First Confirmed Case in Lynn County: New Home Woman Diagnosed With "Severe Case" of West Nile Virus

by JUANELL JONES

Rebecca Truhlicka, 30, of New Home has been diagnosed with West Nile Virus, the first confirmed case in Lynn County according to Mrs. Truhlicka, who has spoken with state health officials regarding her condition. Diagnosed with West Nile Neurologic disease and Encephalitis, Mrs. Truhlicka is recuperating at home from the traumatic symptoms of the disease.

She says the ordeal has affected her physically, emotionally and even had an impact on her thinking abilities, to the point where she says she was "out of my head for several days" - describing it as "the worst thing I have ever been through - it's just a big nightmare."

Her symptoms began a couple of weeks before Sept. 23 Homecoming events at New

"I want people to know, however, because there are still mosquitoes out and people need to take precautions - especially young children. The symptoms (which usually start a week or so after being infected by a mosquito) include headaches, confusion, personality changes, sleepiness that can lead to comas and even death in some cases. West Nile Virus is spread by mosquitoes and ticks, although birds are the hosts for West Nile Virus. About 1 in 10 infected people can die from the disease," she added, noting that the rash she has only occurs with about 20 percent of infected people.

"I've got permanent skin damage, I'm afraid. Basically, I am just waiting it out, and still waiting to hear the other results from the spinal tap to see if it causes anything else," said Mrs. Truhlicka. "After I was feeling

"I was confused, angry, disoriented and I started sleeping all the time ... I have never been so sleepy that I couldn't control it, but I have no recollection of the next few days."

-- Rebecca Truhlicka, victim of West Nile Virus

Home, in early September ("my mind is so fuzzy, but I do remember Homecoming as a point of reference during that time," she says).

"It started with an extremely bad headache that lasted for three days - just overwhelming to the point that I could hardly open my eyes because it hurt so bad. Then the pain moved down my neck and into my back, and after that I just kind of went 'out of it' for about a week," she recalls. "I was confused, angry, disoriented and I started sleeping all the time ... I have never been so sleepy that I couldn't control it, but I have no recollection of the next few days," she admits.

"My mom (Ann Ljsemby of New Home) found me after two days, and came and took the kids back with her. We didn't know what was wrong with me, and she made an appointment with a doctor, but it was the end of the week before I could get in. We had no idea what it was, but by the time I was able to get in to see the doctor I was sweating profusely and shivering, and not really able to answer questions very well. My blood pressure was down to 100 over 47. They said I was dehydrated and gave me antibiotics, and sent the blood work and spinal tap tests off to the state. That's when the doctor confirmed that it was the West Nile Neurologic virus, and also that it had caused Encephalitis (an inflammation of the brain, usually caused by a viral infection). We're still waiting for other test results, because the Encephalitis can lead to Meningitis," said Mrs. Truhlicka.

Mrs. Truhlicka lives with her family in a farmhouse on FM 179 near New Home, and she and her family spend much of their time outdoors. "We wear mosquito repellent all the time, and in fact apply it multiple times when we are outside, so we do take precautions," she says.

However, one mosquito must have gotten through to her and infected her with the West Nile virus during the early part of September, because shortly thereafter she began experiencing symptoms. When she was officially diagnosed, through blood work and spinal taps sent to state health officials, her doctor in Lubbock informed her that her case was "one of the most severe cases" she had ever seen.

There are two types of West Nile Virus, Mrs. Truhlicka was informed - the West Nile Fever and West Nile Neurologic - and the New Home woman has a "major case" of the Neurologic virus.

"There's no treatment. I just have to recover on my own," she said, adding that she is still experiencing various symptoms. "I developed a rash that started on my arms that eventually turned into blisters all over my body, and then turned into big welts. Now I have dark spots all over my skin, including my face - it's just awful."

somewhat better, I began driving again, but sometimes I would forget where I was going - it's very frustrating."

"Please tell people to continue to wear mosquito repellent, especially in the evenings when it is cooler," she urged. "And with Halloween coming up, parents need to know to be sure to protect their children from mosquitoes with repellents containing Deet, when they take them out for trick-or-treating," she added.

