

Early Voting Begins Monday; County Jail Issue On Ballot

by JUANELL JONES

Early voting begins Monday, Oct. 23 for the Nov. 7 General Election, conducted in Lynn County at the Lynn County Clerk's Office from 8:30 a.m. until 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, through Nov. 3. Voters are reminded to bring their voter registration cards.

In addition to a slate of national candidates including U.S. President, Senator, and District 13 Representative, and several local non-contested races, Lynn County voters will have a referendum printed on the lower portion of the ballot asking if voters are in favor of building new county jail facilities.

Currently, only 14 prisoners (11 males and 3 females) can be housed in the local jail located just southeast of the county courthouse, and commissioners said anywhere from $5,000 to $8,000 per month is spent in prisoner keep in Gaines, Dawson or Hockley counties because there simply is no room left to house them here. The 14-bed facility was built in the early 1960s. Commissioners said the county spent close to $60,000 last year for housing Lynn County prisoners elsewhere.

Commissioners are considering architectural plans for renovating an existing building in Tahoka (the S&K Implement building on Hwy. 380 East) into a 48-bed jail facility, as the best, and most economical, means for expanding the local jail. Total cost of the renovation project, including property purchase and some interior furnishings, is approximately $2.3 million according to estimates from Southwest Architects, Inc. of Fort Worth who designed the proposed facility using the existing building. Although the project does not need voter approval, as it would be funded through certificates of obligation financed through the three local banks in the county on a 20-year plan, commissioners felt they needed input from residents before taking such a big step. Allowing residents to give their opinion on the upcoming General Election ballot is a way for county officials to determine the mindset of local residents.

"Payments on the certificates of obligation would amount to about $201,000 annually," said Commissioner Mike Braddock. "If you figure $50,000 to $60,000 savings in prisoner keep to go towards that, and then keeping other state prisoners at $32 per day, if we could keep 14 state prisoners that would bring in about $163,500 - enough to make the payments. We really do not want to raise taxes to pay for this facility," he explained.

"We have needed bigger facilities for years, and it is just going to get worse," Lynn County Sheriff Jake Diggs said. "We're always going to have criminals - where are we going to put them? Something has to get somewhere," he added.

Commissioners hope voters will approve the non-binding referendum on the Nov. 7 ballot, which would allow county officials to continue in good conscience with renovation plans.

Several local non-contested races will also be on the ballot, including Ricky Smith for District Attorney of the 106th Judicial District; Jake Diggs for Lynn County Sheriff; James "Jay" Napper for Lynn County Attorney; Sherry Pearce for Lynn County Tax Assessor-Collector; Don Morton for Commissioner Pct. 1; and Don Blair for Commissioner Pct. 3.

Lynn County Commissioners voted to place a "non-binding referendum" (basically, an opinion poll) on the Nov. 7 General Election ballot, allowing area residents to voice their opinions on whether to build new jail facilities.

The referendum will read:

YES "Are you in favor of obtaining financing for the purpose of purchasing land and facilities for a 48-bed Lynn County Jail at an estimated cost of $2,300,000?"

NO

FREE HEALTH SCREENING - Lahrué Tippit of Tahoka gets her blood pressure checked by Lynn County EMS Coordinator Jeanie Stone. Blood pressure and a wide variety of other health screenings will be available to all area residents all day Friday at the County Health Fair, from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. at the Center For Housing and Community Development, located at 1400 Ave. K in Tahoka. The event is free, sponsored by Lynn County Hospital District, with several area businesses participating. (LCN PHOTO)

County Health Fair To Be Held Friday

Need to check blood pressure or cholesterol levels? Worried about vision or hearing problems? These and other health screenings will be available to all area residents, free, at the County Health Fair this Friday, sponsored by Lynn County Hospital District. The all-day event will be held at the Center For Housing and Community Development, 1400 Ave. K in Tahoka, from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m.

According to Community Service Health Education Coordinator Carol Botkin, the Health Fair offers free testing by qualified personnel, vital health care information and free items to everyone who attends.

