

Summer fun is halted by vandals

By Terri Bohler

Saturday morning, June 10, employees arrived at the Muleshoe City Pool to find that vandals had burglarized and vandalized the pool the night before.

Holly Henderson, the new city pool manager, reported the incident to police. "This was a needless act that only hurt the kids," Henderson said. Garbage, food items from the office, and lawn chairs were thrown into the pool. Trash and chairs were scattered throughout the pool area. Henderson was required to close the pool for the entire day just so the pool could be cleaned and sanitized.

"There were a bunch of disappointed kids last Saturday," said Henderson.

On any given day, the pool can be found crowded with 100 or more kids enjoying the cool water and having fun with their friends. The city pool is a service offered to the public by the city, and it is funded with tax dollars. The expense of the cleanup comes out of city funds.

The pool is operated by Henderson and three lifeguards, Chris Dominguez, Corey Williams and Jamie Bohler. Health standards are met daily by properly cleaning and caring for the pool. Special measures are taken so the pool will be a safe and clean environment for kids to enjoy.

Needless vandalism of this sort is an insult to the community and the people who work in it and enjoy it. Vandalism should always be reported to the local police as soon as it is discovered.

Destruction of public property is a criminal act and is treated as such by the police department in order to maintain a safe and enjoyable community.

Lifeguards clean up

City pool lifeguards Chris Dominguez (left) and Corey Williams spent the day cleaning up because of a needless act of vandalism. They would rather have been watching kids have fun in the water, but the pool was closed all day Saturday for clean-up activities after vandals destroyed property and created a big mess Friday night, June 9.

Boys' basketball camps planned in Muleshoe

Two boys' basketball camps will run from 8 a.m. to noon daily at Watson Junior High School in Muleshoe.

The camp for third to sixth grade boys is from June 19 to 23, and the camp for boys in seventh through ninth grades will be from June 26 to 30.

For more information, please call Coach Ralph Mason at 272-5840.

Mosquitoes to be sprayed in city on Thursday

Mary Hicks, secretary at City Hall in Muleshoe, has announced that there will be aerial spraying for mosquitos on Thursday morning, weather permitting.

If weather does not permit spraying on Thursday morning, it will be done on the first morning possible thereafter, Hicks said.

City pool to offer swimming lessons

The city pool will be offering swimming lessons June 19-29, Monday through Thursday, 11 a.m. to noon. Swimmers must be at least 3 years of age to enroll. For more information call 272-4379.

Kiwanis Club hosts toy show and sale

By Martha Toles Frost

Muleshoe Kiwanis Club proved Saturday that you can tell more about a man by watching him play for an hour than by watching him work all day.

Men and women from as far away as Kansas and Missouri, from the neighboring states of Oklahoma and New Mexico, as well as from several Texas towns, brought farm and construction toys, banks, trading cards and other memorabilia to Muleshoe.

The occasion was the fourth annual Muleshoe Kiwanis Farm Toy Show at the Bailey County Coliseum from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday.

R.G. and Sonny Bennett, Eddy and Gail Morris, Tom and Kathy Bowen of T-K Toys, and Lonnie and Nelda Merriott, all of Muleshoe, bought their toy collections to display and play with at the event.

Also shown were the collections of Gerald Gohlke, Charles Clark of Charley's Toys, and Bennie Williams, all of Littlefield.

Other Texas exhibitors were Bob Henderson of Lamesa, Phil Reese of Ralls, Wanda Mims of Odessa, Paul Brooks of Hart, Chip Parsley of Vega, and Darrell Fansher and Jeff Poindexter of Amarillo.

Reese said he has been a collector for two years. "I like to farm, and I like farm toys," he said.

Poindexter's collection included war toys such as a G.I. Joe Mauler Manned Battle Tank, some sewing machines and an Owens Corning Resin truck.

Other exhibitors were S. B. Reid of Clovis, NM, Gene Davis of Lamar, MO, Denny Allen of Enid, OK, Bob McAtee of Lawton OK, and Gordon Gleve of Johnson, KS.

The Kiwanis Club had a concession stand at the event, including hamburgers, chips, candy and soft drinks.

Glen Morris, Kiwanis president, said that the club supports Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts and other youth-related activities, as well as the elderly in the area, with the proceeds from the annual toy show and sale.

Bank of America to sell 27 branches

DALLAS — Bank of America Texas has announced plans to sell 27 branches throughout Texas, with a combined total of approximately $330 million in deposits.

"We've made a significant investment in Texas and remain strongly committed to the state," said Bank of America Texas Chairman and CEO Ron Biagi. "Over the past few years, however, we've evaluated our branch network and feel that this proposed sale will allow us to concentrate our resources in those areas where we can best serve our customers as well as provide the greatest return to our shareholders."

B of A Texas currently operates 242 branches in Texas and more than 300 Versateller ATMs.

Afternoon delight

Cami Valdez, 8 (left), and Vanessa Lewis, 8, wait to be served at the Girl Scout Day Camp held on Saturday, June 10. Kim Humphries, a volunteer, approaches to help. This was the first camp of its kind to be held in Muleshoe for many years. Sixteen Girl Scouts from Muleshoe and one from Sudan studied water safety and earned badges during the two-day camp.

Girl Scout Little Hut backyard becomes Hawaiian island of fun

Laughter resounded from the Girl Scout Little Hut on Friday afternoon as 16 Muleshoe Girl Scouts and one Sudan Girl Scout began their activities in the Muleshoe Summer Camp.

