County Takes Hard Hit From Energas Bill

Businesses and residents alike have been afraid to open their Energas bills in recent days due to the dramatic increases reportedly from production costs and other factors, and Lynn County Commissioners were no exception. The county's Energas bill more than doubled from last month, Lynn County Treasurer Janet Porterfield reported at Monday morning's regular meeting, costing the county a whopping $4,169 this month compared to last month's bill of $1,769.

The gas bill was among other monthly bills approved by commissioners, including a payment to the City of O'Donnell Fire Department for fire protection in the county. Lynn County annually approves a proportionate amount to each of the four fire departments in the county, with O'Donnell Fire Department receiving $1,875, which was approved at Monday's meeting. Approved at last month's meeting were payments to Wilson and New Home Fire Departments in the amount of $1,125, and $4,500 to the Tahoka Fire Department.

In other routine business, commissioners drew names from a jury list to serve on the Lynn County Grievance Committee, including Santos Luna, Janelle Ashcraft Neal, Oscar Garcia Jr., Roy White, Kimberly King Smith, John Quintilla, Carolyn Luker Klaus, Consuelo Villarreal and Elizabeth Bengoa-Munoz. The Grievance Committee meets only when called in special session to hear grievances from elected county officials.

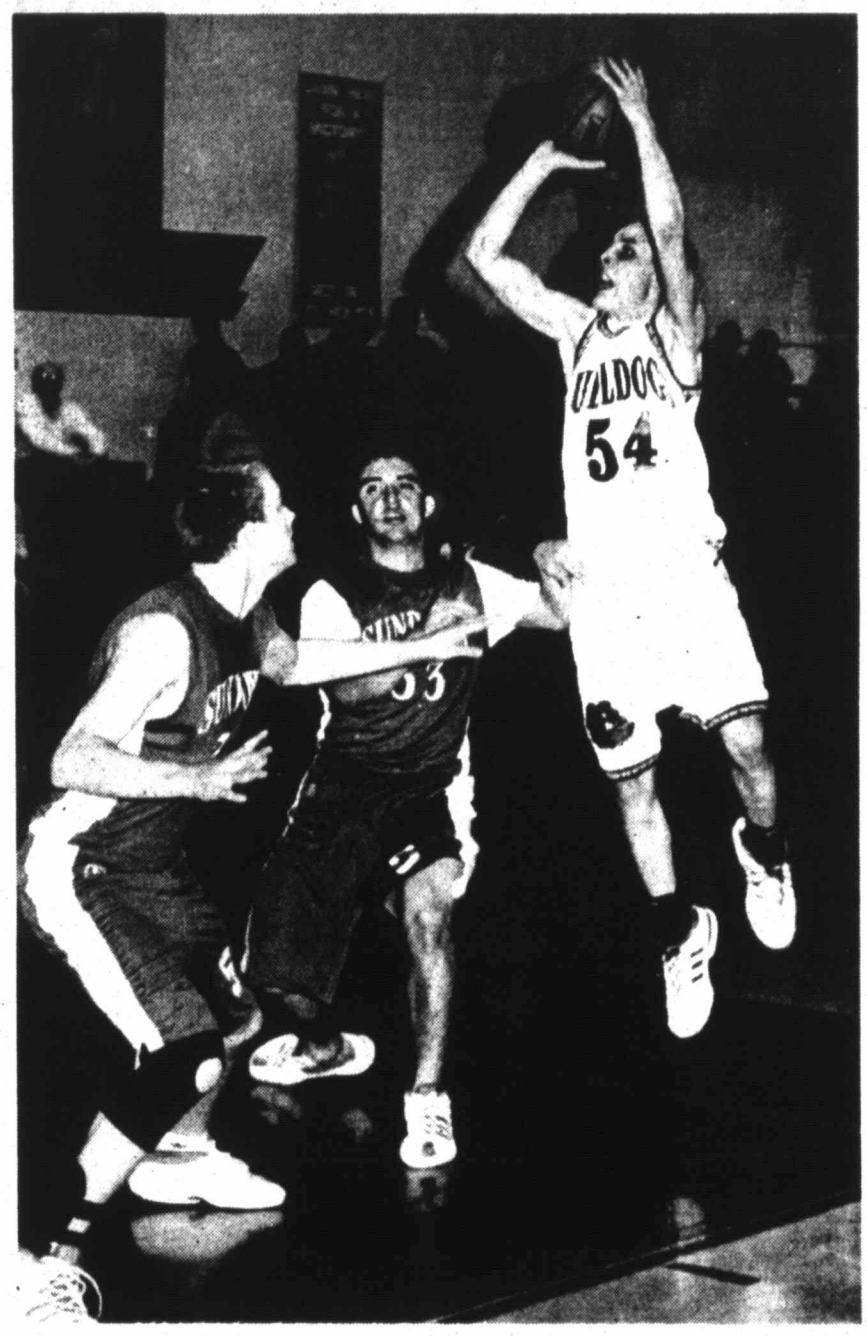

Selection of a county Historical Committee was postponed until a later meeting. The lease for a building located on South 2nd and Ave. H which had been paid by the county was discussed, with commissioners suggesting that the county split the lease cost with the probation department, but no action was taken on the lease agreement.

County Judge J.F. Brandon informed the court that he had borrowed $15,000 from the First National Bank of Tahoka to put in escrow for the S&K building (to be remodeled into new county jail facilities) and that the funds had been turned over to the lawyers handling the agreement. Commissioner Mike Braddock noted that an escrow contract had been signed by the selling parties.

The judge was granted permission by commissioners to look into a new phone system for the courthouse through Poka Lambro, at an estimated cost of $10,000 which may be funded through the county's Security Fund. The system, if installed, would allow offices within the courthouse to transfer calls from one office to another. Currently, calls cannot be transferred from one office to another.

Commissioners appointed Braddock as their representative on the Wes-Tex RC&D committee.

Traffic Accident, Assault Case Investigated In City

One traffic accident with no injuries was reported in the City of Tahoka during the last week, and police also arrested a Tahoka man Tuesday for an alleged assault on a Tahoka woman.

