School Board Sets New Pay Schedule, Policies

Muleshoe School Board met in special sessions Monday and Tuesday nights to revise the budget, formulate policies and budget, formulate policies and instrument the pay raises authorized by special bill 1 passed last week by the Texas Legislature, and raised the pay of principals, superintendents, and transportation workers.

Special bill one granted a pay raise of $810 to classroom teachers, raised the pay of principals and superintendents and transportation workers.

In keeping with the contents of the bill, teacher pay was raised to a minimum of $4014 in Muleshoe for a beginning teacher with a bachelor's degree.

Teachers with master's degrees and no experience will receive $4239 per year. These figures do not include the bonus of $250 paid to teachers who complete the year and do not resign after July 1.

This bonus was reduced from the old figure of $350 due to the increase in base salary for teachers.

The new pay raise will not be given in the monthly pay envelopes of the teachers, but will be handed out in three equal installments through the year.

This method was used to facilitate the pay increase because the local school district will not receive the money from the state until later. To give the pay in monthly installments, the local district would have been forced to seek a loan.

Teachers will receive the $810 in installments on the December, March and June checks. The bonus for completion of the year will not be given until August.

Other pay raises included a $25 per month salary increase for janitors and a new salary scale for bus drivers. The new scale will be set up according to number of miles driven, with 25 mile routes paying $85, 26-45 mile routes $95, 46-64 mile routes paying $105, and routes over 64 miles in length paying $115.

The pay increase for bus drivers is also covered by the special house bill. The total increase will be $1,665.

J. W. Johnson, bus foreman, was given a salary increase of $400. This, along with the bus driver's pay increase, is covered by an increased state allotment of $380 more per bus for salaries, maintenance and operation of transportation facilities.

Mule Monument May Be Put Here

Dr. J. B. Earnett of Marlin, Texas, will arrive in Muleshoe Friday morning to meet at 4 p. m. with Chamber of Commerce directors and others to discuss plans for erecting a monument to the mule, an animal which played an important role in the pioneer days of Texas.

Dr. Earnett, who styles himself "an expert on the mule," has taken an active interest in seeing that some sort of fitting tribute is given this unique animal.

Principals' salaries were also increased by an average of approximately $1,400.

Superintendent Neal Dillman pointed out that this and other pay raises will actually cost the local district less money than formerly, as they are covered by state money and are set up according to state specifications.

Superintendent's salary was increased by $1,600 at no additional cost to the local district.

Tax Assessor-Collector's salary was raised $500, while the bookkeeper's pay was upped by $400. The superintendent's secretary was placed on a 12 month work basis instead of the 10 month basis formerly used. Her salary was set at $3,000 per year.

The board also set aside $3,900 for the Administrative Budget, to be used to pay someone who will be trained to assume the duties of tax-assessor-collector and bookkeeper upon the retirement of Mr. and Mrs. Gupton.

Dr. Henry Turner Begins Practice in Muleshoe

Dr. Henry Turner, formerly associated with Dr. George Chambers here in Muleshoe, has opened an office at 108 East Avenue B here in Muleshoe.

Dr. Turner, who will do a general practice here, was born in New Zealand and did his pre-medical studies at the University of New Zealand. He later graduated from the Kirksville College of Osteopathy and Surgery in Missouri, subsequently spending one year at the Dorset Square Clinic in London, England.

Dr. Turner had his own clinic and ten-bed hospital in Lamesa prior to joining Dr. Chambers at Muleshoe Hospital and Clinic here in May of this year. When the Muleshoe Hospital and Clinic was sold, he left to practice in Lubbock.

While awaiting the refurbishing of his office here in Muleshoe, Dr. Turner practiced in East Texas.

Dr. Turner holds the record for number of babies delivered by a doctor in private practice in Texas. In a nine day period, he delivered 41 babies.

The board approved the revised tentative budget for the coming year. This revised budget amounts to $753,719, an increase of $88,679 over last year's budget.

This increase is due to a $63,400 reimbursement the local district will receive from the state on the special house bill one. Also figured in this is a $10,000 increase in local revenue due to increased evaluation; and $15,579 the local district will gain from the state by regaining four teachers' salaries due to the increases average daily attendance figures last year.

Other action taken by the board of education included the formulation of new policies concerning married students.

Wording of existing policies was changed in this move, which excludes married students from all extra-curricular activities such as interscholastic league events, school paper, annual, banquets, and so on.

This ruling does not prohibit married students from gaining academic honors, scholarships or other academic activities.

Also, the board moved to exclude from school attendance any pregnant students. Such students will be excluded at the "time the pregnancy is reported or when pregnancy becomes obvious," according to the ruling of the board.

School Bus Prices Fixed, Says Wilson

Muleshoe School Superintendent Neal Dillman stated this week that one school bus purchased this past year was bought from a company now involved in a price rigging suit brought recently by State Attorney General Will Wilson.

The school bus was purchased from The Texacoach Company of Austin, now a defendant in an antitrust suit filed in Georgetown. Altogether, 16 Texas firms and individuals are accused of rigging bids in the sale of 5,100 school buses costing $23 million.

Dillman said that the bus was bought by the state after the local schools turned in a request for a new bus. The state then purchased the bus and it was sent to the local district.

The Journal was unable to determine whether the locally owned bus was involved as one of the buses in question in the case, but only that it was bought from one of the companies involved in the suit.

Attorney General Will Wilson says rigged bidding has probably added $400 to $500 to the cost of nearly every school bus bought in Texas over the last six years.

Describing the bid-rigging as a "shameful conspiracy against our public schools," the attorney general asked 26th District Judge D. B. Wood to enjoin the defendants and assess statutory penalties of up to $3.6 million against each of them.

Named as defendants in the price-fixing suit were Ray Cowan of Austin, president and owner of Austin Motor Co., Inc., and Excel Corp.; Gordon K. Allen Co. and Gordon K. Allen of Dallas; Austin Sales Co., Inc., and Jack G. Fisk of Austin; Commercial Body Corp., and Superior Coach Sales of Texas, Inc.; and S. Gordon Shreffler of Dallas; The Texacoach Co., and Fred Stroud of Austin; Transportation Equipment Sales Co., and R. H. Bentley of Austin; Hurst Bus Sales Co., and J. K. Hurst of Austin; Hudson Body Co., and Phil Hudson of Dallas.

Wilson's suit was a result of a probe into school bus purchases by the State Board of than 90 percent of the public school districts in Texas—or about 1,300 of them—purchase their school buses.

The anti-trust action, filed August 16, by Assistant Attorneys General Gordon Cass and Vern Teofan of Wilson's anti-trust division, covers the period from January 1, 1955, to August 16, 1961.

"The dominant figure and driving force in this conspiracy against the schools and taxpayers is a man in whom Texas had placed its trust—both as a former state employee and now as regent of one of our leading universities." (See Page 5, Number 2)

Blackburns Is Sold To 'Red' Simmons

M. E. "Red" Simmons announced this week that he has resigned his position as manager of Piggly Wiggly Food Store to purchase Blackburn Food Store here in Muleshoe.

Simmons will begin operating his own store September 1, after eleven years association with Piggly Wiggly in Muleshoe. Calling his new store Red's Food Market, Simmons will be connected with associated Groceries of Amarillo and will handle Surefine Foods.

