THE PRIVATE EYE

by J. R. HANEY

Progress is the future of any town and as this department drove around town this week we were amazed at the number of building and remodeling projects that were going on.

Just to list a few we have a new Post Office Building under construction, Griffiths Elevator is adding onto their business with additional grain storage and the Muleshoe Coop Gin is building new warehouse storage for feed, seed and equipment.

Other worthwhile progressive projects now under way are new football stands for the school being built locally by Mills Machine Shop, Gerald Priboth has purchased the fashion center and is completely redoing it from top to bottom and the Bailey County REA Cooperative will add a second story to their already fine looking building.

Baker Fertilizer Company on South American Boulevard is putting the finishing touches on their office and plant and Myron Pool, III has a Potato Shed in operation east of the tracks.

The Lumber Yards and the local builders report a good number of houses being put up and with a fair onion crop and potato crop things look good for Muleshoe.

An Oil well is being drilled east of town... who knows... we may wake up with black gold running down the street.

All in all I would say Muleshoe is the place to live.

City Dads Hike Water Prices

Water rates will go up to a minimum of $3 on the October bills, according to an ordinance passed Tuesday by the Muleshoe City Council.

Other business at the meeting included an ordinance approving bonds to be issued in accordance with the voters' wishes as expressed in the recent bond election.

Delinquent taxes will be referred to an attorney September 1.

The council also instructed the staff to make a study of streets in the industrial area of the eastern section of town, to determine the needs for improvements and changes to be made in that area.

Under discussion at the meeting was the possibility of the city's undertaking a recreation program. The council directed the city manager to find out what policies surrounding cities of the size of Muleshoe have on such recreation programs.

Muleshoe scored all three runs in the top of the first when Mike Ward walked, Jimmy King was safe on an error, Sammie Johnson walked, Lawrence Green walked, Mickey Wilson was safe on a fielder's choice, Paul Swint walked and Butch Green was hit by a pitched ball.

Littlefield went scoreless until the bottom of the third when Bobbie Ward walked, Walter Lee Johnson singled and Nowlin singled. The bottom of the fourth saw Littlefield go ahead to stay as Kevin Hutson singled, Johnny Horne was safe on an error, Larry Reese singled, Kenny Carr walked, Ward was hit by a pitched ball, Johnson was safe on a fielder's choice and then Nowlin unleashed his drive on the first ball pitched to him and sent it way over the fence him.

In the bottom of the fifth the Littlefield team picked up five more runs as Tim Tapley was safe on an error, Horne walked, Reese singled, Carr walked, Johnson was safe on an error and Nowlin doubled scoring two more runs. In all Nowlin drove in seven runs for the Littlefield team.

The winning pitcher was Lindy Stansell who came in to pitch in the top of the fourth. The losing pitcher was Butch Geen.

Survey Of Hiway 84 Will Start

State Highway Department Engineer Rhea Bradley reported Monday that authorization has been received to begin preliminary right of way work on US 84 west of Muleshoe.

This highway will be widened and made four-lane to the Farmer County line. Bonds were voted in April to provide for this improvement.

Just two weeks ago, County Commissioners entered into an agreement with bond holders whereby $70,000 of the $250,000 in bonds issued in May were refunded and reissued, saving $31,000 in interest payments.

Bradley said a field party will begin work in the next two weeks. They will locate property lines, improvements and so on in their survey.

Born March 6, 1872, in McCaskill, Arkansas, Mr. Askew lived to the age of 89 years, four months, 17 days.

Services were held Tuesday in the Northside Church of Christ and interment was in Muleshoe Cemetery.

Mr. Askew is survived by five sons, including Arthur and Ashby, both of Muleshoe; Marvin, Wichita Falls; Noah, Huntsville, Arkansas; and Pete, Albuquerque, N. M.

Six daughters survive Mr. Askew, including Mrs. E. L. Magby, Muleshoe; Mrs. Virgil Stokes, Mountain View, Calif.; Miss Pearl Askew, Mountain View, Calif.; Mrs. Alvin Clary, Globe, Ariz.; Mrs. Daek Stevenson, Lendrieth, N. M.; and Mrs. Leona King, Mesa, Ariz.

One brother, Marlin Askew, McCaskill, Arkansas; 29 grandchildren and 59 great-grandchildren also survive Mr. Askew.

Pallbearers included Lewis Welch, Cecil Davis, Rufus Gilbreath, Omer Kellton, Glen Williams and Howard Thornton.

$36,000 Deficit Now Paid; Schools See Brighter Future

Muleshoe taxpayers have been saved many thousands of dollars during the past year, according to Neal Dillman, superintendent of schools.

The saving has been accomplished with no loss in instructional quality, he stressed, but has been made through economy measures aimed at striking a blow to waste. Care in choosing equipment has also contributed to the economical saving.

Ad the school district has not saved by neglecting the needs of the district. In addition to the remodeling and repairing reported on in The Journal in past issues, as well as building reported, the school district has purchased new equipment and, more important, paid off old debts.

An old deficit of about $36,000 was paid this past year and the budget still shows improvements over that of previous years.

Three school buses were bought and paid for during the 1960-61 fiscal year, which closes the end of August. Cost of these buses totaled $12,125, not including the cost of changing bodies to one chassis bought.

UN-Type Building Front Will Dress Up Muleshoe

Construction will begin sometime in October on a second floor addition to the Bailey County Electrical Cooperative office building in downtown Muleshoe.

This addition will make the Cooperative Building the most modern-appearing structure in the city, due to the novel materials to be used in the front of the building.

D. B. Lancaster, Co-op general manager, reports that the front of the new floor of the building will be constructed of plastic and aluminum, which will let a maximum of light enter the building with a minimum of glare.

Made of plastic squares encased in aluminum frames, the sheets of translucent material will extend from floor to ceiling of the second floor. The ends of the building will be made of Austin Stone, blending with the present structure.

Containing 4,300 square feet of floor space, the building will be 87 feet long.

On the second floor, in addition to office space, there will be a board room which will be open to use by the public for meetings of small groups. An outside stairway will permit entry into this room without the necessity of going through the offices.

Three stairways will lead to the second floor of the building. Two of these will be from the outside, while a third will be for the use of office personnel in pursuit of their daily chores.

Wyatt C. Hedrick, Fort Worth architect who designed the created the plans for the new addition to the Electric Co-op Building.

Bids will be called for after the next meeting of the board of directors in August and contract will be let on the construction sometime in September.

Money for the construction will come from the general fund of the cooperative, which means the group will not have to borrow money from the Rural Electrification Association for the addition.

Architect's drawings were not available for publication at this time, but it is expected that they will be delivered in the near future and will be shown in the Journal as soon as they are made public.

JOURNAL DEADLINE ANNOUNCED

In order to speed up the publication date of The Muleshoe Journal it is requested all display advertising deadlines will be 5:00 p.m., Tuesday. News deadline will be 12:00 noon Wednesday.

First Graders Must Have Immunization

Superintendent of Schools Neal Dillman announced this week that all children, before enrolling in the first grade, must have a signed statement from their physician certifying that they have been immunized against smallpox, and diphtheria, polio, whooping cough, and tetanus.

Forms for this immunization record may be picked up in the Principal's Offices or any physician's office in Muleshoe.

