THE "I TOLD YOU SO" and "I Could Have Told You So" Departments:

Several times I have made the comment that air bags are dangerous and should never be mandatory, and once I considered writing something about commodes that wouldn't flush, only I couldn't think of a non-embarrassing way to supply all the details that would be necessary to the story. (My face was flushed, but my broad shoulders saved me. . .).

Now I have information backing up my point of view on both issues.

A Tahoka woman and her mother both were badly bruised by the air bags on the luxury car they were driving when it was involved in an otherwise minor collision in which she said both vehicles were barely moving. The shorter woman had bruises around her neck and shoulders and the taller woman's arms both were "black and blue", she said.

A relative who is an insurance claims adjuster says that in many accidents he processes, drivers and passengers are injured, some seriously, by air bags.

And Columnist Dave Barry recently wrote about the stupid rules which environmentalists had passed regarding how much water can be used to flush a commode. The idea is to save water by forcing manufacturers of the thrones to allow for only so much water per flush. Only thing is, you usually have to flush the toilet two or three times to accomplish your objective, thereby using more water than you would have if the tank had been larger to start with.

I've lost some confidence in Consumer Reports, a magazine I used to trust on just about everything, because they back up the tiny toilet bowls and the National Traffic Safety Board and others who say you've got to have those air bags, even if it does add a thousand bucks to the price of a car, because they save lives of those really tall people, who, after all, are more valuable to society than all of us short ones.

One more note about the toilets. If I ever have another toilet built, I want the same kind of vacuum-operated flushing mechanism they have on cruise ships. When you pull one of those levers, you'd better be standing back a couple of feet, or you'll have a quick burial at sea.

Open House Slated Today For Housing Authority Complex

by JUANELL JONES

All area residents are invited to Open House ceremonies today (Thursday) from 2-6 p.m. to view The Center for Housing and Community Development, the Tahoka Housing Authority's new office/community center complex at 1400 Avenue K. Formal ceremonies will be held in the banquet room at 3 p.m., according to Bill Miller, Executive Director.

Groundbreaking for the 6,040 sq. ft. brick building was held nine months ago in late August 1997, and the multi-use facility was completed recently, funded entirely through federal grant money at a cost of $595,000.

In September 1996, Miller obtained one of the very few high-dollar grants given each year by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), in the amount of $831,997. A sizable portion of the funds were used to renovate the 50 housing units owned by the Tahoka Housing Authority, including new roofs, exterior and interior painting, new central heat and air units, new flooring, and new appliances. Three of the units were renovated to be completely handicap accessible, Miller noted. The remainder of the grant funding was used for the new construction project.

"Congress assesses so much money each year for grants - this is money that is earmarked for these projects, and Tahoka was lucky enough to receive these funds. It's not costing the taxpayers one more penny," explained the director.

Today, visitors can view the spacious new office complex, located on South 3rd and Ave. K, just west of the Lynn County Pioneers Senior Citizens Center. Visitors enter through the west front doors, turning to the left to view the 3,000 sq. ft. carpeted community room with adjoining kitchen and two classroom facilities. Housing Authority offices and boardroom facilities are located in the south part of the complex, and the east side of the facilities features a gazebo seating area and playground equipment just outside the community room.

Miller says the new facilities are available for use by the public, and is not in any way limited to use by those who are in the Housing Authority units. The director added that computer classes for the public are expected to be offered in the classroom facilities.

The new complex was built by D'Amico Construction, Inc. in Celina, general contractors for the job.

Members of the Tahoka Housing Authority board are John Krey, Cal Huffaker, Greg Henley, Mrs. Bennie Nance, and Ms. Mary Marales.

Rodeo Star Roy Cooper Also Coming Here Norwood Concert To Cap Day Of Events Featuring John Daly

By DALTON WOOD

If you think you might be able to out-drive professional golfer John Daly when he shows up at T-Bar Country Club in Tahoka next Tuesday, you could have that opportunity.

