FOR PEACE OFFICERS

Muleshoe Will Be Convention Site

Muleshoe will be well-staffed with peace officers on Thursday, April 19, when the Texas South Plains and Eastern New Mexico Peace Officers Association holds its semi-annual convention here.

Approximately 125 officers are expected by the association, which had officers meeting in Muleshoe Monday to formulate the program for the convention.

The 12-year old association of peace officers, which was organized to promote closer cooperation and better communication between officers and officials in West Texas and Eastern New Mexico, holds two such meetings yearly.

The convention plan, according to Major Pat Speir of Midland, president of the association, is to hold the spring convention in Texas and the fall convention in New Mexico.

The structure of the organization is set up so that officers for the various positions in the association are chosen alternately from Texas and New Mexico.

Muleshoe was chosen as the convention site at the association fall convention in Lovington N.M., at the invitation of Garland Freeman, Muleshoe Sheriff's Deputy.

Officers of the association which attended the planning meeting in Muleshoe Monday were Speir, Jake Fort, Lovington, first vice president; Dan Saunders, Stanton, second vice president; and Sgt. Billy Smith, Midland, secretary-treasurer.

Appearing at the meeting were officials from the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce: Frank Ellis, president; Carroll Pouncey, director, and John Fried, chairman, of the chamber's tourist and convention committee.

The chamber group offered to arrange a barbecue lunch for the convention, which was agreeable to the group.

Dee Clements, Jake Fort, Lovington, N.M. and Billy Smith, Midland, Directors set the convention for April 19. (Journal photo and engraving).

CREAMER SHINES

Hale Center Relays Next Meet For Mules

The Muleshoe Mules continue their track season at the annual Hale Center Relays this Saturday. There will be a total of 37 teams in the meet, divided into two classes, AA and A-B.

Muleshoe coaches were well pleased with the showing last week at Odessa's West Texas Relays, where Travis Creamer came through with a career best in the 120-yard high hurdles to give the Mules some points in the giant trackfest.

Creamer's finals time was 15.0 and Coach Bill Taylor said he caught Travis with his personal watch in 14.9 in the semi-finals. Either way, it was the best high hurdles time by a Mule performer in years.

The sprint relay team recorded a 45.1 and the mile relay four-some had a 3:34, barely missing the finals, as did the 880-yard relay with 1:33.

Muleshoe and Fort Stockton were the only class AA teams to score points in the meet, as several class AAA and AAAA teams failed to scratch.

Taylor said he would bolster his team to 17 men for the Hale Center meet, with the addition of Archie Evans in the pole vault and Jerry Harrison in the 880.

FOR 1962

Three Way Student Is Bailey Spelling Champ

Julia Burkett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Burkett, Box 75, Maple, proved herself to be the best speller in Bailey County.

At the Bailey County Spelling Bee, held Friday at the Muleshoe High School Auditorium, Julia outspelled nine other 5th through 8th graders, including five school champions.

Julia is 7th grader at Three Way School. She represented Three Way School last year in the bee, and in the 5th grade entered in Portales, N.M. Her father is owner of Phillips 66 Service Station in Maple, moving his family there from Portales last January. Her hobbies include basketball, volleyball, and special interest subjects at school in math and science.

The Bee went on for one hour and 55 minutes before the winner was determined. In the last round, only Julia and Ruth Ann Duckworth, an 8th grader representing Muleshoe Junior High School, remained in competition. Ruth Ann misspelled the word "allotted". Julia successfully spelled this word and the next word "alluring" and was declared champion.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Duckworth of Muleshoe, Ruth Ann has participated in Spelling Bees for four years previously. She won the 1961 Fort Worth Bee, representing Forest Oak Junior High School, and was one of the top 22 contestants of the written test, and participated in the oral test at T.C.U. Upon moving to Muleshoe, Ruth Ann has continued her honor grades, is a new member of 4-H, a member of the First team in Volleyball 8th grade girls team, and finds time for music and piano.

Wayne Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Thompson, 715 West Avenue G stayed in with the girls and came in third, after misspelling "technical". A fifth grader at DeShazo Elementary, his hobbies are penny collecting, sports, especially football, and Boy Scouts.

Other contestants in order of their standing in the County include: fourth place winner Jean Haskins, 5th grader at Richland Hills Elementary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Haskins, 301 East Chicago; Nelda Seagler, 8th grader of Bula, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Seagler, Route 2, Morton; Sammy Nichols, 8th grader at Bula, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Nichols, Route 2, Morton; Gayle Gant, 6th grader of Three Way School, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Gant, Star Route, Goodland; Barbara Autry, 8th grader of Bula, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Autry, Route 2, Morton; and Joy Eubanks, 6th grader at Three Way, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Williams Eubanks, Box 63, Maple.

For her County Championship, Julia received a check for $15 from the Muleshoe Journal, as well as the blue ribbon and inscribed PaperMate ball-point pens.

The school champions in the Bailey County Bee are to receive an inscribed Paper Mate from the Lubbock-Avalanche Journal, as well as school winner blue ribbon. Ruth Ann Duckworth received a $7.50 prize as runner-up and Wayne Thompson, $2.50 for third place.

The Bee was conducted by J. M. Forbes, with Carroll Pouncey, a most able pronouncer. The judges for the contest were Mrs. Truman Lindsay, Mrs. W. M. Pool, and James Jennings.

UP AVENUE B

Storm Sewer Work Proceeds

Construction moved briskly during the past week in the installation of the storm sewer down Avenue B, as approved in last July's bond election.

The laying of the giant 48-inch pipe started on the eastern or terminal end, southeast of the city, and proceeded up the middle of Avenue B, temporarily disrupting regular traffic in the business district.

"We've tried to keep the inconvenience at a minimum," said City Manager Al Fields. "And we've heard very few complaints about inconvenience," he continued.

The special sewer is designed to eliminate the usual flooding of the main business district when it rains, and some residential areas in the event of big rains.

The big pipe is being laid about six feet deep, and work has been slowed somewhat throughout its progress by the relocation of water, sewer and gas lines, which were not as deep as the storm sewer line.