James Allen Egner, 38, was jailed and later charged with felony aggravated assault on a woman who reported she was struck and choked and also threatened with a pistol. He remained in jail Wednesday, with bond set at $15,000.

driven by Enequina Villa Arellano, 41, also of Tahoka, were involved in a collision.

Lynn County Approved For Federal Funding Due To 'Disaster' Status From Winter Storms

An additional 28 Texas counties, including Lynn, have been added to the list of jurisdictions eligible for funding for debris removal and other forms of public assistance, federal and state disaster recovery officials announced this week.

Federal Coordinating Officer A. David Rodham of the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) announced the additions following a review of information regarding damages incurred by winter storms from Dec. 12, 2000 through Jan. 15, 2001. The counties are Borden, Carson, Cherokee, Cooke, Dawson, Delta, Gaines, Garza, Gray, Gregg, Grayson, Fannin, Franklin, Harrison, Hopkins, Hunt, Lamar, Lynn, Marion, Montague, Morris, Panola, Rains, Rusk, Smith, Titus, Upshur and Wood.

For debris removal associated with the severe storms, the federal government has increased its reimbursement to 90 percent of the cost through March 9, said State Coordinating Officer Richard Boltz. After that date the federal cost share will be 75 percent. Communities and some non-profit agencies in the designated 31 counties are also eligible for 75 percent federal share of the costs of emergency services and repair or replacement of public facilities such as roads, bridges, buildings and utilities. Federal funding is also available on a cost-sharing basis for measures to prevent or lessen future damage (hazard mitigation).

Lynn County officials requested disaster status following a severe ice storm which virtually paralyzed the county during the week following Christmas Day, causing physical and economic losses in the county.

In a letter to Texas Governor Rick Perry, Lynn County Judge J.F. Brandon noted that an estimated 350 homes were without power for several days, and approximately 500 oil wells were affected by the power outage. Lyntegar Electric Cooperative reportedly lost over 750 poles (250 in Lynn County) with several hundred miles of line destroyed by the storm. Repair costs due to storm damage in the county were estimated at $1.2 million, Brandon's letter stated.

Residents and business owners are urged to call the toll-free registration line at 1-800-462-9029 to apply for disaster assistance. A special phone line for those with hearing or speech impairments is 1-800-462-7585.

WOODWORK by Dalton

I'M MUCH MORE interested in healthy eating and healthy other things than I was when I was a teenager and was sure I was going to live forever.

I was reading the other day about Julia Child, who is 88 years old, author of 11 cookbooks, and is still healthy and energetic. And she says, "I don't eat between meals. . . I don't snack. . . and I like small portions. We all need to enjoy good food, but we all need not overindulge."

