A new security system, featuring interior/exterior cameras and a panic button system, will be installed at the Lynn County Courthouse building and annex, and Lynn County Jail. Lynn County Commissioners voted unanimously to use $41,683 of security funds to purchase the new system from Guardian Security Systems after viewing a presentation of options at the Monday morning meeting.

The full purchase amount will come from a designated security fund collected from mandatory fees collected by several county offices. These funds may only be used for security purposes, and commissioners voted to use a portion of the available funds to purchase the new system. The new system will replace some of the older security systems currently in use, or supplement portions of the system in County Judge H.G. Franklin presided at the meeting with all four commissioners present including Don Blair, Mike Braddock, Keith Wied and Danny Martin, and other officials.

Steven Gray named head girls' basketball coach for Tahoka ISD

Steven Gray, an assistant coach and math teacher at Tahoka High School, was named head girls' basketball coach at the Tahoka ISD Board of Trustees special meeting held last Monday night. The position was approved unanimously by the six members of the board present at the meeting.

Gray has been at Tahoka ISD for the past three years, but has 10 years of experience in teaching and coaching. He spent six years in Christoval, coaching football, basketball and tennis, and was the head boys' basketball coach for three years there. He then moved to Seagraves, and coached there one year in the football program, as well as assistant girls' basketball coach and the head softball coach. His first year in Tahoka, Gray was the defensive coordinator in the Bulldog football program, and coached junior high basketball and track. During the last two years he has been the defensive coordinator, assistant boys basketball coach, and helped with track and tennis in the spring.

"I am excited about the opportunity to be a part of the girls basketball program here in Tahoka," said Gray, adding, "I am looking forward to working with the girls to make this program as successful as possible."

Gray and his wife, Tonia, have two children, a 4-year-old daughter named Kristin and a 3-year-old son named Dustin.

In other business at the June 3 meeting, trustees approved a teaching contract for Holley Cornelius as an elementary teacher, and approved increasing the district's contribution to employee health insurance from $298 to $325.

Trustees approved the purchase of 36 Dell desktop computers at a cost of $19,839.96 and 29 Dell laptop computers at a cost of $18,921.34. The desktop computers are for use districtwide to replace outdated computers, and the laptops are for elementary staff members.

BOOK CALLED Uncle John's Bathroom Reader says it is just a myth that the forbidden fruit eaten by Eve was an apple, claiming this as fact:

"The Bible makes reference to the 'fruit of the tree' (Genesis 3:3), but names no particular fruit. Horticulturists say that apple trees have never grown in the area where the Garden of Eden supposedly existed. She probably ate a pomegranate."

Well, gee, apples are a lot easier for Texans to understand, although I never could figure why an apple would be forbidden, unless the grower had sprayed it with bad chemicals, fairly unlikely in those days.

Another myth questioned by the book was from the song, Home on the Range, where it says, "Give me a home where the buffalo roam, and the deer and the antelope play." The book claims "there are no antelope in North America," and says the animal the song probably refers to is the pronghorn, which resembles an antelope. The book also says real antelope only live

Oh, yeah? Just a few miles down the road in Garza County they have Post Antelopes all over the place. Besides, the Internet tool Google says a pronghorn and an antelope are the same, and says there are pronghorn antelope in many of the United States, so maybe Uncle John doesn't know one from the other.

I also heard someone say once, "Show me a home where the buffalo roam, and I'll show you a really dirty house."

YEARS AGO, doctors told me to quit eating good stuff like Rocky Road ice cream and donuts, and one result is that I try to find sugar-free products, some of which taste almost as good as food. I can get some really good sugar-free strawberry preserves at Thriftway supermarket in Tahoka, and one day recently I thought I had struck gold. I was lurching down the aisles looking at everything and I suddenly spied labels on all kinds of sugar-free things. There was SF apple juice, SF peanut butter, SF salad dressing, SF cheese, and even SF bread and potato chips.

Bread and potato chips? That's when I discovered that SF meant Shurfine, not sugar free.

atrick Wells, a Tahoka graduate attending Baylor University in Waco, returned recently from a summer trip to Africa with the Baylor Men's Choir, where they performed in music ministry as well as working in hands-on service projects during a 15-day trip to Kenya.

Forty-five members of the 93-member choir made the 21-hour flight trip, including Patrick, son of Haney and Tanya Wells of Tahoka. He is a 2011 graduate of Tahoka High School. Wells, a junior, is studying for a double-major at the business school at Baylor, in Management Information Systems and Media Business.

"Going to Kenya with the Baylor Men's Choir was an incredible experience," said Wells. "We worked with many different groups of people there, Maasai Girls. "Going into the trip, I wasn't prepared for how much the people there would bless us in return. Wherever we went, we were treated with immense hospitality. Living in a society where it is easy to take things for granted, it is very humbling to see people who don't have much giving up what may be all they have, just so that people who have come to serve them can feel welcome and at home

Next weekend's Relay For Life to raise funds for cancer research

Area citizens are encouraged to participate in the June 21st Relay For Life event at the Tahoka High School football field, that kicks off at 7 p.m. Friday night (June 21) and continues until 7 a.m. Saturday. The 12-hour Relay For Life is an overnight community fundraising walk that raises funds for the American Cancer Society for cancer research. Teams of people camp out around a track, and members of each team take turns walking around the track. Food, games and activities provide entertainment and build camaraderie at the event.