The gas lines had to be relocated over the pipeline, and the water and sewer lines have been relocated under the line.

The storm sewer is to run seven blocks on Avenue B, West Third Street is to be the beginning of the sewer. It goes south down East Third for six blocks from Avenue B, at which point it is terminated, emptying into caliche pits.

The collected water will proceed into the draw on Ollie Jones' farm, and can be used for irrigation purposes.

Inlets or drains will be placed at each intersection along the sewer.

The project is part of the series of city improvements totalling $221,000 currently underway.

Tips on Furniture Refinishing Illustrated by Betty Beaty

Refinishing furniture was the topic of the evening when the Los Planos Study Club held its regular meeting March 13, 1962 at 8 p.m. in the PCA Building. Betty Jo Beaty presented a very interesting program on refinishing all types of furniture and illustrated her talk with some pieces that she had done herself. The program proved to be most interesting to every member present.

After the program a business meeting was held. The District Convention of the Federated Women's Clubs is coming up in April and several members of the Los Planos Study Club are planning to attend. The Convention is to be held in Plainview. After the business meeting, cake, coffee and cokes were served to all by the hostesses for the meeting, Polly Wampler and Sammie Sumrow.

Favorite Recipes Are Shared By Mrs. Simmons

Mrs. M. E. Simmons has had many requests for recipes - and she has graciously consented to share two new ones with The Journal readers.

These two recipes were obtained by Mrs. Simmons sister, Mrs. Jess Paker (Twila) of Olton, who in turn, had requested them after enjoying them at a housewarming party.

This then is how many good recipes are passed on.

These two sisters have an avid interest in cooking, and share favorite recipes often.

Specialties in the Simmons' household by Lavern are salads and desserts "just all kinds." Daughters Ketha, fourth grade DeShazo student, and Muleshoe High School sophomore Barbara, assist in food preparation around the Simmons home too. Barbara took home economics last year and tried out the Heavenly Hash salad last Sunday. Ketha is more interested in the final results of her mother and sister's cooking affairs.

"Red is a 'meat, potatoes and tossed salad' man" his wife insists, but we all love new ideas in salads particularly.

And now for recipes - naturally, for a salad and a desert - which sound most interesting and tasty:

The program included both Texas Heritage and Texas Federation in the theme "New Frontiers in the Woman's World." Mrs. Lester LaGrange, a charter member of Amherst Study Club, and a pioneer of Amherst, spoke on "Pioneer Women of our Area in Texas." Her talk was followed most fittingly by Caprock District Federation President, Mrs. A. E. Boyd of Plainview, whose subject was "New Frontiers in the Woman's World." Mrs. Boyd has been a member of a federated club since 1918.

Ladies Golf Association Starts Season With Bang

The Muleshoe Ladies Golf Association is starting the season of very good turn-outs. The thing that is getting them to brave the severe weather is a contest between two teams. The contest is causing quite a bit of interest. The losing team will treat the winning team to a dinner at the end of two months, then two new captains will be chosen to finish out the summer.

Those playing March 14 were: Mildred Lambert, who was the winner of a golf ball for the most 5s on 4 par holes, Wanda Hardy, Marie White, and Mary Frances Holt tied for a ball for the most 3s on hold no. 5. Agriculture Act Will Be Discussed Mon.

Farmers and grain dealers throughout the High Plains area will have an opportunity to hear legislation currently before Congress, analyzed by national leaders Monday, March 26. The information and education session is being jointly announced and sponsored by the Texas Association of Wheat Growers and the Grain Sorghum Producers Association. The meeting will be at the Herring Hotel, Amarillo, beginning at 9 a.m. through 12 noon.

Dr. John A. Schnitker, Economic Analyst on Secretary Freeman's Staff, Washington, D. C. "Food and Agriculture Act of 1962" which is generally referred to as the Administration's bill, calling for continued price support, acreage adjustment and gradual stock reduction together with reduced Treasury outlay.

The "Cropland Retirement Act of 1962" which is commonly referred to as the "Soil Bank Act", calling for diversion of whole farms from production and a rental payment for voluntary participation will be analyzed by a nationally known speaker now being selected.

The "Projected Economic Outlook and Need for Effective Farm Policy" will be discussed by the head of the Department of Agriculture Economics at Texas Technological College, Dr. J. Wayland Bennett.

The presidents of the two sponsoring organizations, Mr. Frank Moore of Plainview and Mr. Kenneth Kendrick of Stratford, stress that there will be ample time for discussion of comments and questions from the floor. They urge that anyone seeking further information about current farm programs take full advantage of the opportunity to receive firsthand information from these nationally known experts who will be at the meeting.

Directors of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association will hold their regular annual meeting and election of an Executive Committee at 1:30 p.m. also on Monday, March 26th, at the Herring Hotel, Amarillo.

Refreshments of cake and punch were served at the close of the meeting.

Kelly Honored By Mobil During Amarillo Meet

J. W. Kelly, wholesaler for Mobil Oil Company in Muleshoe, has been awarded a silver plaque by the Company, honoring him for 10 years of "cordial business relations." Some 100 wholesalers, wives and Mobil officials attended the recent awards dinner at the Amarillo Country Club where Mr. Kelly and others were honored.

G. J. Gregor of Dallas, Manager of Mobil's Southwest Marketing Division, spoke at the dinner and cited the wholesalers' valuable service to their communities as well as the Company. Praising these records of cordial business relations, he said that it is only through the efforts of businessmen such as these that a community and a company can hope to grow and prosper.

Losses May Be Tax Deductible

Losses from fire, storm, shipwreck or other casualty losses, and theft losses may be deducted on federal income tax returns under certain conditions. Ellis Campbell, Jr., Director of Internal Revenue Service for the Dallas District, said today.

Symptoms Given For Infectious Hepatitis

(Editor's note: The following article prepared by Muleshoe and Bailey County health officers, is published at the recommendation of the State Board of Health)

Infectious Hepatitis is an infection of the body which attacks the liver and intestines. It is primarily a disease of school-age children and young adults. This disease may occur anytime of the year, but is less prevalent in the summer.

