Child On Bicycle Escapes Serious Injury In Accident

A 7-year-old girl riding a bicycle suffered apparent minor injuries Tuesday afternoon when the bicycle she was riding was struck by a pickup on Lockwood St. in Tahoka at the intersection with Ave. K.

Estefany Arellano, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Arellano, was taken by EMS ambulance to Lynn County Hospital, where she was treated for scratches and bruises and released.

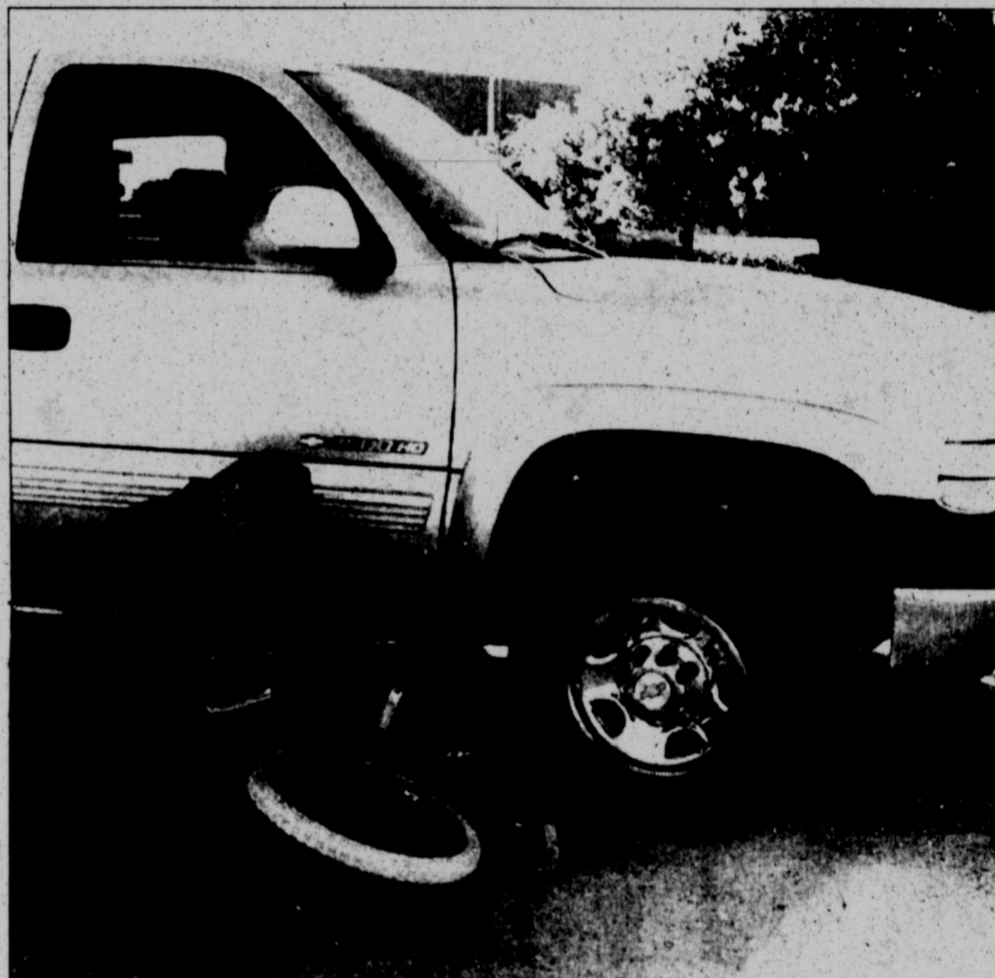

A witness to the accident told police that two children on bikes apparently pulled in front of the 2001 Chevrolet pickup driven by Steve Renfro, 45, of Tahoka as he was turning onto Lockwood from Ave. K. No charges were filed in the incident.

The two women, ages 30 and 22, were stopped for speeding.

Jana Ingle of Tahoka reported that on Friday someone took a bag from her 2002 Ford pickup containing a Canon digital camera and a Canon camcorder.

