A QUICK READ OF THE NEWS

Sarah Rey captures contest

Sarah Rey of Muleshoe captured the $25 first prize in the 13th week of the Journal football contest by being the only one of 36 entrants to miss only two games.

Her misses came on Arizona at Cincinnati and Oakland at Pittsburgh.

Violet Nicolas of Farwell took second (and $15), missing three games — Denver at New Orleans, Indianapolis at New York Jets and St. Louis at Carolina.

Crescent Crawford of Lazbuddie took third place ($10) by missing four games but coming closer on the tiebreaker than the three other players with four misses.

She guess 60 points, and the combined score in the San Francisco vs. San Diego game was 62.

Right on her heels (all from Muleshoe) were Mandy Garner, who guessed 48 points; Scott Brown, who guessed 44; and Liz Torres of Muleshoe, who guessed 41.

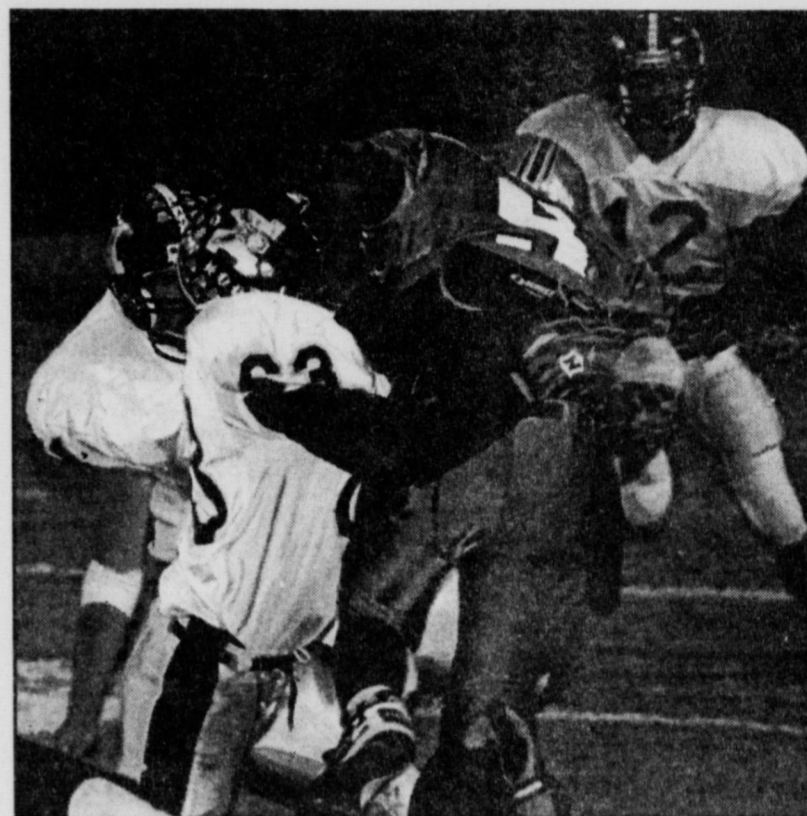

Two obvious blowouts that didn't materialize gave entrants fits in this week's contest.

Almost everybody missed Pittsburgh's 21-20 squeaker over Oakland. The three who didn't — Violet and Isaac Nicolas of Farwell and Crescent Crawford of Lazbuddie — include two of the top three winners for the week.

The six entrants who predicted Carolina's 16-3 upset of St. Louis included Rey (the first-place winner), Kathleen Hayes of Muleshoe, Court Crawford of Lazbuddie, Scott Brown of Muleshoe, Maria Corrales of Earth and Ray Stanley of Muleshoe.

Only four Dallas Cowboy diehards picked Da Boys to beat Tampa Bay. The loyalists are Richard Orozco and Carl Lee Jacobs, both of Muleshoe; Court Crawford of Lazbuddie; and Mac McFarland of Crane.

But that was not the least-missed game of the week. Only two people missed the Cleveland at Jacksonville tilt.

At left above, Muleshoe's Darrell Lewis checks the field early in a touchdown run in the second quarter against Ferris; Stephen Woodard accompanies him. At right, Lupe Nuñez (No. 63) works on a Yellowjacket as Cade Hooten (No. 51) and Lincoln Riley (No. 12) rush to assist.

Above, a familiar sight for Mule fans is Danny Ramirez running behind the protective wall of Tommy Barrera. At right, Ramirez leads a third-quarter parade against Ferris.

