COTTON ALL OVER THE PLACE—This is a typical scene around gins in Bailey county this week. After the weather cleared up last week, the cotton dried out and the run to the gins began. Cotton trailers filled the lots, around gins and hands rushed back for more cotton. By the middle of the week over 27,000 bales had been ginned in the county, which is still a far cry from the 80,000 total predicted. This picture was taken on the lot at the Needmore Gin, though a similar shot could have been made at any gin in Bailey County. (Journal Photo and Engraving)

Controversy Rages Over Co-op Plan To Build Generation Plant

A petition is being circulated among members of 13 rural electric cooperatives of the Pahrhandle, High Plains and South Plains. The petition opposes a charter which would enable the cooperatives to build a generation and transmission plant to supply the cooperative members with power.

About 150 members have signed the petition against the generation plant. The 13 cooperatives have an estimated 264,000 total membership.

27,618 Bales Ginned In Bailey County

Cotton ginning in the county is reported at 27,618 bales, with all gins reporting with the exception of Bula and Enoch's. This figure includes both Bula and Enoch's bales ginned up to last Wednesday, November 22.

A check on bales ginned by this time in 1940 showed 20,082 while in November 1941, only 2,318 had been ginned due to continued wet weather.

plan for building such a power generation facility.

The charter which has been applied for would allow the cooperatives to hire consulting engineers to investigate the possibilities of such a plant and report whether or not the move would be to the advantage of the cooperatives.

Before submitting a request to the Rural Electrification Administration for loan funds for financing the construction of such a plant, it would be necessary to incorporate and secure a charter, employ an engineering firm and make an engineering study to determine what the cost would be and compare this cost with the cost of purchased power," according to Lancaster.

After this had been accomplished, an application for a loan could be filed with the Rural Electrification Administration.

After this, the administration would make a loan only under the conditions that no adequate and dependable source of power is available to meet consumers' needs or where the rates offered by existing power sources would result in higher cost of power for the consumers than the cost of the plant or where the plant would be necessary to protect the security and effectiveness of REA-financed systems.

"If a loan is made for a generation and transmission plant," Lancaster said, "it will not cost the taxpayers 'one cent' because the money is only BORROWED and will be repaid with interest."

The petition says the plant would cost the cooperatives $15 million. Lancaster said he does not know where this figure came from, as no cost estimate has been figured by any engineering firm employed by the cooperative.

"If someone else has made a survey, we wish they would let us see it," Lancaster said, "as it might save us the money it is going to cost to hire an engineering firm to do it."

The petition is question reads: "Opposing a federal loan for the construction of generating plants.

"Whereas: There is no need for public or REA electric generating plants in our area, and "Whereas: Private utility companies are amply taking care of present and future electric power needs, and at a lower cost than a Rural Electric Cooperative generating plant would do, and

"Whereas: The rural population is decreasing and will decline further in the future, and "Whereas: the REA is limited by state law to areas of operation, and there will be a constant

Christmas Season Begins In M'shoe

Christmas season began this week in Muleshoe with emphasis on the religious aspect of the holiday season.

Christmas street lights were lighted on November 23, and will be lighted each evening through New Year's Eve.

The new life-size Nativity scene was erected on the southeast side of the courthouse square, and it, too, will be lighted each evening during the season.

The Nativity represents the theme of this year's Chamber-sponsored Christmas program. It is a work of art, of startling realism, and should bring joy to the many who will view it during the holidays. The scene covers a large area of the southeast courthouse lawn, and already has been seen by thousands passing on the Morton highway.

CHRISTMAS PARADE
The annual Christmas parade will be at 1:30 p.m. Saturday, December 2, and will feature marching bands, floats competing for $250 in prize money, and the long-awaited arrival of Santa Claus.

Santa will visit with the children after the parade, and will

Your Dollars Will Stretch

Monday is Dollar Day in Muleshoe.

Many of the city's merchants are offering special prices on their merchandise during the monthly special sale.

Yes, Christmas is really getting very near—only 18 more shopping days 'til Christmas—so this is the time to be filling the Christmas gift list.

Bargains on almost everything from groceries to clothing can be found at stores and businesses throughout Muleshoe.

To take advantage of the bargains and special prices offered during the day, see the advertisements on the inside pages of The Muleshoe Journal.

Santa Comes To Muleshoe

Santa Claus, who, as all of us know, lives at the North Pole, dropped unexpectedly in on The Journal staff as everyone was late one night this week. He came to see about his mail, which he sometimes gets at The Journal. This week he had three letters, which are being published in this issue.

Santa wanted to remind the Muleshoe area boys and girls that he will be here in just 25 days and that his mail will be published each week in The Journal.

Before he left, Santa told the staff that he would return to Muleshoe December 2 to see all the good little children in person. He is looking forward to his ride through Muleshoe on a chuckwagon and then talking to children after the parade. He will have candy during the parade and afterward, he said, for all the children who come to see him.

Stock Entry Deadline Nears

County Agent J. K. Adams this week warned prospective entrants in the 1942 Bailey County Junior Stock Show that they must own and have show animals on feed by not later than December 11.

In announcing the deadline for having show animals, Adams said complete rules for the show to be held in March may be obtained by contacting him at his office in the courthouse.

HOME LIGHTING CONTEST

The home lighting contest this year is unique, in that it will feature three separate contests, and a new departure in prizes for the winners.

The town has been divided into three areas: east of Main, west of Main, and north of the Santa Fe tracks. Separate judging will be in each division, and residents of each division compete only within their own division.

First prize in each division is an electric post lantern, courtesy of Southwestern Public Service Co. The lanterns are awarded exclusive of wiring and installation, but are valued in excess of $50 each. Second prize in each division is a string of 25 outdoor colored lights. Third prizes are outdoor floodlights.

Judging will be based on the following scale: originality 50 per cent, lighting effect 25 per cent and overall effect 25 per cent.

Entries should be made to John Smith at Corner Drug or the Chamber of Commerce office no later than December 16.

Judging in each division will be on the evening of December 30.

CD Meets, Makes Plans

A meeting of the Bailey County Civil Defense unit was held Monday night in the courthouse for the purpose of giving various division heads inventory assignments.

Those who were given assignments will prepare an inventory of our resources and personnel so that a master emergency plan can be drawn up.

'61 Christmas Finery Revealed In Holiday Preview Style Show

Approximately 300 guests at the two showings of the Muleshoe Country Club Ladies Association Holiday Style Show were dazzled by Christmas finery and flowers Sunday afternoon.

Fashion and gift-wise, as well as creation-wise, amidst an atmosphere of Christmas glitter and decorations illuminated by candle-lites, the showings were most successful. Christmas 1961 is here and Sunday enlivened the holiday spirits of those present.

Tables of gifts, attractively displayed, featured overcast gold gilt with lead crystal pieces by Hamilton's Sterling.

Floral centerpiece arrangements to fit any mood were shown on display tables. From the brown and green tones with tailored square candles, to red, and green with Santa for Traditional Christmas, and the feminine purple-pinks of clustered orchid carnations and dainty lites, many types were presented by Mrs. Mary Reed, of the Muleshoe Floral.

The lovely models parading in many ensembles from Gerald's revealed the modern 1961 trend of classic simplicity, and exquisite fabrics.