I HAVE ALWAYS been proud of my ability to spell most words I ever heard of, but now I learn suddenly that it doesn't matter all that much. A lady who is a friend of my wife and daughters sent an e-mail which is rather astounding, with the notation "Don't delete this just because it looks weird. Believe it or not, you can read it."

Here is what she sent:

I cdnuolt blveiee taht I cluod aulacly uesdnatnrd waht I was rdgnie The phaoxmneal pweor of the hmuan mnid Aocednrig to a rscheearch at Cmabrigde Uinervtisy, it deosn't mittaer inwaht oredr the litters in a wrod are, the olny iprmoatn tihng is taht the frist and lsat ltteer be in the rghit pclae. I was, to my surprise, able to read it just about as fast as I could have if all the words had been spelled correctly. So I guess spelling really isn't that important if you get the first and last letters right. But if a student turned in something like that to a teacher, he would get a really awfuw grdae.

This reminds me of the dyslexic atheist carrying the sign reading "There is no Dog."

I didn't run my computer's spell checker on this column. I was afraid it would bomb.

RECENTLY I wrote about toilets which wouldn't flush, which led my daughter/editor to move my column from page one to an inside page of the paper because she considered that an unsavory topic. Anyway, last week I received an unsigned humorous letter which had some suggestions about how I could remedy the problem.

I haven't tried it yet. But if it works, I will be pleased. And I will be glad to share the information with anyone who asks me. I don't think I'll write about my commode any more, though. My daughter told me to put a lid on it...

New Policy Restricts Sugar-Laden Foods For School Students

In March, the Texas Department of Agriculture released a new Texas Public School Nutrition Policy in response to the growing rates of childhood obesity. The nationally recognized policy is effective at the start of the 2004-2005 school year. Among other steps, the policy limits the number of grams of fat and sugar Texas schoolchildren are served each week and restricts portion sizes for chips, cookies, frozen desserts and beverages. The policy also calls for phasing out deep-fat frying in schools.

In addition to other measures, the policy also limits the sale of foods that compete with a school's operation of the breakfast, lunch or after school snack programs. A school can lose up to $1.23 at breakfast and $2.24 at lunch in federal reimbursements for each meal lost to a competitive food sale.

At the elementary school level, Foods of Minimal Nutritional Value, candy and competitive foods are not allowed on campus at any time during the school day. However, the policy does allow one nutritious classroom snack to be provided in the morning or afternoon by parents, teachers or other groups.

The elementary classroom snack must be a healthy, low-fat and low-sugar option. This can include choices such as fresh fruits or vegetables with low fat dips, pretzels, low-fat string cheese, dry cereal, rice cakes, animal crackers or low fat fruit or grain muffins. At a teacher's or school's option, the snack may be used to celebrate birthdays or other events.

TDA offers additional suggestions for nutritious snacks on its website at www.Squaremeals.org. The site also offers tips on ways to reward children with incentives other than food and ideas on non-food fundraisers. Materials in both English and Spanish also can be requested by calling the toll-free Square Meals number at (888) TEX-KIDS.

Dogs Show Firepower In 42-35 Loss To Olton

By DALTON WOOD

A furious fourth-quarter rally by the Tahoka Bulldogs fell short here last Friday night as the visiting Olton Mustangs held on for a 42-35 victory, achieved largely because of seven Bulldog turnovers, including five lost fumbles.

Despite the turnovers, the Bulldogs showed the ability to score points and a never-say-die attitude which brought them 20 points in the last six minutes of the game, at a time they were trailing 42-15.

The 35 points was the most scored by a Tahoka team since the Bulldogs' last win, 18 games ago in 2002, a 38-14 victory over Slaton. This week the Bulldogs will host Ralls, a Class A team which lost 14-7 to Wellington last week.

Olton scored on its first possession Friday, with David Phares running 76 yards for a touchdown. With Phillip Saucedo's extra point kick it was 7-0.

