Sorghum Demonstration Yield Results Told Here

"You just can't tell by looking," said County Agent J. K. Adams about the guesses made concerning the yield of the grain sorghum demonstrations on the D. Holley and Jack Little farms.

Jack Schuster submitted the guess nearest accurate on the yield of the highest-yielding variety, while W. T. Millen had the nearest guess to overall average. Each won a new hat for their guesses.

Standardized to 15 per cent moisture, the grain sorghums demonstrated on the two farms yielded an average of 7,499.5 pounds per acre.

Little's T. E. 77 had the highest yield, with 8,889 pounds per acre. Second was Little's Texas 660, with 8,685. Yields of other varieties are, in order, Little's PAG 665, 8,628; and Little's Lindsey 788, 8,386.

Little's Apache, 8,348; Little's DeKalb F-63, 7,888; Little's Steckley R106, 7,851; Little's Steckley R214, 7,672; Little's Frontier 400F, 7,392; and Holley's Apache, 7,245.

Eleventh in yield was Holley's PAG 665, with 7,077. Others were Holley T. E. 77, 6,577; Holley's Frontier 400F, 6,536; Holley's DeKalb F-63, 5,764; and Holley's Texas 660, 5,553.

Little's T. E. 77 grossed $151 per acre. There was a range of 3,334 pounds per acre in yield on the demonstrations.

According to Adams, some things learned from the D. Holley demonstration were very significant. Texas 660 with no fertilizer made only 4,292 pounds per acre. Texas 660 with 120 pounds nitrogen made 1,117 pounds more per acre, adding a per acre value of $19, or $10-$11 extra profit per acre. By going on to add 160 pounds of nitrogen per acre, or 40 pounds above soil test recommendations, Holley made 463 more pounds of grain sorghum per acre, to add about $4 more profit per acre.

Total profit per acre gained by adding fertilizer, above fertilizer cost and cost to apply, was $15 per acre. This is figuring anhydrous ammonia at 6 cents and nitro at $1.70 per hundredweight. It was learned that DeKalb F63 gained 1,275 more pounds per acre when the additional 40 pounds of nitrogen above recommendations was added, to bring total nitrogen added to 160 pounds.

Civil Defense Will Meet November 14

A meeting to get Bailey County's Civil Defense organization "out of the planning stage, and into action," has been called for November 14, at 7:30 p.m. in the District Courthouse at Muleshoe. All civil defense unit chairmen are expected to be present.

Judge Glen Williams, county Civil Defense coordinator, said the purpose of the meeting will be to establish definite workable plans of action to be taken by the people of this county in case of a natural or man-made disaster.

As outlined by Judge Williams, the group will set up definite steps to be taken in case of emergency conditions, and then the populace will be informed of these directions so they may know what to do.

"Civil Defense planning must be on the local level," Judge Williams said, "and we are going to take whatever action seems necessary to help our people care for themselves in the event of an emergency."

Surveys of existing necessities will be made, duties detailed, and a simplified plan of action published to cover emergency conditions of several types.

Fallout preparations will be made on two alternate plans, based on time limits; also preparations will be detailed for execution in case of tornadoes or other natural disaster.

A full report of plans for emergency conditions will be made to the public.

The serious world situation has prompted a stepped up interest in Civil Defense throughout the county.

Doe No Foe, Dog Won't Go

County Agent J. K. Adams related a recent experience while out around the Y. L. community.

Seems he came upon a deer grazing beside the road and saw what appeared to be a vicious dog nearby. He was told the deer was a pet watched over by Kenneth Hanks, who farms nearby.

Thinking the dog was after the doe, Adams stopped his pickup and got out. "It took a lot of chasing," Adams said, "but I finally got the dog to go away and leave the doe alone."

Adams then went over and petted the deer, which just stood still for Adams.

Later, Adams was told that the dog and the deer are real buddies. One chases the other a while, then they switch off and they continue with their play.

"I'll bet that dog thought I was going to hurt his friend," Adams remarked. "I wondered why he wouldn't go away."

Enochs Store Burglarized Friday Night

Five books of trading stamps, three watches, two cartons of cigarettes and $15-$20 in change from a soft drink machine were stolen October 28 from Simmons Grocery at Enochs.

The burglar is believed to have broken into the store while local residents were attending a football game, according to Bailey County Sheriff's officers. Sheriff Dee Clements is investigating the break-in.

Sheriff's officers returned a man from Levelland Tuesday for worthless check and arrested a Mexican man for contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Fires In County Destroy 600 Acres Of Grassland

Five grass fires in Bailey County over the past weekend kept Muleshoe Fire Department busy and burned a total of about 600 acres of grassland.

Four of the fires were on Highway 84 east of Muleshoe. All began about the same time Saturday night and are believed to have been deliberately set.

The first fire, just east of the livestock sale barn, was brought under control after a short battle beginning about 6 p.m., Saturday. One fire truck fought this fire while the other went on to fight a fire about eight miles out of Muleshoe. The second fire was just inside the county line, on the land formerly part of the McMurtry Ranch.

About 500 acres of grassland were enveloped by the flames of the second fire. County Agent J. K. Adams said this is a damage of more than $2,000 to the rangeland. "It will be a long time before the grass on that land can grow back," he said.

Two other grass fires between Muleshoe and the Bailey County line were considered insignificant. One never caught hold, while the other was under control after only a few moments.

Sunday evening a grass fire broke out on a vacant lot at the corner of Twelfth and Avenue C. Muleshoe firemen brought it under control after a short time.

Fire Chief Earl Ladd said the four fires on Highway 84 began out in the pastures, rather than on the railroad right of way. "We don't believe sparks from the railroad could have caused these fires," he said.

County Agent Adams agreed with Chief Ladd and added that, "The wind is said to have died down during the course of the fires. If it had continued to blow as it had been, one of them would have gone all the way to the next highway. Then the damage would have been terrible. Thanks to the fire department and the way the wind died, the damage to the rangeland and crops was held down."