She offers a bunch of tips about how to cook things, such as "To peel whole garlic cloves, drop them into a pan of boiling water, for 30 seconds. The peels will come off easily." And "to prevent nuts from turning oily when you grind them in a blender or food processor, always add at least one tablespoon of sugar."

Well, if you're diabetic and do that last once every day, I promise you won't live to be 88.

Several other publications I have read say it's okay to eat red meat. But most of them say do it just once a day and eat no serving larger than four ounces. Four ounces? That's just two bites. (Unless it's chicken gizzards, which get bigger every time you chew on them).

One interesting tip from Julia, who apparently never has known the ecstasy of pigging out, is how to clean a heat-blackened pan. Fill it with water, adding two tablespoons of baking soda per quart. Simmer 10 minutes (my wife simmers longer than that when I cook something and leave the pan all grossed up on the cabinet). Remove the pan from heat and cover it up (Julia doesn't say with what), let it soak overnight. "The black residue should come off easily with a stiff brush". If that doesn't work, should we try an electric sander?

A magazine called Remedy suggests that for good health, you eat a bunch of stuff which is mostly inedible, like corn/black bean salad, turnips, and snacks of air-popped popcorn (popcorn is no good unless it contains lots of salt and a stick of butter).

THE JERK on Ave. J says "I haven't been wrong since 1981, when I thought I made a mistake."

TxDOT Schedules Workshop Regarding Enhancement Program

Area organizations and government entities interested in applying for statewide enhancement funds can attend a workshop this year to better understand the criteria and guidelines of the program and to learn how best to complete the application process.

A workshop is scheduled for Wednesday, Jan. 31, from 10 a.m. until noon, in the Mesquite Room of the Texas Department of Transportation's (TxDOT's) district headquarters at 135 Slaton Road, Lubbock.

TxDOT recently announced a program call for the 2001 Statewide Transportation Enhancement Program — a federally-funded program that provides dollars for transportation-related projects that are economically or aesthetically beneficial to a community. Nearly $130 million in transportation enhancement funds are available this year to Texas communities.

"The purpose of the workshop is to help each nominating entity understand the process," said Jerry Cash, Lubbock engineer and coordinator for the area program. "We want to make sure they are on the right track before they get too far into the application process. It is important that organizations planning to nominate an enhancement project, attend the workshop."

Categories eligible for funding include:

- historic preservation
- landscaping or other scenic beautification
- scenic or historic highway programs
- provision of facilities for pedestrians and bicycles
- provision of safety and education activities for pedestrians and bicyclists
- acquisition of scenic easements and scenic or historic sites
- rehabilitation and operation of historic transportation buildings, structures, or facilities, including historic railroad facilities and canals
- preservation of abandoned railway corridors, including conversion and use for pedestrian and bicycle trails

NEW AT THE LIBRARY

Younger Than Springtime

by Andrew M. Greeley

Bestselling novelist Andrew M. Greeley returns to the compelling and compassionate postwar chronicle of the incredible, and, as some call them, "crazy O'Malley family" from Chicago's West Side. It's 1949, a year that none of the O'Malleys or any of their legions of friends will ever forget.

Charles "Chucky" O'Malley is back from his two-year tour in Bamberg, Germany, but his carefully planned future of Notre Dame and accounting is not exactly proceeding as planned. His hall rector, Father Pius, is determined to catch him in an expellable act, and Chucky's interest in accounting is waning fast.

What he does best is take pictures. He's not a Photographer. He is a "picture-taker" plain and simple. Only there's nothing plain or simple about his pictures. They are elegant, insightful, and penetrating. He has real talent. But is it possible to support a wife and family doing that?

Not that he has any intention of marrying anytime soon. Things are as complicated as ever between him and the lovely — and lively — Rosemarie Helen Clancy. There's also the matter of the intoxicatingly beautiful blonde (also talented and rich) Cordelia Lennon, with whom he's become semi-involved.

With pluck, humor, and a very good ear for listening, Chucky has advice for all of his friends and family. It's only his own life and feelings that he can't quite get a grip on.

Available at the City/County Library, located inside the Life Enrichment Center, 1717 Main Street, Tahoka, phone 998-4050. Open Mon. and Wed. 9 a.m.-5:30 p.m. (closed 12:30-1:30 p.m. for lunch), Tues. and Thurs. 2-7 p.m. and Saturdays 10 a.m.-1 p.m.

