Three Accidents Investigated

The Highway Patrol investigated 4 rural accidents in Bailey County during the month of April, according to Sergeant D. S. Lawson Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for three persons injured and a property damage of $1,910.00. This brings the total 1961 in this county to one killed, 7 injured, and a property damage of $10,460.00.

"A driver who learns and complies with traffic laws can never prevent as many accidents as a driver who learns and complies with both traffic laws and defensive driving procedures," the sergeant stated. A traffic law describes what a driver must do or not do. Procedure describes ways in which a driver can comply with the law or do something extra that will increase his safety and prevent congestion.

"For example, the law says that no person shall park a vehicle upon the paved or main-traveled part of the highway. A driver complies with this law on a rural highway when his car barely clears the pavement. Procedure, in this instance, when possible or reasonable would require the driver to park a greater distance from the pavement," the sergeant explained.

BAILEY COUNTIANS EAT MORE

13,541,000 Pounds of Food Consumed In '60

NEW YORK, May 15—The individual Bailey County resident spent more money for food in the past fiscal year than did people in most parts of the West South Central States.

On a weekly basis, food expenditures locally were at the rate of $5.07 per person per week. This was solely for food purchased for home consumption. It does not take into account the amount spent in restaurants.

By way of comparison, the outlay in other parts of the West South Central States was $5.05 per person weekly. Figures on food consumption and on the amount of money that went for that purpose during the year are contained in data released by the Department of Commerce, the Department of Agriculture and other sources.

They show that the average American has a sturdy appetite. In the past year he consumed no less than 1,488 pounds of food, nearly 29 pounds a week.

What makes up his weekly diet? The principal items are meat, 2.8 pounds, milk products, 8.0 pounds, eggs, a half dozen, vegetables and fruits, excluding potatoes, 7.9 pounds, cereals, and baked goods, 2.8 pounds, and fats and oils, including butter and margarine, nearly a pound.

In Bailey County, the total amount of food consumed in 1960 is estimated at 13,541,000 pounds.

Among non-farm residents, the reports show, the use of meats and vegetables is somewhat higher than it is among farm dwellers. As to other kinds of food, however, farm residents consume more.

It is pointed out that the difference that once existed between the eating habits of farm and non-farm people are fast disappearing. A large proportion of the food consumed by farmers is now being purchased by them. At one time, by contrast, they lived almost exclusively on home-grown products.

A breakdown by the Department of Agriculture shows how the typical non-farm family of average income distributes its food dollar.

In Bailey County, assuming normal buying conditions, 26 percent of the food dollar goes for meat, poultry and fish, 23 percent for fruits and vegetables, 19 percent for dairy products and 16 percent for cereals and baked goods. The remaining 16 percent is divided among the host of other food items.

David Tarter went the route for the Longhorns and allowed only two hits and a pair of seventh inning runs. Tarter struck out 13 and issued only two bases on balls. Both runs off him were unearned.

'Guaranteed Stand' Seed May Be No Bargain

The "whoop-la" bally hoo gimmicks of big-time advertising have found their way into the important Texas seed market, and many Texas farmers are facing the test of cautious common sense versus the "don't delay" punch of agency promotions.

The gimmick in this instance is the drive by large operators to sell 'guaranteed stand' seed to farmers at higher than normal prices, promising free planting replacement seed if the original seed fails to come up for any reason other than poor farming practices.

Prices on such seed is sometimes almost twice as expensive as that obtainable from local sources. Under this arrangement, a farmer in effect pays for his planting replacement whether he needs it or not.

Seed promotion practices of this type have been conducted in other parts of the country for some time but have only recently come into Texas. The primary place in activity in our state presently is in the Plains grain sorghum area, but it could easily become more widespread.

Legal Recourse Doubtful

The Texas Department of Agriculture Seed Laws require that all seed offered for sale in commercial quantities bear a TDA Texas Tested Seed Tag which helps the buyer determine the true value of the seed by furnishing purity and germination information. Certain seed which bears a TDA Registered or Certified Seed Tag indicates the seed is of exceptional quality and has been proven successful under favorable crop conditions. Although the seed being promoted in these big campaigns must bear the Texas Tested Seed Tag, there is no assurance that it bears either the TDA Registered or Certified tag.