Diphtheria, polio, whooping cough, and tetanus, can be given in one combined shot; while smallpox requires a vaccination.

If there are those who cannot afford to pay for these immunizations, they should check with Mrs. Gorrell, school nurse, or Dr. W. B. McSpadden, city health officer, at the West Plains Hospital, and proper arrangements will be made to have the shots administered.

Muleshoe First National Bank Will Mark Sixth Anniversary

The Muleshoe First National Bank will celebrate its sixth anniversary August 1.

Opening for business August 1, 1955, the bank built a new building in that same year, moving into the new headquarters December 10, 1955. This building was remodeled and added to in August 1960.

The bank started business with seven employees. Today 17 people are employed by the business.

Growth has been the byword and the habit at the First National. The first call, in December 1955, found the bank with assets of $5,492,746.59.

The bank opened with a surplus of $50,000, and now has tripled that amount. Undivided profits and reserves have grown from $50,000, to a figure approaching $140,000.

At the time of opening the bank had a capital of $200,000. The first depositor waited for the doors of the new bank to open in 1955. This first depositor was Guy Nickels, who is now a member of the board of directors of the bank.

Other directors are: M. D. Gunstream, Harmon Elliott, W. M. Pool, L. L. Sinclair, and Rufus Gilbreath.

M. D. Gunstream, president of the First National Bank, had this to say concerning the anniversary. "The people in this area who have supported us and placed their confidence in this institution are responsible for the progress of our bank."

"As has been said by individuals from other localities, Bailey County and the surrounding counties are full of the best people in the world.

"This makes it a genuine pleasure to serve them especially when we realize they alone are responsible for our success."

He concluded by saying, "We continually strive to give the type service that is worthy of the support we have enjoyed since our opening in 1955."

Dead Man's Name Causes Mystery

by GARY STONE

Bailey County sheriff's officers and State Highway Patrolman John Bentley have been dazed this week trying to solve the mystery of Carlos Fierro.

A man known to local officers as Carlos Fierro Jr., died in Green Hospital Sunday as a result of injuries sustained in a one-car crash southeast of Muleshoe July 19.

Officers have since been trying to establish his true identity and have run into some of the strangest circumstances in recent history.

SEARCH BEGINS

Finding the address of the Army Bureau of Records, St. Louis, Mo., in the billfold of the dead man, officers concluded that that office had some record of the background and next of kin of the deceased. Police called the Bureau and were given a Los Angeles, Calif., address where the mother of the deceased was said to live.

Los Angeles police checked the address and found the lady in question.

WRONG MAN

They informed her that her son had been killed in Muleshoe and she astounded them by replying that this was not likely, since her son was working nearby. Los Angeles police then met one Carlos Fierro and checked his identification. He was, indeed, Carlos Fierro, and very much alive.

Once again police began searching for the identity of the Carlos Fierro killed in Muleshoe. Taking fingerprints from the body, they consulted with police in Clovis, where Fierro had been working. There they found that Fierro had a prison record. They then checked with prison officials in Santa Fe, where they found two more addresses.

NOT RELATED

One address was alleged to belong to Fierro's cousin, who turned out to be just an acquaintance who could not lead police to Fierro's next of kin.

The second address, which was supposed to belong to a sister, proved to be a false lead, also. There was no such address in the city in question.

BACK TO ARMY

Santa Fe prison officials had also supplied police with Fierro's Army serial number, however, Patrolman Bentley again contacted the Army Bureau of Records had served two hitches in the Army and that his mother lived in El Paso.

Prison records had shown Fierro's parents as being deceased, so police didn't know what to believe.

Fingerprints finally removed any doubt of Fierro's identity. He was proven by Federal Bureau of Investigation records to be Carlos Flores Fierro Jr.

Belgian Student Replaces Greek

Due to difficulties outside Muleshoe, the Greek girl scheduled to come to Muleshoe will not be coming. In her place, there is a possibility that Muleshoe's guest will be Helene Geanne Beckaert, from Gant, Belgium.

Helene, 17, appears to be an outstanding scholar from her records. She has an excellent control of six languages, including English, French, German, Latin, Greek, and Italian.

She will be a senior in Muleshoe High School this year if she does come, and will arrive either August 1 or August 10 in New York City.

An outstanding swimmer, she has participated in competition in Italy, Spain, and Germany. Her father is an accountant.

Insect Problem Seen As Acute

Serious cotton insect problems were isolated according to re- ports from County Agricultural Agents during the past week. County Agents in the Red Roll- ing Plains reported an increase in damage and populations of the boll weevil. Bollworms continue to cause concern in the Permian Basin region, according to agents in that area.

After cotton has set some larger squares and blooms be- gin to appear in the field, flea- hopper populations and their damage should both be consid- ered in determining when con- trol measures are needed, cau- tioned J. K. Aams, Bailey Coun- ty Agricultural Agent.

"If three out of every four squares set by the cotton plant are "Sticking," little damage is being done by fleahoppers re- gardless of the numbers ob- served," states Mr. W. L. Olen, Jr., Agricultural Experiment Sta- tion. Olen emphasized the im- portance of considering both the damage observed and the num- ber of fleahoppers present be- fore starting a spray program.

Bollworm populations have re- mained low in most counties, but fields should be checked regu- larly for the appearance of the bollworm eggs and small worms, cautioned John G. Thomas, Ex- tension Area Entomologist.

Cotton aphids continued build- ing up in Dawson, Lamb, Yoak- um, Lynn and Bailey and some control measures were being taken in younger cotton in some cases. Control of aphids will kill all insects in the field which will increase the danger of se- rious bollworm infestation later in the season.

Cancer Kills 33 Here In 4 Years

According to figures published by the American Cancer Socie- ty, cancer is on the increase in Bailey County.

African Cancer Society fig- ures show that 1947 brought three deaths attributable to can- cer in this county.

Five deaths occurred due to cancer in 1954, nine in 1957, seven in 1958, nine in 1959 and eight in 1960.

This does not, of course, in- clude those deaths in which can- cer was a contributing factor, or those in which cancer was not a direct cause of death.

terstate commerce shipments, having been in prisons from Walla Walla, Washington, to Oklahoma and numerous county jails.

At latest report, Patrolman Bentley was trying to locate Fierro's mother in El Paso.

Further developments in the case show that the driver of the car in which Fierro received his fatal injuries is being held in county jail.

DRIVER HELD

James Thomas Conley, who is wanted for parole violation in Colorado, had been charged with second degree negligent homicide in the death of Fierro. He had been held for driving while intoxicated prior to Fierro's death.

Rumors had run rampant over Muleshoe concerning some $20,000 allegedly on the person of Fierro at the time of his death.

Patrolman Bentley cleared up this question when he disclosed the fact that Fierro had not had any money at all on him at the time of the fatal accident.

He did have a deposit slip for that sum that had been deposited in an Albuquerque bank in December. A check of that bank showed that he had withdrawn the entire amount the following day, December 13.

IS INDIAN

Fierro, who is believed to be half Blackfoot Indian and half Mexican, had been employed by Curry County Grain and Elevator in Clovis, prior to his death.

This fatality brings the number of fatal accidents in Bailey County to seven for the year. This compares to a total of nine fatalities for all of 1960.