Land Leased For Monument To Mule

Mule Memorial Association's goal of erecting a monument to the mule in Muleshoe moved a big step closer to reality October 28.

Gil Lamb, president of the Mule Memorial Association, on that date signed a lease agreement with Santa Fe Railway for a plot of ground as a site for the monument.

The land is located at the north end of Main Street, just south of the depot, and abutting on

No Hunt In Colorado; They Were Snowed Out

Harry Waddle, Dr. Ray Santos, Fred Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Don Taylor, and Claude Don Holmes didn't fire a shot on their trip up to Pagosa Springs, Colo., last week. They were snowed out on arrival. "That snow was awfully deep," Waddle commented upon his return.

The Taylors and Holmes were still in Colorado at last report Wednesday, with the station wagon, jeep and pickup which were snowed in. They plan to return home just as soon as they can get out.

The first day there the party tried to hunt but the snow, cold and no deer to be seen discouraged further tries.

Deadline Announced For Stock Show

County Agent J. K. Adams announced this week that prospective contestants in Bailey County Junior Stock Show competition must own and have animals on feed not later than December 11.

This date is earlier than last year, with changes having been made in the time or deadline rules recently.

"This should give entrants plenty of time to find animals and get the best results from their feeding," Adams said.

Those eligible to compete are 4-H and FFA club boys and also girls who are supervised in project work by the county agent or vocational agriculture teachers of Bailey County and attending school in Bailey County.

Complete rules and additional information will be published in next week's Muleshoe Journal. Changes have been made in several categories and these will be noted at that time.

L. C. Roddam Week's Winner

L. C. Roddam this week missed only three of the ten college football kickoff contests, thus gaining a check for $5.

Howard Splawn, who has made a habit of being in the winner's circle this year, missed four of the choices, which put him in second place for the week and netted him a check for $3.

Splawn's tie-breaker scoring guess was nearest to correct among those who missed four of the college games in the contest entries.

Bad Weather Halts Farming Progress As Rain, Hail Hit

Light rain, some hail, a lot of cold and a heavy hanging fog have kept Muleshoe area farm and farm-related business activities slack this week.

Cotton gins and grain elevators along with local farmers, were kept from doing business this week due to the adverse weather conditions.

Monday and Tuesday .13 inch of rain fell in Muleshoe. Sunday night's slight precipitation is included in Monday's .06 inch.

Sunday night, a small amount of hail hit the west end of the county just before rainfall began.

North of Circleback, 150-200 acres of cotton in a narrow strip were hit by hail. About one-half bale per acre was on the ground due to the hail damage, according to J. K. Adams, county agent.

Adams said farmers in that area will be able to salvage this cotton, but it will be at a considerable expense. If gathered by hand, a great deal of dirt and debris will tend to lower the value of the cotton.

"There is a machine that will pick this cotton up," Adams said, "but it will cost about $50 per bale."

Damage was also reported in the Enochs area, though this damage was said to be light. No hail damage was reported north of Muleshoe, according to Adams.

According to a long-range forecast of the weather, the High Plains will have a mild month of November, although a frigid dose of air is expected November 4, 5 and 6. Residents can look for one and one-half to two and one-half inches of precipitation this month, mostly in the form of rain. Some snow showers are possible about November 23.

The coldest temperature of the month is expected at dawn November 5 or 6, when the mercury is expected to dip to about 20 degrees. High for November is placed at 78 on November 3.

August 1960 the church invited Rev. Troy Walker of Plainview to become the pastor and shepherd of the church. Rev. Walker moved to Muleshoe August 26, 1960, to begin his new work. The Sunday School attendance was 82 at that time. Since that time the church has had a gradual growth. Since Rev. Walker has been pastor there has been 91 additions by letter; and 41 for baptism, a total of 131 people added to the church.

TODAY'S MEDITATION

Read Joel 2:28-32; Acts 23:7-11
I will pour out my spirit upon all flesh; and your sons and your old men shall dream dreams, your young men shall see visions. (Joel 28:3.)

In his mind's eye, Christopher Wren could see the majesty of St. Paul's Cathedral long before and de Leseps saw the vision of the Panama Canal, linking the Atlantic Ocean with the Pacific, long before it became a reality. Isaiah said, "In the year that King Uziah died I saw also the Lord". The glory of that vision turned Isaiah into a prophet.

Jesus said, "Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God." The vision of God has streamed through different windows and greeted the soul of man in various ways. Men like Saul of Tarsus have recognized Christ's call and offered themselves upon the altar of service to God.

God has His purposes and His witnesses in every generation. He grants the vision of His glory to men that they may lead others into His marvelous light.

PRAYER: Lord God, who revealst thyself to men, we pray that Thou wilt grant unto us the vision of a world redeemed through Thy Son, Jesus Christ our Lord. Keep us, we pray, obedient to that vision, for His blessed name's sake. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
When we see the glory of God, we see also men in desperate need of Christ, the Savior.

Patriotism In Advertising

An editorial entitled, "What is a Customer?" appeared some time ago in a prominent business publication. Here are some of the fine ideas it set forth:

"A customer is not an outsider to our business; he is a definite part of it. A customer is not an interruption of our work; he is the purpose of it. We are not doing him a favor. He is doing us a favor by letting us serve him.

"A customer is not a cold statistic; he is a flesh and blood human being with feelings and emotions like our own. A customer is not someone to argue or match wits with. He deserves courteous, attentive treatment.

"A customer is not dependent on us. We are dependent on him. A customer brings us his wants. It is our job to handle them properly and profitably.

"...A customer is the most important person in our business."

We need to consider the implications of these statements.

Business can stay in existence only because of the customer, for as the wise businessman knows, the customer is always right. Patriots can help to spread freedom's message by finding out which business concerns foster patriotism in advertising, then expressing their approval by calling, visiting or writing the businessman responsible. When we compliment him on his patriotic vision, he will be encouraged to continue his efforts in the freedom movement.

Youths Collect Funds For Needy

Approximately 45 young people and adult sponsors from several churches joined together Monday night for the CROP project of Trick or Treat.