The camp, which focused on water safety instruction and water activities, started on Friday from 6 to 9:30 p.m. and ended on Saturday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

The Scout building and backyard had been transformed into a tropical island following the theme "An Island of Fun." It was complete with large colorful cut-outs of palm trees, flamingos, flowers and butterflies.

The Brownies earned Water Everywhere/Try-It badges and the Junior Girl Scouts earned Science Discoveries badges, which they received along with colorful Island of Fun T-shirts for each girl and leader. The girls also will receive Island of Fun patches to sew on their sashes.

The three units chose the names of Angelfish for the Juniors, and Mermaids and Flamingos for the two Brownie units. The units had campsites in the backyard of the Girl Scout Hut, where they conducted water-related experiments.

The Brownies made a trip to a pond, where they discovered what grows in a pond. Later they taste-tested city water, distilled water and spring water.

The Junior Girl Scouts did an experiment to learn how scientists neutralize acid rain.

As each girl arrived at the Scout Hut, she made a Hawaiian lei to wear. Later, the Girl Scouts made "grass skirts" from draw-string trash bags.

On Saturday, each group made a campfire and cooked Hawaiian chicken in foil and cobbles in Dutch ovens. The groups accompanied this with salad and corn. All declared that it was delicious.

At the closing ceremonies, the girls received their T-shirts and badges. They wore their "grass skirts" and leis as they sang the camp songs they had learned. Parents and friends attended the closing ceremonies and enjoyed festivities.

Angelfish leaders were Robin Buckner, Darla Stovall and Donna Hestand. The Juniors were Marisela Loya, Jean Lewis, Lauren Lewis, Rachel Rudd, Dianna Mendoza and Tonya Hestand.

Flamingo leaders were Florinda Almanza and Annette Scheller. The girls were Carla Almanza, Morgan Burton, Lauren Edler, Veronica Florez, Kayla Harp and Priscilla Orozco.

Mermaid leaders were Kim Humphrey, Sylvia Kennemer and Nelda Merriott. The Scouts were Patricia Almanza, Brook Bottleman, Brittany Fuqua, Venessa Lewis and Cami Valdez.

Earth rodeo to be held June 16-17

Earth's 51st anniversary rodeo will be held Friday and Saturday, June 16-17 at the rodeo grounds in Earth. Billed as the biggest rodeo in the southwest, "for the size of the town," the rodeo will feature top TCRA competitors and lots of food and fun for the family.

Trophy buckles for the first place winners in the TCRA events will be awarded. The TCRA approved contestants may participate in various Jackpot One Go-Round events.

These events include calf roping, bareback riding (open), saddle bronc riding (open), girl's barrel race, bull riding (open) and team roping (roper's choice). Girl's break-away roping may be entered two times. Slack will be Friday night after the show. Other added events include barrels, bareback, saddlebronc riding and bull riding, all for novice competitors. The stock for the rodeo is furnished by C-T Rodeo from Lubbock.

Rodeo entries will be taken from noon until 6 p.m. on Tuesday, June 13. For more information call (806) 794-2317.

A parade will kick off the festivities on Friday at 5 p.m. The Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring the parade, will award prizes to winners in the riding club division and the float division and also will present various other awards. The parade will begin at the city park and finish up at the rodeo grounds.

A concession stand for the rodeo will be provided by the Earth Lions Club on Friday night. The proceeds will go to the Kent Lewis medical fund. Saturday night, the hamburgers will be cooked by the 1996 Senior Class Trip Group and homemade ice cream will be served at the arena on both nights.

