STATE COMMENDATION—Diana Solorzano, chief dispatcher with the Lynn County Sheriff's Dept., has been awarded a "Silent Hero" certificate of achievement for her work with the 9-1-1 emergency system. The award is for "outstanding accomplishments as a 9-1-1 call-taker," according to James D. Goerke, executive director of the Advisory Commission on State Emergency Communications.

City To Test Water Hydrants; Council Approves Auditor

Tahoka residents can expect city water to be a brownish color during the next two weeks, according to City Administrator Jerry Webster, who told The News that city workers would be flushing the 99 water hydrants in town beginning the latter part of this week.

Webster said it should take city workers approximately two weeks to test each water hydrant. "We just want city residents to be aware that their water will probably be brown, due to flushing out the lines as we test each hydrant," he said.

Webster informed city council members Monday evening that the water hydrants needed to be tested. In other business, the council looked at three proposals submitted for the 1995-96 city audit before voting to accept the proposal from Joe Hays of Tahoka. The council also voted to purchase some property just west of the Lynn County Pioneer Center on South 3rd Street to build a new office complex for the Tahoka Housing Authority. The office complex will be completely funded with grant funds from HUD.

In other action, councilmen approved two resolutions, both concerning the second year of two-year financial agreements with First National Bank to pay for a police vehicle and the city sewer machine.

Police Chief Randy Smith reported on the Police Department's activities for the month, and Jimmy Woodard gave a report on the Tahoka Volunteer Fire Dept.'s activities. Monthly bills were also approved.

Mayor Jim Solomon presided at the meeting. All council members were present, as well as the City Administrator and other city employees.

Jury Finds Tahoka Man Guilty In Fatal Stabbing

A 106th District Court jury Tuesday found Alwyn Wayne Hatchett, 23, guilty of first degree murder in the fatal stabbing of another Tahoka man, Richard Donell Payne, 32, on Feb. 11, 1995.

Testimony was being heard in the punishment phase of the trial Wednesday morning, when District Atty. Ricky Smith called several witnesses regarding Hatchett's reputation in the community. The jury is charged with determining the punishment for Hatchett, and was not expected to recommend a sentence until late Wednesday.

Representing the defendant in the trial is attorney Jay Napper of Lamesa.

In the course of the trial, it was brought out that Hatchett stabbed Payne in the 1200-block of N. 5th St. in Tahoka after the two men and a companion had just returned from a club in Slaton early that Saturday morning. Tahoka police officers found the victim lying in the street.

District Judge George Hansard presided over the trial.

In other law enforcement-related activity this week, sheriff's officers received a report that someone had stolen a Zenith color TV from the residence of Nelda Lopez in the east part of the county on County Rd. 26. The TV and control were valued at $349.

In jail during the week were two persons for driving while intoxicated and one for public intoxication.

Low Gas Pressure Prompts Late-Night Visitors In Tahoka

A mechanical failure causing low pressure in gas lines in Tahoka prompted late-night visits to many residences Monday. Approximately 30 Energas employees began knocking on doors after a mechanical failure at 8 p.m. Monday night caused a pressure drop in the gas lines, checking with residents to make sure pilot lights were still lit on gas furnaces and water heaters.

According to Weldon Self, area manager for Energas, employees worked until approximately 3 a.m. in the morning "when people quit answering their doors." He said 14 employees returned Tuesday to attempt to contact the remaining residences affected by the low pressure.

"Of the 1,040 meters in Tahoka, there were about 600 meters affected by the pressure drop. Of those 600 that we checked, we found most of them okay with no problems," he said, adding that 125 meters were turned off because nobody was home or didn't answer their door at the late hour.

He reminded anyone who had a pink notice placed on their door to call Energas to check their gas lines, or to call if they had any questions about Monday night. The phone number for Energas is 1-800-562-5727.

Self said this was the first time in 30 years that a mechanical failure such as this had affected the Tahoka area, adding that the problem had been corrected and the company does not anticipate any further problems with the pressure in the gas lines here.

County Commissioners Approve Auditor

Lynn County Commissioners met in routine session Oct. 14, unanimously approving Joe Hays as auditor for the county's 1996 financial audit.

In other business, commissioners discussed the cookstove in the jail kitchen, but took no action. Barbara Cook with Tahoka EMS met with the court to discuss a CPR certification class that the hospital was sponsoring. The cost to the county for persons from the Sheriff's Department to attend the class would be $150, but commissioners decided the county would not offer this service at this time.

Monthly bills and officials reports were approved as presented. Judge J.F. Brandon presided at the meeting with commissioners Margaret Stone, Sandy Cox and J.T. Miller attending.

Shallowater Too Tough; Bulldogs Lose 37-8

The Shallowater Mustangs, big, tough and talented and just a few students below the AAA classification they were in until this year, handed the Tahoka Bulldogs a 37-8 defeat to end Tahoka's run of six straight victories this season.