Editor's Note: According to information from the CDC (Center for Disease Control) website (<http://www.cdc.gov/ncidod/dvbid/westnile/qa/symptoms.htm>), the symptoms of severe disease (also called neuroinvasive disease because it infects the nervous system, such as West Nile encephalitis or meningitis or West Nile poliomyelitis) include headache, high fever, neck stiffness, stupor, disorientation, coma, tremors, convulsions, muscle weakness, and paralysis. It is estimated that approximately 1 in 150 persons infected with the West Nile virus will develop a more severe form of disease.

Most people (about 4 out of 5) who are infected with West Nile virus will not develop any type of illness (an asymptomatic infection), however, you cannot know ahead of time if you'll get sick or not when infected, the CDC information related.

Antique Stove Stolen Here

An antique "pot belly" stove was reported stolen from the yard of a house on S. 3rd St. last Friday night. The owner, Robbie Cox, told police he had moved from that location to another house on Friday, leaving the stove next to a fence. When he went back to get it the next day it was missing. Cox valued the stove at $500.

Police also investigated a report of harassing phone calls made to a Tahoka woman.

With 52 inmates in jail as of last Tuesday morning, Lynn County jail was almost filled to capacity, but the total dropped to 50 later in the day. Of the 52, 23 were held for Lubbock County, six for Gaines County, one for Garza County and 22 for Lynn County.

Of the latest group jailed, five were charged with illegal license or certificate, six were held on charges of possession of drugs, mostly marijuana, others were jailed on warrant for DWI subsequent offense, judgment on felony DWI charges, public intoxication, and failure to identify to a peace officer.

Henley also represented Lyntegar Electric, which received the Golden Clover Award.

Early Voting Begins Monday

Early voting begins Monday, Oct. 24 for voting in the November 8 special election to adopt or reject the proposed Constitutional Amendments as submitted by the 79th Legislature. Early voting will be conducted at the County Clerk's Office inside the Lynn County Courthouse, during regular business hours of 8:30 a.m. until 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. The early voting period ends Nov. 4.

There are nine propositions on the ballot. A brief explanation of these proposed constitutional amendments was printed in the Sept. 15 edition of The Lynn County News.

Proposition 1 deals with creating a Texas rail relocation/improvement fund in the state treasury and would authorize grants of state revenue for construction of railroad facilities, underpasses and overpasses; Proposition 2 bans same-sex marriages in Texas and prohibits political subdivisions from creating or recognizing any legal status for same-sex marriages; Proposition 3 would clarify that certain economic development programs do not constitute a debt; Proposition 4 authorizes the denial of bail to a criminal defendant who violates a condition of the defendant's release pending trial; Proposition 5 would allow the legislature to define rates of interest for commercial loans.

Proposition 6 would increase the size of the State Commission on Judicial Conduct from 11 to 13 members by including one additional public member and one constitutional county court judge in the membership; Proposition 7 would authorize new options for reverse mortgage agreements for senior homeowners, including line-of-credit advances.

Proposition 8 would clear individual land titles by relinquishing and releasing all state ownership interests, including mineral interests, in two areas - a 4,600 acre area located roughly 14 miles southeast of Gilmer, Texas, and a separate 900 acre area located north of Tyler; and Proposition 9 would provide for a staggered six-year term for a board member of a regional mobility authority.

FAR OUT: The actor best known for playing Scotty on the Star Trek series on TV, died at the age of 85 in July. Soon his body will rocket into outer space in a final journey that "boldly goes where no man has gone before," according to an article in the AARP Bulletin, which said his remains, and those of others, are being sent into outer space, and some other unusual final resting places.

So how would you like to be "buried" in outer space? My first thought was that these guys going on those shuttle trips would maybe come across my body floating around up there, and it would be a revolting sight, since my body never looked all that great when it was breathing.

It turns out, though, that these strange final rites for Doohan and others don't really involve the solid body. They involve distribution of ashes after cremation.

The story says a journalist named Hunter Thompson had his ashes converted to fireworks, in a ceremony in August, which cost $2 million. My first thought there was how did a journalist (other than the woman who wrote the Hairy Potty stories) ever get $2 million?