Mrs. Russell Haberer, adept fashion commentator, noted "There must not be any gold left in them there hills—they are using so much gold this year..." Metallic gold predominated in print fabrics, shoes and accessories. Also featured were several new holiday flowered and satin hats, as well as fur berets. Cereium and autumn natural mink furs and a white fox fur were also shown from Gerald's stock.

Vivid colors—greens, blues, reds, and much black and white stole the color ratings.

The fashions ranged from spicy silk, cotton and wool lounge-at-homes and casual daytime outfits, through classic full and slim-lined party dresses.

Applause particularly recognized the Miss American tour-queshrinking of income for electric power, thereby causing an increased burden on the tax payer for the deficit, and

Controversy

"Whereas: "Private utility companies pay proportionate share of federal, state, and local taxes, which the REA does not, and

"Whereas: Every federal dollar is needed for the defense and preservation of our country and free enterprise system, and

"Whereas: We do not want to assume an additional fifteen (15) million dollar debt; rather we want to start reducing our tremendous indebtedness to the U. S. Treasury.

Therefore, be it resolved: We are opposed now and will oppose any future attempt for the REA to build generating plants for this area."

LANCASTER ANSWERS

Answering the petition point for point, Lancaster said, "The only people who can answer the question of need are economists and engineers. Good business requires this planning to be done years in advance of construction. Who made this study for those who prepared the petition? They should state the authority for this statement."

Concerning the point of demand and cost, Lancaster said, "The group of electric cooperatives who are considering a generating plant would be happy to accept this information if it comes from a competent, independent electrical-engineering firm that has made a study of the area."

Concerning the decline of the rural population, Lancaster said that those who made the statement had failed to check the recent U. S. census, which shows an increase in the rural population.

In answer to the statement that a state law limits the REA in areas of operation, Lancaster pointed out that the Rural Electrification Administration is a Federal Government Program in the Department of Agriculture. "It does not operate electrical distribution lines anywhere," he said.

"There is a state law in Texas that limits the area of operation of electrical cooperatives within the state. It was pushed through the Legislature by people who hate electric cooperatives. The investor-owned electric utilities have had an unquestioned monopoly so long they can not bear the thought of competition."

"UNINFORMED"

Firing back at the writer of the petition on the point of taxes, that the uninformed petition writer meant to say that the electric cooperatives that are owned by the people they serve do not pay their proportionate share of taxes. Electric cooperatives pay every tax any other property owner pays except income tax. They do not pay income tax because they do not make a profit."

Lancaster said he agreed with the statement concerning free enterprise. "What can be more free than an enterprise that is owned by the people who use it?" he asked.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

Editors—of the Muleshoe Journal Greetings and peace:

With another Christmas just around the corner may this subscriber beg for space and a reading audience in the Muleshoe Journal.

The World Book Encyclopedia, volume 12, published by Field Enterprises, Merchandise Mart Plaza, Chicago, Illinois, U.S.A. offers these words about our beloved Saint Nicholas or "Santa Claus":

The beloved legend of Santa Claus, who brings gifts to all good children at Christmas time, is connected with Saint Nicholas, who was an active person. He lived about 300 A.D.; he was born at Palara, in Asia Minor, and became bishop of the nearby city of Myra. Many miracles of healing were credited to him. He worked wonders and converted unbelievers to Christianity. For a time he was kept in prison because of his steadfast faith. For many years most European peoples celebrated December 6th the date of Saint Nicholas death as a special holiday. It became one of the most popular saints days. Saint Nicholas became the patron of travelers by land and by sea of scholars and of children. Gradually, he took on a new role because of his connection with children and because his feast day was so close to Christmas. Children affectionately shortened his name to Santa Claus, and that is how he is known.

May the Divine Assistance remain always with the Muleshoe Journal readers. (Signed) The Rev. Clifton J. Corcoran, Immaculate Conception Catholic Church, Muleshoe, Texas

Where is Elmer?

This year's American Legion slogan is "Where is Elmer?" Elmer is the veteran who has never paid his dues or has dropped out for various reasons.

There are a few who are complaining about the American Legion Hall being closed about 11 a.m. the eleventh of this month. Any time there is a legitimate reason, the hall will be open. Anyone knows that—not only on the eleventh, but any time.

Gambling and drinking were the only reasons to have had it open later than the breakfast hours this eleventh or any other eleventh. Let's have a Legion that everyone will be proud to belong to.

Federal Aid

Every time a city has accepted a federal aid program, it has lost some of its rights to central government bureaus. In the last 30 years, there has been a major program a decade: federal public housing, federal slum clearance, federal urban renewal.

Now the trend is accelerating. This year through the Housing and Depressed Areas Act the federal government acquired partial control over commercial and industrial development in cities that it subsidizes.

Next year Congress will be pressed by the Administration to create a Department of Urban Affairs, in effect a department of local government. This department will have federal aid for — and federal control over — projects involving new factories, new stores, new streets, new water mains, new sewers — you name it.

Spokesmen for an Urban Affairs Department are urging its creation despite the barren results that can be seen in almost every city with a federal urban renewal program. Buildings have been razed. Brilliant construction plans have been announced and on the empty, silent acres in the hearts of many cities rag weed flourishes. In 10 years only 5 per cent of urban renewal programs have been completed.

Inspiration and flexibility have lost out to bureaucracy and red-tape. Beneficiaries in more than one subsidized city have been slum landlords who reaped millions of dollars in windfall profits.

Bureaucrats cannot replace interested citizens. No one knows better than the citizens of a community the needs of the community. No one has more incentive to work harder for community improvement than the man who lives in the community.

The inspiration, the thrust of community development programs have to be local if they are to succeed. And there are some cities around the country like Erie, Pennsylvania, and Indianapolis, Indiana, where the citizens are demonstrating this hard fact.

Needs Speed

Baseball has long been called "The Great American Pastime." For many years it has been, but it is rapidly losing out in the world of sports to football. Football is faster and, to many people, more exciting.

The baseball rules committee last week voted down a proposal to legalize the "spitball" as a pitching weapon. We wonder if this was wise of the committee? The spitball is a formidable weapon in the hands of a pitcher. It would give him a chance to put his three men out faster, thus speeding up the game—and we think something must be done to speed up the game. Last year, many baseball fans just couldn't hold out through the 12 or 13 innings that many games went into—so they got up and left after seven or eight innings.

Owners have millions tied up in their baseball teams. Cities have millions more invested in stadiums. What would happen to these fortunes if baseball were to continue to drop in popularity?

These men and cities will soon insist upon a change in rules in order to speed up the game. If such changes are not forthcoming, baseball will continue to lose fans and football will become "America's Number One Spectator Sport."

Sandhills Philosopher:

Believes Russians Have Real Problem

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm discovers an amusing problem for the Russians, in his letter this week. It is something to think about.

Dear editor:
Ever since Russia started the world by being the first to put a satellite into orbit, not to mention a man into orbit, the rest of the world has sort of lost its sense of humor about that country.

For example, too many people get the notion that every test the Russians make comes off successfully the first time, that it just never does make a mistake, that it has no problems to speak of.

Well, I've been thinking about one of Russia's problems, and I'm surprised nobody else has mentioned it. You know, the late Stalin, who was a hero in Russia for a long time, has now been reclassified as a bum by Khrushchev, and the Russians are busy eliminating all references to him. History books are being re-written. Stalin's body has been removed from Lenin Square, his statues are being torn down, his pictures are coming off of walls, etc.