Mules facing 10-3 Midland Greenwood

JOURNAL STAFF REPORT

It's down to eight teams in Class 3A Division II, ready to do battle for the four slots in the semi-finals bracket.

The 13-0 Muleshoe Mules take on the other Region I team still playing, the 10-3 Rangers of Midland Greenwood.

Game time is 7:30 p.m. Friday in Denver City, but there will be a 2 p.m. sendoff for the Mules in the high school gymnasium parking lot.

Unlike the Mules, the Rangers have been to this point before — last year in fact. But it's a different squad this year, since 19 starters and 23 seniors from last year's 9-4 regional finalists are gone.

The team's leading rusher is junior halfback Brandon Audas (1,479 yards on 227 carries, 10 touchdowns). Fullback Cody Hollums, a sophomore, has 278 on 45 carries after starting the last two games due to an injured player.

Couple the team's youth with the fact that all three Ranger losses were two teams that went on to win at least one playoff game, and the picture begins to clarify: They're no pushover.

The team averages 360 yards gained per game, compared with 256 for their opponents.

Greenwood operates a wishbone offense. There is not a lot of passing in the picture, but the Rangers "do it when it's not expected," Muleshoe coach David Wood said. Last week, a halfback option pass went 31 yards and set up a touchdown.

One of Muleshoe's defense strategies will be trying to force the Rangers out of the run and make them pass more, Wood said.

Sanford-Fritch coach Rick Ware, whose team lost to Greenwood 23-14 in the playoffs, said the Rangers showed his team a six-man front through most of their game.

Greenwood's defensive front is quick and aggressive, Ware said. "They don't have anybody in the backfield who is just outstanding, but they are all solid and they play well as a team."

Ware said he doubts Muleshoe will have any problem running against the Ranger defense because the Mule linemen are bigger and stronger.

Greenwood coach Bob Purser's perspective? "If we can't have success against their defense, we're in big trouble," he said.

Dec. 8 — Mission Nuestra Señora de Guadalupe de El Paso is founded (1659).

Also on Dec. 8 — It is recommended that the exterior design of the Texas state capitol be changed to granite because of the inferior quality of the limestone being used (1884).

Dec. 10 — Sam Houston, president of the Republic of Texas, orders that the archives of the Land Office be removed from Austin. Citizens objected, sparking the "Archives War." (1842).

LOCAL WEATHER

Partly cloudy conditions with morning lows in the high 20s should persist through Saturday, the experts say. Sunday morning should be cold — about 20 degrees — and bring a chance for scattered precipitation. The clouds are expected to hang around Monday as well. Thursday should be mild (68 degrees), with the temperature dropping each day until Monday is only about 43.

United accepts challenge in food drive

JOURNAL STAFF REPORT

The lead-in to Saturday's food drive organized by Muleshoe Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts could be called a baptism by fire for the new United Supermarket store director, Mike Holt.

He was more than willing to cooperate when his store was given a $500 challenge. He agreed that the store would meet it, meaning $1,000 worth of food for the Bailey County Ministerial Alliance's Food Pantry.

He was more than willing to have blue barrels placed in front of the supermarket so people could deposit their donations before Saturday's pickup by the Scouts.

And, so the story goes, when the special food-drive bags failed to arrive in Muleshoe on schedule, Holt and a friend were willing to drive to Lubbock to get the bags — only to discover that Muleshoe's allotment had already been picked up and taken to another town.

That's the reason residents were likely to find United Supermarket plastic bags on their doorsteps last Friday instead of the official bags. Yep, Holt donated them.

Kay Graves, a spokesperson for the Food Pantry, said Tuesday that in light of everything that's happened, the organization will just be happy to accept citizens' food donation in whatever kind of bag it comes in.

Any type of non-perishable food items will be accepted.

Graves has previously said that canned tuna is "a real blessing" at the Food Pantry because it is generally not among the bulk commodities available.

Local meeting to address likely changes in farming

JOURNAL STAFF REPORT

Farmers from Bailey, Parmer and Lamb counties are invited to a Dec. 13 meeting to hear what changes are expected in the agricultural outlook in coming months.

Expert speakers are expected to discuss the increasing pumping cost and how electricity deregulation might affect it; ways to make pumps more efficient; the efficiency of underground drip irrigation; changes in federal crop insurance for 2001; new ideas being considered for federal agriculture policy; and qualifying for disaster aid under the present conditions.