Stone's Throw

by GARY STONE

(Dedicated to the principal of throwing rocks at EVERYTHING)

I must admit it... at the time of this writing, I have never seen a prairie dog! This may seem very hard to believe, but I haven't. People tell me, though, that they are very cute little animals and should be protected. I don't know.

Since I've never seen one but trust the judgment of the people who tell me they are cute little things, I'll go along with them on it. Now I have found that someone is going around all over the county killing off the precious little things! What an outrage! What a catastrophe! What a shame.

Well, I asked J. K. Adams, the County Agent, about the situation and he admitted that there is a man gassing the little creatures in their very own homes I mean, he doesn't even give them a running head start and then squirt the gas at them, but just goes around poking his old gaspiper down in their living rooms and shooting the juice to them. This is unbelievable, really, and I think you'll agree with me.

Defenders of the prairie dog are legion. There are sportsmen who want to shoot at the "varmints" with their rifles. They say it's a lot of good sport to go out shooting prairie dogs and that the sport will be ruined if they're all killed off. Besides, poking gaspiper down in living rooms is just not sporting.

Then there are the nature lovers who want the prairie dog protected because it is such a cute little animal. This cause stands on its merits, just as that of the movement to stop people from annihilating children, which is a truly terrible thing to do.

Conservation-minded folks make up the third main division of prairie dog supporters. They say the prairie dog is getting scarce and will soon be extinct if we aren't careful.

Well, all I know is what people tell me, and from what I can find out, the sportsmen haven't been doing a very good job of keeping the prairie dog population within reasonable limits lately. In other words, they just haven't been shooting the little monsters.

In considering the point that nature lovers bring out, it seems that they have little to worry about. So far, I haven't met anyone capable of getting close enough to cuddle a prairie dog anyway.

Extinct? There are over 10,000 prairie dogs in Bailey County alone. That is, there were before the gas started flowing into the homes.

Why kill prairie dogs? Some of the reasons I've found are sensible enough. Seems the prairie dogs in Bailey County have robbed their hosts blind. One town ate enough of a man's crops to equal the price of a new compact car. Multiply this by the number of towns in the county—25 or more that are known to exist. That comes to a lot of cars—compact or otherwise.

The number of prairie dogs in the county eat enough grass to support over 300 cows—333, to be exact, if the guesstimates of the number of prairie dogs is anywhere near correct. That's a lot more income being lost.

What bothers me, though is that thing about all those cars.

The special "Citation for Effective Newspaper Advertising" was given to the General Telephone advertising on additional telephones in the homes—the ad which have appeared in this newspaper with the headline, "Reach... Don't Run," told of the benefits and low cost of additional telephones in various parts of the house.

No dead furrows, back furrows when you plow with Ford's big 3-FURROW, 2-WAY MOLDBOARD PLOW

Here's another big implement for the Ford 6000 tractor — a heavy-duty 2-way mold board plow that lets you throw all furrows the same direction. This leaves fields smooth and even for more efficient control of irrigation water. When plowing on hillsides, it permits all furrows to be thrown uphill to help reduce water run-off and erosion.

The plow is compact and fully mounted for extra good maneuverability in close places. Its sturdy main frame consists of a high carbon steel tube and a welded box frame carrier, and is available for 14- or 16-inch bottoms. Bottoms are Ford's General Purpose Economy type for proved plowing performance at maximum economy. Shear bolt trip beams provide protection from hidden obstructions.

its as an index for the distribution of cost of insurance by allocating more of it to the groups producing higher losses.

Rates announced recently were an overall average increase of about 15 per cent of the present rates. However, in many instances this did not raise the cost of insurance as high as it was in August, 1958.

Generally speaking, using an all-state overall average, basic limits liability coverage on private passenger automobiles, combining bodily injury and property damage, will be about 3.3 per cent higher this August 1 than on August 1, 1958, but 75 per cent of the drivers who are in Sub-class 0 will have a total premium of 7.4 per cent less for this coverage this August than in the same month in 1958.

On collision coverage on all types of automobiles and all deductibles, averaged over the state, the rate effective August 1, 1961, will be 6.1 per cent less than it was in 1958, and for the 75 per cent of the drivers in Sub-class 0 their premiums will be 24.8 per cent less than they would have been for this coverage in 1958.

On medical payments coverage, the all-state average will be 2.7 per cent higher rates this August than in 1958, but again the safe driving plan will bring the Sub-class 0 motorist a reduction of 17.8 per cent of the August, 1958 rate.

On all types of cars, statewide, comprehensive rates will average this August 3.2 per cent less than in August, 1958.

This is further illustrated in Bailey County, by the following comparisons in reference to one of the higher priced models of the Ford, Chevrolet or Plymouth lines, less than six months old; using a coverage of basic limits public liability, full coverage comprehensive, and $50 deductible collision, before application of safe driving plan will show:

Premium as of August 1, 1958, $154.00; Premium as of August 1, 1959, $141.00; Percentage of change from 1958, — 8 per cent; Premium as of August 1, 1960, No change; Premium as of August 1, 1961, $170.00; Percentage of change from 1958, plus 10 per cent.

When starting a tractor, don't forget to have it out of gear and breaks set, hold crank properly if crank is needed, warn others you are about to start engine and never run a tractor in a small closed building.

When driving, never carry passengers, always hook to loads on the drawbar, keep in gear when going down slopes, keep speed down on slopes to avoid side tipping, learn the proper way to pull out of a ditch, avoid high hitching and follow all traffic rules.

Let the engine slow you down far stops, then be sure tractor is out of gear and the brakes are set before leaving it. Never refuel while engine is running and keep fuel a minimum of 50 feet from buildings.

And remember, 96 per cent of all accidents are caused by human failure. Don't be one of those who DIDN'T KNOW, DIDN'T SEE or DIDN'T CARE. If you are, you may be one of those who DIDN'T LIVE.

Automobile Insurance Rates Increase Effective August 1

State Board of Insurance recently announced some increases in automobile insurance rates effective August 1, 1961.

This is the first increase in public liability and collision rates since August 1, 1958. In 1959 the automobile rates were decreased by an average in excess of 10 per cent.

Due to some changes being made in the safe driving plan which was inaugurated on January 1, 1960, for which no compensatory change was made in the rates, the rates, in effect, were reduced further as the realized amounts were smaller than originally computed.

Insurance buyers would doubtless be interested if they could go through the rate making process and see the degree of care that is exercised to compile accurate statistics, and to assemble them in proper form, for use in determining the exact cost of insurance.

Insurance rates are made on past experience for use in the future. Classification plans are used to distribute the cost as nearly as possible to those incurring it.

One of these plans is to classify by territory. Thus, Harris County, Dallas County, Bexar County, and other large counties form separate territories for rate making purposes.

The rates developed for those counties are based on their losses alone. Smaller counties are grouped with other counties that have approximately the same experience in losses for the purpose of making rates.

Another classification is that of use, whether the automobile is used as a private passenger automobile, and if so whether or not for business use or for non-business use.

In this field also is the classification of the driver, whereby male operators under 25 years of age will, under most circumstances, pay a larger premium than an older man.

Texas Safe Driving Plan is a classification plan and permits a further refinement in rate based on the motorist's driving hab-

The mood is Thunderbird...the economy is Falcon...

