David Douglas, Jr. Honored For His Scientific Aptitude

Recognition of outstanding academic and scientific aptitude has come to Muleshoe High School Junior, David Douglas, Jr., who has been selected as one of 350 students throughout the State of Texas to attend the first Texas Nuclear Science Symposium for High Schools, to be held in Austin on June 11, 1961.

The Symposium, sponsored by the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation in cooperation with the several colleges and divisions of the University of Texas, seeks to supply basic information about nuclear science and the inter-related fields of modern mathematics, radio chemistry and nuclear physics and to give teachers and students an opportunity to discuss aspects of nuclear science with well qualified scientists from several fields.

J. V. Peeler, Manager for the Southwestern Public Service Company said, "The Foundation, composed of 11 investor-owned electric power companies, in Texas, of which we are one, has been conducting research for the past several years into peaceful use of the atom as a means of energy to create steam for electric generating stations. The Foundation and the University are cooperating to give teachers and Farmers who still have questions concerning the new feed grain law will have the opportunity to find the answers at a meeting scheduled here Friday night, April 5. The meeting will be in the district courtroom and will begin at 8 o'clock.

On hand to discuss various features of the law will be Charles Daniel, ACS office manager, and J. K. Adams, Bailey County agent.

Meanwhile one new feature has been added to the picture in the last few days. Mr. Daniel said that if any farmer finds that either his base acreage or his production is too low it will be raised upon presentation of "reasonable proof".

He said individual notices of base acreage and productivity are now being mailed to farmers. Deadline for sign-up for compliance with the law is set at May 31.

TWO BOYS TOP STUDENTS

3-Way Exercises Set Friday, May 19

Both of these boys were selected by the faculty to Who's Who in Three Way because of their high scholastic ability, their participation in all athletic events throughout high school, their participation in all extra-curricular activities and their citizenship.

This year Michael Flaniken received the Bausch-Lomb Honorary Science Award, an award given to the student with the highest average in all high school science courses. Kenneth Sims ranked in the upper 3% of the nation in the National Merit Scholarship Testing Program.

James Long, son of Mr. and Mrs. Garvin Long of Maple, was third in the class with an average of 91.56. Gayle McCelvey Latimer, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. McCelvey, Goodland, was fourth in the class and was the top ranking girl with an average of 87.34.

COSMIC SAYS:

Maybe So Rain This Week End

Another week of disturbed weather is in store for Muleshoe and vicinity, but maybe more rain will accompany the week of turbulence ahead.

Rains were disappointingly light in the area during the past week. Muleshoe measured only a trace on Monday as a cool air mass kept us cloudy most of Monday and Tuesday. A look at the recorded temperature more closely reveals what type of a cooling we were subjected to:

Thurs.	74	79
Fri.	70	73
Sat.	68	73
Sun.	65	70
Mon.	61	65
Tues.	54	74
Wed.	44	92

Friday, Saturday and Sunday are each scheduled for unstable activity with the prospect for scattered showers on all three days. There may be shifting winds and turning cooler late Sunday.

Monday is expected to be cooler with the prospect for gentle rain. Continued cool on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday are destined to become warmer with extremely humid conditions settling in on Thursday.

April was a disappointing month for Cosmic. He was trying to gather 2 inches of rain from scarce clouds, but managed to get only .19. Here is how his first one-third of the year 1961 stacks up:

Mo.	Exp.	Rec.	Norm.
Jan.	.10	.58	.51
Feb.	.50	.62	.42
Mar.	1.00	1.67	.56
April	2.00	.19	1.20
TOTAL	3.90	3.06	2.69

Prizes IN MULESHOE

The muleshoe, when hung in the appropriate manner, is the sign of good luck.

Everyone in the Muleshoe area should dust off his muleshoe good luck charm and come to town this weekend. There are many grand gifts being awarded by several merchants. It is strictly coincidental that all these prizes are falling at the same time, but it is an indication of the activity which is beginning to take place in "The Good Luck City".

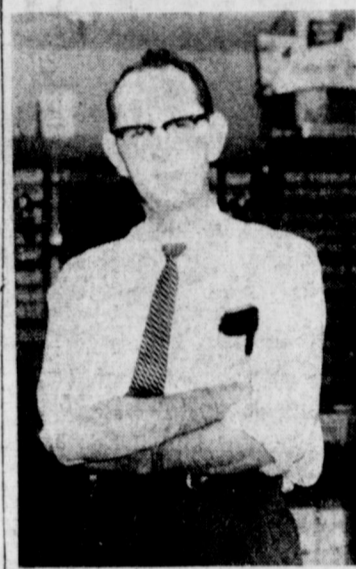

Awarding prizes this weekend are: Gage Carpet, free orchids for the ladies, a 12 foot by 12 foot carpet, and a handsome bookcase.

White's new store is giving 100 corsages to a group of lucky ladies, a $35 gift certificate, a barbecue grill and a White's automotive battery.