There are several teams who have signed up to participate in the Relay, but anyone is welcome to participate in the event. Come for the opening ceremonies at 7 p.m. and stay to encourage walkers, or walk with them, and support the teams who will have booths with food for sale, games and other activities. All Lynn County cancer survivors and caregivers are invited to come walk the special Survivors Lap. Anyone interested in participating in this celebratory event should contact Julia Allen, chairman, at Lynn County Hospital District, phone 998-4533 ext. 333.

"Please, if you are a cancer survivor, come join us in the special Survivors Lap to celebrate your victory over cancer," says Allen. "Just call me for more information, and allow us the privilege of recognizing our local cancer survivors," she

During the Survivors Lap, all cancer survivors at the event take the first lap around the track, celebrating their victory over cancer while cheered on by the other participants who line the track. Relay For Life events also recognize and celebrate caregivers, who give time, love, and support to their friends, family, neighbors, and coworkers facing cancer.

The Luminaria Ceremony takes place after dark, and is a time to remember people who were lost to cancer, honor people who have fought cancer in the past, and support those whose fight continues. Candles are lit inside of personalized bags and are placed around the Relay track as glowing tributes to those who've been affected by cancer. The white paper bags may be purchased at the event, or prior to the Relay For Life at the hospital, Jolly Time Pizza, or The Lynn County News. Bags may be decorated and returned for the event, or purchasers (bags are $5 each) may ask the Luminaria committee to write the designated names on the bags for the ceremony.

An emotionally powerful Fight Back Ceremony inspires Relay participants to take action. The Fight Back Ceremony symbolizes the emotional commitment each person can make in the fight against cancer for ourselves, for our loved ones, and for our community to fight cancer year-round and to commit to saving lives.

Arrest follows grand jury indictment here

A Lamesa man indicted by a recent 106th District Grand Jury for driving while intoxicated, third offense or more, has been processed at Lynn County jail on the indictment. The accused is Raymond L. Douglas, 78.

Tahoka Police this week were advised that a 50-year-old Lubbock man allegedly assaulted his sister in Tahoka Sunday, pushing her into a wall.

Eighteen persons were in

Lynn County jail early this week, with two of those held for Andrews County. Recent arrests included the man indicted by the grand jury, another man for assault causing injury to a family member twice within 12 months plus possession of a prohibited substance in a correctional facility, a woman charged with assault causing bodily injury/family violence, and one man jailed on a court order.

Texas Tech UIL Dept. hosts summer camps for area high school students

Texas Tech University's UIL Department is offering summer camps for high school students and teachers to learn about theatre, technical theatre, math/science, debate and journalism. Programs are offered throughout the summer on Texas Tech's campus. Food, games, and access to the Texas Tech leisure pool and the recreational center are available for students to use throughout the camps.

Deadline to sign up for all camps is June 14. Available dates and programs are listed below. For more information on any camp, contact Lana Jones, UIL Academic Coordinator, UIL Department-Division of Institutional Diversity, Equity & Community Engagement, Texas Tech University, (806) 742-2350, or lana.f.jones@ttu.edu.

Journalism Camp-The Write Way to Leaguetown July 17-20

This three-day summer camp focuses on editorial, feature, news and headline writing. High school journalism veteran Marilyn Murfee will lead a seasoned team of other journalism teachers at the sessions to help students gain knowledge about the art of writing. Sessions include hands-on computer time.

Campers and teachers will house in a Texas Tech residence hall and have their meals at a Texas Tech dining hall. Tuition for resident campers in a private room is $275. Tuition for campers in a double room is $240. Commuters' tuition is $170 and includes lunch each day.

A place can be held with a $75 non-refundable deposit, and with every four students, teachers will receive a $20 teacher discount. Teachers will receive Gifted and Talented (GT) credit and Continuing Ed (CE) credit through this program.

What's Your 4th Problem? July 16-20

Students will attend classes targeting success in mathematics, number sense, science and calculator applications at the five-day "What's Your 4th Problem?" summer camp.

Insight and coaching will be given from award winning presenters, Larry White, Andy Zapata, Shayna Reasoner, Saundra Paschal, Cliff McCurdy, Wenzen Chuang, Daniel Valerio, and Texas Tech Professor Brock Williams.

Campers and teachers will house in a Texas Tech residence hall and have their meals at a Texas Tech dining hall. Tuition for a student in a single room is $275. Tuition for a double room is $250. Commuters' tuition is $170 and includes lunch only each day.

Close encounter of the worst kind ... It's hard to look at this photo without wincing for this poor dog that had a close encounter with an angry porcupine and ended up with a face full of porcupine quills. Gilda Taylor, who submitted the photo, said this photo was taken a few years ago of "Hooch" and that he was just fine after they took him to a vet to remove the quills. "Apparently, it didn't teach him anything, as he and our other dog got into it with porcupines three times that one summer — both dogs!" said Taylor, laughing. "He was a great dog, just happy as a lark!"