...it's the new Falcon Futura by Ford

COMPACT COUSIN OF THE THUNDERBIRD

And, it's the nicest thing that ever happened to America's best-loved compact! Now... step aboard! Relax in the foam-padded comfort of individually contoured twin front seats (styled by the men who designed the Thunderbird!) Rest your lucky feet on the thick wall-to-wall carpeting. Look down beside you: there's a handy console between the front seats for your personal effects.

Be sure to check the back seat, too—plenty of room there for 3 people. And, in Futura everyone's luggage goes in the vacation-size trunk—where it belongs. Futura gives you true compact gas economy, too. Finally, when it's time to check the price sticker—surprise! Because—for all its luxury, all its economy—

Futura's actually America's lowest-priced* luxury compact!

A Falcon Makes Economy Run History! A 1961 Falcon with standard transmission got 32.6 mpg under the cross-country test conditions of this year's Mobilgas Economy Run... the best gas mileage ever recorded by a "6" or "8" in the Run's 25-year history! Even more impressive... was the competition... a group of expert drivers really out to win. But Falcon topped them all!

More good news! Ford sales are booming! One reason: Falcon, America's best-selling compact has increased its 1961 lead over its nearest competitor to nearly 50,000 cars!

Industry on View

One of the best and simplest editorials on transportation matters that has yet appeared comes from the Scottsbluff, Nebraska, Star-Herald. Here it is: "James Hoffa of the Teamsters Union calls upon Congress to pass a law to require the Interstate Commerce Commission in fixing freight rates to consider the effect that railroad piggy-back methods (carrying truck trailers on flat cars) have on competing forms of transportation."

"He argues that the efficiency of trailers on flat cars is taking jobs that 'belong' to trucking employees and he expresses no concern for the consumers who pay the bill."

"Railroads let business and employees when trucks moved goods more efficiently and economically than railroads. The railroads by their own renege are now able to recapture some of that lost business. The consumers will ultimately benefit in terms of the retail prices they must pay. There should never be legislation to hamstring efficiency or the free enterprising system."

"One can understand the objection of the truckers to loss of business. But what they should be doing is seeking ways to make their own services more attractive to the shipper—not asking Congress for a law that would give them the traffic whether they deserve it or not on the basis of economy and efficiency. A main reason for competition is to make a profit by giving consumers the best in goods and services at minimum costs. That goes for transportation as well as all other enterprise."

A LEGISLATIVE ACCIDENT

Some years ago Congress gave a modicum of relief to shareholders who, alone of all taxpayers, are subjected to double income taxation by the federal government. The relief consists of a $50 dividend exemption ($100 in case of joint return) plus a tax credit equal to 4 percent of any additional dividends. Since many wonder just how double taxation works, it's simple. First, corporations pay a 52 percent tax on any profit they earn. Then, the individual taxpayer receiving dividends pays taxes on the dividend income he receives at his regular income tax rates. These range from 20 percent on the lowest taxable incomes, to a mountainous high of 91 percent.

Oddly enough, the double tax on dividends is the result of a "legislative accident" dating back to the great depression of the 30's. Before that time, dividend income was not subject to the normal income tax rate. Then, in 1936, Congress passed an undistributed corporate profits tax in the hope that this would lead corporations to pay out more dividends which, in turn, would pump money into the depressed economy. Since corporate profits, when paid out, were then largely exempt from taxes, dividends were made subject to normal individual income tax rates. But the law proved unworkable and was repealed—but, in doing that, Congress failed to reinstate the provision exempting dividends from the normal personal income tax rate. Thus, double taxation is a relic from an abandoned legislative experiment—and it's a relic that stands squarely in the way of investment in enterprise, and the nation's economic growth.

Current efforts to do away with the dividend exemption and credit are meeting with strong opposition. And they should. The investor deserves a better break—not a worse one.

WHO CONTROLS THE PURSE STRINGS?

A major fiscal problem today is the fact that Congress has virtually lost control over the nation's purse strings. Representative Pelly of Washington, speaking in the House, recently described the problem in these words: "... an idea of congressional lack of control over the Federal purse strings can be gained by examining the status of back-door spending authorizations of the Federal Government, permitting these agencies to borrow from the Treasury and expend the funds without requiring an annual justification or review by the congressional committees having jurisdiction over appropriations."

Mr. Pelly went on to present a tabulation covering these back-door expenditures over a period of years. The sums involved total tens upon tens of billions. He added that if additional current proposals of the same nature are adopted, "history may well set the 87th Congress as having yielded its constitutional responsibility to the executive branch in greater degree than any Congress before."

There is room for differences of opinion over the wisdom of

Skip-Row Stimulates Growth

Cotton planted skip-row with barley got off to a flying start in comparison with cotton planted elsewhere at the High Plains Research Foundation. The plants exceeded the others in vigor and height, due to the wind protection afforded by the barley.

When the barley was harvested, the stubble was disked. Soybeans were planted in some four-row plots and grain sorghum in others for further study of the skip-row system of farming. The barley is the Cordova variety and the four-row strips of cotton are Paymaster 8890.

Visiting farmers have shown considerable interest in the skip-row planting.

OATS VARIETY TEST

The Cimarron variety of oats was the earliest to mature and was followed closely by New Nortex and Winter Excel in a test of eleven varieties of oats at the High Plains Research Foundation, Halfway, Texas. These three varieties were harvested May 30 to June 2, 1961. The other seven were harvested June 26, 1961. All varieties were planted on October 10, 1960. They were irrigated and received fertilizer in the pre-plant in the amount of 300 pounds of 10-30-10 in October with a top-dress of 40 pounds of nitrogen in March, 1961.

The Fulwin variety was the last to mature. The Cimarron variety led in yield with 20 bushels more than the next highest yielding variety, Bronco. The yield in the oats variety tests were: Cimarron, 173.1 bushels; Bronco, 153.7 bushels; Winter Excel, 134.0 bushels; Mustang, 132.5 bushels; 59 D-1550 (a hybrid), 132.0 bushels; New Nortex, 129.4 bushels; Bronco crossed with Garry, 128.8 bushels; Frazier, 115.9 bushels; Fulwin, 109.5 bushels; and Wintok, 105.7 bushels.

ERICKSONS ENJOY FISHING IN PUGET SOUND IN WASHINGTON

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Erickson and daughter, Lynn, have spent the past two weeks vacationing near Port Townsend, Wash.

Fishing in Puget Sound was wonderful, Mrs. Erickson said. Each day, they would catch their limit within about 3 hour's time. She made the largest catch, an 18 pound Salmon, while Mr. Erickson and Lynn, came near that poundage mark several times with some weighing 17 lbs.

The limit in Washington is 80 lbs per person each day plus 1 fish, thus allowing the largest fish of the day to be counted as the extra fish.

Social Security To Increase Payments 10% To 1 1/2 Million

About a million and a half older people—the widows, dependent widowers and dependent parents of workers who have died—are due to receive increased payments under the new amendments to the social security law, according to John G. Hutton, manager of the Lubbock Social Security Office.

The benefits payable to widows age 62 or over will be raised about 10 percent. Widows eligible for the increased payments do not need to get in touch with their social security offices. The increase will be added automatically to the checks they will receive early in September.

Congress called this increase "one of the most needed changes in the social security program." Aged widows not only get lower benefits than do retired workers, but they also have less income from other sources than retired workers have.

