AT ALBUQUERQUE Labor Officials Explain 'Adverse Effect' Ruling

Assistant Secretary of Labor, Jerry R. Holleman, assisted by Mr. Bob Goodwin and Mr. Lee Williams conducted hearings on "adverse effect" in Albuquerque, New Mexico on Friday, February 9.

The purpose of the hearing was to make a final determination as to whether Bracero Labor must be paid a minimum of 75 cents per hour so as to prevent adverse effect on the wages and working conditions of domestic labor in the state. The meeting was well attended by people from Texas, Colorado, California and New Mexico.

Secretary Goldberg has announced that similar hearings have been confirmed for McAllen, Texas in the Municipal Auditorium on February 26, at 9 a.m., and at Midland, Texas in the National Guard Armory on February 28, at 9 a.m.

The hourly rate established for Texas is 70 cents per hour and, when paying on piece rates basis, the rate must guarantee the equivalent of 70 cents per hour.

A tentative meeting of National Farm Labor Users is being called for March 1, the day after the Midland hearings. The meeting is to be held in Dallas, Texas. The time and other details will be announced later. The purpose of the meeting is to discuss ways and means of fighting Senate Bill 1129. This is a most serious bill. Hearings were held in the Senate Sub Committee on Thursday and Friday of last week.

Fires Damage Game Reserve

Bill Van Treis, manager of the wild life refuge, was trapping cranes to band the sandhill crane a fire developed. Apparently Tuesday afternoon about 4:40 when powder from a cannon apparatus misfired and started the grass fire while Van Treis was firing net traps.

Approximately 65 to 70 acres of grass on the refuge burned before the fire was successfully stopped by the Bailey County Volunteer Fire Department.

The Fire Department was called out last Saturday afternoon to the L. A. Green farm three miles northwest of Muleshoe. Cotton burs around the house first started in a small fire which then spread to a truck and to a hog barn. An estimated $3,000 damage was done before the fire was brought under control.

Cool Front Ends "Drouth"

The winter "heat wave" which had enveloped Muleshoe came to an end Wednesday when a cool front ended a month-long drouth in the area.

Moisture received in Muleshoe Wednesday measured .44 inches, according to official weather recorder R. J. Klump.

Muleshoe's high temperature on Tuesday soared to a summer-like 83 degrees. The mercury reached 84 on Monday. The figures are surely records for the time of the year.

The official report for Muleshoe for the past week is:

IN MULESHOE MEETING

Gas Users Are Spurred By Sen. Rogers Address

"Keep fighting for your cause," State Senator Adny Rogers of Childress told a meeting of the Bailey County Gas Users Association in Muleshoe last Thursday.

"You're working for what's fair, and everybody's affected, not just the farmers," said Rogers, who championed the farmers' cause in their effort to secure regulation for gas prices at the special session which ended Jan. 31.

Rogers joined John Akin, attorney for the gas users' group in assuring the members of the association that their chances for legislation were not killed when the bill failed to pass in the special session.

"We realized that our chances for getting the bill passed were about 1,000 to one against us due to the time element," Akin said. Akin said that he was impressed with Gas Users' cause from the first because it was a case where a group wanted to do something for themselves rather than to someone else.

"Most people now realize that if enough of you want to see this thing done, it can be," said Akin. "The only thing which could defeat the bill would be for you to disintegrate. I think people realize that you deserve the right to buy gas at a reasonable rate. Ultimately, there's nothing that can keep you from it," he said.

area banding together if the bill is to go through. "You have a story to tell and it's your job to tell it," he said.

Also at the meeting and given plaudits for his contributions while he was State Representative was Muleshoe's Jesse Osborn, another who supported the gas bill.

ELECT BOARD

Prior to the discussion, the Gas Users re-elected its board of directors, with the exception of Bill Millen, who asked to be relieved of the position because of his current campaign for the representative post being vacated by Osborn.

Ross Goodwin was elected to replace Millen. The holdover board members are Wiley Baker, Kenneth Hanks, Virgil Nowell and Ed Little. Little is president and Baker is secretary.

MARY WEDEL

Club Tells Winner Of Essay Contest

Mary Wedel, 17-year-old Muleshoe High School senior, submitted the winning entry in the Muleshoe Study Club's essay contest. The Club presented her with a $10 prize.

Contestants submitted essays on "A Bailey County Pioneer." The contest was in connection with the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs. Announcement of the winning essay was made by Mrs. Carroll Pouncey, chairman of the Muleshoe Study Club.

Miss Wedel, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Wedel, is an "A" student at MHS, in the top in the senior class, according to Principal H. W. Callan.

Her essay was entitled "The Old Devil of Bailey County," a summary of the life of Joshua Blocher, one of the early settlers of the county and founder of the town of Progress.

A member of the Speech Club, Future Homemakers of America, M Club and Spanish Club, Mary is a star for the MHS Mullettes' Her essay, which will now be entered in the Caprock District contest, follows:

One of the most well-known and best-loved true stories of "Uncle Josh" took place when he was hitch-hiking to Amarillo. Blocher had gotten as far as Canyon when he was "picked up" by some men whom he thought were going to Amarillo. They were in a hurry to get out of town, but Blocher insisted that they go to Amarillo. As they drove out of Canyon on a back road, shots were fired behind them by patrolmen. The men stopped and were taken to the Canyon Police headquarters to be questioned about a bank robbery a few minutes earlier. Blocher spent the night in jail with the robbers, but was released the next morning after many of the natives of Progress

AT BOARD MEETING MONDAY

Taylor Ousted As Coach

Bill Taylor, who took over as head football coach and athletic director at Muleshoe High School last August after former coach Jake Halter resigned, in a surprise move, was removed from his position by the Muleshoe School Board this week.

The action, which came in the board's regular meeting last Monday night, is to be effective as of the end of the school year.

Taylor's only year as head coach produced the school a 3-7 season record, but the losses included such scores as 14-6 (Clovis), 6-0 (Littlefield and Dimmitt) and 12-8 (Olton).

Minutes of the board meeting show that a motion by W. F. Bartley and seconded by A. J. Lenderson that Taylor's contract be renewed failed to carry, three votes to two.

Other board members present were E. V. Bartlett, Barry Lewis, Murl Stevenson and president Dr. R. Putman. Board member Harold King was not present.

Listed as reasons for Taylor's dismissal were: 1. "Dissention," and 2. "Lack of control of outside groups and the athletic staff."

In other business, the board accepted the resignation of Fred White, principal of the Mary De Shazo Elementary School.

The board also accepted the resignation of George Washington from the athletic staff in order to devote full time to Health and Physical Education classes at MHS.

Contracts were approved for two years on H. W. Callan, High School principal, R. E. Everitt, Junior High principal and Milton Olyer, Richland Hills Principal.

One-year contracts were approved for Louis Powers, basketball coach at MHS, Bob Graves, coach of the seventh and eighth grade boys and Melvin Mackey, seventh and eighth grade girls coach.

Re-elected to their positions were O. E. Lumsden, counselor; J. W. Johnson, bus foreman and Mrs. Jewell Blackwell, cafeteria supervisor.

A leave of absence request was granted for Tom Adamson, seventh grade language arts teacher who has been recalled to active duty as an Army reservist. Mrs. Vera McSpadden will replace Adams.

Ernest Kerr was selected as election judge for the board election April 7. Two places are to be filled on the board, created by the expiring terms of Jack Lenderson and Harold King.

Most everyone connected with the board refused to comment officially on the Taylor dismissal. He may appeal to the board if he feels the reasons given were unfair.