Now I can see how they can change the name of Stalingrad to Leninville, and Stalin Avenue to Lenin Alley, and things like that, but have you ever stopped to think that during the long dictatorship of Stalin, when he was the Russians' substitute for God, there must have been thousands of babies named after him? What are they going to do about that?

There must be hundreds of grown men in Russia, born when Stalin was a hero, named Stalin Jonesky, Stalin Smithsky, Stalin Browsky, etc. After all, it'd be the natural thing to do. In our country, we've got hundreds of George Washington Smiths, Roosevelt Browns, and such like.

This is bound to be a ticklish problem in Russia right now. After a man has been called Stalin Smithsky for 20 years or more, it's mighty hard for him to switch with a straight face and say, "My parents made a grave historical error, my name is really Nikita Smithsky and I hope you'll bear it in mind." You know that when a friend yells, "Hey, Stalin, let's grab a bite of borsch and go bowling," he's bound to respond, before he remembers his first name is really not Stalin, starting week before last. And what's Nikita Smithsky going to do when whoever ever re-replaces Nikita Khrushchev comes into power?

There are a lot of funny things happening in Russia these days, and the rest of the world is missing a bet if it doesn't start laughing at them.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Stone's Throw

By GARY STONE

An Associated Press story last week reported that, "The United States Government, while always pretending to oppose, actually supports the advance of world communism, Birch Society chief Robert Welch said Monday night."

The story continues, stating that Welch also attacked the clergy, saying he had not the "slightest doubt" that the largest single body of communists in America is in the Protestant clergy.

Welch went on to say that about "7,000 Protestant ministers are" what he called consympies—one who is either a Communist or a sympathizer with their purposes. As I have said before in these columns, I believe the majority of the members of the John Birch Society are good, conscientious Americans who believe wholeheartedly in what they are doing. I also believe that they are trying to do what is right for this nation.

As one John Birch pointed out to me, the majority of the members do not agree with the rabid radical statements sometimes made by isolated individual members. If this is so, then why do the members as a group tolerate statements? One member who is irresponsible and hasty in making foolish statements will certainly destroy all that the society says it stands for. If members excuse Welch for his statements, others do not.

Perhaps members do not believe such persons will do a great deal to defeat the Society's purpose. I ask you to look at the statements closely. Welch himself tends to condemn, without proof and without trial, men who work for the government. This is contrary to all principles upon which this nation is founded.

If he condemns a group because of a very very few, then what do others do with relation to the John Birch Society? Certainly—they condemn Society members without proof and without trial.

I contend that Robert Welch makes unfounded accusations about men who are loyal Americans. In so doing, it is my contention that he does more to defeat the purpose of the John Birch Society and YES even America than he has ever done or can ever do to strengthen our national security. Perhaps it is a tempest in a teapot, I don't know. But I have said before and say again that when Americans begin feuding among themselves they cannot possibly conquer any foe—whether it be communist, fascist, nazi or whatever.

I suggest that the John Birch Society have a housecleaning and rid itself of the element which holds it back. Certainly it would not be easy, but I don't see how the Society can hope to rid America of communism if it cannot rid itself of such men as Robert Welch.

When the John Birch Society has purged itself of men like Welch, then we shall see whether it can do an efficient job of working against communism. Then I think it would be FOR America rather than AGAINST communism—and I do not think they are the same things.

Thanksgiving is past and Christmas Season is upon us. And, as most readers know, I shall have a double reason for being joyous this Christmas. I know it's the wrong time of the year for New Year's Resolutions but let's all make a resolution anyway—to do our Christmas shopping early this year. And before we go running off to Lubbock, Amarillo or someplace to do our shopping, let's check the local stores. Muleshoe merchants have stores full of goodies waiting for their customers. Support hometown merchants and let your dollars stay at home where they will help you and your neighbors.

The Nativity Scene is certainly a welcome view on the courthouse lawn. If you haven't seen it, be sure and drive by at the first opportunity.

der the cover of the canopies. With the potential Christmas shoppers who are prompted by the above support for shopping in Muleshoe, let's all make a special effort to park so as to leave room for shoppers.

The businesses of Muleshoe are busy as huntin' bees (that's a good old Southern expression) working on their annual Christmas decorations to be completed by Saturday's big parade. Children will probably bring in lots of parents—to see Santa and get some candy and then nose around town to find out what they want Santa to bring them, perhaps taking their Santa's helpers along just to be sure Santa will get the right thing to them on Christmas Eve.

It looks as if the stores and streets will be full on Saturday and Monday's Big Dollar Day should also welcome the Christmas gift-buying shoppers from the area.

Muleshoe is welcoming the trade area friends and visitors to shop at home—and early!

The holiday mood was strikingly presented Sunday to some 300 persons at the Muleshoe Country Club by two style shows. Gerald

Even the F. H. A. girls club at Muleshoe High School this week will bring Christmas cards to be sent to bring friendly greetings to state hospital patients.

Getting back to the Thanksgiving holidays last week, we heard the story of a worried young man. With many relatives at home, the two-year-old lad was asked to assist his grandmother around. quietly he warned her—"Hurry, now, so you won't get in trouble and have an accident like I do sometimes with Moma", good advise.

Pleasant Valley community was host to a fine 4-H Achievement night program Monday. Those boys and girls in 4-H certainly keep active and still seem able to keep up their good grades and extra-curricular activities, too. Of course, we hear that parents with continuing interest in their offspring are appreciated assistance.

Mr. and Mrs. Houston Harte, Jr., of San Angelo, flew up to Muleshoe Sunday. Harte is the publisher of the San Angelo Standard-Times and a life-long friend of L. B. Hall.

Also our guests Sunday were the E. Q. Perrys and Mrs. Rex Jordan and Halle of Plainview, Mrs. Hall's parents and sister. The women, including Carolyn Harte, were guests of Mrs. J. M.

Hi Plains Sorghum Test Result Told

The top yield for 1961 in the test of 62 hybrids and varieties of grain sorghum was 8,852.88 pounds per acre.

This yield was 800 pounds greater than the top yield of 1960. The low yield in the test of irrigated grain sorghum was 6,123 pounds per acre. The average of the entire 62 hybrids and varieties was 200 pounds higher in 1961 than the 1960 average in the tests conducted at the High Plains Research Foundation at Halfway, Texas.

Test plots, planted June 13th, were irrigated July 31; August 10; September 5; and September 19 with 2.5 inches per irrigation. Rainfall received between June 1 and October 1 amounted to 9.67 inches.

All varieties received a side-dressed application of 120 pounds anhydrous ammonia on June 27. The field was planted in cotton in 1960. There was no serious insect or disease damage to any of the 62 entries in the irrigation tests.

14 Attend Farm Bureau Meeting In Galveston

A delegation of fourteen members of Bailey County Farm Bureau attended the State Farm Bureau Convention in Galveston November 12-16. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Howard, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Schuster, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Little, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Cox, Mrs. W. B. Kittrell, and Freddie Maxcey. Representative and Mrs. Jesse Osborn traveled by car to Galveston on Friday and attended the convention.

The group from Bailey County were invited to travel by chartered bus with Lubbock and Lamb County delegations.

Bailey County was allowed seven voting delegates. These seven report that they still do not know what "Carla" did to Galveston because all they saw was from their hotel window. They report that most of our county solutions as adopted on the county level were passed on the state level.

Some special issues passed were:

Loopholes of the Right-to-Work laws were plugged up.

