IN SENATOR ELECTION

Blakley or Tower? We'll Know Saturday

The Journal and Corner Drug again will post election returns the coming Saturday evening, May 27, as returns begin to come in from over the county in the second special election for United States Senator.

Standard bearer for the Democrats is Sen. Wm. A. "Bill" Blakley, now serving as senator by appointment of the Governor.

Republican party contestant is John Tower, Wichita Falls college professor. Both men are making their last rounds to visit the voters as the campaign enters its last few days.

Senator Blakley will be in Lubbock Thursday evening, having previously cancelled engagements at Amarillo and Lubbock in order to take part in the debate in the Senate on the Federal Aid to Education Bill.

COUNTY AND AREA HIT HARD

40,000 Acres Cotton Estimated Storm Toll

In the last few days hail, hard rains, high winds have wiped out 30,000 to 40,000 acres of cotton, already up or the seed sprouting, in the Muleshoe area.

This was the estimate made by County Agent J. K. Adams after he had toured the south part of the county yesterday, and he thought perhaps his estimate is conservative.

These acres will have to be replanted, and some of it already has been reseeded, especially where severe weather wrought havoc last Thursday night and Saturday night north and east of Muleshoe. Monday night saw another chapter added to the story of weather damage to crops.

There was very little wheat acreage in the area, but what there was has been greatly reduced by the hail, some by as much as 50 per cent. Conrad Williams, south of Stegall, had about that much damage on two sections of wheat.

Sorghum grain growers were hurt less than cotton growers, for only a small percentage of the acreage to feed crops had been planted.

In the south part of the county the terrifically hard rain caused much erosion, covering crops or washing them out. Farmers found the row middles dry as the proverbial powder speaker will be Dr. McFerrin Stowe of Oklahoma City.

Dr. Stowe is the son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Claude R. Farrell of 209 W. Ave. E here in Muleshoe. The public is invited to hear this man daily Tuesday through Thursday at 11:00 a.m. and 8:00 p.m.

Representation will be on the basis of one layman for every minister. Representing our First Methodist Church will be the pastor and M.D. Gunstream.

Conference sessions will open promptly at 8:30 Tuesday thru Friday.

Tate Is Candidate For TCU Degree

FORT WORTH, May — Quentin Gaylord Tate, Muleshoe student, is a candidate to receive a bachelor of science degree in Commerce in spring commencement exercises at Texas Christian University Wednesday evening, May 31, when an all-time record of 639 students will be graduated. This is sharply up from 1960's total of 606, the previous high mark.

The university will confer more degrees this spring than it did during the entire first 48 years of its history. From 1873, when it was founded as "Add-Ran Male and Female College" at Thorp Spring, through the school year of 1920, the university conferred 597 degrees.

This spring, there are 566 candidates for bachelor's degrees, 26 for bachelor of divinity and 47 for master's degrees. Students in the class represent 31 states and four foreign countries: England, Mexico, Japan and Korea.

Tate, whose address is Box 636, is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon, national social fraternity.

More Sesame Can Be Grown Here

Marketing agreements for 500 more acres of Sesame have been reopened in the Muleshoe area, Bill Wimberly, manager of Texas Sesame Growers, Inc., announced Wednesday.

Wimberly said that farmers can grow sesame on their retired feed grain land without losing price supports. Sesame is a profitable crop and nearly all Sesame grown in this country is in and around the Texas region.

Bill suggests that interested farmers contact their sesame seed dealer to learn all the details.

If more are interested in sesame than the present marketing agreements have allowed for, there is a possibility that the Muleshoe area can pick up more acreage from other regions.

MULESHOE OFFICE IMPORTANT IN SET-UP

Plainview PCA Largest Of Kind In U. S.

The Plainview Production Credit Association held its position as the nation's largest agricultural credit organization in 1960, among more than 500 PCAs serving all areas of the United States.

Olan Alexander, general manager of the Plainview PCA, announced that figures recently released by the Farm Credit Administration in Washington, D. C. show that the Plainview association ranked first in total loan volume, first in membership capital stock, first in total net worth and third in loan out-standing on Dec. 31, 1960.