Tahoka running back Ja-Vaen Tillman ran 20 yards and then kicked the point to tie the score at 7-7 with 7:41 left in the first.

Tillman rushed for 160 yards and two touchdowns on 24 carries in the game, and QB Patrick Dotson passed for 143 yards and one TD plus running for one himself.

Olton untied the game later in the first on a 21-yard run by Tracy Deberry and it was 14-7 at 1:23. On good running by Tillman and a 33-yard pass from Dotson to Troy Price, the Dogs cranked up a drive which reached the Olton 9 early in the second quarter, but stalled after a quarterback sack. Midway of the second, Olton recovered another Tahoka fumble at the Bulldogs 38 and drove to a score at 5:27 when Dustin McFadden scored from the 2. The point was missed, and it was 20-7 at halftime.

Olton's lead went up to 28-7 in the third when Phares ran 6 to score, and two points were tacked on by a run.

Coming right back, Coach Troy Hinds' Bulldogs mounted a long drive which culminated in a 19-yard touchdown pass from Dotson to end Zach Tillman, then Dotson ran for two points. It was 28-15, Olton, with 2:22 left in the third period.

Two long runs and a 7-yard touchdown pass from QB Dustin Synatsck to Billy Barnett gave the Mustangs a 35-15 lead on the first play of the fourth quarter. The game threatened to be a rout when Deberry scored from the six with 6:19 left in the game to put Olton up by 42-15. But Tahoka came roaring back.

Dotson hit Price on a perfect 45-yard throw to the 19, and four runs by Ja-Vaen Tillman brought a touchdown. A running try failed and it was 42-21 with 5:01 left. Tahoka quickly got the ball back and Chase Tillman ran 3 yards for a touchdown, with Dotson passing to Zach Gutierrez for 2 points to make it 42-29.

Tahoka successfully pulled off an onside kickoff and a penalty and running by Ja-Vaen Tillman put the Bulldogs on the Olton 1, from where Dotson plunged in with just 23 seconds left. A running try failed and it was 42-35.

Tahoka tried another onside kick, but Olton recovered it and the game was over.

Brandon Jackson, Gutierrez, Jeremy Antu and James DeLeon made a lot of tackles for Tahoka, and good defensive work also was shown by Nathan Garcia, Josh Hawthorne, Nick Rodriguez and others on the line.

Coach Hinds also praised the work of the offensive line for opening holes and protecting Dotson on passing plays.

Groundbreaking Set Sept. 11 In Lubbock For Regional Public Safety Memorial

Groundbreaking ceremonies are slated for Saturday, Sept. 11 for the Lubbock Regional Public Safety Memorial. The groundbreaking is set for 6 p.m. at Jack Stevens Park in Lubbock, located at 75th and Slide. Stevens is a fallen police officer. After the ceremony, a procession of first responders will travel to Kastman Park for a ceremony sponsored by American State Bank. The public is invited.

The memorial, set for completion in 2006, will honor law enforcement officers, fire fighters and paramedics from 15 counties on the South Plains who have died in the line of duty.

Margi Fesperman, South Plains College law enforcement major, is a member of the LRPSM committee, and her husband, Randall Fesperman, assistant professor of law enforcement at SPC, has provided technical support for the project.

"The memorial will encompass fire, EMS, Texas Department of Public Safety, police departments and federal, state and local first responders. In times of emergency, boundaries are non-existent to first responders," she explained. "Everyone is educated to completing his or her specific duty. The committee realized that responders on the South Plains train and work together. It would only be fitting for the memorial to show that unity to others. It's also a reminder of the everyday working man and woman and the chances they can take."

The memorial will also serve to educate young people and others of the sacrifices made and the work done by public safety workers, Fesperman noted.

The project was in the planning stages before 9-11.

Two former SPC students — Rudy Gonzales and Stacy Brown — will be among those honored through the memorial. Gonzales was killed in the line of duty in a head-on collision and Brown was killed in a traffic accident on the way to work.