It is not known for sure just how infectious hepatitis spreads. Since the virus can be found in body wastes of infected persons, it is probably most often spread through the infected body waste products by direct contact with the patient, and sometimes by soiled fingers, objects, or by food and water contaminated with the virus from infected human feces.

Neither antibiotics nor sulfa drugs are effective against the viruses of infectious hepatitis. Rest in bed, sometimes for several weeks, and proper diet are essential to the patient's recovery. Isolation of the patient during the first week of illness is required.

To prevent the spread of infectious hepatitis to others in the household, sanitary disposal of body discharges and strict cleanliness in the care of the patient must be observed. Everyone should observe all phases of personal hygiene, especially hand washing after visits to the bathroom. Patients with hepatitis may have a few or all of the following symptoms:

1. Washed-out feeling, like flu or gripe.
2. Aches in the head, back or joints.
3. Fever, nausea and vomiting.
4. Tenderness over liver or "heaviness" in the abdomen.
5. Yellow (jaundiced) appearance of whites of eyes or skin. (Remember children with hepatitis usually do not become jaundiced.)

Some points to remember: anyone can get infectious hepatitis, if any of the symptoms are noticed, or anyone in your family has been exposed, call your family physician immediately.

Methodist Minister Will Tour Russia This Summer

Approval was given at a Church conference of the First Methodist Church Sunday for Reverend J. Frank Peery to be a member in a Churchmen's Study Tour of Europe and Russia this summer.

The annual study tour of the Division of Peace and World Order of the Board of Christian Social Concerns will begin on July 21 in New York and end there 6 weeks later on August 31. Half of time will be spent in Czechoslovakia, Poland, and the Soviet Union, for the stated reason that the cold war between the East and West is the major threat to the human race.

The other half will be spent in the significant centers of London, England; Geneva, Switzerland; Helsinki and Stockholm, Sweden; Berlin and Bonn Germany; The Hague, Amsterdam and Holland.

TOUR LEADER
The Tour will be led by Carl Soule, Executive Secretary for the Division of Peace and World Order at the Methodist United Nations Office in New York. It is a Pilgrimage Associates Tour and will be operated by American Express World Travel Service.

Soule wrote that "the experiences he (Rev. Peery) will receive will be valuable to him, the church, the conference, and the jurisdiction. Make him your eyes, ears, and heart in European capitals and the Soviet Union, he will return and report his experiences 50 and 100 fold, as members have done in other years."

"It will be a short course in World Theology," Rev. Peery said. "There will be conferences with political, religious, and peace leaders, sight-seeing, preaching, and mingling with the people."

The emphasis in the Study Tour will be upon conferences with persons who have information or insights to offer in areas of religion, world peace, the United Nations, politics, and culture.

Included in the Russian portion of the tour will not only be the metropolitan centers of Moscow and Leningrad, but also the Asiatic cities of Tashkent and Samarkand. Because of the entrance of the Orthodox Churches of Russia and Poland into the World Council of Churches, conferences with church leaders in those nations will have special interest.

IS CHAIRMAN
The study tour is especially designed to enlarge the capacities for effective work of Methodists who are conference, district, or local church officers in Social Concerns or Social Relations. Rev. Peery is the chairman of the Board of Social Concerns in the district conference and is vice-chairman for the South Central Jurisdictional Board of Christian Social Concerns.

The First Methodist finance commission board and officials of the board unanimously voted to send their pastor on the tour.

Guests in the Frank Ellis home Sunday were his mother, Mrs. Helen Ellis, his grandmother, Mrs. W. L. Molyneux, his sister, Miss Berna Ruth Ellis and a family friend, Mrs. Elizabeth Fuqua, all of Amarillo.

REV. J. FRANK PEERY

The first contribution to the tour fund was given Sunday evening by the Methodist Youth group who expressed great pleasure in planning for their pastor to become informed by reason of personal experiences he will obtain on this study tour.

Thirty churchmen from all over the United States have been selected for the study tour.

Week after week carefully tabulated figures published in "Automotive Market Reports" show that Chevrolet trucks are worth more in resale value.

why?

If you were a professional used truck buyer, why would you pay more for one make than another?

There may be several reasons, but among them would be:

1. A greater demand for the product
2. A more desirable product for resale

So if used Chevrolet trucks consistently bring higher prices at auctions all over the country, it means that their quality features pay off for you not only as long as you own them but also when you are ready to trade them—double-wall cabs, doors and side panels, roof insulation, select wood floors, reliable and economical engines, real rugged tailgates, a suspension system that helps prolong truck life.

SANDHILLS PHILOSOPHER CLAIMS

Tourist Trade Fine Until Other States Get In On It

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm takes a backward look at the tourist business, his letter this week reveals.
Dear editor:
I read the other day that a state official said Texas isn't getting all the tourist dollars it ought to and more effort ought to be spent getting more people to visit us, that not only is the state worth seeing but tourists leave a lot of money around when they come through.

This made sense, but then the next day I read where another state was making the same plea, then the article went on to list the amount of revenue several other states report they get from tourist dollars.
Now I'm no mathematician, but if Texas pulls a hundred thousand visitors from New Mexico, and then that state pulls a hundred thousand from Texas, it looks to be like the net gain will stay about what it was before the tourists left home, although filling station people in both states went agree.

If all 50 states are going to increase their wealth by increasing their tourist business, each one pulling visitors from all the others, it looks to me like it'll wind up with about the same total revenue every state had to start with.

For example, if Oregon pulls a million tourists from Texas, and Texas pulls a million from Oregon, or New York gets a million from California and vice versa, or any other combination you want to name, won't this be about like everybody in Muleshoe trying to make money by taking in each other's laundry?

Understand, I don't blame the states for trying to pick up some tourist money, every state I ever heard of needs more revenue, and the tourist business is here to stay, come summer and the people will strike out, but I hope no state is looking to me to help them out. Frankly, I ain't going to intend to stay right here on this Johnson grass farm and see it on television.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Grade Crossings Are School Bus Hazard

Texas 8,240 school bus drivers drive almost one-half million miles each school day in direct control over the lives and safety of more than 420,000 school children, according to Richard M. Cummins consultant, School Bus Transportation, Texas Educational Agency.