Thus far $237.30 was collected which will be turned in for milk, vitamins, and needed food for the starving children in needy sections of the world.

These contributions will be distributed through Church World Service and denominational missionaries in the field.

Those persons who were not home on Monday night and wish to make a gift to this CROP Trick or Treat project may still do so by mailing their gift, properly labeled for CROP, to Box 505, Muleshoe, Texas, or bringing it by the church office of the First Methodist Church.

J. Frank Peery, Methodist minister and president of the Bailey County Ministerial Alliance, expresses appreciation on behalf of the young people and the adult leaders to all who participated in this city-wide endeavor.

The Rev. Peery stated, "It was indeed a happy occasion and a successful project to see Christian young people from various churches in the city join together in working for Christ and the Church."

Miss Alex Foy, general chairman of the planning committee and Director of Christian Education of the First Methodist Church, reported, "It was such a joy to work with the young people of Muleshoe on this worthy project. My deep appreciation to all those who participated in the drive, and a special word of thanks to Mr. R. F. Parkinson for his help in donating to the project through the Seal Test Company the orange drink cartons used for collection containers. The young people had a good time of fellowship and their efforts were rewarded by your wonderful response."

A football coach accompanied a prospective tackle to the Dean's office, where he attempted to get the boy admitted to school without a written examination. The boy, however, could not answer the simplest question. In desperation, the Dean asked, "How much is seven and seven?"

"Thirteen," the boy answered. "Aw, let him in anyway, Dean," pleaded the coach, "he only missed it by two."

Farwell Sailor Participates In Navy Exercises

Allen E. Hodges, electrician's mate second class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hodges of Route 1, Farwell, Tex., is scheduled to participate in Exercise "Covered Wagon", a seven-day training exercise for ships and aircraft of the First Fleet off the coast of Southern California, while serving aboard the radar picket destroyer USS McKean.

Beginning Oct. 20, the exercise will include a fast carrier striking force of surface ships opposing shore-based patrol aircraft, medium jet bombers and submarines. Also scheduled is a major replenishment at sea for the task force by fleet oilers, ammunition and stores ships.

Vice Admiral Charles L. Melson, First Fleet commander, is scheduling the exercise, and his flagship will be the heavy cruiser USS Helena. The exercise will be conducted by Rear Admiral Charles T. Booth II, commander Carrier Division Five, whose flagship will be the attack aircraft carrier USS Lexington.

John Williams In Exercises

John W. Williams, aviation boatswain's mate second class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Williams of Earth, Texas, is taking part in Exercise "Warm-Up", a joint naval-marine amphibious operations in the Okinawa area, while serving aboard the amphibious assault ship USS Princeton.

The Princeton, a unit of the powerful Seventh Fleet, is one of the fleet's components participating in the exercise with units of the Okinawa-based Third Marine Division.

Sandhills Cranes Being Tagged Here

Texas Game and Fish, official magazine of the Texas Game and Fish Commission, published an article written by Bill Van Tries, who works at the Muleshoe National Wildlife Refuge 20 miles south of Muleshoe.

The article tells of the methods of trapping sandhills cranes which winter on the refuge each year. His story goes, in part, as follows:

Unknown to most Texans is the fact that the Caprock section of West Texas is home to the world's largest wintering concentration of lesser sandhill cranes.

Muleshoe National Wildlife Refuge, 20 miles south of Muleshoe, last year hosted as many as 52,000 cranes per day. Ducks wintering on the refuge, at times number over 700,000, and a few through the winter.

The 5,809-acre refuge, administered since 1935 by the U.S. Department of the Interior, contains 5 acres of shallow lakes which provide ideal roosting sites for the long-legged sandhill cranes.

For the past two winters, the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife has been conducting a program of lesser sandhill crane research, and part of this work has involved crane trapping operations on the Muleshoe Refuge.

The purpose of the research program is to determine more accurately the birds' exact wintering grounds and migration routes and to find out more about their physiology, behavior and racial distinctions.

To gather this information, it was necessary to examine the live birds, record their weights and measurements, and to band them.

Bands used on the cranes are of two kinds: a bright orange plastic collar around the neck for easy ground identification, and a regular "duck band" locked on the leg for detailed information on birds shot or found dead.

Actual trapping of the birds has proved to be a sizable but interesting task. A "cannon net" device is used to capture the birds.

This consists of a net which is attached by ropes in three places to three projectiles which are fired from three cannons buried in the ground.

The cannons, each firing 135 grains of black powder (FFG), are detonated by an observer using radio control of direct electrical contact in a blind some 300 yards distant.

The net is folded accordion fashion until it is four feet wide by forty feet long, and as the cannons fire simultaneously their projectiles carry the net out to its full length, entrapping the cranes.

The birds are disentangled from the net one at a time and placed in the weighing bucket which restricts them while the following measurements are taken: length of mid toe, bill, and tarsus, length of longest tail feather, and distance from the bend of the wing to the tip of the longest primary feather.

Also recorded are the color of the eye, weight, age (juvenile or adult), and when evident, the sex.

At present, it is difficult to tell the boys from the girls, but one object of the research program is to establish a more reliable sexing technique.

As trapping is done on a lake-shore, care must be taken to keep the birds as dry as possible. Sandhill cranes, unlike other waterfowl, may become completely waterlogged and remain in this vulnerable flightless condition until they are dry.

The sandhill crane's date of return to Muleshoe Refuge is nearly as reliable as the swallows' return to Capistrano. It is set at September 19, but like the swallows, the cranes often vary a few days either way.

Gene Garrison Is Guest Speaker At Water Meet

"We don't rule ideas, ideas rule us," Gene Garrison, Littlefield Chamber of Commerce manager, told a group of approximately 50 persons attending the monthly meeting of Caprock District held October 26 at the Triple Inn Cafe.