Muleshoe's three Texaco stations are staging a 2-day appreciation days in which they are awarding 15 prizes, Hi Fi record player, transistor radio, barbecue grill, three electric can openers, ten picnic coolers, and are throwing in smaller gifts such as free Cokes, kites, and lollipops.

Aside from all the give-aways,

By MRS. NOAH KINSER

The addition to the Muleshoe Airport office has been completed. The 16 x 18 room is the business office and the original office is the pilots and visitors lounge.

The interior decorating by Mr. and Mrs. Locker is one of stunning beauty.

Predominate colors are flame and white with black and mist green adding to the beauty of the decor.

Three walls and the ceiling is painted white and floor length, white pleated drapes cover the large plate glass windows. The North wall is painted flame and the window is draped with matching pleated drapes. The floor is carpeted with all white nylon carpet.

Smartly styled office furniture by Cole consists of a filing cabinet, a desk with an attached reception desk designed in angular fashion, and the desk companion, a 2 shelf Credenza unit all in two-tone color of mist green with the drawers and sliding tambour doors done in Flame. Lounge chairs are Black and Flame and the coffee table and corner table has black bases and white tops.

The adding machine, type writer and other office equipment is black and white.

Hanging on the wall is an oil portrait of William T. Piper, founder of the Piper Corp., beautifully done in shades of black, white, and flame of which Locker is especially proud and considers one of the high lights of the office.

Locker visited with Mr. Piper in his office at the Piper plant and was greatly impressed by him and he in turn was impressed by the town of Muleshoe, questioning Locker at length about the history of the town.

Herbert Griffiths, student of the Muleshoe Flying Service Ground and Flight School, made a cross-country flight Sunday on which Instructor Morgan Locker said that he did exceptionally well.

Leaving the Muleshoe airport in the Tri-Pacer, Griffiths flew by dead reckoning to Hobbs, N.

M. Near Hobbs he made contact with the tower and landed under tower instruction. This was his first time to fly and in a radio controlled area and airport. While there they visited in the tower and watched operation for a while, then Griffiths filed a flight plan to Roswell and flew Omni out-bound for some distance from Hobbs, picked up Roswell Omni and flew in-bound on to the airport there. From Roswell he again flew dead reckoning to Ft. Sumner. Leaving there he flew by navigation around the Cannon AFB restricted area and on to Muleshoe.

Locker said that Griffiths hit all check points within 2 minutes of the estimated time of arrival.

Griffiths attributed his success on the various types of flying and the check point accuracy to the ground school classes that he is attending taught by Fred Boyd.

Malcolm Garrett, Lubbock real estate dealer, has started training for his glider rating with the Flying Service Soaring School. Garrett made several flights last week.

Mrs. Barry Morgan Is Shower Honoree

Mrs. Barry Morgan, the former Martha Wuerlein, was honored with a bridal shower recently in the home of Mrs. J. H. Angeley.

The guests were registered by D'Ann Adrian. Mrs. Bob Angeley served white cake squares topped with sugar wedding bells. Elene Angeley presided at the punch bowl.

The table was covered with an embroidered linen cloth and centered with a miniature bride and groom standing under an archway of lilies of the valley and blue net. This arrangement was placed on a pedestal of milk glass surrounded by floating cherry blossoms.

Approximately 90 persons called or sent gifts. Among the many gifts, Mrs. Morgan received two hand-made quilts that were made from pieces of her dresses collected over a period of years. The hostesses presented her with an electric mixer and toaster.

Perhaps you have seen the city labor crew working at the swimming pool the last few days. The area in front of the pool is being scraped, grass is being planted and we hope to have a very presentable turf this summer.

Which brings up the point that progress will always cause some hardships. The dust blew while the weeds were being scraped and I'm sure there were several housewives who were ready to wring our necks. We can only apologize and hope that the improvements will be worthwhile.

The police department received their new patrol car this past week. The Chevrolet, which was ordered some time ago, is specially built for police work and is heavy duty in every respect. Speaking of the police department, Muleshoe only had five automobile accidents this past month and no breakdowns. Arch tells me that Carl Neely's men are working hard to save Muleshoe lives and property and the record for the month of April shows it.

By the way, do you remember the slogan of one of the safety campaigns a few years ago — Courtesy Is Contagious. It really works. The next time right of way is in doubt, try a little experiment, yield, even though you might feel the other fellow should. It will make a

"Be A Neatnik -- Not A Litterbug"

Litter tossed on Texas highways and roadsides has to be hand-picked. No machine can do this chore. Last year the clean-up and mowing bill for 57,500 maintained miles of Texas highways totaled more than $7,000,000.

AUSTIN TEXAS—The Texas Highway Department today launched a new slogan in its anti-litter campaign, "Be a neatnik, not a litterbug."

This plea comes from Texas Highway Department maintenance crews all over the state as they haul mountains of cans, bottles, paper, decaying food, and other litter from Texas highway right of way.

"Spring houseclean our Texas highways all year long by fighting that urge to toss litter from your car", they recommended.

