Jodi Thomas regales local citizens with stories of why she loves to write

by JUANELL JONES

odi Thomas, author of 50 books (and counting), visited the City/County Library in Tahoka for a book-signing session on Tuesday morning, regaling a crowd of citizens with the story of why she became a writer and explaining an entertaining process of how she writes.

I have a very, very loose grip on reality ...

and I come from a long family of liars.

"This life is fun," Thomas said with a smile lighting her face, as she launched into a 20-minute spiel about her writing process.

"I should tell you how you decide to be a writer. It's not a path that most people find at 10 years old," said the author. "I grew up watching my sisters and my aunts and my grandparents quilt, and I don't quilt, but whenever I was a kid I loved to sit (and sometimes just lie down under the quilt frame) and listen to the women talk - and they talked in stories. And I think today people don't talk in stories like they used to. I love those stories. At holidays and gettogethers my family would tell lots of stories, and I loved listening to them.

"So, I was blessed with two blessings. One, I have a very, very loose grip on reality," she stated matter-offactly. (pause while the group roars with laughter). "Within 5 minutes I'm off on a story, and anything can set it off. I wish I could go back and tell those teachers who thumped me for not listening, and tell them that I was busy practicing for my career," she

"And the second advantage I have, is, I come from a long family of liars. I have an uncle that something happens > and a year later he will tell the story, and if you were there you don't recognize the story. I think listening to these stories helped me as I was growing up," she says with an impish grin.

Thomas is both a New York Times and USA Today bestselling author of over 40 novels and 13 short story collections. She was honored in 2002 as a Distinguished Alumni by Texas Tech University, and she enjoys interacting with students at West Texas A&M University in Canyon, where she currently serves as Writer in Residence.

She told the group that she strives to write in ways that bring her characters to life.

O'Donnell ISD honored in school architecture competition

O'Donnell ISD's renovation and new construction projects for their high school and middle school campuses has earned recognition for its architectural design by Parkhill, Smith & Cooper, Inc. architectural firm.

OISD is one of three West Texas school architecture projects, as well as others from across the state, that have been recognized with Stars of Distinction in the 2017-18 Exhibit of School Architecture competition, which showcases new and renovated Texas schools and celebrates excellence in planning and design of the learning environment. Abilene ISD's Johnston Elementary School (Parkhill, Smith & Cooper, Inc.), and Lubbock ISD's Lubbock High School Auditorium Renovation (BGR Architects, Inc.) were the other two west Texas schools

The projects, as showcased by their respective architects, were on exhibit during the TASA/TASB Convention in Dallas Oct. 6-8. Winners of the competition will be announced in January 2018.

In all, 27 projects in 24 school districts received 2017 Stars of Distinction for excellence in one or more areas of distinction, which include: community, planning, transformation, design, value and sustainability.

The Exhibit of School Architecture awards are given at the discretion of a 12-member jury, which includes: four school board members, four administrators, two representatives from the Texas Society of Architects and two representatives from the Association for Learning Environments (A4LE). To be eligible for consideration for the 2017 Exhibit of School Architecture, projects had to be newly constructed or renovated public education facilities completed in the past five years.

"I want my people to come alive for you, I want you to be with them on their quest. I tell my character's story because they come alive for me. The best way I can tell you how I write is that as I sit in my study with my hands on the computer, the character just walks in, sits down and begins telling me the story," she explained, adding, "I'm not crazy, but don't ask my kids."

Her fictional stories travel through the past and present days of Texas, and one of her most recent series takes place in Ransom Canyon, an area of which most South Plains residents are familiar.