Board president Putman declined to comment on the action. One board member, however, said "This was a great injustice to Mr. Taylor. He's due more consideration than he received."

Chamber Board Requests Depot, Reserve Changes

The Board of Directors of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce met Monday night, and started action on two proposals, according to Chamber Director Carroll Pouncey.

The chamber drafted a letter to the president of the Santa Fe Railroad system, requesting a new depot for the city of Muleshoe.

Another letter mailed was an appeal to the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service requesting freshwater fishing and swimming facilities for the public at the Muleshoe Game Reserve.

The board heard a report from its Retail Trade committee, and minutes and financial report took up the remainder of the meeting.

Parmer Group Makes Washington Bus Trip

Texas Farmers Union members in Washington last week told their congressmen "Farmers are entitled to a per-capita farm income equivalent to that enjoyed by non-farm families." This was one of many topics discussed by the Union representatives on their 13 annual bus trip to the Nation's Capital.

Parmer County was represented in Washington by W. M. "Sam" Bradley and Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Davis. They were accompanied by 28 other members representing 10 counties throughout the great farm belt of Texas.

The purpose of the trip is to allow Farmers Union representatives to talk with their congressmen about issues and policies important to farmers.

The members of the Farmers Union called on all 22 Texas congressmen, discussing issues expected to be debated in Congress this year. Among the topics discussed were "adequate funds for Farmers Home Administration and Rural Electrification Administration, Federal aid to education, extension of the Social Security System to provide medical aid to the aged, Food and Agriculture Act of 1962," and the matter of "taxation of farmer co-operatives"

The delegation told their congressmen that "farmers, with the help of the government, need greater control over production and market supply."

A great deal of discussion was lent to the current proposal to drastically revise tax revenue in regard to farmers co-ops according to Mr. Bradley. "It was pointed out that these proposals would add greatly to the burdens of farmers and harass and weaken farmers co-ops," he said.

In addition to meeting with congressmen, the Farmers Union delegation was given the opportunity to tour Washington, Williamsburg and Mt. Vernon, Virginia. They visited the Bureau of Printing and Engraving, the FBI building, the Supreme Court and the Department of Agriculture.

Farmers Union members from Illinois and North Dakota were also in Washington the same week. The trip was organized and conducted by the Texas Farmers Union in cooperation with National Farmers Union.

AN EDITORIAL

Adults Lose Dignity In "Choosing Sides"

Why can't the business of having "sides" be left up to the youngsters and their Cowboys and Indians games?

It would appear that such tactics are far too juvenile to be part of an adult's life. Whether it's in a school board, a church or what-have-you, such party lines work only for the ultimate destruction of the organization.

A two-party system may be essential for government, but when the transacting of a school's business is concerned, it's not needed. It can only lead to deadlocks, turmoil, strife and a get-nowhere situation.

Where schools are concerned, the sad part of the situation is that such "side-choosing" only hurts the children in the long run, and they're the ones who should be served.

Why can't adults be adults and leave the kid games to the children?

Founders Day, National Congress Of Parent and Teachers Observed

In observance of Founders Day of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, Mrs. Ernest Kerr spoke on the founding of the organization at the meeting of Mary DeShazo unit on Monday afternoon, February 12.

Founders Day will be observed by members of the Richland Hills FTA on Monday February 19 at 4:15 in the school cafeteria, with Mrs. Douglas Avery speaking. Past presidents will be recognized.

Parent-teacher associations throughout the nation are commemorating this month the 65th anniversary of the founding of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

In their observance, the units will recall the vision of the founders—Alice McLellan Birney of Georgia and Phoebe Apperson Hearst of California—two far-seeing "gentle and genteel" women who recognized the need for special attention to the nation's children.

These two women called the first Congress of Mothers, who shared their common interest, on February 17, 1897, in Washington D. C. They had faith in their plan, and this faith has been justified, for the 200 women who came formed the nucleus of an organization now numbering 12 million women and men. Commonly known as P.T.A.'s, they strive toward such goals as increasing understanding between parents and teachers, improving the health of children, moral and spiritual development, preventing juvenile delinquency, raising the quality of the nation's schools, obtaining more and better trained teachers.

Declared Mrs. T. W. Whaley of Kosse, president of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, in her February message in the Texas Parent Teacher, "The problems facing us today may be different from those faced by Mrs. Birney and Mrs. Hearst but the problems are eternally the same."

The Texas Congress, organized in 1909, now numbers some 750,000 memberships and ranks second among the states.

Spring Is Not Forgotten Amid Fragrant Violet Blooms

MRS. BOB DETWILER waters her plants at regular intervals, some require water only once weekly while four species of orchids require spraying of the foliage each day.

The blossoms of violets in pastel hues of the faintest violet to deep dark purple tones blooming year-around forbids the spark of Spring to be forgotten during the long winter months at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Detwiler, 413 Austin Street.

Ninety species of violets thriving triumphantly on the three tiered shelf covers the windows extending the length of the living room show, no sign of winters chill.

Although Mrs. Detwiler has many other potted plants, the number of violets leaves little doubt that they are her favorites. Ask why, she said, "Oh, because the blooms are so dainty and delicate. Most people think they are hard to raise, but once you know what they need they require little attention."

Of the species that bloom year-around Mrs. Detwiler has the Blue Sails, Blue Cluster, Match Mate, Electra, Pink Glamour and Green Dawn, and the Flame Violet.

From these plants, others are rooted from the leaf cuttings in vermiculite under glass covers. Mrs. Detwiler explains that the glass cover holds the moisture and warmth, creating the humidity needed for rooting process.

In addition to the collection of violets to name a few of the

THEY STICK TOGETHER

Baileyboro Farmers Are True To Form

Farmers in the Baileyboro community proved last Saturday that farm folks still have that wonderful "stick-together" policy that has been their trade-mark through the years.

Practically all of the farmers in the neighborhood were represented when the group pooled their time and machinery to list the farmland belonging to Mrs.

Alex Reed, whose husband passed away Jan. 1.

Some 17 tractors were in operation at one time during the project, and more than two dozen workers gathered to help "lay by" the land.

"We have the most wonderful neighbors in the world," said Mrs. Reed, who along with some of her neighbors prepared a giant buffet-style noon meal for the farmers.

The neighbors decided to pitch in and help get the farm land in shape, since Henry Reed, eldest son remaining at home, is a senior at Muleshoe High School and has only a minimum number of hours to spend each week with the farm work.

Last Saturday's project made short work of a 200-acre field, which was covered by stalk-cutters and listers in about four hours' time.

There were five stalk-cutters put into use, followed by 12 tractors with listing equipment. It was estimated that the listers covered approximately 17 acres per round.

Donating gas for the tractors was the State Line Co-op Butane Company.

Those running stalk-cutters were Lester Howard (2), Marvin Holt, Rodney Jarvis and Henry Reed. Those with tractors for listing were U. S. Cooper, Delbert Watson, Kelly Barnett, Howard Ashley, Dan Rogers, Earl Schmitz, W. E. Chisholm, R. C. Martin, John Sowder, Foy Lewis, Dick Damron, and Ralph Hall.

One of the farmers estimated that at one time Saturday morning there was approximately $150,000 in equipment in the Reed's field.

"We all had work to do at our respective farms, but we saw what needed to be done, and the small amount of time didn't hurt any of us," someone summed up the occasion.

Like we said, farmers are among the world's closest-knit people. Why couldn't some of their charity "rub off" on the national and international scene?