The loss left Tahoka at 6-1 for the year, 1-1 in district, and awaiting a strong Seagraves team which comes to Kelley Field Friday night. Seagraves beat Plains 21-13 Friday to go 2-0 in district and 5-2 for the year.

Shallowater had three touchdown passes from QB Shaun Cody and led 23-0 at halftime. In the second quarter, the Mustangs were driving at the Bulldog 25 when one of Cody's passes was intercepted by Davy Stone, who returned the ball 53 yards to the Mustangs 30. But four incomplete passes turned the ball back over with seconds remaining in the half.

Tahoka avoided a shutout with a touchdown in the last quarter when QB Brent Raindl hit Rocky Moore on a 30-yard pass. Reggie Moore ran for two points. Reggie Moore's 48-yard run a few plays earlier set up the scoring pass. He was Tahoka's leading rusher with 56 yards on three carries. The strong Shallowater defense bottled up Dustin Burleson, who had been averaging more than 100 yards per game. He had 31 yards in 15 carries.

The Lynn County Hospital District Board of Directors met last Thursday evening for a routine meeting, and discussed repair work to the exterior of the hospital facility with architect Ken Condray. After some discussion, directors voted to take bids on replacing the windows in the hospital building.

In other business, attorney Cal Huffaker reported to the board on the voting rights update, saying the hospital will in the future need to educate the public on the cumulative voting method which will be used in the next board election.

Monthly bills and the financial statement were approved as presented. Present at the meeting were Hospital Administrator Louise Landers and directors Virginia Griffing, Peggy Morton, Jimmy Dorman and Norman Ledbetter. Directors Boyd Barnes, Mike Rivas and Billy Tomlinson were absent.

IF EVER I am driving to Terracor Terealis (wherever that is) or if I'm on a ship headed there and the skipper gets lost, I may be able to consult a map which sort of shows where it is.

You see, I have a map showing this place, only the legend is in Spanish, or maybe Latin, or possibly French. And I can't show this map to just anybody, because it involves lowering my pants.

No, it's not tattooed on me. I bought these pants and not until later did I discover that a two-inch band inside the waistline has this map on it. It's not all that handy to use (or to look at). I'm not sure of the language, and I didn't recognize the land masses, except it sort of resembles South America.

It labels such places and islands as Terracor Terealis, fortuna del furgo, Golfo de S. Sebañbano, Baja dux meadaus and Croca vingues.

In order, I figure these things mean: Earth territory, a place where you can make a fortune in furs, a place where you can play golf with the great Mexican pro S. Sebañbano, a bay full of ducks from the meadows, and a crock of vinegar.

These sound like great places to go on my next vacation, but I'll need to be sure and wear the right pair of pants.

(I locked the door to my office while I was writing this, because there's no way anyone who walked in while I was copying those names would have believed any explanation I offered).

Tahoka Ex Is Volunteer In Poland Mission Trip

Tom Young, a 1983 Tahoka High School graduate and son of Joe and Nedra Young of Ruidoso, N.M., formerly of Tahoka, traveled to Poland on a mission trip last September where he met with local volunteers in an effort to supply some of Poland's poorest farmers with livestock and livelihood.
Young is an attorney in Wichita, Kansas, and an active volunteer with The Heifer Project International (HPI). Formed in Puerto Rico in 1944, HPI has helped more than one million impoverished families in 110 countries around the world become more self-sufficient through the gifts of livestock and training. To farmers around the world, HPI has provided heifers, water buffalo, goats, sheep, llamas, donkeys, mules, camels, ducks, pigs, rabbits, bees, chicks, guinea pigs and geese.
The goal is to provide families a source of food rather than short-term relief. "The great thing is that not only do you give them a means of meeting their immediate needs, but also a trade, training for children to carry on the work, creation of a local economy, and a sense of sharing, for recipients agree to give the animal's first female offspring to another family," said Young.
"This way, the benefits of improved nutrition and income spread through the village or region over many years," explained Young. "In addition, women especially benefit in African countries, for example, where HPI titles the property in their names, so they gain status by becoming property owners," he added.
Young is an active member of the First United Methodist Church in Wichita, and went to Poland because Kansas Methodists have been strong supporters of the 5000 Methodists there. In Warsaw, Young's group formalized their mission with the Polish Methodists, which agreed to help sponsor HPI there. The project Young worked on was to develop pig production on family farms in Elk, an area in Northeastern Poland.
He toured 6-8 farms to meet with potential HPI recipients, and said that farms there were small and unable to compete with Western markets. "I was shocked by the lack of development - no fences, cows on leashes grazing in circles, and then next to an old tractor you would see an ox-drawn plow in use," Young observed.

