MISSION: Tahoka

JULY 22 thru JULY 28

Outreach program starts Monday with community projects, Bible Clubs, more

Next week, several churches in Tahoka will come together to sponsor and participate in "Mission: Tahoka," a city-wide outreach ministry to the community, with Backyard Bible Clubs in several locations around town and work projects planned throughout the week of July 22-28 to help area families. Worship services will be conducted each evening, and a community picnic is also slated, as well as other activities.

"Mission Tahoka is something in which your entire family can participate," said Bro. Bill Fuller, pastor at First Baptist Church of Tahoka. "Every person is invited to participate and I hope you will help us spread the word and build excitement for this outreach ministry for all the body of Christ in Tahoka," he added.

Mission Tahoka kicks off with work projects for volunteers, scheduled to begin at 7:30 a.m. Monday through Friday. Various projects are expected to include painting, yard work, cleaning, and other general maintenance work for local residents who could benefit from the helping hands of volunteers. To volunteer, call the First Baptist Church office at 561-4557 to be assigned to a project. Volunteers of all ages are welcome to participate.

Backyard Bible Clubs will offer fun activities for children each weekday morning from 9:00 a.m. until 10:15 a.m., for youth ages pre-K through sixth grade, at four locations in Tahoka: N. 4th and Ave. O (on school grounds in front of elementary daycare center); S. 1st and Ave. P; S. 7th and Ave. M; and S. 3rd and Ave. F. Backyard Bible Club signs will be posted at these locations. Parents are welcome to stay (may want to bring lawn chairs for seating) while children participate in these activities.

Evening worship services for all ages, youth through adults, will be held nightly at the high school auditorium, at 7 p.m. Casual attire is welcome.

A free community picnic will be held 5:00-8:00 p.m. Saturday on the courthouse lawn, featuring live music, a homemade ice cream contest (bring your entry by 5 p.m. for judging), games, hot dogs and more. All food is provided free of charge, and the picnic is open to the entire community.

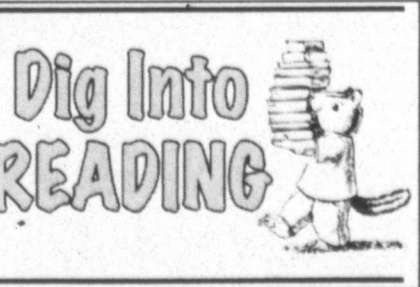

The Mission Tahoka week will culminate with a community worship service at 11 a.m. in the THS auditorium. Local churches involved in the Mission Tahoka week include First Baptist, First Methodist, Sweet Street Baptist, Church of Christ, Trinity Church, Getsemani Baptist, and St. Jude's Catholic Church.

Ready to work for you ...

These Tahoka teens are eager to offer a helping hand next week during "Mission: Tahoka," whether it be yard work, painting, house cleaning, or wherever their help is needed. From left are Hannah Fleenor, Kirstin Stice, Nicole Taylor, Dane Rivas, Luke Fleenor and Sarah Fleenor. "Mission: Tahoka" is a community mission project week sponsored jointly by churches in Tahoka, July 22-28. Contact any church pastor to suggest jobs for the workers.

Summer Reading Program at the City-County Library in Tahoka Monday-Friday, July 22-26 10:30-11:30 a.m. for children pre-K thru 5th grade Fun activities - All are welcome! (see story on page 4)

See how it works ... Melanie Richburg, DNP, FNPC, at Lynn County Hospital District's Family Wellness Clinic, shows how a small camera attached to the "Teledoc" can provide closeup views of a patient (in this photo, she is showing a closeup of a bracelet on her arm) so that patients can be evaluated, via camera, by specialists elsewhere. The new technology provides added resources for patient treatment at the Family Wellness Clinic. (LCN PHOTO by Juanell Jones)

'Teledoc' offers specialist input at LCHD Family Wellness Clinic

The Family Wellness Clinic has a new doctor in the house - that goes by the name of "Teledoc." Actually, the Teledoc is a computer with cameras that allow for secure communication with specialists for local patients who have a need for a specialist's opinion but don't want to make the trip to Lubbock for another doctor's appointment. "The Teledoc works basically like a specialty referral to Lubbock... without all the driving back and forth," explains Melanie Richburg, DNP, FNPC, at Lynn County Hospital District's Family Wellness Clinic located at 1809 Lockwood in Tahoka. "If labs and x-rays are needed they can be done here in Tahoka, and the results provided to the specialist," she added.