Throwing litter on highways and roadsides is prohibited by law. Last year 281 cases against litter-throwing were completed in Texas courts. Of this number 269 were found guilty and were fined or punished by other means.

Highway maintenance men point out that litter is local for the main part, coming from resident litterbugs and not from out-of-staters or from phantom travelers from "up the road."

Surveys reveal that the litterbug is a local person, possibly a civil-minded citizen in all other phases of his life, but he fails to see the multiplication factor when he tosses out an empty cigarette package, wad of paper, or soft-drink bottle. He would not toss these objects down in his own yard, or in a friend's; but he will thoughtlessly take over the highway as his own private trash-basket.

Other evidence of the "resident litterbug" is sometimes a can-and-bottle trail. Maintenance men report that the biggest dead-soldier tossouts are about a drink away (by car) from the nearest local emporium. Cost of removal has been estimated at one-half cent per can. Maintenance crews hurry poet Richard Armour in his jaunty order to science for an edible beer can.

Frank B. Ellis, Director of the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization, will speak to the American people at the conclusion of this unusual dramatization.

KNOW YOUR INSECT ENEMY THE TOMATO FRUITWORM

This insect is called the cotton bollworm, corn earworm or tomato fruitworm, depending on where you find it. All three names apply to this serious pest that annually ruins crops worth many millions of dollars.

The plump greenish or brownish, striped caterpillars are restless feeders on tomatoes. They roam over several fruits, spoiling each one without eating the equivalent of a single one. As high as 80 percent of the crop may be damaged beyond use by tomato fruitworms.

Moths appear in early spring. Soon after emerging, females begin to lay nearly-white eggs the size of a pin-head on leaves. When larvae hatch, they feed sparingly on leaves, eventually finding their way to fruits. They feed on tomatoes from the time fruits are formed until they are ripe. When mature, the larvae drop to the ground, enter the soil and pupate.

Growers have had difficulty controlling fruitworms because most pesticides cannot be applied close to harvest without creating residue problems.

During 1960, a new insecticide was introduced to control tomato fruitworms. This new material, called sevin, is a carbamate and is chemically different from chlorinated hydrocarbons such as DDT and other common pesticides.

Growers can use it up to and including the day of harvest without exceeding residue tolerances. Scientists point out that this carbamate combines effectiveness against insect with greater safety to humans and animals.

Parmer County Farm Bureau

"Under the guise of providing 'social justice' for the weak, we are being sold on the idea that the use of force is good—that the end justifies the means."

"I am convinced that the great need of today is for a moral and spiritual revival which will turn our minds from the temptation to solve problems by seeing force against force and return to God's way by helping individuals increase the power and purpose of their own lives."

Charles B. Schuman, President of the world's largest general farm organization, American Farm Bureau Federation, concluded his editorial with the above words in the May Nation's Agriculture.

Christian principles such as the above, continuously promoted by Mr. Schuman, are the things that make the membership respect and love him. He is not a flowery speaker, but a man of Christian principles.

"The extent to which Uncle Sam is extending authority over county government was recently pointed up by a county by county survey of budgets in the state of Virginia. Of example, one county, King George (adjacent to the county in which the editor lives), that completely lost its power over local institutions because more than fifty percent of its expenditures were derived from federal sources.

"Each of 11 ar King George county got from Uncle Sam had a string attached—the right of the federal government to control its use.

"This is not an isolated case. Many other local governments are on the brink of federal domination resulting from the great game of 'dollar matching'. This is a quote from Glenn Martz in the Washington News Beat, April, 1961.

Babson Discusses RAILROAD MERGER

Babson Park, Mass., May 4—The biggest headache of any corporation officially in the United States will be suffered, not by General Electric officials, or even those of the AT & T, but by the man who must operate a Northern Pacific-Great Northern-Burlington Railroad Merger.

PACIFIC STOCKHOLDERS
 First, this man may sometime have the ill will of the former Northern Pacific Stockholders who may feel they have been robbed. I will not brag of the railway traffic of the Northern Pacific. Like most railroads, the passenger business is a big loss; but even the freight is declining. But the Northern Pacific has very valuable mineral, oil, gas, and other properties with great potential wealth. The only real hedge against inflation is land, of which the Northern Pacific has some of the most valuable.

Second, let me refer to the size of the planned merged railroad. I roughly figure that this will have the greatest mileage of any railroad in the United States. A large part of this mileage should never have been built. Yet with millions of bonds outstanding on these rails, it will be very difficult to get the necessary agreements by bondholders to dismantle a major part of a railroad and liquidate the rails, bridges, and rights-of-way. A legal merger is simple, but a division of the "spoils" is exceedingly complicated.

LABOR AND SMALL TOWNS
 The only way to prevent such a great merged railroad system from going into bankruptcy is to dismantle at least one-third of the mileage, and reduce the number of employees proportionately. This thought causes great consternation among the labor unions. They will not only fight for their own jobs; but will feel in doing so they are fighting a battle for every railroad in the country which is now being merged. But the expected discharge of railway workers likewise angers the thousands talking merger. But the expected which should be abandoned. These towns and way stations think their life depends on having a railroad station, especially for freight. To a certain extent every railroad merger will have these handicaps.