With such conditions, the people there placed priority on developing the land for the future, not on living conditions, he said. The home of one family he visited housed five people to a room, with a floor full of holes. "Yet, they were very grateful and cooked a lavish feast for me - they were surprised that Americans were actually visiting them," Young said.
His trip to Poland lasted a little over 10 days, some of which he spent in Warsaw, which he described as beautiful although most of it was destroyed during World War I and rebuilt.
Another trip to Poland may be in the future, but in the meantime, Young says he is glad to talk to anyone who is interested in learning about HPI. Contributions can be made to purchase an animal, a "share" of an animal, or seedlings. For example, a donation of $500 buys a heifer, $120 buys a sheep, pig or goat, or $20 buys a flock of chicks. These donations, he says, help another community or family get a start on becoming self-sufficient.
Young is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. B.A. Young and Mr. and Mrs. C.W. Roberts, all of Tahoka. After he returned from the mission trip last September, the gift to his grandparents at Christmas was a flock of chickens donated in their names for the HPI program in Poland. "They were surprised and honored by this unusual gift idea," said Young's mother, Nedra, who was in Tahoka this week.
After Young returned from the mission trip in Poland, he became missions chairman at the First United Methodist Church in Wichita, where he continues to be involved in various mission activities.

JOHN CURRY Former Tahokan Is Manager At Del Rio Luby's

John Curry, son of John and DaOnne Curry of Bryan, formerly of Tahoka, was recently named manager of Luby's Cafeteria in Del Rio, located at the Plaza del Sol Mall on Avenue F (Highway 90 West).
In July, Luby's Cafeteria Inc. bought 22 Wyatt's Cafeterias, including the one in Del Rio. Curry has been with the Luby's restaurant chain for seven years and moved to Del Rio from Santa Fe, N.M. He has worked in four different Luby's Cafeterias, where he received outstanding assistant manager awards.
Curry graduated from Angelo State University in 1989 with a BBA degree in finance. He married Tammy Halfmann, and they have two sons, Chantz, 3-1/2 years old, and Ethan, 1.
"It's a tough job (manager), but it's been good. You have to spend a lot of hours away from home, and holidays don't mean anything," Curry said. "We use to come to Del Rio for Super Bowl when I was in college and I have fished here a lot. We are very excited about being in Del Rio and want to invite all our Tahoka friends to come by and see us at Luby's," he added.
Luby's had a private ribbon cutting ceremony and luncheon on Tuesday, Oct. 1 with 750 Del Rio and Acuna residents attending. The cafeteria opened the following day to the public.

Rotary News

The Tahoka Rotary Club met for their weekly meeting at the Tahoka United Methodist Church last Thursday, Oct. 17. Local Rotarian and lawyer Gerald Huffaker gave an informative program about the legal profession to highlight Vocational Service month which Rotarians observe each October.

In Rotary there are four avenues of service: Club, Vocational, Community and International. Vocational service fosters and supports the promotion of the highest ethical standards in all professions, including fidelity to employers, employees, and associates, and fair treatment of those with whom one has business or professional relations. It recognizes the worthiness to society of all useful occupations, and encourages the contributions of one's vocational talents to the problems and needs of society.

Huffaker told the Rotary club how lawyers serve on grievance committees to help keep their profession honorable and ethical. He explained pro bono work, where lawyers donate many hours of work for people unable to afford legal representation. Trial lawyers are "champions for the consumer" by making items safer for the purchaser, and preventing tragedies from occurring. If someone is harmed, the legal system provides a "right with a remedy." Contingent fees help victims of medical malpractice receive appropriate legal representation when they have been injured. Often these cases can cause a legal firm to have over $200,000 in out-of-pocket expenses before they even go to trial.

Huffaker told the Rotarians he is very proud of being a lawyer, even when they are much maligned by others. He thinks that the American jury system is the best system that we could possibly have. The club members gained new insight into the work of a lawyer and the vocational service provide.

Tahoka Municipal Court Judge Jerry Ford was welcomed as the newest member of the Tahoka Rotary Club. Visiting from Tahoka High School were Kristi Chapa and Courtney Bailey.

Service News

Navy Chief Petty Officer Douglas A. Darwactor, whose wife, Debbie, is the daughter of Peggy and Bobby R. Jolly St. of Tahoka is currently halfway through a six-month deployment to the Mediterranean, Adriatic and Red seas aboard the guided missile cruiser USS Gettysburg.

Darwactor is one of more than 350 Sailors aboard the ship who departed their home port of Mayport, Fla., in support of the NATO-peace implementation forces operating in the Mediterranean and Adriatic seas. Darwactor's ship has been providing air defense for troops ashore in Bosnia, and performing joint exercises with the Spanish Navy, and Israeli forces.

Darwactor's ship recently transited the Suez Canal and into the Red Sea to provide air defense and Tomahawk missile support to the USS Enterprise Battle Group, operating in the Persian Gulf region.

