Dogs' Super Effort Stuns Olton 21-14

By DALTON WOOD

In one of Tahoka's finest football games ever, the Tahoka Bulldogs came from behind and defeated a favored Olton team last Friday, delighting a large homecoming crowd with spectacular plays on offense and a tenacious defense to win 21-14.

Olton came into the game after winning two games by lopsided scores and featuring the leading Class AA rusher and scorer in Michael Wilborn, a 210-pound senior. And Wilborn was plenty good, as he demonstrated by gaining more than 200 yards from scrimmage, including a 77-yard scoring run the first time he touched the ball. But the Bulldogs' swarming defense, led by tackles Reggie Moore and Matt Garcia, but with just about everybody contributing, managed to keep Wilborn out of the end zone in the second half.

This week the Bulldogs go to Idalou, which barely lost to Class AAA Shallowater last Friday. It will be the first district game.

Against Olton, Tahoka had an entire team of "Friday Night Heroes" as QB Shawn Brewer passed and ran the Dogs to two last-quarter touchdowns to come from behind after the running of Edward Ramirez had helped keep Tahoka close for three quarters.

The first time Olton got the ball in the first period, Wilborn ran 77 to score. The extra point try was missed and the Mustangs led 6-0 with 8:28 left in the first.

Steve Wiseman recovered an Olton fumble for Tahoka at the visitors' 46 late in the first and Tahoka drove for a touchdown early in the second period. Ramirez, who did some hard running and gained 128 yards on 27 carries, scored on a 12-yard run after a 17-yard pass from Brewer to Monty Hale took the ball down to the 13. Gerold Cantu kicked the point and Tahoka led 7-6 at 9:22 remaining in the quarter.

Wilborn ripped off a 41-yard run and then scored from 7 yards out with 6:38 left in the half. Olton QB Paul Almanza ran for two points and Olton led 14-7 at halftime.

In the third, Olton drove to the Tahoka 11, but the Dogs held on downs. Later, with Olton backed up inside their own 20, Moore sacked Almanza for a 10-yard loss to the 2, and when Olton tried to punt out of the end zone, the snap was bobbled and the punter stepped out of the end zone to give Tahoka a safety. Olton still led 14-9 at the end of the third.

Olton had a lot of trouble getting punts off, and in the fourth Tahoka once took over at the Olton 34 after the snap went over the kicker's head and he was downed for a 32-yard loss. Brewer got away on a 30-yard run to the Olton 10, but this drive was thwarted a few plays later when Olton intercepted a pass at the 9.

With just 2:11 left in the game, the homecoming crowd erupted in glee as Brewer, with good protection from his offensive line, hit a streaking Hale with a perfect throw behind the defenders and he raced on into the end zone with a 57-yard touchdown pass. A running try for points failed, but Tahoka was up 15-14.

Olton took the kickoff, but Tahoka's Jermaine Rodgers recovered a fumble by Wilborn at the Mustangs' 34. Then came the final touchdown, on a drive which belonged to Brewer and Steve Wiseman. Wiseman ran for 10, then for 15 more to a first down inside the 10-yard line. Brewer then ran 8 for the score, after apparently being caught for a loss, somehow escaping for the touchdown. Cantu's kick was wide, and Tahoka led 21-14 with 1:03 left in the game.

After the kickoff, Wilborn tried a long pass downfield which was intercepted by Clay Taylor with 1 second left, and Tahoka had won the game, to put the Bulldogs' record at 2-0-1 for the season.

Garcia, Moore, Hale, Joseph DeLeon and Michael Calvillo all had good games on defense, as did some other Bulldogs. Wiseman gained 32 yards on just 4 carries, and Brewer gained 30 on 4 efforts to complement Ramirez' 128 on 27 tries, an average of 4.7 per carry.

HARVEST FESTIVAL PRINCESS & COURT — Britni Engle (third from left) was named 1995 Harvest Festival Princess during ceremonies Saturday afternoon. She sold over 2200 tickets to win the honor, a number which must be an all-time high in the 20 years of the festival for one candidate to sell. Jessica Antu (left) was named first runnerup, and Ashanti Hood (third from right) was second runnerup. Other candidates were Tiffany Stark (second from left), Kristy Alvarez (second from right), and Heather Stark (far right). (LCN PHOTO)

Award Presentations, Contests Highlight Harvest Festival Here

A large crowd gathered at the Tahoka downtown square Saturday for the 20th annual Lynn County Harvest Festival, on a day that turned out, surprisingly, with nice sunny weather in spite of a rainy forecast.

Highlighting the day's events were the Harvest Festival Queen and Princess contests and an awards presentation for the Tahoka Man and Woman of the Year by the City of Tahoka, and a Teacher of the Year award presented by the Harvest Festival Committee.