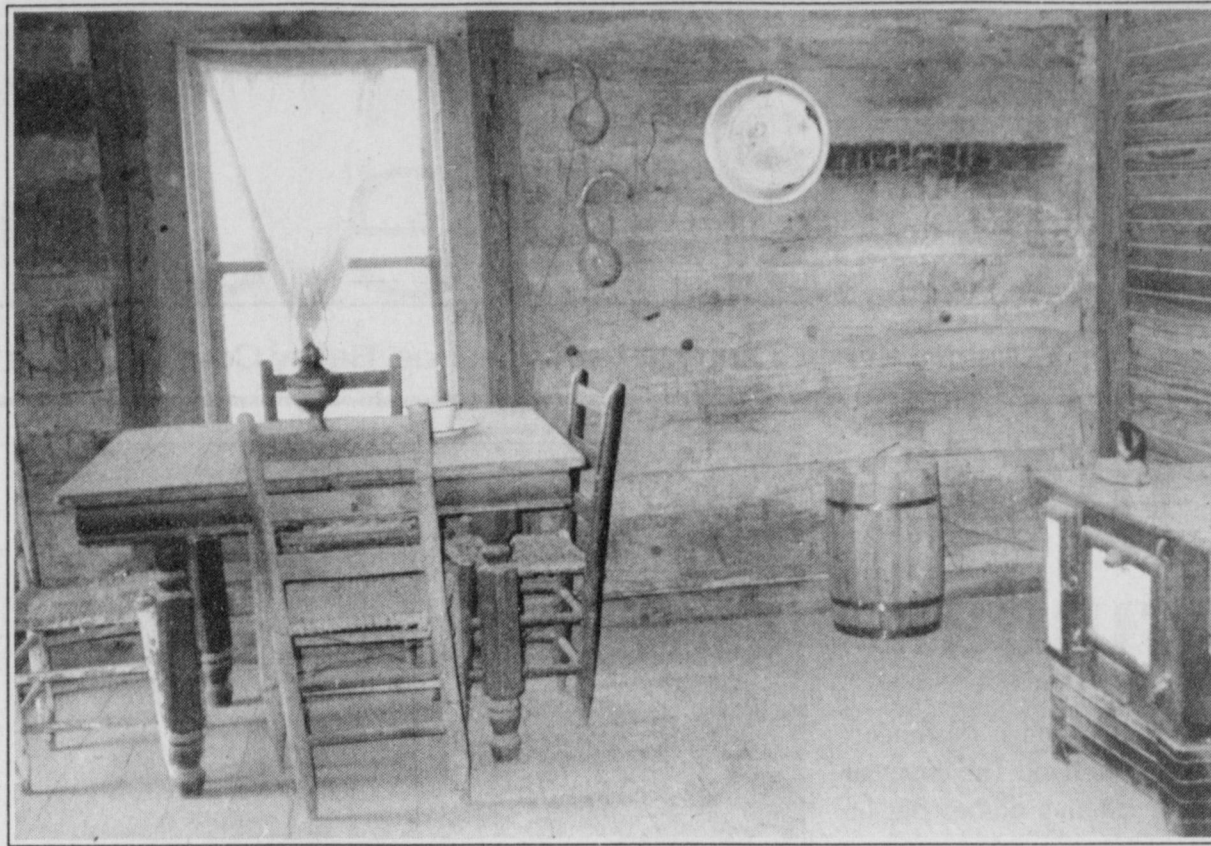

Of course, no Earth rodeo is complete without the traditional rodeo dance. This year's music will be by "Dangerous Destiny." The dance will be held four miles east of Earth on highway 70 each night after the rodeo.

Special attractions of this year's rodeo include wild cow milking, stick horse race and goat roping on foot, for kids.

For the wild cow milking contest, those who want to enter should call (806) 965-2315. Buckles will be awarded to the winning team.

The stick horse race is for contestants 6 and under. Please bring your own stick horse.

The goat roping on foot for kids event will be held in Joe Rhodes' famous goat roping arena at the Earth rodeo grounds from 6-8 p.m. nightly. Two age groups, 9 and under and 10-15 year-olds, will be awarded buckles.

were Gail and Kandy Wilcox. Betty Carpenter had drawn cut-outs of palm trees and flamingos for decorations to be painted for the transformation.

Dawn Herrera of Lubbock also assisted with the camp. And Field Executive and Director of Marketing, Robin Buckner, of Lubbock, was invaluable at the first Girl Scout day camp in many years in Muleshoe.

Special appreciation is expressed to all who attended and to all who helped.

Businesses can file for disaster loans

LUBBOCK—Businesses in some Texas counties have until June 26 to file applications for low-interest disaster loans from the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA).

The SBA's Economic Injury Disaster Loans are available for businesses dependent on farmers and ranchers sustaining crop losses from drought and severe weather conditions which occurred during the winter, spring, and summer 1994.

Farmers and ranchers are not eligible for these SBA loans. However, nurseries that are victims of drought disasters can apply.

Businesses in the following counties affected by drought and severe weather conditions between October 1, 1993 and August 1, 1994 have until June 26 to apply: Bailey, Cochran, Deaf Smith, Hartley, Oldham, and Parmer.

Applications and further information can be obtained by calling the SBA toll-free at (800) 366-6303 or TDD (817) 267-4688 for the hearing impaired.

These loans are intended to assist businesses in offsetting working capital losses which they suffered as a result of the drought and severe weather conditions reducing the crop income of the area farmers and ranchers.

Small businesses claiming to have been physically injured by the weather are not eligible.

Better Business Bureau offers 24-hour watts line

LUBBOCK—South Plains residents can now call the better Business Bureau (BBB) free of charge on the newly-established consumer watts line-

(800) 687-7890. This new 24-hour service is free to any South Plains consumers needing to check out a company or talk with a trained Bureau representative.

When BBB On-Line answers, just follow the voice instructions on how to get a recorded report. If you need to talk to someone at the Bureau, just press the * button on your touch tone phone or simply hang on and your call will be answered by the next available representative.

If you wish to use the automated system, you will need the 10-digit telephone number (area code & phone number) of the company on which you wish to hear a recorded report.

If a report is not available and you have the 5-digit zip code of the company, BBB On-Line may refer you to another Bureau, but don't hang up. If you are calling during regular business hours, a Bureau representative will be glad to assist you.

The Better Business Bureau is supported by the business community in an effort to maintain ethical business practices in our communities. The BBB is the only reporting agency that give reliability reports on companies.

Consumers are advised to check on companies before they do business especially with companies that are unknown to them.

Carol Ellis is June artist of the month

By Martha Toles Frost

Library Director Ann Camp has announced that Carol Ellis from Friona is Muleshoe Area Public Library's June Artist of the Month.

Ellis, who first picked up a paintbrush at the age of 13, says she has been in love with art ever since. She describes her paintings as "memories from the heartbeat of a simpler time."

Her subjects range from western landscapes, ranchlands and farmyard scenes to Victorian flower gardens and oil portraits.

Eight of her paintings on display in the library this month include a portrait of Willie Ellis, the grandfather of her husband; a portrait of Joe Rhodes of Joe's Boot Shop in Muleshoe; and other paintings titled "Laura at Play," "Eva," "Old Pioneer," "Rick," "Crow Chief" and "Lu-Chegayu."

