

OOOOHHH!
Area residents watched the night skies on the outskirts of Tahoka Monday and Tuesday as fireworks lit the darkness for brief seconds at a time.

Although there was no organized July 4th celebration in Tahoka, area families made their own fun with fireworks, hot dogs and ice cream on the traditional holiday.

Out of the Woods

The wayward thoughts of Juanell (Wood) Jones

The class beauty was still the class beauty, the class clown was still a goof-ball, and the class leaders were still taking over the activities - the only difference was 20 years of living etched on the faces of my classmates at our 20th high school reunion last weekend. As for myself, I couldn't possibly look as old as the rest of that bunch.

When I walked into the room, everyone stopped and stared. No, no, that's not what happened. Let me start over ...

When I walked into the room, I gazed around, grabbed my husband and said, "I think we're in the wrong room - who are all these people?" But I recognized a few, and introduced myself to some others (who may have been complete strangers, for all I knew) and enjoyed visiting with these people, most of whom I haven't seen or heard from in 20 years.

There were a few who looked, quite literally, only a year older than the last time I saw them in 1975. They were voted "Least Changed From The Way We Were". I don't know why I didn't win that award - the only change that's really obvious is that I have shorter hair ... two more chins ... and a couple of extra pounds (per square inch).

But I did win something even better - a new set of tires! Yes! I (notorious for never winning diddly squat) won the one and only prize giveaway, which happened to be a new set of tires! So they can just keep their "Way We Were" prize ribbons - I'm going to drive around on my new tires.

I really did enjoy visiting with these old friends, and guessing which cute kid belonged to which classmate, the youngest of which was 3 months old (the child, not the classmate) and the oldest of which was (and this really threw us, because we didn't know it at the time) 22 years old. Bear in mind this was our 20th year reunion. Yes. Well. We gave the award of "Classmate With the Oldest Child" to him without asking for any detailed explanations. He also won the "Grandparent" award, sheepishly admitting he had two grandchildren. Man! Some people have been really busy!

They didn't give any really good awards, like "Person Making The Most Money" which I would like to know, but would have been at about the end of the line for contemplation; or an award for "How In The World Did They End Up With That Fabulous Spouse?" or "You're Doing WHAT For A Living?!" These are questions which everyone wants to know, but no one is willing to discuss.

One question they did ask, which received absolutely no response whatsoever, was "Who did you have a secret crush on in high school that no one ever knew about?" This leads me to believe several options: (1) nobody had any secret crushes; (2) they had a secret crush, but that person was there and still looked really great, and they didn't want their wife or husband to know about it; (3) they had a secret crush, but that person was there and looked so old they didn't want ANYBODY to know about it; or (4) it was so long ago, we can't remember. Personally, I opted for number 4.

Of course, every female there brought their cameras. Guys don't do that, do they? Why is that? If there were no wives, there would be no pictorial references to any type of worthwhile history, such as class reunions. Come to think of it, if our high school history books had shown pictures of class reunions instead of Washington crossing the Delaware, I probably would have paid a lot more attention to it.

Anyway, the reunion was fun. I would highly recommend class reunions to anyone wanting a dose of fellowship, fun, confusion, embarrassing moments (don't introduce yourself to the waiter, dummy, he wasn't in our class!) and nostalgia. Go Tigers!

Mass Casualty Training Slated At Tornado Drill Here July 29

Have you ever wondered how emergency personnel would coordinate their efforts if a massive tornado struck Tahoka and the surrounding area? How would they deal with the destruction, life-threatening injuries, fires, and other unforeseen trauma?

On July 29, they'll find out. A re-enactment of the results of a massive tornado will be conducted in Tahoka sometime that Saturday, and local and area emergency personnel will participate in the mass casualty training. "Victims" will be strategically placed for the training, as search and rescue teams are deployed throughout the area, and a command center post will issue directives in dealing with the resulting fires, wrecks, destruction of property and injuries, all staged for the training.

South Plains EMS is coordinating efforts with EMS units in Lynn County, Lubbock County, O'Donnell, Post and Ropesville, as well as Lynn County Hospital, Lynn County Sheriff's Department, Tahoka Police Department, Aerocare Helicopter, and volunteer fire departments from Tahoka, Wilson, O'Donnell, New Home, Post, Ropesville, and possibly Lubbock.