Darwactor's ship is one of the most powerful ships ever put to sea. The computer-based AEGIS weapons system is the heart of the ship's war-fighting capability. It centers around a powerful radar that enables the crew to detect, track and fire on more than 100 targets at a time.

So far during the deployment Darwactor has visited France, Israel, Crete and Spain.

The 1981 graduate of McComb High School of McComb, Ohio, joined the Navy in November 1982.

Early Detection Increases Breast Cancer Survival

October is National Breast Cancer Awareness Month, and the American Cancer Society is encouraging women to learn everything they can about breast cancer.

Breast cancer is the most prevalent form of cancer among women, and it is second only to lung cancer in its deadliness. An estimated 184,300 new cases of breast cancer will be diagnosed in women during 1996. About 44,300 women will die of the disease this year.

Risk factors include: age over 40, personal or family history of breast cancer, and never had children or had children late in life.

But there is hope. Through education and early detection, survival can be increased greatly. For breast cancers that are detected early enough, the survival rate approaches 100 percent.

The Society recommends that women have a screening mammogram by age 40; women 40 to 49 should have a mammogram every 1-2 years; asymptomatic women age 50 and over should have a mammogram every year. Also, a doctor should conduct a breast examination every three years for women 20 to 40 and every year for those over 40. The Society also recommends monthly breast self-examination for women 20 years and older.

For more information on breast cancer detection and treatment, contact the Lubbock American Cancer Society Office, (806) 792-7126.

the center. The Tahoka High School Student Council continues their "hole-in-one" contest throughout the varsity athletic home events, with all proceeds to benefit the center, and the elementary school's "Pennies for the Principal" fund-raiser was just successfully completed.

DQ WANTED: LOCAL STAR

Dairy Queen has been part of Texas and Lynn County for quite some time. We appreciate the relationships we've developed over the years.

We, at Chapman Dairy Queen Companies are excited to be part of Lynn County and Tahoka. We have had some fine crew members in the brief time we have owned the Tahoka store. However, we believe, as we think you do, that the store is capable of bigger and better things. It only needs one thing -- You!

Who are you? You are a local person who enjoys a fast paced, people contact job, where you can work with local folks of all ages, help get young people started in the right direction (work wise), and generally would enjoy the opportunity to be part of helping build something special. You don't mind getting your hands dirty, and you can have tough work conversation if need be. You know the ins and outs of the food business and like it anyway! Overall you are a ball of fire looking for a woodpile to burn up.

What would such a job pay? Running this unit, as we described above will pay a minimum of $1500 a month, and perhaps more, depending upon your experience, in base salary alone. You also have the opportunity to earn a monthly bonus. Last month, 60% of our unit managers made a $200.00 bonus or more, so it is achievable! You get paid vacation, the option to participate in STARBRIDGE sickness and accident plan, and meal discounts.

Come on Star, we know you're out there.

News from the Better Business Bureau

Authorities report that Canadian "telesharks" are busy peddling fraudulent sweepstakes and prize offers to Americans. Telemarketers are offering bogus prizes such as boats, diamond jewelry or cash to victims who agree to purchase pens, vitamins and other items or agree to prepay taxes, shipping and handling charges, or "transfer fees" to receive the prize. Beware of phone calls claiming you have won a prize, especially if asked to send money up-front, and never give out a credit card number to collect the prize or to enter a sweepstakes. Reputable sweepstakes companies notify winners by certified mail or courier and do not require an up-front fee of any kind.

Canada also has advance-fee loan brokers involved in the sale of offshore lottery tickets that are scamming Americans. Remember that selling or purchasing foreign lottery tickets through the mail is illegal.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Sir/Madam:
 I have volunteered to sponsor Lynn County as part of the Texas GenWeb Project. The Texas GenWEB Project is a part of a much larger effort to get as much genealogical information on the internet as is possible, on a county-by-county level.

I have significant roots in Lynn County, Texas. My great grandparents, Harry Crie and Mattie (Martha) Adair Crie, owned the Lynn County News right around the turn of the century. My grandmother, Julia Lincoln Crie Clayton, had an article published in the Lynn County News about early life in Lynn County in 1956.

The web page for Lynn County has the following information that is available:

1. A main page which includes web sites relating to other Lynn County on line resources and Texas resources in general.
2. A "Lookups/References" Page, which includes a bibliography of Lynn County materials and the e-mail addresses of people that have access to those materials and are willing to volunteer to do lookups.
3. A "Queries" Page, which allows people to place requests for information about ancestors in Lynn County.
4. "Surnames" Page, which is a list of surnames that people are researching along with their e-mail address, so that people researching the same name can easily get in contact with each other.

I am hoping that by publishing this letter in your newspaper, I can generate interest in Lynn County both from a support level and as an available resource for people researching their roots (now known as 'rooters')!