Tahoka Mayor Jim Solomon presented Cal Huffaker, a local attorney involved in many civic and church organizations, as well as being the festival's master of ceremonies, as the 1995 Man of the Year, expressing appreciation for Huffaker's "distinguished and dedicated community service." Woman of the Year was awarded to Juanell Jones, co-owner and editor of The Lynn County News, for her involvement in various community, church and school activities. Both were presented engraved plaques.

Mrs. Barbara Jaquess, a teacher at Tahoka Independent School District for 25 years, was awarded Teacher of the Year by the Harvest Festival Committee, presented by Jay Dee House, chairman. Along with a plaque, Mrs. Jaquess was presented with a bouquet of red roses and told that the Harvest Festival Committee would present a scholarship in her name to a graduating senior this year.

Abby Wells, a junior at Tahoka High School and daughter of Jim and Chloe Jan Wells, was named 1995 Harvest Festival Queen from among 13 contestants. She will receive a $100 scholarship from the Harvest Festival Committee and a $100 scholarship from Tahoka Chamberettes upon her graduation from high school.

Robin Martin, a THS Junior, was first runnerup in the Queen contest, and Marisa Martin, a THS Senior, was named second runnerup. Queen contestant Bonnie Stennett had high ticket sales, selling 382 tickets.

The 13 Queen contestants sold 2,810 Mexico Trip tickets to raise $2,810 for the Harvest Festival Committee, funds which are used to produce the festival each year. Six Princess contestants sold 3,860 tickets to raise $1,930 for the festival.

Britni Engle, a Tahoka fifth grader and daughter of Charlie and Debbie Engle, was named Harvest Festival Princess and received a $100 savings bond donated by First National Bank of Tahoka. Third grader Jessica Antu was first runnerup and received a $75 savings bond, and fourth grader Ashanti Hood received a $50 savings bond for second runnerup.

Judges for the queen contest were Eve Johnson (the reigning Miss Lubbock), Glen Patton from Robert Spence School of Modeling, and Elizabeth Pass, a Texas Tech professor. Ms. Johnson sang two songs for the festival crowd, including "Colors of the Wind" and "Love In Any Language."

Many area citizens received prizes through the hourly merchant drawings donated by area businesses, and several raffle drawings were held during the day including a trip for two to Mexico won by Judy Sanders from the Queen's ticket raffle.

Other big winners were Luis Negrete, who won the Texas Tech weekend; Johnny Calvillo and Jean Davenport, bicycles; Kent Stone, bubblegum drawing; Kenzie Angeley and Colby Gardner, savings bonds donated by Wilson State Bank; Carla Jolly and Sarah Curry, savings bonds donated by First National Bank of O'Donnell; Mary Aaron, TV/VCR from the Lynn County Child Welfare Board; Jim Payne, rifle from the Tahoka Volunteer Fire Department; Julia Charo, Senior Citizens quilt; Linda Bartley, 4-H barbecue grill cooker; and Jeremy Brandon and Sherry Pearce, Lynn County Trivia $50 Questions.

Children's contests were held during the morning hours at the festival, and a complete list of those winners, as well as photographs of the day's events, can be found inside this edition of The News.

Lynn County Hospital Directors Lower Taxes Somewhat

Lynn County Hospital District Board of Directors last week approved an effective tax rate which is lower, albeit just a portion of a cent, than last year's tax rate. Because property valuations have gone up, the effective tax rate to raise the same amount of funds has decreased somewhat, prompting the board's approval of a tax rate of .254590 per $100 property valuation, compared to last year's figure of .255630.

The new rate funds the annual budget, which was also approved by directors at Thursday night's meeting.

In other business, directors reviewed a semi-annual quality assurance report and approved it, as well as monthly bills and a financial statement.

All directors except Jimmy Dorman were present for the meeting, as well as Hospital Administrator Louise Landers.

The board meets on the third Thursday of each month.

MR. and MRS. RAYMOND CHRISTOPHER GALVAN (nee KENA DEEAN LEDBETTER)

Couple Exchange Vows In San Diego

Kena DeeAn Ledbetter and Raymond Christopher Galvan, both of San Diego, CA, exchanged wedding vows Sunday, Aug. 20, 1995 at 11:30 a.m. on the lawn outside of the Admiral Kidd Club in San Diego. David McKinley of Poway, CA officiated the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Calva An Ledbetter and Kenneth Ledbetter, both of San Diego. Parents of the groom are Ray Galvan of San Diego and the late Frances Galvan.

The ceremony took place on a grassy knoll overlooking the San Diego Bay and the downtown skyline. Ivy and white bows decorated the ceremonial arch where the vows were exchanged.