Free testing is available for vision and glaucoma, hearing, glucose and cholesterol. Participants can also check their blood pressure, lung function, and oxygen saturation level, and have healthcare professionals perform evaluations for spinal health, synovial injections for degenerative diseases and other health needs. Information about organ donation, hospice care and home health will also be available.

Men, women and children of all ages are welcome to the health fair to take advantage of the free medical testing and health care information offered.

"This is also a great opportunity to bring children for finger printing, child identification and kid-care ID photographs," Botkin said.

Both children and adults can learn about good oral health, alcohol and drug awareness, cancer awareness, poison control, electrical and fire safety and 9-1-1.

Community support and involvement is very important, Botkin said, noting that many area businesses and organizations are participating in this year's event.

"We encourage businesses to let their employees off from work to attend the health fair, to allow everyone to have the opportunity to benefit from this valuable offering," she said.

Burglars Vandalize Business, Take Cash

A police car was stolen in Tahoka Monday. It is about three feet long, with pedals, and finding it could be the key to a burglary in which intruders trashed out Friends Too, a gift and flower shop on Lockwood St., and took an undetermined amount of cash.

The little pedal car was the only item immediately known to have been stolen, other than cash from the register and a filing cabinet. Police said the burglary occurred between 5 p.m. Monday and 10 a.m. Tuesday. Intruders knocked a hole in the building and damaged a door to gain entry, and then scattered articles on the floor, overturned and emptied a file cabinet, broke a female mannequin and a glass vase, dumped counter drawers onto the floor and broke a hole in sheetrock.

Owner of the building is Maxine Paris. An adjacent business in the same building, Cowlicks barber shop and tanning salon, was not disturbed.

A 1987 Chevrolet Astro van owned by Mary Gutierrez of Tahoka was vandalized last Wednesday when a named suspect reportedly broke a mirror and windshield.

An 18-year-old Tahoka woman told police someone had forged two checks on her bank account, with the checks totaling $146.29. Investigation continues.

A burglary was reported at the residence of Martina Tijerina on Ave. E in Tahoka, but no items were reported missing Saturday.

Money was taken from a box inside a SPARTAN public transportation bus sometime in the last week. Officials said only a small amount was taken from the toll box after the glass window on the box was broken.

In jail during the week were nine persons, including six on marijuana related charges, one application to revoke probation on forgery conviction, one driving while intoxicated plus minor in possession of alcohol and furnishing alcohol to a minor.

WOODWORK by Dalton

SEVERAL YEARS ago I bought some things for the office from a salesman who came by representing a company I knew about, but never had ordered from. And so I paid by check. Soon after he left he returned and said, "I need to get information from you and set up an account, the boss says," he informed me.

"But I paid for this stuff already," I protested, privately wondering if the blamed check had already bounced.

"Yeah, I know," he said. "But I'm told we still have get credit references for our records."

So I told him I'd try to think of three or four places where I had paid cash before. "I paid $5 cash at the Goodwill Store the last time I bought a dress for my wife," I offered.

Anyway, I gave him some references, but the whole thing was sort of dumb. It reminded me of another time we went to a motel and they didn't want cash for the room unless I could also offer a credit card and a look at my drivers license. The clerk said some people had been running off with their TV sets and other things, implying, I guess, that we didn't look too trustworthy.

It's a shame that we have come to the point that nobody trusts anybody very far. Deals that once were closed with a handshake now have to be completed with five pounds of papers in a lawyer's office.

Typical is the comment once made to me by a friend (former friend, actually) who said, "Seems like everybody I know is crooked, except me and you - and I'm not too sure about you."

ONE OF THE many differences between men and women (I remember Dagwood Bumpstead wondering often "Why did God put men and women on the same planet?") is the way they speak to each other.

When Laura, Suzanne, Debra and Betty go out for lunch, they will call each other Laura, Suzanne, Debra and Betty. But if Mike, John, Charlie and Bob go out for a beer or a golf game, they will refer to each other as Fat Boy, Dummy, Godzilla and Useless.

Dogs Get Bit 28-7 By Lions

by CASEY JONES
 THS Journalism Staff

Tahoka suffered its first district loss of the season Friday night, succumbing to the New Deal Lions 28-7 at New Deal. The overall record now stands at 2-4 in district 4-2A.

