and the West Texas area, starting in April of 1994.

Utilizing the latest in digital technology involving satellite programming, the new venture will offer choices of up to 150 channels to all urban and rural South Plains viewers and will compete directly with present cable television businesses across the region.

"Digital Satellite Television," as the new business will be known, will offer its "exceptionally clear" cable-like services under the marketing name of "DirecTV" to all residents of a 22-county area surrounding Lubbock, including Lynn County. The cooperatives purchased the franchise through Hughes Communications, a division of General Motors' Hughes Electronics, who built and will launch the satellite in December.

Beginning next April, subscribers will receive their universal digital communications service via a small fixed satellite dish attached to their homes instead of over cable lines and wiring. Programming will be broadcast directly to each home from two satellites orbiting above the continental United States. Unlike cable television systems, DirecTV can immediately serve all cities, towns, communities, urban and rural residences and businesses in the 22 counties including Andrews, Bailey, Borden, Cochran, Crosby, Dawson, Dickens, Floyd, Gaines, Garza, Hale, Hall, Hockley, Howard, Kent, Lamb, Lubbock, Lynn, Martin, Motley, Terry, and Yoakum.

Digital Satellite Television is being managed by Poka-Lambro Telecommunications, Inc. of Tahoka and will have a Lubbock retail location as well as locations through agents in almost every town in the area.

System owners are Poka-Lambro, Lyntegar Electric Cooperative, Inc. of Tahoka, South Plains Electric Cooperative, Inc. of Lubbock, South Plains Telephone Cooperative, Inc. of Lubbock, and Lamb County Electric Cooperative, Inc. of Littlefield.

Future satellite services, including services other than existing cable TV-type services, will be offered as they are developed and marketed.

"Clearly, this is a tremendously beneficial technology for all of West Texas," said Mickey Sims, general manager and CEO of Digital Satellite Television and Poka-Lambro Telecommunications, Inc. "This is the next generation of digital, laser-sharp cable television without the cable. The wireless services being deployed throughout our society will enhance our lives and allow the customer to have choices."

Subscribers will be able to watch 24-hour news, sports, music videos, movies—everything available on cable or other satellite programming.

The service will feature some of the best programming - including a package of the nation's favorite cable TV channels, in addition to national and regional sporting events, pay-per-view movies and educational programming, as well as satellite "video rentals," over an affordable satellite dish the size of a large pizza dish. So far, The Cartoon Network, Country Music Television, CNN, CNN International, C-Span, C-Span 2, The Discovery Channel, The Disney Channel, E! Entertainment, The Family Channel, Headline News, The Learning Channel, The Sci-Fi Channel, Superstation TBS, The Nashville Network, Turner Classic Movies, Turner Network Television, and USA Network are included in the package.

Subscribers will access this wide variety of programming using a digital television receiving system manufactured by Thomson Consumer Electronics, maker of RCA products.

The system includes an 18-inch receiving dish mounted outside the home, decoder box, and remote control, all priced with costs beginning around $700. Once installed, the dish will never need to be moved or adjusted.

"Monthly subscription fees for DirecTV will be competitively priced with existing services, and in most cases will be less expensive," said a spokesman.

Grid Contest Has Its First Winner

Winner of the first football contest in The Lynn County News was Jesse Arousa of Tahoka, who missed only two games of the 12. Arousa did not pick any secret sponsor on his entry, so missed out on the chance to double his earnings. He did win $10.

Five other entrants missed only three of the games, and one of these did correctly choose the secret sponsor, but all just barely missed winning money in the contest.

Secret sponsors last week were Witt Butane, D&H Tire, C-Bar-C Barbecue and Huffaker, Green & Huffaker, attorneys.

Another contest is offered this week, on the back page of this issue.

The average orbital speed of the earth around the sun is 66,640 miles per hour.

New Home's Troy Fillingim Named Player Of Week

New Home running back Troy Fillingim was named KAMC Channel 28 High School Football Player of the Week this week, and was featured during the 10 o'clock newscast Tuesday night. He is the son of Steve and G.G. Fillingim of New Home.

The 5'11", 170-pound senior carried 22 times for 249 yards and scored four touchdowns during the Leopards' 52-20 win over Borden County Friday night in six-man football action.

"I couldn't have done it without my line—they are probably the best in the state of Texas... they made my job easy," Fillingim stated in the KAMC interview.

Fillingim says the thing he would most like to do in his last year at New Home High School is to help the Leopards capture the six-man state title.