The bride, escorted by her father, wore a gown designed by Mori Lee.

The fitted bodice and long sleeves were embellished with sequins and pearls. Satin rosettes graced the top of the shoulder. The gown was a scalloped v-neck in front and back with the waistline falling to a point in front and back. The full skirt was followed by a 15 foot train shimmering with sequins and pearls complimenting the bodice. The hem of the skirt featured scalloped lace just touching the floor. The bride chose a veil resembling a crown, adorned with pearls and rosettes for a finishing touch.

The bride carried a bouquet of white roses, carnations, and stephanotis and pink roses in an oval shape decorated with white ribbon.

Wedding attendants were, maid of honor Teresa Lass of Encinitas, CA; Celeste Pilkington of Merced, CA; and Vania Engelhorn of San Diego, CA.

They wore navy tea length dresses of organza with a scoop neck featuring pearls.

Best man was Marcos Castro of San Diego, CA. Groomsmen were Dr. David Pilkington of Merced, CA and Frank Pilkington of San Diego, CA.

Drew Stone of Tahoka was usher. Kalia DeeAn Galvan, 2 year old daughter of the bride and groom, was flower girl. She wore a dress of white lace and organza with a tiara style crown topped with pearls.

Ringbearer was Jacob Schildgen of Norfolk, VA.

Donna Stone of Tahoka was pianist.

Out of town guests included Dr. Elva Jo Edwards of Denver, CO, aunt of the bride; Freda Jeffcoat, Robert and Wilma Edwards, great aunts and uncle of the bride, Milton and Mary Ann Edwards, Donna, Drew, and D'Lynn Stone, cousins of the bride, all of Tahoka.

A reception followed at the Admiral Kidd Club. The bride's cake was a four-tiered cake with various fillings topped with shaved white chocolate. The anniversary cake was supporting two kissing cherubs. Serving at the bride's table were D'Lynn Stone and Crystal Palmer.

D'Lynn Stone and Crystal Palmer, of Tahoka and San Diego, respectively, registered guests.

Near the head table was a table with a bouquet of pink carnations and red roses. A buffet lunch was served to 180 guests.

Burglaries, Violence Keep Officers Busy

Tahoka Police Dept. investigated several incidents of violence and threatened violence during the last week, and Lynn County Sheriff's Dept. checked on two burglaries and an attempted burglary.

A Zenith videocassette recorder was stolen from the residence of D.R. Adamson two miles west of U.S. 87 on FM 1317 Sunday after a bathroom window was broken to gain entry. Nothing else appeared to be missing.

Heartland Cable of O'Donnell reported an attempted burglary Tuesday, with a door pried open. A garage owned by Bennie Ortiz of O'Donnell was burglarized Saturday or Sunday with items valued at a total of $500 missing, including assorted tools, a toolbox, Craftsman grinder and a set of acetylene gauges and hoses.

On Friday night, police were called to a residence on N. 7th St. where they found an 18-year-old Tahoka youth dead of a gunshot wound. The victim was identified by police from his drivers license and Social Security card as Christopher Richard Rodriguez and by the family as Christopher Morin.

Among numerous incidents of family violence and other violence investigated by Tahoka Police Dept. was one last Thursday in which a 31-year-old Tahoka man reportedly was seriously injured. Arrested and charged in the case were a 24-year-old man and a 15-year-old youth.

In jail during the week were a dozen new offenders, including three for driving while intoxicated (DWI) and one each for the following: DWI plus making alcohol available to a minor, application to revoke probation on DWI 3rd offense conviction, application to revoke probation on DWI first offense, speeding plus violation of drivers license restriction plus failure to appear, driving while license suspended, aggravated assault causing bodily injury, exhibition of acceleration, minor in possession of alcoholic beverage plus public intoxication, and public intoxication.

CLASSICAL MUSIC, says Dave Barry, is music "written by dead German guys and played by people in tuxedos." He doesn't define rock or rap music, so I will: Loud stuff written by Americans who mistakenly have been allowed to live, and sung (or hollered) by ginks wearing their caps sideways and with hair longer than this newspaper is deep (22 inches, actually).

Anyway, that's enough about rap; I probably have offended someone already. Please don't call me prejudiced just because I don't like long hair on males. I know I am. I enjoy my prejudices and bigoted views. Now let me consider classical music (most of which was written by the original long-hairs).

I tried to think of any classical piece of music I would recognize if I heard it. Sadly, the only ones I know are those which have been used as a basis for some popular tunes. Chopin's Polonaise, for example, or maybe that Beethoven piece which is used on some answering machines (Nobody home, nobody home...). I do recognize Rhapsody in Blue, Malaguena and Flight of the Bumblebee, but I'm not sure those qualify as classical.