Okay, so nobody in his right mind really believes he could out-drive Daly, generally considered the longest hitter on the professional golf tour. But Radio Station KLLL in Lubbock, one of several sponsors of Daly's appearance and the other events scheduled that day, is offering an "Out-Drive John Daly Contest," and the winner doesn't actually have to out-drive the young golf superstar.

Whoever comes the closest to Daly's drive will win a Calloway Big Bertha driver donated by Lubbock Golf Discount, said Daron Norwood, country singing star from Tahoka, who is bringing his friend Daly to T-Bar Tuesday.

Daly this week is in the Byron Nelson Classic at Dallas, and just prior to coming to Tahoka will be in a tournament at Tyler.

In conjunction with Daly's appearance will be a four-man scramble, with the cost set at $100 per person. Entry blanks and information may be obtained at Dayton

Parker Pharmacy or from tournament director Ralph Huffaker. Saturday is the deadline for entering the tournament. Huffaker said Tuesday that he had just 8 teams entered, mostly local players, and could take care of 36 teams. But publicity in the Lubbock media was scheduled to break this week, and this should generate many entries. There will be no flights; play is open.

Norwood and some of his other musician friends will present an outdoor concert at the golf course following the day's activities and evening meal.

Purpose of the entire event is to raise funds for the Daron Norwood For Kids Foundation, with plans to build a home in Tahoka for youngsters with alcohol-related and other problems.

"The reason I wanted to bring the entire event to Tahoka is also in the hope that local businesses will profit from the large crowds that will come in," Norwood said this week.

World Champion rodeo performer Roy Cooper of Childress also will be on hand during the day at T-Bar. Cooper and Daly will sign autographs and meet people, and near press time Norwood was negotiating

National Day Of Prayer Is Observed Here May 7

On May 7, Americans from all denominations and backgrounds gathered nationwide for the 47th annual National Day of Prayer. Participants from Wilson, Tahoka and Slaton gathered at St. John Lutheran Church in Wilson for a morning prayer service and then shared breakfast at First Baptist Church next door. They were part of a prayer celebration which was estimated at 1.5 million participants involved in approximately 20,000 observances coordinated by more than 40,000 volunteers. Since 1988, when the National Day of Prayer (NDP) began to be observed on the first Thursday of May each year, the day has grown incredibly.

"This was the third year of local observance of the NDP. More than 30 people attended the lift prayers to God on behalf of our nation in scripture, song and petition," said Tonda Freitag of Tahoka. Individuals or church groups that would like to know more about this observance or would like to participate in next year's event can contact Tonda Freitag, P.O. Box 787, Tahoka 79373, 806-998-4928.

"As we receive word from state and regional coordinators, it is evident that there is a general outpouring of God's grace in this nation," states Shirley Dobson, completing her sixth year as Chairman of the National Day of Prayer Task Force. "It's so exciting to see the incredible work God is doing in the hearts and lives of people as a result of people coming together in prayer. If God did all this in one day, just imagine what He will do if we would commit ourselves to pray regularly on behalf of our communities and nation."

The first Thursday of every May has been designated by Congress and the president as The National Day of Prayer and is marked on Hallmark's official calendars. Proclamations were received from the president and all 50 state governors (plus several territories) again this year.

The National Day of Prayer was established in 1952 and amended in 1988 as the first Thursday of every May. The first official call to national prayer on record in the U.S. was in 1775 by the Continental Congress, asking people to pray for God's guidance in forming a new nation.

'Mega Memorial' Events Set At Ballpark Here

Area residents are invited to participate in a family event in Tahoka this Memorial Day on Monday, May 25. The "Mega Memorial Day at the Ballpark" will be held all day long at the baseball park on South 8th Street, with food booths, a dunking booth, a silent auction, and Little League, Senior League and Girls Softball League games scheduled throughout the day.

All proceeds from the day's events will benefit Tahoka Little League and Tahoka Girls Softball League, and silent auction proceeds will benefit the Tahoka Girls Little Dribblers All-Stars.