The system works much like Skype, but the technology is much more advanced, with many security features, than the home computer version.

"How it works is pretty straight forward," said Richburg: "(1) Patient comes in with a problem. We decide he needs a specialist opinion. (2) We call the specialist that does telemedicine and schedule an appointment. (3) Patient returns to the LCHD Family Wellness Clinic (FWC) on the day of the scheduled appointment and the scheduled specialist calls the Teledoc in the FWC. (4) The patient is evaluated, via camera, by the specialist and a treatment plan is created. Medications, labs, x-rays, etc. are ordered by (See Teledoc, page 3)

We want your Ghost Stories

LCN wants ghostly tales of county places

Things that go bump in the night. Odd noises that can't be explained. Lights that should not be on. Ghostly shadows that move when no one is there, or items that get moved from one place to another.

These are the stories of unexplainable incidents that most every family can share, if not from their own experience then from another family member. If it takes place in Lynn County, or happened to someone from Lynn County, or is in any way connected to the county, then we want your story. Share your story and make our spines tingle - it's all in good fun, and we know the stories are out there!

Send us your story by email (LynnCoNews@poka.com), tell us on the Lynn County News facebook page, or write us a letter (P.O. Box 1170, Tahoka, TX 79373). We will gather all the stories for a special spine-tingling "ghost edition" of The Lynn County News on October 31.

Share your stories with us - if you are okay with us using your name for submitting the story, great! If you want to submit the story but don't want your name published, tell us and we will withhold your name when we print the story - but you will miss the fun of enjoying the "notoriety" of telling "your" story. Either way, we want your tales of ghostly lore. If you have a photo to submit with the story, that's even better - that shows the place of the event, or the person telling the story - anything at all will be appreciated.

Alright then, start your "ghost story" tales at the dinner table, generate some fun family conversations, and then write it down and share it with us - the sooner the better. Don't wait, submit your stories to us now and we will start compiling our special edition.

Scare vs. We dare you.

Obituaries

Ralph H. Brock

Services for Ralph H. Brock, 64, of Lubbock, were held Wednesday, July 17, in Sanders Memorial Chapel. Interment was at City of Lubbock Cemetery. He died July 14, 2013.

He was born August 6, 1948, in Amarillo, to Charles and Waurika Haney Brock. He married Carolyn F. Moore on November 14, 1981. He was raised in Spearman, Tahoka, and Lubbock. He received an undergraduate and law degree from Texas Tech University and published scholarly articles in law review journals. He volunteered in a variety of state bar activities. His most recent awards were for pro bono work in writing an amicus brief for a case heard by the U.S. Supreme Court in December 2012. He was the first chair of the State Bar's Appellate Section.

He was preceded in death by his parents.

Survivors include his spouse; his brother, Billy Brock and wife.

Janet, of Albuquerque; nieces, nephews and his many other family members.

Memorials are suggested to the Southwest Cancer Center at University Medical Center, the Texas Bar Foundation, or CLL Global Research Foundation, Box 301402, Unit 428, Houston, Tx 77230.

Taylor Knight

Memorial services for Taylor Knight, of Lubbock, formerly of Tahoka, were held on Tuesday, July 16, at 10 a.m. at the First Baptist Church of Tahoka with Pastor Ray Perryman officiating. He died July 9, 2013.

He was born March 6, 1945 in Lubbock, to Lee Roy and Lucile Knight of Tahoka. He attended school in Tahoka. He earned a degree in agricultural education. While at Tech, Knight was a member of the Texas Tech Rodeo Team. He was an avid horseman and won numerous calf roping titles throughout his amateur career. Upon graduation, he taught agricultural science before farming with his father. He resumed his teaching career in 1986 and taught in several schools throughout Texas before retiring in 1999. He was well-known throughout the junior livestock program as being one of the top show pig feeders, both breeding and feeding many champion show pigs.