Daily mileage for a school bus varies from a low of 23 miles in one district to a high of around 229 miles per day in one West Texas sparsely-settled area.

"To cover safely these miles, drivers' actions are guided by Texas laws and strict conformity with these safety laws is a matter of grave concern to all citizens," Cummins said.

One of the greatest hazards to bus safety is failure to stop at railroad grade crossings. This precaution is not left to the driver's choice but is spelled out in Article 6701D, Sec. 88 of Vernon's Civil Statutes.

"The driver of any school bus carrying any school child, before crossing at grade any track or tracks of a railroad, shall stop such vehicle within fifty (50) feet but not less than fifteen (15) feet from the nearest rail, and, while so stopped, listen and look in both directions along such tracks for any approaching train, except as hereinafter provided, and shall not proceed until he can do so safely."

"Only exceptions are: A crossing where a police officer or a traffic-controlled signal directs traffic to proceed, and at street-railway grade crossing within a business or residence district."

The stop must be a genuine, non-afraid stop rather than a perfunctory pause which might satisfy legal requirements without affording the real protection sought and demanded.

The National Safety Council in a March Newsletter comments: "While collisions of trains with buses in recent years have been relatively few, the number of persons killed and injured is higher than in the average motor vehicle collision."

"In accidents of this nature, school buses appear to predominate in number, and the fact that they are transporting school children places special emphasis upon the necessity for maximum precautions."

Newest allies of the State Department of Education and the Department of Public Safety in enforcing the grade crossing regulations on the full stop are railroad crews.

These crews have observed that some school bus drivers are not making the required stops. Each violation observed is now reported immediately and directly to local school authorities.

Following is a typical railroad crew report to school officers on a near miss in January, 1962: "Confirming telephone advice given your office by our local agent at 7:30 a.m. today, our north-bound freight train Extra 5033 crew members observed (Blank) County school bus No. XX fail to stop until bus was on the (Blank) crossing."

"The bus, loaded with children, backed off the crossing in time to avoid being struck by a train."

"In view of the seriousness of this matter, we are sure you will cause an immediate investigation to be conducted advising us as quickly as possible the name of the person responsible and the handling given by the Board of Education with this person and other drivers to be sure there is not a recurrence."

An individual repetition is impossible in many of the 1,438 school districts in Texas, according to Cummins, as many of the districts will discharge a driver immediately if he violates this particular rule.

The B-70 Again

The House Armed Services Committee has expressed its unanimous disagreement with Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara, in "directing" that the B-70 supersonic jet bomber be constructed for the nation's defense.

This is a victory for General Curtis LeMay, Air Force Chief of Staff, and for all those who have argued against complete reliance on rockets and missiles in the immediate future.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower, and President John Kennedy after him, both accepted recommendations of their Defense Secretaries that the B-70 be built only as a prototype—two or three aircraft. Congress dissented and voted funds for building B-70's. But the executive branch of government did not spend the money.

Now Congress is preparing for a constitutional test, relying on Article I, Section 8, of the Constitution, which gives the Congress the power to raise and support the armed forces. If the bill passed by the House Armed Services Committee passes Congress, then it will be up to the Defense Department to defy a specific law, if the B-70 is not built.

The Air Force, which favors the B-70 program, thinks that it is a mistake to place all-out reliance on missiles at this stage of their development. It points out that both bombers and that the B-70 which will fly three times the speed of sound, will give the United States a reliable air arm to do what missiles might not, or cannot do.

This is sound reasoning, General LeMay is, of course, right. There can be no gambling on missiles if maximum security is to be obtained. Even if the B-70 proves unneeded, it should be built. But General LeMay lost his personal appeal at the White House. He won the first battle in Congress, however.

Foreign Policy

The greatest failure of the Kennedy Administration is becoming increasingly clear—it is in the field of foreign policy.

It is ironic that a Democratic Administration is failing so globally in the foreign policy field. Over the years it has more often, been Republican isolationism which lost the United States allies and proved damaging.

But, presently, it is beginning to look like the prestige and reputation of President Dwight D. Eisenhower is needed again—and the forcefulness of John Foster Dulles, at least in the field of foreign policy. President Kennedy has announced effective goals and wise policies but able execution and leadership is not there.

Thus, in Europe, in South America, and in other areas of the world, our foreign policy for the past fourteen months has failed badly. Drastic reorganization of the State Department leadership is obviously a "must" for the President if his administration is not to be heavily handicapped in the future in its record in foreign relations.

The American Cancer Society reports that more men than women died of cancer last year. This has been true since 1949. The ratio in 1962 will be about 34 men to 46 women. The best protection against cancer is early detection and prompt treatment.

IT'S THE LAW IN TEXAS

INCOME TAX EXEMPTIONS AND DEDUCTIONS

You are entitled to a $600 deduction on your income tax return for each exemption. If you are in an income bracket where you will have to pay a tax, this will result in a minimum reduction of your tax of $120.

The basic exemptions are those for the taxpayer and his spouse. You are entitled to one exemption each, plus an additional exemption of $600 for each of you who reaches the age 65 during the taxable year or who is blind.

In addition to exemptions for you and your spouse, you may claim a $600 exemption for relatives who receive less than $600 gross income during a taxable year and who receive more than you. Non-relatives also can constitute dependents which will entitle you to a dependency deduction where they satisfy the same rules, and when they live in your home.

GANGSTERISM

When people talk, as some do talk, about "Better Red than dead," what do they mean? It is doubtful if many of them really know. Surely no thinking American can believe in his heart that we should give up to an enemy that would destroy us in the very instant of our surrender.

The record is clear and terrifying. Forty-odd years of communism have proved one thing beyond any doubt, and this is that the communist party is the sole judge, once the Mistaken take over a nation, as to who is to be murdered or sent to a political prison or a slave labor camp.