In any event, there is no provision under TDA Seed Laws for any legal recourse against dissatisfaction with "guaranteed stand" seed. Nor is it certain that a buyer would have any recourse otherwise if the seller of such seed decided it was "poor farming practice" instead of an Act of God that prevented the seed from coming up in the first place.

Investigate Before Buying

Before buying any seed, and especially any "gimmick" seed, the farmer will be best protected if he will:

1. Talk to his local seedsman. He's the man who has to stay in business over the long haul and his advice is to be respected.
2. Check with his experiment station as to local adaptability and variety.
3. See which TDA label the seed bears. The required Texas Tested tag is white. The registered tag is purple, and the Certified tag is blue.
4. Always compare prices before buying.

Off the Runways

Doings At Muleshoe Airport
By MRS. NOAH KINSER

Lyndol Kinser was given dual instruction by Morgan Locker in a flight to Alamogordo.

It was Kinser's first flight over mountains and he said that it was the most interesting and impressive experience of his aviation training of some 2 years.

Flying by radio, they flew low frequency to Roswell. Near there, they contacted FAA Communications, giving their position report and requested a wind analysis aloft report.

Passing Roswell they flew Omni outbound to their destination.

As they crossed the mountain near Alamogordo at an altitude of 11,000 ft., the reflection of the sun off the White Sands was extremely beautiful at that early morning hour.

On the return flight they flew Omni again until they were out of range this side of Roswell, then switched to KMUL, homing in on that station.

Along with learning to fly by radio, Lacker gave Kinser instruction as to emergency landings in mountainous terrain, the down drafts and up drafts to be coped with in the mountains, the using of peaks for check points and the locating of other check points as to how the air situated from the mountain peaks.

Kinser experienced flying through some up draft turbulence this side of the mountains coming back which required slowing the plane to 120 mph. and lasting about 2 minutes.

Locker and Kinser went to Holloman AFB near Alamogordo where Locker had a business engagement with George Mulhoy who is associated with the Sky Divers Club there.

FIRST PLANE RIDE AT 76
Mrs. Rachel Sterling took her first airplane ride Sunday afternoon at the age of 76 years.

On the flight with her was her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Tompkins and Morgan Locker piloting the Tri-Pacer.

Mrs. Sterling said, "When I saw that I had a good driver, I wasn't scared, I just looked and enjoyed the ride. I didn't know that the world was so big."

Visibility was unlimited Sunday, so Mrs. Sterling had a perfect day for an aerial view of the countryside.

Locker, observing her reaction while flying, found her busily looking in every direction and commenting on the appearance of the land and town from the air.

Mrs. Sterling, a longtime Bailey County resident, is still quite active and ready for adventure.

Early Sunday morning, Morgan and Don Locker took off from the Muleshoe Airport in the Amphibian, flying first to the Conchas Dam Reservoir where they shot touch and go water landings for a time, then landed and taxied around over the lake. The fishermen were having good luck and held up some nice strings of fish for them to see as they passed by. The lake is completely full and the water is easing over the spillway. Some 30 boats were on the lake.

From there they flew to the lower end of Conchas and landed on a body of water near Rattlesnake Island and picked out a camp site they will use on a week-end trip there soon.

Leaving Conchas, they flew Northward along the Canadian River. Don said that the scenery along the river was especially beautiful. To the west they could see the tributary rivers winding down through the hills and emptying into the Canadian. They also made some landings on the water at some of the wider places in the river.

Don, the 9 year old son of the Amphibian on the flight, with Morgan Lockers, piloted the exception of making the landings. Having always been around the airplanes and flying with his parents who are both pilots, Don has gained a lot of flying "know how" at this early age and enjoys every minute of it.

7TH GRADER TRAINS
Willie Washington, 15 year old 7th grade student of the Hill Top School, has been employed at the Muleshoe Flying Service and is training to be a pilot.

Instructor Morgan Locker said that Willie had no fear of flying training, and is working on turns and straight and level flying. He took an immediate interest in learning all about the planes and gliders his first day at work and Locker expresses belief that he will be a good pilot as well as a capable employee.

Willie, the second oldest of a family of 8 children, was recommended to Locker by Mrs. Christene Raven who has been teaching at the Hill Top School for the past nine years, and has taught him since he started to school in the 1st grade. Mrs. Raven said that Willie has a "B average and a perfect attendance record, is quite dependable and ambitious."

Willie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Heron Washington. Washington is employed at the Ford Motor Company.