He was preceded in death by his parents.

Survivors include a son, Tadd Knight, and wife, Scotta, of Shallowater; daughter, Tamara Boudns of Lubbock; and three grandchildren.

Memorials are suggested for Haven Animal Care Shelter of Lubbock, www.havenacs.org, 4501 N FM 1729, Lubbock, TX 79403.

Dale Gene Zant

Dale Gene Zant, 86, of New Home, Texas left this earth on July 9, 2013 to be with his Heavenly Father. Dale was born on April 13, 1927 to H.N. and Zona Zant in Claene. He was the oldest of seven boys. He married Ethel Lynn Gill on November 27, 1946. They were blessed with four children during their 61 years of marriage. Dale served in the US Navy aboard the USS Belleau Wood. He was a member of the New Home Church of Christ, where he served as an elder. He was also a member of the Wilson Lions Club, Lynn County ASCS, Soil Conservation, and Federal Land Bank Boards, as well as the Wilson School board and Wilson Coop Gin. Dale was a well respected and much beloved member of the New Home, Wilson and Tahoka communities. Dale was an avid Texas A&M and Texas Tech Red Raider fan as well as a diehard New Home Leopards fan. He loved watching the sporting events and other activities that his children, grandchildren and great grandchildren participated in over the years.

Dale was preceded in death by his wife Ethel Lynn; parents, H.N. and Zona Zant; brothers, Max Zant and Cates Zant and son Raymond Zant.

Those left to cherish his memory are his son, Leland Zant and wife Susan of New Home; two daughters, Karen Cook and husband Coy of Midland, Renea Zant of Follett; seven grandchildren, T'aua Ramsey and husband Brett of Big Spring, Lanny Zant and wife Cindi of New Home, Shannon Zant and wife Crystal of New Home, Maranda Ribera and husband Rick of Spicewood, Shane Zant and wife Ashlie of Lorena, Lora Ferguson of Portales, NM, Jenny Ferguson of Garland; ten great-grandchildren, Tristan, Kincaid and Zona Ramsey, Karson and Reagyn Zant, Jaxxon and Maddox Zant, and Averie, Kallie and Charlie Zant; four brothers, Dudley Zant of Paris, Joe Don Zant and wife Dena Bell of Vealmoor, Rex Zant and wife Patsy of Ackerly, and Warren Zant and wife Anna of Westbrook as well as numerous friends and additional family.

Memorials may be made to the Lubbock Children's Home, Sunset International Bible Institute, Green Memorial Cemetery in Wilson, Blue Haven Youth Camp or New Home PTO.

Services were held at 10 am; Friday, July 12, at New Home Church of Christ. Interment was at Green Memorial Park Cemetery in Wilson, Texas.

A TV CHANNEL just for dogs to watch will be launched (by DirecTV) next month, and some Internet commentators, including Forbes.com, are saying the whole idea is not as weird as most people might think.

They are saying that it may be a good idea to offer a TV channel with content aimed specifically at dogs, costing $4.99 a month, because dogs left alone to guard the house are lonely and need to be entertained.

I have to agree with those who consider the idea weird, though. Sure, dogs left alone, especially young dogs, will chew up the furniture and whatever else is available, but trying to entertain them with TV is barking up the wrong tree.

One woman who posted a comment to Forbes said her sister's dog barks whenever another dog is shown on TV, but her own dog paid TV no attention, apparently because if she can't smell it, it is of no interest.

Another person said she has trained dogs for years, and thinks TV for dogs is a bad idea, saying dogs look at TV only because their people are glued to the boob tube instead of taking them for a walk.

We have a dog, a nice friendly one who trails behind my wife like a shadow, taking every step she does, when he can. I'm not planning to buy the DogTV channel for him, although when I asked him what he thought of the idea, he said, "Grr-r-r-eat!"