Millen Issues His Political Platform

W. T. "Bill" Millen

W. T. "Bill" Millen announced to the Journal this week his candidacy for Representative of the 91st District of Texas on the Democratic ticket.

Millen was raised in the Muleshoe area, graduated from Clovis High School and has been a Bailey County farmer since 1934. He is active in many local farm organizations and has actively particiipated in such controversial issues as the defense of the brace program by the Plains Cotton Growers. He now serves as legislative director of this association and has made several trips to Washington, California, Kansas City and across Texas in this capacity.

Millen's state read as follows: To the people of the 91st District. "I am soliciting your vote for State Representative of this District as I feel that it would be an honor and a privilege to represent the people of the area with the purpose in mind to work for honesty, integrity and economy in government."

"For many years I have spent much time and money working with various farm groups for a better agricultural climate for our area and have cultivated a wide circle of friends over the great state of Texas; many of whom wield a great deal of influence in area affairs."

"Having served in many capacities in these farm groups has, I feel, qualified me to represent you as a man of the people. Among the area organizations that I have had a part in promoting are: The High Plains Water Conservation District, the Hi-Plains Research Foundation at Halfway,

Dimmitt Publisher Is House Candidate

B. M. NELSON

This newspaper has been authorized to announce the candidacy of B. M. Nelson, publisher of the Castro County News at Dimmitt, for the office of State Representative of the 91st District of Texas subject to the action of the Democratic primaries. The 91st district is composed of Deaf Smith, Parmer, Bailey, Lamb and Castro Counties.

In announcing for the office of State Representative Nelson stated that it would be his purpose to see as many of the voters in the district as possible, and to personally solicit their vote and influence. However, he would like for everyone to consider this announcement as a personal request for earnest consideration of his candidacy for the office of representative.

In making his announcement, Nelson said "I grew up in central Texas, Bell County, the son of a cotton farmer, where I learned of the hardships and risks involved in the farming industry. After working as a printer for a number of years I moved to West Texas in 1932 when I established a commercial printing plant at Paducah. Since then I have published newspapers at Roaring Springs, Amherst, Olton and Dimmitt."

Nelson further stated, "My policy, naturally, has been to support all sound projects designed for the betterment of the community we served, and it has been our pleasure to witness basic and permanent development and growth in each of the towns I have mentioned."

"I have always been a staunch Democrat," Nelson said, "and have worked in and for the Democratic party for many years. In my opinion, the nation has made its greatest advances, both economically and socially under administrations of the democratic party."

"I will support the enactment of legislation that will help Texas grow, to expand within itself to the extent that it can again assert its leadership in the United States changing times and it is up to your state government to see that progress is made before we are lost in a bog of antiquity."

Nelson is a member of the Dimmitt Methodist Church, the Dimmitt Lions Club and the Castro County Chamber of Commerce. He has served as manager of this chamber of commerce for three years.

The Nelsons are the parents of three children, Bascom, editor of the Castro County News; Don who is now editor of the Arizona Record at Globe, Arizona, and Mrs. Herbert Burnham of Albuquerque, N.M., whose husband is a public school teacher in that city.

the Plains Cotton Growers, the West Texas Agricultural Employer's Group and I now serve as director of the Plains Cotton Cooperative Association, the South Plains Soil Fertility Committee, and the Bailey County Farm Bureau. Along with others, I have spent much time and money promoting legislation at Austin for the Plains Irrigation Gas Users Association and I am a member of the founders committee of the Cotton Producer's Institute.

"My years of experience as a farm leader have been in being such programs for the good of Bailey County as the Good Neighbor Cotton Seed Program in which irrigation farmers gave cotton seed to dry land farmers who had been hard hit by drought."

"I have fought for the farmers in numerous occasions for a better FHA program with lower interest rates and have fought much had legislation in Austin."

"In listing these activities, I hope I have not seemed boastful. It seemed to me in each case that a job needed to be done with few people to take the time to do it. I have accepted these duties, usually resulting in much less of personal time and money."

"To represent you in Austin, would probably again mean financial losses to me, personally. But I feel a dedication to the proposition that we must have men in government that will vote for what is right and good for our country, with the interest of future generations at heart, instead of political expedience to further their own selfish ambitions and moral degeneration, a condition I see so often in our country, state, and national affairs."

"Some have asked me what platform I am running on. Standing on the side lines looking on, here are just a few of the things that occur to me:

1. Correction of the irregularities in the new sales tax law.
2. I believe that the Advalorem Tax should be abolished or turned over to the towns or commissioners courts.
3. Work for a fair deal for the farmer. Irrigation Natural Gas Users (in which they would have the same privilege as the towns and villages).
4. A small loan regulation bill.
5. Prohibition of obscene movies, as well as obscene books in our school libraries.
6. Stronger lobbyist regulation.
7. Continued improvement in our public schools and colleges.
8. Adequate legislation and financing to attract industry and tourists to Texas.
9. Defend the recent tax placed on gas pipeline companies.
10. Modify the Auto Insurance Merit Rating Plan to make it more equitable.

I will also stand for more states rights and less centralization of government.

Sincerely,
Bill Millen

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

By COY. A. GARRETT

Land that has been cropped for several years in cotton without any high residue crops is always low in organic matter. Why is organic matter so important and how can the content be increased?

Organic matter is important because it is the substance which provides the plant food, nitrogen, and the soil condition necessary for good plant growth.

Soil is made up chiefly of minerals. The organic matter must come from the plants which are grown on the land or organic matter that is added to the soil.

increased by growing this residue-producing crops and keeping tillage operations tend to cause the organic matter to decompose or oxidize at an increased rate.

In this area, cotton burs can be used very effectively to add organic matter to the soil.

Organic matter improves soil condition by making the soil more porous and allowing better aeration. It prevents the soil from "running together," baking, and crusting.

If we are to maintain our soils at their peak productivity, then we must maintain or increase the organic matter content in them.

LET'S THINK

by J. Frank Ford, Jr., Republican Candidate for the Texas Legislature

(During September and October, this newspaper will carry a series of these articles, each pertaining to a specific issue.)

As history goes, 200 years is a brief span. And yet, during these last two centuries, there has been more progress made toward individual dignity and freedom than was made during the previous 7,000 years of recorded civilization. There were many bright spots in previous civilizations, but they were rather isolated, compared with today.

What are some factors which have made this progress possible? During the late 1600's, the philosophy of John Locke, in England, was helping to point the way. A century later, in 1776, Thomas Jefferson wrote a Declaration which reverberated around the world, and a new era for mankind had begun.

Jefferson had confidence in the individual and a firm belief in States Rights as opposed to a powerful central government. "Give the people light," he said, "and they will find their own way." Isn't this idea, which had been responsible for our unprecedented progress, as true today as when it was first conceived?

The problem is that freedom, like all other blessings, is often taken for granted. Our frontiers were conquered, the industrial revolution presented new social problems, and the world has been torn by two world wars. During this process, the pendulum of our government has simply swung too far.

It is my firm conviction that all Americans who believe in individual worth, whether they have termed themselves "liberal" or "conservative", must recognize the inherent dangers in centralized power. The future of the next generation depends on us.

It is the nature of man to react courageously and well to a challenge. Our failure of the past 15 years has not been lack of courage, but lack of interest. Many of us have been "too busy" to take an active part in our political affairs. The results are now apparent.

If all of us will stay informed, use the power of our reason, maintain fairness in debate when we differ, and act with courage upon the resultant decisions, then we will have a state and a nation of which we can be proud. It is worth the effort.

