Rumor Of ASCS Office Closing Here Not True

Officials at the Tahoka office of Farm Service Agency, the former Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) said Wednesday that there is no truth to a rumor spreading around town that the office will be closed. Instead, services at that location will be expanded.

The rumor apparently started from something reported on a Lubbock television station and from a story in Wednesday morning's Lubbock newspaper about USDA offices which will be closed.

What is happening is that the former Soil Conservation Service office in Tahoka will be relocated at the same site as the former ASCS office, putting both of those services in the same facility. The move is not expected to cost any jobs locally or cut any services to farmers in the county.

Part of the confusion is due to recent changes in names of the offices and the letters which stand for the names. Some have always been confused by the SCS (Soil Conservation Service) and ASCS designations. Now both offices have new names and new alphabetical abbreviations for the public to contend with. The SCS is now the Natural Resources Conservation Service, and the ASCS is now the Farm Service Agency (FSA). Both services soon will be in the same building, just south of the Post Office in Tahoka.

HOLIDAY DECORATIONS TO BE ON DISPLAY - The home of Stan and Julia Gill, at 1900 Ave. R in Tahoka, is one of the homes which may be toured during the Christmas Home Tour this Sunday evening. The tour is sponsored by the two THS organizations, with proceeds to benefit the "Christmas For Kids" program in Lynn County.

Earlier this year the ASCS and Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) were combined to form the Farm Service Agency.

THE LUBBOCK Avalanche-Journal (which is a really dumb name for a newspaper almost 300 miles from any mountains) tells us in its Dec. 1 edition that eating pasta is good for us.

To digress, I should perhaps paraphrase the old joke about Lubbock being in the center of a lake recreation area (you can drive 500 miles in any direction and find a lake). The same can be said for mountains, although I don't recall any of New Mexico's mountains ever having an avalanche.

Originally the name "Avalanche" for the Lubbock newspaper had nothing to do with snow or mountains, according to what someone once told me when I worked at the A-J in the 1950s. I was told that the idea was that the new morning newspaper would be thrown (free, I guess) all over the city and would hit the town "like an avalanche," hence the name.

The Avalanche was the morning newspaper; the evening newspaper was the Journal, which halted publication some years ago when the daily became the Avalanche-Journal.

All of which has little to do with pasta. The story said: "Long thought to be a diet no-no, pasta is becoming increasingly popular in the health-conscious community. Besides containing almost no fat, pasta is rich in complex carbohydrates, making it a good energy source. Most grocery stores offer whole wheat and imported pastas. Other noodle options are made with vegetable purees, such as spinach, tomatoes or beets."

My problem is that I don't know what a pasta is. A Mafia leader tells us "I gota nothing to hide, but you no digga into my pasta." Actually, I had a vague notion that pasta meant spaghetti and lasagna. The quote from the A-J gives me a hint that noodles qualify, but I sure wouldn't have thought wheat bread, spinach, tomatoes and beets would count. They probably don't, because I like all those things, and I rarely like anything that is good for me.

The whole thing is pasta my understanding.

KNOTHOLES in the Woodwork: People on Social Security will get their annual increase in their checks in January, usually something around $15 per month. But their Medicare Part B premiums (usually withheld from those SS checks) will go up $5 to $46.10 per month, and the amount they have to pay themselves for the first day in the hospital goes up to $716 (from $696). . . "Chemistry" is the newest buzz word for basketball teams, especially women's teams. All the Lady Raiders interviewed on TV, and other players and coaches around this area, talk about the need for the right chemistry, which I suppose means the winning formula. . . Another Tahoka business has been zapped by stupid government regulations. It is the second gasoline sales outlet forced to close here because they couldn't afford to dig up and replace the underground storage tanks. . . The State is tearing up most of the curbs at city intersections to put in ramps for handicapped access, including down at Lockwood and Ave. L, where they are fixing it so that people in wheel chairs can roll off the sidewalk unobstructed into the path of oncoming 18-wheelers and some of Tahoka's wild drivers.

Woman Attacks Officers, Faces Seven Charges

A 28-year-old Midland woman was arrested Monday afternoon and after attacking two officers in the sheriff's office finally was subdued and jailed, facing seven different charges.

Officers said Tamra Dawn Vance of Midland was charged with aggravated assault with a deadly weapon - her 1977 Mercury - plus failure to stop and give information at the scene of an accident, reckless driving, driving while intoxicated, resisting arrest and two counts of assault causing bodily injury.

According to officers the woman purposely rammed the rear of a pickup driven south on U.S. 87; the two men in the pickup were not acquainted with the woman, and when she continued to run her car into the rear of the pickup, they pulled off the road. There was little visible damage to either vehicle, according to a Dept. of Public Safety officer who said the woman bit him on the leg in the sheriff's office during the booking process. A female dispatcher also was scratched on the hand, she said.

In addition to the Midland woman, four other persons were jailed during the week, on charges including application to revoke probation on criminal mischief charges, possession of marijuana under two ounces, rider not secured by seat belt plus failure to appear (for Taylor County), and DWI second offense.

On Saturday afternoon a 1978 Buick driven by Thomas Monroe Curry, 72, of Tahoka was involved in a collision with a 1989 Mercury driven by Julie Jeanene Reyes, 34, of Brownfield at the intersection of Ave. H and Lockwood. No injuries were listed.

Tahoka Police also investigated a report of an altercation between two men involving acquisition of some beer, and a separate report of theft of a bicycle. Helen Ann Payne reported that a Huffy 10-speed bicycle valued at $200 had been stolen from the yard of her residence on Ave. L last Tuesday or Wednesday.

A Wilson woman reported to the sheriff's office that she has been getting harassing telephone calls, and a cutting torch, gauges and other equipment were reported stolen from a location 8 miles east of Tahoka on U.S. 380. A battery also was stolen from a module builder at the scene last Wednesday or Thursday, owner Lester Adams of Tahoka told sheriff's officers.

Investigation of a possible abduction of a Lubbock man was continuing after a Lynn County resident reported the alleged victim ran to his residence. The 27-year-old man said he was picked up in Lubbock by another man earlier last Thursday evening and driven to Lynn County and threatened physically and with a pistol. Lubbock County officers said they would handle the case.

