

Never Too Old To Stop Playing...

Tahoka Woman's Doll Houses Feature Intricate Miniatures, Small Pieces Of History

by RACHEL LEHMAN

Many girls grow up playing with dolls and doll houses. Mildred Abbe of Tahoka was like these girls, except for one thing — she never stopped playing.

Mrs. Abbe received her first doll house in 1978 at age 66 from her children as a Christmas gift.

She says she has always had an interest in doll houses. The first one she played with was built by her father around 1910 for his step-sister. That doll house was passed on through several family members and is now in the Lydia Girl's Home, an orphanage in Chicago.

Her interest in miniatures continued as a child when her parents moved into a new home in Chicago and found a postage-stamp size dictionary. She still has the dictionary that is accompanied with a magnifying glass needed to read the printed words.

She says she enjoys decorating doll houses because, "you can put as much time and money into a doll house as you want and have it to pass on to your children."

Mrs. Abbe decorated her doll houses in historical themes using realistic miniature furnishings, special carpets and wallpaper.

She began decorating her first doll house in a Victorian, late 1880s to early 1900s, theme. The decorations and accessories are accurate for the time period the house was designed to represent.

The Victorian house is three-stories tall and is equipped with electricity and indoor plumbing. The house has a sewing room, a nursery complete with toys and even a miniature doll house. There is a dining room with the table set for four. In the master bedroom a glass of iced tea sits on the table, and in the parlor, playing cards are left scattered on the table. The kitchen shows food ready to eat — ham, turkey, salad — and a chicken with its head cut off lays on the cutting board. Other amenities of the house include a vacuum cleaner, a hot water bottle, a baby potty, a box of tissues, and a fireplace that glows.

The historical aspect is enhanced with the presence of an ice wagon and a vegetable cart outside.

A pie-chest is on the porch, adding to the realistic qualities. In the garbage can is a Chicago Tribune newspaper with the headline "Glenview Pilot's Story." There is also a cellar door and another miniature doll house in the yard.

Mrs. Abbe purchased her second doll house partially complete. She decided to decorate this house in a Federalist theme. This realistic house has no electric lights and has a stove in each room for heat. In the top story of this "Southern Mansion" is a nursery complete with a baby and a doll for the baby. A room for the nanny is next to the nursery.

There is a master bedroom with a meal waiting on a tray on the bed. The dressing room has a screened tub and a shaving stand. There is a music room, a dining room, and a kitchen with a stone wall fireplace. The house is intricately decorated and there are even bunny slippers in the child's room.

One of the miniatures decorating Mrs. Abbe's Victorian doll house is a hand made "Wooten desk." The desk stands five inches high and is the first one made by Bobbie Walls of Plainview, who owned a miniature shop.

Although not widely publicized, Mrs. Abbe said that there is an interest in building and decorating doll houses. Books and mail-order catalogues are available and there is an annual doll house show in Lubbock. It was at this show several years ago that Mrs. Abbe won a first place blue ribbon for her Victorian doll house.

"It's an accomplishment," said Mrs. Abbe. And while she doesn't think she will ever completely finish a house, she says it is satisfying to see what she has done.

Besides her two doll houses, Mrs. Abbe also has decorated a room box, which is enclosed with glass. The room is decorated to look like an accountant's office. Mrs. Abbe says she decorated it similar to they way her late husband's accounting office looked. The realistic display has a file cabinet, book shelves containing actual printed books, and horse-head bookends. On the accountant's desk is an open bottle of aspirin and tax forms.

Mrs. Abbe said she does not think she will start decorating another doll house.

"It's been fun," said Mrs. Abbe. "I've enjoyed it (and) it has occupied lots of hours when I may have been thinking of other things," she added.

HAND CARVED MINIATURE—This hand-made replica of a Wooten desk stands 5" high and decorates a room in Mrs. Mildred Abbe's doll house. The desk was made especially for Mrs. Abbe by Bobbie Walls of Plainview. All the cabinets and drawers of the desk open and are stuffed with miniature envelopes, stationery, and pen and ink sets. SCS, Local Fire Department Seeks Funding From County

Lynn County Commissioners met Monday morning for a mostly routine meeting, and heard pleas from two local entities for additional funding from county coffers.

Ray Mason, of the Soil Conservation Service (SCS), met with the court to inform commissioners that federal funding to the SCS is being reduced, and to ask for consideration in supplementing the SCS with county funds should the need arise at a later date. Commissioners took no action on the item.