According to a representative of the Lynn County EMS, the training is a joint effort to aid emergency personnel in being prepared for such occurrences, and in working together with other emergency units.

"Planning sessions have already begun for this unique tornado drill, and we are anticipating a large turnout for the training," said a local volunteer fireman.

This will be the first time such a large training event will be staged in Tahoka, and may be the beginning of an annual event here, according to one sponsor.

Burglaries, Accidents Reported

A burglary in Tahoka and an attempted burglary in O'Donnell were among incidents investigated by officers during the last week, and Dept. of Public Safety patrolmen were called to two traffic accidents on U.S. 87 north of Tahoka.

A 1994 Volkswagen driven by Charles Neil Christian Jr., 27, of Lubbock, overturned Wednesday morning 6.5 miles north of Tahoka on U.S. 87. The driver suffered only minor injuries.

Last Friday a 1989 Nissan pickup driven by Ismael Garcia, 20, of Lamesa, rolled over 9.6 miles north of Tahoka, also causing minor injuries to the driver and a passenger.

In addition to numerous calls about firecrackers bothering residents in the city over the weekend and on July 3-4, Tahoka police investigated a burglary of a shop at the residence of David Lee Hale of Tahoka, who advised that on Saturday someone entered the shop and took hand tools valued at $330, including a drill, saber saw, router and belt sander.

Lynn County Sheriff's Dept. investigated an attempted burglary of the residence of Simon Resendez Jr. of O'Donnell Saturday. There was damage to window screens, but no items were missing.

In jail during the week were two persons for driving while intoxicated (DWI) first offense, one for DWI third or more, two for public intoxication, one for speeding and expired registration (for Gaines County) and one for no seatbelt or liability insurance.

DPS Accepting Applications For Recruit Training School

The Texas Department of Public Safety is accepting applications for recruit training schools that will begin in October of this year and February 1996.

"I encourage any person who meets our initial screening criteria and who is interested in a career in law enforcement to consider joining what many say is one of the premier law enforcement agencies in the country," DPS Director Col. James R. Wilson said.

In order to apply, applicants must be at least 20 years of age (there is not a maximum age), have a minimum of 60 semester hours of college (for some educational requirements, prior law enforcement or military service can be substituted), be a U.S. citizen, pass a written examination, meet certain physical fitness standards and be willing to accept assignment anywhere in Texas.

Formally known as an All Field Service Recruit Training School, graduates of the 26-week course will fill existing and anticipated vacancies in the DPS's Traffic Law Enforcement Division. After gaining experience in entry-level law enforcement positions in TLE, troopers can promote within TLE or to various positions in the Criminal Law Enforcement or Texas Ranger Divisions.

Trainees stay in the DPS Training Academy dormitory in Austin during the school. Salary during the training session is $1,721 per month. Following graduation, probationary troopers are paid $1,983 per month.

The deadline for out-of-state applications is July 26; in-state applications will be accepted until Aug. 25.

For full information about application requirements, interested persons can call regional recruiters at DPS offices including Lubbock, 806-747-4491. Applications are available at all DPS offices.

Preparation Urged For Summer Driving

Trooper Baiza, Public Information Officer for the Texas Department of Public Safety advises that summer driving too often combines hot weather, hot cars, and hot tempers. Pre-trip planning can help minimize these dangerous symptoms of summer driving.

Pre-trip planning includes vehicle preparation. Check the belts, hoses, and coolant fluid. Other fluids to check are motor oil, transmission oil, brake fluid, power steering fluid and windshield washer fluid. Also check the wiper blades. With summer often being dry and dusty, be sure to check the air, oil, and fuel filters to preserve engine life. Also, check the tires for correct and even air pressure, along with checking treadwear and sidewall cracking.

Lengthy trips should begin with route planning. A call to the nearby DOT or law enforcement agency may help avoid construction area delays. Let a neighbor, friend, or family member (not one travelling with you) know the determined routes and scheduling. Part of the scheduling may include driving during cooler hours and resting your car and yourself during peak hours of heat.