STRONG WINDS—During the high winds that blew in with a cool front late last Thursday night, this large tree limb was blown down, striking and denting the fender of a car parked in the back yard of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Salinas at 1825 N. 6th in Tahoka. Mrs. Salinas said they heard a loud cracking sound a little after 11 p.m. and investigation showed the downed tree limb. (LCN PHOTO)

Out of the Woods

The wayward thoughts of Juanell (Wood) Jones

I have recently made vast improvements in my golf game, so much so that I can now enjoy a round of nine in just under three hours (providing, of course, that I don't stop at the clubhouse more than twice to go to the bathroom).

I have discovered a really amazing way to keep score, which is way easier than trying to remember if I hit the ball 9 or 12 times before whacking it into the number one hole at the local golf course. The problem with the usual way of keeping track is that, after 30 minutes or so, I tend to forget how many times I have actually hit the ball (not counting the extras which have disappeared into the snake-infested "rough" which some ignorant golf-course designer deemed necessary along the edges of the course).

So, my new method of keeping score is to check with the others in my foursome after the completion of each hole, determining the highest number, and then adding one more for my score. That way, while I'll probably never actually win, I can relax and enjoy my game without the worrisome and depressing responsibility of keeping track of just how awful I play.

This is what I did Labor Day morning, along with three other female cohorts who aren't easily embarrassed by my golfing disabilities. I can whack at that stupid little ball five or six times before making actual contact with the club, and then it bounds away in speeds upwards of a foot a minute, followed by the dust cloud raised when my club scooped up a pound of dirt along with the ball. I employ this method in a zigzagging manner, every 42 feet or so, until, covered in dirt, I arrive panting at the green, which is where I gain my strength.

Once on the green, I proceed to putt fiercely back and forth across, whizzing the ball across that little hole so fast that it would have to have a suctioning vacuum of air strong enough to stop a 747 before it could catch my ball. There's nothing wrong with my aim, mind you. I just seem to hit really strong with a putter. Maybe I should tee off with one.

Anyway, the four of us completed a round of nine, in about the same length of time it took for our husbands to complete a round of 18. At the same golf course. Whizzing past us in their carts and making derisive comments. Holding their arms over their heads for protection if they got anywhere close to my 42-foot firing range.

I think, though, that the next time I play golf I should consider playing with my husband instead of my female friends. I could cut my score by as much as half, I bet, by starting with his score and adding one stroke per hole. Naaaahhh. That would be cheating.

Plans Underway For Tahoka's Annual Harvest Festival Sept. 25

The 18th annual Lynn County Harvest Festival has been scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 25, on the square in downtown Tahoka.

The popular annual event will once again feature food and crafts booths, children's games and activities, live entertainment throughout the day, and a street dance until midnight. The Blue Denim Band, a country/western group who has played for previous festivals, will be on hand for this year's event.

Dustie Cook is this year's booth chairman, and anyone interested in reserving a booth space for the all-day event should contact her at 998-5518 (work) or 998-4318 (home).

Mr. and Mrs. J.D. House are co-chairmen of the merchant drawings, and anyone who would like to volunteer to collect prizes from merchants is asked to contact them at 998-5150.

The annual queen and princess contests will again be sponsored by Tahoka Chamberettes, and all young ladies in the county are encouraged to participate. Contest chairmen are Leah Taylor and Rebecca Ingle.

Winners in the princess contest are determined by ticket sales, and finalists in the queen contest are determined by ticket sales plus several other factors, including poise and personality in judges' interviews.

Ticket sales will begin soon as queen and princess contestants collect their tickets to sell for chances to win an all-expenses paid trip for two to Mexico, a Texas Tech weekend with tickets to the Tech vs. A&M game and suite accommodations at a Lubbock hotel, and two bicycle drawings.

The Harvest Festival Committee, in conjunction with the Tahoka High School Student Council, will conduct a bubblegum toss at the Homecoming football game Friday night before the festival, with a drawing to be held at the festival for those who find a number written on a slip of paper in with their bubblegum.

There will not be a Lynn County Fair at this year's Harvest Festival. Spacenear the square to display items at the fair has become increasingly difficult to find, and interest in entering items in the fair has declined in recent years.

JV Bulldogs Top Spur 12-0

by THS GROWL STAFF
Tahoka Junior Varsity football team members kept Spur scoreless as they won their first season outing, Thursday, Sept. 3. JV won 12-0. They are hoping for a second win on their home field tonight (Thursday) against Whiteface.

Sophomore Clay Taylor intercepted a pass on the first play of the ballgame.

"Getting the ball from Spur's offense got us motivated to play and to come out and move the ball real well," said Coach Hulon Kirkland.

"We fumbled trying to get as much yardage as possible on our offensive drive," said Coach Kirkland.

In the third quarter freshman Joseph De Leon scored on a sweep by running over the goal line from 18 yards out.

"The defensive players did a good job keeping Spur contained," said Coach Kirkland, citing freshmen Brent Raindl, Monty Hale and J. DeLeon for defensive play.