16 YEAR OLD TRAINS
Beginning about two weeks ago, Muleshoe's youngest lady pilot-to-be started her training under Instructor Morgan Locker. She is Virginia Bayless, 16 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virginia, a Muleshoe High School Freshman, plans to devote a lot of time to aviation this summer and get her Private license.

COVER CROPS on W. B. "Buster" Kittre II farm 8 miles south of Muleshoe.

by Dale Fischgrabe

Editor's Note: Some of the material prepared for last week's issue of The Journal which featured Soil Stewardship Week and Soil Conservation, could not be used in a single issue. The Journal will from time to time publish certain of these articles which we think contain an important message to the people of our area.

Farmers in the Blackwater Valley Soil Conservation District are finding the practice of cover crop cropping very beneficial in their cropping systems.

This practice can provide both soil protection and improvement, as well as supplemental grazing or livestock. Crops grown for this purpose need to provide cover and protection during the late fall, winter and early spring.

Farmers on irrigated land have a wide choice of crops and more desirable conditions for using this practice than do farmers on dry land.

On irrigated land, crops such as vetch, Austrian winter peas, rye, or other small grains can be used. These crops can be used without farmers missing their regular cash crop during the grazing season.

When cover crops are planted in late August or early September at the last cultivating of the regular crop, satisfactory growth can usually be obtained after the regular crop is harvested.

Several thousand acres of cover crops were planted this past fall. Ralph Ethridge planted rye in cotton on his farm on the county line. Woodrow Couch planted cover crops in cotton and grain sorghum middles on his farm at West Camp. S. J. Bozeman used a wheat drill to plant in his cotton rows east of Muleshoe. Dan Sumrow and Ernest Martin used a battery operated cyclone seeder on the front of the tractor and covered the seed with cultivation. Buster Kittrell planted several acres on his farm and on the Lewis land.

The cooperators mentioned above are a few of the many who have found cover crops to be a vital part of their operation.

SANDHILLS PHILOSOPHER SAYS Solve Than Long-Range Farm Plan Long-Range Rockets Easier To

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm discusses steer hides and space, among other things, in his letter this week.

Dear editor:
 I was using the margin of a newspaper to do some figuring on last night, when I was figuring how many cow hides it takes to buy a pair of shoes, on account of I had a prime Jersey steer butchered the other day and discovered the hide brought $2.56, which is 8 cents a pound, and based on a pair of $20 shoes, that's eight hides to pay for one pair, and while I have never made a pair of shoes, I don't believe it'd take that much leather, even for a size 12. In fact, I glanced down at my feet, or rather out, as I had them propped up at the time, and I calculated a careful worker ought to get three or four pairs out of one steer hide, and by that time my figures had run off the margin and into a news article and to get my mind off the lack of parity in steer hides and shoes I read it.

According to it, Secretary of Agriculture Freeman told Congress a "successful long-range farm program is more important to this nation than putting a man in space."

Now I agree with him 100 per cent, but what Mr. Freeman is ignoring is that putting a man in space, as hard as it is, is a lot easier than solving the farm problem.

A successful long-range rocket missile, as complicated as it is, is child's play compared with a successful long-range farm program.

With missiles and other space exploits, you're prepared for a number of failures before you get on target, but attacking the farm problem is the only endeavor man has ever undertaken without any hope of permanent success at all.

Some people keep wondering what space exploration is all about, what we're going to find out there that's worth anything, but they miss the point entirely.

The purpose of exploring space is to get our minds off the problems of earth. Space can be whipped, but the earth can't.

Personally, I'm not interested in learning how to guide a rocket around the earth with me in it, but I believe it'd be easier than figuring out a successful long-range farm program. I'm glad I don't have either job.

Yours faithfully,
 J. A.

Today's Meditation

Read Daniel 6:10-16;
 Acts 16:25.

At midnight Paul and Silas prayed, and sang praises unto God; and the prisoners heard them. (Acts 16:25.)

Daniel was not only an able administrator, but also a man who so valued his close relationship with God that he continued to pray daily, even though it meant a death sentence. We read in the New Testament of two missionaries who found comfort in prayer after being beaten and imprisoned for their faith.

Our principal reason for praying is to keep in touch with God - to share with Him our problems, our joys. This was what Daniel was doing in his daily prayers. This was what gave him the strength to stand firm in the fact of death. The same kind of strength upheld Paul and Silas in their prison cell.