As the abandonment of a railroad's main line or branch lines usually means that the roadbed will revert to the county, state, or Federal Government, the newly merged lines will continue to operate such portions of the mineral rights. This creates another paradox handling of the freight by trucks would ordinarily be the answer; but trucks would not enable the Northern Pacific to hold ownership of all its valuable mineral and oil assets.

WHAT NORTHERN PACIFIC STOCKHOLDERS MAY DO
 Such a merger awakens a sentimental recollection in my life which should be a lesson to all investors. An uncle of mine was once the operating Vice President of the Northern Pacific, with his home in St. Paul. Once when I was going to St. Paul to visit the family of my late wife - Grace K. Babson - my father, Nathaniel Babson of Gloucester, Mass., asked me to call upon my "Uncle John" and ask his opinion as to the value of Northern Pacific securities. My uncle replied: "Tell Cousin Nat that the Northern Pacific bonds are good; that the preferred stocks will probably work out fairly satisfactorily; but that the common stock today is not worth the paper upon which the certificates are printed." Yet with-

SANDHILLS PHILOSOPHER SAYS Nobody Will Ever Accuse Farmers With The Crime of Price-Fixing

Editors note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm discusses the advantages of farming this week, at least we think that's what he's doing.

Dear Editor:
 Every once in a while somebody asks me why I keep on farming as if it's hard as I let on and the chances of my breaking even are as slim as I claim, but that's because they don't understand all of the advantages.

It's true farming out in the open under the uncertainties of the weather is hazardous undertaking, about like trying to run a drydock store without a roof or a bank without a vault, and it's true that insects are as smart as men and while man is staying up all night in a laboratory developing an insecticide that's bound to work, it turns out the insects stayed up the night before developing an immunity to it. As I've found out long ago, every time man comes out with a new insecticide, the insects come out with a new insect.

Moreover a lot of people distrust a farmer. If he gets ahead he's responsible for the high cost of living; if he fails, he's incompetent.

I could go on, but by this time you're probably wondering, what are the advantages of farming?

Well, I won't have room this week to list all of the advantages, not to mention time to think them up, or the imagination to manufacture them, but there is one advantage that occurred to me the other day and I've been basking in it ever since.

It's this: the farmers will never be fined on by the United States government for price-fixing. You're not going to catch us inviting the wrath of Attorney General Bobby Kennedy by getting together and deciding how much we ought to charge for what we produce. We're for what we produce. We've out-smarted all the lawyers in the government ad in all the history of agriculture since man first found out if you put a seed in the ground it'd sprout to the present day when we can produce more than the country can handle, no farmer has ever been guilty of deciding what the price of what he's produced should be. We haul it to town and ask somebody. Lots of times we don't get near enough, but we sure stay out of court.

Yours faithfully,

people not to bury her, for he said she was not dead but in coma. After some hours she regained consciousness. Her astonished relatives listened with great respect to her words.

What she told them conformed with the missionaries had been telling the people. She told them that she had seen a beautiful place where there was no sickness or hunger. She said, "Jesus is so good, and I am so bad." But He was her savior. Gone was all her fear, and she eagerly awaited her call to return to that good place. It came within a few days.

In the village five men came to the mission, seeking the way of salvation. They opened their hearts to Christ. Thus was the church established in another dark corner of the world. KNOW YOUR INSECT ENEMY THE BOLL WEEVIL

These long-nosed pests are a multi-million-dollar menace to our nation's cotton crop. Each year, billions of boll weevils chew through an estimate of $300 million worth of cotton.

To maintain their profits, farmers must conduct constant war against the weevils. First step in the battle is to deny this enemy refuge. Boll weevils spend the winter in weedy trash or other protected areas near cotton fields. Fall destruction of stalks and early spring cleaning of fields deprives weevils of a food supply.

An effective control effort requires sound crop management. Entomologists recommend several basic cultural practices. Prepare the soil well. Select early-ripening varieties. Make soil tests to determine plant food needs, then fertilize accordingly. Control weeds by frequent shallow cultivation to speed cotton harvest.

In addition to good management, regular insecticide applications are important to beat the weevils. A potent broad-range new weapon, Sevin insecticide, was extensively used by farmers against weevils and other cotton pests in 1960. This new material is a carbamate, chemically different and safer than most chlorinated hydrocarbon and phosphate pesticides previously used.

Growers reported excellent control, even on weevils that had become resistant to older insecticides. Sevin is available both as a dust and in a spray formulation.

For profitable 1961 cotton production, many pest control experts rec-

Farmers Got Less--- Paid More For Their Needs, Reports Shows

College Station—Farmers got lower prices for their 1960 produce than for that produced in 1947, but consumers paid substantially more for the food according to a research report issued recently by the USDA.

In two years this common stock sold for one thousand dollars per share!