I think he was just woofing, and really meant to say, "Grr-r-r-oss!"

The TV people plan to change colors to fit a dog's eyesight, noting that dogs are color blind, can't see red and green like humans do, but can see blue and yellow.

Maybe they will show Yellow-dog Democrats, along with reruns of Lassie.

LAST WEEK, citizens of Roswell, NM celebrated the 66th anniversary of the famous "flying saucer" incident in July 1947 which has since spawned hundreds of movies, documentaries, books and articles, mostly claiming that the government covered up the facts, namely that bodies of small bug-eyed aliens were found after a spacecraft crash.

The government has always denied any such cover-up of facts, but many people still believe the government lied. An Internet report on the incident also took an informal poll, asking viewers to check one of two boxes on the question "Will the Roswell saga ever fade?" Box one was "Yes, the alien thrill is gone," and box two was "No, the truth is still out there."

Of 6,000 responses, 88 per cent checked the second box, meaning lots of folks believe aliens crashed near Roswell.

In the 1940s there were many reports of flying saucers, and a few since then. And yes, I believe aliens have visited the earth, both recently and centuries ago, accounting for things like the pyramids, Stonehenge and a rock group called KISS.

My brother, a retired commercial airlines pilot, thinks he may have seen a UFO. He also believes that Ezekiel saw an alien spaceship when he sighted a wheel in the air (Ezekiel: Chapter 1).

I've met a few people right here in Lynn County who surely are from some other planet.

the specialist. (5) The patient returns to the FWC at a later date for a follow-up." Richburg said that specialties currently available with the FWC Teledoc include Behavioral health (Adult and Pedi), Dermatology, Cardiology, and Gastroenterology. "I have also agreed to participate in a pilot program with Lubbock ISD and Early Childhood Intervention. This program will allow children that need Physical Therapy, Speech Therapy and Occupational Therapy the availability of services more than just once a month... and without having to travel to Lubbock to receive this specialty care. In this instance the therapist will be in Lubbock and the parent and child will be in the FWC on a play mat having the therapist guide the therapy via telecommunication," explained Richburg. She said the new technology was provided through an agreement with Texas Tech University and Lynn County Hospital District, and she anticipates that the Teledoc will provide significant added resources for patient treatment at the Family Wellness Clinic.

The food will be great ... These ladies are gearing up to prepare food for next week's "Mission: Tahoka" community mission project week. Pictured are Chloe Jan Wells, Beth Huffaker, Pat Williams, Barbara Miller and Pam Miller. A free community picnic is slated for 5-8 p.m. Saturday on the courthouse lawn. All food will be provided, and it's all free and open to all who would like to attend.

Crocheted flag ... Norm Kellin, pictured here, donated this crocheted flag lap blanket for display at the Lynn County Pioneers Senior Citizens Center in Tahoka. The flag was given to him and made by Arlene Ohlson of Tahoka. She and her husband, Ron (a Vietnam War Purple Heart veteran) designed and created the crocheted flag when they lived in Washington in 2004, as part of a project creating handmade lap blankets to donate to wounded American soldiers in Iraq. After making her first flag to be donated to the wounded soldiers project, Mrs. Ohlson made a second flag, which she recently presented to Kellin. "I am delighted that Norm chose to present this flag to the senior citizens center to be displayed on their wall," Ohlson told The News. (Lynn County News photo by Pam Elrod)

Tamara Gilreath took pictures of her 10-month-old son at the Tahoka Pioneer Museum during a visit recently. See her Letter to the Editor, at right.

Letters to the Editor

Pioneer Museum is fun to visit
Dear Editor,

My name is Tamara Gilreath, I have lived in Lubbock for the past four years. I am friends with the Gardner's and Miller's and I recently attended a wedding and basket shower for Amber Nagar, bride elect of Colby Gardner. While in town I was pleased to see the Pioneer Museum was open. I am originally from Philadelphia, PA and married a Texan, Mark Gilreath Chief Petty Officer, USN. We have a 10 month old son. I took him to the museum, you're never too young or too old to learn about your community or its surroundings. I'm sure I enjoyed the visit more than he did and we took a few photos while there. If you happen to know who the museum worker is that was there that day, please tell her thank you for her hospitality.