IT'S LOCALLY OWNED
 Owned and operated in its entirety by its more than 1,700 stockholders, the association had a total volume of $32,604,000 in 1960, nearly eight million higher than the next largest association, Garden City, Kansas.

The Plainview association had capital stock totaling $2,400,055, a net worth of $2,994,358 and $11,927,000 in loans outstanding at the close of business for 1960.

"We are extremely pleased at the high national ranking held by our association," Alexander commented. "However, size is only a reflection of the solid growth and progress our association has experienced in its 27 year history. We will always strive to provide complete agricultural credit services for our area's farmers and ranchers."

The Plainview Production Credit Association serves Farmer, Castro, Swisher, Western, Briscoe, Bailey, Lamb, Hale and Floyd counties. The central offices in Dimmitt, Muleshoe, Littlefield, Floydada and Silverton, Friona and Tulla.

Serving on the association's board of directors are President L. R. Durham of Plainview, Vice President Henry Hayes of Plainview, D. S. Anderson of Muleshoe, Grady Shepard of Hale Center and Don Garrison of Silverton.

The Plainview Association is one of 36 associations serving all 254 Texas counties. All home-owned and operated, the PCAs in Texas have provided more than $3 billion in short and intermediate term credit for the state's farmers, ranchers and dairymen since their organization in 1933 and 1934.

SCENE FOR OPEN HOUSE SATURDAY. Higginbotham-Bartlett Company's new and enlarged building now features many departments of new merchandise. The public is invited to oversee everything Saturday and to register for prizes on that day.

Higginbotham-Bartlett To Hold Grand Opening Saturday

The spotlight this weekend is on Higginbotham-Bartlett Company's new and enlarged building. Their grand opening is strictly an open house type affair.

George Mayo, manager, extends a cordial welcome to all the public in the Muleshoe area. His idea is to take time enough to allow the public to browse about this new store and see the many new lines of merchandise that have been added.

Higginbotham-Bartlett, long known as good lumber dealers, have added completely new departments of tools, paints, household goods, cook ware, china, floor coverings, and other hardware.

Bernie Hewell will be in the new store Saturday to entertain in his inimitable style from 10 a.m. to noon and again from 1 p.m. until 3:30 p.m.

Many prizes will be awarded all day Saturday ranging from small "favors" to cash money. The day will be topped off with a drawing at 6 p.m. Registration will be held all day Saturday for this drawing. Mayo says the public may register Saturday only.

Something new has been added to grand openings in this company's entertaining ways. There will be an art exhibit based upon the talents of local artists. These artists' works will be on display at Higginbotham-Bartlett's during the grand opening. Some of the paintings will be offered for sale.

Crow's Corner

by Arthur Crow

The City Council met last Friday and received the audit report as presented by Alex Williams, local Certified Public Accountant. Alex did a very nice job for the city and working together with the manager made several recommendations that should be very helpful in the bookkeeping system over the next few years. Listening to Alex and reading his report it was evident that he was very interested as a citizen as well as an auditor in making our city organization a credit to our town. Congratulations Alex on a job well done.

Delinquent city taxes were again discussed and the councilmen showed concern that evidently some people do not realize that delinquent taxes encumber their property and cloud the title. The council also turned delinquent 1957 personal property taxes over to Norman Bays, local attorney, for collection.

The council authorized bids for a new street sweeper, the old one now has 9 years of service and maintenance costs are amounting to quite a bit more than the depreciation would run on a newer model, which would also do a much better job.

After quite a lengthy discussion, the council voted for adoption of a nuisance Ordinance. This ordinance provides authority for the City Health Officer and Police Department to abate unsanitary conditions that are dangerous to the public health. It is an Ordinance which is long overdue.

It has just been a short time since I became one of your representatives on the City Government, and frankly I am very pleased and pleasantly surprised with the way that most of our citizens participate in their own government, but there are a few persons who seem to think that the city is some unknown organization. Remember, the city government is your Corporation, you and your neighbor are stockholders. You are not entitled to special privileges but you are entitled to policies which will make your community a better place in which to live and rear children. In the final analysis Muleshoe will be the city you want (not just day dream) it to be. Each individual's support and suggestions are very important.