VOTE BILL CLAYTON--YOUR VOICE IN STATE GOVERNMENT

TEAM AWAITS BI-DISTRICT

Mullettes Finish District Schedule With 10-0 Mark

Muleshoe High School's Mullettes closed out district play with a perfect 10-0 record by winning their final two regular-season games during the past week.

The team, which clinched the District 2-AA title last week, has won 29 out of 35 district games during the past three years.

Coach Louis Powers' squad rolled to an easy 52-27 win over wins Morton at home last Friday, then finished their district schedule with a 68-19 win at Olton Tuesday.

The team now will meet Tulla, District 1-AA champ, in their bi-district game. The date for the playoff contest hasn't been set as yet, but it probably will be Monday or Tuesday, Feb. 26 or 27.

Two scrimmage games have been lined up for the team prior to its bi-district game, at Roosevelt Friday and against Cotton Center here next Thursday.

Muleshoe got off to a roaring start in the final district game at Olton Tuesday. They led after one quarter, 20-6. The team increased that lead by four points in the second period, leading at halftime, 35-17.

RESERVES PLAY

The lead was 21 points after the third period, 54-33. Coach Powers moved the guards around in the latter stages of the game, and reserve forwards finished up the contest holding their own, as the team won, 68-49.

All three starting forwards were in double figures. Trudy Davis led the scoring attack with 26 points, pressed closely by Mary Wedel's 25. Ira Lea Inman added 11 points.

Muleshoe had little trouble in its win over Morton, which failed to win a district game. The first quarter score was 16-5, increased to 28-13 at halftime.

The Mullettes put the game far out of reach after three quarters, 43-18, and won going away.

Freshman and sophomore players played the entire fourth quarter, and much of the third, gaining valuable experience.

Miss Wedel took scoring honors with 22 points. Miss Davis had 17 to back her up, and Miss Inman added six. Seven players broke into the scoring column, as everyone on the team saw action.

Tech Team To Be Honored At Saturday Game

LUBBOCK, Feb. 12 — Texas Tech's Border Conference championship basketball team of 1953-54 team will be honored as the Red Raiders tackle University of Arkansas here Saturday night.

Among those to be honored are Jim Reed of Pine Bluff, Ark., and Brownfield, Texas, Carl Ince of Big Spring, Durward Bolding of Mansfield, Du-Wayne Blackshear of Mountainair, N.M., Jimmie Sexton, Lubbock, Decker McKim of Lubbock, Jim Whitley of Clovis, N.M., John Pittman of Lubbock, Ted Watts of Abernathy, and manager Wayne Smith of Spur.

That team was Tech's first to go into the NCAA playoffs, bowing to Santa Clara at Corvallis, Ore., although several Raider quintets had advanced into the NAIA tournaments.

Texas Tech's varsity swimmers surprise winners over always strong University of Texas in Austin last week, meet Eastern New Mexico in Portales Friday.

Next week Texas Tech's varsity basketballers have a tough assignment, playing Texas Christian in Fort Worth and Texas in Austin. Region One tournaments for Conferences A and AA will be held here Feb. 24, and a third and fourth playoff (3A and 4A) may also be conducted for the Interscholastic League.

EVEN SEASON RECORD

Mules End Cage Season With Wins

The Muleshoe Mules closed out their basketball season with two wins, to even their season record at 15-15, and finish fourth in District 2-AA with a 4-6 record.

The Mules rose to their best offensive showing of the season in the final game at Olton, holding on for a 75-72 win over the Mustangs, who desperately wanted to break into the win column in district play.

Muleshoe scored its third district win and second over the Morton Indians here last Friday, downing the invading Tribe, 42-34.

A fabulous final game by Jim Young powered Muleshoe's high-scoring win at Olton. Young, who was hotter than the proverbial fire-cracker, poured 35 points through the nets, almost half of his team's total.

The Mules jumped out in front 13-8 after one quarter, and scorched the nets with 25 points in the second stanza for a 38-29 halftime lead.

HECTIC FINISH

Olton gained some ground in the third period, trailing only 54-52 at its conclusion, and the final eight minutes was hectic, indeed, with the score tied often and Olton holding a slim lead at times.

But a 21-point performance in the last quarter by the Mules enabled the team to finish with a win, as Coach Louis Powers varied his lineup in the season finale, alternating his seniors and juniors, with the regular starting team being in the game a minimum of the time.

Reserves played during the final portion of the game, contributing to the scoring attack, but also yielding points to Olton, and starters had to turn the tide.

Backing up Young's fine effort was Wayne Malone with 10 points. The Mules got off to a slow start in their game with Olton. The visiting Indians led 12-5 after the first quarter. Muleshoe responded with a zone defense that gave them a 19-15 halftime edge.

Morton went into a stall to bring Muleshoe out of its zone, and a full-court press was employed to the Mules' benefit.

Young led scoring with 20 points Malone added 10.

TIPS...

FROM THE OFFICE OF HOME DEMONSTRATION AGENT

by ANN GRAHAM

A Foods and Nutrition Committee of Bailey County has indicated too many adults and students eat insufficient or no breakfast before going to work or to school.

A substantial breakfast is needed every day. Adequate food for the day is almost impossible to obtain in only two meals. One suggestion is to allow 500 to 700 calories for breakfast, 900 to 1000 for luncheon, and 1000 to 1100 for dinner, according to the total caloric requirement.

If a person desires to study or work efficiently, he must have sufficient food to carry on the morning's activities in a satisfactory way.

"Between-meal eating" is a practice generally to be avoided. By eating a nutritious breakfast every morning, the desire for lessened. It is amazing to find the number of overweight people, who do not eat breakfast. Should you be one of "these"—try eating breakfast every morning for a week and see how much better you feel and how much better work you can do. If one really needs food between meals, such foods as orange juice, tomatoe juce, or milk should be taken. These will be helpful rather than harmful to the body.

Communist Party Is No Mere Political Unit—It's A Spy Net

By DAVIS MERWIN
Do we really know our enemy? Ignoring for the moment the expanding violence spread to the far reaches—Ghandi's "peace-at any price" India, led by his disciple, Nehru, in bombing, rocketing and strafing the helpless—Portuguese enclaves; "President of Sukarno's latest swipe at Dutch New Guinea; "peaceful" moppin up operations by U.N. troops in Katanga, and so on—let's wind up the rundown of President Kennedy's Los Angeles speech to a rally of Democratic Party faithfuls at $100 per copy.

Mind you, this was at an hour when the U. S. was more than ever playing for keeps. Mr. Kennedy's main points have been quoted here and comments made on his "civilian guerrillas," "a convoluted scapegoat" and "treason in high places" which sacrificed the old China. We mentioned what was the worst sellout in history—Yalta, and some of those who represented actual treason in high places. These had been scoffed at as fiction.

Now, the assertion that "we know that (the danger) comes from without, not within." The President's reference was to communism. Let's take some handy quotes from a Dec. 7, 1961, speech by FBI Director Hoover:

"I would like to be able to report that the internal enemies of our society have virtually disappeared. But this is not so." And later: "We are at war with the Communists and the sooner every red-blooded American realizes this the safer we will be! We must continue to stiffen our national backbone in dealing with the Communists and their dupes, sympathizers, and apologists." for while "The atheistic Communist dictatorship now controls more than one-third of this earth's people, 'the Communist threat from without must not blind us to the Communist threat from within."