Ellis said the picture of her daughter at play was painted a long time ago when Laura was a little girl. "Eva" is a likeness of Eva Miller, a musician from Friona who often plays at area weddings.

"Old Pioneer" represents Bruce Parr, a resident of Friona for many years, Ellis said. And "Rick" is a painting of her son.

Ellis said that "Crow Chief" was painted from a picture in a magazine and "Lu-Chagayu" was from a calendar.

The award-winning journalist and ribbon-winning artist paints almost exclusively in oils.

"I like the permanency of oil painting, and the feeling that I am leaving something of myself for others to enjoy for years to come," she said.

Ellis studied commercial art at Oklahoma College for Women in Chickasha, then completed a degree in journalism at Texas Tech University.

Recently, Ellis has studied with LaWanda Calton of Taos, David Rindlisbacher of West Texas A&M University and Paul Milosevich of Texas Tech.

She holds memberships and offices in several art associations in the area, including the Friona Art Association, the Muleshoe Art Association, Pintores Art League of Clovis, Tri-State Art Association of Canyon and the Lubbock Art Association.

Her works can be seen in galleries of West Texas and Eastern New Mexico.

Ellis said the recent tornado in Friona passed very near their home without doing too much damage to their property except for the roof.

Concrete blocks had to be cleared before they could get their car out of the garage, she said. And a concrete block hit just six inches below a window.

Ellis and her husband, Bill, a former resident of Muleshoe, publish the Friona Star and the Bovina Blade. She said the tornado struck within half a block of the newspaper office in Friona.

Retired teachers receive benefit increase

By Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock

Texas' retired teachers will receive the largest benefit increase in history as a result of a bill approved by the Texas Senate and House.

Retired teachers have dedicated their lives to Texas and to the children attending public schools. They couldn't be more worthy; the future of Texas has been in their hands. An increase in retirement benefits is the least that can be done to care for them just as they have cared for so many.

The teacher retirement bill will increase benefits for all 128,000 retired teachers in Texas with an average increase of $1,800 per year. The amount each retired teacher receives will depend on the salary earned as a teacher and the retirement year.

Teachers who retired in the 1960s will receive the largest increases, since those teachers are earning benefits that are below the federal poverty level.

For instance, a teacher who retired with 30 years of service in 1960 currently receives a retirement check of $580 per month. Under the bill approved by the Senate and the House, that amount will nearly double to $1,099 a month.

The Legislature also took another step to help Texas teachers by tightening management controls over the Teacher Retirement System.

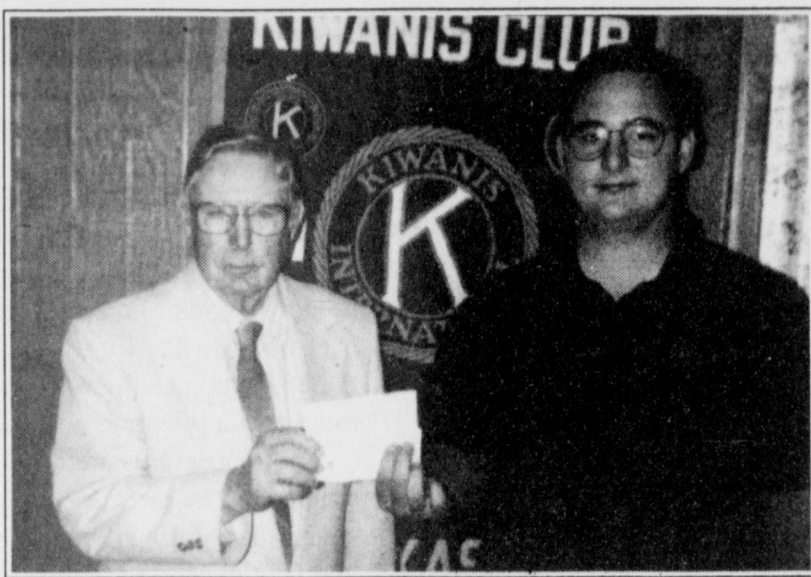

A report by the Texas Sunset Commission last year discovered questionable investment practices by the agency that administers teacher retirement, costing retired teachers $1.8 billion in lost earning potential over the past decade.

The report also questioned high administrative costs for the system.

The bill approved by legislators will put the system under closer legislative oversight.

The changes in benefits for retired teachers and the management of the Teacher Retirement System were recommended by the Texas Sunset Commission, Comptroller John Sharp and legislative leaders.

The Teacher Retirements System remains healthy, thanks to the faith of Texas teachers and the contributions they have made.

Muleshoe Kiwanis Club holds weekly meeting

The Muleshoe Kiwanis Club held its weekly meeting Friday, June 9, at the Dinner Bell Restaurant. The meeting was called to order by the Vice President Bryan Morris. The pledge was led by Ricky Railsback and the prayer was given by Jim Lutz.

Whoever has the friendship coin did not attend the meeting; he must have stayed in bed.

Eddy Morris gave a report on the board of directors' meeting held Thursday night. Items discussed were the miniature golf putt-putt tournament to be held July 17.

Sweetheart selection was tabled until we could interview the candidates. Chuck Smith requested help on the Mule-Plex Productions outdoor theatre (possible interference of radio and lights on the night of performances).

R.G. Bennett discussed the fourth annual farm toy show scheduled for Saturday, June 10. Everything had been planned and was ready for the show. All Kiwanis members were urged to attend and help with the project.