Foreign Aid limited to technical assistance as recommended in our resolution.

The Texas Farm Bureau voted in favor of repeal of Arms Control and Disarmament Agency bill number 297 as passed on Sept. 28, 1961.

Our county was recognized as the only county in the state with a Ladies Farm Bureau Committee. Our legislative chairman of the Ladies committee was recognized and was on floor.

Also our county was recognized as one of the Quota-buster counties of the state and presented a certificate.

Feedlot Planning Major Topic At Lubbock Meeting

Guidelines for establishing a profitable feedlot operation will be presented to cattlemen and cattle feeders attending the First Annual Southwestern Cattle Feeding Conference in Lubbock December 6. The Conference will be in the Pioneer Hotel, and is open to the public.

Credit needs will be featured in a talk by Jim Mitchell, executive vice-president, National Finance Credit Corporation of Fort Worth, and the benefits to be gained from cattle feeders working together will be outlined by C.M. Harmon, first vice-president of the Colorado Cattle Feeders Association.

Mitchell will stress the advantages of a planned feeding program, and will point out factors which are of most importance in obtaining the right kind and right amount of credit at the right time. He also will outline some of the most common mistakes made by the feeder who is entering the business and will pinpoint certain practices to avoid.

Harmon will relate experiences of the Colorado Cattle Feeders Association in finding solutions to common problems of the cattle feeding industry.

This Association is helping finance a nutritionist at Colorado State University whose basic research is on practices which will benefit the cattle feeders, and it also was instrumental in obtaining USDA monthly report of cattle numbers on feed in Colorado.

Other speakers at the Conference will bring ranchmen and cattle feeders up-to-date on the profit picture ahead for Southwestern cattle feeders, the challenge of increased cattle feeding in the Southwest, feed additives for cattle feeding and a number of other subjects of interest to the cattle feeder.

The Conference is sponsored by the Cattle Feeders Division of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, and will Research reports on these tests include the yield, early vigor, bloom date, per cent stand (unusually good) per cent lodging, plant height in inches, head length in inches, exertion in inches, head compactness and per cent moisture. Chemical data will be reported later.

There was no significant difference in the yield of the top 16 hybrids of the 62 hybrids and varieties tested under irrigation at the Foundation.

The yields of these top sixteen hybrids at 14 per cent moisture were: WAC 750, 8,852 pounds per acre; Paymaster Apache, 8,567; Taylor-Evans TE77, 8,564; Asgrow Double T, 8,507; P.A.G. 625, 8,385; R. Mitchell's Standking, 8,320; Lindsey 788, 8,303; Shelly Howell's Excel B-52, 8,245; P.A.G. 515, 8,201; WAC 700, 8,196; P.A.G. 665, 8,152; Richardson's 303R, 8,145; Steckley R106, 8,122; Steckley R-212, 8,077; Texas 660, 8,044; and Northrup King 310, 7,869. The remaining 47 varieties in the test were high. Space does not permit the complete list of all in the report.

"These tests are being conducted as a part of the Foundation's continued efforts to determine the best adapted grain sorghum hybrids and varieties for the High Plains," Dr. Earl H. Collister, Chief Agronomist, said in releasing the information.

A good cover crop of rye and vetch, rye and Austrian winter crope really preventing E.T.A. wind and water erosion during the coming months when thousands of acres of cultivated land will be bare and exposed to the elements.

Soils which are bare and low in organic matter are most susceptible to erosion when unprotected. Lands on which cotton, sesame or vegetables are grown are usually lacking in cover or residues once the crops are harvested and need some protection until the next growing season.

As a part of next year's conservation cropping system remember that there are several methods of seeding and establishing cover crops which will give satisfactory results. At the time of the last cultivation rye can be seeded in the cotton middles with special seeder. When cotton is harvested the rye will be sufficiently established to provide

Texas Stockmen Will Discuss Feed Additives

Cattle feeders, livestock farmers and ranchmen will be brought up-to-date on the effects of feed additives on performance of feedlot and grazing cattle at the First Annual Southwestern Cattle Feeding Conference in Lubbock, Dec. 6. The Conference will be in the Pioneer Hotel, and is open to anyone interested in cattle feeding.

Latest research results on hormones; antibiotics, tranquilizers, thyroid inhibitors and enzymes will be reported by P. T. Marion, superintendent of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Spur.

Feed additives are materials which are added to rations to improve feed utilization, increase gains, or supplement a deficiency in the ration, and since 1950 a large portion of the research in beef cattle nutrition has been concerned with the effects of the feed additives on beef cattle performance.

Changes of feeds and feeding methods in recent years have brought about some readjustment in requirements of Vitamin A in fattening rations, and Marion will explain what steps should be taken to meet the requirements for Vitamin A both in the feedlot and on the range.

Other speakers during the day will bring Conference participants up-to-date on factors affecting the financing of a feedlot operation, the pattern of beef distribution in the Southwest, the correlation between fat steer judging and the kind of beef desired by today's beef consumer, and a number of other pertinent subjects.

The Conference will be held in conjunction with the quarterly meeting of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association Board of Directors. The general sessions for this meeting will be at 9 a.m. Dec. 7, 8, and 9.

covered in the critical season. Mr. Douglas Bales and Mr. E. N. Darsey are two of the many farmers in the county using this method of establishment of cover crops.

The method of establishment is not nearly so important as the results attained. It will be to your advantage at the present as well as the future to observe these cover crops now and plan to cooperate them in to your next year's rotation and cropping system. The local Soil Conservation Service personnel will assist you with any question you have concerning your cropping system and its improvement.

Texas Farm Roundup:

Moisture Conditions Improved Over State

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—Rain, hail, fog and drizzle slowed up farm work in Texas the past week but improved moisture conditions, director John Hutchison of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service reports.

Only limited areas now need rain, he said.

Pastures, ranges and livestock were in good condition but some feeding was required in the snow covered areas of West and Northwest Texas. Feeding was general in the upper coastal counties. Small grain pastures made good progress and are providing grazing where fields are dry.

Moisture is now adequate in the Panhandle. All harvesting has been delayed. Some unharvested grain sorghum was damaged. Ranges and cattle are in average condition.

All harvesting ceased over the South Plains where rain has been general. No damage was reported to unharvested cotton. Up to half the crop was out in some counties south of Lubbock but that less than 20 per cent for the counties to the north. Grain made excellent progress.

Moisture is adequate in all Rolling Plains counties (Vernon). Moisture has held up harvesting and small plantings but wheat grazing is available throughout the district. Stock cattle are still moving in for grain grazing. Grains are in excellent condition in North Texas and providing good grazing. Livestock in general are in good condition. Moisture is adequate.

Moisture is sufficient in Northeast Texas where nearly all crop harvesting is over. The pecan harvest has started. Winter cover crops are furnishing some grazing. Pastures were average and livestock in good condition.

Snow and rain have improved the moisture situation in Far West Texas but has delayed the harvesting of cotton and sorghums. The much cooler weather has stopped the growth of grass, but small grain and range weeds were described as making some growth.

together to discuss passage of a legislative appropriation for advertising the State's numerous attractions. Although the Legislature passed a voter-approved Constitutional amendment to allow for tourist promotion in 1958, no funds were allotted for this purpose.