The first 100 producers to register will have their noon meal provided in the Coliseum by Muleshoe State Bank, the Farwell Banking Center and Ronnie Holt Crop Insurance. The event is sponsored by Curtis Preston, Bailey County Extension agent.

The meeting is scheduled for the Bailey County Coliseum, with registration beginning at 8:30 a.m. The meeting should conclude around 3:30 p.m.

AROUND MULESHOE

Pheasant hunters' breakfast scheduled

Bailey County EMS has scheduled a pheasant hunters' breakfast from 5 a.m. to 9 a.m. Dec. 9 at the Bailey County Coliseum. The all-you-can-eat cost is $5 per person.

Concert to benefit Meals on Wheels

Dec. 9-10 "Christmas in the Country" concerts at Trinity Christian Center Church will benefit Meals on Wheels, a service that provides meals to the homebound.

Times will be announced later. The concerts will feature a choir and soloists such as Reydon Stanford, former lead singer of The Anchor Brothers Band, as well as Betty Hutton, Cathy Branscum and others. A children's choir also will perform.

Christmas cakes and cider will be served as refreshments. Admission is free, with a nightly donation to be taken for Meals on Wheels.

The program will include "Mary, Did You Know?" "Joy to the World," "Do You Hear What I Hear?" "Carol of the Bells," "They Rejoiced With Exceeding Great Joy," "O Beautiful Star of Bethlehem," "In the Children's Joy," "Welcome to Our World," "O Holy Night," "White Christmas" and "Go Tell It on the Mountain."

Arts and Crafts Bazaar scheduled

The Moonlight Extension Education Club's Arts and Crafts Bazaar and Quilt Show is scheduled for 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Dec. 9 at the Bailey County Coliseum.

Program presentations will include "Stress-free Holidays" (at 11 a.m.) by Marilyn Neal of the Castro County Extension Service and "Master Mixes" by Gail Gladden of the Bailey County Extension Service.

School district plans open house

The Muleshoe Independent School District has scheduled its annual Christmas open house for Dec. 7 in the board room at the district administration building.

The come-and-go affair will be from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

EMS seeking to train helpers

Bailey County EMS is seeking to organize a class in Muleshoe to train volunteer emergency-care attendants.

At least 10 people must sign up in order for the class to be scheduled.

More information is available by calling 272-4390.

Public calendar

Dec. 9 — 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. Baby shower honoring Stephanie and Gary Baldwin, in the kitchen meeting room of the Bailey County Coliseum. Information: Molly Stancell, (806) 825-2000.

Dec. 11 — 7:30 p.m. Muleshoe Athletic Booster Club, in the science room at the high school.

Dec. 19 — Deadline for Christmas Card Project donations; more information from either Joyline Costen or Lona Embry. Donations can be mailed to P.O. Box 202, Muleshoe 79347-0202.

The deadline for items to appear in Around Muleshoe is 5 p.m. Monday for Thursday's editions and 5 p.m. Thursday for Sunday's editions.

CREATIVE LIVING

Mexican-food recipes and using recycled products will be featured topics on "Creative Living" on Dec. 9 at 10 p.m. (Central time.)

"Creative Living" airs on public broadcasting station KENW-TV from Eastern New Mexico University in Portales.

Darlene Dickson of the New Mexico Cooperative Extension Service in Clovis will demonstrate some easy substitutions and changes that can be made in a typical Mexican recipe to produce a "lighter" and healthier version.

Joyce Gaghon, representing the American Plastics Council of Washington, D.C., will discuss how to plan, revise or improve a garden by incorporating various recycled products.

This year's 90-minute special will feature eight guests who will share ideas, recipes and tips to make the season memorable.

This year's special includes cookbook author Sue Vaughn of Lamesa, who will demonstrate do-ahead sandwiches.

Tera Leigh, an artist with Paintability in Lafayette, Calif., will demonstrate some quick-and-easy gifts to make.

Next will be cookbook author Bette Hagman of Seattle, who will explain how to keep the holidays gluten-free by demonstrating a variety of recipes for the celiac or anyone who is gluten-intolerant.

Lana Bennett, a consultant with Singer Sewing Co. in Flemington, N.J., will show how to make some gift items that require little or no skill.

Olga Puzas with PartyLite Gifts Inc. in Plymouth, Mass., will show some ways to decorate the wedding room or reception hall, as well as gift ideas featuring candles.