In our daily work each of us faces many problems and difficulties. These are not like the den of lions or the prison cell, but to us they are very real and serious. If we pray day by day, God will give us strength we need to meet our problems and difficulties.

PRAYER: Almighty God, we are grateful to Thee because Thou art always ready to comfort and strengthen us if we will turn to Thee in times of need. Increase our faith as we come to Thee this day in prayer. In Jesus's name we call upon Thee for Thy divine help. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
 "They never sought in vain that sought the Lord aright." - Cameron F. McRae, Physician (New York)

Says Bread Not More Fattening

San Antonio, Texas... Ideas that bread is more fattening than other basic foods are "illusion," according to Dr. Willa Vaughn Tinsley of Texas Technological College, Lubbock.

Speaking recently in San Antonio at the annual convention of the Texas Bakers Association, the dean of home economics at Texas Tech contended:

"What is needed is an aggressive, positive, direct campaign of education to dispel the illusion that bread is more fattening than other basic foods."

She told the bakers that "a calorie is a calorie is a calorie whether it comes from a gram of protein or of a cereal."

Dr. Tinsley praised the bakers for enriching bread. Enrichment is the addition of the B-vitamins of thiamine, niacin and riboflavin and of iron to white bread and flour. This year is the 20th anniversary of the program enriching bread.

Noting that there was no increase in the retail cost of bread because of enrichment, Dr. Tinsley said "something that has cost so little has brought so much in human health."

"The men in the baking industry have cause to be proud," she said. "When we speak of enrichment, we speak of a contribution your industry has brought to the world."

Dr. Tinsley said that it was rather ridiculous to argue about the merits of enriched bread, bread and whole grain breads. She explained that they are close in nutritive value and added:

"The public wants white bread. Enriching has not changed the flavor and structure of bread and that's important."

Babson Discusses Pitfalls of Buying On Credit

BARBSON DISCUSSES PITFALLS OF BUYING ON CREDIT

Babson Park, Mass., May 18. I hear that some of the college professors who are advising President Kennedy on means of increasing employment favor expanding consumer installment buying.

PRESENT EXTENT OF THE CREDIT BUSINESS

Credit comes in two forms— (1. When your wife goes to her favorite store and has her purchases "charged". The store looks up her record through the Municipal Credit Bureau, if she has no black marks against her, the goods are given her or sent to her home. When the monthly bill is sent for these goods, the store expects a payment in a short time,— thirty days later as a maximum. The stores really like to encourage such charge accounts, as your wife is likely to buy more if she can charge the goods rather than pay cash.

The other form of credit purchase is where the buyer gives a note, or several notes, payable on specified dates, with power or repossession of the goods on a certain date after reasonable notice in case a note is not paid. I do not object per se to such installment buying, especially on refrigerators, television sets, washing machines, clothes dryers, and other household appliances which can be repossessed in good condition. I, however, earnestly urge that you read the light fine print on the agreement and really understand what you are asked to sign.

HOUSES, AUTOMOBILES, AND FURNITURE

As I read the advertisements today on new homes for sale, I am astounded at the way they can be bought by veterans without any down payment, or can be bought by anyone at very small down payments and a long mortgage of thirty or more years. This is very different from when I was a young man getting married. Then we were compelled to pay one-third in cash and the mortgage would be written for only five years.

When talking to students of Babson Institute, I call to their attention the economics of birds which build their "houses" before they are "married" and raise little birds.

To young people buying furniture on the installment plan, I am not prepared now to give definite advice. The laws of different states vary as to the rights of repossession. If you are behind in the payments on a house, it is a long legal process for the mortgagee to get you out of the house, especially if you are willing to pay a reasonable rent. If you are behind in your payments for a television set or some other luxury item, and default on these payments, you must be prepared to let the store take it back before you damage it. This also applies to certain household utilities. When it comes to buying furniture on installment, a young couple should carefully consider each item purchased. One installment note and agreement should cover the bedroom furniture; another note and agreement should cover the living room furniture; and a third note and agreement could cover the dining room set. All incidents should be paid for in cash. Furthermore, the three sets of furniture should not be bought at the same time; but in the order above outlined, say at least a month apart, even if you are obliged to "camp out" for a few weeks. As I look back to my early married days, we got considerable pleasure out of gradually furnishing our little house. Surely more pleasure comes in striving than in arriving.

