BURN BAN

No fireworks, no outdoor burning of any kind allowed

Lynn County Judge H.G. Franklin has issued a Declaration of Disaster and order prohibiting outdoor burning for Lynn County's unincorporated areas.

Fireworks of any kind will not be allowed anywhere in the county, nor will the sale of fireworks be allowed. In addition, no outdoor burning of any combustible material will be allowed.

The declaration is due to extreme drought conditions that may cause a fire hazard. See more information, page 3.

Property owner given deadline to remove dilapidated buildings

City of Tahoka officials gave a Tahoka property owner 45 days to comply with removing dilapidated housing from his property, in action taken at the city council meeting Monday night. Two vacant houses located at 1706 South 8th Street in Tahoka must be removed within 45 days or the city will take action to tear down the buildings with the owner liable for costs incurred in the demolition project.

In other business, Tahoka Mayor John Baker informed council members that he had spoken with a representative of the Texas Water Development Board regarding the city's grant request for replacing waterlines in the city. He said he was informed that the agency is still waiting on the state budget to be finalized by state legislators before allocating any funds.

The oath of office was administered to Mayor John Baker and council members Rudy Fuentes and Amy Preston, all of whom were declared re-elected to serve another two-year term on the board, after running unopposed in the recent election.

City Administrator Jerry Webster reported that the city pool opened last Saturday after repairs were completed on water pipes, and that the pool manager reported 125 patrons were admitted on Saturday, with 114 at the pool on Sunday.

Attorney W. Calloway Huffaker reported on redistricting issues, informing the council that he had looked at the numbers and that redistricting is going to be necessary for city council districts. He asked each council member to appoint two citizens to a redistricting advisory committee for the process. Huffaker will work with city officials as well as the advisory committee in determining the new precinct lines.

The council voted to contract with Joe F. Hays, CPA, to conduct the city's annual financial audit. Council members approved two resolutions, one having to do with formally authorizing participation in the construction costs for the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority project, which council members had agreed upon in an earlier meeting, and another resolution denying proposed tariff sheets with SPS. Monthly bills were approved as presented.

Mayor Baker led the meeting with council members Rudy Fuentes, Ronny Jolly, Amy Preston and Jeff Martin present, as well as Webster and other city officials. Councilman Ray Box was absent.