Maybe the people who play these classics ought to introduce them like the local country singers do their songs: "This here is one of them George Strait songs and I know y'all are gonna enjoy it." This could be matched by the conductor of the orchestra mounting the podium and announcing "Here's another one of them Rimsky-Korsakoff tunes to get your feet to stomping."

Enough of classical music, too. I think I'll go Haydn never come Bach.

I'M SO THANKFUL that Lynn County is blessed by having doctors who speak our language and who understand us pretty well. It seems that most of the doctors in the U. S. these days are from India or China or Pakistan and you can injure your mouth just trying to say their names.

An ad in last week's Lubbock newspaper announced that Nabil M. Attaya, MD, FACC (Friendly Arab Cardiac Consultant?) is being joined by two associates, Taher Khalil and Mounir Borno.

I'm sure that these guys (or gals) are good doctors, perfectly capable of treating heart patients. But whatever happened to specialists named Smith, Jones, Brown and Johnson? Maybe it's just that foreigners take to medicine like blacks take to basketball.

I used to go to a doctor in Lubbock County who was from the Philippines, or somewhere. I liked him because he was even shorter than I am, but with his accent, I never understood much of what he told me. I'd just nod and say "okay," and pay his bill, hoping he had a rubber stamp so I wouldn't have to try to write his name on the check.

The wayward thoughts of Juanell (Wood) Jones

You know that horrible feeling when you strike up a conversation with someone you think you know, and about halfway through the conversation you realize that the person you're talking with is not that person at all, but someone who looks a little like them, and they're looking at you with a puzzled expression and your brain comes to a dead halt and you don't know what to say?

"Uh ..." is the first thing that comes to mind ... and the last. In between those two scintillating thoughts is a vast emptiness of space through which no coherent thought can pass, due to burnout of mind nerves caused by extreme stupidity on the part of the head attached to a body which randomly chooses look-alike strangers, walks up to them, and says...

"Oh, hi! I haven't seen you in ages! How are the kids?! I was just telling your husband the other day, you know when I was in his office, that we hadn't seen you in such a long time! Are you still playing tennis?"

And all the while they are looking at you as if they don't have a clue who you are, if you can imagine!, and glancing around behind them to see if you are actually speaking to someone else they can't see, and then kind of nonchalantly scuttling sideways in preparation for a quick getaway, murmuring, "I'm fine ... uh ... do I know you?"

At this point your brain rears up and says, "Whoa! I'm outta here!", leaving your head just sort of bobbing up and down while your mouth utters, "uh ... uh ... uh" at regularly spaced intervals. This gives the unknown person time to get as far away as possible, at speeds gaining warp levels while warning incoming prospective conversationalists to steer clear of the weird lady nodding her head.

This happens to me periodically, in what I am assuming is God's way of keeping me humble. I also, however, fail to recognize people I do know at embarrassing intervals, causing me to have some serious doubts about my brain's thought processes.

These thought processes failed me again this past weekend at our annual county Harvest Festival, when I was pleasingly shocked with a very nice honor in front of a large group of people with whom I normally have no problem chattering idle thoughts with. But I was so bemused (does anybody use that word anymore?) at being named Tahoka Woman of the Year that "Uh ... uh" was the only thought that came immediately to mind.

I stumbled on to the stage, grinning ear to ear, and mumbled something (I think) about how much my family and I love Tahoka, and how welcome we have felt here, and a few other incoherent thoughts that I cannot recall. A good friend very kindly told me, however, that nobody could hear me anyway because I wasn't close enough to the microphone (short people have that problem).

Anyway, I have since had time to gather my thoughts, and here is what I wish I had said:

Life is good! And the life that my family and I have here in Tahoka is so richly blessed with good friends, and a warmth and openness of a community who welcomes newcomers and makes them feel as if they are coming home. I have enjoyed living in several communities, but when my family and I moved here 13 years ago we found a place that truly feels like "home," and friends who feel remarkably like family. There is a network of community spirit here that rejoices when things go right, commiserates and comforts when life is painful, and laughs with you, instead of at you, when life plays its little jokes. There is, truly, no place like home ... and home will always be here.

Thank you for such a very special honor. I will always treasure it - and your friendship.

Olton Defeats JV Bulldogs

by AMBER CURRY

Tahoka High School junior varsity football team fell to the Olton Mustangs, 16-24, Thurs., Sept. 21 at Olton.

"The JV team just made too many mistakes to overcome a large deficit," said JV Coach Jimmy Burleson. Trailing 0-14 in the second quarter Tahoka couldn't hold the Mustangs out of the end zone.

Olton punched in across with less than a minute before half time to claim a 0-20 lead.