"Prepare yourself," said Baiza. "Take proper clothing should you be exposed to extended heat and use quality sunglasses. Most of all, have a safe travel attitude before you even grasp the car keys. This safe travel attitude - being alert, courteous and wary - is your key to safe summer traveling."

The District has been sued in Federal Court by plaintiffs seeking a declaratory judgment that the existing at-large scheme of electing board of trustees of the district violate the plaintiffs' civil rights. CANADA probably is a good place to take a vacation, especially in the summer, when it should be cooler than any of Lynn County's vacation spots.

I say "probably" because I really haven't been in Canada long enough, or far enough, to qualify as any kind of authority on the country.

We did go there this year, though, and one thing I can say knowledgeably is this: If you go to Canada, don't do the dumb thing I did.

The dumb thing I did was not realize that American money is worth more than Canadian money; in fact, I had the vague notion that it was the other way around. I may have been confused because Canada is kin to Great Britain, and the English pound is worth more than the U.S. dollar.

Anyway, we went into Canada about 15 miles or so and stayed one night on the Canadian side of the Niagara Falls, where a bunch of water goes all over the place, reminding me of the last time I tried to fix the bathroom plumbing.

Four of us ate a pretty good meal at a spot near the hotel, and the waitress laid down the tab on a little plastic gismo; then ran off and hid in the kitchen.

The tab said we owed $42. This still was less than I had been paying for most meals on the trip (including Washington, DC and the Boston area), so I figured awhile and finally decided that six more dollars would be a 15 per cent tip. (One of my daughters told me several years ago that I should always tip 15 per cent, even when the service is lousy, or I would be forever labelled a loutish cheapskate and my picture would be circulated and prominently displayed in all restaurants in 50 states).

I had the right change, so I laid down the $48 while the waitress remained scarce ("Grandpa, why is our waitress watching us through that rubber plant up there?") and we left the building.

A block or so away we went into a souvenir shop where all prices were in dollars and cents, when I was struck by a bad thought. So I asked the girl there if those prices were in American dollars or Canadian dollars. Canadian, she said, explaining that most stores took off 20 to 30 per cent if you pay in U.S. dollars.

So our meal actually should have cost about $31, and the tip should have been about $4.75, which means we left that waitress a tip of about $17.

I'm sure she gets a lot of big tips from stupid Americans.

NEWS FROM YOUR Better Business Bureau

You receive a post card in the mail telling you that you will be awarded $7500 or $25000. You are supposed to call at 900 number to find out how to get your prize. The BBB advises caution! You will not be awarded the total amount on the card - in fact, most consumers are awarded a small amount - usually less than the cost of the 900 call you are supposed to make to find out how to get your award. It is a scheme that is being perpetrated here in the South Plains by several different out-of-state companies. The mailing looks official and if you read the fine print, it states you may be awarded a portion of the stated amount on the card. Just remember, it is against the law to require you to pay money to receive a prize. If you receive such a card or mailing, give your Better Business Bureau a call at 763-0459 or long distance at 800-687-7890 and investigate before you invest.

Ordering prescription drugs through foreign mail-order houses is not only illegal, but can also be dangerous to your health. Before you place such an order, the BBB suggests that you know the facts. Consumers should beware of prescription mail-order houses which advertise U.S. patented prescription drug products in popular American magazines. According to the ads, American consumers can use a credit card to order medications by a toll-free phone call, often at greatly reduced prices and apparently without a doctor's prescription. The fact is that promotion and distribution of unapproved drug products in the U.S. is illegal. In many cases, these drugs are counterfeits - lacking any real similarity to the approved drug. The Food and Drug Administration warns that severe adverse reactions, including death, can result from the improper use of prescription drugs.

Summer vacation season is here. If you do not have the time or inclination to plot a destination, book hotels and play tour guide for the family, you may consider buying a travel package. A travel package is a pre-arranged vacation assembled by an independent tour operator and sold through travel agents. It is important to shop wisely and read the fine print in advertisements and brochures. Make sure you understand the terms and conditions which apply to your booking, especially the sections on refunds and cancellation penalties. These terms should be in writing. Talk to your travel agent to find out if they have ever used the tour operator before and if other clients were satisfied. Get a reliability report from your Better Business Bureau by calling 763-0459 or long distance at 800-687-7890 and ask for a free pamphlet called Tips on Travel Packages.