The average benefit being paid to an aged widow early this year was $57.86 a month. The yearly income for half the women receiving widow's benefits, not counting their social security benefits, was less than $270 a year.

Aged dependent widowers and some aged parents of deceased workers are also due automatic 10 per cent raises with the social security checks payable to them in early September. However, an increase in a parent's benefit check will be made in those cases where only one parent is receiving benefits based on the deceased son's or daughter's work under social security. Where more than one dependent parent receives a parent's benefit, there will be no increase.

A number of widows age 62 or older are now getting retirement benefits based on their own work under social security. Because of the change in the law increasing widow's benefits, it is possible that some of these widows now getting monthly retirement benefits of less than $100 based on their own work will be able to qualify for higher amounts by applying for the widows benefits payable on their husbands' accounts.

A widow now collecting her own retirement benefit can find out whether the change in the law applies to her by asking at her nearest social security office.

A representative of the Lubbock Social Security Office will be in Muleshoe on Thursday, August 3 in the County Court house at 9:30 a.m., and will be glad to assist in all matters pertaining to social security.

Progress Needed

The literate temperature of a town is measured, not in degrees, but in facilities. The cultural level of a community is measured not in feet but in attractions. The life of a town is measured not in years but in activity.

Literarily speaking, the cultural life of Muleshoe is lagging. We speak of the missile lag, the economic lag and worry about these things. When we mention a cultural lag, however, we are speaking of cold issues that are sure to arouse little interest, worry, conflict or even thought.

Let's define our terms. By a cultural lag we mean that Muleshoe is behind in training and refining the minds of its citizenry. Specifically, we are speaking of the lack of adequate library facilities.

We should like to pose these questions for your consideration: Is it more important to look toward the economic welfare of a person than the cultural aspects of the peoples' minds? Is it of sufficient importance to have better health facilities while ignoring the educational needs of a person? Is it more worthwhile to install new water pipes than it is to install new thoughts in the minds of men? Is it more advantageous to have superior recreational equipment than to have a passable bookshelf?

We grant that all these things are of the utmost importance. Neglect the economic welfare, the health or the basic needs of a town and the town is doomed. Failure to supply the recreational equipment needed by teenagers and adults and to provide the necessary outlets for physical and emotional energy and a serious problem may well arise which is far more costly than the investment in facilities would be.

But what of the psychological needs of the people? Are these to be ignored completely or passed off as being of no consequence? What of the need to satisfy a hunger which can be infinitely more lasting than the desire for a full stomach? What of the fulfillment of the demands of the inquiring mind? Are these things to be left out? Are they to be shunned and shoved back into a meager corner?

Books satisfy these needs for many people. Books answer a call from the wilderness of the mind that is not to be ignored. Books supply an outlet for one of the drives that is almost basic — the drive for experiences, adventure and knowledge. True, not all people possess this drive. In fact, perhaps not even a majority of the people do. Many of those who do share in this heartfelt need are unable to avail themselves of the opportunity of fulfilling it, due to time. Is this any reason to deny those who do have the need and the opportunity?

Books offer a means of bringing to many the adventures of a few. Vicarious experiences are, of course, not so satisfying as are the real adventures, exploits, lives. But for many, books offer the only way of attaining a goal of high adventure. Why is this denied — stifled, perhaps would be a better word, since Muleshoe does have a library that offers some books — the people of Muleshoe? Why is there no adequate library in Muleshoe? Why is this need left unfulfilled when those of economics, health, safety and recreation are taken care of with great care?

Be it city, county, state, federal or privately endowed, MULESHOE SHOULD HAVE A GOOD LIBRARY! What will you do about it? Will you HELP? If so, please contact Mrs. Thurman White, who is on the Library Committee of the Muleshoe Study Club, or Mrs. Sherman Sweatman.

BABSON DISCUSSES: 1961 Developments, First Half

Babson Park, Mass., July 27— The laymen whom I meet and talk with often express confusion as to the true status of business and financial conditions, having been bombarded with conflicting reports from the optimists and the pessimists. Therefore, I think it would be helpful to readers to have a brief survey of economic developments through mid-year 1961.

SECURITIES MARKETS

The outstanding feature of financial conditions over the first six months of 1961 was the sharp upsurge in stock market activity. The Dow-Jones Industrial Average rose from 616 at the beginning of the year to an all-time high of 706 in the middle of May, before trailing off to 684 at midyear. Although part of the increase in investment interest was in anticipation of some improvement in general business later in the year, inflation psychology and speculative enthusiasm heightened buying impatience.

Bond prices were on the upside until late in this period as easy credit conditions in the banking system sustained debonds proved to be the exception, however, with prices depressed by the huge volume of new offerings.

GENERAL BUSINESS

Industrial production continued to decline during January and February, then in March regained the ground lost in those two months. Thereafter, output from the nation's factories expanded sharply. The breadth and vigor of the business upturn were indications that the fourth economic recession since World War 2 had run its course. Notwithstanding pump-priming measures initiated by the Government, the business rebound was largely the result of natural curative forces. It has been my experience that overexertion, colds, and indigestion respond best to "rest treatment," usually without my having to resort to pills. So, too, the recessionary period provided the needed rest for the economy to appear to correct such imbalances as excessive inventories and debt, and unduly high price and cost structures.

The biggest source of disappointment during the first half of 1961 was the lethargic pace of consumer spending for goods. Monthly retail sales figures dawdled along at rates below those for the year-earlier period. This, however, may have been a blessing in disguise, since consumers were building up future buying potential by adding to their savings and paying off their installment debts.

NEW BUILDING AND REAL ESTATE

New construction expenditures continued the generally sidewise trend of 1960. Commercial, industrial, and public utility outlays for new construction were at record rates, but these were offset by the low levels of new home building and highway construction. However, housing starts began to edge upward after the beginning of the year, and road building took an upward spurt in the spring.

Sandhills Philosopher: Comes Out Against Zoning For Johnson Grass Farms

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm probably is misconstruing the matter he's discussing this week. It's not the first time.

Dear editor: Whenever a city gets a certain size, say big enough to have uniformed policemen and one-way streets, the next step naturally is what's called zoning, which, as I understand it, gives the city the right to decide what sort of building can be put up in any given area. This idea started out I think to keep livery stables from going up next door to ice cream parlors and saloons next to churches, and is used now to keep supermarkets from invading residential sections, junk yards away from city parks, etc.

Today's Meditation

Read 1 Samuel 13:10-16; John 5:40-47.

Samuel said to Saul, Thou hast done foolishly; thou hast not kept the commandment of the Lord thy God, (1 Samuel 13:13.)

Samuel was God's man. He knew God's marching orders. If they did not come, he did not move, but stood steadfast in holy reverence before God. Samuel was displeased and angry with Saul for his disobedience to God. His twice-repeated assertion, "Thou hast not kept the commandment of the Lord," was a serious warning to Saul for his disobedience. Samuel withstood Saul with courage and boldness, directing his words straight as the arrow flies.

Those words took hold of Saul, and he trembled with conviction. In days to come, Saul remembered this holman of God, especially his unselfishness and justice.

What sublime beauty we find in the life of Samuel! What an inspiration is the memory of his death! What encouragement knowledge of his faithfulness to God gives us in hours of temptation!