Jerry Hutton introduced Judge Glen Williams as our program that morning. Judge Williams said he appreciated the opportunity to speak to the Kiwanis Club. He thanked the club for all its financial assistance to the senior citizens' programs, especially support of the Meals on Wheels.

This program is facing financial crisis because of cuts in funding from the South Plains Association of Governments (SPAG). There are 36 to 39 people now receiving meals daily.

To be eligible for the meals, a senior citizen must be 60 years of age or older and be unable to cook. If a spouse qualifies, then the other spouse automatically qualifies.

Judge Williams talked about all the senior citizens in general. Busing of senior citizens is a major program for the elderly to make appointments in Lubbock or Amarillo. He also discussed counseling the citizens on financing, health and preparing for the future as senior citizens. We all benefitted from his talk because, one of

Educational Notes

FORT WORTH — Peter John Malouf of Friona was among the 108 new physicians who earned their Doctor of Osteopathy (D.O.) degrees during commencement exercises June 3 at the University of North Texas Health Science Center at Fort Worth. Malouf graduates from the health science center's Texas College of Osteopathic Medicine.

Malouf is the son of Johnny and Linda Malouf of Friona. He is a 1987 graduate of Friona High School and a 1991 graduate of Southwest Texas State University in San Marcos.

While at TCOM Malouf received an award for outstanding achievement in physiology, traveled to Mexico on a medical mission trip in 1992, and participated in the Big Brother program. He has authored two articles for medical publications.

Following an internship at John Peter Smith County Hospital in Fort Worth, Malouf plans to pursue a career in cosmetic dermatology.

Texas College of Osteopathic Medicine was chartered as a private medical school in 1966, enrolled its first class in 1970 and became state supported in 1975. In 1993, the institution was redesignated as the University of North Texas Health Science Center and now includes the Texas College of Osteopathic Medicine and the Graduate School of Biomedical Sciences.

TCOM is one of 16 osteopathic medical schools in the United States and the only one in Texas.

Insects threaten live oak trees

A small insect, Lecanium scales, can pose a big threat to live oaks and now is the time to apply a pesticide to infested trees, says Bailey County Extension Agent Curtis Preston.

Lecanium scales are most prominent on twigs and small branches during the spring and early summer. A single infested twig may have more than 100 scales on it, although fewer scales are more commonly present.

These scales are hemispherical in shape and dark brown. They are hard shells about one-eighth-to-one-fourth-inch in diameter.

Lecanium scales damage trees by reducing vitality and causing dieback of infested branches. While they are most damaging to live oaks, they also occur on red oaks, the county agent said.

Eggs are produced underneath the hard-shelled female during late spring and hatch in May. The immature insects then feed on the underside of leaves during the summer.

They migrate to twigs in the fall and overwinter there. There is only one generation a year.

Eggs are hatching now on the South Plains. Scale insects are most susceptible to control at this time, Preston said, and insecticide treatments will be most effective if applied now. Heavily infested trees may require two applications two weeks apart.

Insecticides recommended for control include orthen, dursban, sevin, malathion and diazinon. Thorough coverage will improve the effectiveness of sprays. Always read and follow insecticide label instructions carefully, Preston cautioned.

Government grants and loans help homeowners with repairs, remodeling

Most homeowners are unaware that regardless of their income there are federal, state and local programs that will help them repair and remodel their homes.

Government at all levels recognizes that neighborhoods are the basis of life in our country.

When a neighborhood deteriorates, many things happen both physically and socially. When the homes look shabby, a neighborhood seems more attractive to crime and criminals.

An area in decline is like a spreading cancer. As homes become shabby looking and in need of maintenance, the residents lose their desire to keep up the neighborhood. Streets become receptacles for trash, schools lower their standards and very quickly the selling price of homes in the area drops sharply. This accelerates the cycle of degeneration.

In order to keep and maintain the nation's housing and neighborhoods, governments at all levels have programs to give homeowners money (that does not have to be repaid) for repairs or to lend them money at below market levels or at no interest.

In many areas utility companies will either do energy conservation work free or at low cost and, in other places, will lend homeowners money at no interest to pay the contractor of their choice for the necessary work. In addition, there are tax incentives to promote efficient energy use.

These programs are not restricted to low-income people, slum areas or urban neighborhoods. Owners of single or multi-family dwellings are eligible. While the grants to not have to be repaid, most of the loans offer low or no-interest, long terms and low payments.

Some of the other home improvements covered under these programs are attic and wall insulation, new windows, outerwall siding, security doors and locks, window guards, sidewalks and masonry work, bathrooms and kitchens, electrical and plumbing, new roofs, gutters, and downspouts.

Consumer Education Research Center, a national non-profit consumer group formed in 1969, has just published the 208 large-page, 1994 edition of Consumers Guide to Home Repair Grants and Subsidized Loans (CERC GRANTS, 350 Scotland Road, Orange, NJ 07050 or call (800) 872-0121) which lists more than 7,000 sources of loan and grant programs offered by federal, state and local government, utility companies and others; typical programs offered and the how to qualify.

Form letters for inquiries to these loan and grant sources are included, as well as detailed instructions on determining your debt-to-income ratio for eligibility.

Robert L. Berko, executive director of CERC, says, "Some programs have no income ceiling and others allow income of as much as $50,000 per year or more. There are even programs for which tenants are eligible and many allow loans to poor credit risks. In many areas, people with disabilities can receive grants to pay for needed repairs such as access ramps and widening of doorways."