Every year, millions of dollars' worth of high-quality, fairly priced office supplies are sold over the telephone by honest, reputable suppliers. Unfortunately, millions of dollars are also conned out of businesses each year by office supply schemers and "paper pirates" or "toner-phoners." Even when the victim is aware of the swindle, in many cases there is no legal recourse. While their schemes might be highly unethical, the perpetrators usually devise them in a manner that is totally legal. Don't be victimized. Never buy from a new supplier by telephone or mail until you have checked them out; don't accept COD shipments; insist on sending written purchase orders; designate one person in the company for ordering, receiving and paying; alert all your co-workers to the office supply racket; and watch out for cold calls verifying names or kind of equipment. Call the BBB at 763-0459 or long distance at 800-687-7890.

Local Students Attend FB Citizenship Seminar

Abby Wells, Keri Wied and Robin Martin attended the Texas Farm Bureau's 33rd annual Citizenship Seminar in San Angelo June 19-23.

Sponsored by the Lynn County Farm Bureau, they were among approximately 400 high school junior and senior students from over 150 counties across the state.

The purpose of the seminar is to provide the students with a better understanding of their American heritage and the capitalistic free enterprise system, according to Keith Wied, president of Lynn County FB.

Speakers at this year's seminar and their subjects included Jack Jackson of Fort Worth, president of Jack Jackson & Associates, "Price of Free Enterprise" and Free Enterprise Principles/Projects"; Texas Farm Bureau President Bob Stallman of Columbus, "Farm Bureau- Your Host"; and

Miss Texas Farm Bureau, Jennifer Johnson, "Farm Bureau Youth Activities."

There was also a special presentation by Kurt Swanda from Fort Worth. The students were welcomed to the seminar by Dr. James Hindman, president of Angelo State University.

The following excerpts were taken from past issues of The Lynn County News.

110-Section T-Bar Ranch Is Leased To San Angelo Men Historic Old Ranch Is In New Hands

Active management of the T-Bar ranch, oldest ranch on the South Plains, has passed into new hands as the result of a lease signed recently between C.O. Edwards and son, Crawford Edwards, to San Angelo men. The lease is for ten years with option on the part of lessees for a five year extension. Involved are 110 sections, all in grass but 3,000 acres of cultivated land. Also included are about 3,000 head of cattle. Other cattle will be sold on the market, it is said.

Holders of the lease are prominent Tom Green county ranchmen, J.Q. (Johnnie) Adams and Wayne Chandler. John Chandler, brother of Wayne, and his wife has already moved to the ranch, of which he will be foreman. Mr. Adams expects to move to Tahoka as soon as he can find a house. D. Sanders, foreman for the Edwards interests, will be retained by the new management.

Chandler and Adams are owners of large ranches at Van Horn and in Tom Green county, raising sheep and goats principally. A carload of sheep wire was unloaded here this week, and it is reported that the T-Bar will gradually be converted into a combination cattle and sheep ranch.

The lease is dated January 1, 1940, though the men have just recently taken charge, and cattle will be delivered to their possession on July 1.

Established in 1883, the T-Bar is the oldest ranch still in existence located entirely on the Plains. Also, it claims the distinction of having been under the same management longer than any other ranch, 56 years.

The 1883, Frank and Will Porter drove out from Jack County a small herd of longhorns, and established a dugout headquarters at Double Lakes spring. There were no fences, the Indians and the buffalo had been gone only a few years, and the T. & P. railroad was just building into West Texas.

That winter or next spring, Cass O. Edwards, who had been ranching in Crosby county, bought out the Porter boys and established the T-Bar. He later secured aid of Fort Worth financiers and formed the Tahoka Cattle Company in order to expand, but back in the 'teens he became sole owner, with his son.