Simmons purchased the food store from Horace Blackburn August 13 and tendered his resignation to Piggly Wiggly August 14. His replacement, Douglas Haynes, arrived Monday to assume duties as manager of the Piggly Wiggly Store here.

Simmons purchased stock and fixtures from Blackburn, who has been in the grocery business in Muleshoe since 1948.

Simmons indicated that the climax of his career with Piggly Wiggly had been quite amiable and that his feelings toward the national chain concern were unchanged. "I have thoroughly enjoyed the years with Piggly Wiggly," Simmons said, "and have truly enjoyed my work with the Shop Rite organization. I would never have quit had I not been afforded this opportunity to go into business for myself."

Horace Blackburn, who has been in the grocery business a total of 30 years, with the past 13 years in Muleshoe, expressed deep gratitude for the friendship of the people of Muleshoe. He said his plans are indefinite, but that he will remain active in the life of Muleshoe.

Blackburn has been a member of the city commission of Muleshoe for the past six years and is treasurer of the First Baptist Church, a position he has held for 12 years.

Mrs. Blackburn will continue to teach in the High School. Blackburn said that when his plans are more concrete he will notify his friends through these columns.

Open House Will Mark Fiftieth Anniversary For Rufus Carters

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Carter

An open house will mark the Golden Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Carter. Children of the couple will be hosts for the event, which is slated for Sunday, August 27, from 2 to 5 p.m. in their parents home located 4½ miles east of Lazbuddie.

Mr. and Mrs. Carter were married on August 23, 1911, in Mangum, Okla. They came to Muleshoe in 1932 and have been area residents since that time. They are parents of four children, Mrs. Buck Bradshaw, Farwell; Harvy Carter, Tulare, Calif.; Mrs. Duke Baker, Big Spring; and Mrs. Gene McClure or Tulare, Calif. They also have 11 grandchildren and 5 great grandchildren.

All friends of the couple are invited to drop by.

Dr. Tinsley Stresses Need For Good Eating Habits

Teenage girls show the poorest eating practices of any group in our society, says Dr. Willa Vaughn Tinsley, dean of the School of Home Economics at Texas Tech.

"It is far easier to prevent bad eating habits from ever forming during infancy and childhood than it is to try to improve on such practices, once a bad habit sets in," says Dean Tinsley.

The best safeguard against poor nutrition of teenage girls according to Dean Tinsley, is to help them form the right kind of eating habits in infancy and childhood.

The girl who has learned and practiced good eating habits for 12 to 15 years is not likely to depart from them very far for very long.

Dean Tinsley stresses the importance of parents and teachers understanding the major drives of the teenage girl. The interest of most adolescent girls is not in the direction of establishing and maintaining good health.

The young girl, fearful of growing taller or larger than her classmates is highly susceptible to omitting food items from her diet which are needed as carriers of essential nutrients.

She is aware that foods "make us go" and she also knows that foods "make us grow" — which may be what she is trying to avoid. This is the frequent problem of teenagers who grow rapidly in their early teens.

We must realize, said Dean Tinsley, that the adolescent who is a poor eater—either over-eating or under-eating—may be a result of lack of love and attention. This means that to change the eating habits of teenagers requires motivation of a different nature than adults usually recognize.

Parents and teachers can help the adolescent girl to realize that food influences all forms of growth and development, gracefulness in movement, pleasing disposition, cheerful outlook on life, clear skin, sound teeth, good posture—all aspects of a well-rounded person—are influenced by the eating habits of the girl.

He graduates in the top half of his class.

Retail Merchants Association Sold

Retail Merchants Association and Credit Bureau has been sold to a Clovis group, according to Dean Callahan, former owner.

Mrs. Callahan has owned and operated the firm for six years. She sold the Bureau August 18 to Jim Blake and George Bradman, both of Clovis. Mrs. Callahan will remain in the business until September 1.

Blake, a Clovis attorney, and Bradman, who owns Clovis Adjustment Bureau, also purchased the Littlefield Credit Association from Mrs. Callahan. They will employ managers for the two offices.

Jehovah Witnesses To Meet Sept. 8

Jehovah's Witnesses of Texas Circuit No. 9 will have their next assembly in Wichita Falls, September 8 through the 10.

Boyd Lowery, presiding minister of the Muleshoe congregation, said, "The purpose of the 17 congregation assembly is to encourage one another in keeping integrity with Jehovah, the Sovereign of the universe."

"Jehovah's Witnesses," Lowery said, "have agreed to carry out the commission that is found at Matthew 24:14, 'And this good news of the kingdom will be preached in all the inhabited earth for a witness to all the nations; and then the end will come.' There will be talks, discussions and demonstrations to help us to become more efficient in this world-wide witness work."

"Assemblies such as the semi-annual circuit assembly being held in Wichita Falls, have become part of our lives; whole families and entire congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses will be found in attendance on these occasions. They serve as milestones in the busy lives of Jehovah's Witnesses," Lowery said.

EARN $50.00 IN PARTS FREE

DEAR FRIENDS:

Will you be able to hire a combine when your grain is ready to harvest? What sort of job will you get if you hire your crop harvested? Can you get that early forty cut when it should be or will be forced to wait for a combine and take a chance on it falling or being hailed out? What about that hundred and sixty you had to replant? Will the man you hire to cut your crop come back and take care of the late cutting after he cuts the early crop and moves on to another job? If your grain falls, can you hire it picked up for reasonable figures?

We are not optimistic but these questions come to our attention as we survey the forty-five good used self-propelled combines on our yard. These combines are not all ready to go but it will not take too much work nor too many parts to put any of these good used machines to work in your crop. There is no reason to take the above chances with your crop which took you a whole year to make and no doubt, you have already spent a great deal of money making the good crop. Why take these chances? Come see us, we will personally help you select a good used machine which will fit your need and also your pocket-book. Act now while there is time to get the combine ready for harvest.

Our used combine inventory clearance SALE began August 23rd and continues through August 31st. Anyone who buys one or more used combines from us during this inventory clearance sale will receive a $50.00 parts credit to be used at his convenience. Don't wait. Pick your machine early and earn $50.00 FREE parts. This offer is good only from August 23rd through August 31st., 1961.

cal schools turned in a request for a new bus. The state then ng state colleges," Wilson declared.

The suit names Cowan as the "dominant figure and driving force" in the price-fixing. Cowan, a regent of North Texas State College in Denton, was employed by the State Board of Control in charge of school bus purchasing before entering the bus business in 1951, the suit alleges.

Wilson accused the defendants of conspiring to restrict the sale and marketing of school buses in Texas, to fix, maintain and increase the prices of school buses and to prevent and lessen competition in school bus sales.

Alleging that the defendants divided the school bus business among themselves by percentages, the suit claims they enforced such allocations by "non-competitive, collusive and rigged bids."

"We want free-enterprise, competitive prices for our tax dollars," said Wilson. "We will not tolerate monopolistic, price-fixing practices. I am determined hat this shall not be permitted."

Highlights and Sidelights

Ben Ramsey's appointment as Railroad Commissioner—after a decade in which his name has been synonymous with the Lieutenant Governorship—carries with it several major political implications.