The Bulldogs were able to hold their ground for the first half as neither side could manage a score until later in the second half.

New Deal blasted out in the third quarter with 21 points to give the Lions a seemingly decisive 21-0 lead heading into the fourth quarter.

Tahoka scored their lone touchdown of the game with a 1-yard plunge into the end zone by running back Jeff Elmore in the fourth quarter to make the score 21-7. New Deal countered with another touchdown to put an end to the game.

Offensively, the Bulldogs struggled to move the ball with 114 total yards of offense, seven first downs, and four turnovers. Quarterback Brandon McCord completed 8 out of 15 passes for 90 yards and two interceptions.

On defense, the Bulldogs intercepted two more passes, but couldn't limit the New Deal rushing game which contained 267 yards on 42 attempts. This core of Bulldogs will come back home this Friday night to battle the Ralls Jackrabbits at 7:30 p.m. Hopefully, the Bulldogs will be able to snap out of their four game losing streak and gain a vital district win.

Positional Vertigo Can Upset Balance

A common form of vertigo can completely upset the balance of a person's life, making simple tasks such as walking, climbing stairs or performing household chores all but impossible. But, help is on the way. Dr. Helen Cohen, associate director of the Center for Balance Disorders at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston, is in the middle of a five-year study sponsored by the National Institutes of Health to evaluate physical maneuvers and exercises used to treat benign paroxysmal positional vertigo, also known as BPPV. BPPV is the illusion of motion caused by the abnormal reaction of the inner ear balance system to certain head movements. People with BPPV experience dizziness, or vertigo, when they bend down, look up or roll over in bed. "We know about the disease, we know what causes it, but currently there are no data available on the exercises used to treat it," Cohen said. "What I'm trying to determine is which exercises work the best, how long they are effective and which people get the most out of them."

Two types of exercises are commonly used, each of which lasts about 15 minutes. One involves having the patient lie down and move their body from one side to the other. The other procedure requires movement of the head into four different positions.

"People are better off not trying these exercises on their own," Cohen said. "They need a clinician to show them how to do them properly. If done incorrectly, they can hurt themselves."

BPPV, which affects 64 people per 100,000 annually, is the most common disorder of the vestibular system, the sensory organs in the inner ear that detect head movement. The system contains three semicircular canals, two small sacs called otoliths, hair follicles and crystals of calcium carbonate.

BPPV, which can result from a blow to the head, a viral infection or age-related causes, occurs when the crystals fall out of their sac and slide into the circular canals, upsetting a person's sense of balance. The purpose of the maneuvers and exercises is to return the crystals to their original place, Cohen said.

Although not life-threatening, Cohen considers BPPV a serious health concern that shouldn't be ignored. "BPPV isn't disabling, but it can prevent a person from doing simple tasks like getting out of the bath tub safely," Cohen said. "In more severe cases, it can interfere with a person's ability to do their job or take care of their family."

"If someone has BPPV or feels dizzy as if they are spinning, I recommend they see a physician as soon as possible," Cohen added. "This is something that should, and can be, corrected."

School Calendar, Drivers Education Among School Board Issues Here

by JUANELL JONES

Tahoka Independent School District Board of Trustees met in regular session last Thursday, approving changes to the school calendar, drivers education options for Tahoka students, budget amendments and bus usage for students here.

Changes approved in the school calendar include moving a staff development day from Nov. 20 to March 22 in order to host the elementary academic UIL contest, and setting an early dismissal day for Monday, Oct. 30. Students, who originally had Nov. 20-24 for the Thanksgiving holidays, will attend school on Nov. 20, and have the Tuesday through Friday, Nov. 21-24, for the Thanksgiving holidays.

Trustees voted unanimously to allow Leon Pope of Brownfield to use Tahoka ISD classrooms and video equipment to teach Driver's Education here at the students' option. Tahoka ISD last year ceased to offer the driver's education program. Students may choose to take the Driver's Education program this year at TISD through Mr. Pope, or may continue to choose a driver's education training school in Lubbock, or a parent-taught program. Pope will offer classes here in November and May, at a cost of $200. The November session will be offered Nov. 1, 3, 6, 10, 13, 17, 20 and 27, from 5-7 p.m.