During the early days, the ranch was open-range, a free grazing proposition. Later, the owners of the cattle herd were forced to lease but in the latter part of the last century Mr. Edwards began buying up and filing on the land which he grazed. Except for a large block of land northwest of town and a few scattered sections, all sold to farmers, the ranch remains intact as it has been for 56 years.

Until only a few years ago, Mr. Edwards has taken an active hand in the annual round-ups on the ranch, but for the past two years he has been unable to look after business of the ranch. He is now 90 years of age. His son, Crawford, is likewise in very poor health and has spent the past several months in a hospital, and, no doubt, these circumstances have led to leasing-out the ranch.

Passing of the Edwards management in the ranch brings a pang of regret in the hearts of many Tahoka citizens, especially old-timers, for the Edwards' name has long been associated with the town and county, though they have spent most of their time at their Fort Worth home.

The new operators are up-to-date ranchmen and are already taking steps to improve the T-Bar range.

Food Stamps To Be Replaced By Lone Star Cards In Lynn County

Food stamps will go out of business in Lynn County on Aug. 1, according to State Comptroller John Sharp. "Lynn County is included in the largest expansion of the Lone Star card in Texas, and with this roll-out, the Texas attack on bureaucratic bloat and welfare fraud moves into high gear," he said.

"In just four weeks, food stamps will virtually disappear from another 90 Texas counties, in the San Antonio, El Paso, Lubbock, Amarillo, Victoria and Beaumont-Port Arthur areas, along with portions of East Texas," Sharp said. "And retailers who prepare early should be ready to accept the card without a hitch."

The Lone Star card is the cornerstone of Sharp's wide-ranging welfare reform plan, which was approved by the Texas Legislature and recently signed into law by Governor George W. Bush. The card was first proposed in 1991 by Sharp, who created a task force to oversee its development.

The August 1 implementation will affect 300,000 families and 4,000 retail grocery locations in 90 counties.

"This security card will hold accountable both the bureaucrats and the people who depend on temporary public assistance," Sharp said. "It will save tax dollars, reduce fraud and boost grocery sales."

"That's why I urge all retailers that accept food stamps who haven't yet signed up for the Lone Star card to do so immediately so they don't lose business or leave their customers hanging."

Sharp said that retailers who accept the Lone Star card reported an immediate increase in food sales after the program was first implemented in February in the Houston area.

"Between February and March, food sales rose by $4.5 million, because benefits can be spent on food and food alone, not on crack cocaine or other illegal activities in the food stamp black market," Sharp said.

"Since June 1, when the program expanded throughout the Dallas-Fort Worth Metroplex and along the Gulf Coast, the Lone Star card had been working so smoothly that retailers have rung up food stamps sales totaling nearly $65 million," Sharp said.

"But these benefits will bypass retailers who don't soon take steps to accept the card," Sharp said. "Because of the vast geographical logistics of this expansion, it is critical that retailers make arrangements now to install the necessary equipment."

Slightly more than 50 percent of the 4,000 retailers in this 90-county area have already signed agreements to provide food stamps and Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) payments with the Lone Star card.

"We need the remainder of the retailers in these areas to contact Transactive Corporation, the Austin-based operator of the Lone Star card and make arrangements to come on-line by August 1. They can contact the company toll-free at 1-800-418-8000," Sharp said.

The Lone Star card is the largest electronic benefits transfer program in the country and is administered by the Texas Department of Human Services. It is scheduled to expand statewide by early 1996.

"This card will trim the national costs of the old food stamp system by $45.4 million for printing, $4.5 million for shipping and storing, and $23.1 million for the final processing and destruction of the paper coupons at the Federal Reserve," Sharp said.

"By the end of the year, we will have abolished paper food stamp coupons in Texas," Sharp said. "We are returning the program to its original purpose - feeding hungry children, not feeding a bureaucracy and a black market of fraud."

DPS Selecting Certified Handgun Instructors

Texas Department of Safety began the application process for the certified handgun instructor course June 22. The course is required under the new concealed handgun law for those who want to teach the DPS-authorized handgun proficiency course to the general public.

Those interested in becoming certified instructors may call the DPS at 512-706-7293 or 512-706-7294 after June 22. Callers should be prepared to provide preliminary information, and applications will be mailed to those who qualify.