At O'Donnell, a school official said someone killed a show lamb at the Ag farm, hanging the lamb from an I-beam in a shed at the location Monday or Tuesday. The lamb was valued at $300.

Action On Dilapidated House Ordered By City Council

City Council members Monday evening rejected a suggestion that the city buy a former grocery store building as a community center, authorized bids on water tower repairs and painting, and set a deadline on repair or demolishing of a dilapidated building on N. 3rd St.

J.A. Pebsworth brought before the council the possibility of the city buying the former Venture Foods building as a community center. Council agreed that the city is not financially able to purchase the building. Pebsworth's idea was based on selling memberships to finance the purchase.

A public hearing was conducted on the dilapidated building at 1825 N. 3rd St., and councilmen then voted to give the owners 90 days to repair or destroy the building and keep the property clean as required by city ordinance.

The motion passed unanimously. Councilmen present were Mike Mensch, Ray Don Box, Wayne Huffaker and Todd Henry. Councilman J.D. House was absent. Mayor Jim Solomon presided, and others present were Pebsworth, Cal Huffaker, Police Chief Jerry Webster and City Manager Barry Pittman.

The council voted to authorize Oller Engineering to solicit bids on water tower repairs and painting, with bids to be opened at the regular council meeting next Feb. 6.

Chief Webster reported on his department's activities for the month of November.

Wilson School Bond Issue Passes By Margin Of 33

Wilson School District voters approved a $500,000 bond issue Tuesday which will raise taxes in the school district by 11 cents per 100 valuation. The issue passed by a margin of 33, with 94 votes for and 61 votes against the bond issue, with a 155 voters turning out for the election.

School officials say the funds will allow the school to build more elementary classrooms and a new gymnasium and to make all buildings on the campus handicapped-accessible in compliance with federal law. The 11-cent increase will mean a tax rate of $1.50, compared to the current rate of $1.39.

Tax rates for persons over 65 with homestead exemptions will not be affected since their school taxes are frozen at the amount paid the year they become eligible for the exemption.

A person with a home valued at $20,000 will pay an additional $22 per year in taxes.

OPEN HOUSE

The Lynn County News will have an Open House from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. Thursday, December 8th in appreciation for all our customers, advertisers & readers.

Study Sessions Scheduled For THS Semester Exams

The fall semester at Tahoka High School will end Dec. 16 when students will be released for the Christmas holidays. School will resume on Jan. 3.

Semester exams will be administered the last four days of the semester. The schedule is as follows:

Tuesday, Dec. 13 - 8th period - 2:18-3:30 p.m.;

Wednesday, Dec. 14 - 7th period - 1:04-2:15 p.m.;

Thursday, Dec. 15 - 1st, 2nd, 3rd periods - 7:55 a.m.-12:31 p.m.;

Friday, Dec. 16 - 4th, 5th, 6th periods - 7:55 a.m.-12:31 p.m.

In an effort to provide a quiet, studious atmosphere, the THS Site-Based Decision Making (SBDM) Council will sponsor nightly study sessions at the high school building. The library will be open so that students can study quietly. If students prefer to study in groups with their peers, a classroom will be opened to accommodate students. The study session is as follows:

Monday, Dec. 12, 5:30-7 p.m. - Study for 8th period exam;

Tuesday, Dec. 13, 6-8 p.m. - Study for 7th period exam;

Wednesday, Dec. 14, 6-8 p.m. - Study for 1st, 2nd, and 3rd period exams;

Thursday, Dec. 15, 6-8 p.m. - Study for 4th, 5th, and 6th period exams.

Study sessions are being provided because some students indicated the need for a quiet study environment. "We want to do everything possible to help students be successful in every class. I am thrilled at the parents and teachers who are willing to participate in this endeavor," said Bill Alcorn, THS principal. "I hope students who indicated their need for a studious atmosphere will take advantage of this opportunity," he added.

If the provided study sessions next week are successfully attended, study sessions for six weeks tests and semester finals will be provided in the future. Tutorials are provided daily for students who need and/or want additional instruction from teachers.

Teachers will not be available for instruction during these nightly study sessions.

The study sessions will be supervised by parents, teachers, and administrators.

116 Needy Children Qualify For 'Christmas For Kids' Here

Since last week's report, the list of needy children has grown from 98 to 116 for the "Christmas For Kids" program sponsored by the Lynn County Child Welfare Board. Although several organizations and individuals have responded with monetary donations and/or "adopting" children to buy gifts for Christmas, the Child Welfare Board is still seeking support from area citizens and organizations in providing Christmas gifts for a record number of needy children in Lynn County.

President Janet Porterfield reported this week that the Child Welfare Board has received $960 in monetary gifts for the "Christmas For Kids" program, and while that is greatly appreciated, it is not even half of what is needed to provide gifts for the children.

"With 116 children to buy for, at approximately $25 per child (two toys and a shirt), we'll need close to $2900," she explained to The News.

Names submitted for the program are screened by the Child Welfare Board to ensure that only the truly needy receive assistance. Children range in ages from infant to 14, however, a sibling over the cut-off age will not be left out.

"For those who want to adopt a child to purchase gifts for, we provide sponsoring organizations with each child's first name, age, and clothing size," says Mrs. Porterfield. "It is up to the group how many gifts the child receives."

Gifts are delivered no later than Christmas Eve. Sponsors may deliver the gifts themselves, or may bring them to Mrs. Porterfield at the Lynn County Courthouse for the Child Welfare Board to deliver.

For more information on sponsoring a child, contact Mrs. Porterfield at 998-4055 from 8:30 a.m. until 5 p.m., or call 998-4036 after 5 p.m.

The U.S. Postal Service is raising first class rates by 3 cents to 32 cents, effective Jan. 1 unless the recommendations are rejected, which is considered pretty unlikely. The postal rate increase also applies to newspapers, as second-class rates are increasing 14 per cent, and this means that newspapers will have to raise subscription rates.

Subscription rates for The Lynn County News mailed in the county will be raised, from the current $12 per year to $13.50 per year. Newspapers mailed at any postoffice outside the county will be increased to an annual price of $16.50 from the present $15, and newspapers going out of state will go from the present $16 to $17.50. This is an across-the-board increase of $1.50 per year, and ranges from 10 to 12 per cent.