An Intergovernmental Settlement

Agreement of the Lynn County Appraisal District was unanimously approved by the board, as was the district's appraisal calendar and budget amendments for an additional $17,000 in funding from the Texas Education Agency for the Accelerated Reading program in grades K-2.

Availability of the new Bulldog Express bus (at this time, the only air conditioned travel bus in the district) was discussed by the board, with priority usage of the bus set in the following order: varsity high school athletics, sub-varsity high school athletics, other high school UIL and extra-curricular activities, followed by middle school or elementary activities with no other conflicts and by permission of the superintendent.

Any conflicts on the bus usage not covered by priority will be left to the determination of the superintendent and transportation supervisor, trustees said. School officials may consider adding air conditioning to other district buses in the future.

Elementary Principal James Baker reported 374 students enrolled in elementary, and noted upcoming events such as the County Health Fair and Red Ribbon Week. Assistant principal Lisa Ramirez reported 27 parents had signed up for the "Building Strong Families" program to be held Nov. 2. High School Principal Jerry Lee reported enrollment in middle school of 120 students, and 241 students in high school.

Business Manager Nathan Ehler and Superintendent Jimmy Parker were designated to serve as Investment Officers of the district. Supt. Parker reported on buses and bus routes, and said the financial audit had gone well and was mostly completed, with auditors to present their report soon.

Monthly bills were approved as presented, and Ehler presented a financial report.

THS student Shea Pridmore, FCCLA State Recording Secretary, presented a summary of the purpose and programs of the FCCLA to the board, and sponsor Patti Rambo expressed her thanks to trustees for their continued support of vocational education.

The next regular board meeting was set for Monday, Nov. 13.

All seven trustees were present at the meeting, which adjourned at midnight.

Special BBB Investigation Confirms:

Work-At-Home Deals Are "Too Good To Be True"

Interested in making money while staying at home? Remember that if it sounds too good to be true, it probably is!

That is what Better Business Bureaus across North America have confirmed in a year-long study of 112 work-at-home companies that advertise in newspapers and magazines, on the Internet, and on signs posted in various communities. Operation Job Fraud, a task force comprised of 15 BBB professionals in cooperation with the United States Postal Inspection Service, coordinated the project.

"Work-at-home schemers often target the most vulnerable, those who can least afford to lose the money," said Nan Campbell, president of the BBB of the South Plains. "Students, stay-at-home mothers, disabled people, and the elderly are always hopeful that they can earn some money at home. Our investigation shows direct evidence to the contrary. We 'shopped' more than 100 work-at-home advertisements, and found absolutely no evidence of people making the earnings promised. In fact, most people pay more up-front than they ever earn doing the work advertised."

The Operation Job Fraud task force was formed a year ago in response to growing BBB concerns about an industry that regularly tops the list of types of businesses generating the most inquiries to local BBBs. In 1999, the most recent year for which national data is available, work-at-home schemes generated nearly 280,000 inquiries to Better Business Bureaus across the U.S., and more than 5,500 complaints.

According to the BBB, the national complaint numbers are probably just the tip of the iceberg. "This is a bigger problem than anyone realizes," said Campbell. "The amount of money that one person spends on these schemes is typically a relatively small amount, so too many victims never complain because they feel foolish about being taken."

Operation Job Fraud's mission was three-fold: to alert the public to work-at-home schemes, expose these practices and operators that deceive and rob the public, and help law enforcement in criminal prosecutions. Better Business Bureaus in the United States, Canada, and Puerto Rico were invited to participate by shopping and investigating work-at-home companies that consumers in their areas were calling about. As the task force gathered results, information was shared with Postal Inspectors to assist in arrests and prosecution. That effort is ongoing.

The task force identified a variety of work-at-home companies, including envelope-stuffing, product assembly, medical billing, mystery shopping, and business opportunities, such as vitamin sales, auto-dialing machines, selling advertising on the Internet, and telemarketing of videotapes, books and seminars.