The first class for certified handgun instructors is scheduled to begin July 17 at the DPS Training Academy in Austin. The DPS plans to train about 60 students per class.

"The Department will continue the certified handgun instructor course on a weekly basis until all interested applicants are trained," DPS Director Col. James R. Wilson announced.

The registration cost for the instructor course is $100. The fee will not be refundable to those who do not complete the course. All applicants will be responsible for their own lodging and meals.

Individuals not currently certified to each other types of handgun courses will undergo 40 hours of instruction. A 28-hour course will be required for those who are defined by law as "currently certified instructors." The DPS will determine whether applicants qualify for the abbreviated training based on current certification and the ability to pass a firing range test.

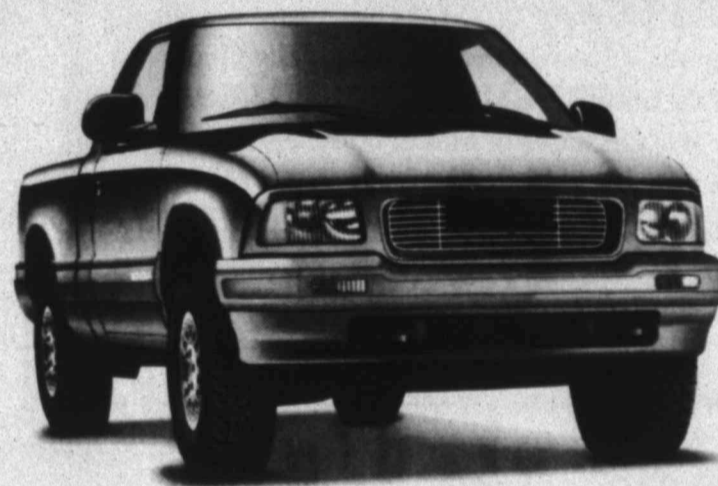

Applications will be grouped into six geographical regions. The population percentage of each region will determine how many students from that region will be taught in each class. Therefore, applicants will be accepted for training on a first-come basis taking their geographical locations into consideration.

"Instructors will not be authorized to instruct the general public in the proficiency certification course until Sept. 1, 1995," said Wilson.

Applications will not be accepted from the general public for licenses to carry concealed handguns until Sept. 1. Those application forms will be available in late August at locations to be announced.

While the application period for concealed handgun licenses begins Sept. 1, no licenses will be valid before Jan. 1, 1996, when the law becomes fully effective.

WHO ARE THESE SWEET LITTLE FACES? This photo was found in the Lynn County News box of pictures dating back to the early 70's and late 60's, and no one has been able to identify these children who are portraying angels and manger animals in this Christmas play. If you can tell us, or if you would like this or any of the photos in our picture box, come by the News Office.

Man's unhappiness, as I construe, comes of his greatness; it is because there is infinite in him, which with all his cunning he cannot quite bury under the finite.

Webster Accepted Into John Deere Ag Program

Robert Webster, graduate of Tahoka High School, has been accepted into the new John Deere Ag Tech program at Navarro College in Corsicana.

He is one of 22 students from several states who will be admitted into the program that begins in August.

As part of his training in maintenance and repair of high tech agricultural machinery, he will serve a 20-week internship at Taylor Tractor & Equipment in Tahoka.

The new program is a corporate/college partnership that brings the latest farm equipment to the campus, where students learn to maintain and repair it. They also will gain experience with equipment "from the field." Their classes will be conducted in a new $800,000 building constructed especially for the needs of the program.

Webster also will attend regular academic college classes leading to an Associate in Applied Science degree at the completion of the two year program.

"The combination of on-campus learning and experience at the dealership will provide the students with the skills they need for a fast start on a rewarding career," said Dr. Steve Thompson, coordinator of the program.

ACS Promotes Breast Health Awareness

More than half of the new breast cancer cases diagnosed this year will be among women 65 and older. And only 37 percent of eligible women will take advantage of a Medicare breast screening benefit that can help detect the disease.

The American Cancer Society and the American Association of Retired Persons are joining forces to promote breast health awareness among women 65 and older. Volunteers from both organizations in communities across the state are linking up to develop activities that will encourage more Medicare eligible women to take advantage of the mammography screening benefit.