Anyway, the story said increasing numbers of Americans are choosing to dispose of their remains in unorthodox ways.

"Doohan, for example, will join scores of others who've had several grams of their cremated remains shot into space by Houston-based Space Services, Inc., which charges $995 to $5,300, depending on the number of grams involved."

There's a place in Florida which, for $1,000 or more, will release a small helium balloon containing a person's ashes into the sky, where it eventually freezes and shatters, scattering the remains. I can imagine this happening to me:

Lynn County resident: "Look, Elsie Mae-it's snowing!"

"No, I don't think so. It's just that newspaper guy has made an ash of himself again."

HEARD A SERMON recently about weeds growing in a wheat field, and what to do about them. I think there was a parallel drawn with the bad things in our lives, but my mind sort of wandered because I already knew the story. I think I read it in Weeder's Digest.

Phebe K. Warner CLUB NEWS

Twelve members met in the home of Pat Park on Tuesday, Oct. 11. Barbara White served as co-hostess.

Garret Autry, junior at Tahoka High School, presented a program concerning the HOBY conference that he attended last spring. He entertained the members with humorous sayings and songs that he learned while attending the leadership conference. PKW sponsors one sophomore every year to attend the conference held in Amarillo.

During a brief business meeting, members discussed the success of the clean-up day and discussed plans for fund raising. Members decided to sell Innsbruck Products again this year, and will begin contacting community people for orders of wrapping paper, small gift items and candy. The money from this project is used for local scholarships. All ordered items should be here in time for Christmas wrapping and gift-giving.

Tammy Angeley was presented as a new member. The next meeting is scheduled for October 25 in the home of Suzanne Baker for a presentation on the Lynn County Courthouse restoration project.

Track Repairs Considered At Tahoka ISD

Tahoka Independent School District Board of Trustees met in regular session last Tuesday, Oct. 11, approving advertising for sealed bids for proposals on repairing the high school track, and conducting a hearing on the district's Financial Integrity Rating System of Texas (FIRST) rating report. No members of the public attended the hearing, which noted a rating of Superior Achievement in the district's financial integrity for the 2003-04 school year.

In other business, Board Secretary Carmen Chapa, who led the meeting due to the absence of Board President Math Bartley and Vice President Joe Calvillo, presented Media Honor Roll awards to Juanell Jones and Vondell Elliott, co-owners of The Lynn County News, expressing the district's appreciation for media coverage of school issues.

Elizabeth Bray was hired as Special Education Assistant at the elementary campus, and policy updates were approved from TASB. Principals and Supt. Jimmy Parker reported to trustees on various activities, and Parker noted that the school board convention, which was cancelled in Houston last month due to hurricane events, has been rescheduled for the first of November.

The next meeting was set for Nov. 10 at 7 p.m., and the meeting adjourned at 8:04 p.m. Trustees present at the meeting included Mrs. Chapa, Jimmy Dorman, Valton Stephens, Frank McLelland and Kent Kahl.

Musical Entertainment To Head Rotary Scholarship Benefit Dinner

Musical entertainment from Cactus Theatre performers, Jeff Bailey and Billy McClaran, along with The Texas Rhythm Machine, will headline a night of entertainment in Tahoka that will benefit local youth scholarships. The Tahoka Rotary Club is hosting their annual Scholarship Benefit Banquet on Saturday, Oct. 22, with the Cactus Theatre performers' concert and ribeye steak dinner enticing local residents to contribute to the Rotary Scholarship fund.

Tickets are available from any Rotary Club member, at $40 per person, or $75 per couple. The event will be held at The Center for Housing and Community Development, located at 1400 Ave. K in Tahoka.

All proceeds from the event will go to the Tahoka Rotary Scholarship Fund, which benefits local youth.

"We appreciate the generosity of local residents in supporting our fund-raising efforts, and are excited about our upcoming concert and dinner. We think local residents will enjoy the musical talents of Jeff Bailey, Billy McClaran and the Texas Rhythm Machine," said Mrs. Tipton.

Manage Diabetes With Food Choices

by AMY BAUGH,
Lynn County Extension Agent

Foods and nutrition play an important part in managing diabetes, but in order for people to use these key tools, they must know the right kinds and amounts of food to eat each day.

