Lynn Voters Turn Out For Tuesday's Election

Nearly half of Lynn County's registered voters marked ballots in Tuesday's General Election, agreeing in most cases with other voters in Texas in the big races. According to officials at the county voter registrar's office, Lynn County has 4,475 registered voters, but with some registration cards returned and held "in suspense" the county officially has 3,981 registered voters and about 47 percent of that number (1,861 voters) cast ballots, including 441 in early voting.

Lynn voters carried Texas Governor Rick Perry by 1,112 votes to Democrat Tony Sanchez, and State Representative Pete Lancy (District 85) won by a big margin in the state as well as in Lynn County, with 1,197 votes to 434 for Republican challenger Judy Strickland.

Local attorney W. Calloway (Cal) Huffaker won big in Lynn County - 1,354 votes to 383 - in the District Judge's race (106th Judicial District), but lost in the other three counties in the district to Republican Carter T. Schildknecht, who had been appointed to fill the judicial seat about a year ago when Judge George Hansard retired. Schildknecht won by a margin of 769 votes in the four-county district with a total of 4,931 votes to 4,162 for Huffaker.

Republican John Cornyn carried Lynn voters by 1,037 votes to 626 for Democrat Ron Kirk in the U.S. Senate race. U.S. Representative Larry Combest (R) had 1,271 votes to 76 for Libertarian challenger Larry Johnson. State Senator Robert Duncan, a Republican, easily carried Lynn voters with 1,186 votes to 52 for Libertarian challenger Jon Ensor.

In the Lt. Gov. race, Republican David Dewhurst had 846 votes to Democrat John Sharp's 822; for Atty. General, Greg Abbott (R) had 937 votes to 639 for Kirk Watson (D); for Comptroller, Carole Keeton Rylander (R) had 1,181 to 431 for Marty Akins (D); for Commissioner of the General Land Office, Jerry Patterson (R) had 812 to 646 for David Bernsen (D); and for Commissioner of Agriculture, Susan Combs (R) had 1,119 votes to 514 for Tom Ramsay (D) in Lynn County. Libertarian and Green party challengers had a smattering of votes in the county in several races.

Local office holders seeking reelection were all unopposed, including District Clerk Sandra Laws, County Clerk Susan Tipton, County Treasurer Janet Porterfield, Pct. 2 Commissioner Mike Braddock and Pct. 4 Commissioner J.T. Miller, and Justice of the Peace Terri Walker (Pct. 1). H.G. Franklin was unopposed in his bid for Lynn County Judge.

Elected officials will take office in January, 2003.

COUNTING THE VOTES - Lynn County Clerk Susan Tipton (standing) reads the results from one of the 14 voting box tallies in Lynn County, calling out numbers to Janet Porterfield (left) and Linda Mensch, two of her helpers in Tuesday's General Election. Workers at the County Clerk's office stayed until after midnight double-checking numbers reported in the election, with early-voting tabulators putting in a full day with 441 ballots, working from 8:30 a.m. until after 10 p.m. to count the early votes. Although some counties have electronic voting and tabulating machines for elections, Lynn County relies on paper ballots with all votes counted by hand, requiring a large number of election workers for tabulating the results. Tipton said about 45 election workers were required in the county for this election. (LCN PHOTO)

County Audit Approved

Lynn County Commissioners met last Monday, Oct. 23, hearing the 2001 audit report on county finances from Jim Kingery, who noted the county had a "clean" report. Commissioners unanimously approved the audit as presented.

In other business, Sheriff Jake Diggs met with the court seeking permission for John Benson, P.A. from Lynn County Hospital, to come to the jail and see to the medical needs of inmates instead of transporting inmates to medical care. Diggs asked that Benson be allowed to come to the jail at least one time per week at a cost between $55 and $75 per patient, noting that this would work better for the jail inmates.