"Come out and bring your lawn chairs and blankets and enjoy a fun-filled day at the ballpark, while supporting these great youth organizations," said one sponsor of the event.

Fresh lemonade, hamburgers, baked potatoes, caramel apples, barbecue plates, and hot dogs will be offered throughout the day, and a schedule of games will be printed in next week's edition of The Lynn County News.

Take A Coffee Break: Western Swing Fiddler Alvin Crow To Perform At "Break 'n Tradition"

Area residents are invited to take a coffee break Thursday morning, May 14, at the Life Enrichment Center, at an event called "Break 'n Tradition" where they will be entertained by western swing fiddler Alvin Crow. The come-and-go event is free, from 9:30 until 10:30 a.m., and complimentary coffee and doughnuts will be provided.

Hosting "Break 'n Tradition" is the Caprock Cultural Association and the City of Tahoka. Through a Texas Folk Life Resource Grant, the Caprock Cultural Association in Post is hosting "artist in residence" Alvin Crow for a week-long performance, May 11-17, and is sharing Crow with Tahoka the morning of May 14.

Crow will present traditional Western Swing fiddle music and then answer questions. There will be no charge, but a donation is welcomed at the door.

Caprock Cultural Association Executive Director JoAnn Mock is working with a group in Tahoka, teaching them how to access these artists through grants, and the group was willing to lend Crow to Tahoka to allow the community the experience of what an arts grant can provide a rural community.

"We encourage you to break your normal routine coffee time and learn the tradition of western swing," says Retha Pittman, administrative assistant for the City of Tahoka. "This is a great opportunity for us to hear Mr. Crow. We are so very appreciate of Mrs. Mock's work with us," she added, noting that Mrs. Mock is a former Lynn County resident.

"Her interests in Tahoka will enable us to bring an array of art and cultural activities to the Life Enrichment Center. For 17 years she has worked with writing grants for the Post community's art endeavors. We look forward to the possibility of receiving our own artists in residence next year," adds Mrs. Pittman.

Access to the artist in residence grants will require the Tahoka group to have a 501(C)(3) tax exempt status. Upon receiving the grant, the artist resides in the area for one full week and performs at any event throughout the week. Schools may also utilize performances.

Persons interested in being involved with a Tahoka Arts Association may contact Retha Pittman at City Hall, or Cal Huffaker.

New City Council Members Take Oath Of Office Here

Recently-elected members to the Tahoka City Council were sworn in after the election results were canvassed at the city council meeting held last Tuesday evening. Clara Calvillo, the second woman ever to be elected to the Tahoka City Council, and incumbents Jay Dee House and Ray Don Box all took the oath of office for two-year terms on the council. Other council members are Amy Preston and John Chapa Jr.

Rich Oller and his assistant Russell Shriver, both representing Oller Engineering Inc., met with the council to discuss water projects for the city. The city approved contracting with Oller Engineering to replace 10,000 feet of water line and eight new water hydrants, all in the southeast part of town, at a cost of $290,000. The project will be paid for with grant funds which have been approved by the Texas Department of Housing and Community Affairs for water improvements. City Administrator Jerry Webster said the project should improve water pressure in the southeast part of the community, with the project expected to be completed by August.

Council members also approved a contract with Oller Engineering Inc. for engineering services for the sewer treatment plant project.

Police Chief Steve Chance gave a report on the Tahoka Police Department's activities during the month. Monthly bills were also approved.

Mayor Mike Mensch presided at the meeting, and all council members were present.

Benefit Golf Tourney Features John Daly Here

with a well-known country musician to join the festivities.

Cooper, 42, has won nine world calf roping championships, a world all-around title, and the National Finals Rodeo five times. He graduated from Southeastern Oklahoma State University, whose other notable graduates include NBA star Dennis Rodman, baseball player Brett Butler and country singer Reba McEntyre.

Cooper, a close friend of singer George Strait, is author of a book about his rodeo career, called Fast Times.