Garrison led the audience in examining their attitudes toward self, others, God and things and quoted Karl Menninger, the noted psychiatrist, "Men were created to be loved and things to be used," and stated that he situation has been reversed. James Brunson, of Quitaque, president of the organization, introduced Mayor Arthur Crow and City Councilman Earl Harris, of Muleshoe, and other special guests. W. E. Young, of Muleshoe, served as host for the meeting. Persons attending came from as far as Spur, Crosbyton and Quitaque.

Highlights And Sidelights From Your State Capitol

By-Vern Sanford
 Texas Press Association

Aware of the fact that more money soon may be available for trunk-highway construction, 15 delegations of civic leaders descended on Austin.

They asked Texas Highway Commission for a record number of dollars for highway work. Specifically, $171,056,000.

Houston and Harris County, presenting a plan of freeway development designed to carry Houston's traffic in 1980, asked for approval of an $89,400,000 program. That was the big one. But all of the 14 other projects were equally as pressing to the money was involved.

State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer feels that 22,000 of the 25,000 miles in the trunk-highway system are inadequate. He says that less attention has been paid to those "town-to-city" roads during the years in which urban roads have taken top priority.

Gov. Price Daniel brought the issue of highway financing to a head when he vetoed the $15,000,000 Colson-Briscoe farm-to-market road appropriation. Legislators had appropriated it for the year starting next September 1.

Governor Daniel will ask the Legislature, at its special session this winter, to cut down on farm-to-market road construction and step up the money available for trunk-highway work.

Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association has endorsed the change.

Governor Daniel will go in person to the Texas Farm Bureau convention in Galveston November 12-15 to try to get that powerful rural group to accept the plan.

double the rate of the previous year.

MORE TAXES

James W. McGrew, research director of the Texas Research League, told the group's annual meeting that additional state spending of about $50,000,000 a year is in sight for the two years starting September 1, 1963.

New sales tax will provide part of the added money, McGrew predicted. Other taxes will just about produce the extra money. But it will require some economizing to make ends meet in the 1963 session of the Legislature, in spite of the huge new tax.

Growth of Texas is the reason for the added spending. Growth means more children, more schools, more patients in mental hospitals, more college students, more cars and more highways to hold them.

More people mean more governmental spending to serve them. Railroad Commissioner Ben Ramsey, main speaker at the League's luncheon, said Texans should be commended for their willingness to accept the added tax burdens needed to finance education and other essential services.

Ramsey provided some startling figures. While he was lieutenant governor, presiding over the Texas Senate, state spending increased nearly two and a half times, from $520,000 to $1,200,000,000 a year from 1950 to 1961.

In defense of the Legislature, he said it wasn't "free spending." Spending was necessary for essential programs like education, highways, welfare, hospitals and the like, Ramsey explained.

Rep. Jesse M. Osborn of Muleshoe has some tax cutting in mind. In a letter to Governor Daniel he proposed that the State ad valorem tax be abolished, and the sales tax revenue be used to make up the gap.

So far, sales tax revenues have only begun to trickle in to the State Treasury. So the state's main checking account is still $86,850,569 in the red. If good business conditions continue and income is up, it will still be more than a year before the deficit is erased.

BUSINESS COMING BACK

A steady growth in Texas retail trade in 1961 is reported by the Bureau of Business Research of the University of Texas.

Despite a Gulf Coast slowdown in September, due to Hurricane Carla, retail sales for the first nine months of 1961 pulled to within one per cent of the sales for the same period of 1960. First six months of 1961 were three per cent behind 1960.

September sales were off, largely because people bought heavily in August to avoid the sales tax. But the nine-month figures indicate to the Bureau's economists that things are looking better.

A big gain in construction in 1961 has helped the business picture. Not even Carla's September blow could head off a new nine-month record in the construction field in Texas. The UT Bureau found $1,047,625,000 in construction authorized the first nine months of 1961, five per cent above 1960's first three quarters.

Recovery of the home building business was the major factor. Third quarter saw $169,127,000 worth of one-family homes authorized. This was 23 per cent above the same quarter of 1960. Apartment construction is nearly bring them in.

TB CAMPAIGN

Story of how one county has just about whipped tuberculosis was told at the Texas Tuberculosis Association meeting.

Bell County set up a chest clinic in 1954. Persons who had contacts with known TB patients were asked to come in for free check-ups. But if they did not come, warrants were issued to

Parmer County Farm Bureau News

by Raymond Euler

Because the title question is so common here and everywhere with Farm Bureau leaders, we are copying the following article from the AFBF Washington Newsletter. It was written by Dick Perkins, Membership Chairman, Washington State Farm Bureau.

WHY DON'T WE COMPROMISE? The question is constantly being put to Farm Bureau people. "Why don't we get together with all of the other farm differences?" At first thought, to many people, this seems like a simple and logical way to settle these differences of policy, and then we as farmers, the nation over, would all be in agreement and would speak as a united group. The fallacy in this line of thinking lies chiefly in the fact that many things in this world cannot be compromised. To illustrate, let us take the story of the hunter who went into the woods and found a bear. He raised his gun to shoot but the bear cried out, "Why do you want to shoot me?" "I need a fur coat," the hunter replied. Said the bear, "All I need is a full stomach, so perhaps we could sit down and compromise our problem." Wanting to be fair, the hunter consented and so they sat down together. After a while, the bear got up alone. He had a full stomach—the hunter a full coat.

Suppose some day a man were to approach you and say, "Your wife is very appealing to me and I want her for myself." Would you try to compromise with him by offering to let him have her half of the time and you keep her the other half?

If you had $1,000 in your pocket that you had just earned by hard labor and a shiftless bum came by and said, "Since you have money and I have none, let's compromise our differences in wealth and each take $500." How receptive would you be to this line of reasoning? You cannot compromise a situation where there is everything to lose and nothing to gain.

These examples are in no sense any more extreme or ridiculous than the idea of compromising away our freedom just because some socialist-minded organization in cahoots with left-wing politicians want it supplanted with a socialistic design of their own.