With this personal experience it is difficult for me to advise a present holder of Northern Pacific what to do. I think, however, that a good many Northern Pacific holders will sell their stock and switch into the stock of Union Pacific. The latter sells at about 32 and pays $1.60 dividend per year. Union Pacific is both rich in management and has great mineral, oil, gas, and other hidden assets. It is the shortest line between Chicago and the Pacific Coast and has the least mileage to maintain when making the trip, largely on double track. I do not recommend any railroad or other stocks in this column; but I can report what I think large stockholders are doing.

Plan Statewide Test of NEAR Warning Device

The first successful device for indoor warning of impending enemy attack, tornadoes, flash floods or other disasters will be tested on a large scale in Michigan by the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization. OCDM Director Frank B. Ellis has announced that the National Emergency Alarm Repeater, or NEAR device, will be tried out on a statewide basis. Afterwards it is hoped to mass produce it for the American public.

THE RECEIVER plugs into ordinary house electrical outlets, and buzzes when a warning signal is sent over electric lines. This would alert people to turn on their radios for emergency instructions.

Signal generators have been installed at Grand Rapids and Battle Creek, Mich., for more than a year for local tests already concluded successfully. Additional generators will be installed elsewhere in Michigan to operate the home devices for a statewide test.

The NEAR receivers will function only where power systems are equipped with the NEAR generators. From 400 to 480 generators in power systems could make the NEAR device usable throughout the whole country.

John Wayne stars as a strike-it-rich pioneer in "North to Alaska," 20th Century-Fox CinemaScope DeLuxe Solor Production, opening Sunday at the Cox Drive-In Theatre.

Star Filled Cast Plays At Cox

John Wayne, six foot, four inch 220 pound athlete, starring in "North to Alaska," new 20th Century-Fox CinemaScope DeLuxe Color epic of Alaska gold-rush days, is a man's man on movie sets.

The picture opens a three day run at the Cox Drive In the coming Sunday. A veteran of some of the biggest action money-makers in film history, Wayne believes that an actor ought to know as much about the mechanics of picture production as every other member of the crew. Producer of some 18 independent films of his own, he is reputed to be an expert on camera techniques, lighting, staging and directing.

In "North to Alaska" Wayne plays the lead role of hard-boiled big-hearted goldlusting adventurer Sam McCord, a partner in a hard-won mining stake at Nome in the year 1900. Capable of fighting for everything he wants, he comes into conflict with his partner and best friend in a contest for the love of a honky-tonk dazler named Michelle (Carpucine). Wayne delivers one of the most vigorous and realistic performances of his career, as he struggles to keep a fair balance between his own roaring ambitions as gold miner and lover and his loyalty to his long-time buddy George Pratt. He has ETAO ETAOETT Pratt (Stewart Granger), with whom he has shared the dangers, the crises, the heartbreaks and the victory of fortune-hunting in the sow-bound wilderness.

Surprising side-light on Wayne's private life: he is one of Hollywood's most meticulously tailored and barbedale stars, is known for his social gallantry, his polite small talk and his savoir-faire. This public favorite who has made his career-name as a swashbuckling man of action, is at home in a foreign embassy on the yacht of an international baker, at a "high society" debut.

"Black Sunday," American MOELLER THRILLER International film starting Sunday at the Moeller Theatre, introduces an exotic new star to film audiences in this country. She is Barbara Steele, tall, slender, striking green-eyed brunette. She has just completed a starring role in another American International picture "The Pit and the Pendulum", which also stars Vincent Price and John Kerr.

The lovely, new British actress can claim a dramatic beginning for she was born aboard a ship sailing from Ireland to England. The ship was half way into port at Liverpool and the date was December 29. Barbara was educated in The Cotswolds, Wiltshire, England and at Chelsey College in London where she majored in art. Her first acting experience almost spoiled the show! She was a 7-year old Barbara Steele in a scene from American International's recently showing at the Moeller credited as being one of the most terrifying motion pictures since the original Dracula classic.

Snow White in "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" and she ate the only available apple at rehearsal. It was for looking purposefully, but Barbara ate it—skin, core, seeds and all. This was during the war when ap-

Job Openings Now At T. E. C.

The Texas Employment Commission office, located at 322 West Second St., has a considerable number of job openings for well experienced year round farm hands. These jobs require men with wamilies.

The local office also has opening for a experienced parts man. Those interested in applying for these jobs should come by the local Texas Employment Office as soon as possible.

David Miles, local office manager also states that local crew leaders who plan to work in cotton chopping should register their names and size of the crews at the local office.

Later, in her first professional play, she did it again! It was a Robert Morley comedy and on opening night she dropped a whole tray of steaming tea on stage. "But," she recalls, "since it was a comedy it wasn't too bad."

U.S. to Build Underground Center in Texas

Construction of an emergency regional headquarters for the United States, the huge underground control center near Denton, Texas, will start about June 1. The reinforced concrete structure, which has been called "a milestone of U.S. civil defense progress," is designed to withstand a nearby H-bomb blast and protect its occupants from fallout. It would serve as a nerve center for the U.S. Government if other centers in or nearer Washington, D. C., were knocked out.