Sincerely, Tamara Gilreath

(Editor's Note: Lenda Wood opens the Pioneer Museum at 1600 Lockwood in Tahoka, on Fridays and Saturdays, 10 a.m.-2 p.m. Admission is free.)

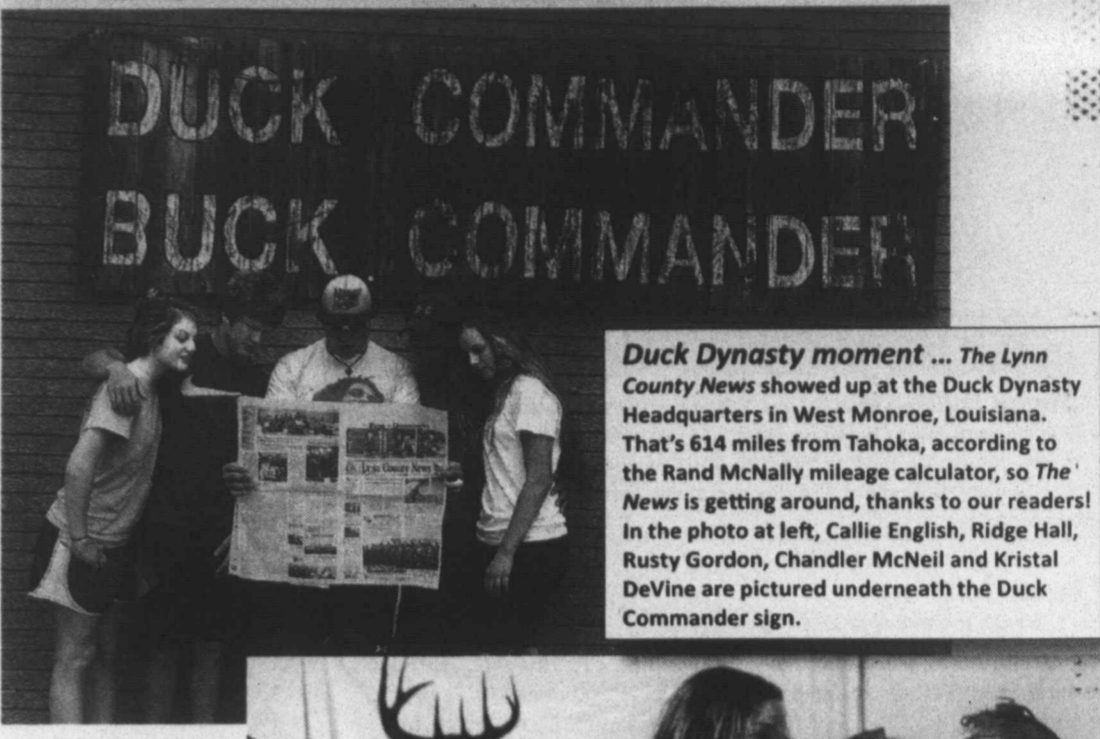

Weedy problem? Eat it!

Dear Editor,
Would like to interject some information in relation to the back page article in the July 4th edition of your paper, titled "A weedy issue..." by Bryan Reynolds. This information should be valuable to your audience and offers a helpful solution to the mentioned "weedy" problem ... eat it!

Common Purslane, though viewed and labeled as a troublesome weed that wreaks havoc on yards is actually grown in several regions of the world as a staple vegetable. Yes, this "problematic" weed is actually higher in Omega-3 essential fatty acids than some supplement pills.

Duck Dynasty moment ... The Lynn County News showed up at the Duck Dynasty Headquarters in West Monroe, Louisiana. That's 614 miles from Tahoka, according to the Rand McNally mileage calculator, so The News is getting around, thanks to our readers! In the photo at left, Callie English, Ridge Hall, Rusty Gordon, Chandler McNeil and Kristal DeVine are pictured underneath the Duck Commander sign.