The memorial will include six-foot bronze statues of public safety officers created by Garland Weeks of Lubbock, a world-renowned sculptor; a Maltese cross and star, red granite wall for fire and EMS and a blue granite wall for law enforcement. Names of those killed in the line of duty will be listed on the walls, and brick pavers will contain the names of others who have died.

Counties covered include Bailey, Cochran, Crosby, Dickens, Floyd, Garza, Hale, Hockley, King, Lamb, Lubbock, Lynn, Motley, Terry and Yoakum. DPS officers to be honored will include those in the Texas Panhandle and South Plains regions.

The memorial will also serve to educate young people and others of the sacrifices made and the work done by public safety workers, Fesperman noted.

The committee includes SPC graduates and former students Mike Kemp, Lubbock fire marshal, chairman; Buddy Davis, lieutenant with the fire department; Eddie Kirkpatrick, fire officer and instructor in the firefighting academy at Reese; John Gonzales, trooper with the Texas Department of Public Safety; Scott Farmer, investigator with the Lubbock Police Department; Shelly Acock and Lynn Wallis, EMS instructors at Reese, and Billy Green with the Lubbock Police Department.

City Council Approves Tax Rate, Budget

City of Tahoka officials met in regular session at 7 o'clock Tuesday night, voting unanimously to keep the tax rate at 69.5-cents, the same as the previous year, to fund a $1.4 million budget, which was also approved. Water, sewer and garbage rates will also remain the same, with no changes from the previous year.

In other business, city council members appointed Cal Huffaker as city attorney, and heard a report from Fire Chief Jimmy Woodard on the fire department's activities. Monthly bills were approved, and the council adjourned at 8 o'clock.

Falcon Found In Tahoka

A Peregrine Falcon, a rare bird in this area, was found Thursday evening in Tahoka by Bettye and Harold Green, in the alley behind their home on North 6th Street. Mrs. Green said she noticed the bird sitting motionless on a concrete block fence as she was taking the trash to the dumpster in the alley.

"He was a pretty good size bird, and just sitting there looking at me," said Mrs. Green. "I decided it had a broken wing and could not fly, and I came in and told Harold, and we looked it up and discovered it was a Peregrine Falcon, which is not native to this area. Our neighbor behind us, Lee Holden, came out and looked at the bird, and Lee held a stick up to the bird and eventually he just hopped on that stick, and Lee carried him into their house," said Mrs. Green.

Holden said the bird perched on the stick and he carried him into his garage and placed him in a box. He carried the bird to the Wildlife Rehabilitation center in Lubbock the next morning, where they will give it medical attention to heal the wing and eventually set it free.

"They said this was the second falcon to be turned in this month, and said that it is illegal for these birds to be kept as pets," Holden said.

Mrs. Green discovered in her research that the Peregrine Falcon averages about 18-inches tall with a wingspan of up to 40 inches. This bird was not quite that tall, she said, and was gray/black in color with a sharp pointed beak.

Tahoka vs Ralls

Friday, Sept. 10th
HERE at 7:30 p.m.

Beat The Jackrabbits!

Coach's Comments:

"Once again the Tahoka Bulldogs didn't come out to play until the second half Friday night. They had some good spurts at times, but it wasn't good enough to get going until after the break. The Defense is still making mental errors which allows the opponents a big play and eventually a score. The Offense was getting it all together but the half-time caught up to us. The boys are correcting the mistakes during the week, but allowing for other mistakes to be costly in the meantime. The Offense was led by a great game by Ja-Vaen Tillman, who was the offensive player of the week; the defensive player of the week was Brandon Jackson with 8 tackles. The big hit came from a new and promising player Nick Rodriguez. I feel like the entire offensive line is improving each week and looks promising heading into the district play. We will try to get all cylinders running at the same time for Ralls this week. They are looking for a win as well before heading into district."

The Offensive Player of the Week was Ja-Vaen Tillman, the Defensive Player of the Week was Brandon Jackson, and the Big Hit of the Game came from Nick Rodriguez.