First, it's a pretty safe bet that the quiet-spoken East Texan will not be in the field of contenders for the Governor's chair. Pre-campaign speculation has had Ramsey in practically every year.

Second, it leaves the 1962 race for the Lieutenant Governorship wide open. At least a half-dozen likely prospects already have been mentioned.

Third, it puts Sen. Bruce Reagan of Corpus Christi automatically in charge of the Lieutenant Governor's duties. He was elected by his colleagues as President Pro Tempore of the Senate shortly before Gov. Price Daniel's announcement of Ramsey's appointment.

There could be several "Lieutenant Governors" before the election this year. This depends on how many legislative sessions occur between now and then. Texas' Constitution provides that a President Pro Tempore shall be elected at the beginning and at the end of each session.

Governor Daniel has announced that he will call another special session before the end of the year. So it will be up to the Senate to elect a man who will assume the duties of Lieutenant Governor for that session. Then another will be chosen for the interim between its windup and the beginning of the next one. And so on!

Meanwhile, Reagan is first in line of succession to the Governor's office.

Ramsey's appointment to the $17,500 a year Railroad Commission post came as no surprise in political circles.

Appointment is for the unexpired term of the late Olin Culbertson, which runs until January 1, 1963. Then, if Ramsey desires a full six-year term, he will have to stand for election.

Ramsey joins Ernest O. Thompson and William J. Murray the present chairman, one of the most important agencies in the state government. The Railroad Commission not only regulates all Texas Oil and gas production, but all highway and railroad freight and passen-

ANOTHER SPECIAL SESSION ASSURED

At the close of the called special session which voted a teachers' pay raise averaging $810 per year, Governor Daniel announced he will call another session sometime before the end of the year, to act on several matters.

He said he will submit such subjects as loan shark control legislation, a law to include banks in the recently-passed abandoned property act juvenile delinquency legislation, and controls over municipal annexation.

The short session, in addition to the teachers' pay raise, also provided additional money for the operation and maintenance of school buses and for administration.

A law requiring runoffs in congressional elections when one candidate doesn't receive a majority was passed in the dying moments of the session.

Although the major objectives of the Texas State Teachers Association have been reached, there are more to come.

These include a sick leave plan for teachers; provision for assistant superintendent units for large school systems; using average daily attendance, instead of scholastic census, as the factor for determining distribution of the State's available school funds to local districts; more driver education teachers; compulsory attendance for all children, six through 16, for the whole school year; and creation of regional film libraries.

Incidentally, the $810 teacher pay raise doesn't necessarily mean every teacher in the state will get such a raise. Some districts already are paying their teachers more than the state minimum. In such cases it's up to the districts to decide whether a raise is in order.

SALES TAX EXPLAINED

Prime targets of the state's new two per cent sales tax, which become effective September 1, are furniture, household and kitchen appliances, clothing with some exceptions, household supplies, toys, restaurant meals and gas and electric utility bills.

But those are not all by any means, as you'll soon discover. However, groceries, housing, medical and dental bills, insurance, and telephone service will not be covered by the new levy.

One break for the taxpayer came with the new tax bill. The three per cent tax which was on television sets, radios and air conditioners will be reduced to two per cent. Cosmetics tax will be lowered from 2.2 per cent to two per cent.

It should be some consolation, at least, to know that all sales taxes under the new law are consumer taxes and thus deductible from the federal income tax.

DANIEL ACCEDES TO SALES TAX

Governor Daniel filed the sales tax bill with the Secretary of State, unsigned. This permitted it to become law without his signature.

He said to veto it at this time, when appropriations must be met September 1, "would be disastrous to the State of Texas, its school children, state institutions, old age pensioners, and other programs which are dependent upon adequate revenue and appropriations."

"It is with considerable regret," he said, "that I feel compelled to permit this type of bill to become law. Among other inequities it contains a limited type of general sales tax which I have opposed for 22 years." There is no time to "re-fight" the tax battle, he added.

Dr. D. Richard Bowles, State President TSTA, in his keynote address presented some challenges that face the professional organization.

JACKS' TITLE STEMS FROM DIALOGUE

"One-Eyed Jacks" is one of the most unusual film titles in years, but the meaning is explained in a line of dialogue spoken by director-star Marlon Brando to his co-star, Karl Malden. Confronting Malden with accusations of treachery, Brando says: "You're a one-eyed jack, but I've seen the other side of your face," referring to the fact that some men always hide a part of their personalities from the world.

The Technicolor - VistaVision romantic adventure drama, a Paramount release co-starring Katy Jurado and introducing Pina Pellicer, opens Sunday at the Valley Theatre.

Babson Discusses

Why We Are What We Are

For thousands of years scientists have been interested in alchemy, or the turning of a base metal like lead into some precious metal like gold. No one has thus far succeeded in doing this. Attempts have also been made to insulate gravity by mixing two or more elements and finding an alloy which will shield gravity. Here again this has failed ever since the days of Sir Isaac Newton, 250 years ago. Recently, various studies have been made of inheritance, which I will discuss in this column under the general subject of "polymers."

WHAT HAS BEEN TAUGHT

It has been generally accepted that both the father and the mother supply certain genes which are attached together into "strings" known as chromosomes. These genes carry special talents down through the generations. As to how far back they originate, or how long they have traveled through some mother's body, we do not know.

We further do not know just what traits or talents will come through, or when. History, however, does show that the greater the number of children a mother has, the greater her chance of having one or more famous children. This helps to explain why our nation has been built up by large families and why so often an "only child" has not amounted to much.

THE FAMOUS IBM ADVERTISEMENT

The stock of International Business Machines Company is one of the highest-selling stocks on the New York Stock Exchange. Furthermore the company has a great reputation to uphold. Hence its advertisement on the inside front cover of U. S. NEWS AND WORLD REPORT for July 24, 1961, has created great interest. It shows in a spectacular way that what we are depends upon the arrangement of the molecules which comprise the cells of which we are made.

Last spring an article on polymers appeared in the M. I. T. TECHNOLOGY REVIEW, written by F. W. Billmeyer, Jr. and A. S. Michaels. In addition, I have been much interested in the report of the Long Island Biological Association recently in session at Cold Spring Harbor, New York, attended by the leading biologists of the U. S. and abroad, including Dr. Monod, when I was in Paris. Conclusions were that the basic unit of all living things is the cell, consisting of an inner part, known as the nucleus, surrounded by the cytoplasm, which contains the seed of life that transmits heredity from generation to generation. It determines whether the fertilized egg—a single cell—will become a mouse, an elephant, or a human being.

OUR MOST REMARKABLE CHEMICALS

In the creation of life the biologists thought the enzymes were important factors in these reactions are too technical to discuss here. The two principal polymers have very long names, hence they are commonly referred to as the DNA group and the RNA group.

Dr. Conrad and Professor Jacques Monod insisted that the genes appear comparable to a complex computing machine governing the operations of an automatic factory. These regulate the output of the factory and the endurance of the factory. They also stated that, accidents excepted, we could live to be 100 or 120 years old; furthermore, that many people have been buried as dead when they might have been revived by these wonderful chemicals.

