BAD DOG ... NO BISCUIT!—Daron Norwood had a little help from the Mystery Bulldog Thursday night during his acoustic concert when he sang his new single, "Bad Dog, No Biscuit" for the crowd. The Bulldog didn't sing, however, but danced while Daron belted out the fast-paced tune for his home town fans. He sang several of his hit singles, and some Christmas carols with the help of the children, and concluded the concert with a new song, "When Mama Cried," which will be on his second album (to be released soon). by Dalton

YOU'D THINK THAT anybody who has been around for six decades or more would have sense enough not to over-eat at Christmas. But here I am, with all that experience and a college degree and I still keep gobbling everything in sight when all those good things are served. That's the problem, of course, the fact that it's all in sight. And it's hard to pass up the good things when you know your next meal probably will be a grilled cheese sandwich.

Last Sunday I was so bloated and miserable after Christmas dinner that I couldn't move for half an hour. My son-in-law suggested that we go hit some golf balls, and I said, "Later. Right now I feel like Nate Newton and William Perry look... Call Sammy Sims at home and see if you can get a fork lift out here to move me from the table to the recliner."

It sure was good, though.

THERE'S a guy out in Arizona who used to work with NASA, and who has invented a satellite to clean up debris in outer space. He calls it Space Janitor, and says it will clear the most-traveled space lanes in the vicinity of the earth of space junk, errant satellites, and trash dumped from other space devices, and then either allow the stuff to be picked up by a shuttle or the entire Space Janitor can be sent to burn up in the atmosphere or splash down in the ocean for recovery.

Maybe it can be programmed to come down on Bagdad or some other place we really don't need.

I wonder if he could make a smaller version we could turn loose in our home and it would pick up all the junk. The problem there, though, is that it would get my glasses, keys, shoes and socks, remote control, pens and pencils and other stuff I never put away.

I READ last week that orthopedic surgeons now can sometimes make people taller, a development which comes about 30 years too late to do me any real good. Like many other people over 50, I have an artificial joint (knee), but the leg in which it was implanted still lacks a couple of inches of reaching the ground.

Actually, the other leg, which is otherwise normal, is not long enough to reach the ground, either, but it does just barely make it.

You Need A Friend

Elderly people with two or more sources of emotional support are twice as likely to live more than a year after a heart attack. Over half the people over 65 without support died within a year. "Emotional support may be the critical dimension related to survival." Sure exercise and eating right are important, but let's not neglect our friendships, especially in our golden years.

City Dads Pass 8 Mile Speed Limit

Some new city ordinances posted about town that will be of interest to most of our readers are:

An ordinance making it unlawful to throw rotten fruit, vegetables, trash, or papers on the streets, alleys or sidewalks of the city. Also prohibiting the parkage of vehicles, (any kind) or machinery on the streets, alleys or sidewalks for display purposes.

Also making it unlawful to store any kind of fuel on such premises. Also making it unlawful to in any way obstruct the streets, alleys or sidewalks of the city with building materials. Parties convicted of the violation of this ordinance are guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to fine in an amount not less than $1 nor more than $25.

An ordinance subjecting every male within the city limits between the ages of 21 and 45 to five days road duty or $5 tax.

An ordinance regulating motor driven vehicles. Such vehicles must burn fore and rear lights, when on the public thoroughfares, from sundown to sun up, must not be driven more than eight miles an hour, and shall drive to the right. Violation of this order is made a misdemeanor and is punishable by a fine of not less than $5 nor more than $25.

These ordinances were approved the 20th day of September and according to advises received at this office, are now in effect.

The ordinance last mentioned, to the best of our knowledge, makes no mention of signals to be given at corners, but it would be well for all cars equipped with a horn, siren or other device of warning to be sounded before turning corners. We make mention of this fact after observing several near collisions at the corner west of the News office.

Free Trees Offered

Ten free trees will be given to each person who joins The National Arbor Day Foundation during January 1995.