"This would keep the inmates from leaving the jail for medical treatment, except in the case of an emergency or for treatment that could not be handled at the jail," Sheriff Diggs told commissioners.

Commissioners voted unanimously to approve the Sheriff's request.

Monthly bills were read and approved. No action was taken on a request from the District Attorney's office for office furniture.

Threat To Kill Girl Reported

Two teenage girls, students at Tahoka High School, were questioned by Tahoka Police after the father of one of the girls advised that his daughter had been threatened. One of the girls reportedly threatened to kill the other with a gun and there also was a report she had threatened to stab the same girl and one of her friends.

After talking with those involved and with witnesses, police turned the case over to juvenile authorities for prosecution.

In jail during the last week were seven persons, on these charges: driving while license suspended, possession of marijuana, grand jury indictment on burglary, DWI first offense, grand jury indictment on possession of marijuana, failure to appear, and public intoxication/disorderly conduct.

Total population of the county jail on Nov. 6 was 37 inmates.

Dispatchers at Lynn County Sheriff's Dept. processed 205 calls in October, including 93 for the county, 84 for the City of Tahoka, 10 for the City of O'Donnell, 16 ambulance calls and two fire alarms.

I'VE OWNED more cars in my lifetime than anybody I know of, except maybe Jay Leno, who has 85 at last report, or Jerry Seinfeld, who reportedly owns 47 Porsches.

I've owned 60 vehicles, 59 of which I lost money on. I'm still driving the other one, and it now has more miles than any other car I ever bought new. I think I'm getting my money's worth on this one.

A couple of weeks back, an article in the newspaper supplement USA Weekend claims that the kind of vehicle you drive and the color of it tells a lot about you. It was written by Kathleen McCleary, and most of what she says is right on the money. Some of the findings/opinions I would question, and there are some other generalizations which don't apply to many of us, perhaps because we don't march to the same beat as most folks in our age, income or social brackets.

For example, the article says that if you drive a red sports car you are assertive or aggressive and strong; you are a CEO or a wannabe, and it may be saying "I'm young; I'm sexy; I have money."

Well, there's a woman in Tahoka (whose name I won't mention yet because I haven't asked her permission) who surprised most of her acquaintances by going out and buying a new red sporty muscle car of the type usually associated with teenagers. This lady, who has not been a teenager for more than a half century, says simply that "I always wanted a car like this."

I once bought a new red 1969 Chevrolet pickup, and I also once owned a new Honda Civic which was a sort of rose-color, kin to red. Neither of these shouted that I was affluent or aggressive.

When my son was in high school, I bought him a bright orange Dodge Dart with about a million miles on it, but that was not for me. Orange now means you are "on top of the trends," according to the article.

The story said people who drive silver vehicles "ooze class." Yellow screams "Look at me!", which, said the report, is why you don't see it on family sedans. It said yellow shows up on expensive SUVs and sports cars, and also says "I'm so rich I don't care what you think."

White, a longtime favorite, is for people who like to blend in. Black means power and aggression, blue or green means conservative.

The article says women make 52 per cent of new car purchases and that they prize safety and reliability, and are more practical about cost than men.

"When men buy a car, the question is, 'Should I spend $25,000 or $45,000?' and when women buy a car they ask 'Should I spend $25,000 or just spend $18,000 and put $7,000 into a new kitchen?'"

Well, I can't totally disagree with that either, except the last part should have been, "Should I just spend $18,000 and go out and buy 70 more pairs of shoes for my closet?"

Post Kicks Bulldogs 62-6

Tahoka's Bulldogs, kicked around by four of the teams in tough district 4-AA, this week will try to recover from a 62-6 battering by Post here last week, as the Dogs go to Shallowater.

It will be a formidable task for the Bulldogs, as Shallowater has won all four of its district games and only needs to beat Tahoka to win district. Last week Shallowater handed Idalou its first loss, 21-0.