Of the 112 companies investigated, 21 were out of business before the study concluded. Twelve others did not respond after money was sent, and 10 did not respond to preliminary inquiries. Of the remaining 69 companies, 2 stated that "positions were filled," and the rest sent instructions for setting up another work-at-home company, products to assemble, books and/or lists of other companies to contact for work opportunities, or offers for software, books, or videos.

While ads claim high earnings and short hours with little or no experience, the task force found no evidence of people actually making the promised money. Rather, after paying advance "registration" fees or "good faith deposits," the consumer receives either nothing, or information that encourages involvement in an illegal scheme or supplies to assemble a product that is virtually impossible to complete.

The two most prevalent types of work-at-home ads are for product assembly and envelope stuffing. In most assembly cases, the company sends specific instructions for the worker to follow, warning the items will be rejected and no money earned if the products did not meet the company's standards. "Our experience shows that even the most competent of workers couldn't meet these so-called standards," said Katy Conklin, chair of Operation Job Fraud and president of the BBB headquartered in Chattanooga, Tenn. "The only one getting rich is the person who owns the company."

Typical envelope stuffing offers, which have been around since the Great Depression, promise earnings of $1 or $2 per envelope and promise that a worker can make thousands of dollars monthly. Some advertised offers also pledge to refund the advance fee once a thousand envelopes are stuffed. "Workers become discouraged long before they get the thousand envelopes stuffed, particularly when they realize they're distributing advertisements to lure advance fees from other would-be workers, thereby helping to perpetuate the scam," said Campbell.

The Lincoln, Neb. BBB reported to the task force that a couple appearing to be in their mid-to-late 30's came to the BBB with a stack of envelopes so big that the woman could barely hold them between her thumb and fingers. They were responses to her requests for information on envelope stuffing. In her other hand she had two pieces of lined notebook paper with 15 addresses of other envelope stuffing ads that she asked Harlene Holz, BBB staffer, to check out for her. After Holz talked to the couple for about 30 minutes, they left with the envelopes and addresses. "Were they convinced of the futility of such offers? I seriously doubt it. It's sad," said Holz.

The task force also warns against medical billing offers that involve high fees in advance. BBB experience found that the software sent is often unusable, and the worker must develop his or her own leads without assistance from the company.

The BBB offers a publication to help consumers identify the red flags that signify a potential work-at-home scheme. A copy is posted on the BBB web site at www.bbbsouthplains.org/library/wrkhtmlp.html or a free hard copy can be requested by contacting the BBB at (806) 763-0459, (800) 687-7890 (South Plains long distance only), fax (806) 744-9748 or by writing to BBB, 916 Main Street, Suite 800, Lubbock, TX 79401.

USDA To Issue More Than $1.4 Billion in CRP Payments

Agriculture Secretary Dan Glickman has announced that payments of more than $1.4 billion are being made to eligible producers under the Commodity Credit Corporation's Conservation Reserve Program (CRP). The program will pay an average of $4,833 per farm and $45.17 per acre on more than 462,855 contracts and 293,857 farms.

Under the CRP, producers voluntarily retire environmentally sensitive crop land for 10 to 15 years. In return, USDA's CCC makes annual rental payments to producers and shares the cost of establishing approved conservation practices. Enrolled land must be highly erodible, contribute to a serious water quality problem, or provide substantial environmental benefits if devoted to certain specific conservation uses.

Additional CRP information can be obtained on the world wide web at www.fsa.usda.gov/conservation.

A table listing the number of acres enrolled and amount of payments follows:

Name	Acres Enrolled	Rental Payments	Number of Contracts
Lynn County	63,590	$2,624,593	319
Texas	3,898,136	$137,525,331	22,478
National Total	31,438,441	$1,420,098,718	462,855

Total payments made to producers in Lynn County from Jan. 1, 2000 to present is $26,624,593 for all programs.

On May 26, 1959, Joe Adcock of the Milwaukee Braves hit a home run with two men on base in the bottom of the 13th inning of a scoreless game. But because Adcock passed another runner on the basepaths, he was only credited with a double, making the final score 1-0.