All the historical proof of this that anyone could need is provided in Soviet Russia, the Red states, Communist China, and Tibet. The FBI and of congressional committees reveal that the Mistaken plans for the take over of the United States call for the ultimate liquidation, imprisonment or enslavement of no less than one-third of the entire population. Regardless of what some of our own citizens may think, communism is not just a philosophy or an ideology or an economy or a religion. Communism is a cruel and calculating conspiracy which uses deceit, double-talk, and treachery to achieve its original goal, then uses torture, murder, and enslavement to perpetuate itself in power. Communism is gangsterism on a gigantic and international scale.

Your child, if under 19 or a student, can be a dependent for which you will be entitled to an exemption, whether or not he or she earns in excess of $600 gross income, where you provide more than one-half of the actual cost of supporting the child. Amounts received by the student child as a scholarship are not counted.

The standard or optional deduction is available to you if you do not desire to itemize your personal expenses.

Law such as real estate taxes, charitable contributions and medical expenses.

These personal deductions are deductions from a figure called Adjusted Gross Income. Adjusted gross income is gross income less exclusions, such as the sick pay exclusion, and deductions for business expenses and related items such as expenses incurred in connection with property which you hold for the production of rents or royalties.

The determination of whether or not you should use the standard deduction should be made by comparing the net tax which you will pay under both methods of filing your return. The final method used should be based upon a consideration of the relative cost of filing under either method, the amount of personal deductions you have incurred and your ability to sustain the burden of proving the accuracy of your itemized deductions.

A general rule of thumb would indicate that you will pay less tax by itemizing your deductions where you own your own home and pay substantial real estate taxes and mortgage interest. However, there can definitely be other situations where the itemization method will benefit you tax-wise.

Capital Punishment

Nikolai Kotlyar has been sentenced to death by a Soviet court for theft of government property.

Apparently, Mr. Kotlyar set up a private lipstick factory in the basement of a house he owned in a northern suburb of Moscow. According to the Soviet press, he obtained chemical formulas, equipment and lipstick cases from a cosmetic plant in Latvia. In 1960 alone, Kotlyar obtained about 60,000 lipstick cases from a factory in Latvia. Several of the Latvian factory officials were on his private payroll.

Another widely publicized trial in the Soviet Union recently was the case of a 74-year-old man who has been condemned to death by shooting because he speculated in currency. These two death sentences focus attention on the fact that the Russians have recently extended the death penalty to include a number of lesser crimes. Originally, the death penalty in Russia was limited mainly to political crimes. Now, persons stealing state property, or speculating in currency, or found guilty of graft, are subject to the death penalty.

While the Soviets are expanding the number of crimes which bring the death penalty, most civilized nations are moving in the direction of abolishing capital punishment or, at least, limiting it to a very few serious felonies such as murder.

The fact that the Russians are resorting to such serious punishment for relatively minor offenses indicates difficulty in the Soviet Union controlling crime. It also shows the low regard which the Soviet officials have for human life and their willingness to adopt the means to achieve a given result, despite the fact that injustices result.

Soviet Russia's Communism refuses to place proper emphasis on the dignity of the individual and the importance of human personality. Communism is based on expediency and those who live under the Communist system can expect neither justice nor freedom from terror.

BROAD MINDEDNESS

Jesus said in Matthew 7:13, 14, "Enter ye in at the strait gate: for wide is the gate, and broad is the way, that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in thereat; because strait is the gate, and narrow is the way, which leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it." It appears that many American people are saying let us be broad minded about Christianity. The same people that want the church and Christianity to be broad minded would not want the science laboratory to be broad minded. The mathematic problem two plus two equals four. It never equals four and one half but always four. This is narrow but we want mathematics narrow. In geometry a straight line is the shortest distance between two points. That is dogmatic and narrow but geometry is narrow.

If you ask someone the way to Lubbock and he replied that any road would take you to Lubbock, his sanity would be questionable. Yet, many of the American people believe that all roads lead to heaven.

Jesus Christ the one who has traveled the road from earth to heaven tells us the road is narrow. He does not indicate it is easy to travel but it has a great reward at the end. He tells us in Acts 2:21 how to get on that road, "And it shall come to pass, that whosoever shall call on the name of the Lord shall be saved."

Richard Minckler Takes Three Year Commercial Class

Richard Minckler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Minckler, Sr. has enrolled in a three year art course with the Minneapolis Art Institute of Minneapolis, Minn.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex.—State campaign headquarters for candidates for Congressman-at-large report that considerable confusion exists about this particular race.

Many voters seem to think that the various candidates for Congressman-at-large are running against the present office holders. Namely the Congressmen now representing the various Congressional districts in the State.

They are not!

This is a statewide race where in Texas gets an extra Congressman—representing all the people of Texas, not just a district.

This office is being created because the population of Texas has increased sufficient to entitle it to an additional representative in Washington.

The Texas Legislature has the right to re-district the state to provide for an extra Congressman. But the Legislature has not yet done so. Alternative therefore is to create a statewide position.

Therefore, the following candidates are competing against each other for this high post and not against any present office holder.

DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY: Judge Woodrow Wilson Bean of El Paso; Manley Head of Austin; Warren C. Moore of Tyler; Joe R. Pool of Dallas; Charles H. Stevenson Jr. of Corpus Christi; Russell T. Van Keuren of Houston; and Phil Willis of Scurry.

REPUBLICAN PRIMARY: Desmond Barry of Houston; Giles E. Miller of Dallas; and Joe B. Phillips of Lubbock.

A Congressmen-at-large race is not without precedent in Texas. The same thing happened in 1952. Martin Dies was elected and served from 1952 to 1958.

THUNDER FROM THE TOP—When GOP's from all over the state gathered in Austin for the State Republican Executive Committee meeting Monday, democratic pressure to hold primaries in every precinct was a topic of conversation.

Jim Leonard, GOP executive director, criticized the SDEC for urging county clerks to refuse to place Republican candidates on the November ballot unless the Republicans held a primary in every precinct. Leonard charged that it was the same as asking them to break the election laws.

He likened the democratic announcement to "thunder from the top" and called the issue a tempest in a teapot and a compliment to the growth of his party in Texas.