The 142 by 172-foot, two-level center, estimated to cost about $2,000,000, will be the headquarters of the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization's Region 5, which now occupies aboveground facilities at Denton. Two hundred persons could be accommodated on a day-to-day basis in the self-sustaining structure, or 500 persons for 30 days on an emergency basis. Among internal facilities would be an intricate communications center and the latest computers for resources evaluation.

INDUSTRIAL PARTICIPATION in the yearly civil defense Operation Alerts is typified by the Boeing Airplane Co. of Seattle, Wash., which periodically tests its plant disaster plan and will do so during Operation Alert 1961 from April 26-30. In some years all of the firm's 60,000 Seattle-area employees have participated. This is the Boeing Communications Center, heart of any effort to direct employees to evacuate the plant or take cover in the face of enemy attack or other disaster. Pre-recorded instructions are broadcast from here over a complex loudspeaker system which can reach any or all parts of the vast facility. Plant shut-down procedures, medical and rescue teams, and evacuation of planes also are parts of the Boeing disaster plan. (Boeing Airplane Co. Photo)

Lone Star Agriculture

BEAN RELEASED

A new improved castorbean adapted for production in irrigated areas such as the High Plains of Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, and New Mexico has been released cooperatively by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. The new variety is named Hale and is a dwarf-intermediate which yields well and has potential as a male parent in hybrid combinations because its hybrid offspring also yield well. Hale is resistant to bacterial leaf spot and Alternaria leaf spot.

A limited amount of Hale seed is available to seed producers for planting this year, but seed for farmers will not be available until 1962. Hale has a better root system than many other castorbean varieties. However, if it is grown under conditions of too much nitrogen and excessive soil moisture, its stems tend to be weak. Weak stems, coupled with heavy fruit set and high winds before harvest, can cause lodging.

Hale matures about one week later than Baker-296, the leading commercial variety on the High Plains, and about one week earlier than Dawn, a 1957 release. Hale produced as much as 2,325 pounds of beans per acre in 1960 on-the-farm trials on the High Plains of Texas. In experimental plots in the same area, Hale averaged 2,479 pounds per acre, compared with 2,057 pounds per acre for Baker-296 and 2,189 for Dawn. Plants are well adapted to mechanical harvesting because the first fruiting spike is well above ground level and fruiting branches are erect. Seed capsules of Hale are non-shattering and are easily removed from the dry plants after frost by mechanical harvesters.

Seed weight, size, and quality cleaning are easy, and nearly all foreign material separates from the seed. Oil content averages 51 percent, one or two percent more than in available Hale has performed well in irrigation tests in the Southern Great Plains region of Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, and New Mexico. It has some drought tolerance but is not generally recommended for dryland planting because satisfactory yields cannot be obtained consistently. And because of possible mold damage to the seed capsules, it is not recommended for areas of high rainfall.

Police Report April Activity

The monthly activity of the Muleshoe Police Department is as follows: The Muleshoe Police Department patrolled a total of 3959 miles of streets and alleys in the month of April. In the process of building, checking, working school traffic and routine patrol work the Department worked 5 accidents, with one (1) injury report, and an estimated damage of $1140.00. They issued 29 traffic violation citations, arrested 17 or drunk, 1 for vagrancy, 3 for minor consumption and had two (2) sleepers, 2 thefts of hubcaps were reported to the department. They arrested 2 for illegal possession alcoholic beverages, 2 for carrying prohibited weapons, pistols, and 2 for DWI who were turned over to County for prosecution.

Chief Neely and the patrolman of the Muleshoe Police Department wish to thank the drivers of the area and City for their careful attention to good driving habits which this month lowered the accident rate some 40 percent over last month. Their continued efforts will be greatly appreciated.

Also a reminder that the dog pen or leash laws will be enforced. Please keep your dog penned or on a rope or leash or it becomes the Departments duty to pick the dog up.

Yours for a better Muleshoe and Police Department, A. C. Neely, Chief of Police, Donald R. Berry, Patrolman.

Treat spots and stains promptly by wiping pile with a sponge or cloth dampened in a solution of detergent and water. Without getting the carpet too wet, wipe the spot from the edge to the center. For oily stains, the same procedure may be followed using a dry-cleaning fluid similar to that used for removing spots from clothing.

After cleaning a spot or stain and drying the carpet thoroughly, use a soft brush to brush pile gently. Be careful not to distort the fibers. The soft brush may also be used with the detergent-water solution to work on liquids or solids which have soaked into the fibers, or to brush pile gently after steaming crushed or matted spots.

Try a steam treatment for marks left on carpet by the pressure of furniture or for areas which have become matted. Use your steam iron—or a hot iron over a damp cloth—and steam the spot for a minute or so. Do not press down on the iron. When the spot is thoroughly steamed, brush pile gently back into position with a soft brush.

