No Citizens Attend School Tax Rate Hearing

The public hearing for citizen input closed without so much as a whisper last Thursday evening, as no citizens attended the meeting of the Tahoka Independent School District Board of Trustees as they convened to hear local concerns about the tax rate. Trustees have proposed leaving the tax rate at the same level for this year, at $1.32 per $100 of property value. Because the revenue raised from local tax funds will be higher than last year due to a hike in property values by the Lynn County Appraisal District, the hearing was required by law.

Following the hearing, trustees met in regular session for routine business. In a 6-1 motion, TISD trustees set a meeting for Tuesday, Aug. 25 at 7:30 a.m. in the Harvick Educational Center to adopt the 1998 tax rate. Trustee Joe Calvillo voted against the motion.

Monthly bills were approved, a textbook custodian was appointed, and a revised teacher appraisal calendar was approved as presented. Business Manager Ken Eudy reported that as of July 31, the 1997 tax collection totaled $989,464.98 which is 96.68 percent complete.

The next regular meeting of the board was scheduled for Thursday, Sept. 10 at 8 p.m.

All seven trustees were present for the hearing and meeting, including Greg Henley, Carmen Chapa, Brad Hammonds, Ginger Henry, Ty Askew, Leighton Knox Jr., and Calvillo, as well as district administrative staff.

Candidate for Ag Commissioner To Visit Tahoka

Susan Combs, Republican candidate for Texas Agriculture Commissioner, will be in Tahoka Tuesday, Sept. 8 to meet with farmers, ranchers and the general public. The come-as-you-are luncheon will be from 11 a.m. to 12 p.m. at the Life Enrichment Center, 1717 Main, Tahoka.

Combs, a graduate of the University of Texas Law School, was a former Assistant District Attorney in Dallas, is a member of the Boards of Governors of Texans for Lawsuit Reform, and is involved with several Republican clubs. She has served on the Boards of the Texas Beef Council, the Texas Production Credit Association, the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association and the Texas Wildlife Association.

Along with their three sons, Combs and her husband live in Austin.

This event is open to the public and persons with an interest in agriculture are urged to attend.

Accident, Assault Reported In County

A traffic accident, vandalism and a sexual assault case were among incidents investigated by law enforcement officers in Lynn County during the last week.

Luis Pesina Jr., 21, of O'Donnell was arrested last week and charged with sexual assault in an incident earlier this year involving a 14-year-old O'Donnell girl.

On Thriftway Supermarket parking lot Monday a 1994 Dodge Ram pickup driven by Lewis G. Clark, 76, of Rt. 1, O'Donnell, struck a parked 1997 Ford Taurus owned by Charles Mark Ramsey, 38, of Lubbock. There were no injuries.

Bobby Hershall Jordan told police that someone forced entry to a storage shed at his residence on N. 6th St. in Tahoka and unplugged a deep freezer, causing $400 worth of meat to spoil before it was discovered last Saturday.

Jailed during the last week were nine persons, including the sexual assault suspect, four persons for judgment and sentencing on charges of DWI first offense, driving while license was suspended, DWI and criminal mischief, and possession of marijuana. Four others were arrested on charges on DWI first offense, application to revoke probation on DWI conviction, possession of narcotics paraphernalia plus no drivers license, and DWI second offense plus possession of marijuana under two ounces plus driving while license was suspended.

Reynolds Receives National Award

Bryan Reynolds, County Extension Agent-Agriculture for Lynn County, received the Achievement Award from the National Association of County Agricultural Agents at their National Convention in San Antonio recently.

The Achievement Award is the highest award county agents can receive for less than 10 years employment in the Extension Service. The award is given for recognition in Extension Educational Programs.

Reynolds, a Texas Tech graduate, has been employed by Lynn County for almost four years. Before moving to Tahoka, he spent two and a half years as an assistant agent in Castro County.

Reynolds and his wife, Paula, have two children, Harley, 4 and Hadley, 4 months.