Daly, 32, a California native who now lives in Rogers, AR has four wins on the PGA Tour. He won the PGA championship in 1991, stunning the golf world by winning after he was named the ninth and final alternate in the field. He won the B.C. Open in 1992, the BellSouth Classic in Atlanta in 1994, and then won the British Open in 1995, winning in a playoff with Costantino Rocca. With that win, Daly became the second youngest player to win two major tournaments, and only the fourth American with two majors before the age of 30.

He was named PGA Tour rookie of the year in 1991, and is known as the longest hitter on the Tour.

Norwood, who says he has seen the highs and lows of success in the entertainment business, "from the highs of hit records to the lows of alcohol abuse and depression", explains that he is now a recovering alcoholic for the past two and a half years.

He still performs on weekends, and during the week goes into public schools, to perform "and to speak to America's youth on my alcohol abuse and to share stories about some of my closest friends, including PGA superstar John Daly, who also is a recovering alcoholic."

Those who don't want to play golf in the tournament may pay $30 for full access during the day of the event, including gallery, a half-hour clinic Daly will conduct from 12:30 to 1 p.m., the meal at 7:30 p.m. and the concert from 8 to 10 p.m. Those who wish to attend the meal and concert only may do so for $20, with the price set at $12 for those 18 and under, with children age 6 and under free.

Daly will be featured at the noon clinic and during a six-hole "shootout" from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m.

"People may bring their own lawn chairs for the open air concert and meal," Norwood said, emphasizing that "this entire program is a family-oriented, non-alcoholic event."

Promotions for the Tahoka event are scheduled to run on Lubbock TV channels 11 and 34 this week. These stations and several other Lubbock and Tahoka businesses and organizations are donating to the day's activities, which will include prizes for youngsters and drawings for prizes for adults.

Norwood said Tahoka Volunteer Fire Dept. members will assist in crowd control, including setting boundaries for the expected large gallery of onlookers. The tournament originally was projected as a benefit for the fire department, which "graciously gave up the tournament for the kids, and they still are going to handle crowd control for us."

Police and sheriff's officers, led by Tahoka Police Dept., will direct traffic, parking and security. The road from the north of T-Bar's entrance will be blocked, so all traffic should come in from the Brownfield Hwy. and north from there to the entrance on the east side of the country club. Side streets on that road also will be blocked.

Norwood this week received a letter from Daly to the general public, media and sponsors of next Tuesday's events, prefacing it with a personal note to Norwood in which he said "I look forward to seeing you and your wife, Kim, on May 19. This is something great you're doing for the kids." The open letter said:

JOHN DALY

"I have had a lot of problems in my life with alcohol, as you know. It's not easy, but I'm learning to live one day at a time.

"God bless you for what you are doing. Please tell all your sponsors and KLLL that I am looking forward to doing this for the kids. Also, to KLLL: Please play all of Daron's songs, because he is my favorite singer and he sings from the heart.

"Keep it straight."

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

The band concert last Thursday night was really great, and I just wanted to take this opportunity to say how much I appreciate Carroll Rhodes. He did a fantastic job with all the bands this year!

He had 65 students in the 6th grade band. Can you imagine working with that many kids in one class? There were 38 students in the 7th grade band, 32 in the 8th grade group, and 38 in the high school band! Plus 18 in the high school choir. The choir sounded great also.

It's amazing how far all these kids have come this year. I went to the concert thinking that if I sat near the back, I could get up and leave after the 7th graders played. But I was so impressed that I kept staying.

Then as the high school band began their program, I thought I would at least stay for two or three songs, then leave. But when I noticed on the program that "George of the Jungle" with Dustin McNeely as vocal soloist, I just had to stay for the whole thing! Malena Carrasco also did a great job on her solo.

The Dixieland Combo did an excellent job on "Dixieland Jazz Funeral."

The whole concert was very enjoyable, and again, a special thanks to Carroll Rhodes and all the students for a "job well done."