Tahoka Band Members Garner Regional Honors, Perform Saturday

Over the past two weeks, Tahoka Middle School and High School band members have been in competition for all-region honors, and 10 have qualified for the ATSSB Region Bands, which will rehearse and perform this weekend at the Lubbock Civic Center.

Tuesday, Jan. 16, five middle school students competed at New Deal with 600+ students from the 30+ 1A and 2A school districts surrounding Lubbock, for the 120-member ATSSB Middle School Region Band. Earning Region Band membership were Chase Autry - 1st chair bari saxophone, Shatara Hughes - 3rd chair contra-alto clarinet, and Jennifer Ceniseros - 14th chair clarinet. Also competing were Robert Baker - horn, Cory Carrasco - tuba, and Cade Miller - percussion.

"I am very proud of these who went but did not make the band, for they improved as players and came close to making the band," said Tahoka Band Director Carroll Rhodes.

Wednesday, Jan. 22, 12 Tahoka High School band members traveled to Crosbyton and competed against 400+ for the privilege of being in the 100-member ATSSB 1A-2A Region Band. Seven earned the right to participate. Also performing this weekend will be the ATSSB Honor Band, composed of students from 1A to 3A schools, which competed in December. Three THS band members made this elite group: Solana Agüero, Callie McKay, and Kyndra Selmon. Callie advanced to Area and there qualified for the ATSSB All-State

Some of our customers have expressed an interest in purchasing this type of mapping for their farming operations. We're happy to tell you that there's no need to pay for something that Sam Ashcraft Crop Insurance is providing as part of our service to you. We appreciate your business and are pleased to provide this valuable service to our customers.

Card of Thanks

On behalf of the Clois Leverett family, we wish to express our appreciation for all the love, food, flowers, support and encouragement we drew upon from friends and the entire community in the loss of our loved one. A special thanks to Jerry Becknal, Marvin Gregory, Gloria Moore, doctors, nurses, EMS personnel, and White Funeral Home.

There are many unexpected journeys we walk during our lives. Since the third week of October, Phyllis and our family have been on a challenging journey. With us every step has been this community. Many prayers and words of encouragement with various acts of love have been the factors that have enabled us to persevere. Various individuals and members of the church congregations have given us overwhelming support and love, almost indescribable. A special note of appreciation goes to Grassland Nazarene, Sweet Street and Tahoka Trinity members and ministers for the "over and above" ministering these fellow Christians have dispensed. God has shown us unconditional love and encouragement and He has used the community of Tahoka to be the vessels, which have sustained us during this experience. We covet your prayers as we proceed through rehab. May God return to you a hundredfold what you have dispensed to the family of Phyllis and Dan Taylor. 4-1tp

HIP DEEP IN TROUBLE - Tahoka City employee Petey Zuniga wades hip deep in water underneath the brick street at the corner of South 1st and Ave. J where a water line broke Friday morning. Water was cut off throughout much of the city for a couple of hours as workers repaired the break. Another main water line broke Saturday morning on N. 6th Street, and trouble struck again Tuesday morning. City Administrator Jerry Webster said the pipes underneath the city are very old, and cold weather often causes breakage.

The Wilson News
by Buster Abbe • 628-6368

Wilson Volunteer Fire Department Tip of the Week: As the price of natural gas goes up, many people are seeking alternative methods of home heating. One of the primary alternative methods has been the use of electric space heaters. If you go to the storage house or closed and pull out the old electric heater that you put into storage several years ago, you should spend a few minutes checking for frayed or broken cords and then check the heating element to make sure that it is not broken or damaged. If you discover damage to the element, the power cord, or the switch, it probably will be best to purchase a new unit. Damaged electrical appliances can be very dangerous if used improperly.

Young at Heart will meet Thursday, Jan. 25 (today) at 1:30 in the educational building at St. John Lutheran Church. All young at hearters, no matter what age, are invited to participate.

The women of Wilson's First Baptist Church announce that they will be starting a women's Bible study on Monday, Jan. 29 at 7 p.m. in the church fellowship hall. This 11 week course will use Beth Moore's "Breaking Free" material for their topic of discussion. All area women are invited to participate in the study. The only cost will be $12.95 which will cover the cost of the study guide. For more information, please call the church at 628-6333.

The Lynn County Stock Show is this weekend at the Lynn County Show Barn. Several Wilson FFA and 4-H youth will be displaying their animals during the show. Local ag teachers and the county agent will have show schedules (or see related article this edition). All area residents are invited to attend the various animal and baked goods shows. The event will close on Saturday with the annual dinner and premium sale.