In her Ransom Canyon series, Thomas says, "The (fictional) character that came to me was Stanton Kirkland. He was a rancher. He sat down, took off his hat, and began to tell me his story. He was the strongest, most powerful man in this little town. And he was falling apart. "I want to show how people in small towns really live, how they support each other and change each other's lives, and I wanted to show that in the Ransom Canyon series. In the opening paragraph, there's a storm coming, and it says Stanton Kirkland crammed his black Resistol on his head and prayed that the hat lived up to its name," she said. Then she laughed and added, "If you see a picture of me wearing a black Resistol it's because the Resistol company named a hat the "Ransom Canyon." They were so tickled that I put it in the book. It's really cool," she said with delight.

After Thomas concluded addressing the crowd, City/ County Library Director Cissy Webster invited people to come a variety of Thomas' books, and said the author would autograph their own books if they brought them, or if they chose to buy one she would autograph it for them. Many swarmed to the table for an opportunity meet the author and choose a book, then visited over refreshments provided by the library staff and friends.

"This was wonderful! We concentrate a lot on children's programs, but we wanted to do something for adults, and I think it turned out wonderful that it was during a workday and we had 32 adults show up. The author was amazing, she was humorous and kept our attention," said Webster.

"It was wonderful that a town of our size could get a New York bestselling author to come here. It was amazing to serve the community of Tahoka with a program like this," added Webster. She says she hopes to bring other authors here as well, in the future, and credited her staff with helping the library to have programs for both children and adults.

NSURANCE COMPANIES send me a lot of junk, trying to get me to sign up for something I don't need, and trying to get some of those premium dollars which I spend with local agents who advertise in this newspaper.

Much of it is for "accidental death" policies, which for most folks is a waste of money. "So," said one agent, "you don't think there's a chance you will die accidentally?"

"On the contrary," I told him. "I sure don't expect to die on purpose." Of course, they don't define accidental death as any time you don't die on purpose. If they did, I'd have some of those policies.

Not long ago one of the companies sent a brochure called "LMS", explaining that this means Life Made Simple. Under this it said "Simplified-Issue Whole Life" Level Death Benefit." Simple, huh? That statement alone is pure gobbledegook.

I'd guess that it means you have to live your whole life before you die, and death has to come on a perfectly level surface, like on top of a pool table, before they will pay your survivors.

I never have been especially fond of the idea of buying something which I have to die to collect. All of this reminds me of some jokes and cartoons I have seen in the past. One was the old man who told the insurance salesman, "I don't want no insurance. When I die, I want everybody to be sad!"

Then there was this cartoon of an attorney reading: a will in front of a group. From the will, the attorney read, "In my lifetime, I made just over a million dollars." Being of sound mind, I spent it."

And there was this older couple sitting around one evening, and he said, "You know, Elsie, we've had a: good life together for all these years." And she replied, "We sure have, all right."

"Yes," he said, "It has been really good. But I've: been thinking lately that one of these days, one of us will be gone, and what will the other one do then?"

"Well," she said, " I think I'm going to move to Florida." ~February 6, 2001

One person is dead after a two-vehicle crash on U.S. 380, 12 miles west of Tahoka Saturday night. According to DPS reports, the driver of a 1987 Volkswagen Scirocco heading eastbound was approaching two stopped vehicles when he crashed into the back of one of them, a semi tractor/trailer rig, at approximately 8:40 p.m. The driver of the Volkswagen was pronounced dead at the scene, but DPS has not yet released the name of the driver.

According to the report, a 1994 Peterbilt Truck Tractor towing a trailer was parked on the eastbound shoulder of US-380. A 2012 Ford F550 tow truck was parked to the left of the Peterbilt in the eastbound lane of US 380 with amber overhead lights activated. The Volkswagon was traveling east on US-380 approaching the stopped vehicles from behind, and apparently saw the lights of the tow truck and veered right to avoid the tow truck, then struck the back left of the Peterbilt tractor/trailer rig. The crash is still under investigation by Another wreck occurred last Thursday, Oct. 5 at 6:48 a.m. about 5 miles south of Tahoka on US 87. The driver of a white Toyota Avalon, Annette Maria Aranjo, lost control of the vehicle and wrecked it, according to information from the Sheriff's Office call sheet. No

Electrical power was suddenly cut off in Tahoka last Friday morning about 11:00 a.m., when a cotton stripper accidentally struck a powerline pole at the intersection of North 5th and Main Street. Nathan Morris of Wilson was driving the John Deere 7455 8-row cotton stripper. The pole snapped in two and powerlines were dragged down, cutting off power for a few hours while Xcel Energy crews replaced the pole and restored the power.