WE FARED BETTER THAN SOME

Each $1 Federal Aid Locally Cost Us 87c

NEW YORK—Are the numerous Federal aid programs that are available for the benefit of state and local governments a bargain or an expensive luxury as far as Bailey County is concerned?

How much does it cost residents of the county in taxes for every dollar that comes back in the form of Federal aid?

On the basis of data gathered from the Tax Foundation, from the Treasury Department and other agencies, the cost locally is less than the grants-in-aid that are provided.

Of the total collected in taxes in Bailey County in the past fiscal year, approximately $386,000 went to Washington for the Federal aid program. What came back in the way of grants was an estimated $444,000.

The figures are a breakdown of national data on a state-by-state basis. They show tax payments of $361,700,000 going to the Federal government from the State of Texas for the various aid projects.

What did the taxpayers get in return for that expenditure? A total of $415,300,000 in grants-in-aid, states the Tax Foundation.

These consisted of slum clearance projects, aid to veterans, hospital and health services, farm crop subsidies, sewage treatment construction and many others.

In effect, every $1 in Federal aid cost local taxpayers 87 cents the figures show.

This ratio varied widely from state to state, with allotments to some states proportionately greater than those to others. New Jersey fared worst, having to pay $2.14 for every $1 it got back in aid. Alaska, on the other hand, paid only 16 cents per $1.

Some 100 types of aid are available to state and local governments, reports the Tax Foundation. In fact the Government has published a 34-page booklet listing them. The foreword to it states:

"For communities with Federal programs under way, it will serve as a checklist by which they can make certain that all available sources of assistance... have been considered."

Among the lesser-known on the list are college housing construction loans, loans for commercial fisheries, aerial photographs of harbors and industrial areas, agricultural educational programs and small reclamation projects.

Check Peddlers Is Advice Of C of C
 Muleshoe residents, and people living in the surrounding rural area, were warned this week to be alert for itinerant vendors, peddlers and other schemes. The Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce asked house holders and merchants to refuse to patronize salesmen and solicitors who could not show a Chamber of Commerce identification card.

The Chamber of Commerce emphasized that such a card is not an endorsement of the salesman or his product, but does indicate that the Chamber of Commerce has checked on the solicitor and the product or company he represents as to legitimacy.

"We realize," Chamber officials said, "that even legitimate companies sometimes have shady characters working for them. It is these people we hope the public will be on the lookout for on malaria and other jungle evils. Deadly Nightshade produces the valuable drug Tropine, which is widely used by oculists. It is also used in treating tuberculosis. The root of the Mandrake plant is a pain killer, used for relieving toothaches and for general surgery. Plant life, drugs and medicine have been united by the application of modern scientific methods for the benefit of mankind.

In view of this, it is possible that in some future time, a serum will be discovered which will stimulate growth in human life. If this happens, it is hoped that science will keep check on the new discovery or our descendants will be walking around the world in one stride!

Iron Sprayed On Crops In Demonstration

A demonstration of spraying iron sulphate on growing crop was begun here today on the farms of J. G. Arnn and Cec Mardis, both near town.

A 3 percent solution was sprayed on both cotton and sorghum grain plants, using three acre plots, with two acre sprayed, one left unsprayed. The spraying will be repeated every six weeks during the growing season.

J. K. Adams, county agent said the method has been found very effective on the Grande Plains south of El Paso. Jim Valentine, who is in charge of the Extension Service laboratory at Lubbock will be here to observe the work. Lubbock Experiment Station furnished the rig and the men to do the work.

Federal Milk Marketing Order Proposed For Area

Establishing of a Federal marketing order to regulate milk handling in the Lubbock-Plainview, Texas, marketing area will be considered at a public hearing in Lubbock, June 6, the U. S. Department of Agriculture announced today.