While the Texas Highway Department distributes attractive brochures through its eight state border stations, nothing has been accomplished on a national basis. Meanwhile the state is losing money on tourism. The 8,600,000 out-of-staters who came here last year contributed $23,000,000 to the state's tax till. They spent $427,000,000 while here. This was a drop of one million visitors from 1960 and a drop of almost two million from 1959.

Other states consider tourist advertising a sound investment—figuring they get hundreds of dollars in return for each dollar spent on advertising.

CHEAT OR ESCHEAT
Governor Daniel told the special House Committee investigating escheat laws that emphasis in his fight to include banks "has been in the wrong place."

He said that instead of battling to get banks to turn over money in dormant accounts, emphasis should be on passing legislation to help find unknown heirs of missing depositors.

Statement was made after State Banking Commissioner J. M. Falkner testified that dormant and inactive accounts "make it easier" for would-be embezzlers. He said it's easy for bank officers or employees to manipulate dormant accounts. Falkner stated that "a few" state banks have even tried to make charges against dormant accounts, converting the money to profit, but that his department has been successful in stopping such procedures.

The State Commission has no jurisdiction over the practices of national banks within the state. It is his understanding, however, that many national banks do make service charges against inactive accounts.

Falkner estimates that between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000 lie dormant in state banks, and from national banks located in Texas. VETERANS LAND SUITS UP

Appliance Clinic Set For Thursday

"Which kitchen and laundry appliance should I buy? Which appliance will give me the most for my money?" These are questions asked every day by homemakers in Parmer County and surrounding areas.

These questions and many others will be answered during a county wide all-day Large Kitchen Appliance clinic to be held Thursday, November 30 beginning at 9:00 a.m. CST in the Southwestern Public Service Auditorium in Clovis, New Mexico.

State attorneys still are trying to recover more than $50,000 paid for land under the Texas Veterans Land Program some seven years ago.

Austin District Judge Herman Jones heard pre-trial arguments in four civil suits from State Assistant Attorney General J. Arthur Sandlin and John D. Cofer, Austin attorney who represents Brady land dealers B. R. Sheffield and L. V. Ruffin. In addition to the land dealers, 54 Brady veterans have been named as defendants.

Jones took the motions under advisement.

BUILDING ON THE RISE
Residential permits issued in October ran 42 per cent above the 1960 figure for the same month.

Apartment construction is largely responsible for this rise. A total of 101,079 construction permits was issued last month: 60,658 for residential; 40,421 for non-residential, and 10,496 for alterations and repairs.

Alterations and repairs on residences were up 19 per cent.

CATTLE DISEASE
Texas Animal Health officials feel that the Federal inspectors at the border are not using tight enough controls to be absolutely certain that no diseased cattle enter Texas.

Fever tick, long ago eliminated in Texas, is the big fear of cattlemen. Last month, 17 herds of Mexican cattle were held up by Federal inspectors for dipping when they were found to have ticks upon arrival at the export pens.

All homemakers in the county are invited to this consumer education program. Home economists of 50 southwestern Public Service in Clovis, Amarillo, and Lubbock, Miss Ernestine Gary, Miss Murrel Bridges, and Mrs. Xie Collins, and Parmer County Home Demonstration Agent Miss Ettie Musil will present the latest information about the large kitchen appliances.

On the program will be 9:00-10:00 dish washer, 10:00-11:15 coffee break, 11:15-11:45 range, 11:45-12:45 lunch, 12:45-1:45 refrigerator freezer, 1:45-3:15 washer and dryer, and 3:15 hospitality coffee.

Each homemaker who plans to attend should bring a covered dish to be served at noon. Each should bring paper plates, cups, and napkins and silverware. Coffee and tea will be furnished.

For more information contact Miss Ettie Musil, in the Courthouse in Farwell.

Civil Defense Course Begins

An adult education course on practical civil defense for emergencies began at the Richland Hills School Cafeteria Monday, November 27 at 7:30 p.m. and will be held at that time each Monday night through December 18.

Bryan Brady, high school science teacher will conduct the three-hour meetings. Training will consist of the importance of family planning, the duties of federal state, county and municipal government in time of a war-caused disaster, how to build a shelter, why a fourteen day or more food supply is needed, as well as a discussion of our national, state and local organizations for warning and communication.

The local class provides a free manual and other related materials which may be kept for future reference. The training program will feature films, slides, and filmstrips, discussions, question and answer periods.

Adults are urged to attend these meetings.

Lazbuddie, Farwell, Friona In Invitational Basketball Tourney

CANYON, (Special) — Sixteen boys and girls teams from area high schools will participate in the first Invitational Basketball Tournament, Nov. 30-Dec. 2 at West Texas State College. The tourney is sponsored by the P.E. Majors Club in the men's physical education department.

Slated are winners and losers brackets, and each team will play at least two games during the tournament. Admission will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for students for each session of three games.

High Schools entering both boys and girls teams are Adrian, Claude, Canyon, Farwell, Friona, Lazbuddie, and White Deer. Vega will enter a boys team, and Tulia has entered a girls team.

The tourney opens at 8:30 a.m.

ARE YOU AN AMICHELIAN?
Although there is some doubt as to who was the first white person to tour Texas, it probably was Alonzo Alvarez de Pineda, the Spanish explorer.

Pineda was sent here by the governor of Jamaica to explore the Gulf Coast. Pineda named all the vast Gulf coast land "Amichel."

So, Texans came mighty close to being called Amichelians, rather than Texans.

Thursday, with the Tulia and Canyon girls squads opening action. Following at 9:45 a.m. will be the White Deer and Friona boys game, and at 11 a.m. the White Deer and Lazbuddie girls game.

Winners and losers continue Friday and Saturday, with the championship games slated at 7:30 and 8:45 p.m. Saturday.

Sims, Atchley Attend Clinic

Oron Sims and Cecil Atchley of Francis Implement Co. Muleshoe, Texas have just returned from Lubbock, where they participated in a two-day product training and sales clinic conducted by representatives of the Ford Tractor and Implement Division. The clinic attended by Mr. Sims and Mr. Atchley offered intensive training on the new 600 Ford Tractor and related high-capacity implements.

Ford is conducting similar clinics throughout the country. Through them, hundreds of dealers and their employees will become better qualified to serve the farmers of their communities.

Highlights & Sidelights From The State Capitol

AUSTIN, TEX.—With nearly 30 per cent of the state's population over 65 years old, the State Welfare Department's tandem medical care program for Old Age Assistance recipients will be a significant solution to the problem of providing nursing service and medical treatment for all ailing elders.

Welfare Department institutes its program of nursing home care for OAA recipients January 1. Program will affect every old person who has to rely on nursing-home care, whether he be indigent or financially self-sufficient. Rating of nursing homes which apply for payments under the plan should result in a general upgrading of nursing home standards.

Despite efforts of nursing home operators' associations and Health Department officials to define this difference, there has been some public confusion about the difference between nursing care and custodial care. Relatives seeking homes for old folks are not always able to determine whether nursing care offered is sufficient for their kin's needs.

"Introduction of state and federal money—about $8,000,000 a year—is certain to result in more and better homes for the aged. The $23,000,000 Blue Cross policy for Texas' 220,000 OAA recipients—also effective January 1—may pave the way for more thorough medical protection for old folk.

Policy sets a precedent, as no other insurance company has ever provided such extensive coverage for people over 65. If it does not prove too costly, other companies may offer similar coverage for elderly people on an individual basis.