Post's defense completely shut down Tahoka's good passing attack, intercepting five passes and allowing only 113 yards in the air, lowest for Tahoka all season. The Antelopes threw no passes in the game. They didn't need to, with running back Mitchell Mills rushing for seven touchdowns and 286 yards on 24 carries.

His shortest scoring runs were a couple of 11-yarders, and his longest was 81 yards. Post had almost 500 yards rushing.

Missing from the Tahoka defense was the Bulldogs' leading tackler for the year, linebacker Ben Stroope, who was injured.

Matt Wells scored Tahoka's only points on a 1-yard run in the second quarter. Tahoka trailed 35-6 at half-time.

Tree Planting Ceremony Planned At County Courthouse Nov. 12

A heritage oak tree will be planted on the grounds of the Lynn County Courthouse in ceremonies to be held at 2 p.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 12.

The tree was grown from an acorn harvested from a live oak tree located on the site of Stephen F. Austin's death, near present-day West Columbia, Texas. Under this tree, a Texas Historical Monument marks the place where Austin died on Dec. 27, 1836. The property has been transformed into a service area dedicated to the memory of "the Father of Texas," a title given to Austin by General Sam Houston.

Stephen F. Austin, by most authorities, is considered to be the founder of Texas. Born in Austinville, Virginia on Nov. 3, 1793, he was placed in charge of the project that his father, Moses Austin, had started before his death in 1820. It was through Austin's tireless efforts and dedication that the state of Texas was created and the territorial size of the United States was increased by one-fourth. Austin died at the age of 43, only a few months after the Battle of San Jacinto.

In order to perpetuate the memory and accomplishments of Stephen F. Austin, the Daughters of the Republic of Texas are providing an oak tree to be planted in the county seat of every county in Texas. In Lynn County, the project is sponsored jointly with the Phebe K. Warner Club.

The public is invited to the tree planting ceremony, which will involve students from the first, fourth, and seventh grade Texas History classes; Toni Chambers, President of the James Smith Chapter of the Daughters of the Republic of Texas; County Judge J.F. Brandon; and Betty Green, President of Phebe K. Warner Club.

Lynn County Health Fair Set Next Friday, Nov. 15

Need to check blood pressure or cholesterol levels? Worried about vision or hearing problems? These and other health screenings will be available to all area residents, free, at the County Health Fair next Friday, Nov. 15, sponsored by Lynn County Hospital District. The event will be held at the Tahoka Activity Center (Bingo Hall), at the corner of South 5th and Ave. L in Tahoka, from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m.

According to Community Services Health Education Coordinator Carol Botkin, the Health Fair offers free testing by qualified healthcare personnel, vital health care information and free items to everyone who attends.

Free testing is available for vision and glaucoma, hearing, glucose, cholesterol and bone density. Participants can also check their blood pressure, lung function, and oxygen saturation level, and have healthcare professionals perform evaluations for other health needs. Information about organ donation, hospice care and home health will also be available, along with diabetes education and more.

Men, women and children of all ages are welcome to the health fair to take advantage of the free medical testing and health care information offered.

"This is also a great opportunity to bring children for finger printing, child identification and kid-care ID photographs," Botkin said. Law enforcement representatives from Tahoka and Lynn County will provide these services.

Children and adults can learn about good oral health, alcohol and drug awareness, cancer awareness, poison control, electrical and fire safety, and 9-1-1.

Community support and involvement is very important, Botkin said, noting that many area businesses and organizations are participating in this year's event.

"We encourage businesses to let their employees off from work to attend the health fair, to allow everyone the opportunity to benefit from this valuable offering," she said.

Additional information is available through the hospital district's web site at www.lchdhealthcare.org.

Questions and Answers of the Day

John 20: 24-25; Matthew 16:22-23; 11 Samuel 11; Luke 23:40-43

Question: When are we good enough to confess publicly our love for Christ? When are we good enough to go to church?

