Undefeated In First Half Of District. Bulldogs Assured Of Playoff Berth

by Brad Pebsworth and Cory Gardner Tahoka High School Journalism Students

Although Tahoka High School's Varsity Bulldog basketball team has four more district games left, they have clinched a playoff spot by going undefeated in the first round of district play against Post, Stanton, Coahoma, Plains and Seagraves.

The Stanton Buffaloes are 4-2 in district behind the Bulldog's perfect 6-0 record. The Buffaloes' only two losses were to Tahoka, when the Dogs traveled to Stanton to defeat the Buffs in a close game on their home turf 80-74 on Jan. 14, and at the second pairup this week. In the second battle between the top two teams in the district Tuesday night at Tahoka, the Dogs played well for a decisive 74-38 win over the Stanton rivals.

The Post Antelopes come to town Friday night for their second district match with the Bulldogs. Games begin at 5 p.m. with the junior varsity teams playing simultaneously in the elementary and high school gyms. Varsity girls will begin at approximately 6:30 in the high school gym, and the varsity boys tip off at 8 p.m.

Coach Rusty Frazier's Bulldogs faced some larger schools in preseason play, including Lubbock Estacado, Lubbock Coronado JV, Amarillo Caprock, Littlefield, Midland, Big Spring and Brownfield. In spite of the stiff competition against some other "running and gunning" teams, the Bulldogs went 14-7 prior to district. They are 20-7 overall.

Seven seniors, four of whom are returning starters, lead the Bulldog team. Two juniors and two sophomores complete the team.

"Our team is starting to play better," said Coach Frazier. "We have to keep improving in order to win district and make it to Austin."

Senior Brad Pebsworth added, "Our goal is Austin. Some of us have been there once and want to go again." Pebsworth, Sedrick Williams and Brady Raindl, all seniors, were members of the first-ever Bulldog team which made it to the state playoffs, in 1997.

In recent district games, the Bulldogs topped the Plains Cowboys 68-50, Jan. 25. Pebsworth led scoring with 15 points and Jordan Sarchet sunk 12, Randy White added 9, Larry Date Davis and Shaun Williams & each Sedrick Williams and Blandon Hancock 5 each, Jason Jaquess 4, and Brady Raindl scored 2.

Tahoka's Blue Bulldogs beat the Red Bulldogs 58-49 in the dogfight at Coahoma last Friday night. Pebsworth again led scoring, with 26 points, and Sed Williams put in 12. White had 9, Raindl 7, and Davis and Jaquess tossed in two points each.

BULLDOGS UNDEFEATED IN DISTRICT PLAY - With only four more district games remaining in regular season play, the Tahoka High School Varsity Bulldogs basketball team are 6-0 and assured of a berth in the playoffs. Coach Rusty Frazier's team is aiming for a trip to Austin for the state playoffs, but will face several battles before achieving that goal. Pictured here are the varsity squad with Coach Frazier (standing left), including manager Bradley Paschal, Larry Davis, Jason Jaquess, Jordan Sarchet, Brad Pebsworth, Cory Gardner, Brady Raindl and assistant coach Travis Breitschopf. > Aside from the traffic accidents, law enforcement officers in the county had a relatively light week. In Lynn County jail is San Juan Gonzales, 26, of Tahoka, charged with sexual assault on a Tahoka woman on Jan. 20. Gonzales remained in jail in lieu of $100,000 bond, set by Justice of the Peace Terri Walker.

> Tahoka High School student Jason Alvarado told police someone keyed the paint on his 2000 Ford pickup sometime last Wednesday. Damage was estimated at $400.

Police stopped a pickup for a minor traffic violation Friday on Lockwood and the 17-year-old male driver was later alleged to be an illegal alien who had been in this country for five years. He was held for the Border Patrol.

Eight persons were jailed during the week, two for driving while intoxicated, two for no auto liability insurance, and others for speeding and failure to appear, possession of marijuana under two ounces, driving while license suspended and failure to display drivers license.