"The latter is reaching into the very heart of America through its espionage agents and a... lawless Communist Party... dedicated to the... destruction of... our Republic." And in the same speech: "The Communist Party in this country has attempted to infiltrate and subvert every segment of our society. Mentioned here is the importance of "intelligent public opposition." And Director Hoover adds: "Those who follow the road of appeasement do not know the true meaning of freedom. You will not find their cheap slogans on the lips of the Hungarian refugees."

"In the fight to preserve our Republic, it is not enough to be against crime, against subversion or against any of the other enemies which weaken the Nation's strength from within. To stand for the American ideal, to work for the cause of liberty and justice—these give true meaning to life in this great Republic... We revive within ourselves the faith of our forefathers, which enabled them to meet and overcome adversity."

NIKITA BOLDY FRANK

Now as to those "equations", the Democratic Party may not be properly equated with the "Welfare State"; but the "Welfare State", which was born in 1933 with the blessing of Franklin Roosevelt—who then also blessed Soviet recognition—will have a tough time proving that it's not socialist. And as to aligning "socialism with communism", we need only take the words of Nikita Khrushchev uttered shortly before his historic "invasion" of the U. S. "We cannot expect the Americans to jump from capitalism to communism, but we can assist their elected leaders in giving Americans small doses of socialism, until they suddenly awake to find they have communism." The President, in speaking of those on the fringe and the suspicion with which "they look... at their neighbors and their leaders", adds references to churches beneath further mentions. This oband Supreme Court. He forgot the schools. The question, to my mind, is why should not good Americans have misgivings regarding leadership that by the public testimony of one of its top functionaries, Defense Secretary McNamara, suppresses the right of free speech for fear it may jeopardize "negotiations" with a non-negotiable enemy.

And regarding the infiltration of churches and the shockingly-confusing record of the U. S. Supreme Court since FDR's celebrated "court packing" got underway—and persisted—both are so well-documented that they are beneath further mentions. This observation is by no means an attack on church and judiciary as to be reversed when it is again ably manned.

NUMBERS MEANINGLESS

Now consider the oblique reference to Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker, USA. Speaking of him, we had best stop splitting hairs over the question of Army regulations and get interested in saving our skins and those of our young men being called to the colors, by encouraging the Walkers toward their education.

"People ask me: 'Can the danger be great when the membership of the Communist Party, USA is consistently falling? ...'

"To that I can only say that numbers mean nothing and that those nations which have attempted to assess the threat of communism on the basis of numerical strength alone are eating the bitter bread of slavery for their shortsightedness." "The Communist Party, USA, is not 'just another political part as its adherents and apologists would have you believe. It is a fifth column which no American who values his freedom can afford to ignore." Those are words of J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the FBI—to whom we are constantly referred as the expert on this subject—Do we Americans really know the enemy?

Teen-Age Skipper at Helm

MAINE (AP) — Old Tars would tell you it's bad luck to have a woman aboard a ship. It'll be worse luck for the reconverted fireboat City of Portland this summer if there isn't one aboard.

She'll be Capt. Marjorie Moore, an 18-year-old college sophomore and one of the youngest women in the country holding a master's license from the U. S. Coast Guard.

Marjorie will join the ship fresh from her school year at Nason College in Springvale, Maine.

She is the sea-going daughter of Capt. Donald A. Moore who operates a charter boat service out of Saco, Maine. He bought the 90-foot steel fireboat from the city of Portland, and plans to use it on excursions this summer.

When Marjorie takes the helm it will be with the same easy familiarity with which a Vermont milk maid tackles the family chores.

"She came aboard when she was 3 years old and I've never been able to get her off ever since," says her father. Marjorie got her master's license a year and a half ago after grueling examinations.

In fact, piloting her father's 57-foot charter boat Sea Hawk landed her on TV's panel show "To Tell The Truth" last September. Scouts for the show expressed amazement at how she guided the vessel through a field of lobster pot buoys, touching nary a one.

The pretty brunette is almost as much at home in the engine house as on the bridge.

On her first visit to the City of Portland she inspected the generator and diesels with the confidence of Florence Nightingale checking a bandaged finger.

"When—saw—ends, Marjorie will go back to Nason and resume the study of psychology.

Clock Collection On Exhibit At Tech Museum

LUBBOCK — The "Collector's Corner" in the West Texas Museum on the Texas Tech campus features an exhibit of 77 antique clocks belonging to a Levelland florist.

The exhibit, assembled by the Women's Council of the West Texas Museum Assn., will continue through June 1. Mrs. James R. Cochran of Lubbock is chairman, with Mrs. Robert E. Maxey as co-chairman.

Crede J. Rhea of Levelland helped select the 77 clocks in his 250-clock collection. He has been collecting them for the past 30 years. He has given away more than 40 clocks to his friends.

All of the clocks are American, with the exception of an 1840 French one. Most of the clocks were out of order and usually considered worthless when Rhea came by them.

"I just like to hear them tick," Rhea said. "And if they didn't tick, I wanted to see why they wouldn't."

One of Rhea's most valuable clocks is one from Texas capitol building, which was found in trash can.

Value of the collection ranges from around $50 to several hundred dollars. Rhea has rebuilt most of the clocks himself. He acquires many of them from a Fort Worth antique dealer who makes monthly trips to New England states.

The Levelland florist also operates a bookstore and does printing as a hobby.

The museum is open from 8-12 a.m. Tuesday through Friday, 8 to 12 a.m. Saturday and 3-6 p.m. Sunday.

"The Music Man" Slates Lubbock Dates Feb. 15-16

One of the biggest musicals hits in Broadway history "THE MUSIC MAN", will be presented by Civic Lubbock, Inc. Thursday and Friday, February 15 and 16 at 8 p.m. on the stage of the Lubbock Auditorium.

Produced on Broadway by Kermit Bloomgarden, "THE MUSIC MAN" rang up a grand total of 1,576 performances in New York, spanning three years and making it the fifth longest run in American musical history.

Few had heard of Meredith Willson, who wrote the book, lyrics and music, but before the last blare of "Seventy-Six Trombones" had died away, almost everyone in the land was aware that he had written one of the greatest musicals of all time. Other "hits" from the show are "Til There Was You", "Goodnight My Someone" and many more.

The Company, in addition to sixty actors, singers and dancers also carries a dozen musicians, half-a-dozen wardrobe mistresses, a teacher to provide the children in the troupe with school lessons, plus a sprinkling of anxious mothers.

IT PAVES TO ADVERTISE

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) —Speaking of the unusual in gifts: Shortly before Christmas, a mason named Damon Williams—a man with a firm belief in the value of advertising—painted this sign on the back of his truck: "Give her a concrete driveway for Christmas."

Yesterday's Furniture Restored

Since John and Abigail Adams moved into the unfinished Executive Mansion in 1800, the President's residence on Pennsylvania Avenue has been furnished and refurnished with a frequency only a woman could understand.

Women, it is reputed, like to move furniture about. And what one First Lady doted upon, another thought in excruciating bad taste.

The White House—which got its name during the occupancy of Theodore Roosevelt—has now reached a peak in quiet elegance and historic dignity.

Just how the presidential mansion looks today, as a result of the work of Mrs. John F. Kennedy and her Fine Arts Committee, was shown the public on a taped television tour broadcast by CBS February 14.

The first Lady conducted the audience through the public rooms on the ground and first floors, and the Lincoln and Monroe Rooms on the second floor.

Mrs. Kennedy and her committee have been trying to put back originals from the White House that have been scattered over the years. Up until the Anderson Bill was passed in 1961 to protect donations to the White House, Presidents were free to auction furniture as they pleased. If a future President doesn't like pieces donated now, they'll go to the Smithsonian Institution.