Wildfires Threaten South Plains Area

While the weather has changed, the threat of wildfire has not. Texas is still locked into a drought that has resulted in over 29,000 fires that have burned over half-a million acres, but according to Connie Jordan of the Lubbock County Sheriff's Office, "We have been lucky we haven't had more fires considering how long we have gone without significant rain. Everything is so dry."

This combination of luck, the cooler temperatures, and extremely dry conditions has created a condition ripe for disaster. "People tend to let their guard down due to the lower temperatures and with more people out of doors during the fall the chances of even more wildfires exist," said Mary Kay Hicks, TFS fire prevention coordinator.

Unlike forested parts of the country, the fuels found in the South Plains are considered "light," however, they are extremely flammable and can dry out quickly even after a significant rain. For every one-tenth of an inch of rain vegetation such as CRP grass, only takes one day to dry out and become highly flammable again. Wind speeds up the process considerably, said Hicks.

Just ask Sheriff C.D. Fitzgerald in Castro County about the potential for wildfire on the Plains. Last week a 1,500-acre fire burned, and according to the Sheriff they were all too lucky. "By all rights that fire should have gone 20 miles until playing out." When a fire gets that big it seriously threatens the capability of the local fire departments to protect homes and other structures, noted Hicks.

Wildfires are everyone's concern. They threaten property, public lands, livestock, and lives. It costs Texas tax-payers millions of dollars to suppress fires in a year such as this one, and that does not count the loss in property. A little prevention can go a long way.

- Postpone all outdoor burning until significant rain fall is received.
  - Avoid parking and driving in tall grass. Catalytic converters can start fires.
  - When camping, use a propane stove instead of a campfire.
  - Smoke only in safe areas. Use an ashtray.
  - If welding, wet down the work area. Have a fire extinguisher handy.
- "Everything is so dry that it wouldn't take very much for a fire to get started," stated Levelland Fire Chief Thurman Davis. "People really need to be careful."

Fire Destroys Tatum Warehouse

A flash fire Friday morning destroyed one of the Tatum Bros. Elevators' warehouses and its contents. The building destroyed was about 40 years old and was the former Burleson Grain Co. on the north side of US 380 adjoining the Santa Fe tracks. The loss was partially covered by insurance.

Plans were being made early this week to replace the structure with an all-steel building, Leighton Knox, manager, told The News. Owners of the property are Clyde and Bill Tatum of Lubbock.

Mr. Knox said the fire started at 9:30 a.m. when an employee, Junior Hardt, started up the roller mill and the kerosene milt steam lighted up. Gin lint had covered the building, and almost instantaneously the fire flashed over the entire interior of the frame and stucco building.

"All the fire departments on the Plains couldn't have saved the building," Knox declared, but the local department was on hand quickly to keep the fire from spreading to the near-by elevator and other buildings of the Tatum complex.

About 725 bales of alfalfa and prairie hay and a large part of the 50 tons of fertilizer stored in the building, roller mill equipment, and motors, and a large quantity of empty sacks were destroyed.

"The contents were not a total loss; a fireman pulled my boat to safety," Knox quipped.

Barbecue Saturday Will Honor Pipeline Workers

Canadian River pipeline construction workers, R.H. Fulton Co. officials, and Bureau of Reclamation people and their families engaged on the project now building through Tahoka will be the guests at a barbecue dinner and program in the school cafeteria here Saturday night at 7:30 p.m.

Aside from brief welcome talks, only program will be music by a string band.

Sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and City of Tahoka, the event is an appreciation and get-acquainted affair for the fact the Fulton people saw fit to make Tahoka headquarters on the $8.7 million South Plains division aqueduct construction project, according to Mayor Mel Leslie and C. of C. President Wayne Waters.

Each C. of C. member and each City employee has been furnished two tickets to the affair, and others wishing to attend may buy tickets at the C. of C. office from Maurice Small, secretary, at $1.50 each.

Local citizens are being urged to help Tahoka keep it a "friendly town" designation by putting out a little special effort to make the Fulton people feel this is their town while living here.

Herb Lewis Is Still Alive In Spite Of 1918 War Records

Although officially dead since Dec. 19, 1918, Herb Lewis, long-time Tahoka citizen, is still alive and kicking, but after 48 years he still has not been able to break through Government red tape and get his World War I service records straightened out.