The hearing will open at 10 a. m. (CST) in the Navajo Room, Caprock Hotel, Lubbock. It was called at the request of the North Texas Producers Association, Inc., and the Central West Texas Milk Producers' Association, which together represent more than two thirds of the producers supplying the market. Additional proposals in regard to the proposed marketing order have been submitted by handlers.

The proposed marketing order would establish minimum prices which handlers distributing milk in the marketing area would be required to pay producers. It would not regulate retail prices.

The following 19 counties in Texas have been proposed for inclusion in the marketing area: Bailey, Castro, Cochran, Cottle, Crosby, Dickens, Floyd, Gaines, Garza, Hale, Hockley, Kent, Lamb, Lubbock, Lynn, Motley, Parmer, Terry, and Yoakum. Major cities in this area are Lubbock, Plainview, Brownfield, and Levelland.

Under Federal milk marketing orders, milk is classified by the use made of it, values are assigned for milk used in each classification, and producers are paid an average price per hundred weight based on the class values and the amount of milk used in each classification.

Proposals for a marketing order in the Lubbock-Plainview area would establish two classifications: Class 1 would include all milk used for bottling (fluid) purposes, and Class 2 would include milk used for manufacturing or livestock feed and inventories of fluid milk products, a long with a shrinkage allowance.

Proposals from both cooperative associations call for a marketwide pool, under which returns from all handlers' sales of all classes of milk would be pooled and distributed at a uniform rate per hundredweight to all producers supplying the area. Both proposals include base excess plans for figuring uniform prices during the flush production season.

After hearing evidence on the various proposals at the public hearing, USDA may recommend a marketing order for the area. Such a recommended order would be submitted to handlers and producers for exceptions.

Any exemptions would be considered in framing a final order on which producers would be asked to express approval or disapproval. Approval of two thirds of the producers voting would be required before USDA could put the marketing order into effect.

Copies of the notice of hearing may be obtained from the Hearing Clerk, Room 112, Administration Building, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C.

Fishing Was Good At Inks

OFFICERS ELECTED

Tuesday evening, May 16, in Leal's Cafe, Highway 84, here in Muleshoe, Texas, over thirty people assembled for the first meeting of the Sociedad Catolica, the Sodality of Muleshoe, a group aiming to help the spiritual education of the spanish-speaking people of this area. The sodalists elected these officers: President, Noe Anzaldúa vice president, Carlos Reyes; secretary, Epifanio Hernandez Lopez; treasurer, Hector Jesse Leal with George Cabrera, Willie Martinez and Jessie on the Advisory board; besides Nicolas Nava and Daniel Dominguez were named as the readers. Organic Matter A Must COTTON BURRS stock piled in a field. These will be spread evenly over the land to aid in increasing the organic content of the soil.

(This article prepared for The Journal by the Blackwater Valley Soil Conservation District personnel.)

Land that has been cropped for several years in cotton without any high residue crops is almost always low in organic matter. Why is organic matter so important and how can the content and how can the content

Organic matter is important because it is the substance which provides the plant food, nitrogen, and the soil condition necessary for good plant growth.

Soil is made up chiefly of minerals. The organic matter must come from the plants which are grown on the land or organic matter that is added to the soil.

Organic matter content can be increased by growing high residue producing crops and keeping tillage operations to a minimum. Tillage operations tend to decompose or oxidize at an increased rate.

In this area, cotton burrs can be used very effectively to add organic matter to the soil.

Organic matter improves soil condition by making the soil more porous and allowing better aeration. It prevents the soil from "running together", baking, and crusting.

If we are to maintain our soils at their peak productivity, then we must maintain or increase the organic matter content in them.

Cowboy Reunion At Stamford Set July 1-3

Almost $6,000.00 in cash prizes and awards will go to the real cowboys and cowgirls who take part in the Texas Cowboy Reunion in Stamford, July 1st, 3rd and 4th. The largest amount will be paid in rodeo prizes of around $3,000.00 in cash plus $700.00 in saddles and spurs.

In addition to the rodeo events, cash and award prizes will be made to sponsors contest, quarter horse show and western parade, where more than a thousand horses are expected to bring back the sounds and memories of years past.