"We hate having to raise the rates, but mailing the paper will cost us more," said Vondell Elliott, co-owner of The News. "Some subscribers whose papers expire early next year may want to go ahead and add another year's renewal in December, at the old rates, pushing their expiration dates up into 1996."

"The Teeth" Escapades

by ABBIE WHORTON THOMAS

(Editor's note: The writer is a former resident of Tahoka who, in 1944, had local dentist Dr. Kenneth Durham make her some false "freak teeth." This series is an account of her experiences.)

Fourth In A Series:

Grocery Shopping With Red
by Abbie Whorton Thomas

One morning I, Abbie Whorton Thomas, decided to dress as a little old lady. Wearing a black straw hat with a large pink rose on the side, small gold rim glasses, black leather handbag, putting in the freak teeth, I went shopping for groceries at the Piggy-Wiggly Grocery Store, owned by Red Kidwell.

I went into Piggy-Wiggly and started pushing the grocery cart down each aisle selecting my groceries.

Everyone passed by me taking one look, then hurried on. After they had gone a few steps, I heard one say to the other, "Who is that?" "God, I never saw her before." I heard one say, "I know she doesn't live in Tahoka, but I don't have any idea where she's from."

I took my time and shopped each aisle. Some of the shoppers came by a second time to take another look at me, each time only a glance, then hurried on. I always grinned at them to show the teeth.

When I finished my shopping, I went to the longest waiting line. It was also the check stand that Red Kidwell was the checker. When it came my turn to be checked out, Red Kidwell said, "M'am, did you find everything?"

I said, "No, I couldn't find two things I wanted." Red said, "I'll be glad to get them for you; what items couldn't you find?" I said, "A small package of Bologna and a bottle of hot sauce."

He went and got them for me then totaled my bill. I paid with cash so he wouldn't know who I was from a check. He excused himself to the next customer in line to take my groceries to the car. On the way to the car, I took the teeth out, removed the hat and glasses. As Red started to put the groceries into the car, he looked right at me and saw who I was.

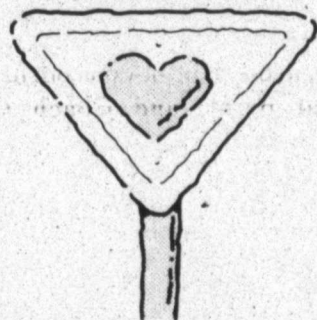

He said, "Abbie! I feel like dumping your groceries right here in the street. Everyone in that store came by and asked, 'Who in the world is that little old lady?'"

Red said, "I'm going back into that store and tell them who you are, not a single one of them will believe you could have fooled us all." He was laughing and shaking his head as I drove away.

LESLIE EDEN WILLIAMS

Williams Receives NBTA Certification

Leslie Eden Williams, of Tahoka, was recently certified as an official National Baton Twirler Association (NBTA) Judge by the National Twirling Judges Bureau in Stanford, Conn.

She completed a five page exam of terms, concepts, rules, and regulations in which the Commissioner of Twirling used along with twirling history (contests attended, places received, camps, groups twirled with, etc.) to determine eligibility for judges license.

She was also clerked at four major contests to get recommended hours of service and four certified judges had to recommend her to receive an application.

Miss Williams was a member of the THS band and twirled in the line for three years and was featured twirler for two. She attended many local, state and U.S. regional contests, receiving over 60 first place trophies, close to 100 medals, and several titles including Miss Bluebonnet, Miss Valentine, Miss Beginner Majorette 15-16, and Miss Majorette of North Texas.

Lady Bulldogs Win Third Place In Anton Tourney

The Tahoka Bulldogs evened their season record at 3-3 Tuesday night with a 64-51 win over Whitharral, a team which had defeated Tahoka last weekend in a tournament at Anton.

The Bulldogs had a big 22-point first quarter, to 11 for the Panthers, and Curtis Erickson scored 21 points to lead that category. Lee Rash also had 14 for the Bulldogs.

The Lady Bulldogs, who won third in the Anton tournament, lost 53-37 to the unbeaten Whitharral girls Tuesday. Katy Huffaker led all scorers with 19 points as the Lady Dogs went to 3-4 for the season.

The Lady Bulldogs won third place in the Anton tournament last weekend, opening the tourney Thursday with a 47-44 win over Lubbock Christian High School, as Huffaker had 17 points and 10 rebounds, and Micah Smith scored 11.

On Friday, it was a case of too many turnovers as Whitharral beat Tahoka 45-30 in the second round. Huffaker again had 10 rebounds, plus 13 points.

On Saturday, the Lady Dogs outlasted Motley County 55-54 for third place, and evened their season record at 3-3. Smith scored 17 points and Huffaker 16. Coach Cindy Gardner said she was very proud of her younger players who stepped in to play hard when the two THS seniors were on the bench in the fourth quarter after fouling out. Micah Smith was named to the all-tournament team.

The Bulldog boys basketball team lost two games in the tournament at Anton last weekend, to drop their season mark to 2 wins and 3 losses. In the first game, Lubbock Christian High School took a 43-19 halftime lead and rolled to an 84-52 victory, although Wes Solomon had 21 points and Rash 13 in the loss.

In the second game at Anton, Tahoka again scored 52 in a losing cause, as Whitharral won 65-52. Rash and Erickson each had 13 points in that game.

Tahoka varsity boys and girls team both defeated Bovina teams here Nov. 29, to bring the boys record to 2-1 at that point, and Coach Cindy Gardner's girls were 1-2 after their first victory of the season.

Erickson was red-hot against Bovina as he scored 28 points, hitting 8 of 9 field goal efforts inside the 3-point line, and hitting 3 of 7 attempts at 3-pointers as the Bulldogs beat Bovina 73-68. He also had 9 rebounds. Drew Stone also played a good game, scoring 19 points and having 7 steals for Coach Robert White's Bulldogs. Arnold Reyna led Bovina with 23 points.

The Lady Dogs beat Bovina 52-44 as Katy Huffaker scored 22 points and Shayla Brandon hit for 13.