Kent Stone, Tony Botkin and Tommy Botkin, members of the Tahoka Volunteer Fire Department, also met with the Court to ask for help in building a new fire hall in Tahoka to house the fire trucks. The Fire Dept. is seeking $5,000 in county funds. No action was taken by the court.

Accounts against Lynn County and monthly reports were presented and approved.

The court approved a budget amendment of $15,855 to cover the purchase of a new vehicle for the Sheriff's department.

New road signs for county roads in conjunction with the 9-1-1 emergency service were discussed but no action was taken.

A representative of Time Insurance met with the Court to discuss a health plan for county employees. The plan would require at least 25 persons to participate, and the court took no action on the item.

County Judge J.F. Brandon presided and all county commissioners were present.

Bulldogs Survive Lorenzo Air Raid, Stay Unbeaten

By DALTON WOOD

The Tahoka defense against the run was super last Friday night, and although the pass defense was battered by a very good passing attack, the Bulldogs came away with their second win of the season by scoring with just over a minute left to beat Lorenzo 15-12.

This week the Dogs will go to Olton, to face another unbeaten team. Olton beat Bovina 39-6 in the opener and outscored Farwell 48-26 last week.

Olton cancelled this week's scheduled junior varsity game. Tahoka 7th grade will play here against Olton at 5 p.m. today (Thursday) with the 8th grade teams to play at 6:30.

Tahoka had a good crowd for the home field opener Friday and they were treated to a close game featuring 29 passes by Lorenzo—with 15 completions—and a rugged Bulldog rushing defense which held the visitors to just 48 yards net for the entire game. Tahoka's ground attack struggled, but was much more successful than that of the Hornets. Tahoka gained 96 yards on the ground, with 73 of that by tailback Dustin Burleson, on 16 carries. Tahoka's longest running gain of the evening was 15 yards by Burleson in the first period.

Lorenzo scored late in the first quarter on a 19-yard pass from QB Gabriel Puente to David Guzman, then missed the point after a 15-yard penalty.

After a short punt by Lorenzo, Tahoka scored on an 8-yard run by Burleson, set up by 10 yards on two runs by Steve Wiseman, and an 8-yard run by QB Wesley Solomon. The extra point try was missed, and the score was 6-6 at halftime, although Lorenzo reached the Tahoka 1-yard line with fourth down, when Tahoka took over as the defense, led by defensive end Joseph DeLeon and linebacker Jesse Perez stopped a scoring try.

In the second quarter Tahoka had trouble getting its offense underway as defensive lineman Arcario Hernandez kept breaking through to mess up the plays.

Solomon put a crimp in the Lorenzo passing game with the rare feat of intercepting two passes in three plays in the third period. After his first interception at the Bulldog 20, Tahoka fumbled on the next play and Guzman recovered for Lorenzo. On the next play, Lorenzo passed and Solomon intercepted in the end zone. Altogether, Tahoka turned the ball over six times (five on fumbles), and Lorenzo lost it five times.

Lorenzo did take the lead again in the third, with a 28-yard pass to Vincente Salinas. But a whole pack of Dogs, led by DeLeon and Clay Taylor, came in to block the extra point attempt, leaving the score at 12-6.

Tahoka's Edward Ramirez hit a fine punt which was downed at the Lorenzo 7 later in the third, and Perez and friends allowed the Hornets no yards in three plays. Then a fourth down punt try was a bad snap over the head of the punter and out of the end zone for a Tahoka safety, making it 12-8 starting the fourth period. Late in the fourth after a Lorenzo fumble was recovered by Tahoka at the Hornets' 20, Tahoka moved to the winning touchdown, with 19 of those yards gained by Burleson. It was Matt Garcia's only carry of the night which scored as Garcia smashed in from the 1 on 4th down. Gerold Cantu kicked the point to make it 15-12, with 1:07 left.

Lorenzo then hit on three straight passes to move into Dog territory, but the defense stopped them on the final play, with Monte Hale leading a group of Bulldogs to stop the Lorenzo quarterback and seal the victory.

DeLeon, Perez, Mike Castellón, Hale, Cantu, Solomon, Reggie Moore and Taylor all played well on defense for Tahoka.

Two Theft Cases Are Reported In County

Two theft cases and an incident of criminal mischief in which someone smeared mud on the front door of a home were investigated by Lynn County sheriff's department during the last week.

Jimmie Keith of New Home reported the mud smeared on the front door of his residence Friday. A suspect was named.

Two rings valued at a total of $750 were reported stolen from the residence of Laura Smith of New Home recently. The most expensive of the two was gold and carried the profile of the Shah of Iran.