EMS Gives Tips For Avoiding Bicycle Injuries

Want to know the best way to prevent a serious bicycle injury? Be a hard head — wear your helmet. As part of Texas EMS Week, Lynn County EMS and the Texas Department of Health urge everyone to wear a helmet while riding a bicycle. Being a hard head by wearing a helmet is the single most important thing you can do to prevent serious injury or even death.

Head injuries are the most common cause of death for bicyclists. Bicycle helmets are 85% effective in lessening the severity of head and brain injuries, so helmets are the most effective way to reduce head injuries. Helmets are also 50% effective in lessening the amount of facial damage in a crash.

Each year nearly 800 bicyclists nationwide are killed in bicycle crashes and another estimated 60,000 are injured. Hospitals across the U.S. treat 500,000 children in emergency rooms for bicycle-related injuries.

It is always heartbreaking for EMS to respond to a call with an

STORM WATCHERS — The Lynn County Storm Spotters and Emergency Team has organized to assist in watching severe weather in the county. injured child, especially when the injury might have been prevented by a helmet. Children may take a tumble on a bicycle, but if their head is proected, they are much less likely to be seriously injured.

Here are some tips for safer bicycling:

- Be a hard head. Wear a helmet and insist that your child wear a helmet every time he or she rides a bicycle. Replace the helmet if it has been damaged.
- Let your child choose a helmet and make sure it has a sticker indicating that it meets Snell Memorial Foundation Standards or American National Standards (ANSI).
- Make sure the helmet fits snugly and covers the forehead.
- Never let a child ride a bicycle while listening to audio headphones.
- Obey all traffic signals and laws.

Storm Spotters Organized In Lynn County

A new organization has been formed to work in conjunction with existing storm spotters and cities in Lynn County and the surrounding area in warning citizens about approaching severe weather or impending disaster. The Lynn County Storm Spotters and Emergency Team is a non-profit organization made up of trained volunteers with advanced storm spotting skills as well as dispatch and radio communication training.

The organization is made up of people from O'Donnell, Wilson, New Home and Tahoka and members have been meeting once a month for the past year, receiving training in storm spotting and communication. The group meets the last Wednesday of each month at 8 p.m. in the Senior Citizens building in Tahoka. Anyone interested in joining the group for training or discussion is welcome at the monthly meetings.

"We came up with the idea of Storm Spotters because you can never have enough eyes and ears when it comes to storm spotting and tornadoes along with early warning," said Todd Henry, vice president of the organization.

The group, which has a board of directors, rules and bylaws, is in the process of filing an Article of Incorporation with the Secretary of State for charter and Non-Profit Organization status. They are also working on a grant for a communications system that would enable spotters to communicate and keep up with fast moving storms as they move into Lynn County. This would give the county an extra system that would be very much needed if a disaster should ever hit Lynn County.

The Storm Spotters group is comprised of people with a variety of skills, including city police, dispatchers, satellite specialists, electric cooperative personnel, EMTs, firefighters and others. Officers for the organization are Keith Paschal, president; Todd Henry, vice president; Jana Jolly, secretary; and John Hawthorne, treasurer.

Producers Warned Of Fire Danger, Liability When Burning CRP Land

Producers in Lynn County need to be aware of not only the danger but the liability incurred when burning CRP grass, according to information released this week from the Lynn County Natural Resources Conservation Service.

A large percentage of the CRP grass in Lynn County has been burned this spring. Some of the burning was planned, but the majority was burned without the landowner's permission under less than ideal conditions, sources at the NRCS office say.

Uncontrolled burning is very costly not only for the CRP landowner, but the adjoining neighbors and also the utility companies. Owners have no idea how many irrigation well motors have been damaged due to the uncontrolled burning. They have also lost various structures, as well as the contents of those structures. Numerous utility poles have had to be replaced because they were burned to CRP fields that were burned without planning. A single pole for an electric company's transmission line can cost as much as $5,500. Neighbors that join CRP have lost approximately six miles of fencing that had to be replaced at a cost of $4,650 per mile. Numerous acres of improved pasture and/or rangeland adjacent to CRP fields have also been burned costing the producer forage that could have been used instead of buying hay.

