Snow ranging up to more than four inches fell throughout the county and area Tuesday night and Wednesday morning, causing numerous onevehicle traffic accidents, closing of some schools, including Wilson, and delays at other schools. Sonora Victory Ends Finest Bulldog Grid Season In Years

By DALTON WOOD

Tahoka gave away the ball on three of the first four times they touched the ball against Sonora in the area playoff game at Monahans last Friday, and also gave up 10 easy points. The early disasters were just too much to overcome against a good team, and the Bulldogs lost 41-7, closing out Tahoka's most successful season in 24 years in terms of playoff success.

Tahoka's 1981 team had a better

The Broncos opened the second half with a long 83-yard drive, all on the ground, for a TD at 6:06 left in the third, making it 27-0. Tahoka came back with a drive in which a holding penalty rubbed out a Solorzano run of 16 to the 4 yard line, then lost the ball on downs at the 15.

Going into the fourth period trailing 27-0, Tahoka had a good chance to score after defensive end Josh McCord completed 15 of 27 passes for 148 yards, and Moore caught 8 passes for 91 yards, including the touchdown. Outstanding on defense were Josh Thompson, who was counted in on 12 tackles from his secondary spot, and Jordon Vega, Long, Martin Garza, Ben Stroope and Derrick Barrientez.

Coach Gerlich told a reporter that he hopes this successful season will be the start of a tradition of Tahoka

I HAVE DECIDED that anything you put into your mouth, including air and water, is bad for you. Not just chocolates and peanuts and steak and gravy, but all foods will kill you. If you look long enough, you can find a study somewhere which has concluded that any food will cause some dreaded disease, like cancer, heart failure, liver failure, kidney failure, brain rot, or rigor mortis.

We would be better off to stop eating altogether. Breathing also is bad for you, but it's tough to stop breathing or eating. Of course, if you could stop those two things entirely, you very soon would have not problems of any kind, physical or otherwise.

Someone brought me a copy of the weekly Friona Star, and it had an interesting feature about a Friona woman who says she has learned, from study and personal experience, that artificial sweeteners can cause dizziness and muscle problems.

This lady, Melba Burleson, said that after her husband of 57 years died in mid-2000, she noticed she was losing her balance and feeling wobbly. She started walking with a shuffling gait to keep from falling, and had a hard time remembering things. (I wish she hadn't said that).

Anyway, she fell a few times and once was unable to get up. Anyway, she started taking a bunch of medical tests and doing research, and her daughter finally logged on to a website which gave her some answers. It was www.presidiotex.com/92symptoms, which the Burlesons said led to other websites listing 92 symptoms associated with aspartame poisoning. Aspartame is the main ingredient in most artificial sweeteners, diet sodas and other products in super markets, according to the story (I didn't check this out; I'm too busy to be concerned with a lot of facts).

Further, the story claimed, when artificially sweetened diet drinks are allowed to get too warm stored in the garage or wherever, it supposedly converts into formaldehyde and then into something called DKP which is a brain tumor agent.

Some diet drink makers reportedly sent free drinks to U.S. soldiers in the Gulf War, and these sat out in the sun and when consumed caused things like loss of memory, headaches, chronic fatigue, joint pain, confusion, shortness of breath, insomnia, etc. (and maybe nightmares involving AI Gore or Jerry Jones?)

Anyway, Mrs. Burleson guit using artificial sweeteners, and has been doing well physically ever since, recovering nicely from some of her earlier problems which disappeared.

But I have trouble drinking coffee black, or eating beans green, and the thought of eating only unsweetened stuff leaves me feeling blue.

KNOTHOLES in the Woodwork: I'm still getting comments from people interested in the First Reader, nursery rhymes and such. And because I wondered what a "limber-lock" was, a man from Wilson came in and said a "limber" was a little cart which went in front of a cannon used in the Civil War. But he wasn't sure about the "lock" part, or even if this was the kind of limber the nursery rhyme referred to. He just barely knows more than I do ... I thought our preacher was getting into Christmas songs kind of early, a few days before Thanksgiving. Someone told me the closing hymn that day was "I Stand Amazed in the Presents."