A Tahoka woman was assaulted by her 27-year-old son at 11 p.m. last Tuesday in her home. Tahoka Police were called to the scene, and the mother told police that her son had knocked her down and she struck her head on a wooden chair, then he grabbed her by her throat and threatened to stab her with a pocket knife. When police arrived the son had barricaded himself in his bedroom. He refused to open the door and additional officers arrived to assist, entering the bedroom and arresting the man without incident. He was charged with Aggravated Assault with a Deadly Weapon Domestic Violence Enhanced due to the suspect having a prior conviction of Assault on a Family Member with Bodily Injury.

Tahoka Police arrested a 19-year-old Tahoka male caught in the act of attempting to break in to a door at a home in the 1100 block of South 6th at 7:30 a.m. last Thursday. Other suspects were involved as well, and the police investigation is still underway, with other charges possibly pending

Lynn County Sheriff's 9-1-1 operators got a call at 2:12 a.m. Friday from a Wilson resident who thought someone was in the attic. The homeowner had apparently heard noises, and climbed up to the entrance of the attic and held up a phone to take a video to see if someone was there. A coat hanging on a hanger in the attic apparently caught the light from the phone's camera, causing a shadow that appeared to be a person.

Deputies responding, however, found no one in the attic.

The Sherriff's office had a call around 8 p.m. Saturday night from a homeowner on County Road 3, reporting a suspicious person driving an older model black car slowly and stopping occasionally at homes along the road. However, when a deputy arrived and spoke to the driver, who was reportedly an older man, he told the deputy his wife was away and he was lonely, and thought he might meet some of his neighbors to talk to.

Another rural homeowner reported a suspicious vehicle circling his property on FM 1317 at 4 p.m. last Thursday. The owner had video footage from a camera that showed a red Toyota circling his home and barn, and a woman exiting the vehicle to walk to the front door, then leaving and circling the property again before leaving.

Tahoka Police arrested an 83-year-old Tahoka man on charges of Driving While Intoxicated-2nd, after observing him driving a red pickup truck erratically on South 2nd Street. He was taken to Lynn County Hospital to obtain a blood specimen, and then booked into jail.

One man was sentenced in criminal court proceedings in 106th District Court last Tuesday, Oct. 3. Anthony Barela, 30, pled guilty to charges of Possession of a Controlled Substance stemming from an arrest on March 20, 2017. District Judge Carter Schildknecht sentenced Barela to Deferred Adjudication of Guilt Community Supervision term of 4 years, as well as payment of a $1,000 fine and court costs.

Dane Rivas named to Agri-Techsan student recruiter organization at TTU

Officials in Texas Tech University's College of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources (CAS-NR) have announced Dane Rivas, of Tahoka, Texas, was named to the 2017-2018 team of Agri-Techsans, the college's awardwinning organization of student recruiters.

Comprised of select undergraduates from every department in the college, this year's Agri-Techsans are a diverse group.

Brandyl Brooks, the official college recruiter for CASNR, noted that though the organization's diversity serves both Texas Tech and prospective students equally well, all Agri-Techsans have at least one thing in common their enthusiasm for the university and the college's programs.

"We only look for exceptional students who are enthusiastic about Texas Tech and CASNR, who will take an active and responsible part in our organization, and can maintain their grades while devoting time and lots of energy to promoting CASNR," she said.

Selected each spring for the following academic year, Agri-Techsans must be nominated by either a faculty member or a current Agri-Techsan, maintain a minimum 3.0 grade point average, and be a full-time student in Tech's College of Agricultural Sciences and Natural Resources.