In the fourth quarter the JV marched the ball down the field and set up the second score. Sophomore David Garvin scored from 20 yards out.

"Garvin and DeLeon ran well," said Coach Kirkland. Execution from the quarterback, offensive line, and backs was good, according to the coach.

Raindl caught one pass and DeLeon caught four passes. Quarterback Taylor did good getting the ball to the receivers, said the Coach.

Coach Tooter Draper is also coaching JV.

O'Donnell Trounced 47-0 By Stanton

The O'Donnell Eagles opened season play Friday night with a disappointing loss, travelling to Stanton only to bring home a 47-0 defeat.

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company (SWBT) is asking the Public Utility Commission of Texas (PUC) for approval to offer Caller ID service in Texas. This service includes Calling Number Delivery, Calling Name Delivery and Anonymous Call Rejection (ACR). This service will be deployed statewide on a staggered, city-by-city basis, over a period of years in Texas in association with residence, business single and multiline services, but not PBX, Centrex or Plexar services, where facilities are available. Anonymous Call Rejection is a Caller ID service which permits a subscriber to automatically reject calls from callers who have blocked their number/name. Per-call and per-line blocking will be available when the service is deployed. Detailed information on Caller ID service and how to block will be sent to each customer in their telephone bill during the next few weeks.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in this proceeding should notify the PUC before October 6, 1993. Disaster Quality Signup (1990/1991/1992): The President has signed legislation authorizing the remaining portion of the previously appropriated crop year 1990/1991/1992 disaster funds to be used for the purpose of conducting an additional disaster program signup for crop year 1990/1991/1992 quality losses pertaining to crops of cotton, sorghum, wheat, corn, barley, oats, soybeans, sunflowers, ELS cotton, and peanuts.

The announced signup period for producers applying for quality losses pertaining to crop years 1990/1991/1992 crops of cotton, sorghum, wheat, corn, barley, oats, soybeans, sunflowers, ELS cotton, and peanuts ends Sept. 17, 1993, to be eligible for quality loss disaster benefits. It is our understanding the Sept. 17 deadline is established by legislation and may not be extended.

1993 Disaster Program: The President has signed legislation authorizing a 1993 disaster program for production losses occurring before August 1. Because we have very few total crop losses at this time and because of the volume of quality applications for crop year 1990/1991/1992 that must be filed by no later than Sept. 17, we urge you to wait for a forthcoming newsletter explaining the details of the 1993 disaster program.

ACP Signup Continues: Applications are being taken for cost shares to carry out conservation practices. Practices include terraces, irrigation pipe and tanks, deep breaking (20" and deeper that meets SCS specifications) brush control, establishment of permanent grass, and pipeline for livestock water.

Applications received by Sept. 16 will be included in this review for approval. If you have need to install conservation practices please make application now.

Review of ACR and Paid CU Acreages: Many operators need to review their ACR and Paid CU acreages and take any required action to control weeds. Additional delays will allow a problem to get out of hand. Spot-checks are required each year. We have begun to get calls from neighbors alerting us of possible problems if action is not taken.

Penalties are required when weeds have become a problem and found by this office or a state office representative. The penalty for noncontrol of weeds will be 2 times the rate required to have the weeds shredded.

This penalty is allowed if the County Committee can determine the operator has shredded the weeds within 15 days of notification and they determine the operator had made a good faith effort to comply with the provisions of the contract to participate in the farm program.

GOTCHA! - This tiny horned toad was captured near the Lynn County News office, and a photo was hastily snapped before the now-endangered species was allowed to escape. The photographer tried to take two photos without anyone holding onto the little critter, but he was too speedy (or the photographer was too slow). (LCN PHOTO)

September Field Day Planned At Halfway

Other stops will feature cropping systems and weed control, cotton breeding, and irrigation scheduling with PET.

A walking tour will be conducted in the grape vineyard and a youth tour

News From BETTER BUSINESS BUREAU

Pictures and stories of the flooding in the Midwest prompt many of us to want to help the victims. Unfortunately, such disasters also may bring out those who prey on our sympathy and profit from the suffering of others. The BBB urges donors to use their heads as well as their hearts when making contributions for flood relief. Donors should be wary of appeals that dwell on the floods but do not specify how donations will be used. If you are not familiar with the soliciting organization, don't hesitate to ask about the group's purposes, programs and finances. Consider your options - you may not want to give to the first appeal - you may wish to shop around. Ask for written materials describing the charity. Be wary of charities that are reluctant to answer reasonable questions. Don't give cash. Make a check or money order out to the charity. Check the appeal out with the BBB - call us at 763-0459.