Commissioners Okay Survey

Lynn County Commissioners approved a request from the Texas Department of Health for county residents to participate in a survey addressing risk factors for health and types of behavior. Lawrence C. Headley, R.D., L.D. of the Texas Dept. of Health met with commissioners to discuss the survey, asking that the county participate in the program with the city and hospital to receive the results of the survey. Commissioners unanimously approved the request.

In other business at Monday morning's regular session, monthly bills were approved and Justice of the Peace Terri Walker informed commissioners that a new software program was needed for her office. Judge Walker was granted permission to investigate software costs and bring back a proposal to commission-won-loss record, 8-3, but lost in the first round of the playoffs. This year's team, coached by Bryan Gerlich, wound up 7-5, losing in the second round of the playoffs.

For a few early seconds, things looked good for Tahoka last Friday, as Stephen Solorzano returned the opening kickoff 40 yards to the Sonora 45. But the first snap from center was fumbled and the Broncos took over at their own 42. Tahoka held, though, and Sonora kicked to the 17. Then on Tahoka's second attempt from scrimmage, the ball was fumbled again and Sonora had it on the Bulldog 12. Then the Broncos left in the first period. Unbelievably Tahoka fumbled the ensuing kickoff and Sonora again recovered at the 32, ending up with a 25-yard field goal and a 10-0 lead with 4:29 left, and Tahoka still had not run a play from scrimmage.

William Renfro ran 12 for the game's first score, and it was 7-0 with 5:38

The Dogs finally got some offense going, and drove downfield, only to miss a field goal from 37 yards away in the second quarter. Sonora added a touchdown with 5:51 left in the second, on a 46-yard pass from QB Scottie Moore to Dustin Martin.

With time getting short in the half, Sonora drove again deep into Dog land, delayed temporarily when Bulldog End John Mark Long hit Scottie Moore for a 12-yard loss. But Sonora was on the Tahoka 8 with 3

Schwartz blocked a Sonora punt and Long ran it to the Broncos 20. But the drive fizzled and a fourth down field goal try from the 37 by Odilon Granados hit, the goal post and was no good. Sonora then pounded out another TD with Luis Segura going 3 yards with only 2:42 left in the game. Stetson Hall kicked the point and Tahoka was down 34-0.

Tahoka came back with a bunch of short to medium pass completions by QB Brandon McCord, mostly to Adrian Moore, in a 69-yard drive which finally paid off with a 9-yard scoring pass to Moore. Granados kicked the point, and it was 34-7 with just 22 seconds left.

Buildogs getting into the playoffs. "It's a special thing. . .we want to create an atmosphere where they expect to make the playoffs every year."

Then came an unusual play as Tahoka tried an onside kick which was returned by Sonora linebacker Reyes Garcia 51 yards for a touchdown, making the final score 41-7.

Amid a slew of what Leopard fans considered questionable and apparently one-sided calls, the New Home Leopards and the Sands Mustangs battled it out for the title of Class A Six-Man Regional Quarterfinals Football Champion Friday night in Wellman, with Sands claiming a 35-31 victory.

The teams alternately added points to the scoreboard as New Home unfortunately racked up 126 yards against them in 16 penalties, with Sands earning only six penalties for 60 penalty yards. The fire score of the quarter by Sands was put on the board with a 28-yard pass from Jeremy Renteria to Nate Looney and the extra point by Dusty Floyd was good. New Home countered with a touchdown f their own as Dylan Feaster threw a 4-yard pass to Chris McAllister. Feaster's kick for the extra point was good.

In the second quarter, Sands scored again as Floyd ran 8 yards for a Mustang touchdown. The extra kick score near the end of the third period as Angel Silva ran 69 long yards to the endzone. The two-point attempt. a pass to Ryan Gill from Feaster, was enough to earn another addition to the board. Unfortunately for the Leopards. Sands scored 12 seconds later when Floyd ran another 46 yards for a TD, and Renteria threw the extra point attempt to Catlin Barraza.

Try as they might, the Leopards couldn't stop the Mustangs from scoring again in the fourth quarter with an 8-yard pass from Renteria to Julian Mojica. The pass on that extra point was blocked. This addition marked the board so that the indomitable Leopards, in spite of their endurance, could not get ahead.