During the month of January, dispatchers at the sheriff's office processed 173 calls, including 89 for the sheriff's department, 59 for the City of Tahoka police, 11 for O'Donnell police, 10 ambulance calls and 4 fire

In 1945 the government stopped printing bills greater than $100, and stopped issuing them in 1969. One banker I talked to said he had never seen even a $500 bill. The other banker said he once saw a $1,000 bill at a Federal Reserve meeting in Dallas. As the accompanying illustrations sort of show, the $1,000-dollar bill carried a photo of Grover Cleveland and the $500 showed William McKinley.

I never did find out whose picture was on a $5,000-dollar bill, although I dug down into all the secret compartments of my wallet.

If those big bills were still being used occasionally in 1969, I'd not be surprised to learn that someone still has one under a mattress. If they do, it'd be worth a lot more today. The internet site http://planethawaii.com offers $1000 and $500 bills for sale as collectible items, but I didn't go far enough to determine how much they want for them.

I never did find out who that ginky-looking guy on the nickel is. He and George Washington apparently had the same hair stylist, and someone suggested it might be John Quincy Adams, but not even the bankers knew for sure. Of course, the earlier nickels carried the image of Geronimo, or Bob Feller, or some other famous Indian.

If they ever make a $3 bill, it should carry Bill Clinton's picture, maybe with Monica in the background. And if they should make a $100,000 bill, it ought to have a photo of Bill Gates.

Hospital Pursues Bid For Tax District Refund

By DALTON WOOD

Lynn County Hospital directors Wednesday night discussed at length what they consider to be charges wrongfully assessed the hospital district from 1983 to 1999 by the Lynn County Tax Appraisal District, and agreed to pursue the reimbursement of the amount charged to the district over and above what was charged to most of the other taxing jurisdictions in the county.

Attorneys for the hospital district have requested financial records from the appraisal district to try to determine how much money is owed to the hospital district. The appraisal district apparently had charged the hospital an additional 1 per cent of taxes assessed plus another 1 per cent of taxes collected, based on the terms of a 1985 contract between the appraisal district and Lynn County on behalf of the hospital district.

The hospital receives about $500,000 per year in taxes, and there is some question as to whether the dispute should go back to 1983 or 1985, the year of the last available contract between Lynn County and the appraisal district. Although the hospital is not county-owned or operated, the county formerly collected taxes for the hospital. A new contract between the hospital and the appraisal district for collection of current and future taxes was approved by the hospital board at last Wednesday's meeting.

Directors also discussed a clinic reception area renovation project for which bids are now being received. Deadline for taking bids on various segments of the project has been extended to Feb. 8.

Lubbock architect Ken Condray attended the meeting and presented site plans for the proposed new assisted living center to be built just north of the hospital. Board members were asked to choose between two possible orientations for the facility and agreed to one in which the living center would face south, at 90 degrees from the front of the hospital. The architect indicated that plans would be ready for contractors by Feb. 16, so that bids could be received in March.

President Billy Tomlinson presided over the meeting, attended by Administrator Louise Landers, Condray and all board members, including Jerry Ford, Dalton Wood, Mike Rivas, Virginia Griffing, Joe Hays and Peggy Morton.

(Second in a three-part series about Tahoka native Claudia Draper Palmer, who served as an Army Nurse beginning in 1938. During her eight years of service, she was stationed in Hawaii, England, France and Belgium, following the troops in World War II from D-Day through the Battle of the Bulge and almost to Japan. The second series begins with Claudia's account of D-Day in June, 1944.)

Claudia Draper was on the southern shore of Britain on Sunday, June 4, 1944, preparing to receive patients and to folhow the European invasion, when she witnessed a sight she will never forget: the 4,000 ships and landing crafts in the English channel, ready to sail to France.

At midnight June 5, she was rousted if of bed and told to remain on duty all night long. No one was told exactly when the invasion would take place until early Tuesday, June 6, known as D-Day.