Perhaps the biggest housecleaning came when Chester Arthur succeeded to the presidency in 1881 after the assassination of James Gardfield. He had 24 wagonloads of White House furniture hauled out and sold at auction.

Congress appropriated money for him to redecorate to his taste, and his chief concoction was a series of stained glass screens with American and Islamic symbols, which cut off the long corridor from the drafty entrance hall. It lasted until Franklin D. Roosevelt moved in.

Not to let Authur outdo him, Benjamin Harrison added stained glass windows to the Blue Room. As Mrs. Kennedy conducted the tour, the audience saw that the huge East Room in which Abigail Adams used to dry her wash has antique white walls, but otherwise it's largely unchanged since it was redone in 1902.

The State Dining Room as the First Lady shows it had its table set as for an official dinner. The gold china is the Eisenhowers; so is the gold flatware. Mrs. Kennedy has selected her own American glassware; for water, champagne, red and white wines. Centerpiece is the famous Monroe mirrored plateau—13½ feet long with fruits, flowers, candelabras.

The dining room was enlarged in 1902 to double the number of guests to about 120, but the oak paneled walls are now white.

The Red Room today is American Empire style; chief sofas belonged to Nellie Custis, Martha Washington's granddaughter, and Dolly Madison. The Green Room is furnished as an American 19th century parlor.

The Lincoln bed — 8 feet long with a headboard 9 feet high — dominates the Lincoln Room, once the Civil War President's study, now used as a bedroom for distinguished guests. The ornate canopy that hung over it when it occupied the President's Bedroom has been removed. Pieces from Lincoln's time are in the room, placed there by Presidents Hoover then Truman and later by Mrs. Kennedy.

Future of Peace Corps May Be "In The Balance"

When this Administration entered office, one of its most novel proposals was for creation of the Peace Corps. The idea was, and is, that numbers of dedicated young people with particular talents and education would be sent to underdeveloped countries to aid them in becoming responsible nations. Members of the Corps would, so far as possible, live with the people, and accept a more or less comparable standard of living.

The proposal was nonpartisan — and it was met with a nonpartisan response. That is, members of both parties greeted the plan with enthusiasm — and other members of both parties shook their heads in doubt. In any event, Congress approved, and the President appointed his brother-in-law, R. Sargent Shriver, to take over, on a non-paid basis.

That happened about a year ago. Now numbers of Peace Corps young men and women have been recruited, indoctrinated, given varied training, and dispatched to underdeveloped areas. So the testing time, which will show whether or not the plan is wise and workable, is at hand.

Writing in The Reporter — a magazine of the liberal persuasion, which is favorable in principle to the Corps—John P. Nugent, who is chief African correspondent for Newsweek, tells of the work of the Peace Corps in Tanganyika — its duties, its intentions, and its problems. As he puts it, "The Peace Corps operation in Tanganyika may well prove to be the first decisive test of R. Sargent Shriver's entire program; indeed, a failure in Tanganyika might be the death knell of the Corps itself. For it is here that the volunteers will come face to face with more difficult challenges than any of their colleagues are apt to meet around the world. The difficulties are not only those of climate, man, and beast, but also the problems of being involved in the birth and growth of a new nation."

These problems, it is clear, are more numerous and more complex than the young Peace Corps volunteers anticipated — and many of them were not touched on in the manuals they read and the lectures they listened to. For instance, the European engineers, who have kept that aspect of the Tanganyika economy going, are now leaving the country, and the void will have to be filled. This is true of other professions. To quote Mr. Nugent again, "The young man will need to be tough and tough-minded during the next two years. The volunteers can depend on only fourteen African doctors, two lawyers, and one civic engineer in the whole of the 360,000 square miles inhabited by 9.2 million Africans, Asians, and Europeans."

Living conditions are primitive in the extreme. The country is alive with poisonous snakes, vicious, disease-bearing mosquitoes, and dangerous animals. The natives have ancient tribal beliefs and customs that can lead to serious trouble — a government geologist was spared in the back for desecrating a burial ground, and such grounds are usually unmarked. The work gangs are very different from those the volunteers may have had experience with in their home country. In many instances, Corps members have been given cold welcomes by natives and Europeans alike.

So the Corps' future is up in the air. No doubt Corps members in other parts of the world are now facing similar, even if lesser, problems. And, going beyond the Corps, this illustrates the difficulties prodded by emerging new nations, which have come into being by the dozen in late years. As the poet Tennyson wrote, "The old order changeth, yielding place to new." In the case of these nations, no one can now say with certainty what the new will be like.

SANDHILLS PHILOSOPHER CLAIMS

Code of the Old West, TV Style Needed In Foreign Policy

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm discuss a new frontier in foreign relations, his letter this week reveals.

Dear Editor: I got tired of working on a solution to the farm problem the other day, and just to rest my mind shifted over to working on the problem of foreign relations.

This came about because I had just read that Castro reportedly is setting up some guided missile launching sites up in the mountains over there in Cuba and they're pointed at the United States, only 90 miles away, which is just about point-blank with one of those things.

Now, here's our problem: up to now in international law, whatever that is, there has been nothing wrong in building guided missile launching sites. So long as Castro doesn't launch one of those missiles at us, we can't do anything. Our hands are tied. We have to sit around wondering if or when he's going to pull the trigger.

At this very point is where some heavy thinking needs to be applied, and I have come up with a new theory of international law. Well, it's not really new, it's not really new, it's based on the law of the West, which 150 million Americans who watch TV Westerns are familiar with.

This law says if a man starts to pull a gun on you and you beat him to the draw and shoot first, the United States Marshal's hands are tied. It was a clear case of self-defense, and any Marshal or Sheriff who tried to charge you with murder would be laughed out of the West.

Now the fine point about this code is that anybody can carry a gun, it's only when he goes for it that another man is entitled to fire first if he can manage it. This brings up my contribution to foreign policy. All the United States has to do is to decide what stage in launching a guided missile corresponds to the moment when a gunslinger makes a play for his gun, then you can go for yours and shoot him even before he gets his out of his launching pad. I mean holster, if you're fast enough, and the law is satisfied.

Right now, not having any guided missile launching sites on this Johnson grass farm to study, I can't say exactly what point in the enterprise corresponds to the move toward a 45, but if some expert in the State Department will figure this out, Castro may not be as happy over his launching sites as he thought he'd be and it sure will make things more comfortable. What sort of a life could anybody have led in the old West if people were entitled to go around with their guns drawn, finger on the trigger, and pointed at somebody else? If you can't legitimately defend yourself before that point, you ain't got much chance.

This is a point in Foreign Policy the experts ought to be working on a lot harder.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Editor's note: The "I give you Texas" columns were written for February shortly before the death of Mr. House several weeks ago. Next week's column is the last he wrote before his death.

When I was in Memphis, Tenn., attending high school, once a month the installment collector for the furniture company would come to our front door. He was a very serious man who wore a black suit, a black hat and a high collar. He had his rounds with a horse and buggy. The buggy was black and had a top which he always kept up—against the cold and wind in winter, the sun in summer and the rain which came at all seasons. This was along about 1914.

During vacation that year or maybe it was even later than 1914, I visited relatives in Clay County, Ark., and Uncle Frank drove a buggy. It was a sporty affair—no top, the wheels a bright yellow.

In 1919 when I went to Piggett to edit the Banner, Lon Vancill drove a horse to a cart, really a racing sulky, drawn by a mare which was the champion trotter of the county-fair circuit. In November 1920, I stepped off the train in Laredo and there were at least a dozen horse-drawn vehicles, with shouting drivers.