Our heritage of the American way of life is far too precious to be bartered away so easily. America was settled by freedom seeking peoples escaping the tyranny of the old world. Since the founding of our country, Americans on battlefields in far-flung corners of the world, have suffered, fought, and died to protect our freedom of the individual. What was won so hard, and is to freedom loving peoples more precious than life itself, is a way of life that it is our duty to preserve.

There is no such thing as a little bit of socialism. Like a cancerous growth, it must be destroyed or ultimately it will spread to complete control. Socialism is nothing more than the embryo form of communism. It is a phase in the transition from the free government to a communistic one, in reality is no entity of its own. Like a one way street, it is easy to enter but difficult to back out of.

Farm Bureau is open minded and receptive to any reasonable plans or logical ideas from any or all farm groups and organizations.

Bovina Roars Over Lazbuddie

The Bovina Mustangs romped and stomped to down the Lazbuddie Longhorns 54 to 6 in a 3-B conference game in Lazbuddie Friday night.

The game was a battle of the passers, despite the lopsided score. Lazbuddie quarterback Kenneth McGhee connected with 14 of 21 passes, while Bovina quarterback Donnie Compton engineered three touchdowns with passes and completed three more aeriels.

Floydada Batters Abernathy, 29-0

The Floydada Whirlwinds showed "who's boss" in District 2-AA in Floydada Friday night, blasting the Abernathy Antelopes, 29-0, with Rodney Teague in the driver's seat.

Floydada, with an 8-0 record for the season, went into the fray with a 2-0 record in district play, same as that sported by the visitors.

But this was the big one in 2-AA family play and the Whirlwinds were not to be denied.

Teague, who ranked third in AA scoring on the South Plains going into Friday night's battle, ran two touchdowns and passed for two more on this occasion. He booted one extra point.

Kress Slips Past Sunray Hornets

Kress clinched at least a tie in the District 3-A gridiron race with a 12-7 win over the Sunday Hornets Friday night.

The Hornets picked up their third win in district play adding to an undefeated record.

Kress scored in the second period and again in the third while playing heads-up defensive football, holding the Hornets to a single score in the final stanza.

The Kangaroos took advantage of an early break in the second quarter when quarterback Charles Saul fell on fumbled ball in the Sudan end zone for the initial Kress score. A try to kick the conversion failed.

Kress' second marker came on a 51-yard pass play from Saul to Mike Freeman, halfback. Again the extra point failed and Kress led, 12-0.

Sudan's score came on a one-yard plunge by fullback Tommy Thomson. End Jim Ford kicked the extra point.

The Kangaroos remain undefeated in season play (8-0) while Sudan possesses a 3-4-1 record for the year.

Indians Scalp Mules 31-14 Friday Night

The Morton Indians scored three quick touchdowns in the first quarter Friday night but had to battle all the way in the last half to halt the hard-driving Muleshoe Mules, to come out on the long end of a 31 to 14 football game played at Morton.

Morton started the scoring in the first quarter the first time they got the ball from 16-yards out, when Steve Middleton passed to End Mike Houston. Two more TD's came in quick succession

Dimmitt Wallops Friona, 54-12

Dimmitt, leader by virtue of more games won in District 1-AA, walloped Friona, 54-12, Friday in Dimmitt.

The Bobcats scored 32 points in the second period and coasted through the final half to add their third district victory this season.

Dimmitt quarterback Jim Ratcliff opened the scoring with a pass to Keiton Cates. The play covered 20 yards. Ratcliff then ran the extras.

Friona scored in the first period on a pass from quarterback F. Reeve to G. Speed, halfback, who carried the ball 40 yards. Dimmitt led 8-6 going into the second quarter.

Dimmitt's James Cowell opened the second period with a 15 yard scoring tally. Gene Bradley ran the points after.

Ther, Gary Morrison ran seven yards for a touchdown. Ratcliff passed to Wayne Meecham for the extras. Cowell broke loose on a 45-yard jaunt a few plays later. Donnie Nelson ran the points after.

Dimmitt's final second period score came when Roy Battles passed to Leland Moore, 15 yards and the score. Jackie Nichols ran the conversion.

In the third period, Dimmitt scored on Morrison's 12-yard run. Halfback Mike Goodwin ran 10 yards for another Bulldog marker. Nichols ran the conversion.

Friona's Sneed scored from 10 yard out late in the fourth period in a dying effort for Friona.

Springlake Tames Hale Center Owls

Once-beaten Springlake team which lost last week to Kress got back on the winning side of the ledger Friday night in a home game with a 30-12 District 3-A victory over Hale Center.

and it looked as though they would run the Mules completely out of the stadium.

Muleshoe scored in the second quarter when Halfback Jim Young went 12-yards for a Muleshoe TD. The extra point try failed.

Morton recovered a Muleshoe fumble in the second quarter and Middleton romped 40 yards for another Indian score.

Coming out after the half the Muleshoe club played like a different team that was on the field in the first half. Hitting hard and with fast charging linemen, the Mules held the Morton attack to only one touchdown in the third quarter while scoring one TD and also running over the extra points. Young went over from one yard out on the TD effort.

The Mules and Morton tied with 318 yards rushing on the ground. Morton passed for 16 yards while the Mules had 32 yards on the aerial route.

Season record for Morton is 7-1, while Muleshoe stands at 1-7.

Lockney Downs Olton For First District Win

The Lockney Longhorns broke into the win column of District 2-AA in Lockney Friday night at the expense of the Olton Mustangs. It was 20-14 Lockney.

The Mustangs got 8 points in the first quarter with QB Johnny Schenck passing 13 yards to HB James Loveless. Schenck ran extra points. He got a second try at it because of an infraction.

The two geographical rivals swapped TD's in the second quarter. Lockney presented Mr. Ronnie Belt, a Class AA high scorer of the area, and he ran 9 yards for a tally. Johnnie Belt passed to End Tommy Moore for extra points.

Olton stayed in business with HB George Jones running 1 yard for a TD at the end of a drive. Extra pointage try failed.

Lockney scored again in the third with HB Terry Mosley running a yard. Extra point try failed.