Nancy Siler of Wilton Industries Inc. in Woodridge, Ill., will show how to make some delicious candies. The holiday special will conclude with Connie Moyers, Roosevelt County Extension home economist in Portales, as she prepares recipes and ideas from her presentation called "Stocking Up for Christmas."

The show is carried on more than 100 PBS stations in the United States, Canada, Guam and Puerto Rico.

Epimedium may be the Cadillac of elegant groundcovers

By RONN SMITH
Editor

I think epimediums have the reputation of being rather aristocratic plants, but that's probably because they're fairly slow to multiply — not because they're hard to grow.

Being among the slower plants when it comes to reproducing means you won't find epimedium in six-packs at 39 cents apiece. But their desirability makes them worth $3 to $8 for the common types. (They can get really expensive — like $20 apiece — for some of the rare ones.)

That may seem expensive for little plants that, in most cases, get 8 or 10 inches tall and make fairly small flowering displays. (Some species can grow to 1 1/2 tall and wide, and some with pink or red flowers make more noticeable flowers.)

But the appeal of this most elegant (or "classy") of groundcovers is unmistakable. It forms a carpet of fairly large, heart-shaped leaves, and some species have bronze or red tinges to the leaves — especially in cold weather.

That brings up another selling point for epimediums: They are evergreen unless they're planted in the direct path of drying winter winds, in which case the leaves may die.

Since they're probably going to get winter winds in our area, it's a good idea to plan to trim them in late winter before the new growth begins, getting rid of the ratty leaves so the new growth will show to best advantage. If you don't get this done before growth starts, it's a good idea to let it go — trimming is likely to break off the flower buds. (Of course, if all you want is the foliage . . .)

Though they spread slowly, they will eventually form a solid mass. I remember, as a small child, the literally hundreds of epimediums in the backyard of an aunt and uncle in Farwell. I didn't know they were epimediums, of course, or how valuable that many of them would be. At the recommended spacing of 10 to 12 inches apart, there were enough epimediums there to plant the whole lot and have armloads left.

Most of those plants were in shade, but the ones that grew the best got morning sun and were shaded only after noon.

Epimediums, also known as barrenwort (don't ask me!) and bishop's hat or bishop's mitre (because of the shape of the flower), prefer this type of partial shade. This is one plant that nursery people are more likely to know by the real name — epimedium — than by any of the common names. While they will do better in moist soil, they are pretty drought-tolerant — which is why they're so popular for planting under thirsty trees.

Once you acquire enough to be able to divide them, the best time is in the spring right after they flower. But, once again, they're very tolerant and can be moved any time.

One species that has been used in many hybrids is the alpine barrenwort (Epimedium alpinum). About 12 inches by 12 inches, it needs water the first year but is tolerant of dry soil after that. It also makes one of the best flower displays, with a dozen or more dull red flowers per stalk in the spring.

The most popular varieties usually come from the long-spur barrenwort (Epimedium grandiflorum), but since it doesn't like alkaline soils, some gardeners around Portales and Muleshoe might want to steer clear of it or plan on adding ammonium sulfate to the soil every year. (Your county Extension office can help you get a soil test to determine pH.)

Readily available cultivars of E. grandiflorum include 'Crimson Beauty,' 'White Beauty,' and 'Lilafée' (violet-purple). An interesting one is the 4-inch dwarf 'Koji,' with deep lavender flowers.

A popular hybrid (and likely to be among the cheapest as well as most beautiful) is Epimedium x rubrum, with red-veined leaves and rose-red flowers with a creamy white "bishop's hat" inset in them. It is certainly one of the most attractive plants in early spring, and Dan Hinkley of Heronswood Nursery has described it as "spring incarnate."

Epimediums may deserve the description "aristocratic" for their appearance, but their personality is strictly that of a tough, scrappy little worker. Happy planting!

Eighth-grade Mules keep up with Dimmitt before falling 38-29

By DELTON WILHITE
Journal correspondent

The eighth-grade Mules showed improvement and were able to be competitive with the Dimmitt Bobcats before losing Monday night, 38-29.

Eight Mules put points on the board, with Trent Black leading the way with six.

Barry Morris hit from the base line for the Mules' first bucket of the night. Brady Broyles completed an old-fashioned three-point play by making the free throw after being fouled on a shot. That cut the Dimmitt lead to 11-6 with two minutes left in the initial period.