In Lynn County, the highways have been covered with smoke on several occasions causing hazardous driving conditions which endangered people's lives. Also, on at least one occasion, a family came very close to losing their homestead and all their belongings to an uncontrolled CRP burn that should never have been set considering the weather conditions that day, officials say.

Any person that sets an uncontrolled burn is liable and can be criminally charged. Criminal Mischief is the minimum a person will be charged with for setting an uncontrolled burn. The penalty depends on the amount of damage. Arson, a second degree felony, is the maximum charge for setting an uncontrolled burn if no one is hurt or killed. The penalty is not less than two years and not more than 20 years in jail, up to a $10,000 fine, plus restitution. If someone is hurt or killed, it then becomes a first degree felony. The penalty is not less than five years and not more than 99 years in jail, a fine not to exceed $10,000, and restitution.

At a time when much is being written and said about individual property rights, producers are reminded that CRP owners have property rights also. If a person or producer has the CRP owner's permission to burn their grass, they should consider the following points:

1) Grass can be burned in March, before it greens up, and still kill the boll weevil without causing any damage to the grass or creating a blowing problem.

2) Producers are reminded that grass needs more than one year to produce enough litter for the weevil to overwinter in.

3) CRP owners have a statement releasing them (CRP owner) from liability if they allow their neighbor to burn their grass. The liability agreement should be in writing and address, at a minimum, who will be responsible if the grass stand does not recover and needs to be re-established. Also, who will be liable in case of injuries, death, or damage to houses, barns, fences, utility poles, etc.

4) Producers who have permission to burn CRP grass must be aware of wind direction and speed. Burning grass in a high wind is unsafe and also the grass burns too fast to kill the boll weevil. If the wind is out of the wrong direction, the producer could put smoke on a road and cause an unnecessary tragedy.

5) CRP owners who wish to burn their grass should contact the Farm Service Agency first. CRP contracts must be modified prior to a prescribed burn, but the Farm Service Agency must request the modification from the Natural Resources Conservation Service.

6) CRP owners should take appropriate action to protect their property from loss. A fireguard may need to be established and maintained around buildings. If the grass is shredded around buildings, it will give the fire fighters a better chance at protecting the endangered property from a wildfire.

7) THINK SAFETY - fire is very volatile and unpredictable even under planned and controlled conditions.

For more information about this subject, contact the local NRCS office at 998-4507.

The Wilson News

by Buster Abbe • 628-6368

Wilson Fire Department Tip of the Week: If you are trapped in a fire, put as many closed doors as possible between you and the fire. Seal off all cracks and cover vents with cloth or towels to keep the smoke out. Put a wet cloth over your nose and mouth and wait at the window if you are able.

The Wilson Cemetery Association is looking for men and women to serve as directors for the association. Interested persons should contact Floyd Heck, A.J. Gickhorn or Curtis Wilke.

A new Christian Book Club has formed in Wilson. The group meets in the educational building at St. John Lutheran Church. If you would like to join the group they read "Following Jesus Without Embarrassing God", by Tony Campolo, feel free to attend their next meeting on Wednesday, May 20 at 7:15 p.m. If you have any questions or need assistance in obtaining the book, contact Vicar Pamela Thiede at St. John Lutheran Church at 628-6573.

The Wilson Lions Club is beginning to plan for their 50th Anniversary, which will be in August of 1999. Club members are attempting to locate the club's charter and the first one-half of the president's plaque. Both of these items were taken, for safe-keeping, from the school cafeteria during a cleanup project, and they are so safe that they cannot be located. Anyone having these items or knowing their whereabouts is asked to contact Lion Curtis Wilke.

Wilson City officials have announced that a rabies clinic for pets is being planned for about the middle of June. The exact date and time will be announced as the plans are finalized.