Tahoka's JV girls lost to Bovina 51-20 as Shelia Martin led THS scoring with 9 points. The JV girls had a rough time at the Cooper JV tournament, losing to Cooper 45-18 and to Idalou 65-33. Jennifer Dotson led Tahoka in both games, scoring 21 against Idalou and 12 against Cooper.

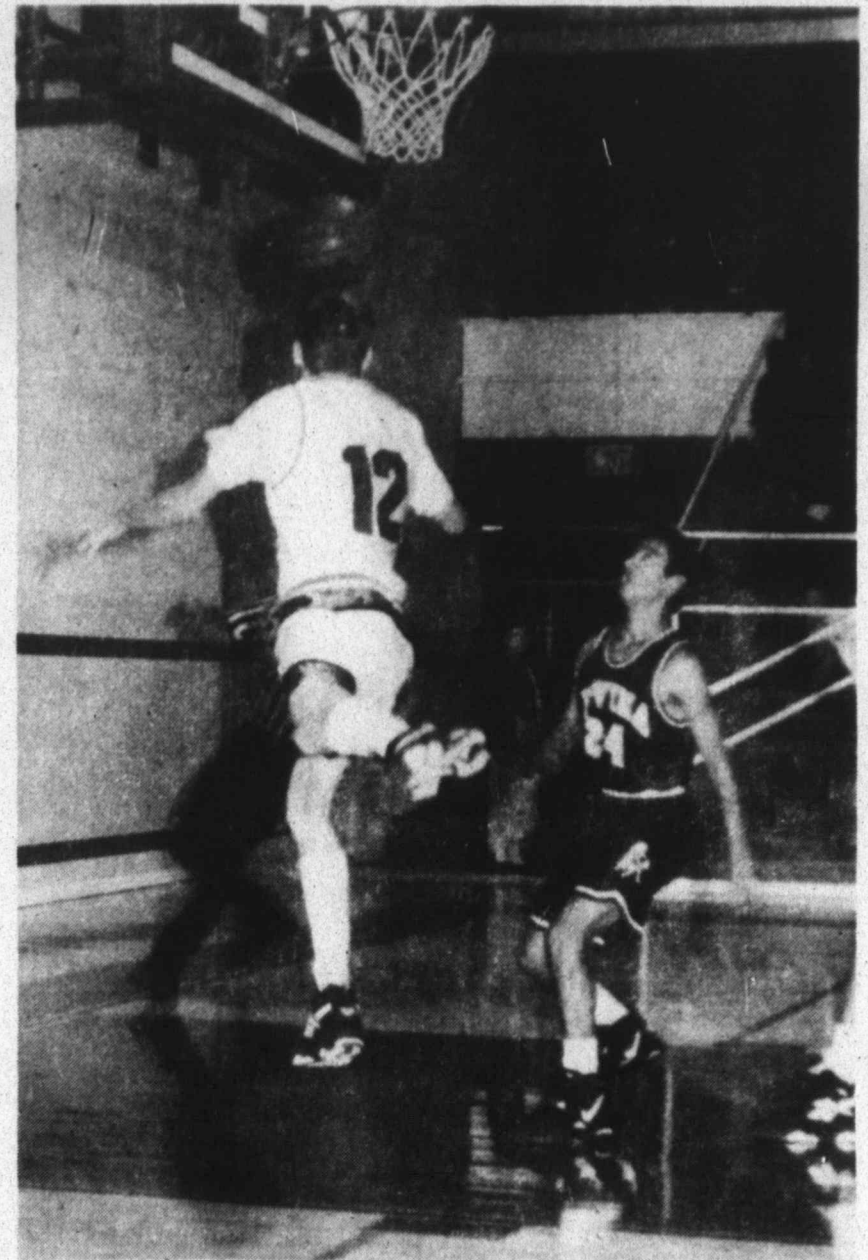

Tahoka JV boys topped Bovina 61-45, with three THS players in double figures, led by Monty Hale's 23 points. Matt Garcia scored 18 and Brent Raindl 12 in the victory.

The JV boys beat Cooper 61-55 in the first round of a tournament at Cooper as Hale scored 16 points and Garcia 13. In the second game Tahoka was nudged 53-50 by Abernathy JV. Hale had 15 points and Edward Ramirez and Rocky Moore had 10 each in the loss. In the third place game, Tahoka was beaten by Littlefield, 61-55. Hale and Garcia had 17 points each.

With Anthony DeLeon scoring 20 points and Brad Pebsworth scoring 15, Tahoka 7th graders defeated Idalou 54-38. The 8th grade boys lost to Idalou 42-35, despite 12 points by Jeremy Vega and 10 by Gary Chapa.

The 8th grade girls beat Idalou 24-17 on Dec. 1, as Courtney Stennett was the scoring leader with 9. This followed a game against Sundown 8th grade on Nov. 21 which Sundown won 33-26. Leading Tahoka in that one was Amanda Fuentes with 13. Stennett had 12 points in a losing effort Nov. 19 against Cooper, who won 42-27.

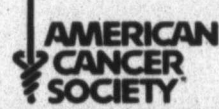

Idalou beat Tahoka's 7th grade B team girls 28-10 and Idalou A team beat Tahoka A team 20-7. Shayla Lawson had 4 points for Tahoka.

SOCCKER PLAY—Drew Stone (12) of Tahoka appears to be bouncing the ball off his head, soccer-style, and also has a foot ready to kick it. Whatever it was, it worked against Bovina, as the Bulldogs won last week. (LYNN COUNTY NEWS PHOTO by Gary Jones)