Early in the summer of 1918, Herb entered the service, and was assigned to the Marines, trained briefly at Paris Island, N.C., and then was sent overseas to France with Headquarters Company, 5th U.S. Marines.

Following the signing of the Armistice on Nov. 11, 1918, Herb's outfit proceeded into Germany, he received an injury en route, was hospitalized, then given a medical discharge and was scheduled to embark for the States.

Somehow, though, he got side-tracked and had to stay over there some time longer.

In the meantime, he was evidently reported dead, since the following memorial, which he still has, was sent his mother, Mrs. J.W. (Molly A.) Lewis:

"In memory of Herbert C. Lewis, Hq. Co., 5th U.S. Marines, who died Dec. 15, 1918. He bravely laid down his life for the cause of his country. His name will ever remain fresh in the hearts of his friends and comrades. The record of his honorable service will be preserved in the archives of the American Expeditionary Forces. John J. Pershing, Commander-in-Chief."

2ND ANNUAL SUPER SLICER

HITS LAMESA SATURDAY, OCTOBER 28TH

Cars to be Sold for $99

Rain or Shine

Chris Oar, Automotive Writer

How do you dispose of over 200 new and used vehicles in just one day? You slice the price on every one ... with some sliced as low as $99. It's called the "The Super Slicer Sale", the biggest one day event in the history of Bob Brown Motors and it happens this Saturday.

Here's how it works: Gates open at 10 AM Saturday morning. Customers are urged to get here early. Customers pick out the car or truck they want and get behind the wheel. The price that's on the windshield will be sliced hundreds or thousands of dollars right before your eyes. New cars and trucks that sell for $20,000... $15,000... $10,000 will be drastically sliced in price. Used cars that normally sell for $4,000... $5,000... $6,000... may be sliced as low as $99. Change your plans if you have to, the "Super Slicer" has been instructed to slice the price until someone buys.

Starting Friday afternoon, all vehicles will be displayed in a special fenced off area for customer inspection. This is a great opportunity to get a sneak peek at some real bargains. It will also help customers spot their #1 choice so they can grab it first thing Saturday morning. Why such radical price slicing? General Manager Shannon Pierce.

"Over the years, Bob Brown Motors has been a strong supporter of the Lamesa community and the community has supported Bob Brown Motors.

We're a local business and we would like to give back to the community. This is a sale where everybody wins ... During the months of August and September our lease returns and one owner used car trades have been stacking up with all time highs being recorded ... this event allows us to reduce our overstuffed used car inventory and the customer to save thousands of dollars. Customers can expect to find prices sliced at or below public auction pricing, without the hassle and related auction fees. We're slicing used car prices as low as $99 because we are packed wall-to-wall with too much used car inventory. If you need room for the whole family, we've got pre-owned Toyotas, Mazdas, Ford Tauruses and Astro vans.

If you're looking for sports cars, we've got Chevy Camaros and Pontiac Grand Ams, Chevy Cavaliers and Ford Thunderbirds. We have a great selection of used cars from model year '87 through '00. Plus a great selection of late-model trucks, like S-10 Blazers, Chevy Tahoes, 4WD pickups and Jeeps ... You name it, we've got 'em in stock, and this one day sale is your chance to save hundreds, even thousands on used cars with prices sliced as low as $99. The Super Slicer sale is a revolutionary way to sell new and used vehicles and allows everyone to get a great deal. People in the market for a top quality used vehicle will have the ability to buy more car for less money than at any other time. With vehicles starting at just $99, there will be something for everyone, regardless of budget."

Lenders from around the state, as well as wholesale buyers, are expected to be "on-call" in order to provide incredible financing and great trade-in values. And "Concerns regarding credit are of no concern to us," Lee Roberts said. If you've had credit problems in your history, don't worry about it. During this sale you can still get a car you desire for a great price. All you have to do is bring in a current payroll stub, valid drivers license, and a utility bill.

Special finance and credit analysis will be provided. Pre-qualification for credit begins at 7:30 AM. Official appraisers will be on hand to pay top dollar for any and all trade-ins. All trade-ins will be accepted, paid for or not. This is your chance to get out of the old car you've been driving and trade up to a newer model at significant savings.