Jamie Luna scampered for 40 yards and a touchdown, while Mario Luna also ran for a 35 yard touchdown, which brought the Dogs to within 16-34 in the fourth quarter.

"The Dogs just couldn't contain the explosive Mustang offense," said Coach Burleson.

The Tahoka coaches were proud of the "never say die" attitude of their team.

"Tahoka didn't play well, but never gave up," said Coach Burleson. Outstanding offensive players according to Coach Burleson were Mario Luna, Albert Alvarado, Matt Chancy, and Jamie Luna. Outstanding on defense were Aaron Long, Ricky Cloe, and Augustine Cantu.

The Bulldogs also faced the Lorenzo Hornets in a stinging tie, 12-12 at Lorenzo, Sept. 14.

"They played very hard in unfavorable conditions," said Coach Burleson.

They had a chance to break the tie in the closing minutes, but a fumble snap inside Lorenzo's 5 yard line left the game in a tie.

"Outstanding offensive player was Mario Luna, and outstanding defensive player was Gary Chapa," said Coach Burleson.

8th Grade Dogs Lose To Olton

by BRENT RAINDL

The eighth grade football team was defeated by the Olton Mustangs 0-20 in Olton, Thursday night.

"Outstanding effort on defense was turned in by Sedrick Williams," said Coach Cory Barnes. Brad Pebsworth had an interception.

"Offensively, Pebsworth, Williams, and Anthony DeLeon ran the ball well," said Barnes.

"We played pretty good during parts of the game, but we obviously have a lot of work ahead to improve," said Barnes. He is assisted by Clint Neighbors.

The middle school starts district play at Idalou on Thursday, Sept. 28.

THS Cross Country Teams Compete

The Tahoka High School cross country teams participated in the Friendship Invitational at Wolfthor on Saturday, Sept. 16.

Shayla Brandon was top finisher for Tahoka, placing 5th with a time of 12:45.3. Also running in the 2 mile run were Amanda Fuentes, Micah Smith and Abbie Gill.

Junior Varsity girls participating in the run were Lori Rodriguez, Leticia Antu, Andrea Aleman, and Abby Wells.

Varsity boys also competed in a three mile run. Bryan Fuentes came in first for Tahoka, followed by Hans Mensch, Matt Chancy, and Shawn Brewer.

"This was the guys' first meet for the year," said coach Cindy Gardner. "For Shawn and Bryan this was their first cross country meet ever. This group did a good job."

The middle school also competed in the invitational. Sara Alvarado came in 20th for the middle school girls in the two mile run. Also competing were Valerie Lopez, Amie Lopez, Myra Martinez, Kelly Whitley, Kyle McInroe, Lezli Gandy, and Corrina Liendo.

There were 11 teams in the middle school girls division. The TMS team placed 5th with 111 points.

TMS boys had several medalists in their two mile run. Larry Davis placed 10th followed by Anthony DeLeon, 11th; Brady Raindl, 15th; Phillip DeLeon, 19th; Cory Engle, 20th. Also running were Johnathan Valdez, Adolfo Davila, Michael DeLeon, and Jeffery Antu.

There were 10 teams in the middle school boys division. The Tahoka team placed 2nd with 60 points, only two points behind top finisher, Morton.

New Heartburn Non-Prescription Drug Nears Approval

Tagamet, a widely used prescription drug for ulcers and reflux disease, is nearing approval by the FDA for over-the-counter sale as a heartburn medication. It will be sold as Tagamet HB and will contain Cimetidine, but in weaker form. Tagamet HB will be marketed to the estimated 45 million heartburn sufferers in the U.S. The tablets will be 100 milligrams with a maximum dose of 400 mg daily. A warning label will be required as Tagamet "appears to make other drugs more potent in some cases," says FDA spokeswoman Ivy Kupec.

New Texas Law Affects Telephone Cooperatives And Members

During the recent session of the Texas Legislature a new law passed creating a new "tiered" regulatory framework that recognizes forthcoming technological and competitive changes in the local telephone industry. The law became effective Sept. 1, 1995.

According to Mickey L. Sims, General Manager and CEO of Poka Lambro Telephone Cooperative, Inc., "The law allows telephone cooperative members, by voting to become 'partially deregulated', to reclaim some of the authority given up in 1976 when the Public Utility Commission of Texas was created."

Poka Lambro will host a Public Information Meeting Tuesday, Oct. 3 from 9 a.m. to noon at Poka Lambro's headquarters location, 11.5 miles north of Tahoka on Hwy 87. Poka Lambro representatives will be on hand to address the new law and how it may affect the Cooperative.