Conclusions: This brings us back to the IBM advertisement. I am neither a chemist nor a biologist, but I do believe that the discovery of these polymers is the most wonderful discovery of this generation. When people really understand their possibilities, both in peace and in war, we may enjoy our greatest prosperity—with occasional economic readjustments—during the next ten years.

It also means that we should urge our children and grandchildren to seek good mates and raise large families. History shows that good land and good children are the best investments. Stocks and bonds will go on forever, but polymers will be taught to human beings.

MULESHOE, TEXAS

READY FOR THE LAST DIVE OF THE SEASON — These Muleshoe youngsters shown above are standing in line waiting to make the last dive of the year into the city pool, which will close Friday. Lewis Powers, manager of the pool, said normal pool hours will be observed on the closing day.

High Plains Reports Wheat Yields 76.5 Bushels In Fertilizer Test

The highest yield of fertilizer test High Plains Research Foundation was received from a pre-plant application of 80 pounds of nitrogen and 80 pounds of phosphorus. The yield of 76.5 bushels per acre gave a profit from the fertilizer application of $16.36.

Very close, with a yield of 76 bushels received from an application of forty pounds of nitrogen and 80 pounds of phosphate, was a profit of $18.41 per acre above the non-fertilized wheat. The non-fertilized wheat yield was a surprising 60.3 bushels per acre.

Nitrogen, phosphorus and potash were used in various combinations. These included 40, 80, and 120 pounds of nitrogen, 80 pounds of phosphorus and 40 pounds of potash. They were applied in preplant applications on October 5, 1960. Tascosa wheat, used in the test, was planted on October 14 and harvested on June 24. The wheat was not winter grazed.

The yield was figured at 80 pounds of wheat per bushel at the price of $1.75 per bushel. Growing season, October 1960 to June 1961 totaled 21.9 inches. Irrigation water was applied in the amount of 4.4 inches on April 14, 4.2 inches on April 28, and 3.6 inches on May 15.

The addition of potash to any of the nitrogen and phosphorus combinations failed to increase the yield. Phosphate alone increased yields by 5 bushels per acre and nitrogen alone increased yields 3 bushels but the combination of phosphate and nitrogen increased yields 15.5 bushels per acre. The fertilizer results closely paralleled the results secured in the 1959-60 season. Delbert Langford, Assviate Agronomist, supervised both tests at the Halfway Foundation.

Three popular varieties of wheat are being used in a milling quality test, comparing the quality of irrigated wheat with that of dryland, at the High Plains Research Foundation.

The purpose is to determine whether milling quality can be maintained at a high level under irrigated conditions. Dryland wheat is favored by bakers because of its consistently high milling quality.

Aztec, Comanche, and Wichita were the varieties being grown in the test. Delbert Langford, Associate Agronomist of the Foundation, stated that this is a cooperative test with Dr. I. M. Atkins of Texas A. and M. and that Mr. Paschal Scottino of the Bakery School, Arlington State College, is analyzing the samples.

The irrigated plots were fertilized with 60 pounds nitrogen, 90 pounds phosphate, and 30 pounds potash. They were irrigated three times during the growing season a total of 12 inches. The same varieties on the dryland plots received no fertilizer or irrigation.

The dryland yields were: Wichita, 37.7 bu.; Comanche, 36.2 bu.; and Aztec, 32.0. Irrigated yields were: Comanche, 557 bu.; Aztec, 55.4 bu.; and Wichita, 507 bu.

Tasocosa, although not included in the milling quality determinations, was grown side by side with the other varieties and yielded 45.4 bu. dryland and 84.5 bu. irrigated.

Parmer County Farm Bureau News

Do not forget that what the federal government subsidizes, it will eventually control. "Teheran—Our Path in War and Peace," written by Earl Browder, former head of the Communist Party in the U. S., and vocated the foreign aid giveaway program for the United States.

The reason we mention this at this time is that the American Farm Bureau gave full support to the Byrd Amendment that would have curtailed the giveaway deals by eliminating borrowing money to give away to foreign nations and required annual appropriations by congress.

The amendment failed 39-56, leaving the door open. Texas had one Senator, Tower, who voted for the amendment, and one Senator, Yarborough, who voted against it. However, the southern region, which includes Texas, voted for the amendment 15-10.

Today's Meditation

Read Isaiah 52:3-10; Romans 10:13-17

How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace! (Isaiah 52:7.)

In all human beings there is a longing to meet something good; yes, a desire to become good. In spite of everything, a vestige of the image of God lies deep down in our minds and hearts, covered though they may be with dirt and uncleanness.

Deep calls unto deep, and we reach up longingly toward Him—toward God—in whose image we are made.

How many times I have met this longing, sometimes seeing it become a flame at the right moment! I have recognized it in the modern atheist in the West, and I have seen it in people in the deep forests of the Congo.

We become rich when we find who is the source of all good and His life becomes our life. We possess that which can dispel the darkness from our lives and take away the night from the lives of others. What an unspeakable joy to have that which gives perspective and meaning to one's life! It takes such a person a messenger of the good news to others.

PRAYER

My God and Holy Father, my life is in Thy hands. Grant that I may possess what is worth possessing. Take all other things away. I will hold fast to what Thou hast given me. In the name of our Savior, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven. Amen."

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

We become rich when we find God is the source of all good and His life becomes our life. —Thorleif Holm Glad

Regarding State Gas Tax refunds for non-highway, farm used gasoline, you may now file only once per year, or two or three times per year if you wish, just so long as your invoices are not more than a year old.

If you should be interested in buying grain sorghum for feeding (or anything else) form the Commodity Credit Corporation, you may do so by simply calling the regional office in Dallas at Riverside 8-5681, extension 301 and talking with Mr. Zellar, Wright or Austin. If they have grain available, they will tell you where to get it in amounts of not less than 60,000 pounds.

American Farm Bureau has been working hard to get an extension of a revised sugar act passed in congress. Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman says, "I appears inadvisable to present such recommendations before the beginning of the next session of congress, primarily because world production and marketing of sugar are undergoing realignment and the situation has not yet stabilized."

Parmer County Farm Bureau annual convention will be held some time in October. There will be five directors up for reelection or replacement and the office of president will be filled at this meeting. If you know some men you believe would make good directors or presidents, tell one of the directors about them.

DID YOU KNOW

20-20 IS NOT NECESSARILY GOOD VISION AT ALL!

Four out of ten children start school each year with uncorrected vision defects which handicap ability to learn.

When a school health test reveals that a child has 20/20 vision . . . ability to read a snallen wall chart at 20 feet . . . parents often erroneously conclude the child has "perfect vision". But such tests do not show how a child can read at 15 inches . . . the distance at which most school work is done . . . nor does it check other vision abilities which effect learning that's why.

Ag Act Explained

College Station — The Agricultural Act of 1961 is now on the books and the rush is on to explain its provisions to farmers and others, reports C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist.

One of its major provisions, reducing the wheat surplus, will be voted on today. Wheat producers will vote yes or no on marketing quotas for the 1962 crop. If they vote yes, a new wheat stabilization program will become effective, including higher support price, a mandatory reduction of 10 per cent in farm wheat allotments with acreage cuts up to 40 per cent possible and a saving of $258 million for the nation's taxpayers.