By the end of that day, her unit had its first casualties. To her surprise, they were German prisoners of war. Remembering their Florence Nightingale pledge, the nurses took good care of their patients, giving them the same food and medical attention they would give their Seven days after D-Day, on June 13, the 12th Field Hospital personnel were told to wear all they could get on their bodies and carry the rest in baggage. They boarded a craft and crossed the English Channel to Omaha Beach, the first Americans there.

Landing on the same place where the fighting occurred, the nurses camped in a cow pasture until the port city of Cherbourg, France, was secured. They then moved into the Louis Pasteur Hospital, one of the largest in France, and were told to prepare it for Allied occupation.

They were faced with a daunting task. With no electricity or running water fdr days, the hospital was in a deplorable state. No dishes had been washed, amputated limbs littered the operating rooms, toilets were overflowing, and everything was filthy and unsanitary.

To top it off, the German doctors in charge apparently misjudged the intentions of Capt. Palmer and her nurses. "We know why you're here," they winked, pointing to a local headline, "Harlots in the Hospital," that described the activities of some women before they arrived. "They thought we were call girls," coming to offer sexual favors," she scoffed. "We politely but firmly told them to get out of our way and let us go to

Her performance earned Capt. Draper a Bronze Star. "Rather than wait for assistance," reads the citation, "Captain Draper and her staff rolled up their sleeves and, with buckets of water, scrubbed the ward to complete cleanliness." Once they were replaced by a permanent medical group, she and her staff followed the Allied Forces across France and into Belgium, setting up and dismantling their field hospital as they went. She would eventually earn five campaign combat stars and an Army Commendation Ribbon.

They usually moved the 36-tent hospital at night, traveling in unlit truck convoys, to avoid attracting enemy snipers and bombers. Often the nurses would sleep in the ambulances. "In cold

Well, here it is February already. It's beginning to look like Valentine's here at Tahoka Care Center. Everyone has a happy look on their faces because they are thinking about candy, cards, and roses. What big dreams we have here!

Thank you Mr. Hardt for your help with the Valentine's bags. You did a great job.

We are looking forward to our Valentine's party here at the Center. It will be Tuesday, Feb. 8. Hope to see you there.

We are still having good bingo and dominoes games. Everyone looks forward to the fun each day.

Kensie Phillips is back home at the Center now. We are so glad to have him back. Kensie always has a way to cheer us up with his happy face and little jokes.

Increased Demand Depleting Blood Banks

The nation's blood supply is not growing fast enough to keep up with the need for blood. The need is growing because of medical advances and greater demand from Baby Boomers. A recent survey found that 48% of Americans have never given blood. Of the 52% who have, 26% haven't given in more than five years. Blood cannot be manufactured. Your blood could save a life.

UIL Realignment Changes District Picture For TISD

UIL realignment will change the district picture for Tahoka Independent School District for the next two school years, according to information released this week by TISD Athletic Director Troy Hinds.

Beginning next year, Tahoka will be in District 4AA along with Idalou, Post, Ralls and Sundown, and possibly Lorenzo. Lorenzo was placed in the 4AA lineup, but Hinds reported that they are appealing that decision, seeking to remain in 1A competition.

"I'm not sure what will happen, but officially Lorenzo has until Feb. 22 to appeal the UIL realignment. Lorenzo is currently a 1A school, and they want to remain in the A district alignment. Three things can happen: they can refuse the appeal and leave Lorenzo in our district, or move them down to 1A and move somebody else in our district, or move them down to 1A and just leave us with a smaller district," Hinds said.

District realignment can change every two years. For the past two years, including this school year. Tahoka's district lineup includes Post, Stanton, Seagraves, Plains and Coahoma. The new realignment moves powerhouse Stanton, Seagraves and Coahoma into other

The following excerpts were taken from past issues of The Lynn County News.

Merchants Launch Give-Away "Auction Dollar Day" Program

"The biggest give-away in the history of Tahoka — we furnish the many auction items and we furnish the money to buy 'em!"

That's the way a unique sales promotion program of Tahoka merchants ending on Saturday, June 3, is described by E.L. Short, president of the Chamber of Commerce, sponsoring unit of the affair. The promotion is called "Auction Dollar Day" and has been received with much enthusiasm at other towns in the midwest.