Then in the fourth, the Longhorns ran out the string with Ronnie Belt scampering 38 yards for the TD. There were 35 seconds left on the clock. Pointage try failed.

Mr. K. has planned for you, just as he has for his other satellites. What is war? It's what the Kremlin has been waging against us for a long time. But, no, it can't be! Where are the rockets and the big bombs?

Well, where were they in various of the 15 or more independent states impressed into Soviet slavery? Generally speaking, they up for his country nowadays is labeled "eccentric". Why is any conservative who looks to his forefathers and this Nation's great traditions branded, "reactionary"? Why, when Americans—even those who enjoy the pro-report their findings, are they almost literally, tarred, feathered and ridden out of town on a rail as "extreme rightists"?

Why are groups of private citizens who gather to familiarize themselves with the, to them, vaguely-known techniques of communism on a perfectly-above-board basis, accused, discredited, defamed—put under the stigma of "extremism" and "semisecret" activity? Let I be suspected of bias, let me emphasize that as an editor, publisher and correspondent, I have eschewed "joining."

And then, of course, there's the matter of being "controversial," which through a simple form of "conditioned reflex," attaches an air of disrepute. It's much easier for a bookseller to stock from the review section of the New York Times and lists of various of the larger publishers. The Times we will examine shortly. Meantime, it's a fair guess that the book sellers would rather make easy money from the flair for slick, colorful volumes at slick per copy prices from $12 to $25 and more.

They've Called Tune
And why—somehow figuratively, perhaps—the blank stares or awareness of the Red threat by investigation and have the gal to sidelong glances when an anti-Communist book shop is mentioned? Maybe the topic is not socially acceptable. Let's take a small look at the best sellers in these outcast shops: J. Edgar Hoover's "Masters of Deceit"; Gen. Al Wedemeyer's "Wedemeyer Reports"; former FBI Special Agent Cleon Skousen's "The Naked Communist"; university President Dr. Robert Morris' "No Wonder We Are Losing"; "Brainwashing in the High Schools," "Collectivism on the Campus," "Red Star Over Cuba," "Keynes at Harvard." This is a list that can be extended indefinitely, but details can come later.

The point is—and I say this with the all-too-conscious knowledge that I may be accused of turning over stones and looking into dark closets for Communists—that Marx and Engels, and their disciples, the Reds, have been telling us for a number of years just what they were going to do and how they were going to do it. And we largely chose not to believe them. But they are doing it—making us "See Red."

Control Needed

By GARY STONE

Mark Twain once asked a neighbor if he might read a set of his books. The neighbor replied that he was welcome to read them in his library, but he had a rule never to let a book leave the house. Some weeks later the same neighbor sent over to ask for the loan of Twain's lawn-mower.

"I shall be very glad to lend you my lawn-mower," said Mark Twain, "but since I made it a rule never to let it leave my lawn, you will be obliged to use it there."

Foreign governments have, for many years, been sending to America for lawn-mowers with which to cut grass for the Soviet Union. Then, when they are through using them, they leave them on the lawn belonging to the USSR and return to borrow another from the United States.

Meanwhile, American taxpayers are buying the lawn-mowers in bulk and weeds grow high on our own lawns. We in Muleshoe send our money to Washington, where it is used to further the aims, indirectly, of the Soviet Union.

Certainly, the foreign aid program is a needed and worthwhile thing. But for the help of the United States, many countries would have gone under the heel of international communism long before now.

What is wrong, then, about foreign aid? It is administered under the misconception that the more money a country receives from us, the more attached that country will become to our way of life.

Many American cities are now rejecting federal funds due to the fear that federal aid means federal control. Yet many of these same people want federal control of funds sent to foreign nations—and rightly so.

To date, the federal government has little control over the way American money is spent once it reaches a foreign power. We, the people of Muleshoe, Texas, Bakersfield, California, Des Moines, Iowa, and Aiken, South Carolina, send our money to Washington. There, it is turned over to bureaucrats who give it away to foreign nations.

When our American dollars are in the hands of these foreign nations, we have no control over their use. When American dollars are sent to American towns, the federal government controls their use. When American dollars are sent to a Muleshoe farmer, the federal government tells him what he can plant and how much, what price he will get for the produce, and so on.

American funds for American use bring government control. American funds for European use go out without any strings whatsoever.

Great Britain used American money to manufacture jet engines to sell to Red China during the Korean conflict. She also spent millions on the coronation of the queen.

American dollars each year are sent to Poland, a puppet-run Soviet satellite. Yugoslav pilots are now being trained in Texas at the expense of the American taxpayer. Yugoslavia is, despite Tito's two-faced nature, a communist country. Tito and Khrushchev were pictured not too many months ago as we-two-against-the-world comrades.

Americans should insist on governmental control of foreign aid funds. They should have a complete accounting of every cent that is sent out of this country. They should know how much money actually reaches the people of foreign nations and how much enters the pockets of despotic dictators who have bank accounts in Switzerland.

How can this be achieved? The same way one political party is used to keep the other honest might be a good way of working it. Rather than have one department to administer foreign aid, two opposing departments could be set up. One could have the purpose of stopping all foreign aid, while the other has the purpose of pushing it through. Then, perhaps, only the most worthy nations would have their hands in the pockets of the American people.

Sand Hills Philosopher Wouldn't Want To Live In Alaska Because Of Poor Aim of Missile Scientists

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm tells where he wouldn't like to live, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor: I have long since given up arguing with people over whether it's better to live in the country or in town, on account of it dawned on me that's one argument a man in the country ought to lose, because the more people there are in town, the less there are in the country, and that's a pretty good arrangement.

At any rate, I got to thinking about places to live the other day and while this Johnson grass farm over here suits me, I'm pretty well dug in and I don't know of anything that could pry me loose outside of a tax eviction notice from the sheriff. I suppose there are other people who feel the same way about their location.