Beer/Wine Issue Brings High Turnout For Early Voting

Early voting numbers were high in the Local Option Election for the City of Wilson, with 44 voters casting their ballots, according to election officials. At the time of the count, only one hour remained in the early voting period, which closed at 3 p.m. Tuesday.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. until 7 p.m. on election day, Saturday, Aug. 22 at Wilson City Mercantile for registered voters residing within the city of Wilson to decide whether to legalize the sale of beer and wine within the city.

Approximately 200 registered voters live in the city of Wilson, according to voter registration rolls, 92 of whom signed a petition to hold the election. If approved by majority vote in the election, beer and wine may be sold within Wilson city limits by anyone with the proper permits, both packaged beer for consumption off-premises and by-the-drink service to be consumed on the premises.

According to election rules, a majority vote means that just one vote can make a difference in the outcome of the election. Election Judge Robert Abbe noted that no ballots will be counted until the polls close at 7 p.m., and the results will be posted as soon as possible on the door of the Wilson Mercantile building.

If the election passes, it will be the first time beer and wine may be sold legally within Lynn County since prohibition was passed in a 1915 county election. This is the first local option election to be held in the county to offer voters the opportunity to legalize the sale of alcoholic beverages.

3-D Band To March For Shoes

"This Saturday morning, Aug. 22, around 9 a.m. if you hear trumpets blaring and drums beating, do not think that it is Joshua marching around Tahoka, it's just the 3-D Band marching five miles in and around Tahoka. The Bulldog Band is not seeking to bring down any walls, just trying to raise money to buy some new band shoes," says Tahoka ISD Band Director Carroll Rhodes.

According to Rhodes, the band is switching to all black shoes this year with each person having their own personal new pair instead of wearing hand-me-downs. These will be special marching shoes with a rolled heel that will aid in marching.

Band members have been going around the community this week soliciting pledges for each mile they march. Some pledge 50 cents per mile while others pledge a dollar or more. Any money they raise above the initial $25 for shoes will go towards that student's expenses for the spring band trip.

Rhodes said that in addition to raising money, Saturday's march will help get the band back into shape for marching and playing.