The legislation extends the feed grain program which is now in effect and for the first time includes barley along with corn and grain sorghums. Current estimates indicate that feed grain production will be about 15 per cent less than last year, says Bates.

Marketing order programs—self-help in a true sense—are authorized on more commodities.

The Agricultural Trade Development and Assistance Act (includes food for peace) has been extended and strengthened; expansion and improvement of supervised credit services for farmers who lack sufficient private credit and an extension of the Wool Act, the Great Plains Conservation Program and School Milk Program should have a strengthening effect on agriculture, says the specialist.

The Act also authorizes the Secretary of Agriculture to consult with the formulation of legislative proposals.

Under the Act, Bates says consumers are assured of fair and stable prices and taxpayers will benefit from savings of as much as $1 billion overall from reduced storage and support price activities. The increased farm income will be an aid to the nation's entire economy, Bates concludes.

Game Licenses On Sale Here

Hunting and fishing licenses went on sale in Muleshoe and throughout Texas Monday. These licenses will become effective September 1 for the 1961-62 hunting season.

September 1 is the date also for the opening of the dove season and the razz season in Texas.

The hunting license sells for $2.15. A non-resident hunting license costs $25. That entitles a person to hunt any of the wild game animals and wild game birds during open season.

Non-residents may hunt migratory birds for 5 consecutive days with a $5 license. The $2.15 fishing license applies to both resident and non-resident.

A hunting license is not required of anyone under 17 or over 65 years of age outside the county of their residence. A license is required of anyone hunting deer or turkey. An exempt license may be obtained by persons under 17 or over 65, or by a person hunting on property on which he resides. A fishing license is required for all persons 17 years of age to 65 who fish

Science Students Favor Engineering

J. V. Peeler, manager for Southwestern Public Service Company, today released the results of a survey of some of the state's outstanding high school science students, revealing that engineering is their number one choice as a career, with teaching and research tied for second place.

Peeler's company, a member of the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation which conducted the survey during a statewide nuclear science symposium for some 400 selected high school science students and teachers at the University of Texas, June 11-13, sponsored the attendance of 19 students and 14 teachers from its service area.

Third place choice of the students, according to the survey, was a career in physics, followed in order by general science, medicine, mathematics, nuclear physics, chemistry, dentistry and law.

The survey, which was answered by 188 students, indicated that salary was only a secondary consideration in their choice of careers. Ninety-three per cent of the students said they were motivated by their liking of the work in their chosen field. Many listed also the fact that the work would benefit mankind. About half of the students said their choice was also governed by the fact that work pays well, but only one student listed this as the only reason for his choice. Nine out of ten of the science students have picked the college or university they want to attend, their major course of study and their careers, and an extraordinarily large number—55 per cent—said they definitely intend to go on to seek a doctor's degree after completing their college and undergraduate studies.

A majority of those expressing a preference as to an employer indicated that they would rather work for private industry, preferably a large company, but only 16 students said they would like to own their own businesses.

David Douglas, of Muleshoe High School, was one of those who attended the June symposium.

Lost Children Go To School

The sign scrawled on the window of the Johnson's Creek School House at Six Flags Over Texas, Dallas, says "School closed, gone cotton pickin'." However, visitors walking down the Republic of Texas street past the bright red and white school house, can see what appears to be classes going on as usual—children writing on the blackboard, reading books at their desks or perhaps playing with building blocks.

The truth of the matter is the Johnson's Creek School is not a school at all but a place where lost children are brought until claimed by their parents. Two full-time nurses are always on duty here along with acting school "marm" Miss Linda Gulino to take care of these lost youngsters.

The funniest set of circumstances that has happened so far in regard to lost children was one nine-year-old boy who walked in and said he was lost. When asked where he was when he got separated from his parents, he replied that it wasn't at all like that. "I came here with my sister and her boy friend about an hour ago and they told me to get lost, so here I am."

Goldberg Wants Improved Farm Work Conditions

"Agricultural workers are the victims of economic discrimination," Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg said in an address to a meeting of the League of Latin American Citizens in San Antonio, Texas.

"The groups who have succeeded over the years in prepetuating sub-standard labor conditions in the agricultural industry have not done so because they dislike Negroes or Mexicans and American Indians," the Secretary said. "They have done so, and continue to do so, because they feel it is to their economic advantage to keep costs down."

Declaring that the food growers did not create the conditions that force people to migrate or accept low wages or poor working conditions, Secretary Goldberg added:

"But neither have they sought, as an active policy for their industry, to change them."

"I believe we must strive to accomplish in agriculture what we have already accomplished in other segments of the economy—the restoration of respect and dignity, based on good wages, good working conditions, and steady employment, to the men, women, and children who labor for hire on our farms," he said.

"We must face the fact that we cannot maintain indefinitely a depressed class of agricultural wage earners for the benefit of a comparatively few agricultural employers," the Secretary went on.

"We must face the fact that the farm labor problem is an integral part of the overall farm problem. We must realize that in many cases, the availability of a surplus of agricultural workers, whether they be domestic or foreign, contributes to overproduction and hurts the farmers who hire little or no labor."

"The present Administration has pledged itself to improve labor conditions in agriculture," Secretary Goldberg said. "For the first time in history, every agency of the national Government is working together to achieve this goal."

"I am hopeful that the bills to improve the conditions of the migrants will pass the Congress this year. It would mark the first significant step in history

Cars Cost Bailey Drivers Millions

Bailey County couples who are bound for the hinterlands on motor trips this summer will spend, if they are average, about $29 a day while on the road, according to the American Automobile Association.

This is based on driving 300 miles a day. It includes $7 for car operation, $10.50 for meals and snacks, $9.50 for overnight lodgings and $2 for tolls and miscellaneous expenses.

But before the trip, the cautious driver will have his car checked over. And that is when he will get to wondering: "How much do I spend a year to run it?"

For most car owners that is a difficult question. It means combining all the variable-type expenditures, such as gas, oil and service charges, with the fixed costs, such as insurance, taxes and depreciation.

The AAA has come up with current facts and figures for the average car owner. It follows a survey of such costs in various parts of the country for a standard-size car in the popular-price field.

For normal operation at 10,000 miles a year, the cost is $807 in fixed charges plus 3.96 cents a mile, a total of $1,203. Applied to Bailey County and to the 3,360 passenger cars in use there, the annual expenditure locally is an estimated $4,042,000.

Every day throughout the year, whether a car is used or not, its owner incurs a bill for $2.21, the AAA reports. This is for depreciation, insurance and license fees.

The variable charges—for gas, oil, tires and maintenance—then enter the picture. They depend upon the amount of driving done. The combined cost is 12 cents a mile at the 10,000-a-year rate. Those who go 20,000 miles pay relatively less. Because the fixed charges stay the same, the cost drops to 8.1 cents a mile. Operation at 5,000 miles a year, however, is much more expensive. It zooms to 20 cents a mile, the bulk of it in fixed charges.

Compact cars take less to maintain, states the AAA. The domestic ones are $248 cheaper and the foreign ones, $536. The figures are for 10,000-mile operation.

The amount of auto travel continues to grow and gas stations in Bailey County have been benefiting by it. Their gross receipts last year reached $870,000 as against the previous year's $811,000.