Then I got to thinking about places I wouldn't want to live, and heading the list is Alaska. Now I haven't got anything against Alaska, if she wanted in the Union to help us share the debt burden that's her lookout, but you couldn't pay me enough to live there, and I'll tell you why. It's not because of the climate. Even if they changed the temperature up there and made it pleasant to live the year-round, I still wouldn't be interested.

The reason I wouldn't be interested is on account of the scientific ability of mankind. I don't trust it yet. I mean don't trust its aim, and when I say aim I mean its shooting aim.

That is, say Russia and the United States get into a pushbutton war, as most civilized people figure they will. All right, which is the shortest route for guided missiles between the secret launching pads of each country? Right over Alaska, of course. And how good is the aim of these missile scientists? Well, it ain't good enough to make Alaska a safe place to be.

Two out of three successful and accurate launchings of a missile is considered a pretty good batting average these days, which means a third of the missiles from both countries could fall in the lap of Alaska, just by accident.

A good portion of Alaska may be like this Johnson grass farm. It's not worth wasting a bomb on—but if I lived in Alaska, I'd either move or push hard for more accuracy among the missile scientists.

Man is going to have to improve his aim a lot before it's safe to start a missile war.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Babson Discusses:

Dow-Jones Average And How It Works

So much appears in the newspapers about the Dow-Jones Average that I am sure readers will be interested in an analysis thereof. The most well-known and widely discussed stock average is the Dow-Jones Industrial Average.

The stocks which comprise this average represent a good cross section of the industrial companies, and they are looked upon as "blue chips." They are popular choices for trusts and pension funds, which often disregard the prices at which the stocks are selling, and rely on the "dollar averaging" concept and the growth of our economy.

The 30 stocks which comprise this average are: Allied Chemical, Aluminum Co., American Can, American Tel. & Tel., American Steel, Chrysler, Du Pont, Eastman Kodak, General Electric, General Foods, General Motors, Goodyear, Int. Harvester, Int. Nickel, Int. Paper, Johns-Manville, Owens-Ill. Glass, Procter & Gamble, Sears Roebuck, Std. Oil of Calif., Std. Oil of N. J., Swift & Co., Texaco, Union Carbide, United Aircraft, U. S. Steel, Westinghouse Electric, and Woolworth.

There are also two other Dow-Jones stock averages—one consisting of 20 railroad stocks, and one of fifteen utility stocks. There is also a Standard & Poor's Daily Average, of which I think highly, which covers a diverse list of 500 stocks. And there are numerous other averages.

PERFORMANCES
The Dow-Jones Industrial Average varies from day to day. Five years ago it stood around 490. It later declined to 420, swung up to 688, settled back to 566, and then rose to 726. It is now around 705. Because of the high level of this Average, many people think that all stocks are very high.

However, many stocks are selling well below their highs of the past two years. Using the Dow-Jones Industrial stocks as an illustration, we find that some of these have reached new highs recently—among them: American Tobacco, Allied Chemical, International Nickel, General Foods, Sears Roebuck, and Texaco.

Some have shown modest declines of less than 10 per cent. Among these are American Telephone & Telegraph, International Paper, Procter & Gamble, Johns-Manville, and Union Carbide.

MIDDLE GROUP
Most of the stocks have declined from 10 per cent to 20 per cent. Goodyear, Standard Oil of California du Pont, Eastman Kodak, and Swift & Company have declined between 10 percent and 15 per cent. These would constitute a well-diversified list for conservative investors. On the other hand, I would prefer a combination of Celanese along with du Pont and Eastman Kodak, although Celanese is not in the Average. American Can is also in the Dow-Jones group. It is the oldest can company, but Continental Can, not in the Average, is also a good stock.

We now come to the group which shows declines of from 15 per cent to 20 per cent. This includes International Harvester, which represents the farm equipment stocks. Also in this group are U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, Woolworth, and Anaconda Copper. Anaconda is a large copper producer, but Kennecott and Phelps Dodge are real com-

LARGEST DECLINES
Here again, stocks will come temporarily under this heading and then later on graduate from it. At the time I am dictating this column a few of the stocks have declined nearly 40 per cent. Among these are General Electric, General Motors, Standard Oil of New Jersey, United Aircraft, and Westinghouse Electric. Only one D-J Industrial—Aluminum Company of America—has declined 40 per cent. I personally would prefer to buy Aluminum Company rather than some of the stocks which have declined less severely.

In closing, I wish to point out to readers why the Dow-Jones Industrial Average is worthy of careful consideration by conservative investors. When this Average is made up, all splits, stock dividends, etc., are included by use of a complicated formula. Over a long period, therefore, the Average works out well, but it is deceiving from day to day. So watch the individual companies rather than the Average as it appears in the newspapers each day. Owing to its complicated formula, inflation, and certain other factors, it is possible that the Dow-Jones Industrial Average could reach 100 during the Kennedy Administration.

Stone's Throw

By GARY STONE

(Dedicated to the proposition of Several months ago, I pledged $50 toward a fund for building a library in Muleshoe. That pledge still holds, and shall continue to hold firm and steady.

In addition, a group to which I belong has begun a small business of gathering and selling jumping beans, which we call "Muleshoe Jumping Beans." We have offered to donate the profits from this venture to the library fund.

I think it makes sense to purchase something such as these jumping beans (they don't really cost much) to build a new correction, strike out the word "new" - in order to build a library for Muleshoe.

I know we would all like to help ourselves, but sometimes this is out of the question due to financial ability. Since Muleshoe seems to be unable to furnish the people with a library, then perhaps outside help should be sought. If we can get the outside help, perhaps we should do so. And I have a suggestion on how we can get the outside help.

Seems there is a federal aid fund set up for everything in the realm of man's knowledge these days. I recently heard that any public building which is built underground for the incidental or primary purpose of use as a fallout shelter may be built with the use of government funds.

Uncle Sugar will supply half the money to build a public building if it is built under the surface of terra firma. That cuts the local cost in half for the construction of such a building.

Naturally, it will cost more to build underground. Yes, it will cost 10 per cent more. Therefore, local expenses will be increased 5 per cent over half the cost of a similar structure above ground.