To raise the bountiful harvest which feed the nation, farmers rely on top-quality agricultural service. Our farmers continue to produce the world's most abundant and safest food supply, thanks in large part to agricultural inputs like fertilizer.

Scoggin Ag Center, located at 1532 West American Blvd. in Muleshoe, makes a commitment to all to serve our community, our farmers, and our nation to continue to make the farmer the back bone of America

Fertilizer decisions rely on science: sophisticated soil tests show farmers precisely how much to apply. Nutrient inputs are guided by profitability. Farmers want to make money, not waste it on inputs that aren't essential.

Kearney and Jackie Scoggin are committed to stewardship regarding the proper use of all products. From field to plate, we believe everyone involved in food production must use agricultural responsibly.

Better Business Bureau

Summer is here and many of you are wondering if the air conditioner in your car will last through the season. The BBB urges consumers to choose reliable service stations for repairs to air conditioner systems.

Also, beware that utilizing an inexpensive poor quality refrigerant can prove to be a costly mistake. Freon and other refrigerants containing "chlorofluorocarbons" or CFCs are being phased out internationally to slow down the destruction of the ozone layer.

Some black marketers have been importing refrigerant without paying taxes and skirting government agency requirements. The results are low-cost, poor quality refrigerants that could ruin car air conditioning systems.

If your system needs repairs, get several estimates from service shops with a reputation for good work. Ask the service station to use only name-brand refrigerants. And, call your BBB at 763-0459 or (800) 687-7890 to get a reliability report.

One of the most important things that tenants can do to avoid hassles with your rented house or apartment is to get started on the right foot.

Most problems can be avoided if you understand the terms of the lease or rental agreement before you sign it or put down a deposit.

A deposit is put down in good faith that the landlord will have the property ready at the time you are supposed to move in. If you back out, the landlord can keep all the money and even sue you for the remainder of the terms of the lease. On the other hand if the landlord does not have the property ready, you can ask for your money to be refunded.

A booklet called "Tenants' Rights Handbook" is available by writing to Texas Young Lawyers Association, P.O. Box 12487, Austin, TX 78711.

David Stoecklein's work featured at museum

AMARILLO, TX—The works of famed Western photographer David Stoecklein will be featured at the American Quarter Horse Heritage Center & Museum through September 30, 1995. The exhibit, "Men of the Range," promises to be a vivid, visual treat for those who admire the cowboy and his horse.

Stoecklein's favorite subjects are the American cowboy, his horse and the age-old relationship between the two. He considers the cowboy to be a great American hero and a vital part of our culture, and he admires the horse for the freedom of spirit it represents.

Through his striking photographs, the viewer can imagine riding beside these great heroes as the wind and dust rush past, feeling the pounding of horses' hooves in a roundup.

"We are extremely honored to be the first Texas museum to feature David Stoecklein's exhibit," Jim Pfluger, senior director of the Heritage Center & Museum said. "Men of the Range" captures the symbolism of the West as it relates to our society and culture."

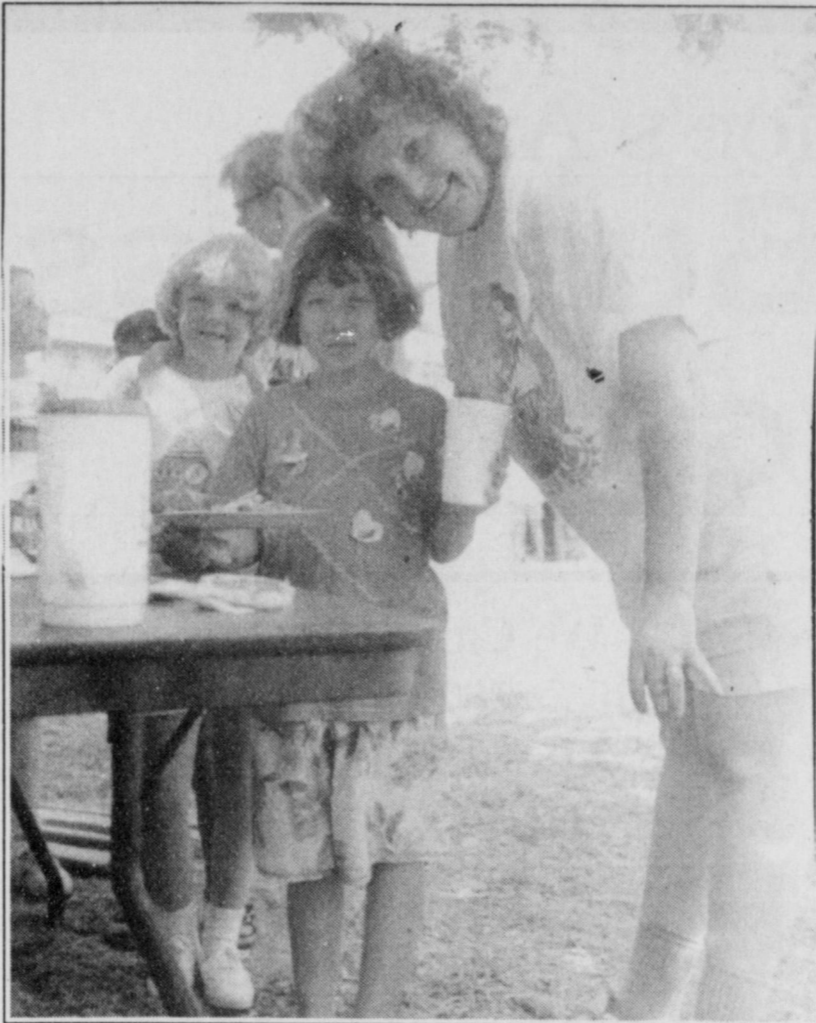

Stoecklein has published his work in several books and his Western images were featured recently in a highly-acclaimed exhibit at the National Cowboy Hall of Fame in Oklahoma City. He also is considered to be one of the world's top commercial and stock photographers, having performed work for such companies as Remington Clothing and Rifles, Eddie Bauer and Reebok.