Foods are classified according to the major nutrients they provide - carbohydrates, proteins and fats - and dietary intake of these nutrients can affect the body's ability to function.

Too often today's life is spent in a rush - work, home, school and activities all take time - and because of this, too often food is eaten quickly, without any consideration of the nutrition it provides. But eating properly and healthfully takes planning and advance decisions that insure the right choices in foods are made.

People with diabetes can eat the same foods as the rest of their families, but they need to make sure their eating habits are healthy in order to better control their diabetes.

Healthy, nutritious foods enable the body to grow, maintain and repair tissues, and balance its chemistry. The body needs proteins, carbohydrates, fats, vitamins, minerals and water in the right amounts and at the right times in order to function well.

No one food supplies all the nutrients the body needs. The USDA MyPyramid divides food into five main groups: • Grains (bread, cereals, rice and pasta) • Vegetables • Fruits • Milk • Meat and beans

To build a healthy meal plan, start on the right side of the pyramid with the first group, grains (breads, cereals, rice and pasta). Eat at least six ounces from this group each day, and be sure to include whole grain foods. In the middle groups, include at least 2 cups of vegetables and at least 1 cup of fruits in your diet every day. Next is the milk group * choose 3 cups of foods from this group each day. Finally, eat 5 ounces of lean meat, poultry, fish, beans and nuts each day. These amounts will increase according to each person's calories needs and activity levels.

While oils are not considered a food group, they are represented by a small band on MyPyramid. And Oils contribute vitamin E and essential fatty acids to the diet. Occur naturally in foods such as nuts, seeds, olives, avocados and some fish. However, oils should be used sparingly, about 6 teaspoons for a 2,000 calorie diet. Oils do not include solid fats. Everyone should limit foods with solid fats. And also, cut back on salt.

All of these foods contain carbohydrates, proteins and/or fats, and provide the body with calories and energy, vitamins, minerals and fiber. They also provide a lot of choices, so people with diabetes aren't limited to only a few foods.

People with diabetes are especially concerned with carbohydrates, since their bodies don't metabolize starches well. Complex carbohydrates - breads, starches, cereals, vegetables and fruits - are better tolerated than simple sugar carbohydrates, such as milk, fruit juices and concentrated sweets such as sugar, syrup and honey. That's why people with diabetes are better off if they eat more pastas, beans, whole-grain flours, cereals, fruits and vegetables.

Fiber is also an important part of the meal plan, especially for those who have diabetes. Some good sources of dietary fiber are legumes, dried peas and beans, fruits, vegetables, whole-grain cereals and breads.

While raising the amount of fiber in their meal plans, people with diabetes need to be aware of the amount of fats they consume. Because people with diabetes have higher amounts of lipids (fats), and extra sugar in their blood, they face a greater risk of heart disease and stroke than do people who don't have diabetes.

Cut down on fat consumed by:
- Eating more fruits, vegetables, cereal grains and starches which have no saturated fatty acids and no cholesterol. (Check to make sure animal fat or tropical oils have not been added.)

- Choosing vegetable oils with higher levels of unsaturated fatty acids and lower levels of saturated fatty acids. Some of these healthier oils are safflower, sunflower, corn, soybean, canola, olive and peanut oils.

- Eating lean meat, poultry and fish which have been trimmed of all visible fat.

- Buying lower-fat milk and milk products.

- Reading labels to look for hidden sources of fats in foods.

For people with type 2 diabetes, being overweight is associated with developing high blood pressure * and so is high salt intake. Many health organizations recommend everyone should cut back on salt (sodium intake) to lessen the risk of developing high blood pressure, which often leads to stroke or heart attack.

Read labels for the amounts of sodium in foods, and notice how the food was processed - canned, dried, frozen, etc. Canned fermented vegetables such as sauerkraut or pickles have more sodium than their fresh counterparts, cabbage and cucumbers.

And always be aware of serving sizes. For grains, one 6-inch corn tortilla or one slice of bread or one cup of ready-to-eat cereal is an ounce. Two to three ounces of cooked meat, poultry or fish is about the size of a deck of cards. A half cup is about the size of a lightbulb or a yo-yo, and one cup is about the size of a baseball.