Pioneer Included Tahokans In Book Of Texas Tales

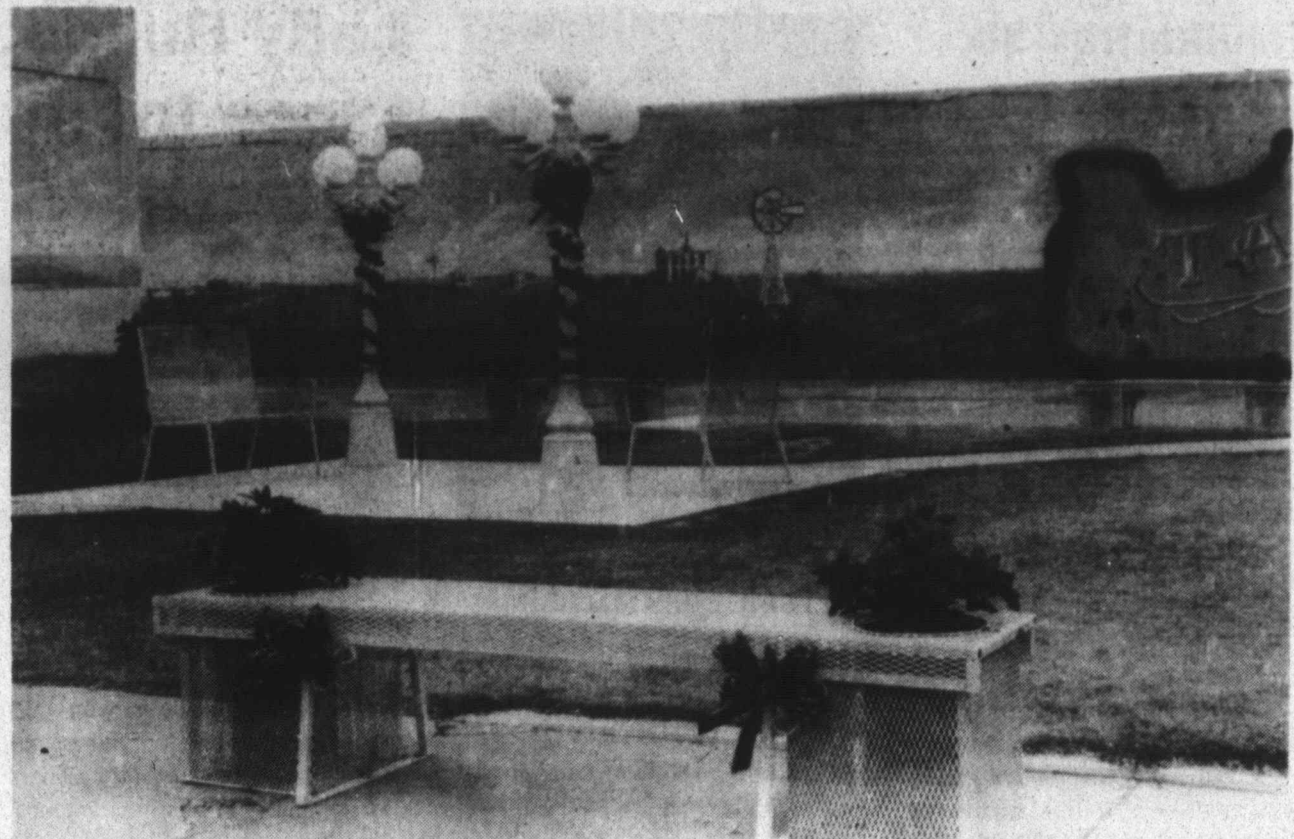

An article in the October 1994 issue of "Pecan South" included excerpts from "Random Shots and Tales of Texas," in reference to a chapter on pecans. The chapter included several references to Tahoka.

Ben Moore Sr. (1886-1956), author of the book, was described as a Texas pioneer, naturalist and historian. He authored the collection of "tales" related to him by some of the earliest pioneers of the state. The book was edited by his son, Elvin Ray Moore.

Following is an excerpt from the story: "Proud of Your Pecan Trees?" by Ben Moore Sr.

The last pecan tree west, and of course the first one to be seen going east from the Texas plains, is on the north side of the highway near the approach to Bull Creek bridge, five miles east of Gail, Texas. Strangely, it is one of the largest pecan trees to be seen in Texas - about 18 feet in HOLIDAY DECOR AT NEW DOWNTOWN PARK - Tahoka Chamberettes provided funding to decorate the new Downtown Mural Park for the Christmas season, with bright red bows, poinsettias and garland decorating the benches and lights. Santa and Mrs. Claus will be at the park this Sunday evening from 7-8 p.m. to visit with children, and a Christmas Hayride will leave the park at 7 p.m., all sponsored by Tahoka High School Student Council and DECA organizations, with proceeds to benefit the "Christmas For Kids" program here. circumference at shoulder height. There are men living who have caught fish beneath its spreading branches. Bull Creek changed its course long ago, and remains dry, except during very wet periods. But the great tree is anchored in good soil, and probably has been so for four hundred or more years.

Climate has nothing to do with the fact that no wild pecans ever have appeared in natural state on the plains of Texas. With neither rocks nor real clay lying beneath the rich soils of the plains, there is nothing to hold moisture for a great length of time. With caliche encountered at a relatively shallow depth throughout the plains, it's easy to see why the lack of trees has always been so noticeable. Caliche doesn't hold moisture, and there has hardly been a year of record in which all moisture did not escape from the richer top soil at some time during each season.

So it is that we found only mesquite and a few scraggly bushes here at the coming of the white man. Mesquites have enormously long lateral roots as well as a taproot, and have a way of storing moisture sufficient for their narrow leaves. Hackberry was found in such localities as the sandhills, northeast of Tahoka, where all moisture seldom vanishes between rains. Also, these trees were able to do pretty well at the brink of buffalo wallows. Among the rocks about alkali lakes, hackberry and wild china were much in evidence when the plains was yet open country. A few men yet live who have seen wild turkeys roosting in such trees on the plains of Texas.

It is practically certain that the first pecans ever produced in Lynn County were from a seedling tree in the yard of the late H.C. Crie, early Tahoka publisher of The News - about 1919. Since pecan trees seldom die, we think this one may have been destroyed along with the residence in a disastrous fire.

Certainly, the first bred-up pecan trees were put out by M.F. Ballew, four miles northeast of O'Donnell in 1925. A grueling trip in a Model-T to near San Saba was made by Ballew for twelve trees, eleven of which grew, and are much admired 25 years later. In 1928 a few nuts were produced. They have not failed once. We believe that the late A.L. Lockwood set three trees the following year at his Tahoka residence. They have borne consistently, we believe every year, since their beginning. No Texas locality can show such record. The Ballew trees probably long ago sent their taproots to the water which is forty feet below, but they were watered for some years.