Reunion president Eugene Swenson says "The Cowboy Reunion has the distinction of being the largest show of its kind in America—where only actual working cowboys and cowgirls take part and professionals are barred. In 1961, on July 1st, 3rd and 4th, we are expecting the biggest western show in the 32 year history of the Cowboy Reunion, with the largest number of riding cowhands, and the biggest crowds. West Texas' working cowhands are just as capable today as they were years past, and we expect several records to be broken this year."

Things definitely are on the move here in old Bailey County and in Muleshoe, the Capital of the West Plains and their environs, economically that is and in the line of progress.

and to be carried out this summer by our school board and by our City of Muleshoe Council; (1) a $1,000,000 school building, now under construction or just finished; and last but not least, the resurgence of our downtown business district.

We note new stores by Lane Furniture, White's Auto, Ben Franklin, Gage Carpet, Montgomery Ward, Farmers Elevator, Farm Store, filling up erstwhile vacant buildings. Very encouraging, these signs.

We remember, too, our older stores or firms in these same categories with gratitude for their perseverance, their determination to progress under trying circumstances, including 8 years of Republican prosperity, but, politics and rancor to one side; drive down, as I did the other bright Saturday morning and inspect Main Street and our downtown shopping area in general. Might surprise you how our stores and shops shine forth, pretty nice looking town, I think you'll agree.

Now this is all the Chamber of Commerce told me to say. From here on out I'm on my own.

When two friends caused to be inserted in last week's Journal an advertisement purporting to offer for sale the equity of Harmon Elliott in his set of golf clubs, it was all news to Harmon until he read his paper Thursday night. He eventually saw the joke, read the ad to his wife, whose reaction was that everyone would think he had bought his clubs on installment basis.

Next morning, when the bank opened, Harmon began to get calls. Then men began to drop in and drop money on his desk, to help him keep his clubs. When I saw the pile of money Friday, it totaled up to 21 cents. These two dudes knew he had been having trouble with his game, figured he might as well sell the clubs. I don't usually go in for jokes like this, but these two guys were friends of mine, and in addition they pitched the money for the ad on the front counter; what was a fellow to do.

A calendar for the school year 1961-1962 is at hand in The Journal office, sent by the office of Neal Dillman, superintendent before the end of the '60-'61 term. It begins with a teacher's workshop August 21 and winds up with commencement May 18, next year. If I would plan my private business ahead as well as the school does, I would be rich and maybe, president in a few months.

Babson Discusses Purchasing Land In Europe

BABSON DISCUSSES IN EUROPE

Babson Park, Mass., May 25. Properly located acreage should be the best hedge against inflation, owing to its limited amount and the growth in population. I spent two months last fall studying land in Europe (I am making no report now on the Latin and South American countries or Canada.) As there was little interest in tourist travel in Europe during the winter, I have held these notes until now.

IRELAND - THE EMERALD ISLE

Owing to Great Britain's desire to break up all unproductive estates of available acreage, I know of no bargains in acreage in England - although raw acreage can be purchased in Scotland and Wales. However, I have traveled 900 miles by automobile in Ireland. There are few industries in Ireland due to the lack of natural resources. The people are healthy, happy, and willing to work. The youth of Ireland - outside of the few large cities - are happy living on farms which they expect to inherit from their parents. As a result, very little of the good farming land is for sale in Ireland, even at high prices. Land which sells in Kansas for $100 per acre cannot be bought in Ireland for less than $400 per acre.

The mountain land in the western portion, which is good only for grazing sheep, can be bought for $10 or so per acre, depending upon its accessibility. Lakes and rivers abound in Ireland, which makes it good for pasturing. In fact, the acreage in Ireland may be divided into three groups: (1) Good farm land in the "Golden Midlands"; (2) pasture land with good green grass but with not much depth of soil, which sells for about $150 per acre; and (3) rocky sure-footed sheep and cattle, but preferably in the southern part near the ocean.