DANE RIVAS

"Agri-Techsans travel to high school career days, job fairs, class presentations, and club meetings throughout the region to inform prospective students about the university's admissions requirements, financial aid opportunities, and what it is like to be a member of the Red Raider family," Brooks noted.

Brooks indicated that the selection process is rigorous, including nomination and application phases followed by an appearance before a selection committee comprised of the college's faculty and staff.

"Only those students with an interest in and enthusiasm for the promotion of CASNR, its programs, and its students are selected," she said.

"My favorite thing about Texas Tech is how the university, and the part of Lubbock that surrounds it, are geared to the success of the students at Texas Tech. In CASNR this is especially the case," Rivas said. "From being the only college on campus to have professors as your advisors, to having the most scholarship opportunities per student, to having the Dr. Bill Bennett Student Success Center in the Dean's Office, CASNR is set up to do everything it can to help ensure that its students are equipped to be as successful as possible." Rivas is a junior animal science major. He is a graduate of Tahoka High School, and the son of Mike and Paige Rivas of

After college Rivas plans on attending Texas Tech University to attain a master's in agricultural communications or he wants to attend Hillsong College in Australia and obtain a master's degree in leadership.

USDA issues farm safety net and conservation payments

Agriculture Secretary Sonny Perdue announced that over $9.6 billion in payments will be made, beginning this week, to producers through the Agriculture Risk Coverage (ARC), Price Loss Coverage (PLC) and Conservation Reserve (CRP) programs. The United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) is issuing approximately $8 billion in payments under the ARC and PLC programs for the 2016 crop year, and $1.6 billion under CRP for 2017.

"Many of these payments will be made to landowners and producers in rural communities that have recently been ravaged by drought, wildfires, and deadly hurricanes," Perdue said. "I am hopeful this financial assistance will help those experiencing losses with immediate cash flow needs as we head toward the end of the year." The ARC and PLC programs were authorized by the 2014 Farm Bill and offer a safety net to agricultural producers when there is a substantial drop in revenue or prices for covered commodities. Over half a million producers will receive ARC payments and over a quarter million producers will receive PLC payments for 2016 crops, starting this week and continuing over the next several Payments are being made to producers who enrolled base acres of barley, corn, grain sorghum, lentils, oats, peanuts, dry peas, soybeans, wheat and canola. In the upcoming months, payments will be announced after marketing year average prices are published by USDA's National Agricultural Statistics Service for the remaining covered commodities. Also, as part of an ongoing effort to protect sensitive lands and improve water quality and wildlife habitat, USDA will begin issuing 2017 CRP payments this week to over 375,000 Americans.

New state law prohibits texting while driving

AUSTIN - Effective Sept. 1, texting while driving will be illegal across the state of Texas as the result of a new texting-whiledriving ban passed during the 85th Texas Legislative Session. The law prohibits motorists from reading, writing or sending electronic messages while driving.

"One in five crashes in Texas is caused by distracted driving," said TxDOT Executive Director James Bass. "We are pleased the Texas Legislature recognizes the extreme danger caused by texting and driving. The new law sends a very clear message to Texans to put down their phones and focus on the road. We are hopeful this new law will help save lives and reduce injuries.'

Last year, 109,658 traffic crashes in Texas involved distracted driving. Those crashes resulted in 455 deaths and 3,087 serious injuries.

While distracted drivers risk injuring or killing themselves and others, they also now face penalties under the new statewide law. A first offense is punishable by a fine up to $99; any subsequent offense carries a fine up to $200. Drivers should be aware that some cities have additional ordinances that are more restrictive. Exceptions to the new law include emergency communication or electronic messaging when the vehicle is stopped.

For those under 18 years of age, Texas law already bans all cell phone use while driving, including hands-free, except in the case of emergencies. Additionally, drivers are currently banned from texting and using hand-held cellular devices while driving in school zones. School bus operators also are prohibited from using cell phones while driving if children are present.