Work-at-home schemes are perennial problems, but have been unusually troublesome recently as consumers turn to these supposed job opportunities as an income source in a weak economy. National BBB survey results were released at a recent U.S. Senate hearing on work-at-home and business opportunity scams. Work-at-home advertisements usually are nothing more than ploys set up by the advertiser to sell information to unsuspecting consumers leading them to believe they can begin their own successful business from their home. No actual employment is offered. Despite warnings and ongoing education efforts, consumers are continually lured by false promises of huge profits for easy at home work. Continuing unemployment, the lure of easy money, a popular belief that all work-at-home offers that appear in newspapers are true, and the fact that respected local newspapers continue to accept the ads are reasons these schemes continue to victimize our society.

Following a short break, Stocker Cattle Topics will be covered by the same specialists on such subjects as

"Animal Health/Receiving and Processing," "Supplements for Stocker Cattle for Maximum Weight Gain!", and "Managing Wheat Pasture for Stocker Cattle."

Watch for these signs... think SAFETY!

WARNING NATURAL GAS PIPELINE

American Pipeline Company and its affiliated companies, Westar Transmission, American Gathering, L.P., American Gas Storage, L.P., American Processing, L.P., Caprock Pipeline, Red River Pipeline and Picor Pipeline, operate natural gas pipelines in West Texas and the Texas Panhandle. Signs similar to the ones pictured above are placed in areas where our natural gas pipelines are located.

Our pipelines are safe and we keep them that way by designing, installing and operating our pipelines to exacting standards.

If natural gas pipelines are damaged, people may be injured, property destroyed or energy supplies lost. Therefore, American Pipeline and its affiliated companies conduct an ongoing surveillance program to detect factors which might threaten safe pipeline operations. We also conduct a damage prevention program to inform the public of the importance of using safety measures when digging or excavating near natural gas pipelines.

If you are planning to dig or excavate in an area, remember to look for warning signs indicating natural gas pipelines. If you see an American Pipeline marker, call us at our toll free number, 1-800-562-5879, before you begin working. We will send a company representative to mark the location of the pipeline.

Natural gas cannot be seen and normally cannot be smelled, but gas leaks may still be detected. Any one of the following is among the common indications of a gas leak:

- Dust blowing from a hole in the ground
- Continuous bubbling in one spot in wet or flooded areas
- A gaseous or hydrocarbon odor

If you suspect a natural gas leak in an area where American Pipeline markers are located, immediately leave the area and call us at our toll free number:

Leopards Dash Past Coyotes In 52-20 Season Opener

The New Home Leopards began six-man action play last week with a resounding victory over the Borden County Coyotes, with senior running back Troy Fillingim scoring four touchdowns in the Leopards' 52-20 win.

Fillingim rushed for 249 yards on 22 carries, and scored the first touchdown of the night on a 22-yard dash to the end zone with 6:08 on the clock. Junior Brad Bell scored on a 51-yard run with 51 seconds before the end of the first quarter to put the Leopards ahead 16-0.

Fillingim hopped in on a 1-yarder at 4 minutes before halftime. The Coyotes answered with their first score when junior quarterback Kurt Hess connected with Richard Buchanan six yards away.

The Leopards added another score before intermission, however, when Fillingim scored on a 44-yard sprint with 1:33 left.

The second half opened with a score from New Home's sophomore quarterback Greg Armes, who darted in from 3 yards out. The Coyotes' Miguel Hernandez halted a New Home drive with his interception and 8-yard run to the end zone with 2:22 before the fourth period.

Hess returned a kick off for a touchdown with 9:08 left for Borden County's last-minute effort, but Armes hit Shannon Zant halfway through the final stanza on an 18-yard pass to finish the game at 52-20.

The Leopards will take on Klondike this Friday night, again hosting on their home field, with kickoff set for 8 p.m.

The Wilson Booster Club still meets every Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria. The Booster Club is for any person who desires to promote and support the UIL events and students of Wilson ISD. The club will continue to accept members as long as anyone expresses an interest in joining.

The Booster club will host a concession stand cleanup on Sunday, Sept. 12, from 2 p.m. until the job is done. There are quite a few things that need attention in the stand, so come out with your tools and cleaning supplies and help get the stand ready for the first home game which is just two weeks away. The Booster Club operates the concession stand and uses the profits in its support programs for the students. Volunteers are needed for working in the stand during the home football games so if you would like to work during one or more of the games please contact Charles Earwood. Lowen, Young is in charge of seeing that there is a crew to operate the chains during the home games this year. If you are interested in helping in this way, contact him.

St. John Lutheran Church is exploring the possibility of an after school hours child care program for the benefit of those students and parents where the parents work. Please contact Pastor David Mumford at the church if this program would benefit you and you might be interested in participating.