FRANCE, ITALY, AND OTHER COUNTRIES

The above comments as to prices regarding Ireland apply also to France, Switzerland, and Italy. No good acreage is available in Belgium, Holland, or West Germany. Not only is the fertile land there in production, but the farmers control the politics, tariffs, and even prices. Italy, however, is fast becoming an industrial nation with waterpower and other natural resources. U. S. manufacturers should watch Italy and Switzerland (and also Japan), although these countries now have much unemployment.

Europe has natural resources, including navigable rivers, iron, coal, chemicals, and waterpower. It also has a climate which encourages people to work. Wages are fairly low and there is no scarcity of labor in most localities. This explains why so many American manufacturers are buying or building plants in Europe. Labor unions exist, but with the exception of those in France, are not now much of a handicap.

WHAT ABOUT SPAIN?

My comments regarding the three classes of land in Ireland also apply to Spain. Spain has waterpower, both developed and undeveloped. It has coal, oil, and chemicals. Wages are low and the cost of living is reasonable. Industries are springing up in Spain and the climate is fair, for both workers and tourists. Perhaps as a foreign hedge against inflation I would now advise the purchase of well-located land in Spain, especially

SAND HILLS PHILOSOPHER BREAKS A Rule and Offers Some Advice To President of United States

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm gets into international affairs this week. Anything to get the spotlight off his own shortcomings.

I've never been interested in trying to tell the President of the United States how to operate things, I've got more than I'm interested in tackling out here on this Johnson grass farm and anyway, it's a lot easier to criticize yesterday than to pre-empt to break my rule and offer some advice.

As I understand it, the President is going to meet in Europe with Premier Khrushchev so the two can sort of get acquainted and size each other up and discuss future relations of the two countries.

Unless the President has other business in Europe, I have a suggestion to make. Why doesn't The Journal run a contest to pick the most unreliable man in the United States and let him sit in for Khrushchev and hold the summit meeting in this country? It'd save time and travel expense and we could hear all the lies in English.

Discussing the future with Khrushchev is like trying to draw up a contract with the weather. I'd just as soon rely on my corns to tell me when a tornado's coming as to bank on what Khrushchev promises.

What we ought to do is find the most unreliable man in this country, let him sit in for Khrushchev, hold the meeting in Washington, solemnly report what he has to say, toast him with vodka, and get to work on some accurate missiles.

You know, around here, after a man has pretty well established a reputation for breaking his promises, nobody sells to him on credit. Based on what Khrushchev has promised and what he has done, I'd say he couldn't even buy a second-hand tractor with steel wheels on time in Bailey County.

Khrushchev makes a great pose of representing the great moral fibre of a dedicated nation burning with zeal for humanity, but that's mostly hogwash. He's a tough, smart, shrewd character whose promises today have no relation to his deeds tomorrow. He proclaims his word is as good as his bond, but you've got to remember that's a Russian bond he's talking about.

Let me describe in some detail the area from Barcelona eastward to the French Border where one approaches the French Riviera. One can reach Barcelona by steamship or plane, or a railroad train. From Barcelona to the French Border is about 75 miles. One can make the trip in 3 hours by automobile or in one hour by electric train. The first town which interested me was San Pedro. This is about 20 miles east of Barcelona and has a

Methodists Voice Opposition To Military Intervention In Cuba

Opposition to any government's "unilateral military intervention in the internal affairs" of Cuba or Laos or other nations was voiced here by the executive committee of the General Board of Christian Social Concerns of the Methodist Church.

Its resolutions also commended the current administration for the President's proposal for economic and technical assistance to strengthen freedom in other lands, and for the Attorney General's proposals for legislation to restrict the gambling racket.

The resolution on Cuba and Laos, expressing "grave concern" over recent events, said, "we recognize the serious problems presented by the increasing Communist influence over peoples of underdeveloped nations; at the same time, we believe the legitimate objectives of many national movements for social reform must be acknowledged."

The Methodist committee expressed belief that in the long run the "best interests of the people of the United States, the Americas, and the world" would be served by adhering to these principles:

No government "should undertake unilateral military intervention in the internal affairs of other nations."

All governments "should honor their treaty obligations and use to the fullest extent" the procedures of U. N. and regional organizations.