TEXTBOOK CHOICES POSTPONED—The State Board of Education voted to postpone the decision of whether to reorder high school solid geometry, economics and shop texts, as well as one matter of revising these courses is decided.

Several board members also asked a committee to read the economics textbook, because they objected to its content. Objectors all were attorneys.

Penrose Metcalf of San Angelo asked to hold up on drivers' course text, because he questions a recent decision to change this class from eighth to ninth grade.

He said some West Texas superintendents want it kept in the eleventh grade, since most of their students drive by that time, anyway. He will ask for a vote at the April meeting, to put the 1942 - Clifton Finely left Sunday for Dallas from where he will be assigned to duty with the Navy.

20 YEARS AGO

1942 - Some of the local residents who registered for service in 1942 were Tye C. Young, Major Woods, Gilbert Wollard, Barry Lewis, Newbie Moore, Eddie Lane, Joe Sam Damron, Cephas Roebuck, A. P. "Shorty" Lambert, Byron Griffith, and Horace McAdams.

1942 - Members of the Fairview Home Demonstration club met Friday in the Fields home and completed a friendship quilt which was given to Mrs. Alma Whittington who is moving to Arkansas. Those working on the quilt were Mmes. Bella Veslor, John Williams, Nina Rector, Pauline Meacham, Thelma Wallace, Mae Schuster, Lessie Gordon, Ona Young, and Opal Fields.

1942 - The Bailey County Red Cross sewing room has been moved to the King building downtown. For more than a year the sewing room has shared the Sunday school quarter of the Muleshoe Methodist Church. The sewing room is now Community-wide responsibility, and the methods adopted by the women in charge are such as to require a larger amount of space to accommodate the increased number of tables and machines.

On behalf of the 500 members of the Bailey County Red Cross and the scores of ladies who are engaged in war production, we express appreciation for the use of the Methodist church until other quarters could be acquired.

course back in the eighth grade.

WATER WORK DIVIDED—After 10 years, Vice President Lyndon Johnson finally got an answer as to who will do what toward implementing the $4,000,000 plan to provide for Texas water and soil conservation, flood control, navigation, water supply and irrigation projects.

Federal agencies now have agreed that the Army Corps of Engineers and the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation each will take on about $1,000,000,000 worth of dam and conveyance construction; local and state agencies will assume $1,000,000,000 worth of work; and the U. S. Soil Conservation Service will handle $200,000,000 worth of small dam and soil conservation work.

Balance of the project is navigation, irrigation, recreation and local flood protection.

Agreement still needs approval at the Washington level, but for the first time in its history, Texas has a water plan and water agencies and engineers have come to an understanding on Texas future water needs.

The Texas Water Commission endorsed the work division agreement.

HOLDS ON—Gov. Price Daniel reports that directors of the Texas Rehabilitation Center at Gonzales have rescinded their order to close the center. They will keep it open at least until May 5, to wait the outcome of a campaign to raise $100,000 through private donations.

Governor Daniel called for public support of the drive, and said he will recommend action by the Legislature to continue the services the center offers to victims of crippling accidents and diseases.

Fifty-four patients now are under treatment in the "Gonzales Warm Springs." If operating funds were available, the foundation could care for 120 patients.

SHORT SHORT SNORTS—U. S. Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges has told Governor Daniel he will speak at the "Visit USA" Tourist Conference in Dallas, April 9. Governors and representatives from several Southwestern states will attend. District and county attorneys, judges, police chiefs, sheriffs and other law enforcers are being asked to attend the Citizens Law Enforcement committee's March 23 meeting in the State Capitol. The State Highway Department has just issued a handsome four-color 1962 highway travel map of Texas. It features an illustrated guide to vacation and historical spots. In addition, it presents color photographs of tourist attractions.

Reinke Named Publicity Head For Oil and Gas

The Texas oil and gas industry's public information and service program will be directed here in 1962 by C. A. Reinke, Production Geology Supervisor, Mobil Oil Company.

His appointment as Bailey and Cochran Counties chairman of the Oil Information Committee was announced at a meeting held in Lubbock March 8 by J. M. McLaughlin, Lubbock, South Plains Area Chairman for OIC.

The Texas oil information program provides speakers, films, demonstrations, informational materials and exhibits to local civic groups and community functions. Educational materials are made available without charge to teachers and students in Texas junior and senior high schools.

"The oil and gas industry is a vital economic force in Texas and we want to be helpful to those in this area who desire a better understanding of the industry and its functions," McLaughlin said.

In the Cancer Progress Year, the American Cancer Society is emphasizing that about 173,000 Americans will be saved from cancer in 1962.

Dr. Baker Speaks To Bailey County Unit Of Teachers

Educational resiliency that can furnish answers to a wide range of questions is a major requirement for meeting the needs of present day students, according to Dr. Baker, president of South Plains Junior College, Levelland.

Speaking at a dinner meeting of the Bailey County Unit of the Texas State Teachers Association on March 5 in the Three Way School cafeteria, Dr. Baker stressed the necessity of educating children as individuals, so that each becomes "well-rounded, harmonious."

School children, he said, should be trained only in democratic learning situations and that they should be allowed to select the area for their own life work. Only a resilient system with a varied curriculum can meet this need, Dr. Baker stated.

Attending the meeting were 19 teachers from Three Way and Bula. Fifteen wives and husbands of the teachers attended as guests.

The dinner was prepared by Mrs. E. B. Julian and Mrs. E. T. Batters in the Three Way School. Girls assisting with serving hospitalities were members of the Three Way eighth grade class, grade girls from Three Way served. Mrs. Ivan Prewett, sponsor of the Three Way eighth grade, was in charge of arrangements, which followed a Saint Patrick's day motif.

Music appropriate to the motif was furnished by Wenonah Williams with a piano solo and by the singing of Irish songs by Ann Courtney, Lynda Sims, Jean Tyson, and Sandra Kenley, with piano accompaniment by Wenona All are students at Three Way High School.

James Courtney, president of the local unit, was elected to represent it at the District 13 House of Delegates Banquet in Lubbock on March 8.