Answer: Recently I was in a discussion with a good man. He made the comment that he didn't want to go to church because he wasn't at a point in his life that he considered himself good enough. He said he wasn't perfect.

We don't go to church because we are perfect going in. If that were the case, there would be lots of empty pews. God doesn't judge perfection the way we do. There were men in the Bible who God considered His perfect men. As a human reads it, they see these people as imperfect because they demonstrate an ability to fall short (mess up).

Because of the fall of Adam into sin we must struggle with sin and fleshly problems. Our hope in that is Jesus Christ and His redemptive blood. If we wait until we have earned salvation then we will never get there. Jesus Christ and His grace is why we can proclaim His love and Jesus is why we may enter into the house of God.

You see, God sees into your heart and spirit. If inside you desire Him, and desire to love Him, He sees the perfection. A church family, even if perfection in man's eyes is not present, can help you pray. When you are worn from daily life, they can go to God on your behalf. Get God's full benefit and come to His house. Let Him love you, through His children.

Shalom and God Bless You

Leopards Squeak By Southland

by Caitie Dalton

On Friday, Nov. 1, the New Home Leopards hosted the Southland Eagles in the fourth district game of the season, eking out a 25-20 win.

New Home's first touchdown of the game came 22 seconds into the first quarter when Dylan Feaster ran 46 yards to the end zone. The second score of the game was a one yard run, also made by Feaster. A run play by Feaster gave the Leopards an extra point. Cody Kieth scored the final touchdown made in the first quarter on a 5 yard pass from Feaster. The Leopards didn't score again until the third quarter. Feaster caught a punt return and then ran 50 yards to the end zone.

Southland manager! to score three times throughout the course of the game but it was not enough to claim a win over the Leopards.

The Leopards will travel to Wellman Union to take on the Wildcats on Friday. It will be the last district game of the season. The Leopards must win to continue into Bi-District play.

Booster News
A great big THANK YOU to those who worked so diligently in the concession stand for our booster club during our football season. Thanks to you we will be able to help our students even more this year and have had one of our most successful years. A special thanks to Jackson Meat Processing in Post for donating sausages for one of our games. This was such a huge help and a very big "hit" among the fans. The booster club appreciates all those who donate food, items, and time to help us make our efforts so successful. We couldn't do it without you!

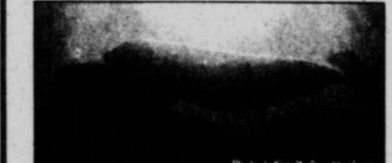

Our next meeting will be Monday, November 11 in the library at 7:00 P.M. Plan to be there as we gear up for basketball with the Mustangs. Parents of basketball players please plan to help us encourage our players and support your child. You will be notified about a very special way you can do so by watching your mail. Anyone else interested in helping support our Mustangs please contact Carol Yowell or any booster member. Remember, all who help in any way will receive a ticket for our $100 drawing at the UIL banquet. It pays to be a Mustang Booster!

It is said that you get to know who your real friends are when times are at their worst. One of those times hit our family hard last week when our beloved father and grandfather, Reble Thomas, passed out of our lives. Through our grief and sorrow, our friends remained steadfast and ready to lighten our load with calls, flowers, food, and fellowship. Our family is truly blessed with the good fortune of friends such as you.

A special thank you for Mr. Benson, Dr. Freitag, the nurses, and staff at Lynn County Hospital. The care, compassion, and concern for Reb and his family were of great comfort. Other special thanks are as follows: To Joey Pierce for going above and beyond what he HAD to do for Reb, when he didn't HAVE to do anything at all. To Jimmy Howard for helping to make the unbearable bearable. To Diane Hawthorne and Byron Norwood for the lovely music. And to Reverend Marvin Gregory, a special thanks for such a personal sermon. Your words and prayers brought solace and peace to our heavy hearts.

And finally to Reb Thomas. Your wisdom and guidance was your gift to us. Without your presence, this world will seem a little more flat.

May God bless you,