The U. S. government "should attempt to re-establish communication with the Cuban government in an effort to achieve a satisfactory resolution of outstanding differences through negotiation."

Hitting at gambling because it "degrades persons, ignores basic principles of Christian stewardship, and creates untold misery and hardship for innocent families," a resolution gave support to the Attorney General's requests for legislation to "further control and restrict

Bench Leveling Proves Itself

BENCH LEVELED LAND on Herman West farm north of Muleshoe.

Several cooperators with the Lackwater Valley Soil Conservation District, have done one type of land leveling this year.

Pat Childers field leveled 3 acres north of Muleshoe. C. J. Feagley field leveled on his irrigated farm near West Camp. W. C. Maxey had an old gully filled and leveled the area on each side of it. Carl Barnhart filled a shallow lake on his farm. These, as well as several others, now have a much more efficient system.

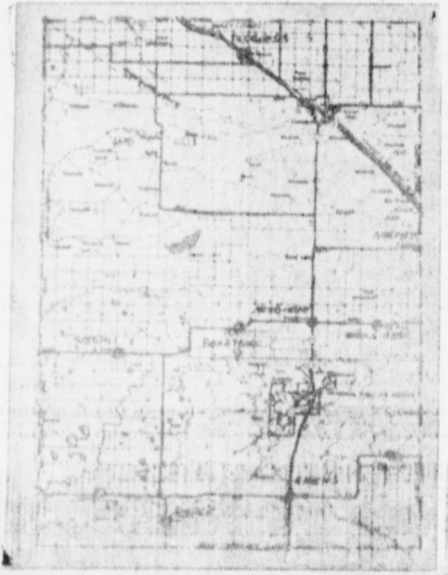

In all cases, this type of leveling is best for working crops, harvesting and other farming operations. Some of the advantages of leveling is that it reduces loss of water due to ponding. It may reduce labor as less trouble is encountered in rows breaking across. The biggest advantage, however, is that it allows a more uniform infiltration of irrigation water.

Field leveling is suited for "flat" slopes. For steep slopes, bench leveling is best suited. Since the land is leveled in strips with width varying according to slope, bench leveling is less convenient to farm and weed growth on the borders is sometimes a problem.

A couple of firms are now marketing a special plow for the maintenance of borders. Herman West, 2 miles north of Needmore, has just finished bench leveling an entire labore.

Doings At Muleshoe Airport

By MRS. NOAH KINER

Making a business trip to Houston last week was Herchel Ward, manager of the Farmers Co-op, and three members of the Board of Directors, G. W. Mimms, Tom Watson, and Bill Jennings.

Morgan Locker, piloting the Aztec on the flight, said that the sky was overcast from here to Houston and they flew by radio above the cloud deck.

The cloud formations noted while flying just above the upper surface made interesting observation enroute. Among the many descriptions given of the formations was one resembling the valleys and mountains of Grand Canyon, minus color, with sunken places outlined by groups of dome-shaped clouds projecting upward; some resembled underwater reef formations. The closer range and the difference of looking down at the clouds gives a much different impression than from our usual position of looking upward.

Popular since ancient times, the study of the types and formations of clouds has become one of the most important single weather elements to pilots, as they give visible clues about the invisible changes going on in the atmosphere.

Locker lowered altitude 30 miles out of Houston, breaking through the clouds and flying on at a lower altitude.

The group returned to Muleshoe that afternoon.

Fred Boyd flew to Amarillo Tuesday in the J-3 on business. Boyd brought back the office unit of the Unicom radio that had been repaired there. The Unicom 2-way system was installed in the Airport office and the airplanes last year.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Locker flew to Lubbock late Wednesday to visit with his sister, Mrs. A. L. Robinson, who underwent surgery that morning. They reported that she is doing fine.

Mr. and Mrs. Robinson are residents of Sudan, where they own and operate Robinson Motor Co.

Randy Johnson and Karl Lovelady chartered the Tri-Pacer with Fred Boyd as pilot for a business flight to Matador last week.

They landed at Buzz Airport there, made their business contacts, and returned, the trip consuming five hours.