Margaret Cox of O'Donnell reported a trailer jack valued at $40 had been stolen from in front of a storage building about 5 miles southeast of O'Donnell.

A Tahoka woman told police Monday that a man living next door had struck and shoved her and that she would file charges. Investigation was continuing.

A woman called the sheriff's office to report a man wearing an orange suit was running two miles east of Tahoka by U.S. 380 and asked what color clothing jail prisoners wear. She was advised that prisoners do wear orange suits. An officer went out east and found a man jogging in an orange warmup suit—which he may want to dye another color before jogging again.

Julian Montoya, 20, of Lubbock, posted bond on charges of involuntary manslaughter in connection with the death of another Lubbock man, Juan Gonzales, 33, on Aug. 28. Gonzales, riding in the back, was killed when a pickup driven by Montoya overtook him.

Others in county jail during the last week were held on charges of bond forfeiture, failure to maintain child support, theft by check, theft by taking plus application to revoke probation on charges of driving while intoxicated, DWI first offense, and simple assault.

Go Leopards

IT'S A MIXED-UP WORLD WE LIVE IN

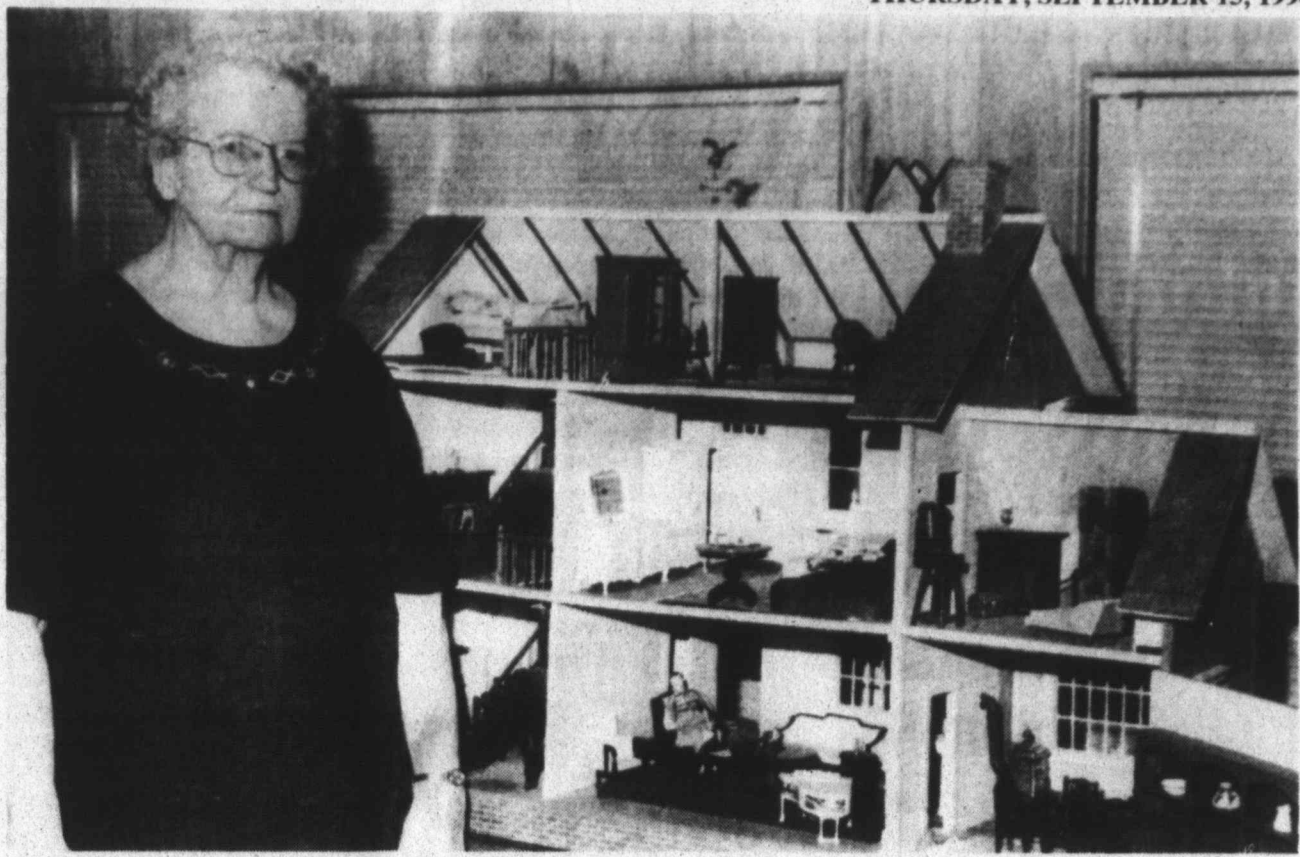

Have you noticed what a morally confused world we live in? There was a time, in the not so long ago, that people knew what was expected in the way of behavior. They knew because the Bible was their guidebook. Now that society has turned away from the guide, confusion is the norm. That is a nice way to say that sinfulness reigns.