The Wilson Mustangs went to Wellman last Friday losing 8-40. The next game will be in Whitharral, Friday. The Mustang Jr. High team will play their first game on Thursday, Sept. 9. They will play the Whitharral team here at Wilson at 5 p.m. It would be nice to have a nice crowd on hand for their first game and the first home game for either Mustang team this year.

The school calendar has several events for this next week:

Thursday, Sept. 9- Jr. High football here vs. Whitharral 5 p.m.; School Board meeting 7 p.m. in Board Room in the elementary building.

Friday, Sept. 10- Varsity football at Whitharral, 7 p.m.

Tuesday, Sept. 14- School pictures all day; Band practice 6:30-8:30 p.m. in Band Hall; Booster Club at 7:30 p.m. in cafeteria.

Tuesday, Sept. 14, is scheduled for the yearly picture day. All students are urged to wear bright colors and have their hair combed for the photographer. Notes have been sent home with the students explaining the contents of the various packages and the prices of each package of pictures.

The 1993 Lynn County combined 4-H clubs achievement banquet will be held on Monday, Sept. 13 at 7 p.m. at the Tahoka school cafeteria. Please take care and notice that this banquet is about a month earlier than prior years.

The South Plains 4-H leader forum will be held on Saturday, Sept. 11. All county 4-H volunteer adult leaders are invited to attend. Normal registration was due on Aug. 31, in the extension office. A catered meal will be served at a cost of $8 per person. If you would like to attend contact the extension office as soon as possible to see if a late registration is still available.

There will be a very special 4-H event on Nov. 6. For the first time in three years, there will be a 4-H family day at Texas Tech. All 4-H members, ages 11-19, all parents, leaders and extension agents are eligible to attend. Contact the County Extension Office for further information about times and costs. Tentative deadline is Oct. 15.

Hungry Hill must be Lynn County's answer to Lakeridge, for snakes that is. There have been several large rattlers killed in the Hungry Hill area this year and this last weekend was no exception. Several of the Moore family were out working fence lines last Saturday in an old prairie dog town when Shorty looked down into one of the holes and noticed a snake. One of the boys came over and discovered that it was a large female with several pencil-size young. Since they were unaware of how many snakes were in the hole, they decided not to try and flush them out, but to just shoot into the hole and try to kill as many as possible. The large female and several of the young were then fished out. With it being the time of the year that it is and with some of the hunting seasons open or soon to open, it is especially important to watch for rattlers in areas where they are known to be.

All Wilson area farmers need to be aware that the administration has released some more money for crop disaster payments. If you suffered crop disaster losses in 1990, 1991, 1992, you need to contact the ASCS office to set up an appointment to review your information. The deadline for this plan is reported to be Sept. 17.

Gilbert and Joann Steinhauser have recently returned from a vacation to the western part of Canada. They enjoyed scenic drives through the Canadian mountains and forests, and Gilbert took many photographs of the landscape and the wildlife. One of his series of pictures, of an elk, has created a rash of "buck fever" among many of the hunters who inhabit the gin office in the mornings.

Mustangs Bow To Wellman

The Wilson Mustangs scored one touchdown during their season opener last week when they travelled to Wellman. Unfortunately, the Wellman Wildcats lived up to their name, balancing their ground and air attacks and scoring in every quarter as they overwhelmed the Mustangs 40-8 in six-man action.

The sole Wilson score was a 12-yard touchdown pass from Adam Castillo to John Lehman, followed by a two-point conversion kick by Castillo.

The Mustangs will travel out of town again this Friday night when they take on Whitharral at 8 p.m. Their first home game will be Sept. 17, against Cotton Center.

There is an easier way to roam free on the range

Back in the early days, you probably decided to buy a cellular phone to make it a little easier to roam free on the range. Little did you know that there was a whole new set of boundaries to stumble across. Your cellular company wouldn't let you cut across another coverage area and receive calls without an extra roaming fee. And you had to remember every roamer access code for every coverage area you crossed. Soon, people were looking for you, and you couldn't be found. Your face was plastered on a wanted poster in your office because you gave the wrong code to your secretary. People actually said they wanted to 'ring your neck'.

Today, things are different. Digital Cellular has introduced a way for you to 'roam free' on the South Plains of Texas. As a Digital Cellular customer, you can roam in our Extended Coverage Area and receive your calls without additional roaming charges, daytime tolls or access numbers. Regular air time rates do apply.

So now, whether you're roaming across the range from Friona to Sterling City, or Haskell to Odessa or even in downtown Lubbock, Digital Cellular is putting you on the line for less. Less hassle. Less cost.