Supper guests in the Lindsey Bates home Sunday evening were Mr. and Mrs. James Bates, Mrs. John Daniels, and son Eddie Don, Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Shann and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Dane and Mrs. Alice Speck.

Rev. and Mrs. J. J. Terry visited in Roaring Springs Thursday night with his mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Jackson and family from Clovis, N. M., spent the weekend visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Autry.

Research Foundation Holds Sunflower Tests

"Recent changes in agricultural programs have created new requests for research to be conducted at the High Plains Research Foundation." Frank Moore, President of the Foundation, stated this week that "Sunflower Variety research would be revived at the Halfway Foundation for 1961."

Testing this crop was in the original program for the Foundation, but was set aside by other projects that were in greater demand.

Twenty varieties of sunflowers have been planted in the tests. The search is being made for disease and insect resistant varieties that will produce a profitable combine type head. The sources of these seeds are: five from South Africa, seven from Chile, four from Russia, and four from Canada. "The Foundation is resuming its sunflower research as a part of their obligation to produce crops that will further add to the profit as well as diversity of High Plains Agriculture", Mr. Moore said.

Johnsongrass Can Be Eliminated Says Extension Specialist

College station Johnsongrass can be eliminated from Texas cotton fields in one season through the use of proper cultural methods supplemented by spot-spraying, says Glenn Black, extension cotton specialist.

Herbicides such as naphtha should be used early in the season while cool weather prevails. Diesel or kerosene give best results during warmer weather. Water solutions of sodium dalapon or other chemicals are also effective, Black says. Oils are commonly applied to the crown of Johnsongrass near the ground while water solutions are applied as foliar sprays.

The specialist states that a half and half mixture of naphtha and diesel oil or naphtha and kerosene are oil sprays commonly used in warmer weather. Oil mixtures may be used for economy with C-56 added for increased toxicity, or for a combination of contact toxicity and residual effectiveness. Oil sprays kill on contact when applied to the crown of Johnsongrass sprouts 6 inches or less in height.

Sodium dalapon is usually used at the concentration of 20 pounds in 100 gallons of water. It is applied to the foliage and is a translocated herbicide but also has a residual effect.

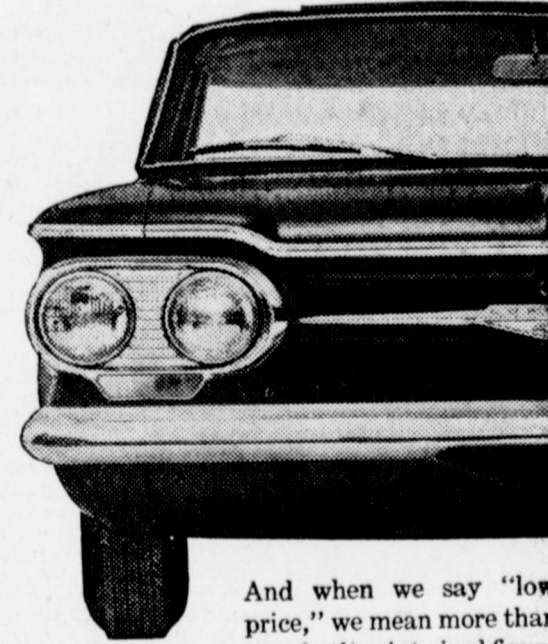

A man on foot using a hand sprayer does the best and safest job of spot-spraying Johnsongrass in crops, according to Black. He suggests a visit with the local county agent for complete details on this cost-cutting practice in cotton production. Ask the agent for a copy of 3-902, "Spot Spraying Johnsongrass."

LOW PRICE IS ONLY HALF THE STORY

(The other—and even more satisfying—half you'll discover the first time you drive a Corvair!)

And when we say "low price," we mean more than merely the pint-sized figure on the window sticker of a new Corvair. You're going to be saving like sixty on gas. And on the antifreeze you won't buy next winter, and the radiator repairs you'll never have to pay for. About the only things Corvair doesn't skimp on are room, smoothness, style and pure driving joy. But that's the other half of the story. Talk to your Chevrolet dealer about it soon!