The city animal control officer is having problems with people opening the door on the animal trap and releasing captured animals, or otherwise making the trap ineffective. These are criminal actions and those caught will be prosecuted. Wilson has a problem with people coming from other areas and dumping their unwanted pets. Animal control is not a popular subject, but is necessary due to unthinking people who abandon their pets or pet owners who let their pets run loose to do property damage or to injure other people's pets that are properly contained.

Many Wilson students will have a holiday on Friday, May 15. This will be the final intersession day for this school year. Intersession hours are from 9:00 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Buses will run and lunch will be served.

Baccalaureate services will be Sunday, May 17 at 6 p.m. in the high school auditorium. Graduation rites for the nine seniors in the Wilson Class of 1998 will be in the new gym on Friday, May 22 at 7 p.m.

The Wilson Band will have their annual band trip on Saturday, May 16.

The annual FFA Banquet will be Thursday, May 14, in the old gym, at 6:30 p.m. The meal will consist of BBQ and all the trimmings. All chapter members, their parents or guardians and friends are invited to attend.

The Wilson School Library is trying to get together a collection of Wilson annuals. Call Mrs. Sharp at the library if you are interested in donating an annual.

Community Story Time will take the summer off and resume in September. Thanks for your participation.

Buddy Day at Wilson Elementary will be held May 14 (today). Events will begin at 9:00. Preschool children in the community are invited to attend.

Mark your calendars for Wilson Elementary's Award and Recognition Ceremony. It will be Monday, May 18 at 7:00 in the auditorium.

Wilson schools will dismiss at 1:00 on May 21 and 22. Wilson Elementary will hold Parent, Student, Teacher conferences to discuss report cards, TAAS results, student progress, etc. Parents may pick up report cards at this time.

Wilson Elementary will have a Talent Show on Friday, May 22 at 8:30 a.m. in the high school auditorium. A rehearsal will be held Thursday, May 21 at 8:30 to practice and screen appropriate performances.

The Wilson News
by Buster Abbe • 628-6368

Wilson Fire Department Tip of the Week: If you are trapped in a fire, put as many closed doors as possible between you and the fire. Seal off all cracks and cover vents with cloth or towels to keep the smoke out. Put a wet cloth over your nose and mouth and wait at the window if you are able.

The Wilson Cemetery Association is looking for men and women to serve as directors for the association. Interested persons should contact Floyd Heck, A.J. Gickhorn or Curtis Wilke.

A new Christian Book Club has formed in Wilson. The group meets in the educational building at St. John Lutheran Church. If you would like to join the group they read "Following Jesus Without Embarrassing God", by Tony Campolo, feel free to attend their next meeting on Wednesday, May 20 at 7:15 p.m. If you have any questions or need assistance in obtaining the book, contact Vicar Pamela Thiede at St. John Lutheran Church at 628-6573.

The Wilson Lions Club is beginning to plan for their 50th Anniversary, which will be in August of 1999. Club members are attempting to locate the club's charter and the first one-half of the president's plaque. Both of these items were taken, for safe-keeping, from the school cafeteria during a cleanup project, and they are so safe that they cannot be located. Anyone having these items or knowing their whereabouts is asked to contact Lion Curtis Wilke.

Wilson City officials have announced that a rabies clinic for pets is being planned for about the middle of June. The exact date and time will be announced as the plans are finalized.

The city animal control officer is having problems with people opening the door on the animal trap and releasing captured animals, or otherwise making the trap ineffective. These are criminal actions and those caught, will be prosecuted. Wilson has a problem with people coming from other areas and dumping their unwanted pets. Animal control is not a popular subject, but is necessary due to unthinking people who abandon their pets or pet owners who let their pets run loose to do property damage or to injure other people's pets that are properly contained.

Many Wilson students will have a holiday on Friday, May 15. This will be the final intersession day for this school year. Intersession hours are from 9:00 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Buses will run and lunch will be served.

Community Story Time will take the summer off and resume in September. Thanks for your participation.