"The new law gives cooperative members the opportunity to vote for partial deregulation," Sims said. "With a mail-in ballot members can vote to return authority over new services and rates to their locally-elected Board of Directors. A positive vote would give their Cooperative the opportunity to initiate more services without the burdensome and very costly regulatory approval process of the Public Utility Commission of Texas."

According to Sims, "The important issues at stake in partial deregulation are capital credits, universal service, regulatory change, competition, loss of revenues, access to capital, use of strategic partnership and introduction of new services."

New Officers Head NHS

The O'Donnell chapter of the National Honor Society elected Jimmy Don Vaughn as president along with other new officers this year.

"We're still in the planning stages but we are going to do more services this year," said Bill Clopton, NHS sponsor.

Jennifer Barrett was elected vice president; and Andrea Rodriguez was voted in as secretary.

Parade results are as follows: (K-6) 4th - "Bury the Elks," 5th & 6th - "Pacman," 3rd - "Wheel the Elks out of Wilson;" (7-12) Juniors, 8th grade, Freshmen; (Other) H.S. FB Red Fire Truck; J.H. FB Orange Water Truck, Booster Club bell.

Mark Munoz and Audra Young were named Homecoming King and Queen during halftime ceremonies.

Several members of the class of 1975 were on hand for their 20th reunion along with other exes attending the game and class reunions.

Wesley Menzer probably travelled the longest distance as he lives in Alaska. His sister, Darlene Toles also attended.

Wilson Booster Club meets Tuesdays at 7:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria. They are planning a Mexican stack supper for Oct. 20.

The 2nd graders will perform a play and the 5th and 6th graders are going to do spelling skits at the meeting.

The community wide Fall Festival will be Oct. 28 from 6-9 p.m. and will be sponsored by the PTO. All organizations, groups, and churches are invited and encouraged to have a booth. "We would like to see games for all ages, a variety of food, and some local crafts," said a spokesperson.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

The Tahoka Graduating Class of 1945 had a great 50 year Class Reunion this past weekend. We registered 29 graduates and 19 guests out of a class of 56 of which 18 are deceased.

We would like to make a retraction to the Article (9-21-95 Community Supports Bulldogs, etc.) concerning problems of the football season of 1945. These problems should be credited to the class of 1946.

The '45 Class (football of '44) under the leadership of Leo Jackson and W.T. Hanes had an exciting season. We had a 6-3-1 record and played a schedule consisting of Lamesa, Lubbock Cowhands, Levelland, and Floydada with Conference games with Denver City, Seagraves, Big Spring, Seminole, O'Donnell and Monahans.

Members of this team attending our reunion were "Seabiscuit" Caraway, Lowell Busby, Herman Crawford, Claude Donaldson, Cecil Dorman, W.T. Hines, Nolan Jones, Clois Leverett, H.B. McCord, Jr. Jack Miller and Dwayne Vaughn.

If you would care to hear more details of these games anyone of the above players would gladly fill you in with details. Believe it or not but this is one area in which their memory is very clear!

Thanks Tahoka for a great welcome and a lot of wonderful memories.

Class of 1945

Dear Editor:

I wish to make some corrections to the story on page 5 of today's Lynn County News concerning the Bulldogs. The information about the dispute over the athletic use in 1945 has several errors. The Superintendent was Mr. E.E. Hancock not E.E. Howard. It was the coach Stewart who resigned and left and not Mr. Hancock.

I know whereof I speak, because I was teaching here at the time and was in the midst of the whole thing. I just wanted to set the record straight. Thank you.

Yours sincerely,
Lois White

Dear Editor:

The library would like to express a heart-felt thanks to everybody who helped with our silent auction. The talented people who donated their arts and crafts, the people who bid generously, the men who set up the booth, and the workers who helped in the booth.

We raised $1717 this year with our auction and cash donations. This was our best year!

Thank you, everyone, for your generosity and support of the library.

There will be a cotton style show. Also a citizen of the year will be honored. There will also be merchant prize drawings during the day.

The day will end with a street dance in the downtown area.

The festival is held in conjunction with the O'Donnell High School Homecoming on Oct. 6. This year for the first time there will be a carnival on Oct. 5-7 with rides for kids and adults.

Eagles Drop One To Farwell

The O'Donnell Eagles suffered their first defeat this year when Farwell outscored them 7-13 Friday.

The first score of the game came in the second quarter when Farwell's quarterback, Brock Anderson, ran in from two yards out. The PAT increased the score to 0-7.

The Eagles came back in the third quarter when quarterback, Juan Luera, scrambled for a six-yard touchdown.

The PAT, kicked by Eric Cruz, tied the score.

With 5:51 left in the game, the Steers recovered a blocked punt in the end zone and increased their lead by six. The PAT failed.