To help educate the public on the new law, TxDOT will be posting information on portable roadside message signs as well as permanent signs along interstate and U.S. highways.

WILSON COMMUNITY NEWS by Jessica Wilke

Homecoming week was a great success! Several of the alumni were in attendance at the game. I want to take a few lines to say thank you to one of the lifelong Mustang fans, Linda Wilke. Many people my age and younger know her as simply "Grandmommy". Many people will recognize her as the one who always took our sports and school pictures. Whether it was football, basketball, class, or prom pictures she was always there. I am honored that I picked up my passion of photography from her. She has attended more than her fair share of Mustang activities. Having five children of her own as Wilson Alumni, 10 of her grandchildren and three greatgrandchildren have all worn the Mustang logo. She has not missed a home football game in a very long time. She can be found sitting her in normal spot in the stands. Third row up in the middle. She always has a smile on her face at the games and cheering on the kids, doing the YMCA, and enjoying watching the games. Mustang football

Fans filled the stands. There was defiantly a hometown feel at the game. As the game kicked off the boys were pumped as they played with pride, heart, and with enthusiasm. Sadly the scoreboard did not reflect the same. It was a tough loss for the boys but their heads were held high and thanked all the fans for coming. Next week the boys are on the road to Silverton, kickoff at

Dogs traveling in bed of pickup can suffer from many hazards

Don't let your dog travel unsecured in an open pickup truck bed. Dogs can't "hold on" the way humans can, and any sudden start, stop or turn can toss your pet onto the highway. If the impact of hitting the road at a high speed doesn't kill it, oncoming traffic probably will. It is estimated that at least 100,000 dogs die this way each year.

There are other hazards to consider. Most dogs love the feeling of wind blowing past their ears at 60 mph, but that wind can seriously irritate mucus membranes and blow pieces of grit into the animal's eye. It may require veterinary attention to remove the foreign material, which could cause permanent damage to the eye. Insects or flying debris can also lodge in the nasal passages or get stuck into the windpipe.

Open truck beds provide no protection from the weather. Rain, snow and freezing temperatures are obvious problems, but even warm days have their dangers. Hot sun can heat the metal floor of a truck bed enough to burn a pet's paw pads. And once the truck has stopped, a dog left sitting in the broiling sun without water or shade may suffer from a heat stroke before long.

It is safest to allow your dog to ride inside the truck cab, or leave it at home. If it must ride in the back of the truck, put the pet inside a crate that will give it some protection from the wind and weather, and tie the crate securely to the walls of the truck bed so it cannot slide out or be tossed out of the truck.

TEXAS COMMISSION ON ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY

Consolidated Notice of Receipt of Application and Intent to Obtain Permit and Notice of Application and Preliminary Decision

Air Quality Standard Permit for Concrete Batch Plants Proposed Registration No. 112904L013

Application. Golden Spread Redi-Mix, Inc., has applied to the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality (TCEQ) for an Air Quality Standard Permit, Registration No. 112904L013, which would authorize construction of a concrete batch plant located at 1795 FM 1054, Tahoka, Lynn County, Texas 79373. This application is being processed in an expedited manner, as allowed by the commission's rules in 30 Texas Administrative Code, Chapter 101, Subchapter J. This link to an electronic map of the site or facility's general location is provided as a public courtesy and not part of the application or notice. For exact location, refer to application, http://www.tceq.texas.gov/assets/public/hb610/index. html?lat=33.1536&lng=-101.6639&zoom=13&type=r. The proposed facility will emit the following air contaminants: particulate matter including (but not limited to) aggregate, cement, road dust, and particulate matter with diameters of 10 microns or less and 2.5 microns or less.