Broyles then bounced the ball on three sides of the rim before it went through, ending the first-quarter scoring at 14-8, Mules trailing.

Dimmitt used a 1-2-2 full-court press in the second quarter to frustrate the Mules as they tried to get the ball down court. Tyler Wood nailed a three to cut the Dimmitt lead to 14-11 at the five-minute mark of the second quarter.

Dimmitt banked in a three from the top of the key to help the Bobcats hold the lead. Eddie Ortega netted two and Robbie Bomer got two from the charity stripe to keep the Mules close.

Clay Tunnell scored on the base line as the buzzer sounded to end the first half at 25-17, Dimmitt.

As the third quarter started, it was all net for Black as he put the Mules on the board.

Morris found Kory Atwood open on the blocks, and Atwood was fouled on the shot. He made a free throw to pull the Mules back within five points.

With 90 seconds remaining in the third period, Dimmitt pushed the lead to 32-23. Bomer got an assist when he found Tunnell open in the center of the lane. Tunnell made a free throw after being fouled while shooting, and Dimmitt added two from the base line to take a 12-point lead at the end of the third quarter.

As the fourth period began, Thomas Buenrostro got the ball to Black for a layup after stealing an inbound pass.

Ortega hit an eight-foot jumper to cut the Bobcat lead to 10 and then was fouled on a turnaround jumper from 10 feet. His free throw ended the scoring.

The Mule defense allowed the Bobcats only two points in the fourth period.

Scoring for the Mules were Black, six; Broyles, Ortega and Tunnell, five each; Wood with three; Morris and Bomer, two each; and Atwood, one. With the balanced scoring and defense, the improvement in the team was easy to see.

The eighth-grade Mules travel to Shallowater on Monday to tangle with the Mustangs.

Seventh-grade Mules skin Bobcats, 41-21

By DELTON WILHITE
Journal correspondent

Jarad Flores was hot in the first half as the seventh-grade Mules demolished the Dimmitt Bobcats 41-21 Monday night in Muleshoe.

Flores led with 20 points in the game, 16 of them in the first half.

The Mule offense moved the ball well, forcing Dimmitt to foul, as they tried to recover position on defense.

Flores had eight points in the first quarter and Brady Black added seven to give the Mules a 15-5 lead at the end of the period.

The Mules kicked the ball out to Kevin Kilmer at the top of the key, and he was fouled on a three-point attempt. Kilmer made two of the free throws to get the Mules rolling in the second period.

The Mules ran a 2-3 zone defense that put pressure on the passing lanes and gave the Mule defense steals and tipped passes to disrupt the Dimmitt offense. Flores poured in eight points in the quarter, and Black and Kilmer added two each for a 27-8 halftime lead.

Black found Tyler Sheets open on the base line to start the second-half scoring for the Mules. Dimmitt pressed more in the third quarter, causing the Mules some turnover problems and cutting the Mule lead to 29-14 with three minutes remaining in the third period.

Kilmer tipped a Dimmitt pass to Sheets, and Sheets saw Black running the floor to break the Dimmitt run. As the clock ticked down in the third quarter, Kilmer got the ball to Sheets on the base line for a five-foot jumper to stretch Muleshoe's lead to 34-16 at the end of the quarter.

In the fourth, the Mules again got the ball to Sheets on the base line when Black penetrated the lane and then dealt the ball to Sheets for two points. Michael Gonzales got an assist when he saw Sheets open at the base line for two points. And Flores stole a Dimmitt pass and went the distance for a layup to end the game.

Scoring for Muleshoe were Flores, 20; Black, 11; Sheets, eight; and Kilmer, two.

The seventh-grade Mules are now 4-0 and are scheduled to play Shallowater on Monday in Shallowater.

HOROSCOPES

DECEMBER 10-16

For entertainment purposes only

Aries - March 21/April 20

While you know that you should stay out of a disagreement between loved ones early in the week, Aries, you just can't. Try to help those involved to understand each other. It will be difficult, but you are up to the task. Once everything is settled, you will be thanked for your efforts.

Taurus - April 21/May 21

Don't be stubborn when it comes to a family matter this week, Taurus. Your opinion is not the only one that matters. Listen to what others have to say, and try to be objective. They may make some valid points that you haven't thought about. Try to be open to new ideas. Virgo plays an important role in all of this.

Gemini - May 22/June 21

A business associate gets into trouble early in the week and needs your help. Do what you can for this person, because he or she is really in a jam. The higher-ups will be impressed with your efforts. That special someone asks you an important question on Thursday. Be honest — even if what you have to say will be a shock.