Recent discussions here in Muleshoe have stressed the need for fallout shelters. Many people feel this town needs a decent library.

To spell this out in clear, plain English, my suggestion is that Muleshoe could have a library and a fallout shelter built in one unit, underground, at just slightly over half what a library alone would cost. Solving two problems at one which sounds like good logic to me.

Furthermore, the ground above the library-fallout shelter would remain vacant. This would be a beautiful, spacious place to build the monument to the mule.

The land would belong to the people, the mule would be a reality, the library would offer a place for Muleshoe residents to find good books to read and, in the event of an emergency, the fallout shelter would afford citizens a chance to avoid dying from radiation sickness.

Incidentally, the bookshelves in the library could begin about two and one-half feet from the floor, with space underneath for storage of emergency supplies. And, with all the books right there, people in the shelter shouldn't become bored in the event of a prolonged isolation from the rest of the world.

GUIDED ROCKS this week go out to Secretary of Defense Robert F. McNamara for saying he intends to halt the purchase of manned bombers. My childhood ambition was to be waistgunner in a B-17 Flying Fortress.

The B-17 is a rare antique bird now and the present-day bombers don't use waistgunners anyhow, but there's still a fondness in my heart for the old-fashioned airplane that men actually flew.

Can you imagine the Air Force singing "Off they go, into the darkness of space-flight. Climbing high, right out of sight. Off they go, after we push the button. Come on boys, let's all go home!"

How utterly absurd! Come now, Mr. McNamara, let us also have our silvery birds and you go play with your rockets.

Would You Qualify For Cop's Job?

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Why does a man become a cop? Low pay, long hours of thankless work, danger—all go to make it strange that anyone would want to live that kind of life. But pride and a sense of duty call men to police work, as shown by the following copied from a framed clipping which hangs in the office of the Muleshoe Police Department. Maybe it will tell why a man becomes a cop, and why he continues to wear the uniform.)

against me, not to show fear or panic in the face of an emergency crisis. To show no emotion in times of stress or trouble. Because I'm a cop, I'm expected to have the 'Strength of Sampson' To perform almost inhuman feats, to rescue someone from a wrecked auto or burning building. To direct traffic in any weather without faltering. To get involved in human combat against a person much stronger than I, or a person full of hate and resentment to our society. Because I'm a cop, I'm expected to have the 'Patience of Job' To assist a small child, or to listen to someone's troubles, when I may be troubled with my own. To be patient with the many drivers that feel I'm picking on them only. Because I'm a cop, I'm expected to have the 'Leadership of Moses'

To be always an example in public, never to make a mistake, so as to bring criticism to my honorable profession. To lead people in time of need for their safety, to lead people when they stray into lawless ways. Because I'm a cop, I'm expected to have the 'Kindness of The Samaritan' To treat all races, colors and creeds with kindness and respect. Even to the hardest and most vicious criminal. To help those that can't help themselves, even though they curse for that help. Because I'm a cop, I'm expected to have the 'Strategy of Alexander' To enable me to act immediately when a situation arises. To know the solution when traffic is snarled. To be able to prevent crime before it happens. Because I'm a cop, I'm expected to have the 'Faith of Joseph' Faith in myself that I can do the job that I'm sent to do. Faith in my superiors that guide and train me. Faith in the people that run our great city, that they keep ever present the problems of the city first and foremost in their minds. Faith in the citizens I've sworn an oath to protect. Because I'm a cop, I'm expected to have the 'Diplomacy of Lincoln' To be able to calm heated tempers. To assist a man and wife in settling their family arguments To satisfy an irate citizen in his many demands on the Police Department. Because I'm a cop, I'm expected to have the 'Tolerance of Confucius' To be able to smile when criticized by the public, newspaper and even friends. To laugh at jokes about cops, when to a cop they are not funny. To tolerate the perfect citizen that is never wrong. But, because I'm also a Human Being, I sometimes fail in what is expected of me, and because I'm a Human Being, I often wonder why those I serve criticize so severely when I make a human mistake. Get hostile when I get a little short of temper. Call me a dumb cop when I sometimes fail to know the answer. Because I'm human and have the same problems, same pleasures, the same desires, the same sorrows, and pay the same problems, the same humans I serve, I sometimes wonder, is it worth it? Be we criticized, ignored, used in political issues, honored, or thanked. We are underpaid, undertrained and undermanned. Because I'm a cop, I'll always be proud and someday when the Perfect Cop calls me to His Precinct, I pray to Him that He will say "Well Done"

College. Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Angeley spent last week visiting in El Dorado, Okla. with Mr. and Mrs. Billy Brewer and family; in Breckenridge, Texas with Mr. and Mrs. Norman Brewer; and in Lipan, Texas with Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Baccus. Sunday guests of the Gerald Allison's were Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Angus of Brownfield, Mrs. Bonnie Haberer, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Tunnell and Rusty.

Today's Meditation

"When my soul fainted within me, I remembered the Lord; and my prayer came to Thee, into thy holy temple." (Johah 2:7. RSV.) Has there ever been anyone in a more desperate situation than Jonah? Disobedient to the Lord, trying to avoid his divine mission, an dtrying to escape from the presence of God, he was in deadly peril as the Lord passed judgment on him. In his despair, he cried to God. His prayer shows his utter devotion to the Lord—it gives voice to his passionate reverence to God's holy temple. In his prayer, Jonah renounced all-allegiance to idols. He manifested an unshakable faith in praised God for deliverance, as if it had already happened. He re-dedicated his life to the Lord, and his prayer found acceptance. To his own unbelieving generation, Jesus held up Jonah as an example of repentance. He also used Jonah's condition and deliverance as a symbol of His own death and resurrection. PRAYER: Our Father we pray Thy forgiveness for all disobedience to Thy will in our lives. Help us by Thy grace to surrender ourselves completely to Thee; through Christ, our blessed Redeemer, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen." THOUGHT FOR THE DAY Deliverance belongs to the Lord. Klara E. Csia (Switzerland)