We have men and women, boys and girls who no longer understand their roles or responsibilities. Some men are trying to hang onto their virility by having an affair and blaming it on mid-life crisis. Women trying to hang onto youth and acting like teenagers. Boys and girls trying to take the privileges of adulthood without any of the responsibility.

What is needed? The Word of God! Listen to the words of Paul and see if they would not help our society if properly applied.

"Older men are to be temperate, dignified, sensible, sound in faith, in love, in perseverance. Older women likewise are to be reverent in their behavior, not malicious gossips, nor enslaved to much wine, teaching what is good, that they may encourage the young women to love their husbands, to love their children, to be sensible, pure, workers at home, kind, being subject to their own husbands, that the word of God may not be dishonored. Likewise urge the young men to be sensible..." (Titus 2:2-7).

Local Artist's Work Exhibited At Tech Museum

The Museum of Texas Tech University is hosting the Signature III Exhibition which features original watercolor paintings from artists from Texas and four surrounding states. The awards ceremony for artists whose work was accepted in the exhibit was held on Sept. 4, opening day for the Exhibit which will run through Oct. 23.

Local artist and educator, LaJuana Ashcraft placed two paintings in the exhibit and will receive her Signature Designation with acceptance into one more Signature Exhibit.

Al Brouillette, nationally known artist and author, jurored the exhibit which includes 55 paintings chosen from 192 entries with 42 artists represented, each having the possibility of having three paintings accepted.

"Signature exhibits such as the West Texas Watercolor show serve as a bridge between local shows and national shows. The participation in this exhibit is very competitive because artists from this region prize the WTW Signature which they can place by their names on their work," said Ms. Ashcraft.

To achieve the Signature, one's work must be jurored into three different exhibits by three different nationally recognized jurors within a five-year period, she explained.

"This year's show is impressive to see and experience. The quality of art being produced by West Texas artists and artists from our neighboring states is well worth the trip to the museum," said Ms. Ashcraft, noting that the museum is closed on Mondays and that anyone interested in viewing the exhibit should check museum hours.

Work Day Set Saturday At Downtown Park

Members of the Tahoka Downtown Park committee, as well as the Tahoka High School Student Council, National Honor Society, and Tahoka Rotary Club, are planning a work day at the Downtown Park on Saturday, Sept. 17, to plant flowers and assist in other landscaping areas. The work will begin at 9 a.m., and anyone interested in helping is welcome to participate.

The landscaping phase for the park is being initiated, with plans to install benches, planter benches, and decorative lights in the grassy area in front of the murals, in addition to shrubbery, flowers and landscaping trees. A grouping of benches and lights will be centered on a walkway crossing diagonally across the park.

Memorial contributions are being sought for this phase of the project. Plans at this time include two 4' benches and two planter benches, which will include a place to plant flowers adjacent to the seating area. Two decorative five-globe pedestal lights are also planned for the area. Memorial plaques will be mounted on the benches and the lights designating each memorial. A contribution of $400 will purchase either type of bench, or a pedestal light for the park.

The committee hopes to have most of the work completed on the park by the end of September. To make a memorial contribution, contact any member of the park committee, including Amy Preston, Cal Huffaker, Barry Pittman, Juanell Jones, and Ray Box.

Tahoka School Board Conducts Routine Business

Tahoka Independent School District Board of Trustees met Monday night in regular session to discuss mostly routine business, including enrollment figures, a student transfer request, disposal of outdated/damaged school desks and other property, and approval of contract services with the Special Education Coop in Brownfield.

Upon the recommendation of Superintendent David Hutton, trustees denied the request of a student transfer from another district, citing discipline reasons.

Enrollment figures have increased slightly from the end of the last school year, up to 760 students from end-of-year figures in May of 756, Hutton told trustees.

Trustees approved a motion to allow the superintendent to dispose of outdated and damaged school desks, chairs, tables, lights and other miscellaneous items in storage, either by selling to the general public or donating the items to area churches. Anyone interested in such items should contact Supt. Hutton at the school.