Now about the only time you see a horse-drawn vehicle is in a parade. Hot Springs, Ark., has one or two carriages for the tourist trade; it is quite the thing to have your picture made in the victoria. I believe it is. Nueveo Laredo, Mexico, back in the 1930's had two or three carriages—also for the tourists, and still may have.

These days, we still speak of horsepower—but it is produced by gasoline.

When I was a little fellow, I parted my hair in the middle. One day, my father's best friend remarked in my hearing, "Boyce parts his hair in the middle to balance his brain." I immediately started parting it on the side. And still do—what there is of it. Will Rogers said that there is nothing as stupid as an educated man when you get him off the thing he is educated in.

Norman Hapgood, the magazine editor, once declared, "Certain personalities create drama for themselves."

Someone has asked, "Is it any more marvelous that the dead should live than that the living should die?"

Letters TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir,

AN OPPORTUNITY

The year of 1962 will be a year in which the people of Texas will have an opportunity to elect people who could change the trend which if allowed to continue, would be the beginning of the end as far as constitutional government and the American way of life is concerned.

Through apathy people have been allowed to remain in office for many years after their effective position in politics has been in the interest of the people and the Nation as a whole.

Now, as never before should be the voters in this state and the Nation be absolutely sure of the men elected to represent them.

It is only good judgement to retire those from office who have failed to use their position to preserve those rights and privileges entrusted to their care.

Any politician whoever they be, either in or out of office cannot be of any value or help in attempting to stem the tide of Socialism if they indicate a middle of the road trend.

Those who would use the position of middle of the roaders are a greater threat than those whose philosophies are known to be far to the left.

If the enemy is known, he is more easily defeated than those who are in a position to go in both directions at one time or lean in whichever direction necessary to secure votes.

I cannot but believe that there is no man which is indispensable. I cannot but believe that there are many who are qualified and are dedicated to the cause of preserving this nation. I believe that the time is now at hand to make many changes in the re-estate in the nation's capital.

We in this district remain saddled with such a man who is long overdue for retirement.

It is my belief that any representative who has been in office during all these years when the rights and privileges of the people of this great nation have been allowed to be legislated away with out any protest should be retired.

It is not logical thinking to assume that those who allow a situation to develop without protest, could be effective in now correcting the situation.

The people of this district deserve some new faces and policies. It is past time when we quit electing those who would perpetuate themselves in office by playing both sides against the middle.

Let us forget personal interests and attempt to elect people who will serve the interests of this nation. This might be the last opportunity.

John W. West

NAUTICAL BUT NICE

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—A lad of 7 who has been reared on a boat was turned loose on Municipal Pier to try out his new bicycle.

When his father asked him how far he had gone, the nautical-minded youngster replied, "I went as far as the city head."

"What is that?" his father asked.

"You know, Daddy," he replied, "the city building down on the corner with the bathrooms inside."

IN THIS WORLD

Ralph W. Yarborough Newsletter

Dear Fellow Texan: One of the major and most pressing legislative matters to come before the 87th Congress is S-1241, a bill to provide increased college academic facilities and more scholarships to students.

One part of this bill authorizes the appropriation of $50 million for each of five years, a total of $250 million, for matching grants to states to assist in the building of public junior colleges.

Texas has 30 of the nation's 331 public junior colleges. These 30 Texas schools served a total of 30,377 students working for degree credits in 1961. This was an increase of almost seven percent over the 1960 enrollment in public junior colleges in Texas, a growth percentage that is impressive evidence of the need for these community schools.

The cost of getting a higher education is the biggest single roadblock to high school graduates in Texas, as well as the rest of the United States. Community junior colleges allow a student the opportunity to live at home instead of moving to a distant city with all the extra expense involved for room and board and transportation. Community colleges open the doors to higher education to thousands upon thousands of young Texans who otherwise would be unable to advance beyond high school.

Of the $50 million annually that would be authorized for grants to the 50 states, Texas would qualify for $2,401,135. To get this amount for its junior colleges, Texas would invest $4,044,476 in matching funds.

Leading education authorities have testified before the Senate Education Subcommittee, of which I am a member, that the American technological economy requires an increasing number of persons trained at an intermediate level—not full-fledged engineers or scientists, but high-level technicians or semiprofessionals.

Junior colleges provide two years of training that can lead to further study, or preparation for employment immediately on completion of the two years. These vital roles in upgrading the personnel demanded by industry, either by advanced technical, scientific and managerial training, or through advanced general education.

The community colleges are relatively inexpensive to build, since they do not require massive expenditures for graduate and post-graduate training facilities. Their primary concern is education, which in my opinion is one of the primary concerns of our nation at a time when knowledge is a source of national strength.

The education bill before the Congress includes a clearly-stated, unqualified provision that the matching funds agreements would be carried out without any impediment to the control of the schools by the local elected administration. This bill passed the United States Senate this week with an overwhelming vote. It now goes to the House of Representatives for its action.

Accident surveys among farm people show that during the summer and early fall the accidental death rate is about 23 percent higher than during the remainder of the year.

FARM NEWS

Farm Facts

In 1960, the cost of the standard "market basket," which the government uses to measure price trends, averaged about 2% below 1958 and about the same as in 1952.

The average factory worker in 1960 could buy a market basket of farm foods for a whole month with the earnings from 43 hours of work. In 1952, he worked 65 hours and in 1947 he worked 64 hours to buy the same amount of food.

We spent $384 per person for food in 1960, compared with $319 in 1947-49, but the 1960 food costs represented only 20% of our disposable income, compared with 26% in 1947-49. If we ate the same foods as we did in 1939, only 15 cents of our spendable dollar would go for food rather than 20 cents.

Price spread—difference between what the farmer gets and what the consumer pays—rose from 48% to 60% between 1948 and 1960 as a result of higher taxes and higher costs of labor and transportation.

Only major factor in price spread which has declined since 1946, according to the Grocery Manufacturers of America, is the net profit per dollar of sales for food manufacturers and distributors.

Food prices in 1960 were about the same as in 1952.

WHAT ELSE WAS LEFT? TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — The headline in a Tampa newspaper read: "Tampans Dies After Funeral." It was someone else's funeral.

Parmer County Farm Bureau News

By RAYMOND EULER

Farm Bureau is again soliciting small contributions from individuals for use in bedding on animals at the Parmer County Junior Livestock Show which will be held March 8-10 at the Friona bus barns. If you don't receive a letter on this and want to contribute, just make your check to Farm Bureau Livestock Fund and leave it in the office.

This is the third consecutive year Farm Bureau has participated in the bidding in an effort to give the boys a little more premium for their efforts in raising and showing their animals.

If you don't know, and are interested, we have the tabulation of votes for and against the irrigation gas bill that failed in Austin. The Farm Bureau Legislative Office in Austin will be working with the Gas Users Association in preparing for passage of this bill in the next regular session. We believe it will pass when misinformation has been replaced with the truth about the bill.

Farm Bureau helped defeat a bill, SB 63, that would have required you to obtain a building permit for rural improvements. Here is Texas Farm Bureau's record in the special session: Supported and passed — three; supported but lost — two; opposed and defeated — three; opposed, amended to remove objections and passed — two. That is a good record.

"You can't organize farmers" is a statement often heard and quoted. Farmers can, however, organize themselves 43, and 23 cent of all farms in the United States are represented by voluntary membership in Farm Bureau compared to 24.56 per cent of the total labor force in unions.