For more information on living with diabetes, contact Amy Baugh, Texas Cooperative Extension Agent, at 561-4562.

School Bus Safety Week Is Oct. 16-22

DPS is asking motorists to practice safe driving habits around school buses as part of School Bus Safety Week, Oct. 16-22.

This year's theme - "Flashing Red Means Stop Ahead" - is designed to remind drivers that Texas state law requires them to stop for school buses that are stopped and have activated their alternating red flashing lights. Motorists who do not stop face fines of up to $1,000 plus court costs if they are convicted.

"Drivers should not proceed until the school bus resumes motion; the driver is signaled by the bus driver to proceed; or the visual signal is no longer activated," said Charley Kennington, DPS program administrator for school bus transportation.

If a road is divided only by a left-turning lane, drivers on both sides of the roadway must stop for school buses with alternating red flashing lights activated. However, if the lanes are separated by an intervening space or physical barrier, only motorists going in the same direction as the bus are required to stop.

The Divide

by Nicholas Evans

When a murder suspect's body is found frozen in the ice of a remote mountain creek, the subsequent investigation takes the police from the streets of New York to the grandeur of the Rocky Mountains and poses unsettling questions about how a promising young woman from a loving family could engage in acts of killing and ecoterrorism.

Crowd Loves Bulldogs ...

Tahoka High School's stadium at Kelley Field has been packed with terrific crowds for Friday night football games, including this crowd shown during the playing of the school song at the Homecoming game.

Sweet Street Baptist To Celebrate Friend Day

Sunday, October 30 is Friend Day at the Sweet Street Baptist Church, located at 1300 Ave. J in Tahoka. This special day is set aside for the church to recognize its members' many friends.

The public is cordially invited to this celebration beginning in the church auditorium at 10:00 a.m. for a Bible study on friendship. This will be followed by worship, special music and a message from God's word on how to become a friend of God. A fellowship meal will follow in the fellowship hall. Everyone is encouraged to attend.

"I have been looking forward to this event for a long time, and I am expecting a great day," said Lynn Long, pastor of the church. For more information contact Pastor Long at 561-5320.

Strong Panthers Beat Leopards

New Home dropped to 3-4 for the year and 1-2 in district play as powerful Whitharral beat the Leopards 66-20 last Friday night.

Ryan Wied passed for 228 yards and a touchdown for New Home.

On the run ... Tahoka's Troy Price (3) goes around end for a good gain against Abernathy in a game won by the Antelopes 44-18 on Oct. 7. Other Bulldogs shown include Josh Hawthorne (75), Ty Cloe (60) and Zach Tillman (1). No. 22 for Abernathy is Nash Lambert. (LCN PHOTO by Gary Jones)

Tahoka Loses In Overtime To Shallowater, 35-34

It would be a lot more fun if the Tahoka Bulldogs could win one of those really close games instead of losing at the very end. But so far that hasn't been the case, and last Friday night at Shallowater, a run for two points by Tahoka in overtime came up a foot short and for the third time this season the Dogs went down by a single point, 35-34.

It was exactly the same score Tahoka was beaten by in the opener against Sundown, and the Bulldogs also lost by a point to Denver City, 21-20. The loss dropped Tahoka to 3-4 for the year, 1-3 in district, with powerful Post due in town this Friday.

"A couple of kicking game mistakes put us in the hole early," observed Coach Steve Heryford. "We fought back from a 28-12 second half deficit to tie the game at 28 in the fourth quarter, but in overtime we went for the win and came up short ... while I am proud of the way we have battled back in our close losses this year, we need to play more consistently to avoid getting in trouble early."

Shallowater scored on runs of 15 and 3 yards in the first period and on a run of 6 in the second quarter, but Tahoka had two spectacular touchdowns on passes to Troy Price, one in the first quarter from running back Jay Tillman, covering 58 yards, and the second a whopping 95 yards on a pass from Damon Moore, who subbed at quarterback most of the game for the injured Patrick Dotson.

Tahoka tried a kick after the first TD and a run for extra points after the second one, but neither was successful and the Mustangs led 21-12 at halftime.

