Murder Indictment Among Eight Returned By Grand Jury

Thefts, assault and criminal mischief cases were among those reported to law enforcement agencies in Lynn County during the last week, and a 106th District Court grand jury last Wednesday, April 26, returned eight indictments including one for murder.

Alwyn Dewayne Hatchett, 22, of Tahoka, was indicted for murder in the stabbing death Feb. 11 of Richard Donell Payne, 32, on N. 5th St. in Tahoka.

Jesus Manuel Garcia, 34, of Tahoka, was indicted on a charge of sexual assault related to an incident in Tahoka in early April. He then pleaded guilty before Judge George Hansard and was given a 10-year prison term.

Also pleading before Judge Hansard last week was Jimmy Dale DePrang, 34, of Lubbock, who was sentenced to three years in prison on charges of forgery by passing a $389 check at a Tahoka business in June 1994.

Other indictments returned by the grand jury were:

Mary Graves, 34, Tahoka, possession of a controlled substance (cocaine).

Adolpho Aragon Chavez, 30, Lubbock, driving while intoxicated, subsequent offense.

Ruth Allison, 48, Lubbock, assault.

Andres Garcia, 35, Wilson, and Esteven Garcia, 31, of Wilson, prohibited substance in a correctional facility.

Julian Montoya, 21, Lubbock, involuntary manslaughter.

Officers this week investigated a report that $250 cash had been stolen from the purse of a teacher at Wilson. Sheriff's officers also had a report that a 17-year-old O'Donnell High School student had been threatened with a knife by a 25-year-old man at the O'Donnell baseball park last Wednesday.

Deputies also arrested three O'Donnell juveniles in connection with $2800 damage to windows of businesses in that city.

Tahoka police were continuing investigation into a report that $95 cash had been stolen from a bank bag at Tahoka Dairy Queen last Thursday.

A bicycle was found in the city and taken to the police department. Anyone who can describe the bicycle may claim it at the city hall.

Shayla Brandon To Run In State Track Meet

Tahoka High School sophomore Shayla Brandon ran her best time ever in the 800 meter run in the regional track meet last week, placing second at regional and earning a chance to compete in the State Track Meet in Austin, May 12-13.

"Down the home stretch, Shayla and a girl from Hamlin ran head to head and Shayla beat her with a lean on the finish," said Coach Cindy Gardner. "It was a great race and a good experience for Shayla," added her coach.

On Friday, Shayla ran a 2:31.4 to qualify her for the regional finals, and on Saturday ran her personal best of 2:26.9 to place second. She also placed 5th in the 3200m run with a time of 12:47.14, which was 12 seconds faster than her district time. "We are always pleased when we improve!" said her coach.

The 1600m relay team composed

of Stephanie Gregory, Shayla, Katy Huffaker and Stephanie Stennett did not compete until 11:30 Friday night in the regional preliminaries. "We did not run as well as we wanted to, but we made the finals," said Coach Gardner.

On Saturday, the relay team competed well, according to the coach, and Stephanie Gregory ran her personal best time in the first leg, at 64.3. Shayla ran the second leg in 64.7. Katy ran the third leg in 65.9, and Stephanie Stennett ran the fourth leg in 65.2.

"There were three outstanding teams who were excellent - every team in the finals of this race was outstanding," said Coach Gardner. "The girls did a great job and it was an accomplishment to finish as the 7th fastest team in all of Region I 2AA," she added.

Stennett also competed in the 3200m run, placing 10th with a time of 13:49.36. "She had a good strong race and a had a really strong finish," said her coach.

I REALIZE that it was only about a year ago that I wrote something about nudists, but there was a story last week about a nudist colony near Decatur that I feel compelled to comment on, if you readers will just bare with me.

One of the officials of the place said "We are not a cult; we have no political agenda." In other words they are just folks who like to go naked. And the nudists say they have strict rules, especially against any suggestion of sexual activity.

Most of us non-nudists may have fantasies about big groups of beautiful, unclothed people, a fantasy I doubt has much basis in fact. Instead of all the women looking like Cindy Crawford and the men like Brad Pitt, most of them probably look more like Roseanne Barr and Fats Domino.

Anyway, this is a story I probably will never get to, uh, cover, since they have high fences and thick trees and guards and strict rules, especially about sex.