Austin District Judge Herman Jones heard pre-trial arguments in four civil suits from State Assistant Attorney General J. Arthur Sandlin and John D. Cofer, Austin attorney who represents Brady land dealers B. R. Sheffield and L. V. Ruffin. In addition to the land dealers, 54 Brady veterans have been named as defendants.

Jones took the motions under advisement.

BUILDING ON THE RISE
Residential permits issued in October ran 42 per cent above the 1960 figure for the same month.

Apartment construction is largely responsible for this rise. A total of 101,079 construction permits was issued last month: 60,658 for residential; 40,421 for nonresidential, and 10,496 for alterations and repairs.

Alterations and repairs on residences were up 19 per cent.

CATTLE DISEASE
Texas Animal Health officials feel that the Federal inspectors at the border are not using tight enough controls to be absolutely certain that no diseased cattle enter Texas.

Fever tick, long ago eliminated in Texas, is the big fear of cattlemen. Last month, 17 herds of Mexican cattle were held up by Federal inspectors for dipping when they were found to have ticks upon arrival at the export pens.

Pineda was sent here by the governor of Jamaica to explore the Gulf Coast. Pineda named all the vast Gulf coast land "Amichel."

So, Texans came mighty close to being called Amichelians, rather than Texans.

Thursday, with the Tullia and Canyon girls squads opening action. Following at 9:45 a.m. will be the White Deer and Friona boys game, and at 11 a.m. the White Deer and Lazbuddie girls game. Homemakers now demand built-in maid service in the food they buy and it costs them more.

These services include more grading, packaging, processing, storage, and other operations. They have nearly doubled since 1940, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The USDA says at least half the cost of meals is for preparation and service of food. This includes cost of meals not eaten at home—now at the rate of about one out of every four.

Housewives, of course, are buying freedom from kitchen chores—food with less waste and requiring less trimming, sorting, or washing.

Three ready-to-serve meals, costing $5.70 for a family of four, could be prepared in the home kitchen for $4.50.

It would take the housewife about 5½ hours to prepare the home-cooked meals. She would need only 1½ hours, however, for the ready-to-serve meals. In many cases, furthermore, convenience foods save money as well as time.

The Sad Story of the Shrinking Dollar...

Pity this poor woman . . . perhaps a friend or neighbor of yours. She had the idea that if she got into the family car and drove many miles to THE BIG CITY, then she could do better with that shopping dollar than she could right here in our town.

When she finally reached home again, she was tired and unhappy . . . but a lot wiser. After figuring the cost of gasoline and oil, wear and tear on the car, parking fees, restaurant meals and the repair bill for a badly dented fender, that shopping dollar had shrunk so much she had to squint to see it.

Moral: Buy everything you need from your local merchants. Their stores may be smaller, but in selection, style and value they invite comparison with any other source. And local shopping is a relaxed pleasure, not a costly, time-consuming beating.

THE GONZALES VICTORY

National Political Leaders Become Concerned About Two-Party System

By WILLIAM L. RIVERS

Nothing about Paul Kilday's twenty-three years as a Congressman from Texas was as exciting as the events that came about when he resigned last spring. Kilday gave up his Congressional seat to accept an appointment as judge on the U. S. Court of Military Appeals. No sooner had the Republican and Democratic candidates started their campaigns for the rest of Kilday's term than it became a major prize. Dwight Eisenhower, who hardly ever bestirred himself over Congressional elections while he was President, devoted three days to campaigning in San Antonio for the Republican candidate John Goode, President Kennedy, Vice-President Johnson, and Texas Governor Price Daniel countered with strong statements for the Democratic candidate, State Senator Henry B. Gonzalez, who has often been at odds with both Johnson and Daniel. As election day approached, Johnson flew to San Antonio to campaign for Gonzalez.

The unexpired term is actually such a small prize—Gonzalez, who finally won the election on November 4, will have to start campaigning for re-election about the time he takes the oath of office — that these would be strange happenings indeed if they were not explained by other political events. The national political leaders who inserted themselves into the campaigns were not nearly so concerned about a Congressional vacancy (or about Goode and Gonzalez) as they were about a two-party system. For nearly a year, Texas has been in the throes of deciding whether it will continue to be a Democratic state. The Goode-Gonzalez race was just another battle.

Except for the election of one Republican Congressman, Bruce Alger of Dallas, Texas remained curiously Democratic throughout the Eisenhower Presidency. In 1952 and 1956 a majority of the Texas voters outside the Dallas area simply marked their ballots for Eisenhower for President and for any Democrat who was running for Congress. It was a frustrating eight years for Democratic leaders, but they felt certain that the ambivalence would disappear as soon as Eisenhower, a native of Texas, was through running. This comfortable thought was shaken last November. Even with Lyndon Johnson running for Vice-President, the Democrats barely took Texas, winning by fifty thousand votes, and Republicans are still charging that Kennedy and Johnson won the state's electoral votes only because some of the election judges did magic tricks with the ballots.

"Resignation Rallies" Since the 1960 Presidential election, the "Resignation Rally" has become the liveliest kind of political meeting in Texas. Conservatives Democrats, most of them community leaders, have been meeting in cities all over the state, denouncing the national Democratic Party as socialist and declaring themselves as Republicans. For a while, loyal Democrats ridiculed the rallies; they were small, loud, and as easily parodied as primitive rituals. Then, last spring, seventy-one candidates entered the race for the Senate seat that Johnson had vacated. Republican John Tower, whose only previous distinction was that he had opposed Lyndon Johnson for the Senate when no other Republican would take the chance, finished first. In the runoff, Tower defeated Democrat William Blakley even though Blakley had the advantage of serving as interim Senator at the time. Since then, Resignation Rallies haven't been considered funny.

By announcing a new five-point program that is designed to meet the Republican challenge. During the meeting, Attorney General Will Wilson, who is already running for governor in next year's elections, came in uninvited, got permission to address the committee, and warned that the Republicans might win the governorship unless the committee members heeded his advice.

Reason for Concern? The outcome of the Goode-Gonzalez election indicated that there is reason for concern among Texas Democrats. Although Gonzalez won, his margin was only 10,000 votes in a total of 100,000. In heavily Democratic, heavily Latin-American San Antonio—a city that Gonzalez is said to "own" because of his popularity—it was no walkover.

The real strength of the Republican Party in Texas will not be tested until the Congressional elections of 1962. The exuberance of Texas Republicanism, however, is already apparent. Not long ago, Senator Tower announced that he was appointing David Martinez of San Antonio to the Capitol Police Force in Washington. San Antonio Republicans promptly put on a three-hour public rally for Martinez, perhaps making him the first politico in history to get a major send-off because he was going to Capitol Hill to direct traffic.

THE REPORTER Right, Chief. We got 'um things you need for your car, and you can bet your teesie you'll be smoking a pipe of peace with the world when we're through.

SCHOOL STUDENTS ARE LENA HOLIDAY GUESTS Thanksgiving guests in the home friends of their daughter, Pamela. Pamela arrived in Muleshoe Saturday from Hackaday School in Dallas. The girls, Kathy Cfmehl of Duncan, Oklahoma, Debbie Hodges, Sally Ridgeway and Dianne Goodall, all of Dallas and Hackaday students arrived Tuesday.

MRS. PENNY AND MIKE The Lee Pool's have had as their guests for the past week, their daughter, Rosemary Penny and son UE. Her husband, W. A. Penny joined them here Thanksgiving day. They returned to their home in Abilene Friday. Penny is a civilian employee of Convair at Dallas AFB.