PRAYER: Holy Father, God of all generations and all creatures, may we, too, be obedient to the heavenly vision. With assurance of Thy promise, May we stand boldly and remain true to Thee, in Jesus' name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
Men of God walk humbly before Him in obedient trust.
—Florence Crain (Texas)

What brought this up was an article I read in a newspaper clipping somebody sent me through the mail, reporting a government official in Washington has demanded that what this country now needs is a nationwide zoning system to prevent further losses of America's agriculturally productive lands.

According to him, about a million acres of productive land are being taken for such things as highways, airports and housing projects every year, and he thinks all the land ought to be zoned so this thing can be headed off.

At first I thought this was a good idea, anybody can figure that a million acres a year, if kept up very long, would eliminate farming and therefore eating, although you can say this for it, it certainly would solve the farm problem.

But if Washington gets the right to decide which land can be used for a housing project, which land has to stay in cultivation, it wouldn't be far to the point where it could decide not only which land has to stay in cultivation, but how it should be cultivated, or even worse, how often. This is where I draw the line.

If city people want to give their city government the right to decide whether you can open a T.V. repair shop in your garage or a beauty shop in your spare room, that's entirely their business, but the last thing I want is Washington zoning this Johnson grass farm and telling me I can't graze cows in my front yard or that my propped

Report Shows County Residents Living High On Hog

Retail business in Bailey County continued strong in the past year, despite the slowdown in most parts of the nation.

There was little evidence in the market reports to indicate that local residents changed their normal spending pattern to any appreciable extent.

On the contrary, some retail lines were able to report solid gains for the year.

The results are contained in the annual survey made by the Standard Rate and Data Service. Its comprehensive figures, showing how people in each community spent their retail dollars, covers every section of the United States.

In Bailey County, food was a principal item. Purchases in the local supermarkets, grocery stores, bakeries, butcher shops and the like amounted to $2,540,000 in the year, topping the 1959 volume of $2,369,000.

This was solely for take-home food. It did not include food that was consumed in restaurants, at lunch counters and at other eat-and-drink places.

Approximately 18 cents out of every dollar that was spent in

BEGIN FOOD SHOPPING AT HOME . . .

You can save money, time, energy and sometimes your temper by beginning your shopping trips at home. This is another way of saying that it pays to do some careful planning before you dash off to the store.

For example, in shopping for the food for the family, you can do these things at home while sitting in your favorite chair.

Plan menus for a week or more in advance. . . . This will save time in actual shopping, and in meal preparation later because the decision of "what to fix for supper" is already made, and supplies are on hand.

Study food ads in the local papers. . . . Comparing food costs "before" marketing is both economical and timesaving.

Make shopping list according to menu plans and food on hand. . . . Knowing what you need before you leave home will save time and energy. It will also help you avoid costly "impulse buying."

"Time" your buying. . . . Whenever possible avoiding rush hours will help save time and energy.

Use store services. . . . such as telephone and delivery services, in shopping for food when time is at a premium.

Consider using milk and bread routes. . . . This will save time and energy spent in extra trips to store and added cost may not be more than added cost of extra trips.

Keep pads of paper and pencil handy for making a "want list." Add to list as you use up some item so you won't forget to get it. This may save a trip to neighbor's or to store.

NEMATODES LIMIT PRODUCTION OF GARDEN TOMATOES

Are your garden tomatoes poor producers? If so, the plants may have been damaged by root knot. Many other vegetables may also be affected.

Root knot occurs in all areas of Texas, and is usually more common on sandy soils. The disease is caused by nematodes. Nematodes are small, microscopic worms belonging to a roundworms.

Plants damaged by nematodes show a lack of vigor as indicated by stunting, wilting and yellowing of the leaves. Loss of leaves often occurs. Plants may be small and unfit to eat.

To examine suspected plants, carefully remove roots and soil with a shovel. Diseased roots have abnormal galls or knots.

Parmer County Farm Bureau News

We are quickening from a news item originating in Austin, Texas: "If Texans have to pay higher auto insurance rates effective August 1, they have only themselves and higher costs of automobiles and accidents to blame, officials of the State Insurance Board told a special House investigating committee Friday."

KILL INSECTS ON ORNAMENTAL PLANTS

Summer brings an assortment of hungry insects to attack ornamental plants. Determining the kind and amount of insecticides to use on the different insects becomes a problem.

To answer these and other questions, extension entomologists of the A&M College of Texas have prepared a leaflet entitled, "Texas Guide for Controlling Insects on Ornamental Plants."

The leaflet defines the most common insect pests, describes the type of damage and gives directions for treatment, complete with dilution chart for mixing sprays.

Spindale Mills, Inc." This was the plate ordered by the above mentioned firm to use in their stamp metering machine in May of this year. Pitney Bowes, manufacturer of the stamp metering machines replied that such messages should be of a commercial nature, as the public might be misled into believing that the slogan was endorsed or authorized by the Federal Government. However, after some correspondence and policy reviewing, the plate was delivered quoting the first clause of the Pledge of Allegiance. Strange things happen nowadays.

Highlights and Sidelights

House members burned mid-night oil in an effort to get a tax bill to the Senate before the mid-point of the brief 30-day session.

In the long, long sessions and seemingly endless succession of approaches, amendments, substitutes and substitutes for the substitutes, it was often difficult to tell who was winning what. Showdown votes indicated that it is still easier for members to agree on what they don't want than on what they do.

Rejected, at least for the time being, was a package bill recommended by the Revenue and Taxation Committee. Its main money-raiser was a sales tax, with exemptions, on items costing $5 or more. It also included more utilities taxes, natural gas taxes, a transfer of funds from the permanent school fund, a revised franchise tax and a book-keeping transfer.

Also turned down were proposals for a 4 per cent corporate income tax by Rep. Bob Eckhardt of Houston and a 1 per cent general sales tax by Rep. Tom Andrews of Aransas Pass.

Rep. Charles Ballman of Borger, chairman of revenue and taxation, was pushing for a committee-written package bill that closely tracked Gov. Price Daniel's recommendations at the beginning of the session. It differed from the chief in that it included a Pennsylvania-type sales tax, applying only to items listed in the bill.

Despite the House problems, an August 8 finish may still be possible. Senate, generally, is swifter and more nearly of one mind on money matters. It agreed on a tax bill in the regular session in approximately one-third the time spent by the House.

Hardest part is getting agreement on one plan from both House and Senate—and finally—from the governor.

FUND BILL

House has given second reading approval to a bill appropriating $2,527,000,000 for the next two years.

It is slightly higher than the bill passed earlier by the Senate, and eventually differences will have to be worked out by a conference committee of the two houses.

A group of conservatives in the House were foiled—at least temporarily—in an effort to cut the bill by $27,000,000 through economy measures. Among items they felt could be deleted or put off were recapturing the House chamber and refinishing members' desks for $250,000, adding an office for the governor or to the Governor's Mansion for $50,000, installation of a sprinkler system on the Capitol lawn for $20,000 and several other expenses of that nature.

Economy group also wanted to trim back some increases in the bill for salaries and travel expenses for state personnel and eliminate paying legislators a salary for the period between November, 1960, when the annual pay amendment was approved, and the start of the session in January.

SCHOOL BILL MOVES

A bill to provide more liberal state aid for sparsely populated school districts has been approved by the House Education Committee.