The kind of help that I could really use is to have a contact at a local library or genealogical society that would be willing to do some lookups. This would be done on an "as time is available" basis. I am also a volunteer with "a life," and while genealogy is a part of my life, it is prioritized like everything else is.

Also if there is a contact in the county courthouse that would be available to do lookups, that would be a tremendous help. Most 'rooters' understand that there are fees associated with doing courthouse research. If someone could let me know what the fees are and what the conditions are for doing lookups in county records, I would most definitely appreciate it.

I am very interested in hearing from anyone that could provide information about my own ancestors: my great grandparents, Harry Crie and Mattie Adair Crie; and my grandparents, Sumner Mason Clayton and Julia Crie Clayton. I would also love to hear from any descendants of Richard Harding Adair and Elizabeth Kennedy Adair or Edward Crie and Carrie Isabel Griswold Crie.

Last but not least, here are some web addresses for those who would like to take a look at the Lynn County GenWeb Pages or a few other genealogical resources:

In Teaching, Coaching

by Robin Martin
THIS Growl Staff

When wondering about financial endeavors or investment opportunities, one may want to ask their stockbroker, financial advisor... or coach. If, that is, you are acquainted with coach/stockbroker/government teacher Brent John.

Coach John, a recent addition to the Bulldog coaching staff, is unlike others in his field. He attended college at Texas Tech majoring in Finance with a minor in Accounting.

Upon graduation and with a Bachelor of Business Administration under his belt, he obtained a job in Houston as a stockbroker. However, burned out and bored after a year, John decided to add a little more excitement to his suit-and-tie life and was led to coaching.

He returned to school to earn his Secondary Education Certification and became certified to teach Social Studies Composite and Business Administration. He has been teaching for five years.

Born in Kingsville, Texas into a close family, as a child John moved to different cities often. From grades 7-12 he attended Pampa High School.

Coach John was recently married to the other new Coach John on the T.L.S.D. coaching staff. He met Shari Flowers while they were both working in Lamesa and they married July 20, 1996. He has two step-sons, Kellen, 11; and Kole, 7.

Coach John says the fondest memory of his high school days is when he hit a game-winning, three-run homerun on his last at-bat of the last baseball game of his senior year.

Trashing the U.S. is a current issue that Coach John says he feels strongly about. He is a patriotic man and feels that U.S. citizens should stay united and support their government actions.

In driving back and forth from Lamesa, Coach John's general impression of Tahoka from Highway 87 is not very good, but he notes that "once you drive around the town, it is really a great place."

His music collection consists of the Eagles, Lynard Skynard, and some country. Coach John likes to eat the "usual junk food" and loves cupcakes.

Juggling is a secret talent of Coach John's and his pet peeve is know-it-alls who are truly ignorant. If he could, he would like to go to the 2000 Olympics in Australia. His biggest fear is that something will happen to his wife and boys.

Coach John's passion is baseball, and along with his head coaching position here in that sport, his duties will include varsity football offensive coordinator, and senior class sponsor. He also teaches World Geography.

8th Grade

by Gary Gandy

The 8th grade Bulldogs played an entire game against Shallowater without a single turnover.

The final score was 0-28, but Coach Darren Haseloff felt that this was one of their better games.

"Offensively, C.J. Sims and Tyson Harris each had one of their best games," he said. "Also, our defense really came together this game."

The Mustangs outnumbered the Dogs 30 players to 15.

The Dogs travel to Seagraves tonight to face off against the Eagles following the seventh grade game.

7th Grade

by Amanda Fuentes

The Tahoka Middle School seventh grade football team is now 3-0-2 after a 6-6 tie against Shallowater last Thursday night.

Cory Gardner scored the 6 points for the Bulldogs with a 2 yard run. He had a total of 72 yards passing. Gardner completed 52 of those yards to Mark Long.

"I was pleased by the way they came out and played," said Coach Darren Haseloff. "Shallowater had big kids and we did well to hold them to 6 points."

The Bulldogs will play at Seagraves tonight.

Eagles Again Lose Close Game, 21-18

O'Donnell continued to have hard luck in football this season, again playing well but losing a close game Friday night. The Eagles led for most of the game and were tied with Lorenzo in the last quarter until the Hornets won the game 21-18 with a 38-yard field goal.

Tatum Bessie scored on runs of 1 and 8 yards for O'Donnell in the first quarter and Felix Perez ran 13 for the final Eagle TD in the fourth. The Eagles tried two kicks and a run for extra points, but all three failed. O'Donnell had more yards and more first downs (18-13) than Lorenzo, but went 0-7 for the year.