(NAPS)—Some of the most highly-prized collectibles in England, Toby Jugs, are little known here in the United States. Toby Jugs are ceramic jugs of either full figures or heads and shoulders with a handle at the back and a hole at the top. They first appeared in England in the 1780s. Standing eight to nine inches tall, they were probably initially used as pitchers for beer. The Tobys above are (a) Winston Churchill (b) General Patton (c) President Clinton (d) Henry VIII (e) General Rommel (f) Sherlock Holmes. It is not known when Toby Jugs achieved their collectible status but the first recorded collection was sold at Christies in 1902. Today there are still some companies producing Toby Jugs, among them, Kevin Francis Ceramics, considered a market leader in high quality collectibles. The Toby Jugs from this company are limited editions. They range in price from $160 to $350. Tobys are rarely sold in stores, though you can find out more about them by writing to: Kevin Francis Ceramics, P.O. Box 1267, Warren, MI 48090 or calling 1-800-634-0431.

Statewide Survey Shows Decrease In Drug, Alcohol Use By Elementary Students.

Forty-six percent of Texas sixth graders have drunk alcohol at least once, with 22 percent stating that alcohol is very easy for them to get, according to a survey recently released by the Texas Commission on Alcohol and Drug Abuse which measures alcohol and other drug use among fourth through sixth graders. However, the survey showed a general decrease in drug and alcohol use among fourth through sixth grade students statewide.

A total of 34,025 Texas public school students in grades four through six were randomly selected from school districts throughout the state. The students were asked questions concerning their use of tobacco, alcohol, inhalants and marijuana.

While the survey shows a general decrease in drug and alcohol use among fourth through sixth grade students between 1990-1992, the use of tobacco and inhalants remained about the same. Lifetime use of alcohol showed the most significant decrease: 33 percent of elementary students in 1992 admitted ever drinking alcohol, compared to 42 percent in 1990.

"These results parallel the decreases we are seeing in secondary school population, indicating that use of these substances is down across all grades," said Bob Dickson, Executive Director of TCADA. "While we are pleased that prevention efforts are having a positive effect on our youth, we are certainly not going to back down on these efforts, particularly in the elementary grades."

"What happens in elementary school sets the stage for events in later years. When fewer elementary students use alcohol and tobacco, fewer then go on to use marijuana in secondary school. Similarly, the fewer that use marijuana, the fewer that move on to use other drugs. Therefore, the factors that delay the onset of substance use among elementary students are exceedingly important," Dickson explained.

The survey found that, on the average, sixth graders were 10 years old when they first tried alcohol, which is the same average age of first use as tobacco.

Students were also asked where they obtained the alcohol they drank. Students in fourth grade (13 percent) and fifth grade (15 percent) were most likely to indicate that they got alcohol at home. Twenty-two percent of sixth graders indicated that they have obtained alcohol from home, 16 percent from friends; and 17 from sources other than home or friends.

The survey also found that more elementary students (19 percent) had used tobacco (cigarettes as well as smokeless tobacco) than any other substance except alcohol. Eleven percent of fourth graders, 18 percent of fifth graders and 27 percent of sixth graders have used tobacco. Twenty percent of sixth graders said cigarettes were very easy to obtain.

Only 59 percent of fourth graders and 52 percent of fifth graders believe that it is "very dangerous" to smoke cigarettes - lower than the average for all eight substances, suggesting that fourth and fifth graders may be less fearful of cigarette smoking than using most of the other substances.

The Texas School Survey is a collaborative effort between the Commission and the Public Policy Research Institute at Texas A&M University.

Improvements that are to be used only for student housing, intercollegiate athletics, or auxiliary enterprises.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment relating to the amount and expenditure of certain constitutionally dedicated funding for public institutions of higher education."

PROPOSITION NO. 14 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 45 proposes a constitutional amendment that adds a new subsection (e) to article III, section 49-h, of the Texas Constitution. The new subsection provides that, in addition to the amounts authorized by subsections (a) ($500 million), (c) ($400 million), and (d) ($1.1 billion) of section 49-h, the legislature may authorize the issuance of up to $1 billion in general obligation bonds and may use the proceeds of the bonds for acquiring, constructing, or equipping new corrections institutions, including youth corrections institutions, and mental health and mental retardation institutions and for major repair or renovation of existing facilities of those corrections and mental health and mental retardation facilities. The amendment also provides that the provisions of subsection (a) of section 49-h, relating to the review and approval of bonds, and the provisions of subsection (b) of section 49-h, relating to the status of the bonds as a general obligation of the state and to the manner in which the principal and interest on the bonds are paid, apply to bonds authorized by this amendment.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing the issuance of up to $1 billion in general obligation bonds payable from the general revenues of the state for projects relating to facilities of corrections and mental health and mental retardation institutions."

PROPOSITION NO. 15 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 37 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the county commissioners court of a county to call an election to abolish the office of county surveyor. The office of county surveyor is abolished if a majority of voters of the county voting in the election approve the measure. If the office of county surveyor is abolished, the maps, field notes, and other records of the county surveyor are transferred to the county officer or employee designated by the commissioners court.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to permit the voters of a county to decide, at an election called by the commissioners court, whether to abolish the office of county surveyor in the county."