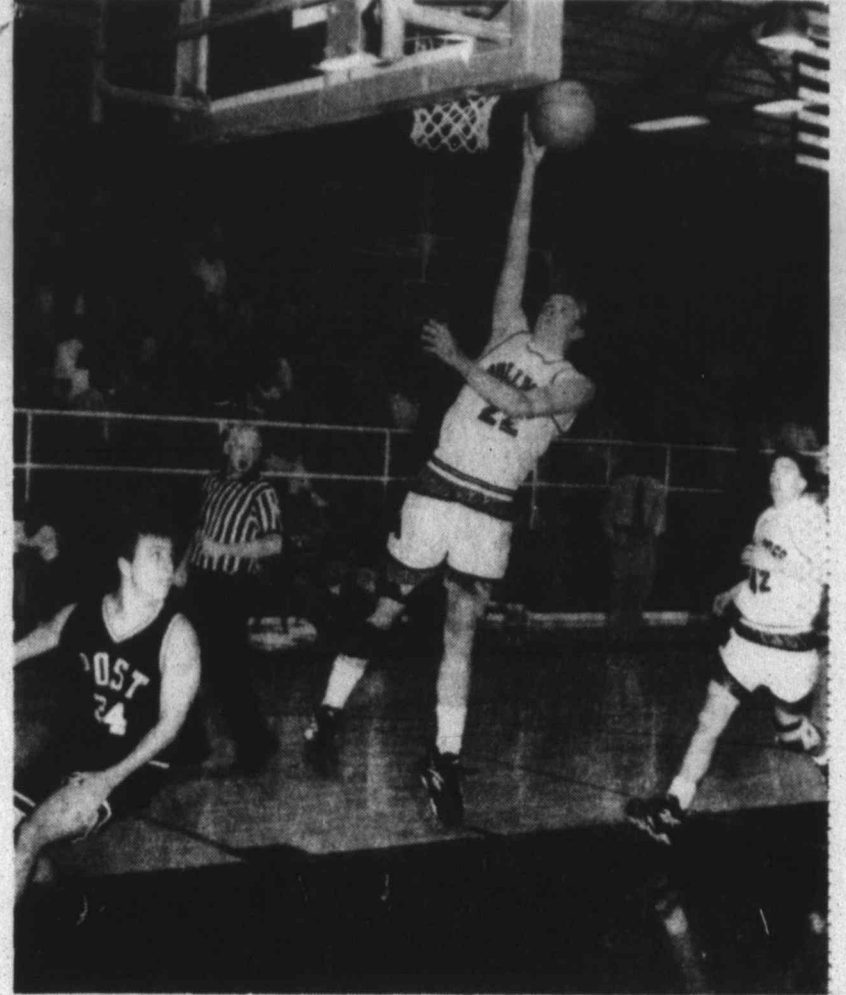

The free trees are part of the nonprofit Foundation's Trees for America campaign.

The ten trees are the Sugar Maple, White Flowering Dogwood, Pin Oak, White Pine, Red Maple, Birch, American Redbud, Silver Maple, Red Oak, and Colorado Blue Spruce.

The trees will be shipped post-paid at the right time for planting between Feb. 1 and May 31 with enclosed planting instructions. The six to twelve inch trees are guaranteed to grow or they will be replaced free of charge.

Members also receive a subscription to the Foundation's bimonthly publication, "Arbor Day," and The Tree Book with information about tree planting and care.

To become a member of the Foundation and to receive the free trees, send a $10 contribution to TEN FREE TREES, National Arbor Day Foundation, 100 Arbor Avenue, Nebraska City, NE 68410, by Jan. 31, 1995.

ACS Offers Golf Pass

Now you can give the golfers in your life a gift that they'll use year-round. It's the Texas Golf Pass.

For a contribution of $25, the American Cancer Society's Texas Golf Pass gives golf lovers more than 320 rounds at 175 courses for reduced or free green fees.

When you give the Texas Golf Pass, you're also giving the gift of life. The proceeds from each golf card go toward supporting life-saving cancer research, education and service programs provided by the American Cancer Society, Texas Division, Inc.

For a list of participating locations, or to order the Texas Golf Pass, contact your local American Cancer Society at (806) 792-7126, or call 1-800-ACS-2345. Visa/Mastercard/American Express accepted.