SPECIAL WASHINGTON REPORT

President Faces Up To A-B-C-D's Of Farming

By Senator Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.)
Assistant Majority Leader

President Kennedy has asked the Nation to learn the A-B-C-D's of agriculture—A balance, B balance, C conservation, and D development in Rural America.

The President's farm program faces up to the difficulties that have beset agricultural production and distribution. It tackles the basic challenge posed by the decline in agricultural income and the ever-increasing accumulation of surpluses at public expense.

The President's farm program accepts the fact of our agricultural abundance as an asset and not a liability.

This is an Abundance to be used at home and abroad, for domestic and foreign markets. It is to be used to strengthen American foreign policy, to promote economic development in the underdeveloped countries and to aid in the humanitarian work of preventing famine and saving the lives of millions of children who suffer from undernourishment.

The program recognizes the need for a Balance between production and consumption. This balance, however, must be obtained without serious economic injury to our farmers and the overall American economy.

The President has frankly told the Nation that if there are to be Government price supports and other assistance for agriculture, then farm producers must be willing to accept workable limitations on production. Programs to limit production or provide for orderly marketing will require the vote and support of over two-thirds of the producers. The government and the farmers must accept responsibility for production management.

The President's program will cut back on accumulated surpluses, reduce the cost of storage and stabilize the price of agricultural commodities in the market place. This is its purpose.

The President emphasizes the importance of Conservation. He calls for an end of waste of human, land and water resources.

The program strongly emphasizes that a rich and fertile land is one of our basic resources—to be guarded and improved rather than wasted and exploited.

Finally, the President looks at rural America as a land of opportunity.

He has outlined a program of Rural Development, stressing industrial expansion and vocational retraining for part time farmers who may need to supplement their income.

The Kennedy farm program is not merely a set of economic tables and production statistics. It deals with the living standards of people in rural America and promises improvement. The social and economic values of the family farm are acclaimed and strengthened.

The program asks the Nation to set aside land for recreation. It promotes rural housing and the modernization of the family farm home. It strengthens farmer owned and operated cooperatives. It seeks to provide new opportunities for rural youth.

This is a message of hope. It looks to the future and comes to grips with the problems of today.

It involves no dictation from the Government. It places before the Congress a program that permits American farmers to work together for the progress of their families, the country and the world.

Floyd County Fair Gets Land, Building

LOCKNEY—The Floyd County Fair Association now has a home of its own, thanks to a gift of land and a building from Anderson, Clayton & Co., Inc., through its Paymaster Seed Farms Manager, Dr. Harold D. Loden. The presentation of the deed was made at the Lockney Chamber of Commerce Annual Banquet held in the Lockney High School gymnasium Friday night.

Presenting the gift on behalf of the parent company, Dr. Loden handed over a deed to the 26 acres, on which a building is situated now being used as the site of Floyd County's Annual Fair, and Hershel Carthel, President of the Floyd County Fair Association, received the document on behalf of the association.

In his remarks during the presentation, Loden stated, "People at Paymaster Seed Farms, being home-folks and also a part of Anderson, Clayton & Co., Inc., are delighted to see this property come to the Floyd County Fair Association, and we are hopeful that it will begin an even more satisfying era of interest by the people of this area in agriculture and livestock programs to which such a facility lends its potential."

"We at Paymaster Farms have been greatly aided by the spirit and substance of cooperation of the people in our home county and on the Plains, so much so that we have enjoyed growth at the same high rate as the Plains Area has progressed. For this reason, and many others, we feel privileged to present on behalf of Anderson, Clayton & Co. a deed to the Lockney Mill properties, and it is a true thrill to place it in the hands of the Fair Association."

"It does not end here, for Paymaster Seed Farms wishes very much to be a part of the Floyd County Fair activities and those other events which promise to find a home in the fair building, especially in the movements of agriculture and livestock."

HE RUSHED TO HELP

NORTH ROSE, N.Y. (AP)—M. E. Phillips says people do emotional, unpredictable and sometimes foolish things when there is a fire. A farmhouse blaze here in the middle of the night attracted a neighbor who rushed over to help.

"Is there anything I can do?" he asked a volunteer fireman.

"Yes!" shouted the fireman. "Get a pail of water!"

"Okay!" yelled the man, and darted away.

In a moment he was back, but without the pail.

"Do you want well water or rain water?" he asked the fireman.

Parmer County Farm Bureau News

Membership work will have been practically completed by the time you read this. The quota for the year is 540, but we believe it may exceed that by quite a bit before the first of November.

Your membership is solicited and welcomed for the strengthening of the largest farm organization, and the only national farm organizations in every state but Alaska but including Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

Anyway, this is a way for you to get your ideas on farming on the record. And if your idea is popular with fellow farmers, you may have as many as a million and a half members pulling with you.

Why is it, we wonder, that AP news releases regarding the text book investigations held in Amarillo appeared in only one other Texas newspaper? Is it possible that there is some suppression of this kind of news in even some localities in our great state?

What would you know about the true history of your native state and nation if you had not learned it in the class room? A knowledge of the history of society and government is necessary for the correct understanding of the present and future.

We are, incidentally, of the opinion that text books used in our schools of this county probably are above the average in quality. You parents of school children should make it your business to know. It is as simple as reading the history book of your child. If it is not basically the same as you read as a student, chances are there is something wrong.

A recent letter to a temporarily disabled farmer from the Labor Department gave him a temporary exception to allow him to hire and train domestic workers during the 60 day period" he was expected to be disabled. Does this sound like the United States of America to you, Mr. Farmer?

Ag Secretary Will Speak To Ginners Meeting

DALLAS — Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, John P. Duncan, Jr., will be the main speaker for the 49th Annual Convention of the Texas Cotton Ginners' Association in Dallas April 1-3.

Association president R. L. Massey of Pilot Point announced plans for the convention program and exhibit of gin machinery, supplies and equipment which will be held in the Agricultural and Varied Industries Building on the State Fair Grounds.

Massey said he expected over 6,000 ginners and their guests to attend the meeting. It is the largest gathering of ginning industry representatives in the world with over 90 exhibits valued at over two million dollars. The state organization represents cotton gin owners and operators from all cotton producing areas of Texas.