PROPOSITION NO. 16 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 44 proposes an amendment to article III, section 49-(b) of the Texas Constitution, which currently limits the principal amount of bonds outstanding at one time for the Texas agricultural fund to $25 million and for the rural microenterprise development fund to $5 million. The amendment would raise the principal amount limit for the Texas agricultural fund to $100 million. The amendment would also make the principal amount limit for each fund apply to the total principal amounts of both bonds and notes issued or sold rather than just the principal amounts of bonds outstanding at one time.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing up to a total of $100 million in bonds and notes to be issued or sold to finance the Texas agricultural fund for providing financial assistance to develop, increase, improve, or expand the production, processing, marketing, or export of crops or products grown or produced primarily in this state by agricultural businesses domiciled in the state."

PUBLIC NOTICE
BRIEF EXPLANATORY STATEMENTS
OF PROPOSED
CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS
SPECIAL ELECTION
NOVEMBER 2, 1993

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 9 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the Texas Legislature to provide for the issuance of bonds for the state financing of start-up costs for historically underutilized businesses. The amendment provides that the legislature by law may establish a Texas historically underutilized business capital growth and start-up fund. The money in the fund may be used without further appropriation and only for a program established by the legislature to aid in the start-up costs of a historically underutilized business, as defined by the legislature. To carry out the program, the legislature may issue up to $50 million of general obligation bonds to provide funding. The legislature may require review and approval of the issuance of bonds, the use of the bond proceeds, or of the rules adopted by an agency to govern use of the bond proceeds. Bonds authorized by the amendment constitute a general obligation of the state.

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 86 proposes a constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature, by general law, to exempt from ad valorem taxation all or part of real and personal property used, constructed, acquired, or installed wholly or partly to meet or exceed rules or regulations adopted by any environmental protection agency of the United States, Texas, or a political subdivision of this state for the prevention, monitoring, control, or reduction of air, water, or land pollution. The amendment applies to real and personal property used as a facility, device, or method for the control of air, water, or land pollution that would otherwise be taxable for the first time on or after January 1, 1994. The amendment does not authorize the exemption from ad valorem taxation of real or personal property that was subject to a tax abatement agreement executed before January 1, 1994.

PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 3 proposes a constitutional amendment to clear land titles in which the State of Texas relinquishes and releases any claim of sovereign ownership or title to an undivided one-third interest in and to the lands and minerals within the Shelby, Frazier, and McCormick League (now located in Fort Bend and Austin counties) arising out of the interest in that league originally granted under the Mexican Colonization Law of 1823 to John McCormick on or about July 24, 1824, and subsequently voided by the governing body of Austin's Original Colony on or about December 15, 1830. Title to such interest in the lands and minerals is confirmed to the owners of the remaining interests in such lands and minerals.

PROPOSITION NO. 4 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 49 proposes a constitutional amendment that would prohibit a state personal income tax without voter approval and would dedicate the proceeds of any income tax, if enacted, to property tax relief and education. The amendment provides that a general law enacted by the legislature that imposes a tax on the net incomes of natural persons, including a person's share of partnership and unincorporated association income, must provide that the portion of the law imposing the tax not take effect until approved by a majority of the registered voters voting in a statewide referendum held on the question of imposing the tax. The referendum must specify the rate of the tax that will apply to taxable income.

PROPOSITION NO. 5 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 18 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the legislature to prescribe the qualifications of sheriffs. Currently, the constitution authorizes the legislature to prescribe the duties, perquisites, and fees of office, but not the qualifications for the office of sheriff.

PROPOSITION NO. 6 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 21 proposes a constitutional amendment that would abolish the office of county surveyor in Jackson County. The amendment also provides for the powers, duties, and functions of the county surveyor to be transferred to the county officer designated by the commissioners court.

PROPOSITION NO. 7 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 57 proposes a constitutional amendment that repeals article XII, section 6, of the Texas Constitution, which currently provides that no corporation shall issue stock or bonds except for money paid, labor done, or property actually received, and that all fictitious increase of stock or indebtedness shall be void.

PROPOSITION NO. 8 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 22 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the commissioners court of McLennan County to call an election to abolish the office of county surveyor. The office of county surveyor will be abolished if a majority of the qualified voters of McLennan County voting on the question favor the abolition. If the office of county surveyor is abolished, the amendment requires the maps, field notes, and other records in the custody of the county surveyor to be transferred to the county clerk of McLennan County. After abolition, the amendment also grants the commissioners court of McLennan County the authority to employ or contract with a qualified person to perform any of the functions that would have been performed by the county surveyor if the office had not been abolished.