TS&GCB Ballots Available Here

Ballots are available from now until Oct. 29, 1996 in the offices of County Extension Agents within the 111 county referendum area for any producer who does not receive a ballot in the mail for the Texas Sheep & Goat Commodity Board (TS&GCB) Biennial Election. Terms will expire for one director in each district on December 31, 1996. Ernest Woodward (Dist. 1), Perry Bushong (Dist. 2), and Billy Roeder (Dist. 3) are the directors of the nine-member board whose terms are expiring.

Ballots have been mailed to all known producers with the hope of increased participation. The current Board urges all sheep and goat producers within the referendum area to vote in the district of their legal residence or the one where their operating headquarters is located. A map on the back of the ballot should answer any questions regarding the district producers should vote in.

Leopards Lose To Meadow

New Home gave Meadow fits, but the Broncos scored 12 unanswered points in the last quarter to win a district 5-A six-man game at Meadow Friday night, 36-22.

New Home trailed by just 2 points at the half, and by the same margin after three, when each team added 8 points. The Leopards now are 3-4 for the year and 0-2 in district.

New Home's first touchdown was an 11-yard pass from Travis Smith to Ernie Caballero. Josh Gandy scored on a 1-yard plunge for the Leopards in the second, and Jimmy Neveras added 2 points. Jody Clem ran 8 for a score in the third and Neveras added 2 points.

Harvesting activity on the High Plains continues to expand. According to Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., producers making use of harvest aid products appear to have the upper hand on preventing late-season aphid build-ups.

"Essentially fields with the highest potential for late season aphid build-ups are later maturing and have some new growth on them," says PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson.

According to recent estimates, only about 35 percent of the area crop has been treated with harvest aids at this time.

Johnson adds that avoiding potential aphid problems will help reduce the chances of a repeat of 1995's limited sticky cotton problem.

"For the individual producer it is important to be as proactive as possible in every aspect of crop production," notes Johnson. "In addition to other tangible benefits, timely harvest through the use of harvest aids will significantly reduce the potential for sticky cotton."

Sticky cotton causes serious problems for manufacturers. If allowed, sticky cotton could also reduce the over-all demand for High Plains cotton that producers have worked so hard to create.

So far less than ten percent of the area has been harvested and the USDA Cotton Classing office at Lubbock has run a total of 44,624 samples from the 1996 crop.

Quality-wise, early returns exhibit a fairly typical pattern. Almost 30 percent have been called barky so far, which indicates fields being stripped a little too quickly.

Other quality factors appear to be holding up very well. Average values are shown below:

Leaf Grade	3.24
Color Grade: 21 -	46.9%
31 -	42.5%
Micronaire	40.18
Strength	28.86 g/Tex
Length	34.60

Anyone interested in learning more about the way cotton is classified or how a bale is assigned various quality values can attend one of two meetings being held October 29 and 30.

The Lubbock Cotton Classing Office Growers Advisory Committee will meet Tuesday, October 29 at 10:00 a.m. at the USDA Classing Office in Lubbock, 4316 Ironton.

The Lamesa Cotton Classing Office Growers Advisory Committee will meet at 9:00 a.m., Wednesday, October 30 at the USDA Classing Office in Lamesa.

Both committees will be given reports on office operations as well as being provided a tour of the facilities. Producers who have never had the opportunity to go through either of the two offices are invited to attend.

Can Lozenges Help Battle A Cold?

They can if they are zinc lozenges according to a report in the Annals of Internal Medicine. Researchers from the Cleveland Clinic report that volunteers who sucked on zinc lozenges while they had a cold recovered nearly twice as fast as those given dummy lozenges. Too much zinc can be harmful - 150 mg. daily for several months can lead to immune system problems and anemia. In this study, participants took 65 mg. of zinc per day for less than five days.

Boll Weevil Diapause Works

Right now only 55.3% (about $504,088.23) of total assessments have been collected in Lynn County.

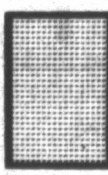

Your participation in this program can make the difference between marginal control and a knock-out punch. We should stand together against this common foe, and not let petty differences divide us.

Unfortunately, because a large number of producers HAVE NOT paid their assessments, the benefits may not be as dramatic or as widespread as we had hoped.

This map shows the location of fields in Lynn County that have been treated so far this year. Most of the people farming these fields have paid their 1996 assessments.

Everyone in Lynn County will receive some benefit from this year's program in 1997.

TEXAS COMPTROLLER OF PUBLIC ACCOUNTS

Agricultural Sales Tax Exemptions

Farming and ranching in Texas are big business. In 1995, Texas farming income was $5.9 billion and from livestock was $6.6 billion. Costs are increasing, but there are ways to save money; being familiar with the state sales tax laws and exemptions could be beneficial.

Who Qualifies for Exemptions?

Farmers and ranchers are not automatically exempt from payment of sales tax. Many goods used to produce agricultural products for sale are exempt from sales and use tax.