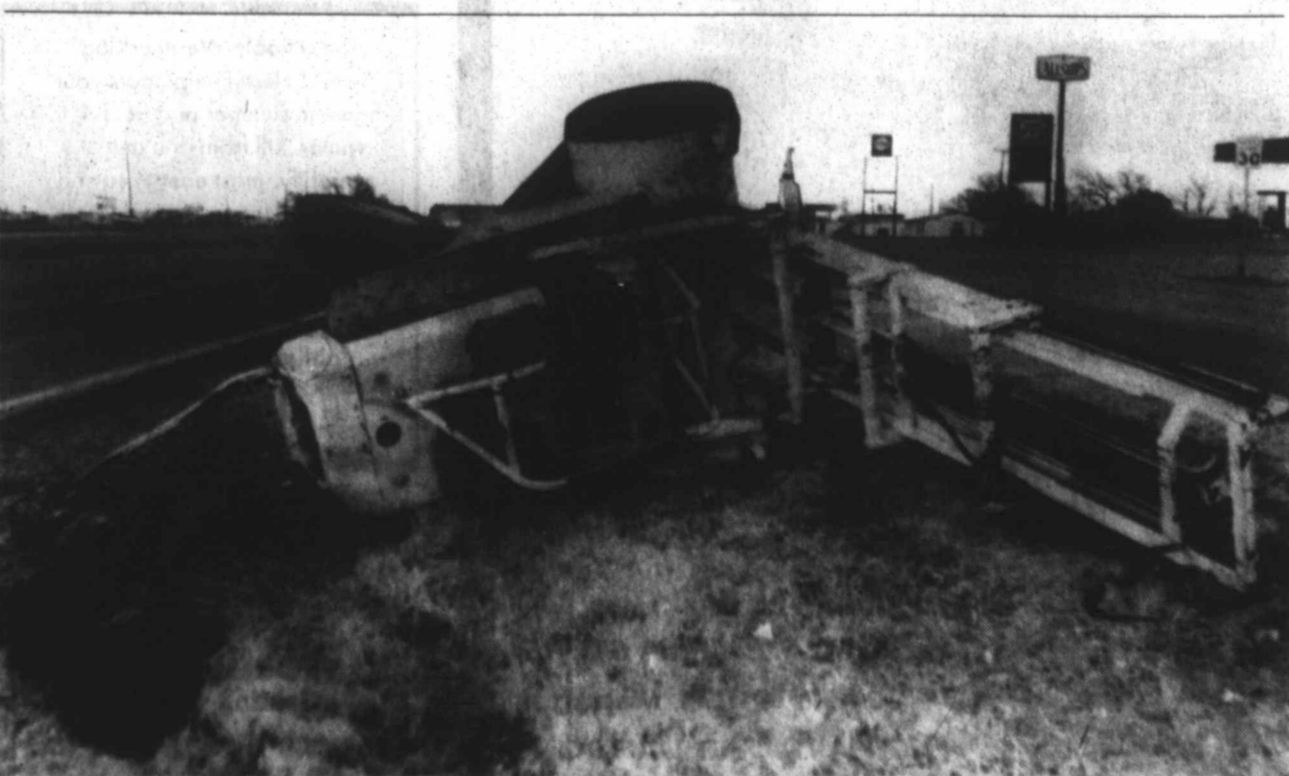

Any band parents who wish to walk behind the band may join the band at the high school at 8:45 a.m. this Saturday. The march commences at 9 a.m. with three rest stops scattered throughout the five mile march. The band should be through by 11:30 a.m.

Open House Slated At Wilson ISD

Wilson Independent School District will be hosting an open house in both the elementary and secondary buildings on Monday evening, Aug. 24, from 6:00 to 7:30 p.m. Light refreshments will be available in the elementary and secondary lounges.

LIKE DEATH, taxes and scandals involving the Dallas Cowboys, the South Plains Fair always comes around. The time must be drawing near, because I saw some kind of literature on the fair on one of our desks the other day. Seems to me it's in September, so I'd better start planning now to skip the whole thing.

The fair is a bummer which sucks money from all the small towns around Lubbock, tough on the local businesses which still are operating, and a good place to go to get mugged, raped or smashed up in traffic. It's hard to believe that area schools, including this one, let their students out of classes for the fair.

Well, I did go to the fair, in 1981. Before that, it had been 25 years. Okay, I confess that I also went to the fairgrounds during the fair about 5 years ago because I was playing with a musical group which performed. But I didn't visit any other buildings or stumble around on the grounds.

The fair always has some country singers, like Garth Vader, Marty Rabbit, Randy Dandy or Mel Skillet, but I don't care to hear them. I wouldn't have minded hearing Reba Mcintyre, but I didn't make it to any of her shows either.

THE MAIN ST. Momma says that living on a budget is no different from living beyond your income, except that you have a better record of it. She also says that pictures of missing husbands should be put on beer cans.

Telethon To Benefit Texas Boys Ranch

Funded primarily through donations and contributions, Texas Boys Ranch of Lubbock has scheduled Saturday, August 22, for the 23rd Annual Texas Boys Ranch Telethon. Airing from 7 p.m. to midnight from the Cactus Theater on KAMC, Channel 28, this five hour program will give West Texans a prime opportunity to call in and make tax deductible contributions to the Ranch.

Karla Leslie, news anchor at KAMC, will serve as Master of Ceremonies. Special guests throughout the community will be appearing at the theater. Admission is free to the public.

The goal for this year's telethon is $100,000. Local volunteers are lined up to work the phone banks and take calls for donations.

Since its beginning in 1972, the Texas Boys Ranch has served more than 400 boys from 120 Texas and New Mexico locations.