PROPOSITION NO. 9 ON THE BALLOT

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment abolishing the office of county surveyor in Jackson County."

PROPOSITION NO. 10 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 94 proposes a constitutional amendment that adds a new section 49-b-2 to article III of the Texas Constitution. This new section provides that, in addition to the general obligation bonds authorized to be issued and sold by the Veterans' Land Board (the "Board") by sections 49-b ($950 million) and 49-b-1 ($1.3 billion) of article III, the board may provide for, issue, and sell general obligation bonds of the state in an amount not to exceed $750 million to provide financing to Texas veterans. $250 million of the bonds authorized by this new section shall be used to augment the Veterans' Land Fund (the "Land Fund"). The Land Fund shall be used by the Board to purchase lands situated in Texas owned by the United States government, an agency of the United States government, the State of Texas, a political subdivision or agency of the State of Texas, or a person, firm, or corporation. The lands shall be sold to veterans in quantities, on terms, at prices, and at fixed, variable, floating, or other rates of interest determined by the Board. Lands in the Land Fund that are offered for sale to veterans and that are not sold may be sold or resold to the purchasers in quantities, terms, prices, and rates of interest determined by the Board.

PROPOSITION NO. 12 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 23 proposes a constitutional amendment providing that any person accused of a violent or sexual offense committed while under the supervision of a criminal justice agency of this state or a political subdivision of this state for a prior felony may, after a hearing and evidence substantially showing the guilt of the accused, be denied bail pending trial. If the accused is not, however, accorded a trial within 60 days from the time of his incarceration upon the accusation or indictment, the order denying bail shall be set aside unless a continuance is obtained upon the request of the accused. In the amendment, the term "violent offense" means murder, aggravated assault (if a deadly weapon was used or exhibited during the commission of the assault), aggravated kidnapping, or aggravated robbery. The term "sexual offense" means aggravated sexual assault, sexual assault, or indecency with a child.

PROPOSITION NO. 13 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 13 proposes a constitutional amendment that amends article VII, section 17(a), of the Texas Constitution to provide that, of the $100 million currently appropriated by that section for the use of public institutions of higher education during each fiscal year, those institutions may also utilize this money to pay for acquiring, constructing, or equipping or for major repair or rehabilitation of buildings, facilities, other permanent improvements, or capital equipment used jointly for educational and general activities and for auxiliary enterprises to the extent of their use for educational and general activities. For the five-year period beginning on September 1, 2000, and for each five-year period thereafter, the legislature, during a regular session that is nearest, but preceding, a five-year period may, by a two-thirds vote of the membership of each house, increase the amount of the $100 million constitutional appropriation for the five-year period. The amendment also reflects name changes that have been made to some of the institutions of higher education for which such funding is available. The amendment adds the Texas State Technical College System to those institutions eligible to receive such funding, but limits its allocation of the annual appropriation to 2.2 percent of the total appropriation each fiscal year. The amendment also provides that each governing board authorized to participate in the distribution of money under article III, section 17, may also issue bonds and notes for the purposes of refunding bonds or notes issued under that section or prior law for the purposes of acquiring capital equipment, library books and library materials, paying for acquiring, constructing, or equipping or for major repair or rehabilitation of buildings, facilities, other permanent improvements, or capital equipment used jointly for educational and general activities and for auxiliary enterprises to the extent of their use for educational and general activities. The amendment deletes language in article III, section 17, which authorizes the legislature to designate a single agency to issue such bonds or notes in lieu of the governing bodies, and to transfer to that agency the authority to collect and pledge money to the payment of such bonds and notes as directed by the governing body of each eligible institution. Funds appropriated under article III, section 17, may not be used for the purpose of constructing, equipping, repairing, or rehabilitating buildings or other permanent im-

Flu Shots Covered By Medicare

"For Medicare beneficiaries enrolled in Medicare, there's good news," according to Bruce Wells, Social Security manager in Lubbock. "Since May 1, 1993, the cost of getting a shot to protect you from the influenza virus has been covered by Medicare."

Most Medicare beneficiaries, because they are elderly, belong to an "at-risk" group and are strongly urged to consider getting a flu vaccination. Generally, flu shots are given once a year, usually in the fall or winter. According to Wells, the Medicare payment for the shot will be for the full amount and beneficiaries will not have to pay a deductible or co-insurance amount. A doctor's prescription or supervision is not required to have this vaccination covered by Medicare.

People are encouraged to get a flu shot every year. Even if they have had flu, they need to protect themselves against each year's new type of flu, and the best time to get the shot is in the fall.

It's easy to get a flu shot. One can get it at a doctor's office, the local health department, or even while in the hospital. For more information about flu shots, call toll-free 1-800-638-6833.