A farm or ranch is land used, either wholly or in part, in the production of crops, livestock, and/or other agricultural products held for sale in the regular course of business. Examples include: commercial greenhouses, feed lots, dairy farms, poultry farms, commercial orchards, and similar agricultural operations.

Original producers who also process, pack, or market their agricultural products may qualify for an exemption on machinery and equipment used for these purposes. To qualify, an original producer is required to produce at least 50 percent and own at least 95 percent of the products that are ultimately processed, packed, or marketed.

For more information on sales taxes, write to the Comptroller of Public Accounts, Austin, Texas 78774. Or call us toll-free at 1/800-252-5555.

Exemptions According to Use

The following are exempt when used only on a commercial farm or ranch: (To document the exemption, the purchaser must give the seller a completed exemption certificate.)

- Fertilizers, fungicides, insecticides, herbicides, defoliant, and drying agents used only in agriculture production;
- All medications, tonics, restoratives, or other therapeutic preparations (i.e., vaccines and drenches) for farm or ranch animals;
- Machinery or equipment used in the production of food, grass, feed, and other agricultural products, or in building or maintaining farm and ranch roads, and water facilities; and
- Feed for animals being held for sale. However, no exemption certificate is necessary when buying feed for farm or ranch animals or for wildlife.

Examples of Exempt Machinery and Equipment

- Exempt machinery and equipment, tractors or other machinery, hand tools, baling wire, and binder's twine used on a farm or ranch; lubricants for farm machinery and other farm or ranch vehicles not licensed for highway use; nuts, bolts, washers, and other hardware used on a farm or ranch. Other exemptions include:
- Items specifically designed to be assembled into a farm or ranch machine, such as parts of a pumping system or portable irrigation system;
 - Farm or ranch machinery or repair and replacement parts used exclusively on a farm or ranch (e.g., tractor tires, tires used on vehicles not licensed for highway use, and tires specifically designated by the manufacturer for farm use only);
 - Fence wire, fence posts, pens, gates, vehicle-mounted fertilizer spreaders, cattle guards, and chutes used in raising livestock or producing agricultural products;
 - Items installed as part of an underground irrigation system on a farm or ranch for use in the preparation of agricultural products for sale;
 - Automated laying houses, greenhouses, and other structures that are designed for a specific agricultural purpose and cannot be economically used for other purposes without major structural changes (hay barns, machine shops, livestock barns, etc., are not exempt from tax as farm or ranch equipment); and
 - Computers and/or the servicing of computers and software used on farms or ranches and specifically designed to aid the production of plants, animals, or food (e.g., computer-operated feed mixing devices). Computers and software used for record-keeping do not qualify for exemption.

Fuels Tax Refunds

Fuels tax paid on gasoline or diesel fuel used for non-highway purposes can be refunded. Request a refund claim form 06-106 from the Comptroller's office. The toll-free number is 1-800-252-1383. Refund requests must be filed within one year of the date of purchase or the first use of fuel from storage.

Migrant Student Performance Is Recognized Here

Tahoka Independent School District is among only 161 Texas public school districts recognized for high levels of performance by migrant students, Superintendent David Hutton announced today. Tahoka Independent School District was commended for having an attendance rate of 94 percent or higher for all migrant students and for having at least 80 percent of migrant students graduating from high school or being promoted to the next grade. Criteria for the commendation were based on 1994-95 PEIMS data (Public Education Information Management System) with districts divided by migrant population into five categories: 1,000 migrant students or more, 501 to 999, 100 to 500, 25 to 100, and less than 25 migrant students.

In addition to district recognition, campuses were rated as exceptional, excelling, promising, or acknowledged, based on the number of migrant students taking the TAAS tests in grades 3 through 8 and 10 and their performance on the examination.

Texas has the second-largest migrant education program in the nation in numbers of students served. During the 1994-95 school year, more than 134,000 Texas students were educated through migrant education programs in 390 districts and the 20 regional education service centers. About one-third of these students migrated to 42 other states where they were able to continue their education.

Pages From The Past...

by Vondell Elliott
The following excerpts were taken from past issues of The Lynn County News.

Highjacker Gave These Men A Scare

Hijackers! Police! Help!
These were the exclamations, unuttered but real nevertheless, mentally made by three young business men of Tahoka as they unexpectedly came upon the form of a man lying across their pathway in the vicinity of Dr. Townes' residence as they were on the way from their respective places of business to their homes about nine o'clock last Friday night.

Emory Nance of the Security State Bank and W.R. Arnold and E.E. King of the Hogn Dry Goods Company were the three men who had the exciting experience. Suddenly coming upon the prostrate form, the three men just as suddenly stopped. They are each brave men but they were unable, in the instant of time at their disposal, to figure out just why a man would be lying there at that time of night. They therefore shield off and gave him a wide berth. Just how fast they made tracks up the street will never be known by any human being, all of them believing thoroughly in the "safety first" slogan, but somewhere further up the street they gathered turning their searchlight on the set.