Progress Seen In Ogalalla Land

Several new businesses have opened in Ogalalla Land in the past few weeks. Several others have been sold to new entrepreneurs who will take over management come September 1.

There is no way of knowing for certain whether this is a sign of growth, but The Journal feels it is. And it is a sign of something different going on in Ogalalla Land as compared to many parts of the country.

We are given to understand that businesses are closing down in other parts of the nation, while we see new ones coming into Ogalalla Land. To us this is significant. It shows that Ogalalla Land is a dynamic little town.

Some time back there was a public service spot on television showing a man who was doing a land office business with a diner. Someone told him business was generally bad, so he let part of his help go, cut down on his orders and quit advertising. Soon his business, too, had declined and he agreed that business was indeed bad.

The point is, business is what we in Ogalalla Land make it. It will do no good to listen to stories of the bad conditions in China or in Afghanistan or in the eastern section of the United States. The price of eggs in China has little relation of the business trends of Ogalalla Land.

Certainly the economic conditions in the eastern part of our nation can be felt in Ogalalla Land — if they become serious enough. But let's not be spooked by rumors of labor strife in Detroit, poor living conditions in New York City or the drop in tourist trade of Atlantic City. These things don't keep Ogalalla Land from continuing to grow and prosper. These things won't stop the wheels of progress in Ogalalla Land. We trade in Ogalalla Land, so let's think of our local merchants and help them to welcome these new businesses of Bailey County's business world.

(Editor's Note: Ogalalla is the name given the water-bearing formation beneath Bailey County.)

Sandhills Philosopher: Adds Two Bits Worth To Berlin Crisis, But It Is Inflationary

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm discusses the Berlin situation this week, without making much of a dent in it.

Right when people ought to be enjoying the closing days of summer, all you can hear from them is: What's going to happen over West Berlin and East Berlin?

Why, the newspapers are so full of the Berlin crisis even old-fashioned ax murderers have been crowded to an inside page, and any robber who holds up a bank for only a few thousand dollars can't even get in the paper at all.

But I've been viewing the Berlin situation this way: with so many brains at work on it, every corner of the world, I figure I can be excused from devoting my full time to it, although I'll admit that West Berlin's demand that the United States stop talking and start fighting over its plight has me puzzled. It hasn't been very many years since the same place was hollering that we ought to stop fighting and start talking.

Now I'm not saying the situation could be any different. Its mighty easy to look back fifteen years and say what we should have done, but I can look out over this Johnson grass farm and list a dozen things it looks like I would have had sense enough to have done fifteen years ago, but there they are, still undone. This goes for both the East side of this place as well as the West side.

For example, while one of the problems in Berlin is the question of whether you can cross from the East to the West, my problem here is that a cow can cross from either direction and leave the place altogether from all sides if she takes the notion. You might say that on this farm, a cow recognizes no borders and I could shut the gate, it seems like a waste of time when the fences beyond the gate won't States stop talking and start holding cows anyway.

One advantage my cows have over people is that they don't recognize any political philosophy. I've tried dictating to

The annual summer commencement of the West Texas State College, Canyon, was held at the Buffalo stadium, Tuesday evening August 14.

Mrs. J.W. Walker, Plainview president of the Texas Federated Women's Club was the speaker. Twenty-six master's degrees were conferred and 117 bachelors degrees were given.

Among those receiving B.S. degrees were: Mrs. Ida Lou Glaze Long and Mrs. J.J. DeShazo.

Music was furnished by the summer band. Two Muleshoe boys, Loyd Alsip and Lowell St. Clair are members of the summer band.

Friday afternoon of last week Mrs. Jim Cook and Mrs. Helen Fern Allen were co-hostesses to a pre-nuptial shower honoring Miss Ina Renfrow, who is to be married Saturday to Mr. Bruce Lambert in the home of her parents.

The shower was held in the Baptist Church annex. The many gifts were placed in a "wishing well" and the couple drew one gift at a time out until all gifts were opened.

Peggy Allen and Jimmy Clyde Holt acting as miniature bride and groom shared the lime light. Clela Nell Bayless, Anallita Young and Hellen Allen assisted in serving refreshments.

Since the heavy rains in June and July, the highway to Plainview has been closed. Water receded enough the past few days for highway trucks to fill the worse places with gravel and dirt and the road is now open to traffic. The repairs to the highway is in temporary condition and the several hundred feet will soon be re-topped.

Students of the Muleshoe School will enroll September 5 and classes will begin on the following Tuesday, September 9.

If the new Mercantile National Building at Dallas is not a super-super structure, it won't be from lack of advice. The side-walk Superintendent's Club now has grown to a membership of 17,000, and is growing daily.

With the beginning of the construction of the 30 story building crowds lined the rail to watch and as usual, the watchers were liberal with their advice. Those having never helped to build found fault too. So bank president, R.L. Thornton, said "the on lookers could watch in comfort after he erected stands for them and issued membership cards reading Sidewalk Superintendent's Club". A copy of a card along with a picture of the stands was received by the Journal this week.

them, but it won't work. Some day Mr. Khrushchev may find out the same thing about people.

Africans Hungry For Grain

A survey of the market potential for Texas grain sorghum in three West African nations has been conducted by Dr. J. Wayland Bennett of Texas Tech. The Tech agricultural economics department head has just returned from three weeks of travel in Nigeria, Liberia and Sierra Leone under a survey study sponsored by the U. S. Feed Grains Council, Grain Sorghum Producers Ass'n., and the USDA's Foreign Agriculture Service. Bennett left the United States on June 27 and returned July 20.

EXISTING
"All of the nations we visited are on a subsistence level of consumption," Bennett said, noting that "in most of the areas 90 per cent of the population merely subsisted in the economy while about 10 per cent are in the money economy. The exception to this is Nigeria where between 15 and 20 per cent of the population participate in the money economy."

He said the primary objective of the study is to determine the potential of developing poultry in those nations with the secondary purpose of supplying them with the necessary feed grains. "Primarily, all of the governments of the nations we visited are interested in developing their agriculture to raise their population above the subsistence level of consumption," the Tech agricultural economist said. "More than 80 per cent of the people in each nation are engaged in agriculture."

"If the primary purchasing power of this 80 per cent can be increased, they expect the economy will be improved all up the line," he added.

At present, Bennett said Liberia has no feed production and Sierra Leone produces a small amount of grain sorghum and corn—totally inadequate for its needs.

In contrast, Nigeria is expecting a surplus of peanut meal but is short on supplies of grain sorghum or corn which are major crops there.

The supply is short mainly for livestock feeding as the maize is a major human food there. Nigeria was the only country of the three he studied that had a mill to make wheat flour. It was only a few years ago that wheat was introduced in that country, Bennett noted. Another mill is being constructed in Lagos, the capital city of Nigeria, but it will only supply flour for the surrounding area.

LIBERIA POOREST

Bennett said that Liberia—a nation that was founded for freed slaves from the United States—is at present the poorest of the three nations he visited.

"But, Liberia probably has the potential of outstripping the others in economic growth in future years," he said. "Newly discovered and developed iron ore deposits are expected to produce up to $200 million annual income by 1965. This will certainly increase the money population."