Home destroyed by fire Tuesday

by JUANELL JONES

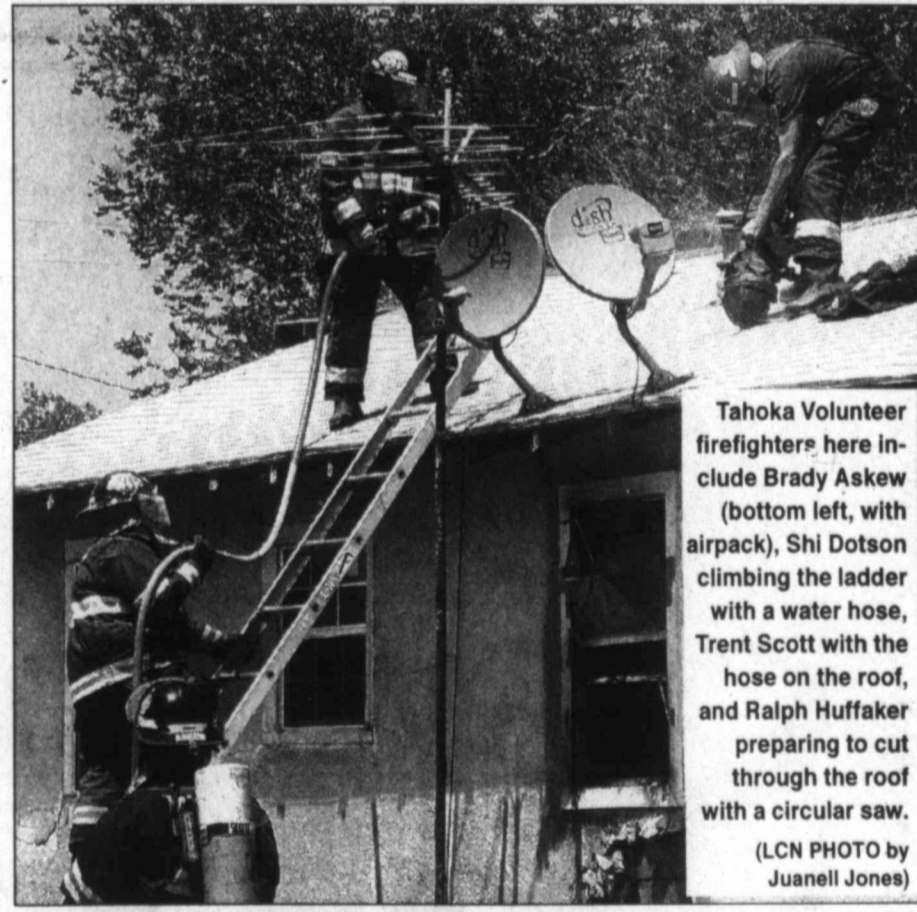

A home at 1206 South 3rd in Tahoka was destroyed by fire Tuesday afternoon, with smoke and flames consuming the belongings of a family of three. Cory Lopez and Anna DeLeon, and their 2-year-old daughter lived in the home owned by Anna's mother, Martha DeLeon. Smoke and flames destroyed everything they owned inside the home.

Tahoka Volunteer Fire Department responded to the alarm at 2:30 p.m. when a neighbor noticed smoke coming from the home and called 9-1-1. Tahoka Fire Marshal Jerry Ford told The News that the fire most likely originated from a window air conditioning unit on the west side of the home. No flames were visible when firefighters arrived, but black smoke was billowing out of the window above the air conditioner, and when firemen opened the front door, thick black smoke spewed out from within the home that was obviously smoldering. Ford said the house was most likely completely destroyed within, although the exterior walls remained standing.

The firemen brought a water hose in through the front door, and attacked the smoldering flames from windows, as well as cutting a hole in the roof to pour water into the home. Firemen were able to contain the flames within the home without it spreading to neighboring homes, which was a fear due to the extremely dry conditions in the area. Extreme heat from temperatures soaring above the 100-degree mark was also a concern for the firefighters in their heavy gear as they battled the fire.

One volunteer fireman was injured as he rounded the house from a corner and stumbled over a tangle of water hoses, injuring his ankle and unable to walk without assistance. Lynn County EMS transported the fireman to Lynn County Hospital for medical treatment.

Ford said that the homeowner does carry some insurance on the home, but he anticipated it would not be enough to cover the damages. The family reportedly is moving in with other family members until they can decide where to live.

OUT IN MACKENZIE PARK in Lubbock a theater group has started a production of the musical "Annie," and it will be offered a few times this month and next. Although I haven't seen it, it's probably pretty good.

A newspaper story about the musical brought back memories of the Little Orphan Annie comic strip which I once enjoyed as a youngster, as it was published in daily newspapers all over the country, and was especially popular in the 1940s and 50s.

The main thing I remember about Little Orphan Annie was that she and her dog, Sandy, and benefactor Daddy Warbucks, had no eyeballs. All the characters in the comic strip, drawn by Harold Gray, just had vacant circles for eyes. Even as a kid, I used to wonder how they could tell where they were going.

There was another character, an 8-foot native of India named Punjab, in the comic strip for awhile, but he eventually disappeared (probably to play with the Lakers in Los Angeles). I vaguely recall seeing a movie about Annie; I think it starred Carol Burnett, although surely she didn't play the role of Annie, or Daddy Warbucks or Punjab.

Gray died in 1968, but the comic strip was continued until last year. If the musical or the comic strip were accurate, they would have shown Annie to be about 90 years (the dog Sandy, too).

Anyway, if you go to the musical in Lubbock, I'm sure you will find Annie still singing happily at 90 years of age, which just goes to show that this is the kind of spirit that promotes longevity.

Heat Exhaustion

As the temperatures rise we have several health related issues that need to be of concern. One really important one to keep in mind is heat exhaustion which is a heat-related illness that may occur after you've been exposed to high temperatures for several days and have developed dehydration which is an inadequate or imbalanced replacement of the fluids and electrolytes you've lost through excessive perspiration.

According to WebMD there are two types of heat exhaustion: Water depletion and Salt depletion. Signs of water depletion include excessive thirst, weakness, headache, and even loss of consciousness. Signs of salt depletion include nausea and vomiting, frequent muscle cramps, and dizziness.