This application was submitted to the TCEQ on September 28, 2017. The executive director has completed the administrative and technical reviews of the application and determined that the application meets all of the requirements of a standard permit authorized by 30 TAC § 116.611, which would establish the conditions under which the plant must operate. The executive director has made a preliminary decision to issue the registration because it meets all applicable rules. The application, executive director's preliminary decision, and standard permit will be available for viewing and copying at the TCEQ central office, the TCEQ Lubbock regional office, and the Lynn County Courthouse, 1627 Avenue K, Tahoka, Lynn County, beginning the first day of publication of this notice. The facility's compliance file, if any exists, is available for public review at the TCEQ Lubbock Regional Office, 5012 50th St Ste 100, Lubbock, Texas. Visit www. tceq.texas.gov/goto/cbp to review the standard permit.

Public Comment/Public Meeting. You may submit public comments or request a public meeting. See Contacts section. The TCEO will consider all public comments in developing a final decision on the application. The deadline to submit public comments or meeting requests is 30 days after newspaper notice is published. Issues such as property values, noise, traffic safety, and zoning are outside of the TCEQ's jurisdiction to consider in the permit process.

The purpose of a public meeting is to provide the opportunity to submit comments or ask questions about the application. A public meeting about the application will be held if the executive director determines that there is a significant degree of public interest in the application or if requested by a local legislator. A public meeting is not a contested case hearing. If a public meeting is held, the deadline to submit public comments is extended to the end of the public meeting.

Contested Case Hearing. You may request a contested case hearing. The applicant or the executive director may request that the application be directly referred to a contested case hearing after technical review of the application. The deadline to submit a request for a contested case hearing is 30 days after newspaper notice is published. A contested case hearing is a legal proceeding similar to a civil trial in state district court. If no hearing request is received within this 30 day period, no further opportunity for hearing will be provided, and the executive director may approve the application. If a hearing request is received within the 30-day period, then the time period for requesting a contested case hearing will be extended to 30 days after the mailing of the executive director's response to comments.

A person who may be affected by emissions of air contaminants from the facility is entitled to request a hearing. To request a hearing, a person must actually reside in a permanent residence within 440 yards of the proposed plant. If requesting a contested case hearing, you must submit the following: (1) your name (or for a group or association, an official representative), mailing address, daytime phone number; (2) applicant's name and registration number; (3) the statement "[I/we] request a contested case hearing;" (4) a specific description of how you would be adversely affected by the application and air emissions from the facility in a way not common to the general public; (5) the location and distance of your property relative to the facility; (6) a description of how you use the property which may be impacted by the facility; and (7) a list of all disputed issues of fact that you submit during the comment period. If the request is made by a group or association, one or more members who have standing to request a hearing must be identified by name and physical address. The interests which the group or association seeks to protect must be identified. You may submit your proposed adjustments to the application which would satisfy your concerns. See Contacts section.

TCEQ Action. After the deadline for public comments, the executive director will consider the comments and prepare a response to all relevant and material, or significant public comments. The executive director's decision on the application, and any response to comments, will be mailed to all persons on the mailing list. If no timely contested case hearing requests are received, or if all hearing requests are withdrawn, the executive director may issue final approval of the application. If all timely hearing requests are not withdrawn, the executive director will not issue final approval of the permit and will forward the application and requests to the Commissioners for their consideration at a scheduled commission meeting. The Commission may only grant a request for a contested case hearing on issues the requestor submitted in their timely comments that were not subsequently withdrawn. If a hearing is granted, the subject of a hearing will be limited to disputed issues of fact or mixed questions of fact and law relating to relevant and material air quality concerns submitted during the comment period. Issues such as property values, noise, traffic safety, and zoning are outside of the Commission's jurisdiction to address in this proceeding.

Mailing List. You may ask to be placed on a mailing list to receive additional information on this specific application. See Contacts section.

Information Available Online. For details about the status of the application, visit the Commissioners' Integrated Database (CID) at www.tceq.texas.gov/goto/cid. Once you have access to the CID using the link, enter the registration number at the top of this notice.