The Eagles almost came back in the last 55 seconds of the ball game when they were on Farwell's 10-yard line. The Eagles then lost the ball to an interception.

Felix Perez led the Eagles on the ground with 56 yards on 11 carries. Luera was next with 29 yards on 10 carries.

Tony Sotelo grabbed the ball four times for 10 yards. Israel Costa ran for six yards on four attempts, and Victor Barrientos picked up four yards on one carry.

The O'Donnell Eagles will try to put another mark in the win column when they play at Bovina Friday.

Barrett Named Semifinalist For Merit Scholarship

National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC) recently announced the names of some 15,000 high school seniors who are semifinalists in the 41st annual National Merit Scholarship Program, including Jennifer Barrett from O'Donnell High School.

"As far as we know, Jennifer is the first student from O'Donnell to advance to this second stage," Glenn Hopkins, O'Donnell High School principal said.

NMSC is a privately financed, not-for-profit corporation whose scholarship activities are supported by some 600 independent sponsor organizations and institutions. By publicly honoring semifinalists, NMSC seeks to broaden educational opportunities for these students, and to encourage the pursuit of scholastic excellence at all academic levels.

Juniors in some 19,000 U.S. high schools entered the 1996 Merit Program by taking the 1994 Preliminary SAT/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT), which served as an initial screen of more than one million program entrants. The highest scorers in each state were designated semifinalists in numbers representing about one-half of one percent of the state's high school graduating class.

Before they can be considered for Merit Scholarship awards, semifinalists must advance to the finalist level of the competition by fulfilling additional requirements that include having an outstanding academic record, being endorsed and recommended by the high school principal, and submitting SAT I scores that confirm the student's earlier PSAT/NMSQT performance. Other important information about the student's educational interests and goals, as well as participation and leadership in school and community activities is provided in the detailed scholarship application the semifinalist and an official of the high school must complete.

Eagle Booster Club Raises Money

The O'Donnell Booster Club's hamburger supper before the Sunday game raised $1,410.20, and was termed a huge success.

The eagles-printed hand towels are still on sale for $3. Seat cushions have been ordered and should be in by homecoming.

"You can get a flying eagle print in your driveway for $10, two eagles for $12.50, and three eagles for $15," said a club member.

The club has over 100 members. They meet every Tuesday night at 7:30 p.m. in the high school library.

"The club needs everyone's help to support the Eagles," said a member.

Fighting Back: High Plains Cotton Growers Launch Weevil Offensive

In an effort to prevent what could amount to billions of dollars in lost revenue, High Plains cotton producers have reached the start of the 1995 Enhanced Boll Weevil Diapause Control Program. The operational phase of the Program is set to officially begin Sept. 26.

Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers is coordinating the Enhanced Program under a cooperative agreement with the Texas Boll Weevil Eradication Foundation. High Plains producers overwhelmingly approved the formation of a 30 county High Plains boll weevil eradication zone last April. At the same time producers also approved a mandatory assessment rate to be collected on the 1995 crop to finance the Enhanced program. Holding off the start of an Enhanced Diapause Program would have allowed the boll weevil to infest an even larger area of the High Plains and caused producer costs to increase dramatically.

The United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) supports the program through the loan of vehicles and equipment. USDA also provides support through the Environmental Monitoring Plan which helps ensure the safety and soundness of all program operations.

"This year's program initiates the first year of a three year program designed to step up the battle against the boll weevil," said PCG Boll Weevil Steering Committee Chairman Wayne Huffaker of Tahoka. "By the end of the third year we should have halted boll weevil movement onto the High Plains and reduced the size of the currently infested area prior to the start of eradication in 1998."

Huffaker notes that without the program the High Plains faces a potential farm level loss of revenue that could easily exceed $300 million. This loss to the farmer would come mainly from increased costs associated with battling the boll weevil and reduced yields. Area-wide the impact of these losses could easily amount to over $1 billion in lost economic activity.

"Without this type of coordinated action the boll weevil could eventually put the majority of cotton growers on the High Plains out of business," said Jim Lesef, Texas Agricultural Extension Service Entomologist. "This year a lot of attention has been focused at the potential loss associated with a beet armyworm infestation on the High Plains. The reality of the situation is that if the boll weevil is allowed to infest this area the losses will easily exceed anything that the beet armyworm could have done this year."

Cotton fields in 22 counties on the High Plains have been located and mapped inside the Enhanced Control Zone. This represents approximately 2.4 million cotton acres and over 15,000 individual fields.

The control phase of the program could total up to 5 million acres. The first application is expected to cover between 1.5 and 1.6 million acres.