Located along Interstate 40 at Quarter Horse Drive in Amarillo, Texas, the Heritage Center & Museum offers interactive exhibits, artifacts, video presentations, breathtaking works of art, and changing exhibits such as "Men of the Range."

For information concerning Heritage Center Admission Prices, group rates, operating hours or "Men of the Range," please call (806) 376-5181.

Letter To Editor

May 31, 1995

Dear Editor:

My name is Kenneth Hershel Barnett, born in Locke, Arkansas, in 1944 to Bobbie Lucille and Arval Louise Barnett.

I am searching for my mother who I last saw in the very early 60s just briefly.

She had a brother, Bill Hail, who lived in Muleshoe, and I know of a sister who is now deceased who lived in Wichita Falls, by the name of Ruby Ketchum.

Aunt Ruby, I know, had twin daughters — Anna Jones and Wanda Prez — whereabouts unknown by me.

I have two younger sisters, Shirley Joan Flanary and Linda Carol Knight.

I very much want to meet my mom and any extended family, i.e. half brothers or half sisters, and I have nine kids who very much want to meet their grandmother or at least know about her and any aunts and uncles.

Any help by anyone would be greatly appreciated. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Parents should limit babies' time in the sun

HOUSTON—First time parents may find their "time in the sun" is limited in the summer months.

"Babies -- especially those under six months -- and hot summer sun are not a healthy combination," said Dr. Juan Drutz, associate professor of pediatrics at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston. "Certainly, small infants can be taken outside during the day, but there are precautions parents should consider.

Most doctors agree that children under six months should not be exposed to the sun for long periods, and never placed in the direct sunlight. On family outings, find a well-shaded spot and place the baby where it is coolest and where air moves freely.

Sunscreens with a skin protection factor (SPF) of at least 15 can help minimize the dangerous effects of ultraviolet radiation. Because infants under age 6 months may inconsistently absorb some sunscreen chemicals, Drutz recommends avoiding their use for this age group, or to consult a pediatrician before using sun protection preparations designed for infants.

"In addition, it's not good idea to take an infant to a sandy beach, or to a swimming pool area. Sunlight can reflect off the water or the sand, causing sunburn even when an umbrella is used," Drutz said. "For young babies, it's best to avoid the beach scene.

Other summer tips for new parents include:

- Dress the baby in light-colored clothing, never dark colors which tend to absorb heat more efficiently.

- Keep a hat or bonnet handy, even when going outside for brief period. A light blanket can help protect tender arms and legs, but be careful to avoid overheating.

- If an outing is unavoidable, try not to go between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. when the sun is at its most intense.

- Be especially careful if your child is fair-complected. Children with blonde hair and blue eyes, for example, are far more susceptible to sunburn.

- Don't be fooled by cloudy days. A cloudy day still allows 60 to 80 percent of the sun's radiation to reach the skin.

- For babies over six months, topical sunscreens can be used, but consult your physicians as to the safest and most effective one.

- Protect the eyes as well, since ultraviolet rays can cause eye damage. Sunglasses with elastic bands are available for infants.

- Too much sun or heat can also cause heat rash. Avoid overdressing babies, and use cool baths and light, medicated powder to reduce irritation.

"New parents should be cautious, especially when taking small infants out in the sun," said Drutz. "Common sense and proper protection can make the summer a great deal more enjoyable for the whole family.

CRCGs make it possible for families to get needed help

Community Resource Coordination Groups (CRCGs) are local interagency groups composed of public and private agencies that develop service plans for children and adolescents whose needs can be met only through interagency coordination and cooperation.

CRCGs are organized or established on a county-by-county basis. Members are from public and private sector child-serving agencies with that county. CRCG members meet in partnership with the family to plan for needed services.

CRCGs make it more likely for children and their families to get the help need within their communities before the situation becomes unsolvable. In many communities, CRCGs can recognize the gaps of services that exist in their area and can plan for appropriate programs to meet those needs. As a result, more children and youth get the services they need.

For more information or to refer a child call: Bailey/Parmer County CRCG, Venida Collins, Chair, at 272-5239 or Sid Felan, Co-Chair at 272-3316.

Nationwide study for gene cancer under way

TEMPLE, TX—Scott and White Memorial Hospital and Clinic has been selected as the only site in Texas and one of the only two in the United States to study gene therapy of cancer by introducing a manufactured gene substance directly into cancer masses.

"We are pleased to be working in conjunction with the Arizona Cancer Institute on this study. The purpose is to find if this treatment will cause the cells of an immune system to attack and kill a tumor," said Dr. John Rinehart, Director of the Division of Hematology/Oncology at Scott and White and principal investigator for the study.

"Patients eligible for this trial must have metastatic cancer and a tumor that is no longer responding to conventional treatment with surgery, radiation or drugs. Therefore, we have the opportunity to immediately impact patients in the Southwest United States through this experimental treatment which tries to stimulate the immune system to reject the tumor."