Divide By Nine To Compute Yardage Needed For Carpet

Estimating how much carpet you will need to cover a floor is a matter of simple arithmetic. But knowing how to do this correctly and having an understanding of such matters as placement of seams could help you have some money when ordering carpet. In a simple "square" or rectangular room computing the floor area in square yards is done simply by multiplying the length and width in feet and dividing by NINE. For example, if a room measures 12 feet wide and 15 feet long, you multiply 12x15 equals 180 square feet divided by 9 equals 20 square yards.

However most rooms are rarely perfect rectangles. Frequently there will be little jogs for alcoves, around fireplaces, and other irregularities in the shape of the room. To compute the yardage in these situations, first take the measurements of the room exclusive of these jogs and get the area of the rectangle formed. Then measure the length and width of each of the jogs and compute the area separately. By adding all of these figures you will have the total square feet. Again divide by NINE and you get the total square yards.

But in most situations you will need to order more carpet than the actual dimensions call for. This is because most carpets are made in standard widths such as 9-foot, 12-foot, 15-foot and 18-foot, and the carpeting will have to be cut from these widths to fit a particular room.

Wise placements of seams will hold wastage down to a minimum. If the room given in the example above was only 11 feet wide instead of 12 feet ordering a 12-foot roll would eliminate all seams, but there would be a wastage of 1.6 square yards.

However, if a 9-foot roll were to be used, the same area could be covered with a wastage of less than half a square yard by the placement of a few seams.

Complete invisible seams are possible today, as a result of modern seaming techniques and the non-directional pile textures found in many current carpet stylings.

If you prefer not to have any seams or keep the number of seams down to a minimum, rely on the expert advice of the retailer and the men installing the carpet. This is the best tip in any event. Your own computations will give you a preliminary estimate. Detailed measurements and final estimates are best left to the carpet specialists.

Here Are Answers To Questions

Q. How long can I expect a carpet to wear?

A. The service you get from a carpet or rug depends on three things: Basic quality, amount of use it receives and the care you give it. Remember that carpets are used constantly in today's homes, not confined to the "best parlor" that our grandparents knew. Good-quality carpeting should last a minimum of five years under normal conditions. Naturally a carpet will last longer if not subject to abuse, unusual soiling or traffic conditions.

Q. I want a good quality carpet that will wear a long time. What fiber should I look for?

A. Quality isn't determined by fiber content alone. Sturdy construction is a major factor. However, for heavy wear look to wool, nylon or acrylic fibers which resist abrasion and are therefore long-wearing in good construction. More economical fibers which may be less resilient and less durable can be used in low-traffic areas.

Q. I haven't shopped for carpet in about 10 years and I'm not familiar with the new bakings. What are the types now used?

A. In woven and knitted carpets, the backing is produced simultaneously with the surface or pile fiber. In tufted carpets, the pile fibers are sewn to a pre-woven backing. A latex coating is also used on most tufted carpets and many woven and knitted carpets to add stability. A "scrim" fabric or double-backing may be added to prevent and buckling or stretching of the carpet.

Q. What types of nylons are used in carpets?

A. There are two main types: Nylon which is produced as short "staple" and spun into yarn, and "continuous filament" which is made in one continuous strand. The latter is the more recent development in the man-made fiber field. Both are engineered especially for carpet use, so don't confuse them with the nylon made for hosiery, for example, clothing or other home furnishings.

It's Easy To Care For Carpets, Rugs

The service you get from your carpet or rug depends on three things: Its basic quality, the amount of wear it gets, and the care you give it.

Naturally you want to increase the life of carpets and rugs — especially when carpet care is so easy. In one recent study at Iowa State University, a group of homemakers discovered the ease of carpet care for themselves. They found that it takes 20 minutes less per week to care for carpeting than for hard surface, and that they exerted less effort in walking and moving furniture. The average homemaker in this study traveled about 160 feet while cleaning carpet, as compared to 209 feet for hard-surfaced floors.

You'll find that carpet and rug care in your home can be easier still if you determine a schedule for your regular vacuum cleaning. The amount of cleaning needed will vary, of course, depending on atmospheric soil in your neighborhood and the soil tracked into your house, or room. Some rooms reserved for occasional use will naturally require less frequent cleaning. You may want to plan a light daily cleaning for some traffic areas—perhaps in an entranceway from the outside, busy hallway or living room.

Plan Schedule

Whatever the schedule, regular vacuum cleaning is the most important step in keeping carpets and rugs at their peak of beauty. Cleaning even seldom-used areas regularly (once a week is the practice in most homes) prevents atmospheric dust from settling in carpet fibers and makes the job of regular upkeep much easier.

Quick spot removal is the next major step in preserving the beauty of soft floor coverings. This, too, can be done easily. Damage from spots and stains can be kept to a minimum if you'll remember these three points: (1) Act quickly when anything is dropped or spilled on a carpet. Remove spots and stains before they dry or "set".

(2) Have necessary cleaning equipment on hand. (3) Try to identify what caused the spot or stain.