I understand one guy got kicked out of the colony because he was hiding in the bushes watching some woman put her clothes on.

I LIKE WHAT humorist Dave Barry says about airline safety features:

"The flight attendants demonstrate the safety features of the plane, the main one being little plastic bags that pop out of the ceiling when the plane starts to crash. You're supposed to put a bag over your mouth and breathe from it; this ensures that you will have an adequate supply of oxygen until the plane hits the ground at three or four hundred miles an hour. Another safety feature is that the seats float, so the airline can retrieve them if the plane crashes into the ocean."

Melissa Engle To Compete In National FHA Event

Tahoka Middle School eighth grader Melissa Engle last week won first place in a state FHA event and a chance to compete in a national FHA event in Washington, D.C. Another eighth grader, Rebekah Curry, also represented Tahoka well in the state meet, bringing home a second place award.

Melissa, daughter of Mike and Stacy Engle, won first place in Job Interview in the junior division at the Future Homemakers of America State Leadership Conference in Fort Worth. Representatives from the Tahoka FHA and the Madeline Hegi FHA chapters attended the state conference along with 4700 members and advisors from Texas.

"Rockin' Through the Years with FHA/HERO" was the theme of the 1995 meeting which was held in the Tarrant County Convention Center in Fort Worth, April 28-29.

Attending from Tahoka Middle/High School were Lynette Trevino, Blanda Miller, Kerri Bryan, Kalie Krey, Melanie Bernal, Kassidi Andrews, Rebekah Curry, Melissa Engle and advisors, Donna Stone and Patti Rambo. Members were challenged to reflect on the past and celebrate goals accomplished during 50 years of FHA through programs and projects which develop critical thinking skills, family communication skills, practical knowledge and vocational preparation.

Blanda Miller, Region I President, 1994-95, and Kerri Bryan, Region I Vice-President, 1994-95, presented workshops entitled "FHA/HERO: Is It For You?". Members learned more about the organization and enjoyed a style show relating the changes in FHA over the last 50 years.

Over 600 members participated in STAR (Students Taking Action for Recognition) Event competition. Lynette Trevino, senior at Tahoka High School and daughter of Luis and Letitia Trevino, participated in Job Interview, senior division. Melissa won first place in Job Interview in the junior division. In this individual event, she used home economics skills to develop a portfolio, participate in an interview and communicate a personal understanding of job requirements and the ability to perform them. She will compete at the National FHA Leadership Conference in Washington, D.C. Donna Stone, her advisor, will accompany her.

Rebekah Curry, an eighth grader at Tahoka Middle School and daughter of Zane and Danna Curry, participated in the Illustrated Talk event, junior division, placing second in the state event. Illustrated Talk is an individual event that recognizes participants for ability to make a presentation about life issues concerning home economics. Rebekah's topic was "Child Abuse: Everyone's Problem".

Kalie Krey, eighth grade daughter of John and Cheryl Krey; Melanie Bernal, 8th grade daughter of Paul and Louisa Bernal; and Kassidi Andrews, 7th grade daughter of Karen Huffaker; all participated as a team in the Focus on the Children, junior division STAR event. This team event recognizes participants who plan and conduct a child development project that has a positive impact on children. These FHA members conducted bicycle clinics for grades 1-6 which educated children on the importance of bicycle safety.

"Inspirational, dynamic keynote speakers, Lee Wilson and Susie Luchsinger were highlights during the two day conference," said one local sponsor. Interest sessions concerning teen issues, like AIDs awareness, fetal alcohol syndrome, peer pressure, families in crisis and many more topics, were held for members to attend.

The business of the Texas FHA Association was conducted during the House of Delegates session on Friday. Concluding the session, members were led into the street by drums played by a group of Fort Worth Shriners. FHA members danced in the street of downtown Fort Worth in honor of the 50th anniversary of FHA.

May Designated Older Americans, Texans Month

Older Americans Month, designated by President Clinton for observance in May, has returned to its roots for the theme of its 32nd annual celebration.

When President John F. Kennedy proclaimed the first Senior Citizens Month in 1963 (President Carter changed the name to Older Americans Month in 1980), he called seniors "a great national resource of skills, wisdom and experience upon which much of our nation's progress has been built." In memory of Kennedy's words, the U.S. Administration on Aging has made "Aging: Generations of Experience" the theme of the 1995 celebration.