Heat exhaustion is not as serious as a heat stroke but should not be taken lightly because if it is not taken care of it can lead to heat stroke. The most common signs and symptoms of heat exhaustion include:

- confusion
- dark-colored urine (which indicates dehydration)
- dizziness
- fainting
- fatigue
- headache
- muscle cramps
- nausea
- pale skin
- profuse sweating
- rapid heartbeat

If you suspect someone or yourself of heat exhaustion symptoms get out of the heat immediately and rest, in an air-conditioned space. If you cannot get inside find a cool shady space. Drink plenty of water, remove any tight or unnecessary clothing, take a cool shower, bath or sponge bath and use fans or cooling towels to bring down the body's temperature.

If the symptoms do not get better within 30 minutes contact a doctor. Remember untreated heat exhaustion can progress to heat stroke. Your body will be more sensitive to the heat so it is best to avoid getting hot again for at least a week and avoid strenuous exercise too.

No fireworks, no burning allowed in Lynn County

July 4th will have to be celebrated without fireworks this year in Lynn County's unincorporated areas, as Lynn County officials have issued an order prohibiting the sale and/or use of any and all fireworks, and a countywide burn ban continues due to the extremely dry conditions in the area. Lynn County Judge H.G. Franklin has also issued a Declaration of Disaster prohibiting outdoor burning anywhere in Lynn County's unincorporated areas, that includes the fireworks prohibition.

The disaster declaration was signed Monday, June 13 and takes effect immediately for a period of seven days. The action also activates the Lynn County Emergency Management Plan, according to the document filed in the Lynn County Clerk's office. County officials have submitted the declaration to the Governor's office requesting Gov. Perry, who has the authority, to extend the disaster declaration through the July 4th holiday.

The document reads, in part: "The purpose of this order is the mitigation of the hazard posed by wildfires by curtailing the practice of outdoor burning, which purpose is to be taken into account in any enforcement action based upon this order."

"Actions prohibited include: All outdoor burning of any combustible material. A person violates this order by burning any combustible material or orders such burning by others. The sale and/or use of any and all fireworks."

All four incorporated municipalities within the county, including the cities of New Home, Wilson, Tahoka and O'Donnell, have their own rules governing the use of fireworks. The City of Tahoka already prohibits fireworks or burning of property within city limits, by city ordinance.

Commissioner Danny Martin reported that the fireworks event usually sponsored in New Home will not be held this year, and the fireworks show sponsored annually in Wilson by St. Paul Lutheran Church will also be cancelled, although the church is sponsoring a live music event instead, on Friday, July 1 at the Wilson City Park. Live musical entertainment and hot dogs will be offered from 6:00-9:30 p.m., but no fireworks will be displayed. A sponsor did say that the church may sponsor a fireworks show in the fall, depending on weather conditions. O'Donnell city officials also say fireworks are prohibited due to the burn ban.

A countywide burn ban, already in effect, was continued by approval of the Lynn County Commissioners Court at their Monday meeting. Lynn County, along with the rest of the state of Texas, continues to suffer from extremely dry conditions exacerbated by near-100-degree weather for many days. No significant rainfall has been measured in the county during the first six months of 2011, with accumulations from the Tahoka collection site at just over an inch for the year so far.

In other business at the Monday session, commissioners approved a motion to begin accepting bids for a new maintainer for Precinct 2, and approved monthly bills. Judge Franklin led the meeting with all commissioners present including Keith Wied, Mike Braddock, Don Blair and Danny Martin.

Don't Skip Medicine Cabinet During Summer Cleaning

When is the last time you looked through your medicine cabinet closely enough to inspect prescription expiration dates in tiny print?

Michael Veronin, Ph.D., associate professor of pharmaceutical sciences at the Texas A&M Health Science Center Irma Lerma Rangel College of Pharmacy, said the quality of your health depends on routinely inspecting your medications.

"A medication could degrade into an undesirable by-product," Dr. Veronin said.

"The most common example of this occurrence is aspirin. If aspirin is kept beyond the expiration date, it turns into a by-product called 'acetic acid' that smells like vinegar."

Dr. Veronin said expired medications pose the greatest health risk for patients with critical conditions such as heart disease or high blood pressure.

"The medications lose their potency and will not work so well, which can have adverse effects," Dr. Veronin said. "If you are taking something for your heart such as an anti-arrhythmia drug, you also want to make sure it is maintained and stored properly by avoiding heat, light and moisture."