Each Friday and Saturday from now until June 3, all local businesses desiring to participate will be giving away free with no added cost to the customer "Auction Dollars." An "Auction Dollar" is given the customer by the businessman for every one dollar actual cash purchase made in the store. Each participating store given an item for auction, and on "Auction Dollar Day" these items may be bought by the people of Lynn county with these "Auction Dollars" being used as real money.

The participating merchants will be recognized by a sticker on the door and a large poster in the window of the store. Merchants not yet contacted may get in the program by contacting Dean Taylor, C. of C. secretary. Only cost to the merchant is the giving of an item to be auctioned off.

You may get your "Auction Dollars" free with purchases on Friday and Saturday, May 19 and 20; Friday and Saturday, May 26 and 27; and Friday and Saturday, June 2 and 3.

In conjunction with "Auction Dollar Day" on Saturday, June 3, there will be two big free shows on the streets of Tahoka at 10:00 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. The 3:30 p.m. show is followed by the auction sale of merchandise.

Headlining the show is an outstanding act, "Cindy and Her Mule, Jitterbug." This act has toured the world and appeared on many of the top television shows. Ed Sullivan has acclaimed it as one of the funniest acts in this country.

Bozo, the Clown, will be on hand to delight the youngsters with his many antics and do his bit in assisting Miss Beverly Harnett in a comedy bull whip exhibition. Miss Beverly is one of the outstanding bull whip artists of the world, and does some fine fancy rope spinning

A tuneful trio from the popular "Jubilee USA" show will entertain with some outstanding country and western style music.

The event promises to be an exciting one and costs the patrons of Tahoka stores absolutely nothing.

during the 1990s.

Approximately 52,627 permits for water wells have been issued by the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 since the beginning of its well permitting program in February 1953.

High Plains Water District rules require persons to obtain a water well permit if the well they plan to drill or re-equip is expected to produce in excess of 100,000 gallons of water per day (69.4 gallons of water per minute). Wells that produce less than 69.4 gallons of water per minute do not require water well permits from the Water District. Wells drilled prior to the Water District's creation in 1951 are also exempt.

The number of permits issued by county during the 47-year period includes Lubbock county, 8,245; Lamb, 6,085; Parmer, 5,902; Hockley, 5,891; Deaf Smith, 5,514; Castro, 4,770; Floyd, 4,555; Bailey, 3,634; Lynn, 2,987; Cochran, 2,066; Randall, 1,608; Hale, 896; Crosby, 270; Armstrong, 129; and Potter, 75. It should be noted that all or parts of Cochran, Crosby, Hale, and Lynn Counties have been annexed into the High Plains Water District since 1953. As a result, the number of permitted wells may not accurately re-operations can legally begin. Any drilling done between the recommendation of approval by the County Committee and approval by the Water District Board of Directors at their regular monthly meeting is at the applicant's own risk. Wells must be drilled 120 days following the filing date of the water well permit application. If a delay is encountered, landowners/operators may file for an additional 120-day extension of time. Extensions of time must also be approved by the respective County Committee and the Water District Board of Directors. A deposit is required for each well permit issued and is refunded after the timely return of the completed drillers' log or after the applicant's cancellation of the application.

All water well permit applications and drillers' logs are on file at the Water District's Lubbock office and duplicate copies for individual counties are on file at the respective district well permitting office.

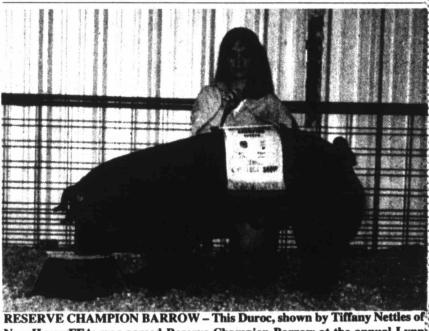

"People often stop by our offices to request drillers' log information for wells completed in the 1950s. We are pleased that we have this extensive information on file and that our staff

Senior Sneak Preview
Set Feb. 10 At SPC

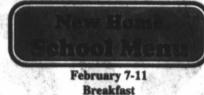

Senior Sneak Preview, an opportunity for area high school seniors to find out about future careers and college life, is scheduled Feb. 10 at South Plains College in Levelland.