Rep. Sam F. Collins of Newton is sponsor of the measure which would provide $378,000 to pay for 90 additional teachers in rural areas. Most of the extra teachers would be for Negro schools.

Objectors to the bill said it would perpetuate the problem of having school districts too small to provide a strong school program.

On the other side of the Capitol, the Senate Education Committee gave reluctant approval to a more economical teacher pay raise plan than the Hale-Aikin plan it already had approved. Sent to the floor was a bill by Sen. Bruce Reagan of Corpus Christi which would give teachers a $600 a year raise this year, $200 more in 1963 and $200 more in 1965. Hale-Aikin provides for $810 a year more immediately.

A bill creating a board to control water pollution is under study by the House Conservation and Reclamation Committee.

Similar bill was passed by the House last session but died in the Senate. Rep. R. H. Cory of Victoria, sponsor of the measure, said that unless the state acts now to control pollution, the federal government will take over. Under the Cory bill, a nine-member commission would be created with power to cancel an industrial firm's permit to operate if it persisted in activities causing water pollution.

A bill to reorganize the State Board of Water Engineers, somewhat along the lines of the State Highway Commission, is also under study by the same committee. Under the proposal by Rep. Franklin Spears of San Antonio, a chief engineer would be in charge of administrative and technical functions and a board would make policy.

LOBBY BILL DEBATED

A bill to provide additional lobby regulations attracted neither friends nor enemies to a hearing before the House State Affairs Committee.

Pro and con views were presented solely by members of the House before the measure was sent to subcommittee for study. Proposed bill would require lobbyists to file a report showing who received any amount above $50 spent to influence legislation. It would also prohibit a lobbyist's calling a member off the floor during session without advance permission.

Critics declared the legislators didn't need a law to enable them to stay put at their desks if they wanted to.

BEST TAX IS NO TAX

Citizens for Fair Taxation, an anti-sales tax committee, announced, as expected, that its poll showed a majority against a retail sales tax.

It also seemed to show that the people polled were not much in favor of any kind of new tax. CFT announced that 78 per cent of those opposed were against a retail sales tax on items of 25 cents or more, and 61 per cent were against selective excise or sales taxes if they hit any of the necessities. Eighty per cent were against a personal income tax.

A majority in the CFT poll favored the abandoned property bill, raising franchise taxes on interstate corporations and a corporation income tax.

SIMMONS VACATION IN THREE STATES

Mr. and Mrs. "Red" Simmons and daughters have just returned from a trip through Oklahoma, Colorado and New Mexico.

They visited with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Simmons at Ada, Okla., for four days, then traveling to Anadarko they visited with his cousin whom Mr. Simmons had not seen in some 25 years, then on to Taloga for lunch with Mrs. Simmons aunt. From there they went to Guyton and visited with Mrs. Simmons cousin whom she had not seen in 20 years.

Leaving Oklahoma, they stopped first in Colorado and visited the "Red" Wright family and looked over their farms near Springfield, Colo., then on to Lake City, Colo., for a week of fishing. Other points that they stopped in Colorado was the Royal Gorge and Pagosa Springs.

Mrs. Simmons said their last fishing stop on the trip was at Alamogordo Lake in New Mexico.

READ PSALM 23

The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want. (Psalm 23:1.)

Fatime was a blind girl. In her childhood she had never heard of the Lord Jesus. When a school for the blind was opened in Aleppo, Syria, among the first to register was an intelligent student and soon learned to read and write in Braille. Above all books, she loved the Gospels; above all stories, the story of the good shepherd. She had a sweet voice and loved to sing hymns.

During summer nights in the Middle East, people sleep on the flat roofs of their houses. Late in the evening, or in the early hours at night, Fatime would start singing "The Lord is my shepherd."

People listened and enjoyed the hymn as well as her sweet voice. They felt that the good shepherd had enlightened her darkness and had filled her heart with unspeakable peace. They knew she was giving expression to her inner joy, and telling others of it.