Only 25 patients will be enrolled in the study nationwide. A gene (i.e. DNA or genetic message) for a substance that stimulates cancer killing cells (IL-2) is injected directly into the tumor. If the tumor cells produce IL-2, cancer killing cells (T-Lymphocytes) will be attracted to the tumor and activated to kill the tumor cells.

The treatment is given every week for a total of six treatments. Throughout the course, blood samples, CT scan and tumor biopsies are conducted. All current methods of anticancer treatment have potential side effects, however, in study similar to this one, no serious side effects were noted.

Scott and White Clinic, with 440 physicians and non-physician scientists, and Scott and White Memorial Hospital, a 460-bed healthcare institution, form one of the largest multispecialty group practices in the United States.

The main facility in Temple, Texas, and the 14 regional clinics throughout Central Texas serve nearly one million patients annually. Scott and White is affiliated with the Texas A&M University Health Science Center College of Medicine, Temple Campus.

Dyslexia patients are challenged daily to read, write and spell

Even those professionals who work with dyslexic learners daily are challenged by attempts to give the language disability a single, universal definition, according to Dr. Kate Moody, Special Assistant to the President and Adjunct Assistant Professor in the Department of Neurology at UTMB.

Pointing out the operational definition of the Orton Dyslexia Society Research Committee she explained that dyslexia is one of several distinct learning disabilities.

It is a specific language-based disorder of biological origin characterized by difficulties in single word decoding, usually due to insufficient phonological processing abilities. These difficulties in single word decoding are often unexpected in relation to age and other cognitive and academic abilities. They are not the result of generalized developmental disability or sensory impairment. Dyslexia presents itself as variable difficulty with different forms of language including reading, writing and spelling.

Moody emphasized that dyslexia has nothing to do with socioeconomic status or with general intelligence. "There are many extremely intelligent individuals in graduate and postgraduate education programs who discover as adults that their learning style is causing them difficulties," she said. "We are actively working with a several very bright, dyslexic medical students."

"A learning difference, such as dyslexia, can cause a child untold difficulties in school and outside of school, despite assistive or remedial programs," said Moody. "These students need customized "special attention" such as we aim to provide through UTMB's Open Gates dyslexia program.

More than helping dyslexic children and adults develop their abilities to read, write and spell, UTMB's project will address the medical and societal consequences of dyslexia. "Teaching students to read and keeping them as constructive, productive learners in school goes beyond the acquisition of skill, per se. There are numerous personal and public health issues involved. Students who do not learn to read adequately are not only at risk for suffering personal difficulties such as loss of self esteem, depression and stress, but too often find themselves pushed to the margins of the classroom. A failing child is not a healthy child," said Moody.

Karaoke dance to be held in Littlefield

LITTLEFIELD—A dance featuring Karaoke music will be held Saturday, June 17, from 8:30 to midnight at the Lamb County Ag Center on Hwy 385 in Littlefield.

Karaoke is a new type of entertainment which allows individuals or groups to sing their favorite hits with an accompaniment tape.

Words and music for more than 2,000 songs will be available for listening and dancing enjoyment.

Out of Ireland

The Epic Story of Irish Immigration to America

Seven million men and women fled Ireland during the 18th, 19th, and 20th centuries to emigrate to the United States. It was an exodus like no other in history: one nation lost its people while another gained its identity as a nation of immigrants. Academy Award-winning filmmaker Paul Wagner tells the moving, engrossing, and bittersweet story of Irish emigration to the United States in the two-hour documentary Out of Ireland. Actress Kelly McGillis narrates. Out of Ireland blends alluring footage of Ireland with hundreds of archival photographs, newsreels, prints, and most powerfully the letters, music, and songs of the immigrants to tell its story. Featuring readings by Liam Neeson, Aidan Quinn, Gabriel Byrne, and Brenda Fricker, the program focuses on the stories of eight Irish immigrant families to explain why a people who had fled tyranny, oppression, and famine could never lose their yearning for the Ireland they left — and how a yearning that could never be satisfied became a drive to succeed in their new world.

The scope of the film includes the histories of both Ireland and America. It first traces Ireland's heritage of invasion and dispossession by the British. Then it focuses on the revolutionary stirrings of the late 18th century. Sparked by the American War for Independence, Ireland's own defeat led to the beginning of the great emigration. Out of Ireland also tells the tragic story of the famine-swept villages of 19th-century Ireland — when one million people died of hunger and disease and one-third of the population fled to America in just 10 years.

Once across the Atlantic, the Irish began their experience in America assailed by poverty and bitter prejudice, only to rise to unprecedented economic and political power with a restlessness and determination that has left its mark on the American character.

Out of Ireland will be broadcast Saturday, June 17th at 11:00 p.m.

The Mesa Verde Story

In the four corners country of the American Southwest lies Mesa Verde National Park. Mesa Verde is a high plateau that stretches northeast from New Mexico to the foothills of Colorado's La Plata Mountains. Hidden within its canyons are the cliff dwellings of an ancient people known as the Anasazi.

The Mesa Verde Story, a beautiful video presentation, tells the story of Mesa Verde from the time of the Anasazi to the coming of the Utes, Spanish explorers, mountain men, and settlers. Families like the Weatherills were the first white men to discover Mesa Verde's cliff cities. This discovery brought the first visitors to this area, and today Mesa Verde is one of the country's most popular national parks.

The Mesa Verde Story airs Sunday, June 18th, at 1:00 p.m. The program repeats Monday, June 19th at 11:30 p.m.