A strong work ethic is fostered by providing opportunities for boys to participate in the daily chores on the working ranch. Three cottages house up to eight boys each, along with their houseparents. The boys are expected to complete daily chores within the cottages. While at the Ranch, boys attend Roosevelt Public Schools. The Ranch provides tutoring and remedial courses for students who need them.

The cost of care for boys placed at the Ranch is funded by families, general individuals, churches, civic groups, foundations, and the Texas Department of Protective and Regulatory Services.

	Last Year	This Year
Average residence homestead value	$23,450.00	$24,950.00
General exemptions available (amount available on the average homestead, not including senior citizen's or disabled person's exemptions)	<$15,000.00>	<$15,000.00>
Average taxable value	$8,450.00	$9,950.00
Tax rate	1.50/$100	1.50/$100
Tax	$126.75	$149.25

Under this proposal, taxes on the average homestead would increase by $22.50 or 17.75 percent compared with last year's taxes. Comparing tax rates without adjusting for changes in property value, the tax rate would not increase nor decrease by $0.00 per taxable value or 0 percent compared to last year's tax rate. These tax figures are not adjusted for changes in the taxable value of property.

Local Firefighters Attend Week-long Training School

Local firefighters attended the 69th Annual Texas Municipal Training School held at the Brayton Fire Training Field on the Texas A&M University Campus in College Station. The week long training was attended by Shon Overton and Jimmy Woodard of the Tahoka Volunteer Fire Department and Kelly Livingston of the Wilson Volunteer Fire Department. This year the municipal session had over 2000 students and 300 instructors, all volunteer firefighters, in attendance.

"They came from all over the state. It doesn't matter how large or small the department," stated Billy Parker, Program Manager for Urban Search and Rescue at the school. He went on to state, "This school is the largest firefighter training in the world. These students and instructors take vacation time to spend this week learning and practicing the skills that will be used back in the firefighters' hometowns. They can have the skills to safely do their jobs. Their neighbors receive the benefit of a better trained department."

"This was my first time there," said Overton. "It's fun and really educational. The SCBA (self-contained breathing apparatus) is good training, along with the field operations."

Instructors are experienced firefighters with most having attended the school as students prior to being asked to begin instructing. Most have been instructing for several years. "The technology of fire suppression continues to improve. The instructors are some of the best at what they do," Parker said.

"This training helps a firefighter understand the capabilities and limitations of his skills and equipment," stated Livingston. "The training in tactics and actual practice helps us maximize the equipment available in our departments. Safety of the firefighter is stressed at all times."

On July 1, 1997 the Insurance Service Organization was assigned by the Texas Legislators to maintain the classification of Municipalities and Fire Departments in Texas. "This classification is the determining factor for setting the cost of fire protection part of home and commercial building owners insurance. The classification is calculated at 55% of the points from the local fire department's equipment, training, and record of suppressing fire losses. A city's classification is improved each time firefighters attend training schools," stated Woodard. "The cost of fire insurance is reduced each time a city's classification is improved. We just need more firemen to attend this training."

The training field is used through the year with about 28,000 students a year in attendance. Parker said he expected that number to increase soon. The field recently was selected by the U.S. Congress to serve as the site for the National Emergency Response and Rescue Training Center. The center is charged with preparing first responders to handle situations involving weapons of mass destruction. The Texas Engineering Extension Service has responsibility for running the school. Other smaller specialized schools are held for fire fighters throughout Texas.

Census Workers Needed To Canvass County Addresses

The regional office of the U.S. Census Bureau is gearing up for an "address listing" project throughout West Texas — and it means lots of jobs will be available for local residents. Scheduled to begin in late September, the project will send out census field workers into every county in West Texas, including Lynn, to physically list all household addresses and thereby update Census Bureau maps.

"The work will mainly be on weekends and evenings, so we're looking not only for people who are unemployed or who are retirees, we're also looking for people who want to schedule census work around their current employment," explains regional recruiter Donna Stovall.