...We are of the opinion that any pecan grown in the lower regions of Texas will mature here. The 'Mahan' is the largest of all, but has never been too popular anywhere because of its failure to fill perfectly at its rear end. However, J.K. Applewhite of Tahoka and others have produced them, both larger and better filled than those grown in central Texas the same season.

...C.E. Woodworth of Tahoka has pioneered in nut culture in Tahoka, having proved beyond a doubt the feasibility of planting pecans, black and English walnuts. Other growers include L.C. Haney; J.K. Applewhite, Walter Slaton, Mrs. A.L. Lockwood, and probably a dozen others. Mr. Knight has also been diligent in his experiments with pecans in Tahoka.

All-Time Favorite Holiday Snacks Now Made Fat Free

It happens every year. At the beginning of the holiday season, we promise ourselves that this year it will be different. We will exercise self control and not give in to temptation, no matter how delicious the taste. We denounce high-fat foods and pretend that the carrot stick we're eating is really a candy cane.

But it never works. With all the temptations surrounding the holidays, it's impossible to stay away from fatty foods and still enjoy festive holiday snacks.

But thanks to Molly McButter, now you can enjoy the two most popular holiday snacks—Crispy Rice Treats and Party Mix—without worrying about your fat intake. By substituting butter or margarine with Molly McButter, festive holiday snacking is now delicious and fat-free. And preparation is as easy as 1-2-3. The following recipes are perfect during the holiday season.

Party Mix
 3 1/2 cups each oven toasted corn and rice cereal squares (7 cups total)

- 1 cup small pretzel sticks
- 2 Tbsp. water
- 4 Tbsp. Worcestershire sauce
- 2 tsp. lemon juice
- 1/4 cup Molly McButter Garlic & Herb Flavor Sprinkles
- Baker's Joy No Stick Cooking Spray

Preheat oven to 300°F. Spray foil-lined 15 x 10-inch baking sheet with Baker's Joy No Stick Cooking Spray. In large plastic bag, combine corn and rice cereals and pretzels. Mix together water, Worcestershire sauce and lemon juice; drizzle over cereal-pretzel mixture. Seal bag; toss until evenly coated. Spread mixture on prepared baking sheet. Bake at 300°F for 5 minutes. Pour snack mix into large bowl with Molly McButter Garlic & Herb Flavor Sprinkles; toss thoroughly and return to baking sheet. Bake 5 minutes, turn with spatula; bake an additional 5 minutes, or until golden brown. Makes eleven 3/4 cup servings.

Fat Free Crispy Rice Treats
 1 (10 oz.) package marshmallows
 6 cups crispy rice cereal
 3 Tbsp. Molly McButter Natural Butter Flavor Sprinkles
 No Stick Cooking Spray
 1 cup raisins (optional)

Pre-measure all ingredients. Spray 13 x 9-inch pan and spatula with no stick cooking spray; set aside. In a large saucepan over very low heat, melt marshmallows; stir until smooth. Remove from heat. Add Molly McButter; mix well. Quickly add cereal and raisins. Stir until well coated. With sprayed spatula, press mixture evenly into prepared pan. Cool; cut into bars. Makes sixteen 2-1/4 x 3-1/4-inch bars.

Microwave directions: Place marshmallows in 4-quart microwaveable bowl. Cover with plastic wrap. Microwave at High for 2 minutes. Remove from microwave oven. Uncover; sprinkle with 3 Tbsp. Molly McButter. Continue as shown above after the addition of Molly McButter.

Per Serving: Calories 100, Protein 1g, Fat 0g, Carbohydrates 25g, Sodium 250mg, Cholesterol 0mg, Food Exchanges 1 fruit, 1/2 starch/bread.
 Molly McButter is 100% natural real butter taste, fat free and just 5 calories per 1 teaspoon serving. Enjoy the rich taste of butter without the fat.

A Church Quilting Lunch

A church quilting will be held at the Methodist church next Wednesday, October 6th. All the ladies especially invited to come early and bring their lunch and expect to have lots of fun.

The above is just about as the News man received it over the phone from a lady at headquarters. Now, when the lady said "lunch" it struck the said News man that if the ladies really want to have "lots of fun" the thing for them to do, would be for each lady to bring three "lunches," and invite one gentleman to eat "dinner" with her. The ladies could come early, quilt all day and stay late. The gentlemen could come late, eat most all the time, and leave early. If the ladies want to have an extra amount of "fun" they might set a "stint" of quilting for each gentleman and if his work did not pass the board of censors, have him pay a quarter and rip out what he had done; or you might have him to give 50 cents and not do any quilting. The above is not given because the News man wishes to be officious; he just simply wants to eat about 2-1/2 beautiful lunches with some lady Wednesday.

A Cure For Most Peptic Ulcers

The National Institutes of Health has confirmed that peptic ulcers can be caused by bacterium, and drug therapy can prevent a recurrence in 90% of the cases. Patients who test positive for H pylori should be given 2 weeks of combination antibiotic drugs, like tetracycline, metronidazole or amoxicillin, to eradicate the microbe. Dr. Ann Williams says, "We now have an opportunity to cure a disease that previously we were able only to suppress and control."

NOTICE:

To all my friends in Tahoka, Lynn County, and surrounding areas, regretfully I had to close the station. The reason for closing had nothing to do with our friendship or business; it was due to certain government regulations that had to be complied with by December 22 and it could not be done.

We have been in Tahoka all of our life and the last 20 years have been at WILLIAMS 66 -- for this we thank you very much. I would personally like to thank everyone that has traded with us in the past and am sure you will continue to get the same service wherever you may choose. We would like to wish all of you a bright future, Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.

Below-Average Rainfall Prompts Residents To Re-evaluate Water Use

Below-average precipitation during the past three years has caused many Lynn County residents to wonder if both agricultural and urban water use practices should be re-evaluated in order to maximize efficiency.

"As a result of the drought conditions during the past three years, heavier-than-normal pumpage by agricultural and urban users has increased the rate of decline in the water table. This has caused above-average decreases in well yields during the pumping season in some parts of the county," said A. Wayne Wyatt, General Manager of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 in Lubbock. "It is during times of drought that people stop and wonder if more can be done to achieve maximum water use efficiency."