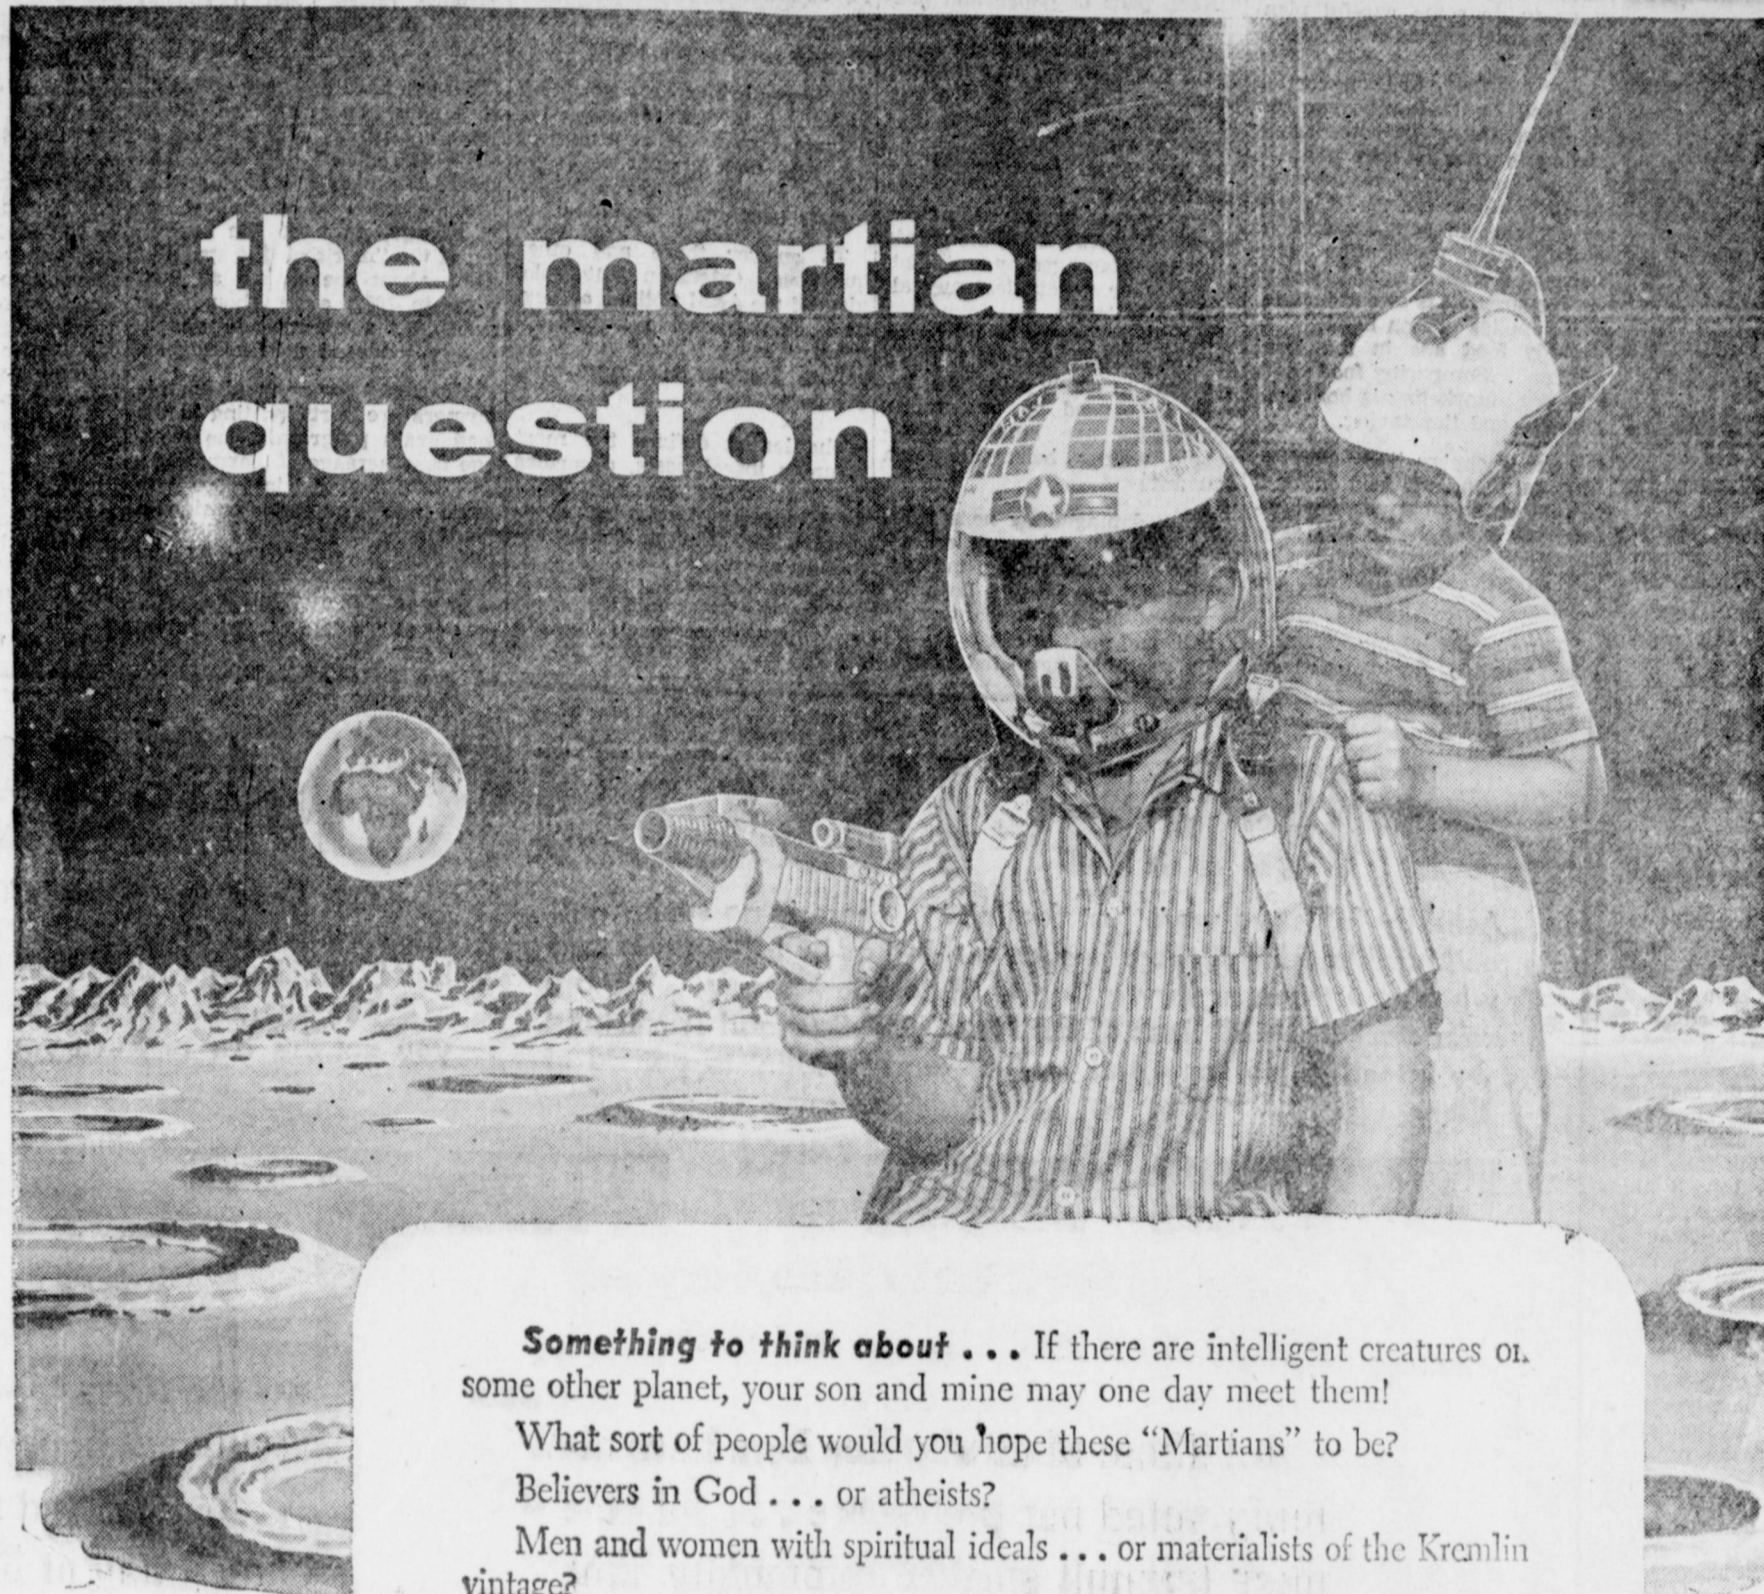

PRAYER:

Our heavenly Father, source of light and grace, we praise Thy holy name. Give us light in darkness and make our hearts to sing in their joy and to Thy praise. In the name of Jesus, our good shepherd, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

How will I give expression today to the joyful fact that the Lord is my shepherd?

Nerses Khachadourian (Syria)

the martian question

Something to think about . . . If there are intelligent creatures on some other planet, your son and mine may one day meet them!

What sort of people would you hope these "Martians" to be?

Believers in God . . . or atheists?

Men and women with spiritual ideals . . . or materialists of the Kremlin vintage?

Warm-hearted, friendly, with a Christian sense of values . . . or ruthless, indifferent, dedicated only to self?

WOULDN'T IT BE HEARTENING to find on that planet a world of churches . . . of faith . . . of folks at worship and at work for the Truth revealed to them by God?

Something to think about . . . Next Sunday! In this world! Which isn't yet all we want Mars to be!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The Best Way of Life

Buy... where your trade helps to sustain prosperity you can enjoy

It depends on what you like, of course. There is the warm neighborliness... the dignity and satisfaction of life in a community like ours... and there is life as it is lived in the cities... as one of the scrambling herd... where neighborliness is viewed with suspicion... and squalor is the lot of anybody who gets pushed aside in the rat race.

- Those of us who live here have already voted our preference... for this more tranquil smaller community unit as a way of living. We like churches where everybody knows everybody else... and schools where we know our children's teachers... and they know us. We like living that is more calm, easier, safer... and we like business dealings with neighbors we can depend on.

- But happy communities don't just grow... they have to be built. It takes revolving money... local trade volume... to build and maintain and enrich our chosen way of life.

It Pays to Buy where you Live