The Coming Traffic Deluge

Texas is about to be "snowed under" with highway traffic—and this thought is stifling any urge to celebrate, among the State's highway officials, as Texas observes National Highway Week, May 21-27.

Instead, Highway Week is occasion for apprehension rather than elation among those in the highway field. Texas has been undergoing a fantastic growth in motor vehicles and if the statistics continue the trend established in the past, the State suddenly be faced with the most terrific traffic jam in history.

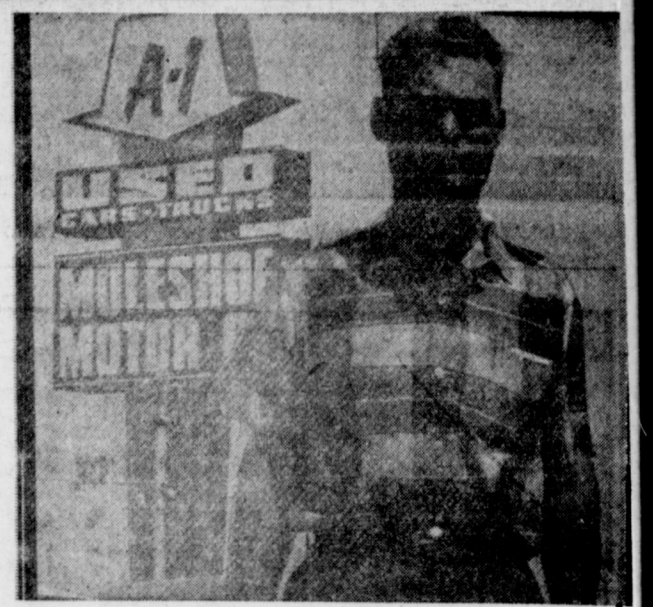

Texas reached the one million mark in motor vehicles in 1926. It took 21 years to reach the second million in 1947. During the next decade the number jumped to four million and from 1957 to date Texas added almost another million.

The statistical growth rate reveals the chilling fact that instead of needing 21 years to gain a million vehicles, expanding Texas can now Translated into population terms, if the exas pop had grown at the same rate motor vehicle growth, the would now have about 2 million people — or more twice its present population.

Under present financing Texas highway network began to keep pace with "motor vehicle explosion. More than one-third of the State maintained highway age in Texas is already of or about to become so by ern traffic standards.

This dilemma faced by way officials caused State way engineer D. C. Gre term Highway Week "not casion to brag on what we done, but to focus attention the tremendous task we face in the future."

BOB HARVEY

MULESHOE MOTOR COMPANY'S EMPLOYEE OF THE WEEK

Bob Harvey, a native of Bailey County, Texas, has served Muleshoe Motor Company a total of nine years. He is a big stick in the sales department.

Bob and his wife, Helen—another native Bailey Countians, spend most of their leisure hours caring for their daughters, Sharon 11, Shelia 10, and Debra 5. They reside at 424 Dallas St.

Bob Welcomes all his friends to visit him at either Muleshoe Motor location — Downtown at the Crossroads or at the A-1 Used Car Lot at West 12th and U. S. Highway 84.

STATISTICS WHICH SHOULD BE READ

Let me close this column by giving some statistics for bankers, merchants, and parents to read. These figures are based upon a survey by the University of Michigan. The survey showed that 68 percent of American households are in debt in one form or another. 48 percent of the families are saddled with periodic installment debt repayments; 31 per cent owe mortgage debts; 24 per cent owe on non-installment debt. According to study, 14 per cent of the families owing installment debt are "in hock" for over $1,000 double the proportion only five years ago.

The survey had one encouraging note. Namely, that about one-third of the families owing installment debt report that they have enough savings to offset their debt. For those who realize that installment buying keeps their savings in tact, I would like to point out that statistics show this is a very costly practice.

Elizabeth Taylor and Eddie Fisher, married in private life, appear together on the screen for the first time in "Butterfield 8," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer film version of John O'Hara's explosive novel. Also starred in the new Pandora S. Berman production are Laurence Harvey and Dina Merrill.

Butterfield 8 At Drive-In Sunday

"Butterfield 8," John O'Hara's daring novel of a girl who hates the things she does but cannot stop doing them, is showing at Cox Drive In in Muleshoe Sunday and Monday.