The government agriculturalists in Nigeria, Liberia and Sierra Leone are putting primary emphasis on developing poultry enterprises, Bennett said. As the nations become more self-sufficient in foods and as their national budget increase, they hope to put a greater proportion of their budget into agricultural development.

Gas Turbine Powered Tractor

International Harvester Company's experimental tractor has a gas turbine engine paired with a hydrostatic transmission. Skin, or body, sections are molded fiberglass.

CHICAGO — International Harvester Company has developed an experimental tractor in which a gas turbine engine is paired with a hydrostatic transmission. The body or skin is made of fiberglass.

The tractor, named the HT-840, has no gear shift lever, no throttle, and no brake or clutch pedals. It uses neither cooling water nor anti-freeze, and has no transmission gears. The hydrostatic transmission depends upon oil at high pressure to transmit power by acting on the pistons of a radial hydraulic motor installed in each driving wheel.

The 80-horsepower gas turbine engine, a product of Solar Aircraft Company, Harvester's San Diego subsidiary, is 21 inches long, 13 inches in diameter and weighs only 90 pounds with reduction gearing. At present, the HT-840 uses only about half of the turbine's rated horsepower since the transmission was designed to operate with a 40-horsepower piston engine.

Lazbuddie Longhorns Expect Good Season

Lazbuddie Longhorns are expected to have a fair season despite the loss of ten seniors of whom nine were starters. Another starter and center for the Longhorns moved to Oklahoma at mid-term last year. He is Jimmy Broadhurst, all-district center in 1960, and one of the finest defensive players in Class B football.

Jimmy Dale Seaton, fullback and lineman, will be the only regular returning. He will weigh 175 pounds and stands 6 feet, and likes his football rough and rugged. Others who saw service for the Longhorns, mostly on defense, are: Paul Wilbanks, Richard Chitwood, Cooper Young, David Koelzer, Jim Brown, and Calvin Mason.

The Longhorns went through the 1960 season with an 8-1 record, their only loss coming from the Farwell Steers. The conference record was 4-0. Coach Bobby Crooks thinks his squad will give all opposition plenty of trouble, even the Farwell Steers, who they meet on September 15 at Farwell. The Longhorns open their season September 1 at home with Wilson.

The Horns will be smaller with less speed but should have better balance. The roster has not been completed at this time. Carol Stepp will be the assistant coach, he came to Lazbuddie from Hartley.

HOW MUCH PAINT?

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service, along with other State Cooperative Extension Services of the nation, has been assigned the responsibility for providing the educational and organizational leadership for carrying out the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Rural Areas Development Program. The USD's RAD program is applicable to all counties, and is an expansion and reorganization of the earlier rural development effort which operated on a pilot basis.

To find out how much paint you need for the outside of your house, use this method. Multiply the distance around the foundation by the height of the house, adding 2 feet if the house has a peaked roof.

This gives you the approximate number of square feet to be covered. Divide this total by 500, the average coverage of a gallon of quality house paint. The result will be the approximate number of gallons needed for one coat.

"Quality you can measure by your car's performance."

COLORS DRAW AND REPEL

In choosing paint colors learn a lesson from a midwest restaurant chain which uses bright colors to lure its teen-age customers into its units and depend on the same bright colors to make the customers so restless that they leave without tying up the tables.

The walls are "hot" pinks and reds. Doors are painted a clashing bright orange, while tables and chairs are painted in all different colors—reds, yellows, greens, blues and white. No pastels. In choosing your own color schemes, use bright, pure colors only as accents, not on large areas.

When the old finish is removed from a floor by sanding, it is important that the first coat of the new finish be applied immediately. This will prevent dirt and dust from marring the bare wood, and will also prevent moisture from raising the grain.

It's a good idea to work in your stocking feet to avoid scuffing the floor with your shoes. Be sure to use only quality varnish, penetrating sealer or floor enamel.

Stone's Throw

by GARY STONE

The name of this column has prompted some interesting remarks in the past few weeks. One man told us a story built around it. Seems there was a cannibal chief who coveted another chief's throne. One night he took his warriors over, massacred the neighboring villagers and stole the throne.

He had the massive granite throne carried up into his house, which was on stilts, and admired it there all the next day. That night he slept in it and, while he slept, the weight of the throne finally caused the house to collapse, killing the king and several warriors who slept below to protect him.

The moral to this story is, people who live in grass: houses shouldn't stow thrones. Of course that is supposed to be, "People who live in glass houses shouldn't throw stones." Today I'm going to throw a few stones and hope none of them hit my glass house.

There has been a rash of terrible automobile wrecks in Bailey County lately. Last month, in a 29-county area polled, there were nine deaths due to auto crashes. FOUR of these were in Bailey County. Now this was due to two wrecks, with three fine young people from one family killed in one and one man killed in the other.

School will open soon and there is a strong possibility that some of The Journal's readers will be rushing off for one last weekend before school starts. Then Labor Day will be here and everyone will be off for another long weekend.

What will happen in Bailey County and to Bailey County residents on these weekends? What will happen after, when they are just going about their daily lives? How many reading this newspaper right now will not be alive to read the issue dated one year from today?

Whose fault is it that four people have died in highway mishaps in the last month? Is it the fault of the "fool in the other car"?

Is it the fault of the State because speed laws were not enforced as well as they might have been if taxpayers had been willing to put out the money to have more patrolmen? Is it the fault of the Highway Department because there were not adequate warning signs?

Can we think we all know the answers to these questions. It is human nature that causes accidents. Can we arrest human nature? Can we alter it? Can we stop it? No. We can only try a little harder to avoid accidents so we will all be around a year from now. I'd like to be writing this column on that day and I'd like for you to be reading it. So PLEASE, dear reader, be

4-H Citizens Will Receive Awards

The best 4-H citizens in the state and nation will soon be stepping up to claim well-deserved honors and the plaudits of their fellow 4-H'ers for having demonstrated praiseworthy participation in public affairs, civic welfare, community events and club responsibilities.

The 1961 award recipients will include a pair of national winners who will receive an expense-paid trip to the National 4-H Club Congress next fall, a $400 college scholarship and a handsome, engraved silver tray. The award announcement is made by the National 4-H Service Committee which cooperates with the Extension Service in the national 4-H citizenship program.

The top-rated girl and boy in the state receive a certificate of honor usually presented to them during a special 4-H recognition ent, according to the 4-H Service Committee.

The awards are given in honor of the late Thos. E. Wilson of Chicago through a fund set aside in his memory. Mr. Wilson was a staunch believer in 4-H youth, and gave both moral and financial support to the 4-H movement for nearly four decades.

The two national award winners will be in line for one of 4-H's highest honors: being named to represent the more than 2.3 million 4-H members during National 4-H Club Week next March.

Decay and failure of wood-work can be reduced by brush, dip or soak treating with water repellent preservatives. Bill Smith, extension forester, reports that long time tests show surface treatments give worthwhile protection to wooden siding, steps, porches, exterior trim shutters and other items exposed to rain seepage.

extra careful today and every day and let us keep our subscribers around to read The Journal next year and the next and the next.