Dig into Reading!

Library reading program set next week

The City-County Library's annual summer reading program will take place Monday-Friday, July 22-26 from 10:30-11:30 a.m. daily for children who will be in PreK through 5th grade next school year. This year's theme is "Dig into Reading!" and will feature activities for kids including reading, crafts, games and demonstrations.

Library Director Claudia Guin said, "We are changing up our program a bit from past years, offering an entire week of programming instead of spreading programs throughout the month. We have also introduced a game board this year with children moving along the board and earning prizes as they read. Many children have been reading since our kick-off party last month, but it's not too late to get your child involved."

According to Guin, although many children have pre-registered for the program, it is not required to attend next week's events. However, if a child has not been pre-registered, an adult must accompany them through the registration process on their first visit so that emergency contact information may be collected. After registration, children may be left in the care of the library staff and volunteers (if a child is not accustomed to group activities, Guin suggests that parents stay with the children throughout the program).

Registration begins each day at 10:15 a.m. with programming beginning at 10:30 a.m. All programs will take place throughout the Life Enrichment Center, at 1717 Main in Tahoka.

For more information on the program, call the library at 561-4050.

Purslane is also one of the highest rated leafy vegetable sources for Vitamin A and has vitamin C and B-complex. It's also quite delicious. Just cause it grows in your lawn doesn't mean it's bad. Sure, nobody wants to falter on the looks of their lawn, yet in the spirit of healthier eating vs looks of a lawn, I would prefer to increase my health and work with the plant than destroy an organic food source, and add more chemicals to the ground. Through history, Purslane was used in many beneficial ways, from a poultice over burns to being eaten to alleviate stomachache and more. Now, the consumption of this plant with it's high omega-3's is helpful in prevention of inflammatory problems such as arthritis, diabetes and heart disease. It's even used as fodder for chickens.

In the choice between adding arsenic levels to your yard with various chemicals or treating the plant as a gift of a food source, the cheapest, easiest and most beneficial option to you and your body ... sorry, yard enthusiasts.

Thank you,
Rock Williams

Local 4-H shooting sports has successful summer

Lynn County 4-H Members have been busy this summer competing in 4-H Shooting Sports contests across the state. 4-H members started practicing in the spring to gear up for these contests. Most 4-H members have practiced twice weekly and shot thousands of rounds to gear up for the competitions.

At the South Plains District 4-H Invitational Shoot, Lynn County 4-H'ers brought home many of the awards including an unprecedented two High Overall Shooter awards. Colton Stice was High Overall Shooter in the intermediate division and Grant Garvin was High Overall Shooter in the Senior I division. Results were: Junior participants: Robert Bolton, Riley Cook, Ashlyn Ballard, Mackenzie Bolton. Intermediate participants were: Colton Stice, 1st trap, 4th skeet, 1st 5-stand, 1st Overall; Braden Cook, 6th trap, 6th skeet, 7th overall; Brit Lockaby, 1st class B trap, Jett Ballard participated in trap. Senior I division: Grant Garvin, 3rd trap, 4th skeet, 6th 5-stand, 1st Overall; Ian Cobb, 7th trap, 2nd skeet, 4th Overall; Curry Lehman, 7th trap, 8th skeet, 5th 5-stand, 5th Overall; Jace Jones, 12th Overall; Lindsey Cobb, 13th overall. Senior II division: Keaton Stice, 9th Overall; Brady Tekell, 11th Overall.

At the Texas 4-H Shotgun Shootout in San Angelo the 4-H'ers shot 50 rounds each of the following disciplines: American Skeet, International Skeet, American Trap, International Trap and 5-Stand. They shot 100 rounds of sporting clays over the three day contest.

Grant Garvin placed 2nd in Senior I American Trap. Colton Stice placed 5th in Intermediate American Trap. Kash Kahl place 10th Overall shooter in the Junior Division.

Keaton Stice and Brady Tekell both received a $3750 scholarship from the Larry Rathaal Scholarship Fund for their successes in the Shooting Sports project and competition at the Texas 4-H Shotgun Shootout.