Full-time and part-time jobs are available in two categories of work: (1) Census Field Workers, earning $5.75 per hour, who will develop address lists; and (2) Crew Leaders, earning $8.50 and up per hour, who will manage teams of Census Field Workers.

As local people know their own communities better than anyone else, the Census Bureau especially hopes to find workers who reside in the communities where the fieldwork will be conducted. Moreover, the Bureau is seeking individuals who are not afraid to contact people and ask them questions. "This is not an office job, it's out in the field locating addresses and conducting door-to-door interviews," Stovall emphasizes.

Applicants must pass a written exam of basic skills. The testing has started in Lubbock and will be conducted in other areas and other locations throughout West Texas. Work begins in late September and continues through mid-November. Employees will be paid to attend a training session and will be reimbursed 31 cents per mile for using their own vehicle for fieldwork.

To qualify, applicants must be at least 18 year old and U.S. citizens. They should not have a conviction other than for a minor traffic violation; and they should not be currently employed as a tax collector/assessor or law enforcement official. Men born before 12/31/59 must be registered with the Selective Service. Employees must pass a security and employment reference check.

To apply or receive additional information, phone the local office of the Texas Workforce Commission; call the Census Bureau's Recruiting Department toll-free at 1-888-325-7733; or call 806-472-7009 or 806-472-7010.

Sharp Delivers Aug. Sales Tax

State Comptroller John Sharp recently delivered a total of $255.8 million in monthly sales tax payments to 1,094 Texas cities and 118 counties, a 12.4 percent increase over the $227.6 million allocated in August 1997.

This month's sales tax rebates include local sales taxes collected by monthly filers on June sales and by quarterly filers for April, May, and June and reported to the Comptroller in July.

Lynn County showed an increase of 27.41 percent, receiving $11,688.58 this period as opposed to $9,173.67 for the same time last year. Tahoka showed the largest increase with 31.02 percent, receiving $8,478.45 this year and $6,470.63 last year. Wilson received $627.32 this year versus $508.11 last, for an increase of 23.46 percent. O'Donnell's gain was 17.67 percent, receiving $2,582.81 this year and $2,194.93 last year.

Wilson Fire Department Tip of the Week: Do you know....(1) Most fire fatalities and injuries in the U.S. occur in the victim's home? (2) Two-thirds of all home-fire victims die of smoke inhalation, poisonous gases, or lack of oxygen — not severe burns? (3) Cooking is the leading cause of all residential fires and fire injuries? (4) Heating equipment is the second leading cause of residential fires? (5) More than 40% of fatal home cooking fires occur while the victims are asleep? (6) Careless use of smoking materials is the leading cause of residential fires that result in death?

Wilson Business of the Week: Dan's Automotive
Dan's Automotive is a locally owned and operated auto repair and body shop. Classic vehicle restoration is available as time permits, as is the repair and restoration of the sheet metal parts of old

VOTE
The Wilson Lion's Club will be holding their annual broom sale for the blind on Friday, Aug. 28. The sale will be on the school parking lot from 7:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. All area residents are invited to come by and purchase your home and business cleaning supplies including mops, brooms, bowl brushes, door mats, and many other cleaning supplies. Profits from the sale go to local Lions charities including the Caravan for the Blind which furnishes the items for the sale. All items sold are made by the sight impaired, to be sold in sales like this one.

VOTE
Saturday, Aug. 22 is the day of the local option election for the City of Wilson. All registered voters residing within the city limits of Wilson are eligible to vote in this election. Voters will decide on whether or not to allow the sale of beer and wine for both on and off premise consumption within the city limits of Wilson. Early voting officials report a large turnout and voting officials are expecting a heavy turnout for Saturday.