Journal Sets New Date For Publication

Muleshoe Journal Editor Gary Stone this week announced the Journal will be published on Wednesdays beginning with this issue.

Reason given for the new publication date, which is one day earlier than the accustomed day, is the desire to better serve readers and advertisers. "Some people on rural routes were not getting their papers until Friday or even Saturday," Stone said, "and the new publication date should get the paper to them in time for them to take advantage of the advertised bargains in The Journal."

Stone went on to cite some instances in which subscribers had not received The Journal until Monday, adding that the cause for this delay was of an undetermined origin.

J. R. Haney, Journal advertising manager, said the new publication date was accompanied by a new advertising and news copy deadline. All display advertising must be in by 5 p.m. Tuesday. News deadline is 12 noon Wednesdays.

It was pointed out that the newspaper will continue to carry Thursday's dateline, although it will be printed Wednesday night. An effort will be made to have The Journal in the mail Wednesday evening so readers may enjoy their papers Thursday.

Haney and Stone joined in saying they hope advertisers and readers will find the new publication schedule more convenient and beneficial to them.

Farmers are urged by C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist, to take advantage of every opportunity to learn of the provisions of the Agricultural Act of 1961 just recently signed by President Kennedy.

PORCH PAINTING

Here's an easy way to paint floors and porches with a long-handled roller that makes bending unnecessary. Pour a small amount of quality floor paint on the floor and then spread it with the roller; this makes redipping in the roller tray unnecessary. If the floor is in bad condition, remember that two thin coats will give better service than one heavy coat.

Persons interested in cattle feeding may find a visit with the local county agent very profitable, suggests U. D. Thompson, extension animal husbandman. He says they have available or can get plans for feed lots, feeders and other equipment and have available information on feeds and feeding.

"I like my dishwasher best of all!"

says Mrs. Paul Toliver, 1201 Xenia, Plainview, Texas

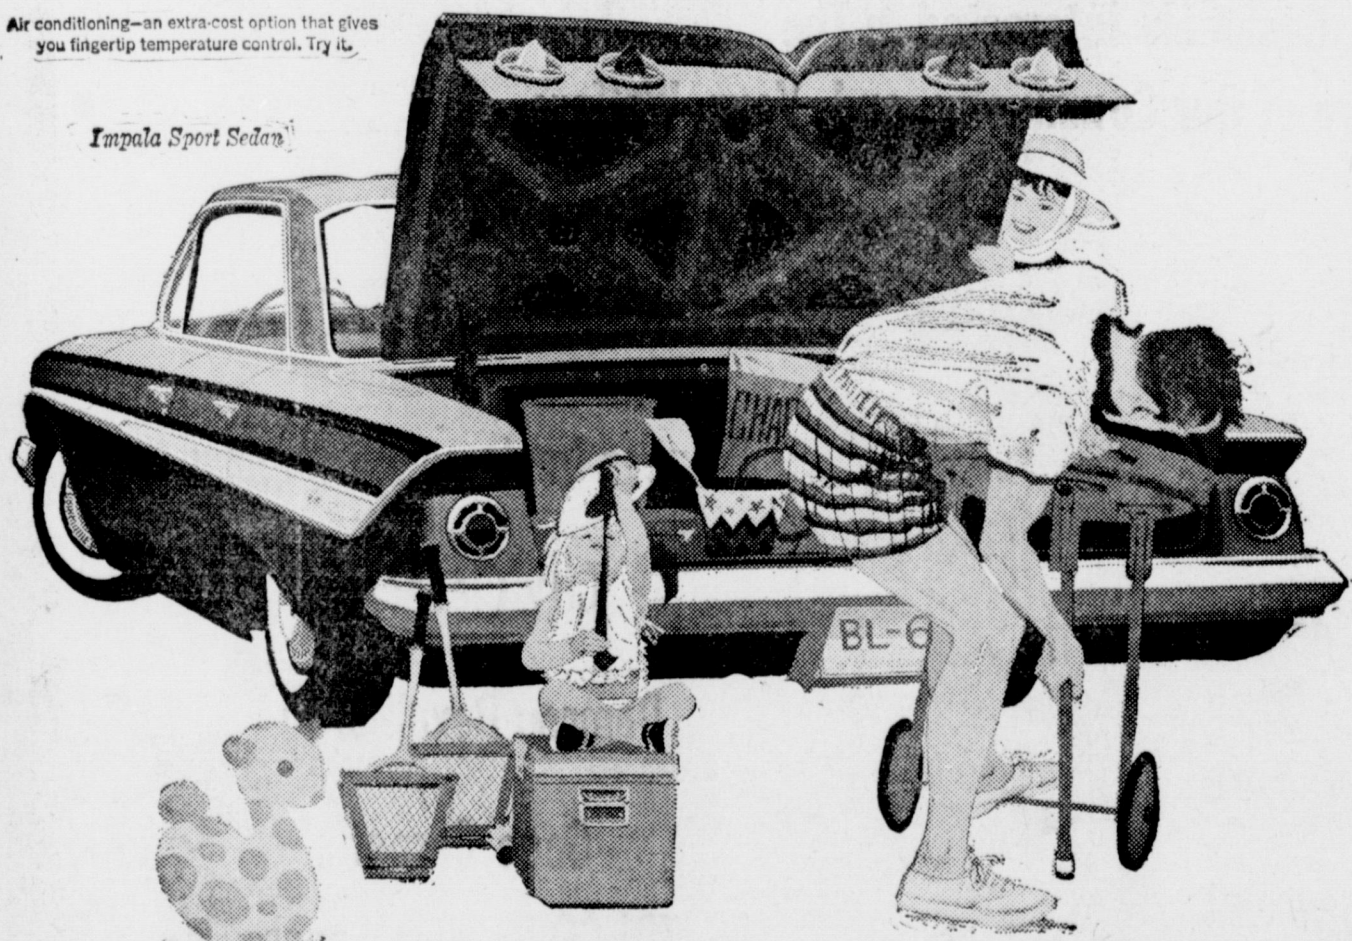

Mrs. Toliver moved into a new Medallion Home almost a year ago and while she appreciates all her electric appliances, she most likes her electric dishwasher. "I have fingernails for the first time in years," she says. This is her way of pointing out that since strong detergents never touch her hands, her nails stay pretty. "I just push the button and the dishes wash while I'm out," she adds. "Mother washes everything in her dishwasher — pots, pans, dishes... even silverware, fine china and crystal — all come out sparkling clean. And, you can guess how much I like it, being a busy teenager," says Dorthlyn, the Toliver's lovely daughter.

Study the Facts of Life (economic)

A community such as ours is built ... and maintained ... and prospered by the trading that goes on within it; not by the dollars which we allow ourselves to be persuaded to send off or carry off to some other community.

• Our schools ... our churches ... most of our homes and jobs or businesses ... the number and sort of neighbors we have ... the ability of our stores and service establishments to take care of our daily and emergency needs ... all of these depend upon local trade ... money spent here at home.

• One of the cold facts of life (economic) is that the prosperity and better life which our dollars naturally help to pay for in the community where they are spent can be far more valuable than the goods or service those dollars buy for us.

• But an equally undeniable fact of life is that we don't share in the enjoyment of these more important things paid for by our money ... unless we spend it at home.