While selection of both new and used models is fantastic, customers are urged to arrive early ... the best equipped vehicles are sure to go first. Refreshments will be served all day.

The "Super Slicer Sale" is being held this Saturday only, gates open at 10 a.m., at Bob Brown Motors, 202 South 3rd, Lamesa, TX 99331. For further details call the "Super Slicer Hotline" at (806) 872-2144.

The Wilson News

Wilson Fire Dept. Tip of the Week: Does your family have a plan to escape from your home in case of a fire? What do you do when the smoke detector goes off? A good family escape plan will enable the entire family to exit the building in a rapid, safe manner and then meet in a pre-designated spot to make sure that all have made it out of the building.

Another important factor is to get out first, then call 9-1-1 from a neighbor's home, or on a mobile phone. Most important of all, do not try to go back into the building. Many lives have been lost by people going back into the burning building to check on individuals or to retrieve personal items, and then they come overcome by the smoke and fumes. Do not just set up a plan but practice using the plan to make sure that all family members know what to do and how to get out of the building, and where to meet once they are safely out.

The youth of Wilson's First Baptist Church will be hosting a Mexican Stack meal at noon after church on Sunday, Oct. 29. The meal will be in the church fellowship hall and freewill donations will be accepted.

The Wilson Mustang Booster Club meets every Monday in the school cafeteria at 7 p.m. Sales of the Mustang caps and megaphones continue with most items available by contacting a club member or at the concession stand during the home games. Volunteers are still needed, to work in the concession stand for the remaining home games. Please contact any Booster Club officer to volunteer.

The Wilson Mustang Marching Band is still practicing at 7 p.m. each Tuesday evening. The band is preparing for the UIL Marching Contest, which will be held Saturday, Oct. 21. Band director, Mr. Rathbun, will have information concerning the time for the band performance.

Wilson's cross country team meet scheduled for Monday, Oct. 23, has been re-scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 21, at Ropes instead of Sundown.

Wilson students who are eligible for or who have not yet passed all the required parts of the TAAS Exit Level exam will take the exams next week. The writing part will be on Tuesday, the math test on Wednesday, and the reading test will be on Friday.

The annual State Comptroller's listing of unclaimed assets will be in the Lubbock paper this Sunday, Oct. 22. This list will contain over 100,000 names of people who have had unclaimed property turned over to the state. Check the list. Directions on claiming your property will also be printed with the list.

The weekend of Oct. 29 will see the end of Daylight Savings Time and the return to standard time. Be sure to set clocks back one hour as you go to bed on Saturday night, Oct. 28. Remember, "Spring Ahead - Fall Back." This will also be the perfect time to change the batteries in your smoke detectors.

Monsoon season has come to the plains. Many areas of the South Plains have had rainfall over the last few days, with a few locations reporting light to moderate hail, resulting in some crop damage. Most Wilson residents are reporting about two inches of rainfall, through Monday night.

Oscar Follis woke up Sunday morning to find that Saturday night's storm had played havoc with one of his storage buildings. Remains of the building are being cleaned up as weather permits. No other structure damage has been reported at this time.

The 2000 Presidential Election will be Tuesday, Nov. 7. Polls will be open from 7-7 with Wilson area voters, registered in Voter Precinct 2, voting at the Wilson Mercantile. Please check your voter registration certificate and make sure which voting precinct you are registered in. For this election, all polling places are expected to be open and voters will be required to vote at the precinct voting place indicated on their voter registration form. Early voting will be conducted Oct. 23-Nov. 3 at the Lynn County Clerk's office. If you have questions concerning the election or where to vote, please contact the County Clerk's office in Tahoka at 998-4750 or the Lynn County Tax Assessor's office at 998-4112.

Friday, Oct. 13, Wilson met long-time rivals, the New Home Leopards in the first district game of the football season. During the first half of the game, the Mustangs were able to compete with the Leopards, but lost their momentum in the second half, with the Leopards winning 71-26. Senior Jordan Bednarz was injured during the fourth quarter and taken to the hospital by ambulance, but was released from the hospital the next day.