A contract between the school district and the Special Education Coop in Brownfield was approved, at an annual cost of $45,000 to the district, paid for with dedicated state Special Education funds. TISD has contracted with the special education service for several years.

The board voted unanimously to file for a one-year extension on establishing a Records Control Schedule, a record-keeping control now mandated by the State of Texas for all public governments. Hutton recommended trustees approve the extension request to allow the district more time to plan how to implement the required records control, including microfilming and/or other record-keeping procedures.

Bookkeeper Loretta Tekell reported an account balance in all funds of $1,216,808.11, and trustees approved monthly bills.

Supt. Hutton reported that new sidewalks were being completed on both elementary campuses, new playground equipment for the south elementary playground has been ordered, and security fencing for the south elementary playground will be installed soon.

The 2-1/2 hour meeting included a one-hour executive session, and adjourned at 10 p.m. All seven trustees, several district administrative and teaching personnel, and representatives from site-base councils were present for the meeting.

Tahoka JV Beats Lorenzo 28-18

by MARISSA MARTIN
THE GROWL REPORTER
Tahoka junior varsity Bulldogs beat Lorenzo 28-18 on Thursday, Sept. 8

JV Bulldogs had only 11 players and with 30 seconds left in the game Jamie Luna broke his arm. The Bulldogs continued to play with only 10 players.

Scoring for the Bulldogs were Lance Clay with two touchdowns and two points, sophomore Brad Long with two touchdowns, and Brent Raindl with two points.

"The JV football players played with more heart than any group I've seen," said Coach Troy Hines. "The odds are stacked against them as far as size and numbers, but they didn't let that get in the way of winning."

Poka Lambro To Host Open House This Friday

The local telephone industry is celebrating National Small Independent Telephone Company Week, Sept. 11-17. In observance of the week, Poka Lambro Telephone Cooperative is hosting an Open House for their customers and friends Friday, Sept. 16. The Open House is from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Poka Lambro, 11 miles north of Tahoka on Hwy 87.

National Small Independent Telephone Company Week has been designated to raise awareness of small independent telephone companies and promote the important role they play in the continued development of the nation's telecommunications infrastructure, as well as their role in their local communities.

A great deal of people are still under the misconception that the Bell companies are the only providers of telephone service, according to Amy Preston, Public Affairs Manager for Poka Lambro. "There are, however, more than 1,000 small telephone companies whose service areas cover more than 50 percent of our nation," stated Ms. Preston. "Small telephone companies have been serving many small towns and rural communities for more than 100 years and can be found in 46 of 50 states. Not only do these companies provide excellent telephone service, they provide jobs and leadership in their communities and very often take an active role in rural development," she added.

"Poka Lambro works very diligently to ensure that our rural customers are afforded the same high-quality, state-of-the-art communications capabilities as their urban neighbors - and at very reasonable rates," said Ms. Preston. "We hope folks will join us and the rest of the nation in celebrating the rich heritage of an American industry that has forever changed the way we live and work," she added.

Plans Underway For Tahoka's Annual Harvest Festival Oct. 8

The 19th annual Lynn County Harvest Festival has been scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 8, on the square in downtown Tahoka.

The popular annual event will once again feature food and crafts booths, children's games and activities, live entertainment throughout the day, and a street dance until midnight. The Way Out West Band, a country/western group whose members include Tahoka High School graduates Arron Miller, Cory McCleskey, Mike Ramirez, New Home High School graduate Brad Morrow, and Dwayne Thomas of Lubbock, will be on hand for this year's event.

Dustie Cook is this year's booth chairman, and anyone interested in reserving a booth space for the all-day event should contact her at 998-5518 (work) or 998-4318 (home).

The annual queen and princess contests will again be sponsored by Tahoka Chamberettes, and all young ladies in the county are encouraged to participate. Contest chairmen are Leah Taylor and Rebecca Ingle.

Winners in the princess contest are determined by ticket sales, and finalists in the queen contest are determined by ticket sales plus several other factors, including poise and personality in judges' interviews.

Ticket sales will begin soon as queen and princess contestants collect their tickets to sell for chances to win an all-expenses paid trip for two to Mexico, a Texas Tech weekend with tickets to the Tech vs. Texas game and accommodations at a Lubbock hotel, and two bicycle drawings.

Heartfelt Thanks!—to the EMS — the hospital staff—Dr. Freitag—and many friends for taking care of me from Monday morning, Aug. 29 - Sept. 3.