"The poor fellow is probably drunk," they reasoned among themselves. Therefore they resolved to get a flashlight and investigate. They did so. But when they approached the place where the man had been lying, he was gone. Not over three minutes had elapsed since they had discovered him. They instituted a search throughout the neighborhood, but no man could be found. Again turning their searchlight on the ground where the man had lain, they found a long, steel-jacketed shell. A hijacker sure enough, they all concluded; and their conclusion seems plausible.

Possibly the fellow was waiting an opportunity to do so; they were to "stick-em-up," but the three brave young business men gave him no opportunity to do so; they were too fleet of foot. If you happen to notice a few white hairs among their auburn locks, gentle reader, don't charge it up to age but to their never-to-be-forgotten experience last Friday night.

Three Men Tie In Coal Guess

Three men guessed within five pounds of the weight of the big lump of coal which has been on exhibit at the Briley Grain Company the past three months. They each guessed its weight at 3,050 pounds, and when Dean Nowlin weighed the lump on last Thursday afternoon, it tipped the beam at just 3045 pounds. The three lucky men were Lloyd Preston of Dixie, J.A. Wise of Wilson, and J.H. Covington, principal of the public school at Lynn. Having tied, the three men shared equally in the value of the coal.

Mr. Nowlin stated to the News man that about fourteen hundred guesses were made, and they took a wide range. The lowest guess was 190 lbs. made by a farmer living near Tahoka. The highest guess was 13,000 pounds... Most of the guesses ranged from 2000 to 3000 pounds.

BBB Report

Executives and business owners are warned by the Better Business Bureau to check out carefully any pitches for "Who's Who" type publications. Before agreeing to anything, contact your local library and Better Business Bureau to request information about the publication or publisher.

A reputable publisher will tell you who subscribes to its publication and the number of volumes published in prior years. If the subscribers to the director are mainly limited to those whose names appear in it, you probably are dealing with a vanity publication. Also, businesses are warned to watch for invoices for ad space in familiar, locally distributed yellow pages directories. The BBB warns that some of these invoices are actually solicitations for listings in alternative business directories that differ from the well-known yellow pages. Companies should alert their accounting or bill-paying departments to be on the lookout for disguised solicitations and suspicious bills. Call the BBB at 763-0459 or (800) 687-7890 to check them out.

THE $67 PER BALE ADVANTAGE FOR COTTON PRODUCERS

More than $67 per bale paid in cash for the 1995 crop.

Your local and regional cotton cooperatives offer a vertically integrated system that takes your cotton from the field to the textile mill. It's a system that adds valuable income to your farming operation. Ginning, warehousing, marketing, textile manufacturing, and cottonseed processing all work to increase the value of your cotton crop every step of the way. For the 1995 cotton crop, combined cash payments from the local and regional cotton cooperatives averaged $67.29 per bale, over and above the value of your lint cotton. Thus, the more cotton you send through the cooperative system, the more you can add to your net profits. Consider the cooperative advantage for your cotton crop - it's just good business. See your local or regional cotton cooperative today.

Card of Thanks

Thank you for all the beautiful cards, gifts and for coming to our 50th anniversary party. Nothing greater on this earth than friends.
Dale & Ethelyn Zant

We would like to thank the Wilson Volunteer Fire Department and all the friends who helped us out during the fire accident we had.

Thanks so much.
H.A., Pearl & Eya Gickhorn

Thank you, Tahoka Volunteer Fire Department, for your quick response to our emergency on Monday, Oct. 21. We appreciate not only your thorough work but also your calm professionalism. We are grateful that no major damage resulted - but we are even more grateful to have your department "on call" for us and for the community. Thanks again!

First United Methodist Church, Tahoka

We would like to thank the two policemen and the EMS team for their quick response to our 911 call when I had my heart attack. Also thanks to Dr. Freitag and the Lynn County Hospital staff - everyone was so efficient. Thanks so much for the cards, prayers and visits. May God bless each of you.
Dwayne & Odell Vaughan

Words cannot express our appreciation for the kindness shown to our family due to the loss of our Mother. So many of you showed your love for Mother through flowers, food, memorials and kind words. A special thanks to Tahoka Family Flowers for the beautiful floral arrangements. To Jack Miller for his special service and to our Aunt Rena Edwards who, out of her love for us, opened her home to all of Mother's family. For all who participated in the church service and the pallbearers, we are so grateful to you. It meant so much to us to bring Mother home for the last time and to have the love for her shine so bright.

"Daddy's Gone"

Written by Jennifer D. Ceniseros
October 13, 1996 the death of my father Robert E. Ceniseros was claimed. He died peacefully and was kept in bed. I, Jennifer, cried to pieces, the next day was going to be my birthday. This was the worst day of my life. I miss you Daddy!