With valiant effort, Silva again tried to even the score as he sprinted 58 yards to the zone. Feaster kicked the extra point perfectly through the goal posts. However, Sands scored again in retaliation and Dusty Floyd jumped 1 yard over a heap of Leopards for another TD.

New Home gave it one more try as Feaster threw a 1-yard pass to Jason Reyes and kicked the extra point.

There is no acceptable reason for a young person to ruin his or her life, whether they're ruining it by living a life of crime or making other bad choices. But to recognize that, young people need to be empowered to overcome their environment, the peer pressure that plagues them and the self-doubt that convinces them that they have no other choice."

He is the author of "Learn How to Laugh Again ... and Make Others Laugh at the Same Time," and he created the Urban Youth Leaders training curriculum currently in use at Trinity College in Miami, Fla.

"Today's youth are smarter than a lot of people give them credit for," Chatman says. "My job is to show them that it's possible to reach their goals, to achieve their dreams - even

Barnett, Tekell Earn Gold Stars

Riley Barnett and Brandi Tekell, both members of Lynn County 4-H, were honored with Gold Star awards at the annual South Plains District Gold Star Banquet held in Lubbock on Nov. 19.

Barnett, a senior at Tahoka High School, is the son of Russel and Jolene Barnett. Tekell, the daughter of Mark and Charlsie Tekell, is also a senior at THS.

"There were 30 4-Hers who received Gold Stars at this year's banquet," said Brad Davis, South Plains 4-H and youth development specialist with the Texas Cooperative Extension. "The Gold Star award is the highest honor 4-Hers can earn at the county level. It is a true mark of their 4-H achievements."

4-H is the youth development program of the Texas Cooperative Extension, part of the Texas A&M University System. A complete overview of Texas 4-H is available on the Internet at http://texas4-h.tamu.edu.

This year's banquet at Texas Tech's United Spirit Arena was sponsored by Bailey County, Big Country, Deaf Smith, Lamb County, Lea County, Lighthouse, Lyntegar, South Plains and Swisher Electric Cooperatives.

Texas Representative Carl Isett gave the keynote address. Parents, government and community leaders, Extension faculty, educators and others were on hand to watch the youth receive their awards.

South Plains Gold Star winners received their award certificates from Jett Major and Colleen Chadwick, South Plains District Extension directors. They also received a special certificate of recognition from State Senator Robert Duncan, presented by staff assistant Brandon Lipps.

Eagles End Good Season In Area Loss To Iraan

O'Donnell's offense couldn't get much going against tough, unbeaten Iraan in the second round of the UIL Class A football playoff game at Big Spring, and the Eagles lost 34-0.

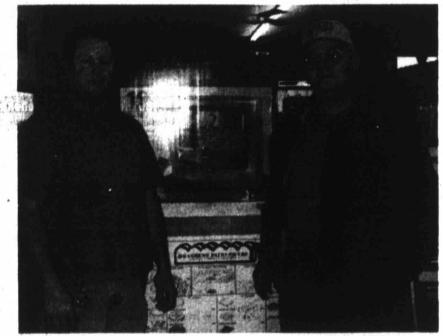

Eagle players, fans and Coach Rick Price were not too upset over the loss, as the 8-3 season was a quite a turnaround from last year's 3-7 mark. "We've come a million miles this season," said Price. "And I am very proud of the players."

Several Eagles played well on defense, and running back Adam Ybarra, who already had more than a thousand yards rushing before the game, added 49 yards on 16 carries.

WTAMU Speech Team Takes State Title

The West Texas A&M University speech team put in its best showing ever to clinch the state title at the Texas State Championship, Nov. 9-12 in San Marcos.

A total of 31 teams from across the state of Texas competed at the meet. WTAMU took the top spot with 288 points. Second place went to Rice University with 151, and Texas Tech University took third with 86 points.

"These students were amazing. We not only won the state title and received recognition as the best team in the state, but it was not even close," Dr. Russell Lowery-Hart, director of forensics, said. "It is certainly a good indicator that our chances of improving our national standing are good." The win marks the team's second state championship in three years, and the results of the tournament were the best showing in WTAMU speech team history, Lowery said.

WTAMU students placing in the tournament include Graig Fancher, a freshman Political Science major from Tahoka. He was second in Communication Analysis and fourth in Persuasive Speaking.

Fancher is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Fancher of Tahoka.