Cancer - June 22/July 22

Don't let your conscience get the best of you when you tell a white lie to a close friend. This person will be hurt by the truth, and you just want to spare his or her feelings. You're doing the right thing. A loved one asks for your help with a personal problem. Do what you can for him or her. Scorpio plays a key role.

Leo - July 23/August 23

Don't let your ego get the best of you when you receive an honor this week, Leo. You deserve the recognition, but it certainly doesn't mean that you no longer have to work diligently. Remember that. A close friend offers to take you out this weekend. Say yes, because it's sure to be a great time.

Virgo - Aug 24/Sept 22

Don't be late for an important meeting early in the week, Virgo. If you are, you could miss out on a potentially lucrative opportunity. You don't want to lose this chance. An acquaintance wants to get to know you better. It will be worthwhile to become friends with him or her.

Libra - Sept 23/Oct 23

A close friend needs someone to talk to early in the week. Be there for this person, because he or she is dealing with a serious situation. Offer your advice, and do what you can. Your efforts will be appreciated. Leo plays an important role.

Scorpio - Oct 24/Nov 22

When you find yourself in a difficult situation on Wednesday, don't try to talk your way out of it. Just explain what happened, and take responsibility for your actions. A close friend invites you out late in the week. While you would like to go, don't cancel family plans to do so. Your loved ones are counting on you.

Sagittarius - Nov 23/Dec 21

Don't let your temper get the best of you when you have a disagreement with an acquaintance. This person is purposely trying to upset you. So, just let everything that he or she says go in one ear and out the other. That's the best way to handle this situation. A loved one offers you romantic advice. Take it!

Capricorn - Dec 22/Jan 20

There is quite a bit to do this week, Capricorn. So, don't let others distract you from the tasks at hand. You need to stay focused if you want to get anything accomplished. If you work hard during the week, there will be plenty of time to relax once Saturday arrives.

Aquarius - Jan 21/Feb 18

Be realistic when a close friend asks for your assistance. You know that you can't possibly do what this person wants you to do. Explain this to him or her, and try to find another way to help. Your honesty will be appreciated. Sagittarius plays a key role.

Pisces - Feb 19/March 20

Don't turn your back on a loved one who needs you — even if this person has hurt you in the past. Just focus on the present, and do what you can to help. Your efforts will strengthen this relationship. That special someone has a surprise for you. Enjoy!

Lazbuddie schools honor high students of month

November students of the month at Lazbuddie High School and junior high were revealed this week: Andy Martin, 16-year-old son of Tommy and Linda Martin; Shonnah Black, 14-year-old daughter of Ricky and Sarah Black; Chris DeLeón, 13-year-old son of Tommy and Elva DeLeón; and Montana Steinbock, 12-year-old daughter of Charleson and Belinda Steinbock.

Martin says important things to him are clean underwear, passing his classes, graduating and winning state in all sports. He wants to attend Texas Tech University and be the best football and basketball player in Tech history.

His personal motto is "Try not to live by a motto." He would make the world better by making everyone like himself, and his survival tip for school is "Don't be original; do and say what the teachers want you to do."

His favorite things are the song "Bent" by Matchbox 20, Texas Tech, Victoria's Secret, Chris Farley, Cosmic Brownies and the color blue. His pet peeve is people asking his pet peeve.

He was born a Libra, on Sept. 26. Important things for Black are family, friends and making the best of her life. Her goals are graduating and, in five years, attending college.

Her motto is "Everything is a matter of the mind; if you don't mind, it doesn't matter."

Her survival tip for high school is "Take it day by day and eventually there won't be any more days left and you can get on with your life."

She likes Angelo State, Texas A&M and Texas Tech universities, Swallowing Stones, chocolate, and orange and blue. Her pet peeve is small-minded people with attitudes who think they know everything.

She is a Gemini, born May 21.

DeLeón's important things include school, family and friends. He wants to finish school and be successful. His personal motto is "Be your own leader."

He would like to make the world better by persuading people to be kind, and his survival tip for school is to be nice. He likes "The Thong Song," the University of Colorado.

Marissa is the daughter of Joe and Vivian Cortez, Chandler is the daughter of Doug and Amy Barnes, Paola is the daughter of Maria Estrada, and Jordan is the daughter of Pat and Joni Merigan. Lydia's parents are Johnny and Sylvia Campos. Brock is the son of Charleson and Belinda Steinbock and Mari is the daughter of Joe and Irene Beliz.