The MGM Production brings together an outstanding cast, headed by Elizabeth Taylor, Laurence Harvey, Eddie Fisher and Dina Merrill.

Miss Taylor is Gloria, living by her own twisted tangle of rules, taking love as she finds it, and with a contempt for conventional mores. Harvey plays Weston Liggett, married to Emily (Dina Merrill) a woman whom he does not love but who gives him a cloak of respectability. Fisher enacts Steve, young Greenwich Village pianist, and the only person who can buy Gloria up at her lowest moments.

They all become involved in Gloria's life, and in her stormy relationship with Liggett, she finds an outlet for her inner turmoil of hidden conflicts brought about by her traumatic experience as a child.

Prominent in support of the stars are Mildred Dunnock, Betty Field, Jeffrey Lynn, Kay Medford and Susan Oliver. A Pandora S. Berman Production, in CinemaScope and color, "Butterfield 8" was directed by Charles Schnee and John Michael Hayes. The picture was filmed in New York City and surrounding suburban areas.

"Walk Tall" Depicts The Lawless West

A rip-roaring western "Walk Tall," shows at the Moeller Theatre Sunday. The picture stars Willard Parker, Jayne Meadows, and Kent Taylor. The story explodes with excitement as the lawless west learns of the sting of law and order. The cinemaScope color picture shows how the new code of order was established in a part of our exciting west.

"Walk Tall" is a good family entertainment, a pleasant respite from the common smut being ground out by the ton these days.

CITY OF MULESHOE,

The city's delinquent tax collection program has been very successful to date with over five thousand, seven hundred dollars paid. However, there is still over fifteen thousand dollars yet to be collected.

In all fairness to those who paid their taxes when due, the city must take whatever action is necessary to arrange for collection. The city will go along with any reasonable method of payment, but arrangements should be made very soon and the taxes must be paid.

Perhaps you will notice in this issue of the paper, we are asking for bids for the 1961 street seal-coating program. Over one-fifth of Muleshoe's paved streets are involved.

The manager has recommended and the city council approved a program of sealing each paved street at least once every five years. This will help protect our investment of over one million dollars in paving.

The baseball season is upon us again and most of you know the opening ceremony of the Little League was held Monday afternoon. Quite a few Muleshoe citizens give their time to the three age groups who are involved in the baseball program.

This is what it takes to make a good community—interested citizens—people who are not only willing to advise and pay money, but also to WORK.

Your church, civic organization, Chamber of Commerce, and other groups need your help this summer to make Muleshoe the best city in Texas in which to rear our children. Won't you find just a few hours when you can roll up your sleeves and participate?

Parmes Co. Farm Bureau News

We know that dryland farmers are hoping for rain soon and we join these people in prayer for that rain. The winds we have had have made critical the condition of many wheat fields that held great promise two or three weeks ago.

KNOW YOUR INSECT ENEMY THE SALT MARSH CATERPILLAR

This hairy pest can riddle cotton foliage and your profits too. Although it resembles the woollybear caterpillar, to which it is closely related, the salt marsh caterpillar has fewer hairs on its body, and lacks the black band around it.

Pupae spend the winter hibernating inside a thin silken cocoon, heavily covered with interwoven hairs from the body of the caterpillar. They are found under trash, dead leaves and other shelter on top of the soil.

In spring, adult moths appear. Female moths are whitish with an orange body and black spots on body and wings. They lay somewhat flattened spherical pearly-white eggs in masses on cotton plants. Tiny woolly worms generally are found feeding together on the underside of leaves. Larvae are found exposed. Larvae each full size, between 1 1/2 and 2 inches, in less than a month. Reddish-brown to black hairs give them their woolly appearance.

Worst damage is done in late season. They are most abundant and serious on cotton in Arizona, New Mexico, Southern California and the Rio Grande area of Texas.

Destruction of stalks is a good practice to eliminate hibernation quarters in this pest. Recently, tests have indicated that salt marsh caterpillars in some areas are developing resistance to certain chlorinated hydrocarbons normally used against these pests.

College research has indicated that a new material, Sevin insecticide provides effective control. This material is a carbamate, chemically different from chlorinated hydrocarbons. It provides cotton growers with broad-range control of all major cotton pests as well as resistant salt marsh caterpillars.