Morton Outguns Eagles 36-33

In a wild shootout at Morton which saw 37 points scored in the last quarter, the Morton Indians escaped with a District 6-A win over O'Donnell, 36-33.

Josh Ramirez scored on a 27-yard run for the Eagles in the first quarter and again on an 87-yard kickoff return in the fourth. Gavin Ramirez scored on a 53-yard pass from Eagle QB O.J. Hunter in the third, and Hunter also rushed for touchdowns on runs of 3 and 65 yards.

O'Donnell fell to 4-3 for the season and 0-2 in district.

October Is Breast Cancer Awareness Month, says ACS

October is National Breast Cancer Awareness Month, and the American Cancer Society is increasing awareness of the importance of early detection. As the second leading cause of cancer death in women, breast cancer will claim an estimated 2,460 lives in Texas this year. Many of the lives lost to breast cancer could be prevented through early detection. When breast cancer is detected early the survival rate could be as high as 97%.

The American Cancer Society recommends the following screening guidelines for the early detection of breast cancer:

- Yearly mammograms beginning at age 40;
- Clinical Breast Exams about every 3 years for women in their 20s and 30s and every year for women 40 and older;
- Breast Self Examination (BSE) is an option for women starting in their 20s;
- Report any breast change promptly to health care providers.

Women at increased risk should talk with their doctors about the benefits and limitations of starting mammography screening earlier, having additional tests or having more frequent exams.

Maintaining a healthy body weight, staying physically active and limiting alcohol consumption may lower the risk of breast cancer.

Through clinical breast exams a physician can sometimes identify a problem that a woman may have overlooked. Though most breast lumps are not cancerous, only a physician can make a diagnosis.

The Texas Department of State Health Services Breast and Cervical Cancer Screening program offers free mammograms, breast examinations, and Pap tests to women who qualify. In addition, Medicare helps pay the cost of a mammogram for women age 40 or older with Medicare Part B.

On October 11, a wreath ceremony will take place in Austin to kick off National Breast Cancer Awareness Month, recognize breast cancer survivors and honor those who have lost their lives to the disease. First Lady Anita Perry, along with breast cancer survivors will speak urging women to take the appropriate action in fighting breast cancer.

For those who are diagnosed with breast cancer the American Cancer Society offers Patient Service programs such as: Reach to Recovery, Road to Recovery, Coping with Breast Cancer support group, Dialogue support group and Look Good, Feel Better as well as online support and resources through Cancer Survivor's Network at www.cancer.org.

The American Cancer Society is the nationwide community-based voluntary health organization dedicated to eliminating cancer as a major health problem by preventing cancer, saving lives, and diminishing suffering from cancer, through research, education, advocacy, and service.

For more information 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, call 1-800-ACS-2345 or visit www.cancer.org.

Notice

SECTION 00020 ADVERTISEMENT AND INVITATION FOR BIDS

Sealed proposals addressed to the Honorable Mayor and City Council of the City of Wilson, Texas, will be received until 2:00 p.m., November 8, 2005 at Wilson City Hall, 1601 10th Street, Wilson, Texas 79381, for Water Works Improvements. Immediately following the closing time for receipt of bids, proposals will be publicly opened and read aloud at City Hall. Any bid received after closing time will be returned unopened. Bids will be tabulated and presented to the Mayor and City Council for award at a later date.

Project includes construction of a 75,000-gallon ground storage tank renovating pump station and associated yard piping.

Bidders must submit a Cashier's or Certified Check issued by a bank satisfactory to the Owner, or a Proposal Bond from a reliable Surety Company, payable without recourse to the order of City of Wilson, in an amount not less than five percent (5%) of the bid submitted as a guaranty that the Bidder will enter into a contract and execute bonds in the forms provided within fifteen (15) days after notice of award of contract to him. Bids without the required check or Proposal Bond will not be considered.

The successful Bidder will be required to furnish a Performance Bond and a Payment Bond, each in the amount of the contract, written by a responsible Surety Company authorized to do business in the State of Texas, and satisfactory to the Owner, as required by Article 5160, V.A.T.C.S., as amended by H.B. 344, passed by the 56th Legislature, Regular Session 1959.