The volume of ground water in storage within the Ogallala Aquifer in Lynn County was calculated at 4.42 million acre-feet in 1990. The net depletion of the ground water in the county from 1990 to 2000 was expected to be about 380,000 acre-feet, or 38,000 acre-feet per year, based upon previous water use trends. However, because of the drought, the amount of net depletion may be greater than previously expected due to the extra pumpage and lack of precipitation for aquifer recharge.

At a recent meeting of the Water District's Lynn County Committee, it was concluded that changes in water use practices must be made if residents of the county are going to have enough water to continue to maintain a profitable economy.

The five-member County Committee concluded that:

- Efforts need to be made to ensure maximum use of every drop of precipitation that falls within the county.

- Irrigation practices should be re-evaluated to determine if water losses can be further reduced or eliminated. For example, producers can convert their partial dropline center pivot sprinkler to a Low Energy Precision Application (LEPA) pivot and cut water losses by 15 percent.

- Water losses resulting from irrigation tailwater escaping from fields must be eliminated.

- Producers should consider planting lower water-use crops.

- Producers should try to achieve the most profitable crop yield per inch of water pumped—rather than irrigating for maximum crop yield.

- Recent research in precipitation enhancement should be evaluated to determine if such a program could be implemented within the county or region to increase precipitation.

In addition, the County Committee indicated that homeowners, business owners and industries should share in the water conservation effort.

- Industry should reuse waste water whenever possible.

- Low-flow showerheads, low-flow lavatory faucets, flow restrictors, low-flush toilets, and other water conservation bathroom fixtures should be installed in homes, schools, and apartment complexes within the county.

- Urban irrigation systems should be designed for maximum efficiency.

- Drought tolerant, native vegetation should be used whenever possible in yards.

Representatives from each of the 15 County Committees of the Water District plan to meet as a group in early January 1995 to determine a plan of action to maximize water use efficiency to counteract the problems brought on by the recent drought conditions.

"Lynn County residents have made tremendous progress in improving their irrigation efficiency during the past 10 years," said Wyatt. "In 1993, a survey by the Water District found 170 center pivot irrigation systems in operation within the county. Based upon the reported irrigated acreage in Lynn County, approximately 37.7 percent of the county was being irrigated with center pivot sprinkler systems. Even with this great success, there are still more opportunities for urban and agricultural water conservation within Lynn County," said Wyatt.

Additional water conservation information is available by contacting the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1, 2930 Ave. Q, Lubbock, Tx 79405-1499, or call (806) 762-0181.

Bright Ideas

Light Your Walls

(NAPS)—Up against the wall. That's where you want the right amount of light. Second only to ceiling lights, wall light is one of the greatest manipulators of space perception. Try these bright ideas from the recessed and track lighting experts at Juno Lighting, Inc.

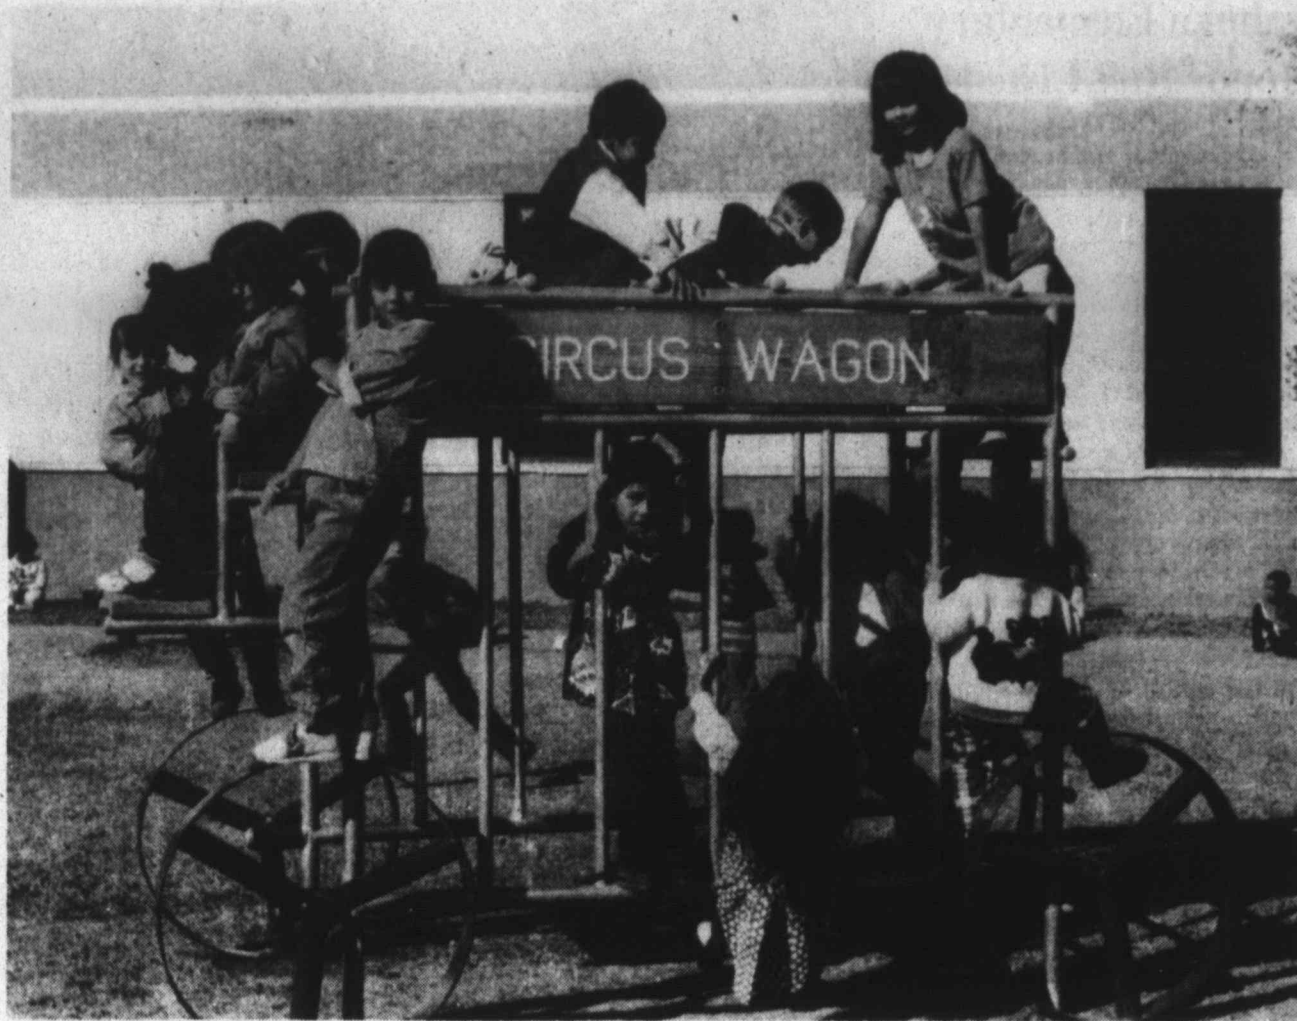

Accent artwork with recessed or track lighting for a bolder look.