The Texas Department of Aging has also declared May Older Texans Month in support of the national recognition. Older Americans Month, as announced this year by President Bill Clinton and U.S. Assistant Secretary for Aging Fernando Torres-Gil, has four main goals:

- Recognizing the vast degree to which the life and work experience of older Americans contributes to a better life for their families, communities and nation.

- Saluting the efforts of the agencies, organizations and individuals who work on behalf of older people.

- Honoring the participants in the May 2-5 national White House Conference on Aging, a once-a-decade grassroots conference in which citizens meet to write proposals for new ways in which the elderly can contribute to society, and in which the lives of older people and their families can be improved.

- Marking historic milestones to be observed this year, including the 60th anniversary of the Social Security Act; the 30th anniversaries of the Older Americans Act, Medicare, Medicaid and the Foster Grandparent Program; and the fifth anniversary of the Americans with Disabilities Act.

In many areas of the state, communities and area agencies on aging (regional affiliates of the Texas Department on Aging which coordinate delivery of services such as home-delivered meals, group meals, senior centers, volunteer activity and transportation) are sponsoring or participating in traditional yearly programs to mark Older Americans Month and Older Texans Month.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

This letter is concerning the choice of our girls little dribblers all-stars. I admit that some of the girls chosen deserve to be all-stars, but some seem to have been chosen due to politics. There are several girls that did not make the all-stars, even though they are more talented than some of the ones chosen. The choosing of the girls all-star team may not seem like a big thing for the grown-ups, but it has a great impact on the girls that worked their hearts out and tried their best. This game has gone too far, when it comes to the parents influencing the choice of the all-stars. This particular event reminds me of an article I read in the Avalanche-Journal dated, April 23, 1995. It goes something like this.

"Back in the 1970s, I had a son who played Little Dribblers at Levelland. This was his first year, and he was a very good player. His team came in first. They had one all-star, and the second-place team had four all-stars. That's really an accomplishment: one little guy beating all the other teams by himself.

"His coach wasn't able to make the meeting, and he was very upset because of the outcome. The coach wrote this great note telling him that we knew who the real all-star was, but the fire had gone out and he never played with the same enthusiasm again.

"Things didn't improve, and in time, got only worse. Now I have grandchildren caught up in the same politics. If only the men who settle this could go home with the little ones that didn't make it. What would you tell your son? 'Sorry, kid, good isn't good enough.'

"One thing to remember: You can always be an all-star, but someday someone will beat you, and you can't always change the rules to fit your purpose.

"As one woman put it: This game is for the rich and who you know. So her son won't be back. He's a great player and loves the game.

"Don't ever say this game is for the boys. They get out there and play their hearts out, and then the big guy takes over and makes it a war because the little guy refuses to act just like them. The all-star awards are for the men, not the boys.

"They all are all-star because they act more grown up than their parents until they are shown the grown-up way.

"This is why so many towns don't have Little Dribblers any more. The little boys and girls are the ones who suffer. All the kids are all-stars."

THS Baseball Team Leading District

With a 5-1 district record, the Tahoka High School baseball team leads the district with only two games left to play. The Bulldogs took the lead with a 6-5 win over Idalou this week, knocking Idalou back to second place with a 4-2 record.

The Bulldogs will play here Monday at 5 p.m. against Ralls, and their last game is at Post at 5 p.m. Friday, May 12.

Three Bulldogs, Matt Garcia, Edward Ramirez and Monty Hale, hit homeruns in the win over Idalou. Garcia pitched eight complete innings and struck out 13, improving his record 2-2 for the year and 2-1 in district.

According to Coach Cory Barnes, the Bulldogs scored three runs in the first inning, and Idalou came back with three runs in the third inning. The Bulldogs added one run in the third, and one again in the fifth inning to gain the lead, but Idalou tied it up again with a two-run homer in the seventh.

"Monty hit the game-winning homerun in the eighth inning to make the score 6-5, and Matt struck out all of the last three batters in the last inning," said Coach Barnes.

May 12 Designated As CFIDS/ME Awareness Day

For the third consecutive year, May 12 has been designated International CFIDS/ME Awareness Day.