The day's activities coincide with SPC's homecoming celebration and will include career advisement sessions on academic and technical areas, tours of the campus, college information and student club fairs, entertainment, and information session designed for parents and a special multicultural presentation.

"This is an excellent opportunity for high school seniors throughout the area to get a taste of college life, receive valuable information and explore different career options," said Wendy Esch, coordinator of new student relations at SPC. "Parents of prospective college students are invited to attend a special information session designed for them," she added.

Students attending Senior Sneak Preview will also be admitted free to SPC's homecoming basketball double-header with New Mexico Junior College beginning at 6 p.m. in Texan Dome and a homecoming dance at 10 p.m.

About 600 high school seniors from an estimated 80 high schools in West Texas and Eastern New Mexico are expected to attend the day's activities.

Monday: Bagels w/Honey Butter, Milk. Tuesday: Granola Bars, Milk. Wednesday: Cereal/Cinnamon Toast, Milk.

Thursday: Breakfast Pizza, Milk. Friday: Rice Krispie Bar, Milk. Lunch

Monday: Bean & Cheese Burrito, Lettuce, Tomato, Spanish Rice, Orange Half, Milk. Tuesday: Pizza, Lettuce, Tomato, Corn,

Jello w/Fruit, Milk. Wednesday: Grilled Ham & Cheese, Pickle Spears, Waffle Fries, Fruit Cup, Milk.

Thursday: Chicken Fajitas, Refried Beans, Spanish Rice, Fruit, Milk. Friday: Chili Cheese Dog, Tator Tots, Chili Beans, Apricot Cobbler, Milk.

Registration begins at noon in Texas Dome, where a light lunch will be served. A homecoming pep rally at 12:30 p.m. will precede a general assembly at 1 p.m. in the Dome.

Parking will be reserved in the lot south of the SPC Track Stadium. Participants arriving after 2 p.m. should report to the Visitors Center.

Following the general assembly, an academic and technical advisement session and campus tours begin at 1:30 p.m., the Just For Parents workshop at 2:30 p.m., college information and student club fairs, housing tours, special entertainment and a multicultural presentation at 3 p.m., and a Creative Arts Showcase from 4-5:30 p.m.

The college information fair will provide information on financial aid, scholarships, career planning and placement, housing, admissions, academic support services and other topics.

Getting involved in student life will be the focus of the SPC Club Fair. Games and special activities are also planned.

The Just for Parents workshop will be held in the Founders Room in the Student Center and will provide information on admissions, housing, tuition and fees, financial aid, academic transfer and other aspects of SPC.

Entertainment will be provided by the Texan Cheerleaders, Terrible Tex, and student ensembles from the Fine Arts and Creative Arts Departments.

White Selected For Junior Olympic Club Volleyball Team

Chelsea White, a 16-year-old junior at Tahoka High School, has been selected as an outside hitter for the 18's National Team on the Texas Power Elite Junior Olympic Volleyball Club. The volleyball team will compete in National Qualifier Tournaments in Denver, Orlando, Baltimore, Las Vegas, Dallas and Austin.

Recently, Chelsea was selected to the Honorable Mention list of the 1999 Lubbock Avalanche Journal's All South Plains Volleyball Team.

Chelsea is the daughter of Amy White of Tahoka and Tracy White of Lubbock.

The NEW HOME News by Karon Durham 924-7448

An enchilada dinner was held on Tuesday, Jan. 25 with all proceeds benefitting the Accelerated Reader Program at New Home schools. Sponsors Betty Holder, Karon Durham and Eddie Overman and the students of New Home schools would like to thank everyone who helped with and participated in the dinner. A big thanks to those who donated the food, their time, money and prizes for the program.

The New Home junior high basketball teams recently hosted a one-day basketball tournament. The boys and girls teams both took home first place honors.