Cox As Buck Private The major defection from the Democratic Party came in September, when Jack Cox, who received 620,000 votes in the Democratic gubernatorial primary last year (Daniel won with 969,000 votes), announced that he was "enlisting as a buck private in the G.O.P." (Cox promoted himself six weeks later, announcing that he will be the Republican candidate for the governorship next year. "The Democrats," he said, "are dedicated to a course which can lead only to the destruction of the basic political and civil rights which are guaranteed by our Constitution." It was a turning point. Cox is a protégé of Allan Shivers, a three-term Governor of Texas who was a leader of Democrats for Eisenhower. Bo Byers of the Houston Chronicle wrote of Cox's switch, "It may come to signify, much more clearly than Tower's election, the emergency of a bona fide two-party system in Texas." Certainly, the number and fervor of the Resignation Rallies increased rapidly. Nearly two hundred Democrats met in little McAllen to become Republicans after delivering emotional quotations of speeches made by defenders of the Alamo. Six hundred Fort Worth Democrats became Republicans during another rally.

Few leaders of the loyal Democrats will admit publicly that they are worried about the defections. During a recent meeting of the Democratic state executive committee, Governor Daniel claimed that the deserters hadn't been real Democrats anyway. But then he betrayed his concern

Babson Discusses:
Insurance Stocks
Good Investment

The possibility of devastation from nuclear explosion is now a matter of concern to the whole world. It could be argued that this dismal prospect will have a depressing effect on the value of fire and life insurance stocks.

However, the insurance industry assumed no war risk liability during World War II, but acted merely in the capacity of a government agent when war risk insurance was instituted.

Today, most of the insurance policies which are in force exclude payment for damages from enemy action. These facts should at least be reassuring to those investors who own insurance stocks.

WHAT ABOUT PRICE CONTROLS?

A study of the insurance common stock prices, from the post-depression stockmarket peak of 1937 to the wartime low in 1942, indicates that they held up better than twice as well in value as did the mighty Dow-Jones Industrial Average during that same interval.

Hence, despite the pressures of wartime uncertainties during World War II and the rigid price controls in effect then, investors owning stocks of companies insuring property and life had much less worry than those who pinned their faith on the issues which made up the Dow-Jones Average during that time.

Today investors are disturbed about the possibilities of controls and anxious about what their institution might do in the way of depressing common stock values. This is not so serious a matter for stockholders of fire and life insurance companies because price control would at least dampen down the chronically rising costs encountered in settling claims and would thus tend to improve underwriting results for the insurance companies. In short, business stocks are not so vulnerable to price controls as industrial stocks are.

FIRE INSURANCE STOCKS VS. INVESTMENT TRUSTS

Fire insurance companies traditionally hold a substantial part of their reserves in common stocks. These insurance stock portfolios are managed with professional skill, providing the stockholders with advantages similar to those enjoyed by owners of good investment trust stocks — without the added cost of the salesman's commission and the continuing management fee.

This leads us to the conclusion that many insurance stocks now represent good value for holding during this time of trouble and danger and 100-megaton bombs. I therefore recommend that all investors have at least one well-chosen fire and life insurance stock in their list of securities to help them maintain peace of mind in this dangerous atomic age.

LIFE INSURANCE STOCKS

Both fire insurance stocks and life insurance stocks have the public working with them. The cost to the city in which you live — for its fire department, Gamewell fire boxes, etc. — directly benefits all fire insurance stocks. This is especially important with fire insurance losses constantly increasing year by year. Furthermore, fire insurance policies are issued, as a rule, for only three years and seldom for longer than five years. This gives the companies opportunity to readjust their rates according to changing conditions. These rates are set by the state authorities, and they are known to be fair in making adjustments.

The public goes even further in "helping" the life insurance companies. Every doctor, hospital, and individual is working to protect life and lengthen the lifespan. Polio epidemics have been virtually eliminated, while, because of proper municipal sanitation, very few cases of diphtheria or typhoid now occur. Tuberculosis is still being fought by private associations and other means. I repeat that all individuals, physicians, and municipalities work to eliminate disease and this benefits every life insurance company. The biggest danger now is the automobile, which has not yet been controlled.

In Faith . . .

Read Luke 15:1-7

"This man receives sinners and eats with them."
(Luke 15:2 RSV.)

Jesus was speaking to some persons whose lives were filled with failure. They crowded about Him like hungry men crashing a bread line. It was a sight that should have brought joy, but did not to the scribes and Pharisees. Their indignant criticism became the greatest compliment that Jesus ever received: "This man receives sinners."

What is God's attitude toward the lost? "God so loved . . . that he gave." This is the central message of the Bible, the very heart of the gospel, the revelation of the eternal character of God, the glory of Christianity, and the one supreme cause that challenges the Christian forces of the world.

When Jesus summed up His mission, He said, "The Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost." He seeks us before we seek Him. He stands at the door and knocks. He never enters where He is not welcome. The friend of sinners knocks at the door of every broken life. That make Him your friend and mine. When we admit Him, we find new meaning in life and new power for living.