Voters are reminded that they must bring their voter registration card or some other form of acceptable identification, preferably with a photo, before they may vote. Folks, it's very simple, no identification, no vote. This is all part of the new state voting laws that went into effect on Jan. 1, 1998. Voters are also reminded that the polling place is not the place to discuss the issues of the election. Distance markers will be in place, and no electioneering will be allowed between those markers and the polls. The only persons allowed into the polling area will be the election judges, election clerks, registered poll watchers, and voters.

Due to the expected large number of voters and the interest in the outcome of the election, interested parties are asked to not call election officials for results of the election. As soon as the outcome is known, results will be posted on the door of the Mercantile.

VOTE
Wilson First Baptist Church will be hosting a song service in honor of the faculty and staff of the Wilson ISD on Sunday, Aug. 30, at 6 p.m. The public is invited to this service, and light snacks will be provided during a time of fellowship after the service. All area residents as well as school faculty and support staff are urged to come out for this event. School is back in session and since our school borders a busy highway and since many of our children have to cross this highway to get to school, area drivers are reminded that there is a posted school zone with a 25 mph speed limit when lights are flashing. Please be advised that local law enforcement officers will be working the school zones on a periodic basis and that school zone fines can be quite expensive. Please slow down as you go through the school zone. It might save a child from serious injury or death and will surely save your pocketbook.

The Wilson Mustang football program which is prepared and distributed by the Wilson Lion's Club is in the process of being put together. Those individual and business that supported the program in the past will be contacted soon and asked to participate in the program for another year. Please realize that this program is provided to the fans at no cost and the only way to guarantee the continuation of the program is for the local community to continue their sponsorship in the form of ads and the family booster pages. As far as the Lions Club knows, no other district has a program of this quality that is provided at no cost to the fans. The Lions Club wishes to thank those that have supported the program in the past and ask for your continued support for the current year.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:
I am writing this letter because I am concerned about the upcoming alcohol election here in Wilson. I am not writing to condemn the use of alcohol, the people who have chosen to consume alcohol, nor the people who make their living with the sale of alcoholic beverages. I am only writing this out of concern for this community as a whole and its most important resource, our youth.

I have lived here all of my life and have always been proud to be from Wilson. But our community has undergone many changes in the last few years, and those changes make me a little more leery of bragging these days. Our school has been through more than its share of turmoil in the last few years. Only a few months have passed since the tragic murder of one of our own young people in our city park. Take a walk in the city park and see the beer cans and bottles that litter the grass and read the graffiti that has defaced the picnic tables our Lion's Club worked so hard to build. Remember the one night of vandalism that occurred several months ago that took some people days to clean up? Drive up and down the back streets and see the trash and junk piled up around almost everywhere. Drive around during school hours and see young people walking the streets instead of taking the opportunity to get an education to better themselves. Does anybody care? Does anybody care enough to do something about it?

I do care but have been as guilty as anyone about not doing more about it. But as the issue of legalizing the sale of alcohol in this community is being brought to a vote, I feel that I should no longer be silent. I have seen copies of the petition and must admit that I was a little taken back as to some of the names that appeared on it. But just as those citizens have a right to their say and vote in this election, so do the citizens whose views and opinions differ from theirs. That is what makes living in a democracy so great.

My concern with this issue is the fact that the alcohol will find its way into the hands of too many minors in this community. That is another temptation that does not need to be dangled in front of our youth as many are already struggling with the often harsh realities of life. The legal drinking age in this state is 21 and most 21 year olds have a valid driver's license that allows them to drive the few short miles to an already established business where they can purchase whatever beverage they choose. How many citizens in this community do not at least drive on Highway 87 or to Slaton at some point during the week?

One of the most important lessons that I always tried to impress upon my kids is that they always have a choice. But along with the choices they make, comes the responsibility and consequence. So they best be prepared to accept the responsibilities and be ready to suffer the consequences of their choices. What I basically want to do is to urge the citizens of Wilson to go vote on August 22. You will be making a choice with the way you cast your vote. Are you ready to accept the responsibility and suffer the consequences????

Respectfully,
Nan Wied