Chronic Fatigue and Immune Dysfunction Syndrome (CFIDS)/Myalgic Encephalomyelitis (ME) is a severe and disabling illness characterized by overwhelming fatigue, cognitive problems, and numerous other symptoms that can last for months, years, or decades.

In order to shed light on this growing health threat, May 12 has been designated as International CFIDS/ME Awareness Day. Victims of the illness and the people who care about them are urged to contact government officials in their county on May 12 to express their concern about the devastation that is CFIDS/ME.

The May 12 date was chosen to memorialize the birthdate of Florence Nightingale, the English army nurse who inspired the founding of the International Red Cross. Nightingale contracted a paralyzing, CFIDS/ME-like illness in her mid thirties and spent the last 50 years of her life virtually bedridden.

Despite her illness, Nightingale managed to found the first ever School of Nursing. It is fitting that the "Lady with the Lamp" now shines a ray of inspiration and hope to victims of CFIDS/ME in the late 20th century.

Research suggests that CFIDS results from a dysfunction of the immune system. The exact nature of this dysfunction is not yet well defined, but it can generally be viewed as an up-regulated or overactive state (which is responsible for many of the symptoms).

Ironically, there is also evidence of some immune suppression in CFIDS; patients exhibit certain down-regulated signs. For example, in many patients there are functional deficiencies in natural killer cells (an important component of the immune system responsible for fighting viruses).

For more information about CFIDS/ME call the CFIDS Association of America, Inc., at 1-800-442-3437.

Ramirez Competes At Regional Track

Edward Ramirez jumped a personal best of 21'3" in the long jump competition at the Regional Track Meet in Abilene, April 28-29, but the Tahoka High School athlete did not place in the meet.

Ramirez is the only member of the Bulldog varsity boys track team who advanced from district competition.

"I am very proud of our tracksters," said Coach Jimmy Burleson.

Voters are reminded to bring their VOTER REGISTRATION CARD when they vote in the May 6 election.

OHS Wins Sweepstakes

After winning the district academic trophy and scoring well in track, O'Donnell won the District 2-1A spring meet all around championship, edging Plains by 10 points.

The spring all-around title is determined on a point system from the schools' performance in academics, track, golf, and tennis.

O'Donnell does not have a golf team and failed to score any points in the tennis competition, but the Eagles won the academic title and tied with Plains for tip points in track.

Almost 90 of O'Donnell's 118 students participated at some level in the events which determine the overall title.

"We're just very fortunate to have some good kids to work with," said Glenn Hopkins, OHS Principal.

Hopkins believes it has been about 10 years since O'Donnell won the overall trophy.

The Wilson News

by Buster Abbe • 628-6368

Saturday is election day and all registered voters are urged to vote in the Wilson City Council, Wilson ISD School Board and Lynn County Hospital Board elections.

The polls will be open from 7 a.m. - 7 p.m. at the Wilson Mercantile.

The Wilson Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the annual clean up day for the city of Wilson. There will be large dumpsters downtown by the water tower to collect the throw-away items that are too large for the dumpsters in the alleys. There will also be an individual available who will carry off large appliances such as washers, dryers, and refrigerators. The same person will also pick up old cars from your residence if you will go downtown and give him directions to your residence and a description of the vehicle to be picked up.

The fourth annual Neighborhood House Spring Fling will be Friday, May 5 at the Caprock Winery Barrel room. The event will be from 5:30-8 p.m. and will be a come and go event. Tickets are $10 each.

This event is a fundraiser for the emergency assistance program at neighborhood house.

Wines provided by Caprock winery as well as cheese and non-alcoholic punch will be served.

Live entertainment will be presented by local performers such as Cary Banks, Kenny Maines, Andy Wilkinson and others.

The Wilson Lions Club will meet Thursday at 7 p.m. in the cafeteria. The program chairman has indicated that the program will be a real "shocker" and all club members are urged to attend.

Wilson High School band will travel to Amarillo May 5 for a band contest and meet. Mr. Lopez has scheduling information.

Wilson's ag team participated in the district meet at Texas Tech last weekend and the ag-mechanics team placed 2nd. The horse team placed 4th and the dairy cattle team placed 5th. The next event for this group will be the state meet at Texas Tech later this month.

The annual Wilson FFA banquet is Monday, May 15. More information next week.