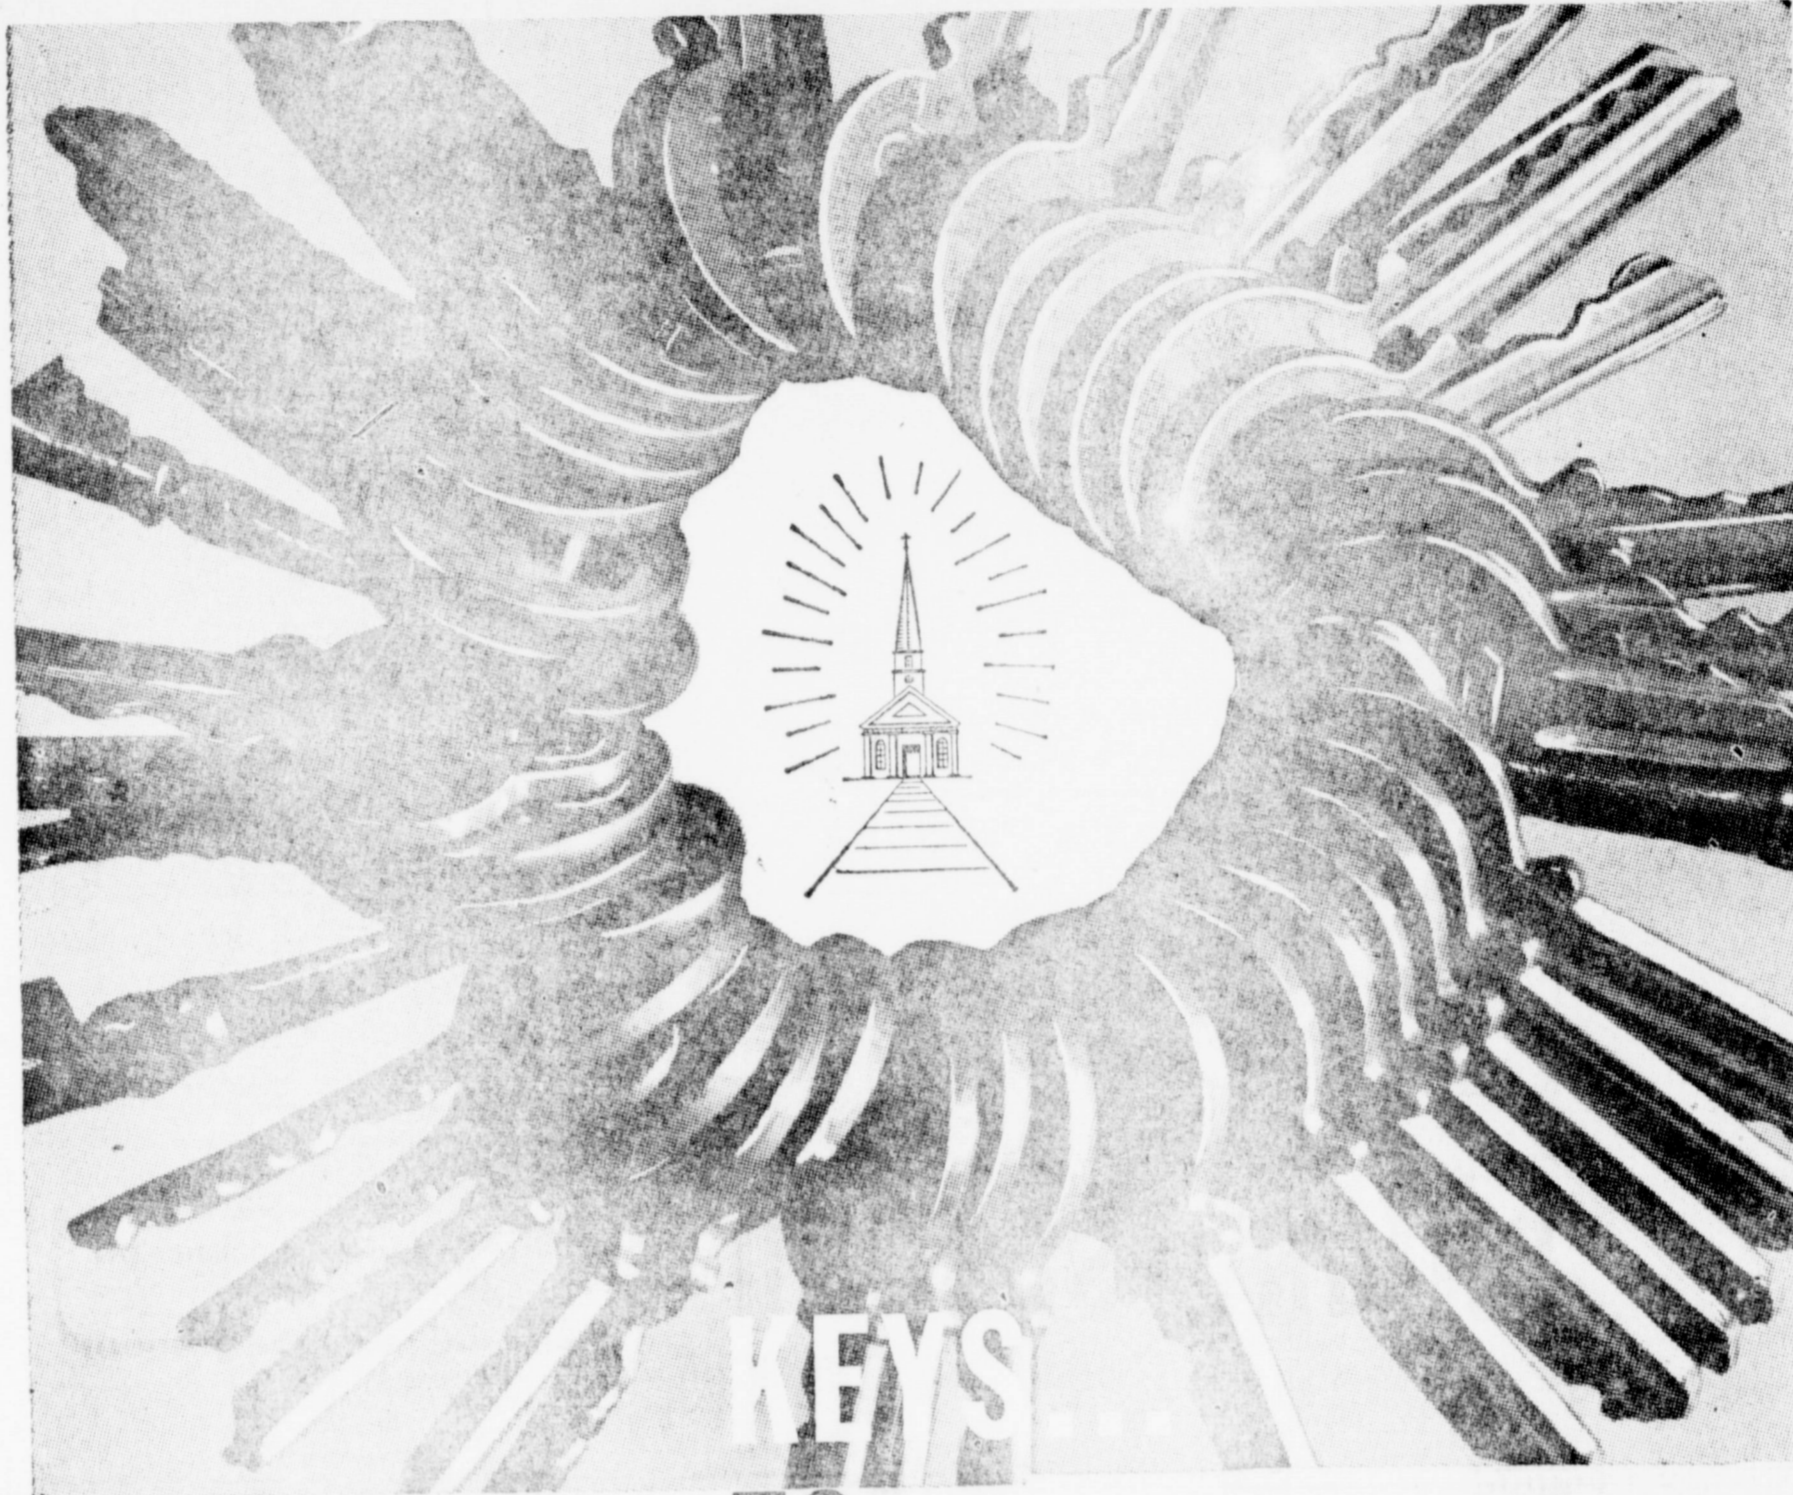

PRAYER:

Our heavenly Father, we thank Thee for the abiding friendship of Jesus. Help us this day to enter more fully into His friendship, sharing with Him our every concern. In His name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Jesus Christ is closer to you and me right now than words can describe.

James T. Browning (W. Virginia)

KEYS TO UNDERSTANDING

Suppose you were given keys that would unlock the mysteries of the universe. With them, you could answer the "whys" that plague all of us. You'd know what was going to happen to you and those around you tomorrow—next month—next year.

Would you use them?

Of course, you say! Think again. And, once you've thought, you might shake your head, hand them back, and say, "No thank you."

Common sense tells us that man was not meant to understand every mystery of life. The reasons "why" remain as they are because our Creator in His wisdom thoroughly knows just how much man can both stand and understand.

God has a greater gift for you than these, or any other keys . . . the gift of Faith. You will find it by going to church regularly.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