"The goal of this year's program is to start the process of permanently removing the boll weevil from the Plains," said Roger Haldenby, PCG Boll Weevil Program Coordinator. "This is only the first of a three year, coordinated effort that is vital to the future of the High Plains cotton industry. The reason for the dramatic increase in the size of the program is the tremendous increase in boll weevil populations following five mild winters in a row."

By following the three year plan we expect to systematically eliminate the boll weevil from most of the area and then follow up with a full-scale eradication effort to complete the job, adds Haldenby.

Many people have been concerned with the potential effect of the program on beneficial insects early in the season. That won't be problem in this area since early season treatments will not be used until 1998. By that time, explains Haldenby, two things will have happened: First the size of the area that will need these treatments will be greatly reduced; second, refinements to program operations will have been devised, tested and proved in other areas so that we can avoid similar problems.

By the time the eradication phase of the program gets underway in 1998 the Texas Boll Weevil Eradication Foundation, PCG and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service will be able to develop new techniques and strategies that will help to preserve beneficial insects early in the season. Work on this problem is already underway in other areas of Texas currently actively engaged in eradicating the boll weevil and will allow the High Plains Program to take advantage of what they learn.

The PCG Program is currently the largest pest control operation in the world and makes use of the latest in aircraft and guidance technology. All of the aircraft being used on the 1995 Program are turbine powered giving them extended range and carrying capacity. They can also make treatment applications with increased effectiveness while flying at safe heights and higher speeds. In the old days of the program planes had to fly lower to ensure maximum coverage.

Today's modern aircraft are able to effectively apply the 12 ounces of ULV Malathion used on the program, the same material used by countless towns and cities for mosquito control each year. PCG performs regular checks to ensure the accuracy of each aircraft by putting out dye cards that provide a physical picture of actual spray coverage at ground level.

In addition to the random use of dye cards PCG also makes use of the latest aircraft guidance and tracking technology during Program operations. The PCG Program utilizes the latest in Global Positioning System (GPS) technology to aid in the tracking and control of aircraft used on the Program. Each plane is equipped with the Satloc system which serves double duty on the Program. The first function it provides is the ability to accurately track an aircraft's movement across a field without the need for human flaggers, showing the pilot where their next pass should begin.

The second function of the Satloc units is to provide computerized records of each aircraft flight for quality control and record-keeping by program personnel.

The Satloc system allows PCG personnel to print a copy of an aircraft's actual flight path, giving them the ability to quickly keep track of what fields have and have not been treated.

"Every effort is made to ensure the quality and precision of program applications for boll weevil control," said Haldenby. "Using 21st century technology provides us the ability to keep program costs down while maximizing the effectiveness of each and every control application."

PCG feels that by utilizing the latest technology cotton producers of the High Plains will gain maximum benefit from the dollars they have paid to rid themselves of the boll weevil once and for all.

Jesse Arousa Wins Football Contest

Jesse Arousa missed three games in the weekly Lynn County News football contest last week, but no other entries came any closer, to claim the $10 prize money. Arousa missed naming the Secret Sponsor for the week, but his and all other entries are entered in the grand prize drawing to be held at the end of the football season for a 13" color television from Ray's TV & Appliance.

Secret Sponsors for the week were Billy Davis Insurance, Witt Butane, Al Griggs Autocenter, Gloria's Beauty Shop, Wilson State Bank and Farmers Cooperative Association #1.

"Each week's entries are entered in the grand prize drawing, so the more you enter, the better chance you have of winning the television at the end of the season," said a News sponsor.

Football contest entries are due at 4 p.m. each Friday at the News Office, located at 1617 Main Street in Tahoka.

Card of Thanks

A heart-felt thanks to the classmates of 1965 for a wonderful homecoming weekend. The baby-boomers were "home" in force, and, thirty years later, (I can probably speak for all of the class) we were classmates in school once again. A tremendous thanks to Jan Whitaker for "the book." 30 YEARS LATER. I know that Tahoka will be buzzin' over that book for months to come. It really added to our ties as classmates and as a big family! Thanks again, Jan.

The family of Loy Huff would like to take this opportunity to thank each and everyone for all the thoughts, prayers, visits, food, flowers, donations to the church and the beautiful service, during his illness and his passing.

Your kindnesses were so very much appreciated and will never be forgotten.

What a pleasant surprise I received at the Lynn County Harvest Festival Saturday when Mayor Jim Solomon presented me with a plaque for "Woman of the Year." I am humbled and honored to receive such an award, and though I feel there are many others more deserving than I who serve this community in so many ways, I really appreciate the honor! The people of Tahoka have welcomed my family and I with such friendliness and warmth, and we have truly enjoyed living here for the past 13 years, and plan to stay for many, many more. We have lived in several places, but Tahoka is truly our home. Thank you for making it even more special.