Wilson athletic coaches have scheduled junior high and high school athletic physicals for Monday, May 8. For complete information as to travel times and locations, contact one of the coaches.

TAAS tests for students in grades 3rd-8th will be given May 9-12. The Texas Assessment of Academic Skills Tests is given annually to various grade levels to determine the students' mastery of several academic areas such as reading, math, social studies, and science. The tests are untimed so students may carefully consider their answers.

Students taking the exams are urged to get a good night's rest and a good breakfast on the exam days.

Last year the Wilson schools participated in the Cinco de Mayo celebration with many activities that day. However, this year, the band and thus a large portion of high school students will be in Amarillo for a band contest. The Elementary school invites visitors to attend their Mexican lunch at 11:15 a.m. or 11:45

Your HEALTH TIP

AHA Endorses Aspirin

The American Heart Association recently gave the regular use of aspirin to help prevent repeated heart attacks their strongest endorsement yet. Aspirin both prevents first attacks by up to 44% and also helps reduce the likelihood that they happen a second time by 20-40%. Most of the benefits the research found occurred in middle-aged and older men. In general, people should not start taking aspirin without consulting their doctor.

'Blue Thumb' Actions Urged For Water

by BRYAN REYNOLDS
CEA Lynn County

"Because water flows so easily through our lives, we tend to take it for granted. We leave its care to others," said John Daniel, chair of the National Drinking Water Alliance. "Every one of us has the opportunity to take positive actions for water every day to curb pollution and save water for future generations."

The Alliance, which sponsors National Drinking Water Week, May 7-13, recommends three basic principles to guide water-positive actions: conserve water, protect it, and become involved in local decisions that affect water sources and water quality.

"There are hundreds of ways communities and individuals can use water more efficiently and decrease pollution," says Daniel. "And especially during National Drinking Water Week we make information available on a variety of positive water behaviors which we call 'Blue Thumb' actions. We also encourage people to spread the word about these practices and multiply their individual effects on water," he adds.

To put principles into action, the group urges a series of specific behaviors. Water lawns and gardens only in the morning and only as needed. In dry area, incorporate native plants, which are adapted to natural conditions, to cut down on the need for water. Minimize the use of lawn fertilizers and weed and pest killers. During a rainstorm or irrigation, they can wash into water bodies, causing pollution and excessive nutrient loading. The Alliance not only recommends cutting their use to an absolute minimum, it suggests reading labels carefully and disposing of unused portions at special collection centers.

Many routine household activities contribute to water pollution. Even batteries contain toxic materials, mercury and cadmium. If put into the trash, they can find their way into landfills. There batteries corrode and release heavy metals, which wash into surface waters or leak into ground water and pollute it.

Warning signs associated with stroke are:

- sudden weakness or numbness of the face, arm, or leg localized on one side of the body;
- sudden dimness or loss of vision, partially in one eye;
- loss of speech or trouble talking or understanding speech;
- sudden, severe headache with no apparent cause;
- unexplained dizziness, unsteadiness or sudden falls especially when combined with any of the warning signs.

Huffaker Named To Boll Weevil Eradication Board

Wayne Huffaker of Tahoka was named as a director of the Texas Boll Weevil Eradication Foundation board after cotton growers in this area approved a referendum establishing a boll weevil eradication zone which includes Lynn County and 29 other West Texas counties.

Woody Anderson of Colorado City, chairman of the Texas Boll Weevil Eradication Foundation, Inc., said a majority of growers voted to establish the High Plains Zone. There were 7,861 votes for the establishment of the zone and 1,887 votes against, an approval rate of 80 per cent. Growers also voted 7,464 to 2,199 for a per-acre, per-year assessment to pay for the program.

"This program benefits cotton growers in the High Plains and throughout the state," said Anderson. "We are looking forward to working with producers from the High Plains zone and ensuring the cotton boll weevil is eliminated."

Huffaker was chosen to the foundation board as the representative of this area's farmers. He had been serving as interim director and will continue in his position as secretary on the board.

The ballots were counted at foundation headquarters in Abilene April 24-25 and the votes are expected to be certified by the Texas commissioner of Agriculture.

Frank Myers, executive director of the foundation, said boll weevils infest about 3.5 million acres of cotton in Texas.

This is the fifth of nine zones in Texas to pass the referendums.