Where the Red Fern Grows, Julia Roberts, popcorn and the color purple. His pet peeve is stuck-up people.

He also is a Gemini, born May 26.

Steinbock is a Virgo, and important things to her are God, family, her animals, basketball and gymnastics.

Her goals are to work hard and have fun. Her personal motto is "Perfect practice makes perfect, and treat others like you want to be treated."

She thinks the world would be made a better place by getting rid of the media who don't tell things they way they are. Her survival tip for junior high is "Study hard and don't say anything in class."

Her favorites include "Arms Wide Open" by Creed, Harry Potter and the Sorcerer's Stone, Jim

Carrey, honeybuns and the color pink.

Her pet peeve is having a messy room.

STUDENT-COMMUNITY ACTION CLUB

The Student-Community Action Club of Muleshoe High School is off to a successful year with good attendance at the meetings and the club has already honored a number of citizens of the month.

The September meeting was held at the Muleshoe depot at the Heritage Center. Students toured the buildings at the center and gained knowledge about the buildings' origins.

The October meeting was held in the home of Nikki Bonds with President Tommie Hernández presiding. The secretary, Lettie Barrera, and treasurer, Cade Hooten, gave reports and the chaplain, Jeff Shelburne, gave the opening prayer.

A report was given about the club's participation in the Labor Day Tour de Muleshoe. Members manned the rest stop in Sudan, where several club members handed out cold drinks and fruit to bicycle riders. Hernández thanked those who worked, and each of them received a complimentary Tour de Muleshoe T-shirt.

The September citizens of the month, Bob Graves and Ronnie Jones, were introduced and thanked for all they do for the school. Graves was not present, but Jones reminded the students that people make a community.

Then the October citizens of the month, Peggy Dent and Kay Moncrief, were introduced and spoke briefly about what makes a good community and school.

Club members showed their appreciation for each of the honorees' contributions to the community by presenting each a corsage or boutonniere.

Hernández noted that Graves and Jones have announced Muleshoe football games over Channel 6 on 17 for more than 15 years. Moncrief and Dent never miss a ball game and do many things for the school and community.

Weston Price, chairman of the club's money-making committee, reported on possible money-making projects for the club. Members voted to have the traditional bake-auction over Channel 17, as well as a basketball plane contest. They also voted to again help with the annual school Fall Festival.

A committee to plan the decorations for the Muleshoe Heritage Center's annual open house was appointed with Laura Wood as chairman.

Nominations for November citizens of the month were taken and Brandon Broyles invited the club to meet at his home in November.

Jim Allison, on behalf of the Heritage Foundation, accepts $1,500 from Student-Community Action Club President Tommie Hernández.

Before adjourning the meeting, Hernández thanked Nikki Bonds and her mother for the food served to club members.

The November meeting was held in Broyles' country home, also with a sizable attendance.

Hernández conducted the business meeting, Megan Barrett gave the opening prayer and Barrera read the minutes, which were approved.

Bonds introduced guest speaker Kay Graves, who spoke of some of her community involvement. One of these is the Bailey County Ministerial Alliance's Food Pantry, which she helped organize, as well as HopeChest, more recently organized to help people who, as she noted, "fall through the cracks." She said the Food Pantry, as of last April, is serving 250 families.

The student group helps with this project by bringing canned goods to each club meeting and collecting at the Old Fashioned Christmas Open House at the Heritage Center.

Kay Graves challenged the students to be 'world changers.' She was congratulated as being the club's November citizen of the month and was presented a beautiful corsage from the club.

The club decorated the old-fashioned Christmas tree at the Janes house for the center's Dec. 2. The club accepted Price's suggestion of a western theme.

Broyles and Megan Tipps reported on the money-making airplane basketball contest to be held soon at one of the high school basketball games.

Club members decided to decorate the Old-Fashioned Christmas tree and the Janes Ranch house Nov. 30 for the Heritage Center's open house. This also was the club's Christmas party, and club members brought canned goods to place under the Christmas tree.

A refreshment committee was appointed with Bonds as chairperson.

Citizens of the month for January were selected, and Tipps invited the club to meet in her home for the Jan. 15 meeting. Club members enjoyed a delicious Mexican dinner served by Broyles' mother before working on the Christmas decorations.