Assistant Secretary Duncan will speak on the afternoon of Monday, April 2. Special recognition will be given to R. K. "Rufe" Phillips, Texas outstanding ginner of the year; Henry Wendland, Nueces County 4-H Club winner of the TCGA annual award for the state's top 4-H cotton producer; and over 100 ginners for accident free operation of their gins during the past season.

Annual 4-H Sale Set At Claude

The Armstrong County Annual 4-H Club Farm Machinery Sale will be held April 14 at Claude, Texas. This sale not only provides an opportunity for farmers and ranchers to dispose of surplus equipment, but also makes available many bargains to buyers. This sale was among the first of its kind in this section of the country, and has attracted statewide attention. Gross sales have reached $15,000 in a single year.

A small commission is collected on all items sold or passed out. These proceeds help finance activities of the Armstrong County 4-H Clubs. Auctioneers will be Phil and Cal Walker of Claude, Texas, who donate their services each year for this event.

Anyone wishing to consign equipment for this sale should contact Bo Wheeler, County Agent, Claude, Texas.

Farm Facts

A few years ago many fruits and vegetables were available only in season. A U. S. Department of Agriculture bulletin reminds us, however, that we can now enjoy crisp lettuce, garden-fresh sweet corn, tree-ripened peaches, and many other fruits and vegetables the year around.

This farm freshness comes to us as a result of modern marketing, handling, and transportation methods.

A carload of lettuce shipped from California to eastern markets used to consist of 20,000 pounds of lettuce and 40,000 pounds of ice. Vacuum-cooled lettuce now is shipped in refrigerated trucks and rail cars. Savings in packing and shipping more than offset cost of the new cooling method.

Improved handling and marketing not only give us better food but save us money on our food bill. Few cooling and packaging methods cut shipping costs of Texas carrots by $1 million a year.

Research on refrigerating California grapes brought savings of $780,000 a year. Better refrigeration and condoning cut tomato costs several million dollars annually.

RADIATOR — PHONE BROUGHT HELP

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — A radiator that talked led to discovery of a woman who had broken her leg in a fall and had remained helpless on a bathroom floor for six hours.

Mrs. Merle Smith said she heard radiator noises when she got up one morning. "I don't know why I put my ear to the radiator," she said. "But when I did I could hear someone saying, 'Help, help.'"

On investigation, she found that Mrs. Neil Grant, who lives in the apartment below Mrs. Smith's, had fallen and broken her leg and had been stranded there until her cries were heard via the radiator.

To ask that a message be repeated, a Morse code telegrapher need only open his key.

Speech Students To Present Contest Play

The Muleshoe High School speech department will present its contest play "Antigone" in the interscholastic league contest next Thursday afternoon at 2. The Muleshoe group will compete against other schools in district 2-AA.

The MHS group presented the play last weekend at Eastern New Mexico's Drama Festival for constructive criticism, and Moore was well pleased with the rating his student received.

The play as a whole received an "Excellent" rating. Moore said, and three members of the cast received special ratings. "Superior," and Jerry Don Coulter and Ronda Johnson received the "Excellent" rating.

"After hearing the ratings for some of the other schools, we thought the judges were very complimentary," said Moore.

Driving Tips

By CHARLOTTE MORGAN
The Psychology of the Driver.

Drivers differ according to abilities, habits and attitudes. Drivers who have accidents often are called accident-prone drivers.

There are bad risks as drivers. The egotist considers nothing but his own interests and immediate desires. The egotist thinks the world revolves around him. Babies are good examples of the perfect egotist. They have not learned how to be unselfish and have not learned how to share.

The show-off discloses that he has never properly grown up. The show-off is like the child dangling his candy in other children's faces. He is competitive and boastful. Often a show-off is suffering from a sense of inferiority which he tries to cover up by appearing to be superior. He doesn't stop to realize how ridiculous he looks to others.

The over-emotional cannot control his emotions. The over-emotional gets excited too easily. Sometimes he expresses his anger by driving recklessly. This only leads to trouble.

The Rationalizer will not admit his faults. He is a person who never learns to face facts squarely. He blames everything on someone else. The thwarted tries to make - up for failure. The thwarted sometimes feels unimportant. The unimportant fellow looks for a chance to appear "Getting even" with drivers who pass him.

Making pedestrians scramble to safety. Talking "big" to traffic officers and other drivers. "Giving the dust" to smaller or older cars.

Now lets take a look at the mental make-up of a top-notch driver. The top-notch driver has motor skill, balance and self-control. He has good social attitudes and shows good adjustment and maturity. These characteristics show up in evidences of his:

Acceptance of responsibility. Self control, good sportsmanship, forethought, controlled attention, good judgement, and good sense of humor.

OTWELLS TO OPENING OF CREATERTVILLE PARK
 Mr. and Mrs. Jerrell Otwell and children, Narsia and Jerry returned Sunday night from a weekend visit in Vernon with the Dan Dunn Family. The Otwells and Dunns went to the Spring opening of Createrville Park located near Altus, Oklahoma on Sunday.

They enjoyed the Indian ceremonial dances which were presented by tribes dressed in fabulous many-colored costumes. Some of the dresses worn were 100-150 years old. Feather head-dresses added to the colorful dances. Most impressive was the Eagle dance done by a lone brave covered with eagle feathers.

The Dunns are former Muleshoe residents.

CERAMIC TABLES
INTREGUE LOCAL ARTIST
 Mrs. Euna McLaury returned Wednesday from Hobbs, N.M. where she had been visiting in the home of her daughter, Mrs. M. C. Younger.

Mrs. McLaury and her daughter spent much of their time working on ceramic tables made by Mrs. Younger. Mrs. McLaury said the tables were approximately 20 inches high and the top was 30 inches across. The top is made in five pieces in shape of a pie wedge. She painted an outline on each piece in a scroll design, of moss green background entwined with delicate wire roses pointing toward the table center.

Mrs. McLaury has taught oil painting both here and Hobbs. She plans a return trip to Hobbs in a few weeks.