Cleaning materials needed are simple. These include water, a neutral detergent such as that used for washing fine fabrics, ordinary white vinegar and a dry-cleaning fluid of the type used to remove spots from clothing. With these on hand, you'll be able to correct any which is not so serious as to require professional cleaning or repair.

A simple solution of detergent and water (one teaspoonful of detergent to a quart of warm water) will take care of many spots and stains. To this, you may add one teaspoonful of white vinegar. Use this solution for spots caused by candy, beverages, pet stains, washable ink, most food stains.

Oily Spots
Oily or greasy spots and stains, such as lipstick, butter, hand cream, etc., usually respond well to the application of a dry-cleaning fluid, although the detergent-vinegar-water solution may also be used if necessary.

The application of these cleaning materials is the same. Use the cleaning material on a cloth or sponge, never pour it directly on the carpet. Sponge the spot lightly, working from the edges to the center, and without hard scrubbing. (It's important to blot or scrape up any excess material first.) A soft hand brush might be used, but avoid disturbing the carpet pile with heavy brushing.

As soon as a cleaning material has been used, dry the carpet quickly. You can blot a wet carpet with a towel or blotter, or use a fan, small heater, or the nozzle from a vacuum cleaner blowing directly on the wet spot for quick drying. When the carpet pile is completely dry, brush it gently to restore the natural direction of the pile.

New Booklet

"It's Easy to Care for Your Carpets and Rugs" is the title of a new booklet now being published by the American Carpet Institute.

This is a brand new updated version of the popular care booklet previously distributed.

With attractive four-color illustrations, the new booklet contains helpful information on regular care and cleaning, a spot removal chart, and tips on lengthening carpet life.

Finish Old Floors With New Carpet

If you're in the process of planning home remodeling, you may join the many homeowners who have discovered the economy of using carpet on old floors.

Replacement of worn floors, or resanding and refinishing, is an expensive item in home improvement budgets. Colorful and practical carpeting can eliminate the need for extensive repairs and the need for extensive pairs and in many cases, almost pay for itself with the savings thus realized.

Since carpeting is both a decorative item and a finished flooring material, you're really getting "two for the price of one" when you remodel your floor with carpet.

Slight cracks, discoloring and irregularities in most worn floors can be concealed with carpet used over padding which also provides a cushion for slightly uneven floors.

Before laying the carpet on worn floors, be sure that loose boards are made firm and that all nails are set flush with the floor. Squeaks in the old floor can often be eliminated by driving adjoining nails at an angle to form an "X" at the point of joists.

Bumpy ridges should be sanded down and small breaks or cracks filled with wood putty or quick-drying cement. A sheet of asphalt-impregnated kraft-paper or "building paper" placed under carpet and padding will help prevent dust coming up from any cracks.

MARVIN GREEN... Hockley county farmer had this to say about Solutions: "I really gave Liquid Fertilizers a test last year. After all the heavy rains we had, I went back and side-dressed my cotton with Liquids. I saw a big increase in production in comparison to what some of the other county farmers gathered who didn't use another application of fertilizer."

This is Green's second year to use Solutions. He uses the tool-bar mounted applicator-cultivator with front-mounted saddle-type barrels. With this type rig—Green added: "I was able to apply 50 acres or more per day of fertilizer. And another thing, I have never been able to get the results from other types of fertilizers that I have received from Liquid... with the saving in labor expense, plus the low initial cost of SOLUTIONS, I don't know why everyone doesn't use Liquid Fertilizers."

Read Ephesians 4:1-7.

The Lord said unto me, My grace is sufficient for thee: for my strength is made perfect in weakness. Most gladly therefore will I rather glory in my infirmities, that the power of Christ may rest upon me. (II Corinthians 12:9).

The realization of his weakness brought Paul to a complete surrender of his life to God. He came to his extremity and then discovered how to overcome that extremity. He tells us that strength came to him when he fully realized that he needed strength from an outside power. This new power he received was the grace of God.

We become strengthened—a great miracle of God's divine grace—when we pray for His presence and help.

We become stronger than our temptations when we pray for His power to overcome them. God's grace is sufficient.

Jesus said: "Watch and pray that ye enter not unto temptation." Paul said, "God is faithful who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation also make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it."

PRAYER

Our Father help us amid life's problems to trust in Thy presence that we may be more than conquerors; thru Jesus Christ Thy Son and our Redeemer. Amen.

Thought For The Day

We receive power from God in proportion to the surrender of our wills to Him.

When someone says, "Your Johnny's just like you," is it a compliment, or is it an accusation? Whether you like it or not, children do follow in their parents' footsteps.

Johnny learns that kindness and courtesy are virtues, because you are kind and courteous. He learns to love good books and music, because you love them. He learns, through your example, to speak truthfully.

And if going to church and church school regularly is also a part of your usual routine, Johnny will develop that habit just as he has these others.

Then it is a compliment when someone says, "Your Johnny's just like you," for you are doing all within your power to lead him in the right direction.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