The 14th Membership Drive for Parmer County Farm Bureau will be kicked off with a banquet for workers on the 19th of March in the Friona School Cafeteria. March 12th was first selected, but because of conflict with other activities, the date was changed. If you are not contacted as a worker in this one or two day drive, and want to help, let us know. Calvin Meissner is Membership Chairman.

Major Crimes Increased in Texas in 1961

AUSTIN—The Texas Department of Public Safety reported today that major crime in Texas increased 2.2 per cent in 1961 over 1960, with an estimated total of 23,285 offenses for the year compared to 19,956 in 1960.

Murder and homicide was up 0.7 per cent, rape increased 5.7 per cent, robbery decreased 16.5 per cent, burglary was down 6.7 per cent, aggravated assault increased 0.3 per cent, theft increased eight per cent, and auto theft was down 0.8 per cent.

Murder and homicide was up from 1,080 to 1,099, rape was up from 1,196 to 1,264, robbery was down from 3,560 to 2,974, burglary was down from 56,976 to 53,149, aggravated assault was up from 12,128 to 12,166, theft was up from 108,869 to 117,619, and auto theft was down from 15,147 to 15,025.

"The totals for 1961 mean that one major crime was committed in Texas every three minutes, there was a murder every eight hours, a rape every seven hours, a robbery every three hours, a burglary every 10 minutes, an aggravated assault every 43 minutes, a theft every four and one-half minutes, and an auto theft every 35 minutes," Col. Homer Garrison Jr., DPS Director, said.

Farm Control Said Goal Of JFK's Plan

KANKAKEE, Ill. (AP) — Charles Shuman, president of American Farm Bureau Federation, contended Saturday that the U.S. government intends to take complete control of the nation's food supply, land and farmers.

He labeled the Kennedy administration's proposed new farm program "undisguised regimentation." Shuman, head of the country's largest organization of farm families, spoke at the 50th anniversary meeting of the Kankakee County Farm Bureau.

He criticized the blueprint for agriculture that President Kennedy and Secretary of Agriculture Freeman are offering to farmers. "No other secretary of agriculture in the history of this country has proposed such drastic production and marketing control on corn, feed, grains and milk," Shuman said.

No Quotas Before
"Never have marketing quotas been imposed on corn, feed grains or milk."

Shuman acknowledged that farmers can vote on the plans, but he added:

"The secretary would have several clubs at his command to force farmers to choose his program. One of the biggest is proposed new authority to dump up to 10 million tons of government-held feed grains and 200 million bushels of wheat on the market if producers do not go along with his proposals."

He called for a reduction of federal intervention and control and "greater freedom for farmers to run their own operation."

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex. — Candidates flooded this capital city as the filing deadline arrived. Politicians came to town to pay filing fees for state offices at both the state democratic headquarters and the republican camp.

Thousand dollar fees were paid in many ways: One thousand one-dollar bills, one hundred ten-dollar bills and various checks from friends of the candidates.

A former athlete brought a handful of ex-football stars along, to show that he had a sporting chance.

There were very few surprises at the State Democratic Executive Committee: Gubernatorial candidates John Connally, Marshall Formby, Will Wilson and Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker had paid before the deadline.

Austin Attorney Bob Looney arrived at the last minute to join Tom James, Tom Reavley, Waggoner Carr, W. T. McDonald and Les Proctor in the attorney general's race.

Keith Wheatley, 27-year-old Stamford oil operator, decided to oppose Railroad Commissioner Ben Ramsey in the May primary.

Both Looney and Wheatley filed without paying, but plunked down their $1,000 fees by the Feb. 8 deadline.

Joe R. Pool, Dallas attorney, Charles H. Stevenson Jr. of Nueces County and rancher Phil Wil of Kaufman County, made the same sort of financial transaction as candidates for congressman-at-large.

Houston businessman Robert W. Hervey and Mitchell County District Judge Eldon Mahon forfeited their right to run for Congressman-at-large when they failed to follow filing with payment of filing fees.

Indicative of the expected turn over in both House and Senate is the democratic line-up for lieutenant governor: Speaker of the House James A. Turman, Senators Preston Smith, Jarrard Secrest and Robert Baker, all are abandoning present posts to seek the state's second highest position.

Republican line-up for house and senate seats is imposing. Fourteen republicans are campaigning for 10 of the 31 senate commission from taxation. But clients must pay tax on drawings, paintings, lettering and printed matter, and with the fantastic volume of this type of production involved in a campaign year, the state ought to net a fair-sized income from advertising agencies.

—Governor Daniel appointed Jack Drake of Westlaco and Jack Martin of San Antonio to fill vacancies on the Industrial Commission.

Drake is executive vice-president of the Lower Rio Grande Valley Chamber of Commerce. Martin is president of the Texas State Building and Construction Trades Council.

MIGRANT WORKERS CONFERENCE — Ranchers, farmers, educators and businessmen from all over the state will attend a Texas Conference on Education for Adult Migrant Farm Workers in the House of Representatives on March 8.

Farm Workers and Good Neighbor Commission are planning the conference.

SHORT SHORTS Governor Daniel has received a total of $187,071 from the people of West Berlin for the relief of Hurricane Carla victims.

Dr. Joseph Trosper, chairman of the insurance department at Southern Methodist University was sworn in as a new member of the State Board of Insurance.

Austin attorney Robert G. Flowers is new Assistant Attorney General with the highway division.

The Rev. Clinton Kersay, former Chaplain for two sessions, was appointed director of parole supervision by Dr. James A. Turman, director of the Texas Youth Council.

Most commissioners look for the emergency to end within 30 days, when business in that area is expected to recover.

UNIVERSITY HOUSING BATTLE — Attorney General Will Wilson has more windmills to tilt at than Don Quixote.

In his "spare time", he's fighting five opponents in the governor's race.

On a current job basis, he's engaged in a battle with the University of Texas' Board of Regents and the three outside attorneys UT hired to defend the school in a housing suit brought by several Negro students.

Wilson, as attorney general, also is defending the University and mightily on posing the intrusion of outside help. He filed a brief citing Supreme Court ruling and legislative authority to prove his contention that only the attorney general can represent the state in appellate courts.

UT's private attorneys pointed to another regents' cause where they noted "with much interest that a distinguished array of counsel headed by former Gov. Dan Moody represented the Board of Regents."

Wilson produced evidence that Governor Moody was the Attorney General of Texas at the time of the suit referred to, and "the distinguished array of counsel" were his assistant attorney general.

SALES TAX RULINGS KEEP COMING — Governor Daniel's announcement that he hopes to amend the sales tax structure probably caused groans in the Comptroller of Public Accounts' office, where they're constantly busy interpreting the two percent sales tax as it now stands.

Most recent interpretation involves advertising agencies which finance their operation on a 15 percent commission basis, rather than by charges.

Comptroller ruled that the tax does not apply to intangible services and therefore excludes the commission from taxation. But clients must pay tax on drawings, paintings, lettering and printed matter, and with the fantastic volume of this type of production involved in a campaign year, the state ought to net a fair-sized income from advertising agencies.

During the fiscal year 2,720 disabled Texans became employable as the result of services provided by the Vocational Rehabilitation Division. There increase in purchasing power was estimated to be in excess of $4,500,000 a year.

NOT COMPLETELY DEMOLISHED ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — City officials have discovered that an ordinance regulating building demolition has one flaw: It doesn't require that the job be finished.

The officials discovered this when they tried to take action on complaints against a theater owner who tore down everything except the front wall of the theater.