"The American Cancer Society and the American Association of Retired Persons have two of the largest volunteer networks in Texas," said Mary Nowotny, RN, PhD, chair of the Texas Breast Cancer Detection Campaign. "Together we can help decrease breast cancer deaths by 30 percent and help women and their families lead happier, healthier lives."

Since Jan. 1, 1991, Medicare has been helping to pay for mammography screening for the early detection of breast cancer. Screening mammograms, together with a physician's consultation on the results, are covered by Medicare once every two years for women aged 65 and over. For other women covered by Medicare, test coverage varies by age and risk category.

Because of screening tools like mammography, breast cancer is being detected earlier and breast cancer death rates are dropping. For more information about breast cancer detection and mammography, call the American Cancer Society at 1-800-ACS-2345 or the National Cancer Institute at 1-800-4-CANCER.

Mexican Economy Woes Don't Mark End For U. S. Farm Products

College Station — Devaluation of the Mexican peso has both sides of the North American Free Trade Agreement issue pointing fingers and saying "I told you so." But the situation was predictable and doesn't signal doom for the pact, according to a NAFTA analyst. In fact, food and fiber trade should remain healthy between the United States and Mexico.

"A year or less from now, NAFTA opponents will say it didn't do what it was promoted to do, but proponents will say it (that failure) wasn't caused by NAFTA," said Dr. Gary Williams, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station agricultural economist.

Williams, who directs the Texas Agricultural Market Research Center, addressed the recent International Agriculture Forum at Texas A&M University.

"NAFTA has been good for agriculture so far and will continue to be if we can keep these other negatives under control," Williams added.

Laughter Can Prolong Your Life

That is the prescription of a growing number of medical researchers. It is the medical watchword of Joyce Saltman, a teacher at Southern Connecticut State University. She doesn't believe in reducing stress, but rather combating it with humor. "Life is meant to be stressful. The only people who experience no stress at all are all dead!" She says laughter helps oxygenate the capillaries, the heart rate is reduced, it increases circulation and even burns up calories. "A positive attitude with good medical attention will get you farther than a negative attitude with the greatest medical specialists in the world."

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company (SWBT) has filed an application with the Public Utility Commission of Texas to offer a new service called Prepaid Calling Card (PCC) Service. A PCC would offer the customer the ability to place local and long distance (intraLATA, interLATA and international) calls from any telephone without the use of coins, credit cards, conventional calling cards, or operator assistance. A PCC would have a pre-established value, paid for in advance, that would decrease in value as calls were completed. This service would be similar to SWBT's current Calling Card Service in that SWBT would carry the local and intraLATA calls originating in its region. InterLATA and international calls would be carried by the Interexchange Carrier selected by the customer. Prepaid Calling Cards would be sold in varying denominations, such as $10.00, $20.00 and $50.00. The rate for local and intraLATA calls would be $0.40 per minute for all times of day. The rates for interLATA and international calls would be determined by the Interexchange Carrier that handles the call. First year revenues from PCC are estimated to be approximately $11 million. SWBT proposes that this application become effective on August 7, 1995.

Persons who wish to comment on this application should notify the Commission by July 28, 1995. Requests for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757, or you may call the Public Utility Commission Public Information Office at (512) 458-0223 or (512) 458-0227, or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf. NOTICE OF FLUORIDE LEVEL IN WATER

The City of Wilson has been notified by the Texas Department of Health that the water being supplied by our system exceeds the maximum constituent level for fluoride established by the department's "Safe Drinking Water Act."

The samples of water from the Wilson system contain 4.1 milligrams of fluoride per liter, and the department requires the city to notify all customers. There is not immediate health hazard for drinking water containing fluoride at this level except that it could cause mottling (brown stain) on the teeth of children under 14 years of age.

All the dentists in this area are aware of the fluoride level. The City will continue to search for alternate sources of supply and will investigate any available treatment techniques to lower the level of our fluoride if they are affordable at all.

Bottled water is available for families with children under the age of 14 years at the City Office at no cost.

City of Wilson Water System