A wall is the place for paintings, fireplaces, bookcases and architectural highlights. A properly lit wall creates a comfortable, roomy space and can make the room look larger.

There are two types of wall lighting: accent lighting and wall washing. Accent lighting lets you draw attention to an object or area with a concentrated beam of light. Accent lighting on an object should be at least three times the intensity of the ambient lighting.

Wall washing creates uniform light and is especially good for paneling, murals and art collections. Track or recessed fixtures are generally placed 2' to 4' from the wall. The spacing between fixtures should be one to 1 1/2 times the distance to the wall.

For additional information write to "Light Your Walls," Juno Lighting, Inc., Box 5065, Des Plaines, IL 60017-5065.

TELCOT Report

A WEEKLY SUMMARY OF COTTON MARKETING NEWS

There seemed to be more cotton buyers than sellers this week. Prices remained at an unprecedented high for this time of year as sales of Texas/Oklahoma cotton on TELCOT soared early this week resulting from great short-term demand and a lack of readily-available cotton elsewhere.

Frenzied buying Monday drove sales on TELCOT to 88,475 bales, the second largest daily turnover in the electronic marketing system's history. The all-time high is 385,599 bales, achieved February 21, 1989 resulting from sales to China. That achievement is believed to be a world record for the most cotton to ever change hands on a single day in any cash market.

Despite the strong demand, sales tapered off in mid-week as cotton available for sale was depleted. But, as soon as supplies were rebuilt by new producer offerings on TELCOT, spot sales of Texas/Oklahoma cotton took off again bringing the total for the five trading days ending December 1 to 212,038. That figure was up considerably from last week's total of 69,477. Average daily prices received by producers selling on TELCOT ranged from 69.54 to 73.47 cents per pound.

Texas/Oklahoma cotton continues to enjoy great demand based on almost immediate availability. According to one cotton market observer, ultra high grade cotton and an excellent infrastructure conducive to delivering cotton in a timely manner will continue to lure exporters to West Texas for their cotton needs despite the climbing prices.

Meanwhile, the International Cotton Advisory Committee (ICAC) lowered its forecast for 1994-95 world cotton production to 86.27 million bales, reflecting lower output by Pakistan, Uzbekistan, India and Paraguay. The new forecast compares with a November prediction of 88.13 million bales, ICAC said.

U.S. export prospects have been bolstered this season by shortfalls in foreign crops, particularly in Pakistan which continues to provide bullish fuel. According to the Cotton Export Corporation of Pakistan, a delegation is en route to Turkmenistan and Uzbekistan to seek up to one million bales of cotton. The move was driven by a shortfall in domestic production, which trade sources say will reach only 6.5 million bales this year. To add more coals to the fire, the chairman of the All Pakistan Textile Mills Association made the sensationalist comment that Pakistan was considering airlifting cotton from Central Asia to feed its starving textile industry. The remark is considered preposterous by realistic analysts.

Stories continue to circulate suggesting disappointing results in the Indian cotton harvest. The U.S. Agricultural Attaché's latest report indicates that boll worms and leaf curl virus damage has affected crops in northern India. Most private estimates of the crop there are being scaled back to the 10.15 million bale area, and exports seem unlikely as several Indian inquiries for U.S. cotton have been noted this week.

Problems abound in other countries including Australia which now expects to harvest no more than 1.1 million bales due to extended drought. Paraguay also reports that recent heavy rains have caused some flooding in cotton areas and acreage is likely to reach only 300,000 acres rather than 400,000 as previously expected. Production in Paraguay will, therefore, yield only about 550,000 bales, even less than last year's poor crop. November rains also have slowed the cotton harvest in Uzbekistan and other Central Asian countries. ICAC said it expects cotton still to be in the fields in that region when December snows arrive.

Meanwhile, until foreign competition surfaces, the U.S. is being referred to as "The Big Store" in terms of supplying international cotton requirements. In fact, USDA announced export sales of 1994-95 U.S. cotton increased a net 1,558,200 bales in the week ended November 23, up considerably from the previous week's figure of 175,200. In addition, new crop sales of 884,700 bales were registered for 1995-96.

Blake Ashcraft, son of Sam Ashcraft of Tahoka, shot his first 8-point buck in Kimball County on November 12th.

Wilson, New Home Players Make All-District Team

Several Wilson and New Home football players were named to first and second teams of the District 3-A Six-Man All-District squad announced last week.

Adam Castillo of Wilson, a senior, was first team on offense as a spread deep back and on first team defense as a linebacker. He and Austin Jordan of Meadow will represent the district in the six-man all-star game in Wichita Falls this summer.

Other Wilson players named to the first team were senior Henrik Oscarsson as kicker, junior Joe Hernandez on the defensive line, and Greg Castillo, a sophomore, at corner back. Castillo also made the second team offense at end.

Wilson players on the second team defense are Adam Garza at linebacker, Oscarsson as punter and Jason Marshall at safety. Honorable mention players from Wilson are Benito Delgado at fullback, Jeremy Thomas at quarterback, Cody Donald at center and Marcus Vergara at corner back.

New Home had two players named to the first team, Brandon Nettles at corner back and Shane Zant as offensive end. Five Leopard players were chosen on the second team all-district. Linebacker Juan Gomez and corner backs Shane Zant and Brad Bell are on the defensive team and second team offensive honors went to Bell as a running back and Jason Gandy at center.