Bidders are expected to inspect the site of the work and to inform themselves regarding all local conditions.

Information for bidders, proposal forms, specifications and plans are on file in Wilson City Hall, 1610 10th Street, Wilson, Texas 79381, and at the office of Parkhill, Smith & Cooper, Inc., Consulting Engineers, 4222 85th Street, Lubbock, Texas, 79423. Copies of the plans, specifications and contract documents may be secured at the office of Parkhill, Smith & Cooper, Inc., Consulting Engineers, 4222 85th Street, Lubbock, Texas, 79423 (Phone 806-473-2200) for a price of Thirty Dollars ($30.00) for each set of plans and specifications. Upon return, in good condition and within 15 days after the bids have been opened, of each set of documents, the entire deposit will be refunded.

Attention is called to the fact that not less than, the federally determined prevailing (Davis-Bacon and Related Acts) wage rate, as issued by the Texas Department of Housing and Community Affairs and contained in the contract documents, must be paid on this project. In addition, the successful bidder must ensure that employees and applicants for employment are not discriminated against because of race, color, religion, sex, age or national origin.

The City of Wilson reserves the right to reject any or all bids or to waive any informalities in the bidding.

Bids may be held by the City of Wilson for a period not to exceed 45 days from the date of the bid opening for the purpose of reviewing the bids and investigating the bidders qualifications prior to the contract award.

First Bale ... New Home/Lakeview Cooperative Gin ginned their first bale of the year on Oct. 13, from cotton brought in by Clifton Clem of New Home (right). Clem says the cotton was planted approximately May 4 in the Lakeview area. It is not known if this is the first bale ginned in Lynn County, but it is the first bale reported to The Lynn County News. Gin Superintendent Milt Miller (left) notes that the gin is expecting another bumper year, as good as last year if weather cooperates, and that the gin has made several improvements at the facility. The gin is already running daily, with a night crew to be added this week to handle the expected increase.

To believe in something not yet proved and to underwrite it with our lives; it is the only way we can leave the future open.

Landtroop Kicks Off Campaign For State Legislature

Plainview businessman Jim Landtroop has kicked off his campaign for the Texas House of Representatives, visiting the Lynn County News in Tahoka Tuesday morning before continuing on a campaign trail throughout the district.

Landtroop, 37, is seeking the Republican nomination for House District 85. The district covers 16 counties in West Texas including Reagan, Irion, Sterling, Glasscock, Howard, Borden, Terry, Lynn, Garza, Crosby, Kent, Stonewall, Fisher, Jones, Hale and Floyd Counties. Currently, the representative seat is held by long time Representative Pete Laney, a Democrat and former Speaker of the House.

"The time has come for new leadership and new vision in House District 85. I plan to be an effective voice for our communities in the Texas House of Representatives," Landtroop said. "I'm going to take my practical business experience and my conservative philosophy to Austin and put it to work for the people I'll represent."

Landtroop has already been traveling the district campaigning in every county and generating widespread grassroots support. "I'm honored and humbled at the support I've received as I travel across the district. My campaign already has over 200 financial supporters and more are joining the effort everyday," Landtroop added.

Jim Landtroop graduated from Texas A&M University with a degree in Business Management and owns a small insurance agency in Plainview. Landtroop is married to his wife of 12 years, Cathy and they have three children: Braden (10), Kenneth (8) and Lauren Grace (5).

David Thomas Is Semifinalist For Draddy Trophy

University of Texas tight end David Thomas, son of John and Leasa Thomas, is one of 184 semifinalists for the Draddy Trophy, an award dubbed the "Academic Heisman" that is given to an athlete for his combined academic success, football performance and exemplary community leadership.

The award is presented by HealthSouth, in conjunction with the National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame.

Thomas earned first-team All-Big 12 and Academic All-Big 12 honors last year at UT-Austin. He is majoring in kinesiology and is a member of UT's Athletics Director's honor roll.

Semifinalists must be a senior or graduate student in their final year of eligibility, have a grade point average of at least 3.0 (on a 4.0 scale), be a first-team player and have demonstrated strong leadership and citizenship.

He is the grandson of Maurice and Grace Huffaker of Tahoka.