When disposing of your expired prescriptions, it is also important to follow the proper

Like five fingers of a hand, these qualities radiate from one center and all work together. Peter encourages them to live in harmony, literally, to be like-minded. We should have the same basic aim of serving God and loving each other instead of being guided by individual and self-centered interests. This means that we are to work together and not in isolation. He also encourages them to be sympathetic, that is, to 'suffer with' other people. We are to enter into the lives of others to share their joys and sorrows. Peter also wants his people to be affectionate towards one another. The ideal Christian community is one which produces among people who have no blood ties the same bonds of affection as are expected among brothers and sisters. This naturally leads to compassion - to show loving consideration for others instead of ignoring them. And finally, we are not to regard ourselves as a higher grade of dirt than anyone else, that is, we are to be humble. We are not to think of ourselves more than we ought as we are enabled to put the needs of others above our own. ...Today, we may not face the sort of physical persecution Peter's audience was beginning to experience, but we do live in an increasingly secular society where the exchange of words and ideas are often damaging and hurtful. So, although we might want to ball up our fists to strike out at those who hurt us, it is more beneficial to extend our hands in the love of grace and mercy...five fingers in harmony extending sympathy and compassion humbly acknowledging brotherly-love for our neighbor.	Wilson St. John Lutheran Church 13th & Dickson • Wilson, TX 79381 (806) 628-6573 Sharing Christ's message of forgiveness and salvation with our community and beyond. LEADERS: REV. Thank everyone so much for all your prayers, visits, and all acts of kindness shown to our family during the loss of our loved one. The flowers, plants and cards were beautiful. We would also like to thank those of you who made contributions to the Grassland Cemetery. That was Mother's greatest desire that the cemetery has funds to keep it up.
Thank all of you for the delicious food you brought in and all the ladies at the church who worked so hard. A special thanks to all the caregivers at Lynnwood Assisted Living for all the care and attention you gave mother for the last several years. You will never know how much you mean to all the family and to mother. Also thanks to Hospice of Lubbock for the care of our mother.
We live in a great and caring community. What would we all do without the friends and neighbors we have? Thanks again for caring and being there.

Grass fire ... Tahoka Volunteer Fire Dept. was kept busy this week, answering an alarm for a grass fire just off Hwy. 87 about 7 miles south of Tahoka on Monday, and fighting a house fire on Tuesday. In this photo, firemen have just about contained the flames in the grass fire that occurred about noon Monday. The quick response from the department kept the blaze from spreading in windy conditions, with assistance from a maintainer cutting firebreaks. Smoke drifted across Hwy. 87 but was not so thick that traffic was affected.

OISD board to consider tax ratification election

O'Donnell Independent School District Board of Trustees will meet tonight (Thursday) to consider setting in motion a proposed tax rate of $1.17 that will trigger a tax ratification election process, just as Tahoka ISD has undertaken.

OISD already has a current tax rate of $1.170053, which includes a Maintenance and Operating (M&O) tax rate of $1.04 (the maximum rate allowed by law without voter approval) and an Interest and Sinking (I&S) fund tax rate of $0.130053 which is used to be pay for bonded indebtedness.

According to school officials, OISD is completing their payments this year for the bonded indebtedness and will no longer need the 13-cent I&S tax rate. Instead, they will be asking voters to keep the $1.17 tax rate in a tax ratification election that would raise the M&O from $1.04 to $1.17, with no additional I&S rate. If the OISD Board approves the tax ratification election in tonight's meeting, they will set an election date for the process, most likely late this summer.

LETTER to the EDITOR

Dear Lynn Co. News,

I visited Tahoka June 9th to attend the funeral services for Mario Chapa. I paid my respects to the family, and I was visiting with John Chapa, Jr., who is Mario's father, and I was shocked to learn that our local police notified him of his son's death by telephone. John has lived in Tahoka all of his life of almost 80 years and the police department should take a good look at this procedure and be more sensitive toward grieving family members. Also your article on the front page of your paper stated that, although no formal ruling had been issued by the Justice of the Peace, the wound appeared to be self-inflicted. I read every daily newspaper in Texas and it seems to me that most newspapers I read, out of respect for the grieving family members do not mention self-inflicted wounds although it may be what happened. Please review your policies concerning such deaths. The next family to grieve may be your best friend's family.

Sincerely,
Froy Salinas
Austin, Texas
